

REVNOLTS FITTORICAL BENEALOG: UVLLECTION

GENEALOGY 919.102 F91FRI 1882-1883

FRIEND.

Α

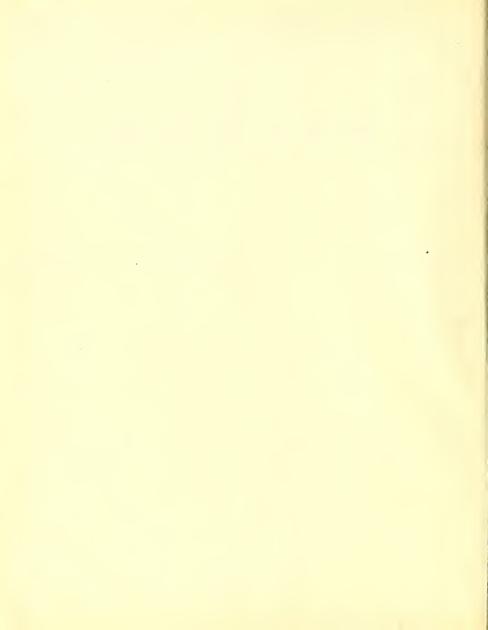

ELİGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOLUME LVI

PHILADELPHIA:

PRINTED BY WILLIAM H. PILE.

1883.

INDEX.

309. Account of the removal of, in 1755, 282. cadians. ffliction. Encouragement addressed to those under,

258 Huence. Remarks on the obligation of those living in to be examples of self-denial. 364.

Observations on the malaria of, 35. frica. Observations on recent explorations in Central, frican trading. Description of, 106. gate polishing in Germany. Notice of, 142. gassiz. Incident connected with the early life of, as a naturalist, 77.

372, 398,

griculture. On the part which bacteria may perform in, 22.

Society. Notice of the American, 198.

"Billy Early, Of Cornwall, England. Anecdote of, and comments, 394. in, 22.

potatoes, 398.

of 62

Joumen paper. No United States, 351. Notice of the production of, in the Birds.

mber. Notice of the deposits of, in Northern Germany, 415.

merica. Sandry observations on, by George Pitt, 66, 73. On a cause of geographical inaccuracy in early descriptions of, 209. ncient testimonies and advices of Friends, 57, 68, 77.

81, 98, 105, 121, 129, 139, 147, Meddete of Agassiz, 77; of John Wesley, 77; Duke of Wellington, 124; Persigny, 166; Queen Victoria, 210; Lydia Maria Child, 218.

ntiseptics. Conclusions of Prof. Le Bon respecting the efficacy of, 78. nimals. Remarks on killing, by the sportsmen, 278.

Notice of proposed observations on the diseases of domestic, 286.

rchæological researches in Asia Minor, &c. Notices of recent, 318.

.retic regions. On the large proportion of the plants native in, suitable for food, 119. rt. Remarks on the debasing effects of, 185, 267, tri indecency. Observations of, 238.

Artificial fruit," 215.

steroids. Notice of the number of, 415. tmosphere. Observations on the constant presence of organic germs in the, 137, 145. urora borealis. Notice of the production of an artificial, 335.

ustralia. Notice of the destruction caused by rabbits in, 150. ustria. Account of foot-washing by the Emperor and Empress of, 308.

wake -Turn to the Lord-Labor in His vineyard, 13.

labylon. Remarks on the remarkable fulfilment of a prediction respecting ancient, 156.
Notice of the discovery of an ancient door-step in, with inscriptions relating to Nebuchad nezzar, 228.

Baby's victory. Extract entitled, The, 402.
Backbiting. A seasonable remark on, 252.

hallast. On the necessity of carrying, 242.
hallast. On the origin of certain shrines in, 166. Sank of England. Brief account of the, 222.

The practice of, in regard to its paid notes, 405.

Saptism. On the nature of true, 138.

Comments on the outward character of water, Books. 130.

Saptists. Notice of change of organization of, in Boys. Georgia, 175. Liturgical exercises adopted by, in New York, 239.

Barclay John. Remarks of, on the true standard of Brick. simplicity, 42.

Letter of, 146.

Remarks of, on that sweet retirement of mind, which is the element and atmosphere of a true Friend, 405.

Battering ram." Extract entitled, "The, 133.

Bedouins. The hospitality of the, 219. On the execution of justice among the, 357.

obstinence from alcoholic drinks. Reasons for total, Beer drinking. Observations on the deceitful and de-Business. On integrity in, 236. structive effects of, upon health, 246.

Bees. On the usefulness of, in the fertilization of clover, 366.

On the hunting of, in Timor, 382.

Beware of being stumbling blocks, 34.

Bettle Samuel, Sr. Notice of religious exercises of, 347 Bevan Joseph Gurney. On the Christian conduct of Brown John, of Sheffield, Eng. Anecdote of, 362.

in business, 317. Bible Association of Friends in America. Circular of, California. 85.

Notice of recent experiments on seed corn and Bilsdale meeting-house of Friends. Notice of the reent unwarrantable confiscation of the, 270.

York Monthly Meeting concerning the late, 2 Anecdotes of the teasing propensity of, 86.

On the usefulness of, to mariners, 191

United States, 351.

Check of D. On the physiological effects of, 14.

Isop Christine M. Observations of, on being, rather Bla-ting operation. A large, 247.

Blind, Notice of a free circulating library for the, 191.

Capri. Account of a recent visit to the isometry for the property of Boles Abigail. The necessity of watchfulness illustrated Card-playing at home. Earnest remonstrance against, by the case of, 381.

Bonjean. The death of, in Paris, revenged by the benevolent instruction of the masses by his sons, 404. Book notices, &c. New edition of the Memoirs of Mary Capper, 15. Wayward and Obedient, by A. L. Washburn, 30. Passages from the Life and Writings of William

Penn, 75. 79. Penn, 75, 79,
An Appeal to the American people on education and temperance, by Elizabeth Thompson, 103.
"Tract for Teachers," 104.
Memoir of Enoch Lewis, 110.
"Our Ancestors," 159.
"Sidereal Messenger," 160.
Vick's Floral Guide, 67.
Vick's Floral Guide, 67.
"Kindergarten Homes," by E. Thompson, 176.
"Kindergarten Homes," by E. Thompson, 176.
"Kindergarten Homes," by the Thompson, 176.
Remort of the Penns. Society to protect children

Report of the Penna. Society to protect children from cruelty, 183.

Annual Report of the Managers of the Reading Rooms for Friends, 184.

"The Evelyns in America, 209. Annual Report of the Trustees of the Astor Library of New York, 223. Wayside Thoughts, by Phebe Haines, 223.

The Sidereal Messenger, 231.

Report of the Managers of the Adelphi School 28th Report of the Howard Institution, 240.

Memoir of Rebecca Hubbs, 255. The Hebrew Christian, 263.

The Primitive Friend, 263.

Address on the 200th anniversity of the landing of William Penn, 272.

on Witham Tend, 2295.
The Gospel Expositor, 295.
"The Early Friends and their services in America," by Dr. J. J. Levick, 311.
"The Biographer," 320.

The Doker invasion of Massachusetts," by R. P. Hallowell, 327.
"On the Desert," by Henry M. Field, 330.
"The Christian Worker," 358.

Report of the Children's Week Association, 367. Address to its members issued by Philadelphia

Yearly Meeting, 398. Advice on using, 36. 86.

Account of the industry and financial success of four, 204.

Brandy. On a large falsification of, in France, 255. Observations on the digestibility of fresh, 69. Notice of baking walls of, in ancient times, 255. Bread.

Bright John. Approval of the resignation of, from the British ministry, 46.
Brighton Patience. Letter of a clergyman to, expressing his unity with, 114.

Business. Good maxims of, 93. Maxims of, bad and good, 322.

Ancient advices of Friends respecting the conducting of, 98.

Remarks to young men on preparing to enter into, 316. On the Christian concern and course of Joseph

Gurney Bevan in relation to, 317. not allowed to interfere with the attendance of week-day meetings by a lad, 379. Remarks on the wide-spread influence of a man of integrity in, 395.

Observations on the sea coast in Southern, 106.

Notice of the conflict between the mining and farming interests in, 118.

N. J. Account of the early settlement of Camden, N. J. Friends near, 306. Canes. On the manufacture of, 390.

Jbert Prince. Anecdote of the parental faithfulness Birdsall William. Extract from a testimony of New Capper Mary. Extract from, on the true principles and practices of Friends, 19.

Extract from on true denial of self, 270. Remarks of, on the unspeakable privilege of meeting to wait upon the Lord, 404. Account of a recent visit to the isle of, 298.

leads to gambling, 354.

Catechism. Remarks on a palpable error contained in the, of the Episcopal church, 93: Caton William. On the favors of the Lord to, in his ministry, 300. Notice of sepulchral, in Palestine, 30 Celestial photography. On the advances of, 410. Charitable gifts. On the wisdom is disposing of an estate in, during the life time of the donor, 190. Child. A wise choice made by a, 350. Children. Ancient testimonies of Friends respecting the care and training of, 57, 105. Anecdote of a cheerful trust in Divine protection by, 170.

An Epistle of London Yearly Meeting of 1723, to parents on the training and care of, 221.

Words of an exercised mother on behalf of her, 258 Incident on showing sympathy to, 260,

Remarks on instructing, at home and on the maintenance of the doctrines and testimonies of Friends, 260.

Incident connected with unselfish training in, 278. On the hopefulness of, who are of a tender conscience, 301. Remarks of Richard Shackleton on the association of his, with the wise and good, 334. Tender religious yearning for the spiritual welfare of, 37

Incident affording encouragement to parents to discharge their duty towards, 386. The proper training of, a work of faith, 406.

The education of, in good morals and character, more important than in school learning, 412. Observations on natives of, in the tea-districts, China.

Chinese Christians in New York. Notice of the Christian conduct of, 142

as scholars in New York, 150.

Account of a school for, in Boston, 187. Observations on the demand for, as laborers in California, 254. Observations on the poverty and kindness of, to strangers in China, 260.

and Americans. On the contrary practices among, 261. language. On the difficulty of printing the, 310. Noble conduct of a, in reference to the use of character. A test of, 50. character. Faith and love, patience and perseverance, the cardinal points of a, 250. life. A, not a sombre thing, 213.

Christian life one of mingled joys and sorrows, 279. Christians. On the duty of, in reference to voting, 109.

The life of professing, the test of their Christianity, 116.

On the injury done by false, 258. Consolation to, 258,

Animating promises to true, 334 Animating instances of vonthful, 387.

Christ Jesus, the propitiation for our sins, 87. Obedience to the will of God, the way to know the doctrine of, 91.

On the happy effects of walking in the Light of, 103

Notice of the testimony of a recently convinced person on the sufficiency of the light of, 119. On the baptism of, 138.

On the dialect used by, when personally on earth, 165. The voice of, must be known to perform worship acceptably, 199. Every true believer, an ambassador for, 390. "Christmas, Remarks on the customary celebration of. 165, 190, Christendom. On international duties of, 317 Church. The Lord will continue with the, 198. On the damaging effect of wealth and aristocracy in the professing, 326. Church of Humanity." Notice of "The, 198.

Churchman John. Account by, of a tendering visitation of Divine grace, in his youth, 387.

Deats Mary A. Account of the character and happy death of, 141.

in meetings, 394. Cider and cider drunkards. Remarks on, 238.

Circle of fire." Accou Claridge Richard. The experience of, that conversion Deacons and deaconesses in the primitive church. On is not instantaneous, 369,

Clock. Description of a water, 239. Canstic lime successfully used in blasting, 6 Coal.

Coal-dust. On the successful utilization of, 398. Coggeshall Elizabeth, Anecdote of, 331. Coins. Notice of discovery of Roman, in England, 366, Comet of 1883. Observations on the, 215. Commit thy ways to God, 164.

weaknesses 84

Congo. On the opening of the, to the commerce of the world, 372. Consideration of the feelings of others. On, 263.

Contentment essential to happiness, 391. Convent of St. Catharine. Notice of the, 357. 364.

gnarded expressions in, 362. Conversation. Remarks on, unseasoned with the fruits Disciples of Christ." Notice of the religious body of the Spirit, 52. 284.

Contentment. On the nature of, 76. Contrast. Essay entitled, A, 213.

Conversion. Remarks on, 114.

Convict. Account of a converted, 238. Cooper Lydia. Testimonial in reference to the character of, 294. Cope Alfred. Remarks of, on music, 3.

Notice of valuable contributions to this journal Dogs. by the late, 193

David. Notice of the late, 331. Coral. On the product of, during the past year in the Mediterranean, 286.

Cozens Ellen. Heavenly opening vouchsafed to, 379. Criticism. Remarks on the so-called, higher, 46.

Cross-bearing. Remarks on, 21. Crystals of sulphur containing water. Notice of, 102. Cumbustion without flame. Observations on, 102. Cuttle-fish. On the ink-bag of the, 102, Darling Grace. Biographical account of, 51.

Deaths.—Rebecca F. Abbott, 32; Amy E. Alsop, 80 Mary B. Ashbridge, 168; Ann H. Bacon, 40; S. Mason Bines, 104; Joshua Ballinger, 208; Joseph Bailey, 360; Jordan Ballard, 400; Ellwood Burgess, Dress parade at West Point. Remarks on the evils of Cooper, 264; Lydia Cooper, 280; Truman Cooper, 280; Susanna J. Cooper, 280; Sarah Ann Cox, 323; Elizabeth Dynamite. An account of the, 302.

beth 11. De Cou, 168; Maria Dewees, 200; Elizabeth Dynamite. On the restricted area of damage possible Dugdale, 208; Joseph Embree, 200; Elizabeth D. Edge, 280; Joshua Fulton, 112; Phebe Foster, 168; Hannah Gilbert, 168; Sarah E, Griffin, 216; Sidney Hibberd, 80; Cassandra R. Harvey, 144; Debornh C. Howell, 192; Martin B. Holloway, 208; Wm. G. Hos-Howel, 1823, Matthau Harvev, 290; Elizabeth S. Haines, 1812, Naomi B. Haines, 328; Nathaniel B. Hillman, 238; Deboral Hung, 323; Narmanduke Jay, 1723, Joshua Jascob, 208; William Jessup, 204; George I. Kashner, bratien of, 350.

King, 272; Susanna Kaighn, 360; Dr. James Kersey, 258; David F. Knowles, 328; Lois Lossing, 8; Charlotte Lundey, 8; Isaac Lightfoot, 16; Jane Lovett, 56; Charles Lippincott, 64; Sarah Lewis, 80; William Joseph J. Lewis, 200; Joseph J. Lewis, 296; John M. Miller, 121; John N. Miller, 56; Benjamin V. Marsh, 144; John T. Moorman, 184; Sarah H. M. M. J. M Mailly, 184; Charity Maxwell, 208; Amos E. Middieton, 264; Thomas Mendenhall, 280; Samuel Mason, 296; Sarah L. Mickle, 328; Margaret Maule, 328; Martha W. Moore, 352; Sarah R. Matlack, 328; Martha W. Moore, 302; Sarah K. Mathack, 332; Rachel Negus, 176; Ennice Nichols, 240; Anne Pim, 16; Hannah G. Posey, 144; Mary Pike, 160; Susun Powell, 176; Hannah Pyle, 224; T. Chalkley Palmer, 264; William S. Perot, 264; William M. Phillips, 288; Deborah Parvin, 296; Richard Penrose, 360; Margaret Plowman, 400; Maria Pusey, 408; Rebecca Roberts, 176; Nathan D. Roberts, 280; Jane Roberts, 280; Letitia Reeve, 352; Harriet J. Smedley, 8; Martha B. Stokes, 152; Ann Stewardson, 256; James Smedley, 288; Daniel B. Smith, 288; Joseph D. Satterthwaite, 360; Mary Taylor, 250; Joseph Taylor, 256; John Thorp, 264; Phebe Tomlinson, 416; Abigail Velotte, 168; Abigail Hannah B. Williams, 168; Aoigau Velotte, 168; Aoigai Wood, 32; Abigait Way, 400; Presbury Wing, 120; Hannah B. Williams, 168; Mary Ann Wood, 280; Sidney Wilson, 280; Lydia H. Yarnall, 208.

concerned to caution a Friend against sleeping Decision of character. Remarks on and illustrations of, 299.

Deist. Account of the convincement of a, 205, Account of a providential deliverance Desultory Selections and Pencillings. Essays entitled, 2, 10, 18, 26, 34, > the office of, 246, Deepest waters stillest run." Remarks on humility, entitled "The, 283, Statistics of the product of, in the U. States, 165. Denmark. Notice of the establishment of a journal in, to advocate peace, 255. Dewees Rebecca. A letter of, to a son, 219.

Detraction. Notice of a society formed against, 332. Divine b'essing. Nothing is permanent without the,

Complaints of others are often confessions of our own Divine grace. On the secret operation of, in the soul, Illustration of the power of, 93.

Ancient advices of Friends to follow the leadings of, 147. Incidents showing the softening effects of,

Conversation. Remarks on carefully avoiding un- Divine visitations. On the great happiness of heeding, 165.

called "The, 286, "Do your best." Extract entitled, 44. Docks. Remarks on eradicating the evils of the beart entitled, 35. Dodge William E. Consistent conduct of, in opposing

First-day travelling, 226. Remarks on the character of, 239.

Anecdotes of the sympathy of a, 38, 69, 358, 391, Anecdotes of sagacity in, 6, 14, 54, 78, 102, 166. Dog. 398 Dream of heaven.

A, 162. or vision of Hester Moxie, concerning heaven, 935

Anecdotes of Divine manifestations through, 50, 348, Dress. Comments on the lapsed testimony of many Friends and Methodists in reference to plainness of, &c., 5.

On the importance of the testimony of Friends to plainness of, 34, war, entitled "The, 389. 400; Mary M. Bishop, 400; Eulen Craft, 16; Sasan M. Cook, 208; James C. Comfort, 264; Benjamin D. Dublin Meeting House. On the site of the former, 44. Comments on the above, 89.

Experience of Thomas Ellwood in assuming a plain, 180.

Remarks on the waste of time consumed on fashionable, 268.

by explosions of, 335.

On the preparation of, 342, Earthquakes in America in 1882. Statistics of, 351.

Earthquake waves at sea. Description of, 185.
shocks in Celebes. Description of, 375.
East wind in the East. Notice of the effects of, 390.

8; Anne King, 232; Joseph Kaighn, 264; Lavina Editorial.—Remarks on the sanctioning of the Home Mission movement by London Yearly Meeting, 6; Notice of the proceedings of Canada Yearly Meeting (smaller body), 7; Comments on allowing Catharine Booth the use of the Devonshire Meeting House in London to deliver an address to Friends on the Salvation Army and the influence of certain periodicals in undermining the principles and practices of Friends, 14: Notice of a new edition of the Memoirs of Mary Capper, 15; Remarks on English publications on the anti-Christian nature, and evils of war, including the present Egyptian war, 23; Comments on the practi-cal experience of religion, 30; Remarks on the separation among Friends in Canada, 38; Notice of a proposed amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania prohibiting the munufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, 39; Remarks to a correspondent, 39; On cheerfully performing the humble daily duties of life as in the Divine sight, 47; On raising tobacco, as an occupation inconsistent with Christian profession, 47; Notice of the proceedings of North Caro-lina Yearly Meeting, 54; Encouragement to the faithful members of the militant church, 63 : Account of the proceedings of Ohio Yearly Meeting, 70: Remarks on the religious character of the meetings for discipline among Friends, and the right qualification for conducting them 79; Remarks on the proposed Bi-centennial celebration of the landing of William Penn in America and the manifest incongraity of some of its features with his character, 79. 103: Observations on Unitarian views, and the true method of becoming acquainted with spiritual truths, 87; On erroneous statements recently promulgated respecting the exercise of the ministry by the early Friends, 94; Observations on walking in the Light of Christ, 103; Remarks on an appeal by Elizabeth Thompson to the American people on education and temperance, 103; Notice of an appeal on behalf of the Penna, Retreat for blind mutes and aged and infirm blind persons, 103: Notice of "Tract for Teachers 104; Notice of a memoir of Enoch Lewis, 110; Notice of a late presentment of the Grand Jury of Phila. on intoxicating drinks and pernicious papers, 110; Notice of the testimony of a recently convinced person on the sufficiency of the light of Christ, 119: the necessity of seeking the assistance of the Holy Spirit to understand the Scriptures, 143; Comments on a declaration of the President of the United States favoring arbitration in the settlement of international disputes, 143; Remarks on a proposition to have a salaried pastor in a meeting of Friends, 151, 207. 223; Encouragement to the true hearted, 151; Notice of proceedings of Kansas Yearly Meeting (larger or proceedings of Kansas learly Meeting (larger body), 159; Notice of the formation in Philadelphia of the "Indian Rights Association," 159; Notice of "Our Ancestors," 159; Notice of the "Sidereal Messenger," 160; On the necessity of experiencing repentance, 135; Reflections on the close of the year, 167: Notice of Vick's Floral Guide, 167: Observations on the doctrine of the resurrection, 175; Notice of "Penn's Treaty," by Charles S. Keyser, 176; Notice of "Kindergarten Homes" by E. I'hompson, 176: Encouragement to the members of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, 183; Notice of the Report of the Penna. Society to protect children from cruelty, 183; Notice of the Annual Report of the Managers of the reading rooms for Friends, 184; Notice of the pro-ceedings of Kansas Yearly Meeting (smaller body), 191; Notice of a free circulating library for the blind. 191; Remarks on "family worship," 199; Comments on Chas. Shieldstream's communications on willworship, 199; Remarks on civil service reform, 199; Remark to an inquirer, 207; On a pretended letter of Cotton Mather, 215; Remarks on promptly forwarding obituary notices, 216; Remarks on a "Women's Foreign Missionary Association of Friends," 223; Notice of the Annual Report of the Trustees of the Astor Library, 223; Notice of "Wayside Thoughts," by Phebe Haines, 223; Remarks on the disintegration going on in the Society of Friends arising from innovations in doctrines, 231; Remarks on the destruction caused by recent floods in the Ohio Valley, 231; Notice of The Sidereal Messenger, 231; Remarks on the character of William E. Dodge, 239; Notice of the Report of the Managers of the Adelphi School, 240; Notice of the Report of the Howard Association, 240; Remarks on the desolating effects of a ministry which has not the Divine sanction, 247; Comments on a letter to the editor respecting a communication from Joseph Morris, 255; Notice of the publication by the Meeting for Sufferings of a Memoir of Rebecca Hubbs, 255, 264; The daily reading of the Holy Scriptures recommended, 263; On a proposition respecting the support of the poor by Monthly

Meetings, 263; Notice of The Hebrew Christian, Episcopal church. Remarks on the election of an arch-Freedom. On the serious aspect of, 259. 263; Notice of The Primitive Friend, 264; Ob-bishop in the, 278. Friend" "The. List of Agents of, 63. servations on the consequences said to have followed of the landing of William Penn, by Howard M. Episcopal church. Reformed. The strict observance gled by an agreement of the First Joyne Comment. gled joy and sorrow, 279; Remark on the authorship greu 1993 and sorrow, 2013. Remark on the authorship of a poetical contribution, 2793, On the death of Daniel B. Smith, 287; On the approach of the Yearly Reeting, 287; Notice of the proceedings of Phita.
Yearly Meeting, 294, 303; Notice of The Gosph Ezchildren in a Christian conversation, 221. positor, and the discordancy of the doctrines advocated Epitaphs. Notice of early Christian, in Rome, 405. by it, with those of Friends, 295; On the blessed Evans Grace. A testimony concerning the exemplary ness of walking in the Light of Christ, 310; Notice of a publication by Dr. J. J. Levick on "The Early Friends and their services in America," 311; Notice of a legal decision in reference to Friends of Canada Yearly Meeting, 319; Notice of "The Biographer." 320; Notice of The Quaker Invasion of Massachusetts, Every day duties. On the right performance of, 283. by R. P. Hallowell, 327; On the need of watchful Evil speaking and harsh judgment. On avoiding, 332, ness over themselves in those who undertake to pro- Excursion to Brown's Mills, N. J. Account of an, 19. mote the Lord's cause, 327; Remarks on a statement The preparation of the hearts of the people for the Faith of an aged man. Lindeldert showing the, 261. Friends by the Lord's power, the cause of the results faith of an aged man. Lindeldert showing the, 261. Friends by the Lord's power, the cause of the results faithcure camp meeting. Remarks on a, 46. Friends by the Cord's power than a cause of the results of the camp meeting. Remarks on a, 46. Statistically showing the properties of the control of the camp meeting. The cord of the control of the camp meeting and the cord of the camp meeting. The cord of the cord of the camp meeting and the cord of the cord of the camp meeting and the cord of the camp meeting. The cord of the cord of the camp meeting and the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting and the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting and the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting and the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting and the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting and the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the camp meeting are calculated by the cord of the calculated by the calculated by the cord of the calcula 343; Remarks approving a veto message of Governor F Fattison upon a divorce bill, 343; Comments on Ealling from righteonsness. Remarks on, 357; charges made by The Gospel Expositor against Phila-Farnum Moses. On the happy dying hours of, 174. delphia Yearly Meeting, 351; Remarks on The Fattison upon or recognizing and remedying "little," Christian Worker, and the character of the religious activity advocated in "revival" meetings among Friend, 333; Remarks on the inseparable nature connect of, 386. of sanctification and justification as believed in by of sinctineation and justification as beneven in over Friends, 366; Notice of the Report of the Chilfriends, 366; Notice of the Report of the Children's Week Association, 367; Christ is to be known Fenwick John. Notice of the efforts of, to found a as the author of salvation to all true Christians of colony in New Jersey, 202.
whatever denomination, 375; Remarks on incorrect [Fiji Islands. Account of a recent visit to the, 1. statements respecting the testimony of Friends against Files. On a method of sharpening, 271.

a hireling ministry, 383; Remarks on the benefit Finger-marks. Remarks on indulging in sin, entitled, likely to result from the civil reform service, 383; Remarks upon resorting to law, for the recovery of Fir seed. Notice of a large business in, in Washington damages by Friends, 391; Notice of the proceedings of London Yearly Meeting, 399; Notice of the pro-ceedings of Dublin Yearly Meeting, 399; Remark to First-day of the week. The Bessemer steel works at correspondents, 399; Notice of the proceedings of New York Yearly Meeting, 407; Notice of the pro-ceedings of Canada Yearly Meeting, (smaller body,) 407: The cross of Christ to be taken up in the use of the plain language, 415; Remark on an inaccuracy pointed out by a correspondent, 415; Notice of a change in the subscription price, 415.

Editors of newspapers in Chicago requested to exclude everything of an immoral tendency, 351.

dren of, 101. Education of the children of Friends. Remarks of Fish. Plan for transporting live, 415.

John Fothergill on the, 157.

Floods in the Ohio Valley. Notice of destruction

Comments on the above, 199.

ments for, and for war, 357. of character. Remarks on, 412.

Egypt. Remarks on the present war in, 23.

Observations on the effects of the war in, upon missionaries, 47.

Electricity. Travellers on the Alps charged with, 37. used in trimming seal-skins, 150.

Spirit as illustrated by, 267. Account of remarkable religious exercises of, at

Westtown Boarding School, 307.

Empty coat." Remarks on the disappointing pleasures fox George.

of this world, entitled "The, 285.

Declaration of the company of the comp

England. Notice of the rise in gin-drinking io, and its momentous effects, 141. Notice of the efforts of the United Kingdom

Alliance against intemperance in, 142 On the political influence of mechanical inventions in, 163. The established Church of, hurtful in its effects, 206. Encouragement to the faithful, 314.

Episcopal church in England denonnced as a great patron of intemperance, 78.

catechism. Remarks on a palpable error in, 93. On the burtful effects of the Establishment in England, 206.

A system of lay preachers in the, proposed, 230. Freedmen. Notice of the gloomy outlook for the, in The disestablishment of the, agitated, 239.

Notice of a persistent defiance of the law against Free Methodists. Rules on temperance &c., adopted ritualism by a clergyman of the, 254.

bishop in the, 278. Remarks of the "London Times" on the inefficiency of the, 293.

Christian walk of, 43,

Joseph. A tribute to the memory of, 50.

Thomas. Notice of a remarkable communication by, in 1867, 301. Letter of, 315.

all of man. On the, and way of recovery therefrom, 4.

counsel of, 386. Fear not." Enc Encouragement to the true Christian en-Territory, 119.

Pittsburg, discontinue working on the, 118.

The strict observance of, recommended by Reformed Episcopalians, 214. On the running of rail-road trains, and travelling on the, 226. Faithfulness to religions convictions against working on the, rewarded, 333. to be observed by the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railway, 365. Edom. Experience of a recent traveller with the chil First-day afternoons. On the proper employment of time on, 108,

caused by recent, 231.

Statistics of the expenditure by different Governments for, and for war, 357.

Florence, Italy. Account of a recent visit to, and reflections on, 185.

Food. On the preparation of mescal, as, 135. Fresh water mollusks used as, 366. On the use of insects as, in Africa, 375.

On the use of snails as, in Spain, 398. Forbearance. On the need of, 203. Forbes Barbara. Brief notice of the religious character

Emlen James. Extract from a letter of, 334.

Emlen Sarah. Remarks on the influence of the Holy Forgiveness. Observations on the necessity of, 162.

Fothergill John. Letter of, in reference to the appointment and services of a Committee appointed by London Yearly Meeting in 1776, 60. ox George. A prayer of, 116.

Declaration of, respecting his gospel mission, 186. Account of a trid of, and refusal to swear, 194. Remarks on C. H. Spurgeon's lecture on, 228. 237. 243. On prayer, 317.

Advice of to Friends travelling as ministers, 327. in prayer. Remarks of William Penn on, 332. Declarations of, on man in relation to woman in the gospel, 404. Fox Maria. Letter of, to a young convinced person, 306. France. Notice of a modification of judicial oaths in,

Account of Friends in the south of, written in Alahama, 292.

by, 134.

Agent appointed for, 375.

Remarks on encouraging the circulation of, 156. Funerals. Notice of a society in England to reform enstoms of, 309.

Il church. Reformed. The strict observance of the First-day of the week recommended by Friends. Religious communications addressed to, 2, 214, 214, 215, 258, 364, 245, 258, 364.

Testimony of William Birdsall, that none had attained to eminent usefulness in the Society of, who had not faithfully maintained their testimony to plainness of speech, behavior and apparel, 2.

Testimony of Ann Jones and Sarah [L.] Grubb respecting the departure from the principles and practices of, in England, and comments, 18. Ancient testimonies of, and advice respecting the training of youth, &c., 57.

Encouragement to faithful, 63.

Ancient testimonies and advices of, respecting marriage, 68. Ancient testimonies and advices of, respecting tale bearing and detraction, 77 Brief declaration of the faith of, by William Penn, 75. Ancient testimonies and advices of, on the attendance of all their religious meetings and the right exercise of mind in them, 81 Ancient testimonies and advices of, respecting over-trading and the punctual payment of debts, 98. On the state of the Society of, 2, 42, 61, 67, 131, 138, 212, 231, 398, 402,

Ancient testimonies of, on the necessity of faithfulness and watchfulness, 139 Ancient testimonies and advices of, on a reverent waiting upon God in religious meetings, 129. On the testimony of, against music, 2, 10, 82, 83. On the testimony of, to plainness of dress, 34, 84. Observations of John Woolman on luxury among, 34.

Remarks on gratifying an inclination for sightseeing, &c., by, 34

A testimony respecting, in America during last century, 34.

Declaration of John Barclay respecting, 35. A recent testimony concerning, 42.

On the true qualifications for ordering the affairs of the Society of, 42. On the sad consequences of parental deficiency to the Society of, 42. A call to, for greater faithfulness, 42. On the efforts of Satan in this day to destroy the Society of, 42.67. Remarks on some of the dangers to, in the present day, 67. On the religious nature of meetings for discipline among, and the proper qualification for conducting them, 79. Remarks in reference to the continued existence of Unitarian doctrines in those who separated from, in 1827, 87. On the error of certain statements recently made respecting the exercise of the ministry by Geo.

Fox and the early, 94. Ancient testimonies and advices of, on the education and training of children, 105.

Advice to, in 1759 on the proper observance of First-day afternoons by the youth, 108.

in the South of France. Account of, written in 1788, 108. Remarks on the danger of riches to the Society of, 113. The daily reverent reading of the Holy Scriptures recommended to, 116, 134 On the remedy for the present divisions in the Society of, 117. Ancient advices of, and encouragement to the young, 121. The joining of secret societies by members of the Society of, reprehensible, 142 Ancient advices of, to follow the leadings of Divine grace, 147. On the doctrines of, respecting ministry, 151. 207, 371,

On the duty of, to maintain their characteristic principles and testimonies, 155.

emarks of John Fothergill on the education of the children of, in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, 157.

Comments on the above, 199. Testimony of Thomas C. Upham and others to the principles and testimonies of, 129.

Ministry. Observations on a temptation of those engaged in the, 93. Making a trade of preaching to get money by, to disappear, 119. On the doctrines of Friends in regard to, 151

07, 335, 371,

Hint in regard to undue length of public testimonies in the, 180. Thoughts on a hireling, 188, 201.

On the nature of true gospel, 189. 201. Incident illustrating true, 205. On a false, among Friends, 212.

On the desolating effects of a false, 247.

On a true, and a counterfeit, 269, On avoiding unnecessary repetitions in the, 269. Observations on the rise and effects of a spurious, 276.

Testimony of an Episcopal bishop on the true power of the, 293

William Caton furnished with mouth and wisdom in the, 300. Observations on the true business of the, 315.

On the qualification for, 337. Experience of Job Scott on the necessity of waiting for the qualification for the, 341.

Cantion upon criticizing the, 349.

Misers. Observations on, 247 Misunderstanding. Description of, 222.

Miracles. On the apostolical, 273. Mohammedan publications in Constantinople. Notice of proposed, 309. Moon John. Observations of, 180.

Money. On the love of, in connection with preaching 188

Mother. The religious concern of a, for her son, 219. Mothers. On the blessing which may attend the daily performance of humble duties by faithful, 47 marks on the above, 83. Moxie Hester. A dream or vision of, 235.

Mosquito. Observations on the poison of the, 358. Mnd springs in Celebes. Account of, 231.

Music. An indulgence in, by members among Friends a fruit of the adulterated Quakerism of the present day, 2.

John Thorp instructed in reference to, 4. The cultivation of, prejudicial to a growth in grace, 10.

Notice of a petition and action of Presbyterians in Scotland against, 77. 406.

in schools. Remarks on the waste of time devoted to, 82.

The example of the Society of Friends in reference to, approved by a minister of another denomination, 83.

in places of wor-hip stirs up the religious pas-sions and draws off from the true Life, 275. "My Father is the husbandman." Essay entitled, 234.

Natural History.—Ants used to destroy insects in China, 5; Sagacity of dogs, 6, 14, 38, 54, 69, 78, 102, 166, 361, 398; Sagacity of a horse, 14, 30, 110, 159 191; The Tussock moth, 22; Sagacity of a crow, 23; Insects on the su-face of oranges, 30; Sagacity of the elephant, 62, 94, 102; of oranges, 50; Sagacity of the elephant, 52, 94, 102; Cheatery in Animals, 78, 94; Teasing propensity of birds, 86; On the food of shad, 102; Parasites of the chinch-bug, 102; Phosphorescent centipede, 102; Minnte-crustacea, 110; Curions parasites upon puffins, 110; How the lion kills his prey, 119; The crocodde in Flerida, 142; Consciousness of wrong doing in animals, Als Jealousy in animals, 151; Sense of responsibility in animals, 159, 167; Playtulness in animals, 135; Large rats' nests in trees, 167; Spider showers, 172; The nesting of the Maleo, 175; Conjugal affection in a teal, 175; The water-spider, 182; A tame ways, 183; Gigantic cuttle fish, 191; On the usefulness of birds to Gigantic cittle 145, 191; On the usefulness of orras to mariners, 191; White-water of the Arabian Sea, 198; Monkeys, 195; Spider-webs, 206; A kind robin, 206, Language in waspe, 215; Submarine life in Amboyna, 215; The ocelot, 223; An owl cave, 223; Fleas, 230; 215; The occlot, 223; An owl cave, 223; Fleaa, 239; On the cause by which the vulture discorrs is prey, 234; A Lignified "annke", 239; A tame hawk, 239; Dancing of garde, 239; Instinct as manifested in a Petrel, 246; The flying femur, 255: Swallows, 255; The polar bear, 261; The beaver, 262; The mongrouse as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like butterfly, 271; Fried in animals, 271; Tharmer obing, 279; The raren, 287; Petrel, 28v,
The polar bear, 261; The ocean.
The polar bear, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
as a rat catcher, 271; Leaf like interfly, 2(x);
among the Indian, 125.

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the charges of Macaulan, 2(x).

Remarks of Judge Black on the Indian

Naturalist. Enthusiasm of a, 206. Naturalist. Entities of a 200.

Naturalist. Entitle of the early religious experiences of, 226, 233.

Pennsylvania History and the projected palatinate of Sir E. Plowden, 193, 201, 209, 217, 225. Nebula in Orion as seen by the new Russian telescope, Neglect of proper care. On the effects of, physically and spiritually, 390. New Hebrides Islands. Notice of a recent visit to, 17. Notice of great wrongs done to the natives of, by Europeans, 293. Newton John. Remarkable Divine visitation to, through a dream, 50.

New Jersey. On the influence of William Penn in the early history of West, 201.

New Year's day. On the improper observance of, 190.

New York City. Denominational statistics of, 134. On the benevolent efforts of the Children's Aid Society in, 263. New Zealand. A tree used as a burial place in, 150.

New Zealand. A tree used as a burial place in, 150.
Notice of the injury done by rabbits in, 202.
Nightingale Florence. A true story of, 387.
Newspapers in Chicago requested to exclude all advertisements or news of an immoral tendency, 351.
Nobleman's offer; or the door was shut." Extract entitled, " The, 27.

Oaths. Notice of a recent modification of judicial, in France, 37.

Remarks on the injurious nature of judicial, 54. 169 account of a refusal of Geo. Fox to take, 194. The abolition of official, considered in different European countries, 263. 303. The law in reference to, in England proposed to be modified to extend the liberty of affirming,

Remarks on the uselessness of, 308, 357, Ocean. On the surf of the, on the Gold coast in Africa,

On the unchaste character of the, in Cincinnati,

200 Opium trade. Notice of the movement in England against the, 43. Proposed communication from the Emperor of Chica to the Queen of England in reference to the, 102.

Statements made before an annual meeting of the Society for the suppression of the, 414.

Orientals. On the habits of, in reading or speaking, 346 Orion. Observations on the nebula of, 30.
Orphan's protection. Extract entitled. The, 123.

Pacific Grove retreat, C4l. Notice of, 41. Palestine. Notice of a colony of the Temple Society in, Panies Remarks on, 271.

Paper. Ancient moss a material for, in Sweden, 198. Notice of doors made of, 319, Notice of incombustible, 415, Parable on the root of evil. On the responsibility of, in training children for eternity, 27. Parents.

On the sad consequences of deficiency in the performance of duty by, 42

On the powerful incentives to, properly to example their children, 317. A father's death revenged by the patient instruction of the ignorant classes in, 404 Pastor and pastoral committees among "Friends." Remarks on. 115.

Patent Office. Reflections on a sale of condemned models from the, 405. Pathway in the sky." Extract entitled, "The, 182. Pearls. On the origin of. &c., 358.

Pearls. On the origin of. &c., 358.

Notice of large, found in the Gulf of California,

Penn William. Extracts from, on will-worship, 199. The religion of, the basis of Pennsylvania's early prosperity, 201.

Advice of, to the young convinced, 239, Comments of in reference to hat-honor, 302. Observations of, on true religion, 334. On being saved from sin, and thus from the wages of it, 380. Remarks on the proposed celebration of the land ing of, in America, 79, 103.

Remarks on a request made to certain persons to water sponges, 407; Bees at the Cape of Good Hope, Penington Isaac. On the ministry of early Friends, 207 Pennsylvania. On the meaning of certain geographica names in, 46.

Notice of valuable manuscript records relating to the early history of, 194.

eru. Observations on the present condition of, as compared with its state under the Incas. 33.

Philade phia. Observations on the religious and moral condition of, 323.

Comments on the above, 342. Photography. On the advances of celestial, 410.
Physician. On the power of influence for good of the Pitt George, Observations on America, during a recent visit to, by, 66, 73.

Planness of speech, behavior, and apparel. None even attained to eminent usefulness among Friends who were unfaithful in supporting their testi mony to, 2. Comments on the testimonies of Friends to, 83, Ancient testimonies and advices of Friends concerning, 105. Plants of North America. Notice of works upon the, 167 Plants used as food. On, 119.

On the origin of cultivated, 293.

Tuckahoe, 398.

Plants.—An excursion for, in the Jersey and barrene 19; The cranberry, 19; The white cetar, 20; Pea moss, 20; The sun dew, 20; The arrow head, 20 Colossal fern, 38; Mischievous plants in Australia &c., 38; A Ceylon jungle, 54; Ou certain poisonous

&., 38; A Ceylon jungle, 54; Ou certain puissonous leaves, 62; Observations on the genera later and Solidago, 110; The Indian reed, 110; The Maxican Chia, 110; The Spanish" chestunt, 119; The Maxican Chia, 119; On the creeping willow of the Alask Islands, 142; Experiments on the vitality of seeds 158; The Russian mulberry, 175; Indigenous potatoe in Asiana, 906; Spullawas chapming position with in Arizona, 206; Sunflowers changing position with the sun, 214; Fig trees with acrial roats, 215; The sago palm, 222; The "stinging tree" of Queensland 223; The pear tree, 230; A vegetable renoet, 247 Blighton wheat caused by a blight on the barberry 293; 293; Native potatoes found in Arzma, 310; The bread fruit, 310; The ice plant, 318; Mexican "jumping" seed. 326; Remarkable fall of pine pollen, 358

The fertilization of red clover largely due to bees, 366 Pleasants Robert, of Virginia. N Notice of the character

Testimony of Friends concerning, 220.

Plowden Edmund. Notice of a projected palaticate in America under, 193, 201 209 217, 225.

Poetry—Original.—Go forth and sow, 13; Morning wor.

ship in the Rocky Mountains 28; Be Still, 116; Saved. 132; Retrospect, 164; "Be still, and know that I am 172; Our meeting, 188; Lines to a Friend under affliction, 197; In memoriam, 236; E. B. L., 236 Thoughts suggested on the death of a sister's child 244; The Inner Light, 284; A memory, 308; Pansies, Poetry-Selected .- Acise and cummin, 156; "As thy Poetry—Selected:—Acise and cummin, 156: "As thy day, so shall thy strength be "181; At the beautiful gate; 201; Always a river to cross, 220; The age of minocacea, 220; Answerd, 384; Angels' wings, 444 Bebold your King, 84; Bryant after the death of his wife, 253; The Borler Land, 444; Blue Piwers, 388; Can't thou by searching find out today 32; The courre at the course of the cure of a status to each. 33; The clear vision, 260; The cure of a status to each. Sorrow, 276; Calling the Spring flowers, 356; Christ's Sorrow, 220; Calling the Spring nowers, 356; Christ's way of thesising 388; Day by day, 69: Daily strength 220; The Dreamer, 220; Dear haoda, 253; The Dandellon, 276; Drawing nearr, 332; Dicipline, 332; "Doubt not," 348; Endurance, 93; Evening Humn, 124; To an Early Primores, 324; Every cloud has of aller a lining, 330; Farewell to Music, 52; Fallow, 18; Every County, 19; Theorem 19; Theorem 19; Theorem 20; The 101; Fringed Geutians, 108; A Foggy morning, 213 Flowers, 300; The First Flower, 308; The Farm, 317 Forgiving Jenny, 380; The Gathering of the church, 101; Good By. 116; God omnipresent, 108; Girdled elms, 292; Health alphabet, 124; He leadeth us, 204; Hitherto and henceforth, 260; The Hills, 276; Home 317; How the women went from Dover, 340; He leadeth me. 396; Iudian Summer, 140; Jesus on the leadeth me, 396; Indian Summer, 146; Jesus on the sea, 28; The Little Comforter, 44; Lines, 44, 317, 324, 356, 380; Lines on a skoleton 60; Lead them home, 69; Life's heaviest loss, 93. The Lighthouse, 124; For Leve's sake, 132; A Litle bad, 140; The Lighthouse, 364; Julide pattering feet, 388; Mirace, 156; My little laberer, 156; Mad River, 213, My Home, 235, 279; The Mother heart, 306; "Now My Home, 235, 279; The Mother heart, 306; "Now My Home, 253, 273; The Mother heart, 366; "Now Law was used to the American Comments, 21; The Law me down to sleep," and comments, 21; The any, 181; Our Birthright, 76; Opportunity, 260; Colymon Wast, 369; The Pilgrim's wants, 66; Paul Denton's reply, 76; Pilgrim of earth, &c., 161; Resolution, 28; Released, 368; Sims cast into the depths of the east 36; Spiritual worship, 172. The vafe refuge, 222; Sleep, 263; Song, 263; Shadows

268; The Sugar maples, 348; To a Swallow building under our caves, 356: The Streamlet, 364; The Ses, 412 Take my hand, 4; The Two gates, 21: Time's taking and leavings, 84; Take care, I-18; Trip lightly, 229

"This is life," 284; The Two Glasses, 284; Trust in Providence, 300; Three pairs and one, 332; The United bound, 181; Under the leaves, 263; Vhaished Gaces, 2; What is beat? 4; To Which Kingdom, 36; The Way side well, 116; Weaving the web, 140; Where there's a will, there's a way, 276; A Wish: 225; What has beat? 4; To Which Kingdom, 36; The Way side well, 116; Weaving the web, 140; Where there's a will, there's a way, 276; A Wish: 225; Weak Search of the Way of the Ward of the War the traveller said at sunset, 412; The Year of release, 197. ompeii. Notice of a representation of the judgment of Solomon found in, 188.

ompier life savers. Description of, 366.

ope. Notice of a recent legal process against the, 158. states found wild in Arizona, 310. Remarkable incident connected with, 124, 134. rayer.

Remarks on, 140. Answers to, 333. On the efficacy of silent, earnest, 250. Observations of George Fox on, 317.

raying always. On, 53.
reaching. A definition of, by Horace Bushnell, 74.
reaching what and when we list. Essay entitled, 85.
resbyterians. Notice of the action of certain. in Scot land against music in times of worship, 77. 406.

Secret societies disapproved of by, 142. Deaconesses appointed by, 158. A place of worship built by, in Salonica, Greece 206. Notice of proposed modification of the Confession of faith of, 334.

Notice of a "threatened famine in the ministry' among, 3.0.

Notice of friendly relations between Northern and Southern, of the United States, 365.

rofane swearing reproved. Comments on, 36.

jodans swearing reproved. Comments on, 36, good Robert. Biographical account of, 49, 55, 55, oxidential deliverances, 50, 117, 124. e historic remains in N. Carolina. Notice of, 806, allman, a temperance town. Notice of, 334, anctuality. I caledent illustrating the value of, 382, urver Anthony. Biographical account of, and notice of his translation of the Bible, 195. usevism. Observations on, 101.

sest for entertainment and sports. On the, 370. unine. Notice of the consumption and manufacture of, 271.

abbits in New Zealand. Account of, 202. ace course. The proceeds of a, refused by a Roman Catholic bishop, 78.

all road. Account of the St. Gotthard, 171, 177.

Hours of the day numbered from I to 24, on an Ohio, 398. att. Ou me aunual fail of, in various places, 239.

Salt observed to be contained in, near the ses, 286.
Salt observed to be contained in, near the ses, 286.
Salt mine two thousand years old. A, 22.
Samaritan societies. Notice of the objects and organization of, in Garmany. 190 eading. On the abuse of, by reading too much, 86. Notice of a presentment of the Grand Jury of Phila. on peruicious, II0.

On the prevalence and demand for fictitious, 206 ebuke. Anecdotes of, administered under religious feeling, 394. ed Cloud. Remarks on the announcement by, of the Reasons assigned why so few become thoroughly dedicated to the cause of, 26.

A safe dwelling place for the professor of, 28. On the practical experience of, 30. 63.

On the spiritual nature of true, 74. must stand firmly against the fashions of the world, 103. Comparison between the outward, of the present day, and that of the Jews at the coming of our Saviour, 130.

On the constant need of watchfulness to retain the life of, 190.

On the necessity of stillness in, 269.

A self active spirit to be guarded against in, 270.

Injury often done in conversing upon, 275. Reports of an increased interest in, in parts of the old world, 309. On the true attitude of a sincere inquirer in, 315. Observations of William Penn on dangerous apprehensions in . 334. Extract on the jocund, of the present day, 398. eligious views and tenets. Essays entitled, 4.74.131. 138.155.181.189.212.229.253.268.270.291.350.371.

eligious persecution. On the disastrous political effects physical prudence. Remarks on, 280.

Selling by the candle, 231.

Selling by the candle, 231. 254. 262. 278. 285. 293. 302. 309. 317. 326. 334. 350. 357. 365, 406, 414,

Resurrection. On the doctrine of the, 175. Resignation to the Divine will. Remarks on the difficult lesson of, 259.

Returning good for evil. Instances of, 168.

Rice. Notice of the damage resulting from the expansion of, when wet, 79

Riches. Counsel in reference to the dangers of, to re-ligious growth, 196. 266. Remarks on the evils of the pursuit of, for their own sake, 277

Richmond Leigh. Advice of, to his children against yielding to the influence of the "half-religious," and comments, 370.

Ritualism. Notice of the release from imprisonment in England of S. F. Green, 158. The restoration of the mass the object of, 286.

condemned publicly by a bishop, 326.
Roads. On the amount of power required to draw car risges over different kinds of, 142. Roberts Samuel. Brief account of the life and happy

Notice of a temperance movement by, in Chicago,

Rum Notice of a remarkable death following the use of, 262.

Running a muck, 221.
Russia. Notice of intolerance in relation to religious belief in, 166.

Sago. On the production of, 222. Sahara. Project of turning the, into a sea, 415. Saliva. Inoculation with human, poisonous, 69.

Salvation. On our dependence for, 43.
On the true method of experiencing, 75. 85 must be experienced from our sins in this life, Spices, and the adulteration of them, 391, is not to be attained but by forsaking our sins, 250. The Holy Spirit the great agent in the work of, sarion of, in wermany, 199.

Sandwich Islands. Account of a recent visit to the, 9.
Sanitary science. Notice of a movement to promote researches in, 358. Sansom Oliver. L:tter of, from Reading gaol to Friends, Santa Gruiz Islands. N-tice of a recent visit to, 17.

Scott Job. Remarks of, on waiting for the renewed qualification to preach the gospel, 341.
Savonarola. Observations on the character and labors Stone. Observations on the greater strength on the diet soft divestment on bright Savonarola. Observations on the character and labors Stone. On dry thunder, in S. Africa, 183.
Stories. The residue of the residue ad Cloud. Remarks on the announcement wy, we discovery of a gold mine. $356.

de San. On the excessive heat on the, 268. delaption. On the necessity of, 181.

satisfaction of one in the control of the benevolence of towards or spinals, 59.

for towards or spinals, 59.

head it for a fine of the second of the spinal of the

ments, 2.

Observation of an aged man, upon the impressions produced by the ministry of, 123.

William. Letters and memoranda of, and comments, 274, 281, 289, 297, 395, 316, 321, 329, 337, 345, 353, 361, 369, 377, 385, 393, 499.

Notice of an incident connected with the last hours of, 379.

Science. A knowledge of, not necessary to religion, 219, Soienthic nates, &c. 5. 14, 22, 30, 37, 34, 62, 94, 78, 58, 59, 102, 109, 118, 134, 142, 150, 158, 167, 175, 182, 191, 198, 200, 214, 222, 220, 239, 246, 252, 301, 217, 275, 286 Tale-bearing and detraction. Ancient advices of Friends 293, 309, 318, 326, 335, 342, 351, 358, 365, 374, 382, 390, 398. 406. 414.

393. 40b. 41s.
Scrofula. On ouring, by the royal touch, 98.
School of the Saviour. The, 27, 42.
School for happiness. Remarks on as, 42.
Schools First-day. Remarks on the wrong of delegating to teachers of, the work of parents, 42. 82.

Schools. Remarks on the injurious character of com

Schools. Remarks on the injurious character of competitive at blate sports among students of many, 379. Scott Job. Remarks of, on the blessed visitations of Divine grace to children, 387. Sea. side. Essay entitled, 412. Scheetions. Essays entitled, 412. Scheetions. Essays entitled, 412. Scheetions. Essays entitled, 413. 161. 266.

Self-examination. Remarks on honest, 212. Seaton Alexander. Account of the life and religious character of, 210.

Seeds. Experiments on the vitality of, 158.
Seeking out inventions. Essay entitled, 211.
Sen Chunder. Account of, and his religious teachings in India, 290. Sensational literature excluded from a public library, "Separation." Essay entitled, 313.

Serving God in our daily duties. On, 302.
Serving God in our daily duties. Con, 302.
gospel among the early, in a new country, 274.
Shellac. On the animal origin of, 134.
Shellac. On the animal origin of, 134.
Shipton Anna. Ancedote related by, 61 the powerful effects of Divine grace in a child, 388.
Simulabelus administered by, and comments, 384.

Simplicity. On, 275. Simpson James. Anecdote of, 331.

Sin. The deliverance from, in this life possible and commanded. 75. 85, Sins. On the danger of committing so called little, 270. Sinners are saved by the grace of God, 229.

Sinai. Account of a recent visit to the peninsula of 330. 339 346. 356. 364.

Roberts Samuel. Brief accounts of death of, in his 16th year, 12.

Roman Catabloise, The proceeds of a race-course refused by a Bishop of, 78.

On the source of influence of the priest among, 143.

Salvas, Provisions made by George Washington for the manumission of his, 50

Memorial of Robert Pleasants to the Governor Add Conneil of Virginia respecting liberality to Manumission of, by George Bell, of Virginia, 155. Testimony of Friends in reference to the labors of Robert Pleasants in Virginia on behalf of, 220. Slave trade. Account of the continuance of the, in Soudan. 257.

Notice of a, in the New Hebrides and other South Sea islands, 293

Smith Daniel B. On the death of, 287. Snow. Sand found in, 286. Solomon Islands Notice of a recent visit to the, 25.
South Sea Islands. Notice of a system of slavery in the,

Spider showers. Account of, 172.

On the webs of, 206.

Spiritual gifts. On the right occupation of, 37.

Spontaneous combustion often due to oily waste, 382. Sports. Remarks on the quest for entertainment and,

"Salvation Army." On certain of the distinguishing principles of repugnant to those of Friends, 14.
The proceedings of restricted in India, 142.
Sportmen. Remarks on the character of the pleasures sought by, 278. sought by, 278. Statistics of British benevolent societies. 5.

Steamship Oregon. Account of the, 398. Steel. Theory of R. S. Marsden to account for the hardness of, 150. Stillness. On. as a preparation for religious service, 269. Stites George. Brief notice of, 339.

Stick to one thing. Extract entitled, 84.
Stokes N. N. Anecdotes related by the late, 387.

Stone. Observations on the greater strength of sawed, as compared with hammered building, 150. On the cff cts of the weather on building, 247.

Story Thomas, declines the practice of the law from religious convictions, 333.

Such a man has no judgments against him." Remarks on the pursuit of wealth, entitled, 277.

marks on the pursuit of wealth, entitled, 27.
Sulphur deposits in Utah. Notice of, 239.
Summary of Frents.—7, 15, 23, 31, 39, 47, 55, 63, 71, 79, 87, 95, 104, 112, 120, 128, 135, 144, 152, 160, 163, 176, 184, 191, 199, 207, 216, 223, 232, 249, 247, 256, 264, 272, 279, 287, 296, 304, 312, 329, 327, 336, 344, 331, 339, 357, 376. 384, 392, 400, 407, 416,

Tale-bearing and detraction. Ancient advices of Friends to avoid, 77.

Talent of property. Remarks on accountability for the, 46.

46. Very what you read. Extract unitled. 3. Thy-sicks. Notice of the use of, by the English Gov-Termont as lately as 1824, 358. Taylor Jeremy. Extract John. Anecdote of, 385. Taylor Jeremy. Extract from 140. Teacher. The discerning, 181, 182, 183, 184, 184. Telephone renders sounds 1900 miles away and ble. A, 5. Telephone renders sounds 1900 miles away and ble. A, 5.

On improvements in the, 309.

Telegraph poles. On the average duration of, 142. Tellurium in copper. Observations on the effect of, 278. "Temple Society." Notice of the, in Palestine, 318. Temperature. Remarks on changes in the dimensions of standards for measuring, 308.

enial. The practice of, a healthy and necessary Temptation. Remarks on resisting, 59.
The Tribes of Israel. Theories respecting the .338.
Tem Tribes of Israel. Theories respecting the .338.
Tetanus. Notice of the frequency of, in Bengal, 118.

Theatre-going Christian an absurdity. A, 206. Theatres closed by authority in Cambridge, Eng., during term-time, 286.

Observations on the corrupting character of operas in Cincinnati, 309. Thoughts about the eternal gospel and the falling Baby-lon, 92 99, 130, 171, 188, 202, 228, 237, 243.

Comments on the above, 103, 199. "Thy will be done." Remarks on resignation to the Divine will, entitled, 259.

Tithes of fish still claimed in Cornwall, 270.

Large tracts of sunken, found in Ireland, 406. Tin. Notice of the occurrence of, in Alabama, 278 Tobacco. Statistics in reference to the use of, in the U. States, 47.

The raising of, an occupation inconsistent with high Christian profession, 47. Observations of the effect of, upon the blood, 87. Observations on the injury done by, to the heart,

Remarks on economy in abstaining from, 149. The raising of, eventually unprofitable, 175. Earnest remonstrance to the young against smoking, 252. Statement in reference to the use of, by different nations, 293

Provisions against the use of, in a public bequest, 406

The vapor of the juice of, used as an insecticide, 406. Torres Islands. Notice of a recent visit to, 17.

Trade. Ancient advices to Friends respecting, 98.
Travel. Remarks on the insidious dangers of foreign, 122. Trembath Margaret. Account of the life and convince-ment of, 396, 403, 411.

Trepanning in prehistoric times. Notice of, 255 Trees. The rings of, not a correct criterion of their age,

On fossil, found in Arizona, 142. Tunnel. A trip through St Gotthard, 171. 177. Notice of the Mont Cenis, 171.

Turks. Remarks on the present character of the, 46.

Undisciplined tempers. Remarks on the injury done by, 141. United Christian Army." Bricf notice of "The, 29

On the value of, as a protection against weavers. On the injurious effect of the business of, upon vision, 390. Vaccination. small pox, 135.

Victoria. Aneedote of Queen, 210.
Vine and the branches." E-say on the necessity of an union with Christ entitled "The, 100.

Volcano of Kilauea. Description of a recent visit to the, 9.

Mt. Etna. Notice of the observatory on, 174.
Voting. On the duty of Christians in reference to, 109.

Waiting on the Lord in silence. Observations on the blessed effects of, 235, Waldenses. Notice of the increased influence of, in Rome, 177.

Waldensian missionary. A trial of faithfulness of a, 334. Waln Nicholas. Anecdote of, 331. Walter William. Incident related by, and comments, 338.

wanderings South and East, (continued from vol. Lv., p. 412). Extracts entitled, 1. 9. 17. 25. 33. War. Decision of a Court in Germany in reference to military pomp and show, 5.

Notice of effects of military discipline upon character. 6.

War. Notice of English publications on the anti-Christian nature and impolicy of, 23.

Statement of the cause of the Orinean, 37.

Note sentiments of Garibaldi in reference and the properties of the Carlos on the strength of properties of the Arman Arman and upper a general disarrament, 44.

Woodland John. Remarks of, so luxury among Friends, 44. 113.

Woodland John. Remarks of, so luxury among Friends, 44. 113.

Woodland John. Remarks of, so luxury among Friends, 44. 113. Notice of the effects of the, in Egypt upon missionaries 47

The after-thought of a soldier upon, 77. Remarks on the late Egyptian, 102. Testimony of General Warren against, 107. Observations on the commendation given by English bishops, &c., to, 109.

Preaching up. to disappear, 119. Christian conduct of a Chinese, under provocation, 142. Declaration of the President of the United States favoring arbitration instead of, 143. The inconsistency of, with the Christian dispensation, 178, Remark of a former soldier on, 245.

Observations of Bismarck and Wellington on, and comments, 251. Notice of the establishment of a journal in Den-ore than half of British taxes paid for, 414.

Nihilism. &c., a reaction of the people against, 414.
Washington George. Directions of, by will, for the manumission of his slaves, 60.
Watchfelness. On the constant need of, to retain the life of religion.

180.381

180. 381.
Weler. Experience of the value of, to the traveller on a desert, 183.
is life in the desert. Extract entitled, 75.
On the oriental near mo bying, in the desert, 149.
mills on the Banabs. Account of 230.
of streams. Lead decision against contaminating the, 271.
of streams. Lead decision against contaminating the, 271.
Wealth. On the dangers of the accountation of the spiritual life.
Wealth. On the dangers of the accountation of, to the spiritual life.

Weavers. On the injurious effect of the onsucess of, upon visuos, ore. Westtown Boarding School. On the early establishment and subsequent history of, (continued from vol. tv.) 3, 11, 2), 29, 45, 59, 83, 107, 122, 129, 145, 153, 186, 197, 227, 223.

Observations on the beneficial effect of impressions received at,

Account of remarkable religious exercises of Sarah Emlen, in 1844,307

Wesley Susuma. Account of the life and character of, 241.
Wet seasm. Curious result of the, in England, 309.
When art thou quiet?" Incident and observations entitled, 274.
Wheat. On the blight of, as connected with the barberry, 293
Wheeler Daniel. Comments on the example of self-denial set by, 24.

Wheeler Daviel. Commense on the example of self-denial set by, $4, which was the self-denial set by, $4, which A horizon sealor's, $6, which was the self-denial set by, $4, which A horizon sealor's, $6, which A horizon sealor's, $6, which was the self-denial Whittier John G. Sentiments of, respecting certain points of doctrine, 93.
Wine drinking. On efforts to discourage, 173.
wants of London. On the, 415.

wants of London. On the, 415.
Winter. On nature s preparation for, 147.
Wilson Rachel. Anecdote narrated of, 324.
Comments on the above, 349.
Wire cables. On the duration of, 142.

116

On the degraded and disconsolate condition of, in India, 123. On the degraded and aiscongeniate constant or, in ringer, issue Women all-week to preach among the Free Michalsia, II. S. Notice of ancessful efforts to instruct working, in evening classes in Phila, 190. Source of the Notice of a sect in Floand, granting extreme rights to, 198. Word. On the allimate triumph of The, 234.

word, Or the attimate triumph of Tue, 234. Wordin assays, A. 38. Wordin assays, A. 38. Wordin for fishing but, Yother of a business in, 318. "Work if you would rise." Aneed sto of Edmand Barke entitled, 179 Worldly-mindedcases and riches, Og, 196. Worldly-mindedcases and riches, Og, 196. Worth the damonds. Incident in the life of a princess of Sweder Word in season.

entitled, 41. Worship. Remarks on ritualistic, 53. Remarks on the deadening effect on the soul of liturgical form

Advices of Friends in reference to the proper attendance of all their meetings for, and the right exercise of mind in them 81, 129. On silent, 172

On a disgraceful way of raising money for building a boust for, 175.

Notice of the establishment of a journal in Denmark to advocate peace, 2045.

Observations of T. L. Cuyle on the condition of Europe in reobservations of T. L. Cuyle on the condition of Europe in reconditions of T. L. Cuyle on the condition of Europe in reconditions of Europe in redefinitions of Europe in reEurope in reEurop Remark's on the organization of, 28.

Remark's network to a faining of discipline among the members of, 110, 30, and in reference to a faining of discipline among the members of, 110, 30, and in reference to Friends of, 319.

Canada, 18-34, (smaller hady). Notice of proceedings of, 497, Dublin. Notice of the proceedings of, 399, and 190, and 1 movement by, 6, 18.

1723. Epistle of, to parents on training and care of chil-

Ancient advices of, respecting the maintenance of our testimony to plainness of dress, language, &c. 57.

Ancient advices of, on maintaining the testimonies of Friends, 68, 77, 81, 98, 105, 121, 129, 139, 147.

Friends, 64, 77, 51, 68, 105, 121, 126, 138, 147, 1882. Pristed of a Philadelphia Yearly Mesting, 675, 1882. Pristed of a Philadelphia Yearly Mesting, 675, 1882. More to fit the proceedings of, 407 New York, 1882. Notice of the proceedings of, 61, 0216, 1882. Account of the proceedings of, 70, 1882. Account of a remarkable communication of Thomas 1897. Notice of a remarkable communication of Thomas

Evans in, 301.
Communication addressed to some of the junior members 1883. Remarks on the approach of, 287. 1883. Notice of the proceedings of, 294, 303. 1883. Remarks on the, 201.

scool. Remarks on the, 201. Comments on charges made against, 351. 1825. Epistle of, to London Yearly Meeting, 378. Western, (smaller body.) 1882. Notice of the proceedings of, 133.

Encouragement to the, entitled "I can and I will " 117 Caution to the, 204.

Tender counsel and encouragement to the, 121.
Young housekeepers. Advice to, 63.
Youthful Christians. Account of the blessed visitations of Divine

Z^osl. Remarks on a well directed, 292. Zami Indians. Recent just action of the President of the United States respecting the, 373.

FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, EIGHTH MONTH 12, 1882.

NO. 1.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

rice, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON

Moorestown, Burlington Co., N. J. bscriptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES,

AT NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

> For "The Friend," Wanderings South and East.

(Continued from page 412, vol. LV.) FIJI ISLANDS.

The Fiji Islands are now under the governhe most valuable of the groups of the Pacific. of the 300 islands not more than 70 are inhe most cruel and fieree of savages, and ineterate cannibals; but through the labors of the Wesleyan missionaries they were inmbrace the Christian religion.

slands, which be describes as beautiful and Let us live, let our enemies perish. ertile. In a walk which he took over a part natives.

perous, and it was indeed hard to realize that of the horrid fate that awaited the poor cap ment. The visit is thus described for the purpose of the ward of the shortly enfor the purpose of the warding the bloodthirsty Sura, but he was treated, and I also for his tirely eclipsed by the grand new mills of the people. Those two noble women determined sake, with great consideration and kindness.

There was soon prepared for us a most or and the shortly enfor the purpose of the warding the bloodthirsty Sura, but he was treated, and I also for his sake, with great consideration and kindness.

There was soon prepared for us a most £100,000 on the Rewa; they are prepared to went poling over the flat they heard with luxurious evening meal in entirely native give ten shillings a ton for all cane landed at trembling the will did not the cannibals grow flashion, and amongst other dishes were some their river frontage, and expect to crush about louder as they approached. The death-drum turtles sent by Thakombau, and a banana a hundred and fifty thousand tons of cane sounded terrible, and muskets were fired in leaf full of a delicious compound of plantain, from an area of three thousand five hundred triumph. Then, as they came nearer, shrick cocon-nut, maize, &c. Everything we had was for a three years' term. I was told that they among the blood-maddened cannihals unburt. worked on the whole fairly well, and as I saw They pressed forward to the house of the old them during my few days upon the Rewa king Tanoa, the entrance to which was strictly they seemed cheerful and well content. Of forbidden to all women. It was no time for the labor system I shall have more to say, ceremony now. With a whale's tooth in however, when I come to the islands whence each hand, and still accompanied by a Christhese natives are collected."

islands, the most striking evidence of all per to plead for their dark sisters' lives. were paddling their cance along the river for those who are still alive shall live only." the banks, and naked savages walking along rest of the fourteen had been killed.' the paths, or paddling home with canoe-loads The coming of European colonists among aent of Great Britain. They form one of of yams or other food. This very generation the Fijians is too recent to develop those delehave been eannibals, and those same men terious effects which have generally followed who call perhaps 'Saiandra' or some other the introduction of foreign customs among abited. The natives were formerly among salutation to the English children, had but a uncivilized people. But when we reflect on year or two ago been praying to their heathen the fate of the natives elsewhere, where such gods such prayers as this: Let us live, and settlements have been made; the destructive let those who speak evil of us perish. Let agency of using tobacco, and of foreign vices, luced to lay aside their savage customs, and the enemy be clubbed, swept away, utterly which almost inevitably follow; and the destroyed, piled in heaps. Let their teeth be gradual wasting away of the original owners Walter Coote was much pleased with these broken. May they fall headlong into a pit. of the land; we naturally think of the future

"We passed little patches of maize, tobacco, been carried on with the greatest courage these islands in the future. yams, kumaras, taro, sugar, then again more and perseverance, and to show what terrible habits of the people are still in existence. First trees and cocoa-nuts and lemons and of Mbau, and to illustrate one aspect at least bananas. All these things seemed to be in a of missionary life in the old days, I may perlative chief, W. Coote visited the little island so few years ago this was one of the most tives aroused the pity of those poor lone "We were taken on landing to a very clean dreaded cannibal islands of the South Seas." women. But what could be done? Amidst and comfortable house where the greatest tian chief, they thrust themselves into the "When walking among these plantations in grim presence of the king, and prayed the the great Rewa valley, I could not but feel prayer of mercy. The old man was startled astonished at what had already been done to at the andacity of the intruders. His hearing make a civilized country of a few savage was dull, and they raised their voices higher haps being the fact that two Saxon children king said, "Those who are dead are dead, but mere exercise and pleasure, with not a white that word a man ran to stop the butchery, man even near them, but native villages upon and returned to say that five still lived; the

of these islanders with anxiety and fear. As "To the Wesleyan missionaries one must the English colonists increase in numbers. of the delta of the River Rewa on Viti Levu, in great measure give the credit of this great they will gradually absorb more and more of e says: "I was pleased to find it entirely change, and it would not be just to close this the fertile soil by purchase or otherwise, and native land, owned and farmed by the villagers chapter on Fiji without a word in praise of the probability is that the native Fijians, hemselves. It seemed to be very rich soil, their great work. No one can deny them unable to compete with them in the struggle and was certainly made the most of by the the highest admiration. Their work was of life, will finally succumb, or exist only as amongst a very fierce and cruel race, but has a minor element in the race that will occupy Hourishing condition, and at every hundred haps be permitted to introduce the following of Mbau only about half a mile long, and a yards or so was a small cottage or group of lines from William's 'Fiji and the Fijians': quarter wide, but in former years one of the cottages.

"The report soon crossed over to Viwa most aristocratic of all, and still the residence "Our path was a mere foot-track winding and reached the mission house. Fourteen of Thakombau, formerly "King of all the in and out among the little plots of land, in women are to be brought to Mbau to-morrow Fijis, greatest of known cannibals, most dread to be killed and cooked for the Mbutoni peo- of savage potentates." His glory is in these tural districts of China as could be. I liked ple. Mrs. Calvert and Mrs. Lyth were alone days departed and his title of king cannot be the look of this quiet, peaceful, homely dis- with the children. Their husbands were many said to be more than complimentary; he has, trict; the people seemed contented and pros- miles away on another island. The thought however, a large pension from the govern-

"There are two or three sugar mills on the such fiendish excitement it would be a despe- hospitality was shown us. Our chief was upper part of the Rewa, but they are of a rate thing for any one to venture into Mbau not in his own territory here, being lord of acres. The labor employed upon these sugar after shrick pierced through every other noise, served to us cleanly upon the matted floor, estates is almost entirely imported. The and told that murder was begun. Sur-wide banana leaves being used as plates and natives are brought from the New Hebrides pounded by an unseen guard that none might platted palm leaves as dishes. The bouse and Solomon groups and hired by the planters break through, the women of God passed was, as usual, an oblong building with thickly-were crusted over with soot from the wood fire one corner; the floor was very soft and springy. being made of layers upon layers of mats, commencing with coarse palm-leaf ones at the bottom and having for final covering the beau-Sea Islands are celebrated. At one end of principal members of the establishment sleep. words, but all were happy and cheerful, and it is to be feared, without its living power. There are two small holes or windows at this very evidently thought it capital fun." are having place! and this coupled with the end of the room through which the pleasant cool trade wind blows refreshingly.

"The houses of the well-to-do natives are always well-kept, clean, and comfortable; at the doorway there is frequently a hollowed log with water in which to wash the feet before entering, a rough mat being placed beside the log to wipe them upon.'

"After our evening meal the inevitable ceremony of 'Kava' drinking had to be gone Indian? through. Some very clean and fairly pretty girls were brought in having as little clothes on as well could be, and seated themselves in a row on one side of the hut. Sundry friends of the family also assembled, and in a few minutes we were quite a large, and a very was over four feet, and a cream-colored enamel was in such a disposition, that I loved every one solid piece of hard black wood.

"The Kava, or as it is generally called in the Fiji group, the 'Yangona' root, is in aplittle lumps which are handed over to the the experience of." girls, who put them into their mouths and commence solemnly and methodically to-ehew."

When any one of the girls deems her individual mouthful of the needful consistency, she places it in the great bowl, rinses her mouth with water and begins again. When enough of these masses of chewed Kava had accumulated in the bowl, water was poured on to them until they were well covered. The liquid was then filtered through cocoa-nut fibre, and was ready for use. "The drinking of the Kava is no mere convivial pastime; it is almost a ceremony. A beautifully polished cocoa-nut bowl was given to me, and into it one of the maidens poured from another bowl the soapylooking beverage. I winced as I realized that my bowl held a pint and a half, for I knew it was etiquette to swallow every drop. I drained it off however, at one fell gulp, and, as previously instructed, flung the empty cocoanut shell upon the mat with a spinning motion amidst clapping of hands and deep-toned cries of 'ah mata.' It is a most unpleasant beverage to a stranger, tasting as I imagine diluted earth and Gregory's powder would taste."

"After breakfast I went to see the native school; this is held in a large, low building in the middle of the island; it is built exactly like the other houses, but is much larger, There were about a hundred scholars ranging from four or five years to grown men and women even with babies. They seemed very happy and bright, boys and girls, men and women all mingling amicably together. The thatched roof and sides; the rafters and roof noise they made would, I think, have some-the bed of death, "trampling under foot th what astonished an English schoolmaster, but testimonics and judgment of our worthy prewhich in Fijian houses burns unceasingly in their evident enjoyment of their work, and the decessors!" What rapid advances the spir entire absence of that feeling of school which of the world or the enemy of our souls, "wit is inseparable from the mind of English youth, all deceivableness of unrighteousness," seem fully made up for seeming lack of discipline, to be making upon our Christian profession There were native teachers only, of course, particularly in some places! How lament tifully made white ones for which the South and these took charge of the scholars in what ably the standard of primitive Quakerism i I suppose were classes. Some were dividing being lowered to suit the religious taste of the room is a sort of dais, raised about a foot and multiplying by 3, 5, 7, 9, and the like; from the rest of the floor, and upon this the others were slowly spelling out little Fiji fidence, with the form of godliness-too much learning give a more comprehensive, practical, and, withal, a more simple definition of religion, than is the following from an illiterate untried ways and novel enterprises, not only

(To be continued.)

For "The Friend." Desultory Selections and Pencillings. AN INDIAN'S DEFINITION OF RELIGION.

"When I* once enquired of a pious Indian, who labored to bring his country people to a principles and testimonies, but, it may be, sense of good, what he meant by the religion he wanted to promote, he said :-

'My brother; I was made sensible that my heart was hard and bad. Under this sense merry party. An enormous bowl was taken I cried to God who made the heart. The sons, to have such encouraging testimonies from its peg upon the wall, and placed be-water ran long (some years) from my eyes; and Christian reminders as the subjoined from tween us and the pretty girls. It was a till, at last, I felt my heart was changed; splendid piece of furniture, and had been in that it had become soft and good. I thought the family for many generations; its diameter myself raised as it were above the world. I persons were more fully open, and implicitly covered the greater part of its shallow surface. man; and could bear without anger any thing small, and were willing to go, to stay, to do It had four short legs, and was carved from from any of my fellow creatures, from a sense or to forbear in minor matters, as seemed that what was wrong in them proceeded only best, that they would thrive more vigorously from that same badness of heart, I had too long grouned under.' This the Indian said, after another came gradually before the view pearance not unlike a large horse-radish; this was what he called Religion; and what he of my mind; all that I had to do, or believed is scraped of its soiled outer skin and cut into was concerned to exhort his brethren to seek was required at my hands, came not upon me

PLAINNESS OF SPEECH, BEHAVIOR AND AP-PAREL.

From a testimony concerning William Bird sall, a member of New York Monthly Meeting, who died on the 30th of Seventh month, 1859, in the 62d year of his age.

"At the late Quarterly Meeting held at Flushing on Long Island, about three days before his death, and which was the last meet ing he attended, William Birdsall's friends were comforted by the firmness and Christian zeal which he displayed in reviving in the meeting for discipline some of our religious testimonies, particularly that in relation to plainness of speech, behavior, and apparel; when he expressed it as his belief, that there never had been an instance of a member of our Society having attained to eminent usefulness therein, who had not been faithful in maintaining this, as well as all our other doctrines and testimonies in daily life and conversation. Indeed, he would repeat, that it might be stated to be an undeniable fact; and he hoped this would be distinctly remembered, as a testimony he felt constrained to bear for the Truth."

WATCHMAN, WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

What a day is this for pride of discovery! Of thirst for liberality and change! For removing landmarks! For assaults upon long established usages, and settled principles! For," as writes Thomas Scattergood, from the times! How lukewarmness and self-con are having place! and this coupled with the desire, if not determination, to live too exclu sively for the present, irrespective of the grea hereafter! How strongly in contrast is this with what used to characterize this people-"low self-denial and watchful restraint," with Could the skilled logician or the master of that liberty which William Penn testified "stood but in the liberty of the Spirit of truth."

Would it not be well before entering upon to retrospect calmly the past, with a profound view and sense of the ground of our religious with the fervent desire and prayerful purpose of heart to make a new start on the original foundation? At such seasons, as above alluded to, it is well, especially for young per-

"John Barclay's Letters," &c. "1818. Third month 3d .- I believe if young given up to acts of dedication apparently in religious stature and strength. Oue thing at once; for there was no hard task-master to obey, but one who knew my weakness, and my inability to give up even to the least matter of duty, without his special aid. As I was concerned to keep my eye open, to see whatever He might show me was to be given un to,-and as my desire from day to day (was) unto Him, and the accomplishment of his will respecting me,-first one thing, then another, at seasons opened before me with sufficient clearness: sometimes these apprehended duties were very little matters, at other times they were of fearfully great importance; and often were they of a nature and complexion, which the worldly-wise part in myself and in others, could not bear or understand. Yet after having gone through and been favored to stand faithful in the performance of these things, I have often seen the propriety of them; and I have felt it a precious thing to be 'led about and instructed' so suitably, so seasonably, so safely.

THOUGHTS ON MUSIC.

The introduction and study of music either sacred" or secular, by our members, which now in some places is not only excused, but pleaded for and much indulged in, we have no doubt have their root and spring in the adulterated Quakerism of the present day; being one of the degenerate plants of a strange vine unto the Lord of hosts. A tree is to be known by its fruits. And is not the tendency of music to lead the mind away from the simplicity of the Truth, and to expose, especially young persons, to inreased temptations and dangers? For music mpt, to mislead, and to destroy us.

^{*} Supposed to be George Dillwyn,

Imonitions revealed through the Holy Spirit against individuals whom he hated. -our guide into all truth-might be heeded; easons of precious visitation, have a very relis followed by weakness. ponsible duty resting upon them toward neir susceptible offspring. How should they, s delegated under-shepherds-having themlves experienced of the all-sufficiency of the s the alone refuge-the olive-branch of peace the subject, and was released. nd preservation in times of temptation and tand acquitted in the Divine sight, having one all they could to preserve their offspring

ven that a set of unreasoning, irritated a room be taken off the north end of it simi-appears to have been about $1267.50. chool children may be put into a good humor lar to that on the girls' side in size and situaor awhile by melodious tones

'Untwisting all the cords that tie The hidden soul of harmony.'

plant a principle. It operates upon the senses, ness becoming our religious profession. While it is easy for the fleshly mind to find and through them upon the emotions, so 9th mo. 7th, 1836. "As a practice now race of God—commend their dear children mo. 10th, 1836. "The committee to encourage Hannah Paul, Jane Johnson, Hannah Gibbits safe guidance, and encourage to filial among the boys a more general use of the bons and Elizabeth C. Mason, were appointbedience to all its openings and requisitions, plain language reported further attention to ed."

Westtown Boarding School.

"But what is the educational value of these matical school be put in the present collecta siren that excites and fascinates, while it processes? The insane are soon raving again, ing room, the writing school in the present nfeebles and injures us. However specious The troubled spirit of Saul was often quieted boys' parlor, and the reading school in the he reasoning in favor of this sensuous art by David's harp, but he was not reformed philosophical apparatus room; that the parnd idol, the same line of argument as is used thereby, and came to bitter grief at last. So tition between the present reading and writor it, would lead by gradual but easy steps the irritated children, when the next cross ing school rooms be taken down, so as to make b dancing and the ball room; to theatrical occurrence takes place, will be turbulent as one room of them to be used for the arithxhibitions, with other well nigh fatal indulever. Education ought to implant in the metical school. It is further proposed that ences of the appetites and passions. Oh, the mind of these, principles of obedience to aut the above arrangements be carried into effect anger of the first steps in error, or from safe thority, deference to seniors, good will to all. as soon as funds for the purpose can be proeaten tracks—from a right, though straight Music has no power to do this. If music cured by voluntary contribution. It is also nd narrow way! Shortsighted and fallible made men virtuous, we ought to see the proof recommended that no change be made at reatures as we are, we never know where in those communities where music, and espeper present in the mode of warming the house, the diverging paths, small as they may seem cially what is called sacred music, is most
The subject of the dress of the children at the first, may lead and land us! Self-pleasing cultivated. The two cities in the world in school claiming the attention of the comminrennes in the direction of worldly compli-which this art is carried to the highest per- tee, it was desired the superintendent and nee, should especially be guarded against; fection, are said to be Munich and Rome, and matron may be encouraged affectionately and cause the enemy of our souls is ever on the the moral corruption of those cities is deplor-steadily to endeavor to maintain amongst the ert, under some specious guise or other, to able. It is not in the power of music to im-scholars a due regard to consistency and plainguments for indulgence on the side of its long as the sound lasts, and mayhap a little prevails in the school to a considerable extent atural propensities, we, nevertheless, believe longer. But the effect is transient. It im- of combining to conceal from the teachers nat but few if any of our members enter upon parts no strength to resist temptation. It such information as is frequently essential to is forbidden amusement without some mis-does nothing to eradicate selfishness. It does the proper government of the institution, by ivings as to its being right for them--with- not truly soften the heart. I have just been which a system of prevarication and falseat some conflict with that swift Witness for reading a notice of one of the most crucl of hood has been introduced and promoted, on ruth, which, in the form of a scruple or gentle the Russian Czars, Ivan Vasiliwitch, who was deliberate consideration of the affecting stateproof, forewarns of danger, and prompts to so fond of church-music as to perform some ments made to the committee on this subject, bedience to a still small voice within, which times himself on the instrument, and in the it was concluded to separate a few friends to is in the line of peace and duty faithfully to pauses between these 'sacred' performances, unite with the teachers and superintendent economics and obey. Oh! that these heavenly had been known to issue his cruel decrees in prompt endeavors to eradicate the practice; and it was the united judgment of the "It is the power of the Gospel, and that committee that if, after suitable labor and ads thereby much sorrow and remorse might only which can regenerate the heart. Music monition, any scholars should persevere in a e spared. Parents herein, and especially at is a kind of intoxication, and all intoxication course of conduct so opposed to the religious concern under which the institution was established, they should be expelled from the school. To which service Samuel Bettle, Westfown Boarding School.

At a meeting of the committee held 6th Thos. Evans, Josiah Tatum, Hannah Rhoads, 12th mo. 9th, 1836. The committee on a The watering committee proposing that better supply of water, &c., made the followanger. This is instructively set forth in the the present washhouse be dispensed with, and ing report: "That they have caused a tank llowing testimony from the pen of Ann that the cellar now used as a wood-cellar be to be constructed on the south front of the rowley: -"A fondness for dress and music, fitted up as a wash-room for the boys, and boys' side, about 130 feet long by 6 wide, and as one of my greatest foibles; and I am that the contemplated eistern at the east end 41 feet high - snfficient to contain nearly ound in gratitude to acknowledge, that had of the house be placed in said wash-room in 28,000 gallons. They have also had two cisnot been for parental care, advice, and stead of under the boys' shed, as heretofore terms built, one in the girls' wash-house and rudent restraint, I might have gone great concluded on,"—the proposals were adopted the other in the basement story at the east engths in these gratifications. Then, in the and the committee authorized to carry them end of the house, where a room has been fitted we of the gospel, I would most carrestly and into effect.

The committee on Superintendent and Mathees is about 7 feet clear in diameter and be faithful in the discharge of their imtor reported a communication, signed by 11 feet deep. The foreign pump has also ortant duties, remembering they are dele- Nathan Sharpless and Martha Jefferis, offer been put in order, and by a trial recently ated as care-takers over a very important ing themselves for those respective stations; made it appears that about 30 hours' pumprust; and happy will it be for those parents and on deliberate consideration the committee ing is sufficient to supply a week's consumption, in the day of righteous inquisition, may united in the appointment of those Friends. tion of water. The quantity contained in the The committee on supplies were requested tank and cistern is so large that it will afford to purchase 18 reference Bibles, to be placed ample time for it to settle and become cool in a true simplicity, and in the fear of the Lord. In the different rooms of the institution; also the summer season, and the committee bea suitable number of Scripture Lessons, to lieve the important desideratum of an abun-The annexed is a portion of a letter of our be used as a text book in religious instruc-dant supply of wholesome water for drinking, the friend Alfred Cope, on the subject of tion. The committee charged with the sub-jects of the consumption of fuel, warming the tained. The forcing pump appears to answer "We can easily understand that the pleas- school building and the general accommoda- the purpose at present, but the time necesane, who have neither reason nor conscience agreed to propose that a collecting room be be greatly diminished and the mill power o which to appeal; or that a cross baby may made at the boys' end, similar in size and saved, by a pump geared with a double coothed to sleep by a tender lullaby; and furniture to the one at the girls' end, and that stroke." The cost of these improvements

4th mo. 25th, 1837. "The committee aption, to be occupied as a boys' parlor. To pointed in the 9th month last to endeavor, accommodate the schools displaced by the in conjunction with the superintendent and above change it is proposed that the mathe-teachers, to promote a reform among the scholars, report 'That they have given con- where he resided, and that he sung then the siderable attention to the subject, and that songs of Babylon, by the muddy waters there they have now the satisfaction to state their of; but having drunk deep of the brooks of belief, that the causes of uncasiness which in- Shiloh, which run softly into the newly conduced their appointment appear to have been verted soul, he could sing and rejoice in the entirely removed, and that subordination and Lord Jesus Christ." good feeling prevail among the scholars generally.' The committee were continued to render any advice or assistance that may be requisite in future for the preservation of good government in the school."

The farm tenement and infirmary have been rented for another year, and a written agreement executed with the tenant of the infirmary, providing for the occupancy of the west end of that building for the sick, whenever it may become needful to do so, and the agreement was left with the superintendent. To examine and settle the accounts of the school for the past year, Thos. Evans, Henry Cope and Thos. Kimber are appointed, who were also desired to prepare an essay of a report to the Yearly Meeting.

Talk Over What You Read .- Nearly forty years' experience has shown me how little I truly know of a subject until I begin to explain it or teach it. Let any young person try the experiment of giving in conversation, briefly and connectedly, and in the simplest language, the chief points of any book or article he has read, and he will at once see what I mean. The gaps that are likely to appear in the knowledge that he felt was his own will no doubt be very surprising. I know of no training superior to this in utilizing one's reading, in strengthening the memory, and in forming habits of clear, connected statement. It will doubtless teach other things than those I have mentioned, which the persons who honestly make the experiment will find out for themselves. Children who read can be encouraged to give, in a familiar way, the interesting parts of the books they have read, with great advantage to all concerned. More than one youth, I know, has laid the foundation of intellectual tastes in a New England family, where hearty encouragement was given to children and adults in their attempts to sketch the lectures they had heard the evening previous. The same thing was done with books .- Christian Union.

Extract from a Memoir of John Thorp .- The evening preceding his decease, he related to his family the following circumstance:

"When a boy, about fourteen years of age, my attachment to music and singing was such, that when walking alone in the lanes and fields on an evening, I frequently gratified myself by singing aloud; and indulged therein, even after my mind became uneasy with the practice, until, in one of my solitary evening walks, and when in the act of singing, I heard, as it were, a voice distinctly say, "If thou wilt discontinue that gratification, thou shalt be made partaker of a much more perfeet harmony.

Such was the powerful and convincing effect of this solemn and awful communication, that, he added, he never afterwards indulged in the practice. After a short suspense of conversation, he related the circumstance of Luke Cock having been a great singer, prior to joining the Society of Friends: and that John Richardson said of him, "he was the greatest singer in that part of the country

Selected. TAKE MY HAND.

She slept within her little crib, Beside her mother's bed The good-night kiss long since was given, The evening prayer was said. Why start thus? does some frightful dream I can not understand, Trouble my child? she only said, "Please, mamma, take my hand."

And with her little hand in mine, Feeling that I was near, She sweetly slept again in peace, Without a thought of fear Oh, with such childlike faith as hers, Ready at my command, When fears distress, how soon I'd cry, My Father, take my hand.

And even though I may not see Thy presence by my side, Yet, if I feel my hand in thine, I would be satisfied. And, though the way be cold and dark, If hy my side thou'lt stand, I'll trust in thee and onward go, O Father, take my hand.

Thou who hast trod life's pathway through Must know the way to lead, And, if I follow such a Guide, I am secure indeed; And when, life's journey safely o'er, I reach that "happy land," I'll praise thee, Father, evermore,

That then did'st take my hand. -M. E. L. in National Baptist.

WHAT IS BEST.

BY MARIANNE FARNINGHAM. We do not know! Thou knowest! As children in the dark We lift our hearts, our hands to thee, And find a rest, an ark; We trust thee in our ignorance, O Wise, O Good, O Strong; And though the shades encompass us We find thee with our song.

We think we know. Thou knowest, We dream, and hope, and plan, And make mistakes, and sigh to know How frail and weak is man; But thou, from the beginning, Canst see the end of all We rest upon thy knowledge, Father, on whom we call.

We do not know the best for us, And so we strive in vain ; And so we sarrye in vain;
And for our sowing often reap
A harvest dire of pain;
We fail and fall, and then at last
We cry to thee for aid, And only rest when thou dost say,
"Tis I, be not afraid."

O God, we would be wiser yet, And only pray, "Choose thou." Lead as one leads the fittle ones. We are thy children now; And day by day, and step by step, We need the guiding hand; O let us cling to thee, until We reach the safe home-land.

The journey short or long, Our hearts will rest in comfort. And we will sing our song; Since thou dost know, our ignorance And weakness matter not, We trust in thy great love, () God, And thon dost choose our lot.

And then let days be fair or dark,

For "The Friend,"

Religious Views and Tenets. I am of the belief that it is the privilege all, and that it is in the reach of all, to attai by the assisting grace of God, to that happ and sinless condition that Adam and Eve wer in before they fell. But I do not believe the we shall be freed from the infirmities of hi till this mortal shall put on immortality. Fo this body which was made of the earth, is, a course, earthy. But God breathed into Adar the breath of life, and he became a living soul and had the Divine image given him, spiriti ally. In this innocent and happy conditio he held immediate interconrse with his Make: He had also laws and commandments give him, with power to obey or to disobey. a countermanding spirit of evil soon present ed himself with his enticing snares. H taught them a contradictory doctrine. They or, rather, the woman, listened to it, and be lieved a lying spirit instead of the plain com mandment of God; and so completed her sir She gave to her husband of that which wa forbidden, and he partook also. Thus sin entered into the world, and death by sin The life of innocency and purity was lost They became blind and dead to good, but their eyes were opened to evil. And this their sin, through disobedience, has passed on all, for all have sinned. Shame came upor them. They covered themselves with a cov ering, but not of God's spirit. They had now forfeited their right to the tree of life, and were driven from the Garden of Eden, and paradise of God. They were sent forth into the world, which had now become cursed for man's sake. They were to eat of the herb of the field, instead of the Garden of Eden. And in sorrow were they to eat of it all the days of their life because of their transgression. The enemy that deceived them was also eursed above all that God had made. And the Almighty said to bim, "I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel." Here the enmity which still exists between the two seeds of good and evil, first took its rise, And they are still contrary, the one to the other. It was by man's own voluntary choice that he partook of the fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil; and that these two discordant elements first entered the heart of man. Good and evil are discordant in their nature, and can never harmonize. "For what fellowship hath rightcousness with unrightcousness?" The seed of the woman, which is Christ the Word, has a bruising power which is exerted by the Holy Spirit, over the evil in man, in order to destroy the works of the devil within. So the seed of the serpent—the subtle foe of God and man-has a bruising and deceitful power, in order to destroy, if possible, the silent, purifying works of the Holy Spirit in the heart. Hence the strife. Hence the warfare between the two powers; and we become servants to which soever power we yield ourselves servants to obey; "whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness." "For of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage." So choose ye, while time is in mercy lengthened out, which of the two ruling powers ye will serve; as the power of choice is left to man. And we may, if we will, choose the universal remedy which God has provided, and be restored from the uni-ersal evil which has come upon us in the all. For as in Adam all are dead spiritually, o in Christ all may be made alive. For as by one man's offence judgment came upon all into condemnation, so by the righteonsness of one, the free gift might come upon all unto nstification of life. For where sin, through lisobedience, has abounded unto death, grace night much more abound through obedience into eternal life through Jesus Christ our ord. For life and immortality are brought o light by the gospel, and as a free gift are offered to all, in order to raise up from darkless to light and from the power of Satan to lod, that we might receive forgiveness of sins, and be established in Christ Jesus, who never fell. For if the law of the Spirit of life n Christ Jesus could set Paul free from the aw of sin and death, so it can and will us, if we obey and follow it; and they will have no nore dominion over us. Spiritual death havng been slain as the last enemy, by and brough Him who came to destroy the works of the devil, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in an everlasting righteousness into every individual soul. Yes, everlasting! Not a fitful righteousness, which is "as a morning cloud, or as the early dew that goeth away, until another revival breeze shall blow upon it, and fan anew the slumbering flame. We need his abiding presence as a refiner and purifier, till the works of the devil are destroyed. But as his works first entered the

of God, and receiving the temptation of Satan, so everlasting righteonsness is brought in by resisting him, and receiving and believing and obeying Christ the second Adam, the quickening Spirit who never fell, and who manifests Himself in the heart to take away the sin of the world, and who has, by his one offering, forever perfected all them who are thus sanctified. But as He who knew no sin died for us, we must, through Him, die to sin; for it was sin that separated man from God in the first place, and it must be slain by Him who tasted death for every man, that He might restore us to God through newness of And now, what is our great business, as we are passing along through this probationary world, but to seek, by the assisting grace of God, to regain that heavenly image which was lost in the fall?

As the spirit of anti-Christ is continually striving to draw the heart away from the Creator to the creature, or to the visible things of the world, so the Spirit of Christ is striving to draw the heart back again to the Creator, and from the world, as seeing Him who is invisible. Let us not be content with a religion that does not destroy the works of the devil; that does not redeem us from all iniquity. Let us not take part for the whole, or think the work is done, when it is only begun, and thus stop short of a full salvation, and finally miss the crown immortal. The living God dwells only in living temples. "To revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

Dublin, Ind., 7th mo. 21st, 1882.

Advice on Reading the Scriptures.

Friend,-Hearken to a word of advice, which is in my heart to thee; it may be of great use to thee, if the Lord open thy spirit, and cause it to sink in. It is this:

Wait on the Lord, that thon mayest from Him feel the right limit to thy mind in read ing the Scriptures. For the mind of man is busy and active, willing to be running beyond on the gradual conformity to the world in its bounds, guessing at the meaning of God's dress, style and manner of living, manifested Spirit, and imagining of itself, unless the Lord by many of the "Methodists and Quakers; opening to thee words concerning the king- and worldly conformity in dress are as clearly own apprehensions about them, that the one season; do not presume to understand a thing before He give thee the understanding of it; and know, also, that He alone is able to preserve the true sense and knowledge in thee, that thou mayest live dependently upon Him for thy knowledge, and never "lean to thy hundred of the principal religious and philanown understanding." Little dost thou know what it hath cost us to have our own understanding and wisdom broken down, and how demonstratively by this Spirit the Lord opens Scriptures to us, (yea, and the things themselves, which the Scriptures speak of,) ever since He hath taught us to deny our own understanding, and to lean upon his Spirit and

The Lord guide thee by his certain, infalliworld by disobedience to the commandments ble Spirit, into the certain, infallible, everlasting way of life, that by the shinings of light, Spirit and power in thee, thou mayest see light and enjoy life. For, if thou didst certainly and infallibly understand all the words, descriptions and testimonies concerning the thing in the Scriptures; yet it is one thing to understand words, testimonies and descriptions, and it is another matter to understand, know, enjoy, possess, and live in that which the words relate to, describe, and bear wit-

And, friend, if thou wilt be an inward Jew, and know and understand the laws of life, the laws of the new covenant, thou must read them in those tables, where God writes them in and by the new covenant. Indeed, by reading in the letter, thou mayest read testimonies concerning the Spirit and his ministration; but thon must read in the Spirit, if ever thou come rightly to understand the letter. And the end of words is to bring man to the knowledge of things beyond what words can utter. So learn of the Lord to make a right use of the Scriptures, which is, by esteeming them in their place, and prizing that above them, which is above them.

The eternal life, the Spirit, the power, the fountain of living waters, the everlasting pure well, is above the words concerning it. This the believer is to witness in himself, and to draw water with joy out of it .- Isaac Pening-of artillery, named Von Ehrenberg, having written a pamphlet in which he endeavored to show how millions of marks might be saved upon the German war budget annually by the abolition of useless pomp and show, has been find the nests of two species of ants, red and The deepest trust leads to the most power-ful action. It is the silencing oil that makes the machine obey the motive power with greatest readiness and result.

The deepest trust leads to the most power-ful action. It is the silencing oil that makes the machine obey the motive power with greatest readiness and result.

The deepest trust leads to the most power-ful act acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust the action of the power-ful act acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow, suspended from the branches of variable trust acts and sen-yellow trust acts and se prisoner had insulted the Minister of War as well as the Imperial Body Guard, of which he had contested the utility

For "The Friend."

Religious Items, &c.

Fashion and Christianity .- A writer in the Earnest Christian (Free Methodist), comments limit it. Therefore, read in fear, and wait and regards it as evincing a low state of understandingly, to distinguish between God's spiritual life. He says, pride, extravagance dom and the things of the kingdom, and thy and emphatically condemned in the Bible as idolatry, swearing, lying and stealing. Fashmay be always cast by, and the other always ion, he asserts, leads, to a hollow-hearted, embraced by thee. And always wait God's vain and godless life; squanders the means of its devotees; and improperly engrosses the thoughts, especially of the women.

British Benevolent Societies .- The London Methodist Recorder of 6th month 9th says :-"Within the past six weeks upward of two thropic societies in Great Britain have held their annual meetings in the metropolis, and the reports presented at those meetings exhibit, for the most part, a gratifying increase on the receipts of the previous year. The following particulars of the present financial position of the principal societies will doubtless be of interest to a large circle of our readers: Church Missionary Society, income, £212,910; expenditure, £193,515. British and Foreign Bible Society, income, £199,785; expenditure, £190,783. Religious Tract Society, income, £198,934; expenditure, £196,426. Wesleyan Missionary Society, income, £151,-797; expenditure, £146,754. Society for Propagation of Gospel in Foreign Parts, income, £134.978. London Missionary Society, income, £116,012; expenditure, £111,703.

For "The Friend."

Natural History, Science, &c.

Earth-Tremors in Japan.—In a series of investigations in Japan on Earth-Tremors, the apparatus used was so sensitive that if a pebble were dropped on the grass within six feet of the pit in which it was placed, a distinct sound was heard in the telephone, and a swing was produced in the galvanometer, connected

The general result obtained was, that after eliminating all motions which could have been caused by any local influence, there were movements to be detected every day, and sometimes many times per day. Japan is a country where earthquakes are of very frequent occurrence; and it has been supposed that these earth-tremors are connected with the other more formidable phenomenon.

Utilizing Ants in Horticulture .- Dr. C. J. Maegowan has sent me from Han Chow, Province of Hainan, China, a little paper on the "Utilization of Ants as Insect Destroyers in China." It seems that in many parts of German Military Law .- A German captain the province of Canton the orange trees are injured by certain worms, and to rid themselves from these pests, the inhabitants import ants from the neighboring hills. The hillpeople throughout the summer and winter apply to the entrance of the bag-like nests, that she had been perfectly correct in her inwhere the ants enter the bladders, and, as Dr. terpretation of her master's character. Macgowan expresses it, "become a marketable commodity at the orangeries." trees are colonized by placing the ants on their upper branches, and bamboo rods are stretched between the different trees, so as to since 1640, and probably dates from a much earlier period .- C. V. Riley in Nature.

Telephone .- During the bombardment of the forts at Alexandria, a telephone was at-children; and the state of confusion they were "It appears to some of us as though we could tached to the Alexandria cable at Malta, and more than 1000 miles.

New Method of Coal Blasting .- Blasting with gun-powder is liable to the serious objection that the attendant flame may set on fire the inflammable gas which is often present in coal mines. At the Shipley collieries in Derbyshire, England, a cartridge has been introduced charged with caustic lime packed under a pressure of forty tons to the square relates the following anecdotes:

a farmer, had excited the admiration of a ed, calmly-reflecting majority. drover who was helping the shepherd to bring other market to Burntisland.

the cattle at his master's farm.'

here. The dog had always known that any asserted their belief that Mission Work, as those possessed with it away from a dependproperty of which he had been placed in carried on and advocated by many members ence upon Christ, the Head of the Church, in charge belonged to his master, and conse- of our Society, is at variance with, and sub- the first place; and then they have endeaver-quently brought the cattle to his master's versive of those simple and comprehensive ed to find Scriptural reasons and arguments one of his premises was false.

When the next litter was expected, she left conviction has yielded them a large measure the world and preach the gospel to every the house, and was not seen again for some of peace and comfort. Those making this time.

great pomp a whole retinue of fine healthy dence of their respective meetings, and many command is no authority to any one living, puppies. It appeared that she had hidden of them occupy the most important stations unless it is renewedly given to him or her by herself in a rabbit-burrow, evidently knowing which the Society can accord to them. * that, if she could only conceal her puppies It becomes a vital question how far these the apostles their place and service in the till they were able to shift for themselves, no just claims to consideration can be safely and Church. harm would come to them. The result proved peremptorily ignored.

Effect of Military Discipline.-When James Backhonse sailed from England on his visit to Van Diemen's Land, there were among the passengers in the vessel 46 Chelsea pensioners. give the antseasy access to the whole orchard. He says, that from having long been accus-This remedy has been in constant use at least tomed to act in obedience to military discipline, instead of upon principle, these men were generally as incapable of taking care of themselves when temptation was in the way, as in was often appalling. From the time they the firing was distinctly heard—a distance of sailed from the Downs till they reached the Cape of Good Hope, few days passed without some of them being intoxicated and quarrel-

THE FRIEND.

EIGHTH MONTH 12, 1882

The action of the late London Yearly Meetinch. When properly placed, these cartridges ing in extending an official sanction to the are discharged by water forced through a Home Mission movement, does not seem to flexible tube in connection with them. The settle comfortably on the minds of many who Friend, that our readers may see that notaction of water is to cause the lime to heat were opposed to the measure. The British withstanding the discouraging action of Lonard expand, and this, in connection with the Friend for the 7th month contains articles on don Yearly Meeting, there is still a considerexpansive force of the steam generated, is the subject from three contributors, and an able body of its members who are endeavoring sufficient to loosen the coal, without produc-editorial notice, all concurring in the senti- to stay the progress of that departure from ing any violent explosion or raising clouds of ment, that there was not in the Yearly Meet. the true principles of Friends which has been coal dust, which are in themselves a source ing the degree of unity that ought to have steadily progressing for years past. The of danger. To show the power exerted by attended the making of such an important testimony of our Society to the nature of true this cartridge, two iron pipes were exhibited change. The editor says, "If there was one gospel ministry, as a Divine gift; to its right at a scientific meeting, which had been shat-thing more objectionable than another to the exercise, as being only under a fresh call and tered by them, though one of them had pre- decision minuted respecting the proposal of anointing on every occasion; to the necessity the Conference, it was the great want of of waiting to feel this call and anointing beingh.—Chambers Journal. Illustration of Reason in Dogs .- J. G. Wood therefore, may be considered a forced one; to the importance of having the mind brought "A colley-dog named 'Moss,' belonging to it cannot yield solid comfort to a right-mind-before engaging in other duties of a religious

Not only this, but he would not allow the tained apart from the unity essential for any and strength, and they cannot truthfully drover to take the cattle any further, and the greatly increased success in that work? for adopt the language of George Fox, "I saw man was at last obliged to let the dog deliver I very much doubt if any of the objectors to that all was to be done in and by Christ. the measure are in anywise more reconciled There is reason to believe that in many this from other religious bodies, and especially has followed in the footsteps of practical. Several successive litters of pupples had committed to us, as we believe, by the Head low often have we seen the command of been taken from their mother, a little terrier, of the Church, and the adoption of which from our Saviour to his disciples, "tio ye into all

Another writer, under the signature veritas, states: "We are reluctantly oblige to state our deliberate conviction that th matter was too hastily decided, and that with out sufficient unanimity." "A little wedg has been dexterously introduced, which wil if it be not withdrawn in time, shiver our be loved Society to pieces." He thinks thos Friends who believe that a serious error ha been made in appointing the Committee should clearly show that they are not in unity with what has been done; and adds not, at present, cordially join in any of ou meetings, except in those for worship.

L. R. writes on the same subject as follows "Many of those who were designated by some of the speakers as 'Friends of tender minds or tender spirits,' felt grieved that a subject involving such important issues, and fraught with what may yet prove very serious results to the Society, should have been pressed through the meeting as this was, against the deliberate and expressed judgment of many Friends of weight and character.'

We make these quotations from the British and while unsatisfactory to a large minority, under a somewhat similar religious concern nature; in other words, its testimony to the One of the writers referred to, says: "I feel living headship of Christ over his church, is home eattle to the farm. The drover asked it a matter deeply to be regretted that a very being laid waste in many parts of our Society. to be allowed to borrow Moss for a few days, general feeling of dissatisfaction prevails with While most under our name, it is probable, to help him in getting some cattle from an the conduct of the discussion, in the minds of would hesitate to admit that they no longer those who dissented from the recorded judg-believed on these subjects with Friends in the "The dog, being on friendly terms with the ment of the meeting. * * What price, I beginning, yet many have had their minds so drover, went willingly, and gave his help in ask, has been paid for forcing the measure filled with the desirableness of various kinds bringing the cattle on their journey. On forward against the conscientious objections of so-called religious work, such as First-day their return, they had to pass the spot where of a large number of our members? Have schools, Bible schools, missionary meetings, the road to Burntisland branches off from its promoters gone away with easy minds &c., that they have practically rejected what that which led to his own farm; Moss refused themselves, under the unavoidable impression they theoretically approve. The religious lato go any farther on the Burntisland road, that the conclusion they sought has been ob- bors of such are performed in their own will

The process of reasoning is quite evident to it. They have again and again solemnly cases this creaturely zeal and activity has led farm. His reasoning was correct enough, but views of the Gospel which have distinguished to justify their course; so that doctrinal error creature," referred to as authority for any reprotest against innovation include a large ligious labor of a ministerial character that At last she returned, bringing with her in number of our members who have the confi-any one feels inclined to undertake! But this the same Divine Power that then assigned to required by Him. He knows how to promote -to 'abstain from all appearance of evil.'" he spread of his kingdom in the earth far hat He will make such use of us as best suits them. is own gracious purposes. Very simple and apparently trivial duties performed under a ense of Divine requisition, and on which a dessing from heaven rests, may ultimately e found to have been more effectual in pronoting the Lord's cause than far more conpienous labors which may have attracted nuch attention and elicited much applause rom our fellow-men.

We would be sorry indeed to discourage

of our Society, and the large degree of suc-Satan to God, had their root in their renunci- shipping interest were passed. tion of their own will and wisdom, even in eligious things, and in their diligent waiting and watching to know the will of the Lord concerning them. Hence their labors were n harmony with the Divine will, and were hey labor in vain that build. They felt, as $200,000,000. expressed by that wise man and skilful laporer in the Gospel, John Churchman, "Our trength, preservation, health and peace stand n our entire subjection to the will of the ng or reigning, still dwelling with the Seed, Thrist, in our own hearts; humbly waiting f his glory.

We have received a copy of the printed ainutes of a Yearly Meeting for Canada, held t Pickering from the 23rd to 27th of the 6th nonth. It is one of those sometimes called or distinction, the Smaller Bodies. Adam the spencer acted as Clerk. Epistles were reeived from Western, Iowa and Kansas Yearly and he asks "what course shall be pursued to prevent lectings, and replies sent thereto—these four such dangerous practice?" The Commissioner says odies being officially in correspondence. A proposition from the Meeting for Sufferings ritory, are in active hostility. Several men have been the Western Yearly Meeting that the four killed, and the trouble has almost assumed the dimenproposition from the Meeting for Sufferings deetings should act in harmony in the ad- sions of a civil strife. nission of other bodies into their circle, was mited with. It was concluded to grant reurning certificates only to those strangers resent who came from meetings with which hey were in correspondence; we understand not the ground that in respect to other bodies in the ground that in respect to other bodies he Meeting was not in a situation to act of which must have been 100 feet in height."

plainness of speech, behavior and apparel, as given. hey have been heeded, have proved to be a which is known to belong to the Friend, is 16 of cholera morbus, 10 of snostroke, and 10 of becoming such a profession. When any de-diphtheria.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3½'s, 101\frac{2}{3} a 101\frac{2}{4}; 4½'s, registered, viate in these respects, the thought is present- 113%; coupon, 114%; 4's, 120%; currency 6's, 133. ed to beholders that such are not faithful to Cotton remains about the same as last quoted. Sales could not authorize the making of the Suez Canal with-my one from laboring in the Lord's cause; their profession, or have left their first princil of middlings are reported at 13½ at 13½ cts, per lb. for out as it is his works alone that praise Him, ples. May it be our abiding concern to preve have little confidence in permanent good sent an example before the world and our esults from any services that are not really children, representing the beauty of holiness

From private sources we learn that those petter than we do; and if we are watchful, in attendance were comforted in a belief that villing and obedient, we need not fear but the Lord's presence was to be felt among

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES,-The President having vetoed the River and Harbor bill, both Houses of Congress passed the bill over the veto, and it is now a law.

Congress, on Seventh-day, passed all the remaining regular appropriation bills. The Knit Goods bill was taken up in the Senate and passed as it came from the House. In the House, the Senate amendments to the The abundant labors of the early members bill for the inspection of foreign steamers carrying passengers from United States ports were concurred in. sess that attended their efforts to turn men The joint resolutions for an investigation of the loss of rom darkness to light and from the power of the Jeannette and for a joint select committee to in-

> The President has nominated General U.S. Grant and William Henry Trescott to negotiate a commercial treaty with Mexico. The nominations have been confirmed by the Senate.

Secretary Folger estimates that the amount of the offers for the exchange of bonds for the new three per reatly blessed of Him, without whose help cents, received at the Treasury Department will exceed

The total amount of sugar duties refunded by the Treasury Department under the recent decision of the Supreme Court, up to 8th mo. 1st, has been $1,461,525.

The total value of the foreign commerce of the United States during the fiscal year ending 6th mo. 30th last, ord, whether in silence or speaking, suffer- including both imports and exports of merchandise and specie, amounted to $1,566,859,456, against $1,675,024,318 during the preceding fiscal year—showing a decrease of $108,164,862. During the last fiscal year or and feeling after his power, who is the re- there was an excess of exports over imports of gold and urrection and the life, and when He is pleas- silver coin and bullion, amounting to $6,940,186, against d to appear, his children partake in measure an excess of imports over exports during the preceding Igarding his so-called protest. The only matter to be year of $91,168,650.

The number of immigrants who arrived in the United States during the year ending 6th month 30th it does, last, was 789,003, an increase of 119,572 on the number for the preceding fiscal year.

Indian Agent Miles telegraphs to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs from Reno, in the Indian Territory, under date of the 5th inst., that Indians from that and the Kiowa Agency "had bought breech-loading guns of the best patterns from traders at Caldwell, Kansas, that every effort will be made to correct such abuses.

Two factions of the Creek nation, in the Indian Ter-

The forest fires in Michigan have been nearly all extingui-hed by the rain. Since the previous report two farmers were burned out near East Tawas, and considerable cedar and pine timber was destroyed.

The steamship Vandalia, which arrived at New

Several cases of "suspicious sickness" on the schooner officially.

The Minute of Advice contains the follows that granting and quarantine at Galveston, paragraph on plainness, which shows that these Friends are disposed to maintain the and one death were reported in Brownsville, Texas, estimony of the Society on this subject, which as been much set aside by many under our mayor has been sick of the disease. In Maximora, and the injunctions in our distributions to the standard of the size of the disease. name: "The injunctions in our discipline to is an increase in the number of cases, but no figures are

There were 540 deaths in Philadelphia for the week they have been heeded, have proved to be a salutary hedge to the young and inexperience of, and served as a protection to tender plants. We profess to be Friends. We make such 151 died of cholera infantam, 37 of coosumption, 37 of profession openly. The dress and address marasmus, 19 of inflammation of stomach and bowels,

Petroleum.-Standard white, 67 cts. for export, and

cts. per gallon for home use.

Flour is in limited request at former rates. Sales of 2500 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $4 25 a $5 for sour; $5.50 a $6 for clear, and $6.25 a $6.675 for straight; Pennsylvania extra family at $5.15 a $5 50;

western do, do, at $6 a $6.35, and patents at $7 a $8. Grain.—Wheat was a fraction higher. Sales of 7600 bushels new Southern at $1.10 a $1.16, the latter for business new Southern at $1.10 a $1.10, the latter of long berry amber; $1.14\text{ was bid for the present month. Rye is nominal. Corn is in fair demand and steady. Sales of $500 bushels, including yellow, at $1 cts.; mixed, at 90 a 901 cts.; steamer at 89 cts.; No. 3 at 88 a 882 cts. Oats .- Local lots are higher, while options rule steady. Sales of 9500 bushels, including new at 61 a 66 cts.; old white, at 70 a 71 cts., and do. rejected mixed at 66 a 67 cts.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 8th mo. 5th, 1882. — Loads of bay, 223; loads of straw, 42. Average price during the week—Prime timothy, 95 cts. to $1.10 per 100 pounds; mixed, 85 cts. to 95 cts. per 100 pounds; straw, 55 to 65 cts. per 100 pounds.

Beef cattle were in good demand at an advance: 3700 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 43 a 8} cts. per pound, as to quality.

Sheep were firmly held and in demand: 12,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 34 a 55 cts. per lb. as to condition.

Hogs were in fair demand: 3000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 111 a 121 cts. per lb., as to FOREIGN.-The steamer Arab with Cetewayo, the captured South African King, on board has arrived in the Thames.

The Times, in a forecast of the English harvest, says: "Wheat will not nearly amount to a fair average crop, that is, it will be no better than for the last five years. Barley promises rather less than an average yield. Oats are good."

In the House of Commons, Gladstone, replying to W. E. Gourley, said that the Government had ascertained that De Lesseps, in protesting against the land-ing of British troops on the property of the Suez Canal Company, acted solely as a private individual. It was not thought necessary, therefore, to take any steps reconsidered with advantage in regard to the Canal, he said, is the condition that it shall remain open, which

On the 1st inst. in the House of Lords, on report of the Arrears bill from Committee of the Whole, various amendments of mmor importance were proposed, some of which were adopted. The bill then passed its third reading, and will be returned to the House of Com-

One of the amendments-that introduced by the Duke of Abercorn-makes it compulsory for the Land Commission, under the circumstances set forth in the first clause of the bill, to order the payment of half the antecedent arrears.

After attacking the House of Lords as being an un-representative Chamber, the London Daily News says it hopes the Lords will give way in their opposition to the Arrears of Rent bill and shrink from the responsibilities of obstinacy.

The Daily News declares that the country will do well to ask itself how far the existence of the House of Lords in its present shape is consistent with the interests of the realm.

The fears in regard to the failure of the water supply in Alexandria have subsided.

On the afternoon of the 4th inst. a reconnoissance in force was made from Alexandria to the Mabella Junction. An engagement took place with the forces of Arabi Pasha, who were driven to a point on the Mahmoudieh Canal and suffered considerable loss. The English loss is reported at 4 who were killed and 29 wounded. The rebels are retrenching between Aboukir and Ramleh on the western hank of Mahmoudieh Canal, close to the point to which they were driven last week.

The town of Suez has been occupied by the British.

he telegraph office has been reopened. A despatch from Port Said to Reuter's Telegraph a despatch from Fort Said to Redier's Telegraph Company says: British men-of-war strongly occupy the Suez Canal here, at Ismailia and at Suez. All Euro-peans have left Suez. Only four French men-of-war remain in Egyptian waters.

In consequence of a telegram received from de Lesseps, at Ismailia, the Suez Canal Company has passed a special resolution declaring that, as the Khedive out the sanction of the Sultan, he has no power to in-loverated jointly with those lately arrested in Hayana, 56, and for Gilbert Weaver, William R. Hazard, Pers terfere with it.

The Khedive has written to Ragheb Pasha that he considered it incumbent upon his Government to give notice, without delay, of its intention to indemnify sufferers from the disorders at Alexandria, without distinction of nationality, in some manner compatible with the resources of the country.

The Turkish delegates to the Conference accepted the conditions proposed by the Powers in their invitations to the Porte to intervene in Egypt.

The London Times says it believes it represents the matured opinion of the nation in protesting against the Turks being permitted to come to Egypt, no matter what the restrictions to which they may ultimately consent.

Dervisch Pasha and Server Pasha have sailed for Egypt. The Council of Ministers have given instructions to Server Pasha.

El Jawaib states that Arabi's troops will submit to Dervisch Pasha immediately upon the arrival of the Turkish troops in Egypt,

Cairo, 8th mo. 3rd .- The official rebel journal has published the decision of the great national meeting held on Seventh-day. After considering the different decrees emanating from the Khedive, including the order dismissing Arabi Pasha from the office of Minister of War, the meeting declared that, in consequence of the occupation of Alexandria by foreign troops, the presence of the English squadron in Egyptian waters and the attitude of Arabi Pasha in repulsing the enemy, Arabi Pasha must be upheld as Minister of War, and that the orders of the Khedive and his Ministers in Alexandria were null and void, as the Khediye acted contrary to religious and civil laws.

The Under-Secretaries of State were intrusted to submit this decision to the Sultan. The decision is signed by the Princes Ibrahim, Asmed and Kamil, seven princes of the Yeghen family, the Sheikh of El Azhar Mosque, the mutus of the four Sunnite rites, the Grand Cadi of Egypt, the Coptic Patriarch, nine various vicars and sheikhs, thirty judges, eight under-secretaries, twenty-eight civil pashas, including Beni, twelve mudirs and one hundred notabilities of various religious denominations.

The new French Cahinet is officially announced as follows:

Duclerc, President of the Council and Minister of Foreign Affairs; Fallieres, Minister of the Interior; Develte, Under Secretary of the Interior: Deves, Minister of Justice; Davaur, Minister of Public Instruction; Tirard, Minister of Finance; General Billot, Minister of War; Admiral Jauregulberry, Minister of Marine; Cochery, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs; De Mahy, Minister of Agriculture; Pierre Legrand, Minister of Commerce and ad interim of Public Works.

De Freycinet has countersigned the appointment of Senator Duclere as President of the Council and Minister of Foreign Affairs. The new Ministers will assemble at the Elysée.

Paris, 8th mo. 7th.—Duclerc will read a declaration in both Chambers on Third-day regarding foreign affairs. He will state that the new Ministry do not wish to revert to the past; that they accept the vote of the Chamber of Deputies on the Egpytian credit, and desire the maintenance of peace; and should any incident occur compromising the dignity of France they will forthwith convoke the Legislature to concert with it upon measures necessary under the circumstances. Regarding home affairs, he will state that the new Cabinet take the vote of the Chamber as the basis of their policy.

Fifty houses and a wooden bridge have been burned on the Krestovsky Island, in the Neva, one of the islands on which St. Petersburg is built,

The Novoe Vremya says that Engineer Melville and seamen Noros and Ninderman, of the Jeanette's crew, have arrived at Tobolsk. They believe that Lieutenant Chipp and his companions perished in a snow storm.

An official despatch from Manilla reports that cholera is increasing in Japan.

The Mexican revenues for the last fiscal year amounted to $27,500,000-an increase of $4,500,000 compared with those of the preceding year.

There were 34 deaths from yellow fever in Havana up to Fifth-day evening during the past week. The Secretary of the Government, Senor Diaz Quintana, is now sick with the fever, It is reported that drought has destroyed nearly the whole corn crop in the juris diction of Remedios.

Another large establishment for counterfeiting silver coin has been discovered and suppressed. It was located in Remedios and had a branch in a neighboring located in Remedios and had a branch in a neighboring E. Tatuall, Pa., and William Tatuall, Del., $2.10 each, being admitted into the He village. There are indications that the counterfeiters vol. 56; from Alfred King, Agent, N. Y., $2.10, vol. the merits of the Redcemer.

The authorities believe that a large amount of spurious coin has already been sent from the island,

A telegram from Montreal says that Dennis Dineen, a farmer, near that city, "is about to sue the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, for having imported sparrows. He declares that they have already n up thirty acres of barley, destroyed his potatoes, and, in general, made havoc with his early vegetables. He estimates the number of sparrows on his land at

The army worm is reported to be doing great damage in New Brunswick, at Mangerville and in its vicinity. A telegram from Victoria, British Columbia, says that a large influx of Chinese is feared there, in conse quence of the anti-Chinese law going into force in the United States. Several vessels have sailed from Hong Kong for American ports, but their destinations have been changed to Victoria.

RECEIPTS.

Received from Jno. M. Sannders, N. J. $2.10, vol. 56; from Benjamin H. Lightfoot, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Daniel Koll, O., $2.10, vol. 56; for Joshua Warrington, Ark., Louise Thorp, N. C., and Anne Eyre, N. J., $3.15 each, to No. 52, vol. 56; for Phebe S. Gawthrop, Pa., $1.05, to No. 52, vol. 55; for Judith Mendenhall, N. C., $2.62, to No. 52, vol. 56; and for Benajah Carter, Aaron Shaw, Susannah Carter, Eleazer Carter, Hannah Frazier, John Bales, William Bales. Sanford Frazier, Evan Hadley, Jonathan Newman and Abel Stanley, Ind., 42 cents each, to No. 52, vol. 55; from David J. Brown, Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Samuel P. Leeds, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Martha Mickle. N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Sarah L. Mickle, $2.10, vol. 56; from Phebe C. Parker, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from John Carey, O., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Lewis Johnson, Jordan Ballard, Cornelius Douglass, Joseph Stanton, David H. Miller and Joseph Hare, $2.10 each vol. 56; from Phebe J. Stedman, Kansas, per Thomas Lamborn, $2.10, vol. 56; from George Brinton, Pa. $2.10, vol. 56; from Benjamin Bowerman, Mich., $2.10, vol. 56; from Rebecca Kaighn, for Amos Evens, Joseph K. Evens, and J. Trimble Zook, N. J., and William T. Zook, Pa., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Samuel F. Troth, City, $2, vol. 56; from Edward Bailey, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Beulah Garrigues, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Joseph L. Bailey, Sarah Whitacre and Joseph Bailey, Joseph L. Bailey, Sarah Whilafe and Comly B. Shoemaker, Pa., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from George W. Brown, City, $2, vol. 56; from Hannah Eastlack, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Ann W. Fry, City, $2, vol. 56, and for Deborah Woolman, City, $1.05, to No. 27, vol. 56, George Wright, City, $2, vol. 56, and Susanna R. Leeds, N. J., and William B. Hartz, Pa, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Alice M. Fowler, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Lydia Lee and Margaret E. Lee, Pa., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Thomas Llewelyn, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Isaac P. Wilbur, Mass., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Mary Booth, Elizabeth H. Eddy, and Mary A. Gardner, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Emma A. Stapler, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from Charles L. Willits, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jane B. Smith, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56 From Jonathan Chace, R. I., $2.10, vol. 56; from Rebecca Hornor, City, $2.05, vol. 56, and for Jane P. Cox N. J., and Lydia M. Tucker, Pa., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from John Warner and Matilda W. Warner, Pa., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Anna Thomas and Howard A. Mickle, N. J., per Richard Mott, $2.10 each, vol. 56 Ann Sharpless, $2.10, vol. 56, and for Mary Ann Sharpless, $2.10, vol. 56; from Edith Sharpless, City, $2, vol. 56; from David Darnell, N. J., $2.10, vol. City, $2, Vol. 56; from Davia Darnet, N. 5, $2.10, Vol. 56; from Joseph J. Hopkins, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Windle, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Elizabeth Marriott, N. Y., $2.10, vol. 56; from Elizabeth D. Meredith, Pa., $2.10 vol. 56, and for Sallie T. Hoopes, $2.10, vol. 56; from Israel Morris, City, $2, vol. 56; from Samuel A. Bicon, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Anna W. Hooton, N. J., $2.10 vol. 56; from William J. Evans, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56 from Lettice Evans, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Isaac Moore, Pa, $2.10, vol. 56; from E. S. Deats, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from David J. Scott, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Ann Scott, $2.10, vol. 56; from Mary Ann Bacon, Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Emeline E. Hilyard, Dacon, vtm., 52.10, vol. 30; from Emetine E. Hilyard, N. J., $2.10, vol. 50; from Thomas Woolman, čtiy, $2, vol. 56, and for Eliza W. Reeves, $2, vol. 56; from John W. Biddle, čtiv, $2, vol. 56, and for William Biddle, Samuel Biddle, George Jones and Samuel Mason, $2 each, vol. 56, and for Carkson Sheppard, Pa., Joshua C. Smith, Md., and Jonas Edge, Kansas, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Mahlon Moon, Pa., $2.10, vol 56, and for William H. Moon, Charles Moon and James

E. Hallock, Samuel G. Cook, Lydia C. Hoag, Georn Hoag, Nicholas D. Tripp, Hepsibeth C. Hussey, Wi liam R. Taber and Mary Ann Simpkin, N. Y., ar Nathan Cook, Pa., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Joshi Brantingham, Agent, O., for Charles Cope, Benjam Kite, John Hoyle, Christiana Kirk, and Barton Dea $2.10 each, vol. 56; for Charles W. Warrington, Cit $2, vol. 56; from Racbel F. Parker, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56 from Clayton Hancock, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Charles Stokes, Agent, N. J., for Henry W. Will Joshua S. Wills, Joseph H. Haines, Clayton Haine Joseph Evans, George Lippincott, M. S. & E. P. Aller Joseph Evans, George Explaneous 31. S. C. E. F. Andel Levi Troth, Esther S. Prickett, and Rachel L. Atkinson $2.10 each, vol. 56, and for N. Reece Whitacre, $3.1f to No. 52, vol. 56; from Anna Pickering, City, $2, vo 56; from Mary E. Dickinson, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Thomas Wilbur, N. V., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jame Maulsby, Agent, Ind., for William T. Hadley, Jess Osborn, John Bales, Joel Hodson, James Kersey and John Sales, John Bales, Joel Hodson, James Kersey and John Bales, John Bales, Joel Hodson, James Kersey and John Bales, John Bal Mary Ann Osborn, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Di Stephen Wood, L. I., $2, vol. 56; from Joshua T. Bal linger, Agent, Pa., for Rebecca Austin, Gilbert Cope Marshall Fell, Jane Gibbons, S. D. Gray, Ralston F Hoopes, Mary A. Newlin, Rachel McClain, Dr. Georg Martin, Esther H. Mendenhall, George E. Pim, Mar H. Parke, Sarah Pennell, Ann M. Pratt, Rachel N Philips, Sarah C. Passmore, Charles W. Roberts, Jame C. Roberts, Martha Sankey, S. Emlen Sharpless, Joseph Scattergood, Eusebius H. Townsend, Jesse P. Thatcher Enos E. Thatcher, Elizabeth S. Thomas, Susanna S. Thomas, Charles L. Warner, Anna A. Warner, Thomas R. Warner, Philean S. Yarnall, $2.10 each, vol. 56 from Any Borton, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Ear II. Brown, Clayton H. Haines, Naomi B. Haines and John G. Haines, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Mary J. Stokes, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56.

Remittances received after Fourth-day morning will no appear in the Receipts until the following week.

NOTICE.

A Friends' Meeting is arranged to be held at Beach Haven, N. J., on every First-day in the Eighth and Ninth months of this year, under the care of Burlingtor Quarterly Meeting.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS, PARENTS AND OTHERS.

The Yearly Meeting's Committee on Education have placed a book at Friends' Book Store, No. 304 Arch St. Philadelphia, where applications from teachers wishing situations, and committees who desire to employ teachers among Friends, may be recorded. Please give address, and full particulars.

ELLISTON P. MORRIS, Clerk.

MARRIED, at Friends' Meeting-house, Winona, Col. Co., Ohio, 5th mo. 26th, 1882, ELISHA, son of Thomas Llewelyn, of Pennsville, Morgan county, Ohio, and Abigali, daughter of the late Benjamin D., and Ellen Stratton of the former place.

DIED, Fourth mo. 2nd, 1882, at the residence of her son-in-law, Elias Thorne, Skaneateles, Onondago Co., N. Y., Lois Lossing, in the 74th year of her age, widow of Benson Lossing, of Norwich, Canada. She bore her severe sickness of two weeks with great pa-tience, and spoke of her Heavenly Father's presence with her, and that He had promised to go with her through the valley and shadow of death.

—, at the residence of her son-in-law, John Carey,

Clinton Co., Ohio, on the 25th day of 5th month, 1882, CHARLOTTE LUNDEY, in the 80th year of her age, a member of Wilmington Monthly Meeting of Friends. She was concerned for the upholding of the precious doctrines and testimonies of our Society, and bore a faithful protest against the innovations that of latter years have been introduced.

-, 5th mo. 27th, 1882, at his residence, Columbus, GEORGE I. KASHNER, in the 69th year of his age, a member of Mansfield Montbly Meeting of Friends. He bore his protracted sufferings with Christian patience and resignation, and his friends have the consoling belief that his end was peace.

at her residence in Media, Pa., 6th mo. 9th. 1882, HARRIET J. SMEDLEY, widow of the late Wm. Smedley, in the 86th year of her age, a member of Media Preparative and Chester Monthly Meeting, Pa. The closing years of her long and useful life were marked by a quict peaceful trust and confidence of being admitted into the Heavenly Kingdom through

THE FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, EIGHTH MONTH 19, 1882.

NO. 2.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

rice, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50: 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON. Moorestown, Burlington Co., N. J.

abscriptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES

AT NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

Wanderings South and East. SANDWICH ISLANDS.

rea, and 2000 feet in depth, looks like? It is now were standing. ot earthly, but an utterly fearful and awful great volcano of Mauna Loa. "The mounain itself is 13,600 feet high, and its summit s sixty miles from the sea; the main vent, nowever, of its inward fires is at the crater of Kilauea thirty miles from Hilo on the mouu-on grand occasions, such as during the eruption of 1868, when, as always on the occur-smoke. rence of an eruption, it discharged the volumes of lava, there being no greater disturbance at Kilauea than the sinking of the floor of that crater some eight hundred to a thousand feet. as though threatening an outburst.

"There is a bridle trail across the thirty ness of lava. The wealth of vegetation in meeting other waves they rage and toss across the coal-black sky. the forest is simply wonderful. We rode the lake, now flinging themselves against the "After many ho under great ferns, not tree ferns, thirty feet rock-like lava sides, now hurling their whole upon the furious and infernal lake. The rehigh, and every turn of the trail disclosed force into the caverns opposite, and tearing turn journey across the lava was intensely fresh glories, lovely creepers, and great glow-themselves ruthlessly into a thousand jets tedious and nervous work. From all those ing flowers, and broad green leaves.

descent.

being in one place bent up into a great ridge. stricken, shrink back a yard or two.

"As we advanced the lava became slightly "We stood for many hours on the thin the world's wonders.

This been nuiseent since the Hawaiian fire.

loote and his company stood on the crater's hole or 'crater' proper, say twelve or thirteen it holds the changing shades of orange, red dge, they threw great boulders of the har-square miles in area, and eight hundred feet and gold reflected from the cauldron at our lened lava down the chasm, and saw them in depth. The floor of this, a cracked and feet. Let us remember it as with a thousandoreak into dusty fragments below. He says:

It was a cold, cheerless, uncanny place—can iquid fire below. Then in the centre of this, or conceive what a hole 28 square miles in an open cauldron upon the edge of which we glittering spangle of the sulphurous stream.

The crater of Kilanea always shows some the divisions was accessible, but upon the aloft, now softly luminous as the great source signs of activity. It lies on the side of the very edge of this, and within say fifty feet of of light grows slowly more dim; that smoke its seething surface we could stand.

covered with an ash-colored scum, and the fearful when no other light was there, but of whole cauldron was heaving intermittently that very sea itself!

and sprays, with a weird lashing sound, stain- cracks that we had crossed, there now shone After a day's rest, in which we wandered ing the lake's wall blood-red, and lighting the a dull light, and any false step almost would round the crater's edge, and visited great whole sky with crimson spray. Then for a have been attended with severe burning. Our sulphur beds, and steamed on selves, Russian time succeeds a lull, the asb-like scum begins guide led us cautiously along with utmost bath-wise, over little vent-holes, and gazed across the terrible abyss, we prepared for a wait for what shall come next. The whole steps. soft-heaving scum begins in a few minutes to "Soon we passed by a lava stream, and

"After descending the pathway down the move slowly from east to west. Then great crater's side, which is steep and dangerous, seams form across the surface, which breaking we commenced the weary trudge across the in, give place to molten waves, and the western lava plain. This plain resembles more nearly end towards which these waves are moving, than anything else I can think of, a short seeming to resent the onslaught, lashes itself chop sea solidified; the lava is exactly like fiercely against the lava rocks. And now to hard pitch, but the surface is not as level as right and left, and here and everywhere the a sea, bearing traces of fearful squeezes, and golden geysers play again, and we, quite awe-warm, and hot sulphurous air arose from the crust-like edge and watched, unable to take crevices. Here and there were places where our eyes away lest we should miss some molten streams had forced their way through from beneath, and were rolling slowly across the high erater walls, and a dull, threatening the surface; and now and then we would pass darkness enveloped the whole place. If the a cone or vent-hole covered with a brilliant sight had been weird and wonderful in the The most interesting natural features of yellow crust of sulphur. At last, after some broad daylight, what of it in the black night hese islands are the volcances. On the Is- two to three miles of hard walking, we com- some hours later? Let us try and picture and of Maui, at the height of 10,000 feet, is unneed a slight ascent of a hundred feet, and that scene unequalled, I maintain, amongst which has been quiescent since the Hawaiian, fire.

I hope my description conveys clearly above the lake streamed a sulphurous cloud, miles across and 4 miles wide. As W. the nature of this crater. First the great of steam and smoke. Let us picture this as there shines the soft and ever-varying light, "The lake of fire was at the time of our now brilliant as the sunshine as some more visit divided by a lava ridge, and only one of than ever high-reaching geyser flings its fires curling across the sky contains, alone, beauties "I cannot describe to any satisfaction this worth all the labors of our journey. What spectacle. It is, I think, the most impressive then of the fire itself? what of the gentlyof the world's sights. There lay the lake be- breathing crust, the slowly-moving blood-red low us, Hale-mau-mau it is called, 'the House waves? what, still more, of the angry caverns of Everlasting Fire'-a burning lake more by the lake's edge, and the mighty storm-tossed "The crater at the summit is smaller than than five hundred by two hundred feet. Be- waves-waves of fire from whose jagged crests his vent-hole in the side, and is only active yond, a ridge, and then another lake some were blown far-reaching streams of fiery what larger, but hidden in fiery spray and spray? What of the strange noises that issued from that subterranean sea? How weird in "The surface as we first found it was the still night? How wild and unutterably

"The lake beyond the ridge added to all "In a short time an active panting begins these terrors. It seemed, I think, even more miles that separated us from the object of and the seum parts and the pure liquid fire fearful to us than the one we saw. The our visit, and along this we made the best of is hurled high into the air, and falls a golden strangest of noises came from there, boomour way in the early morning. Our track shower. To this succeeds a beautiful geyser, ings as of cannon, and shrill loud cracks, and lay for some miles through a sort of scant and to that again six or eight others, until now, as from some distant gala scene, a jet of inngle, then into a piece of deuse and lonely the whole lake is spouting and roaring fear-spray like rockets was hurled high into the forest, then out apon an almost barren wilder fully. From these fountains waves extend and air with unspeakable magnificence, against watched it creeping slowly across the cooler crust. It felt soft and spongy as we thrust in our sticks. At times we would pass some wider crevice, and peering down would see the molten stream below running harmlessly. On again over the broken lava-ernst with its babitually yielding, or the grace of babitually countable being, bastening to his final reck blood red cracks, and strange, uncarthly fires resisting, in comparatively small points—in ing. When we consider that our days phooting from curiously-shaped holes. The the smaller virtues or the lesser sins—tends swiftly away, and that our time is one of distance seemed endless, and we were almost in no inconsiderable degree to produce that talents committed to our trust, for the distance seeing energing the control of the control star in the dark sky. It was a lantern on the cultivation of music; believing its indul- us to be living as strangers and pilgrims up the rim of the crater above, showing as where gence to be one of those things accounted earth, seeking a better country, and to the path lay. So with infinite fatigue we small, but whereby the natural mind may be diligently using it for the great end for wh thankful for our safety.

"After many hours we turned our backs

tions, he says, "But a century ago there were tion of his hands. 400,000 souls to reclaim; now there are barely see the Hawaiian group a mere outlying state the streets of Honolulu, or in the smallest should, instead of compromising with the ing in the New Testament, which indicates villages of Hawaii, you see neither girls nor spirit of the world, have been enabled to its use during the time of the apostles, nor men without their wreaths of flowers." "'Poi' is the universal food, and is prepared from as our holy Leader declared of his immediate duced, until nearly midnight darkness had overis the annessar root, and is prepared room. Alter the root of the 'taru,' a sort of sweet potato, disciples. Oh! the care that is necessary in spread the church. And it may be useful for After the vegetable is baked it is pounded by this day of ease and liberty, lest the testimony. Protestants at least to be reminded that the a heavy stone pestle, then mixed with water of "The Amen, the faithful and true Wit organ was, according to history, first used in a neary stone pestic, then mixed with water of the Amen, the latitud and true with organ was, according to instory, first used in mittle a thick paste is made, after which it is ness," to the angel of the church of Laodicea public worship, (may we not say, to supply left to ferment a little, thereby acquiring a be forthcoming. For is it not through luke-the lack of divinely attuned hearts) by Vitalbitter taste. The most curious sight con-nected with 'por' is that of the mothers feed ing upon the Lord and a watching unto year 660. It then became a component part ing their children. It is really not disgusting prayer with all perseverance, that declensions of that half Jewish, half-heathen robe of goralthough it may sound so. The mother takes from the life and power of godliness gradu- goous and imposing ceremonies, with which a finger full of poi, and perhaps a bite of fish, ally ereep in, as in the case of the fleshly the Church sought to adorn herself, when she screwing them together round in her mouth, soothing beguilement now under considera had nearly lost the beautiful garments of The little urchin holds up its face as though tion? for a kiss, the mother stoops down, both their months wide open and close together, the mother's tongue is thrust quickly out, and Truth-honored testimonies, that allusion was dose-all done with a neatness and cleanliness quite marvellous."

(To be continued.)

"People must have entertainment," they urge. I do not find that must in the Bible, judgment seat of Christ."

Desultory Selections and Pencillings. THE CULTIVATION OF MUSIC.

reached the lava's edge, and clambered up gratified, while at the same time the quick it is lent to us, even in working out the sor the steep ascent to the comfortable inn, most perception of spiritual instruction may be salvation in fear and trembling, and not weakened. That it is a merely sensual, and vain amusements or corrupting pleasures, l The Sandwich Island people were generally not an intellectual amusement, much less a striving that 'whether we cat or drink, converted to Christianity under the teaching profitable or spiritual entertainment, who can whatsoever we do, we may do all to the glo of American missionaries, but there as else doubt? While no Christian musician is rewhere, the foreign influence is predominant, corded in the whole of the New Testament, fied by us, through Jesus Christ our Lord. and the natives are being supplanted by Euro some of the prophets, under a less perfect dispeans and Americans. Our author speaks pensation, unmistakably censure and condemn forbid the use of music by Friends, witho highly of the zeal and courage shown by the indulgence therein as wantonness. Thus, says any exception in favor of that called sacrepioneers of Christianity in these islands, but one, "They chant to the sound of the viol, and in order to produce harmonious action he queries, "Can the natives now live honest and invent to themselves instruments of muthis subject throughout the subordinate mee and prosperous lives? Can they bring up sie, like David; but they are not grieved for ings, the Vearly Meeting instructs them, the their children to maturity, and start their the affliction of Joseph." And another desons in life, and so increase both the wealth nonnees a woe in the language:—"The barp, and numbers of their community? Can they, and the viol, the tabret, and pipe, and wine, their houses, * * and are not prevailed in the programment of the property of the prop in short, advance, not only as individuals, but are in their feasts; but they regard not the with, by private labor to decline them, the as a nation?" As an answer to these quest work of the Lord, neither consider the opera- Monthly Meetings to which the orienders be 40,000; and in another half-century there the indulgence in music now pleaded for, condemn their misconduct to the satisfactio will be in such great proportion the fewer, practised and taught by our members in some of the meeting, it should proceed to testif. It is the old, old tale; the savage race not places, is but an associated out-growth with our disunity with them." It is the old, old the; the strange race not places, is out an associated outgrown with our distinct with them, being reclaimed to evilization, but being many others, of the novel doctrines, the An anonymous writer, on what is called surely and rapidly civilized off the face of the lowered practices, the relaxed Quaker prinsacred music, thus writes: "Surely no on earth. The natives will lessen in numbers ciples now so painfully prevalent. He is as of ordinary understanding in the present on every year, the Americans and Europeans sured that, had inward and reverent waiting lightened ace, can seriously believe that the will increase. Our children will probably upon God for the influences of his Holy Spirit, sweet sounds proceeding from the inanimate or territory of the Union, peopled by a sugar-filial dependence, of simplicity and self-denial, ship by Him, who delights in the sacrificer growing and store-keeping community." "We of truth and holiness, been kept to, we should of broken hearts and contrite spirits, ever sailed away from Honolulu, with no too cheer- have been preserved from sacrificing to this though uttered in the homely language of the ful thoughts concerning the future of these bewitching idol and "lust of the flesh;" and poor Publican. Then why is it introduced or people. The love of flowers is a national trait. "In the same thing as did our early Friends, we crated Christian professors? There is nother manifest that we "are not of the world," even indeed, does it appear to have been intro-

of innovation so setting in upon our time-and- Founder. down with my Father in his throne."

members against indulging in music, or l ing instruments of music in their houses, lieving that the practice tends to promo light and vain mind, and to disqualify for It has been well put forth, that the sin of serious thoughtfulness, which becomes an

"The spirit and language of the discipli long should be informed thereof, and if the The writer is abundantly persuaded, that be not reclaimed by further labor, so as t to teach and guide in the good old ways of organ, will be appreciated as acceptable wor purity, simplicity and spirituality, in which It was in view of the general strong current she was originally arrayed by her divine

"There are not wanting, however, those in the archin, smilingly satisfied, swallows the made to Laodicea. Nevertheless, even to the present day, who conceive (no doubt sinthat lapsed or apostate church was the en-cerely,) that the sublime strains of instrucouraging language held out: "To him that mental music really assist them in their devoovercometh will I grant to sit with me on my tions; -that they tend to raise the soul in throne, even as I also overcame, and am set something like rapturous adoration. But, if these feelings be carefully and candidly ana-Under the head of "Gaming and Diver-lyzed, they will be found to be, at least of very sions," the Discipline of Philadelphia Yearly doubtful character. The effect of music on but I do find, "We must all stand before the Meeting thus bears its testimony against the passions is confessedly great; and this judgment seat of Christ."

Meeting thus bears its testimony against the passions is confessedly great; and this music: "We would renewedly caution all our effect may be produced—perhaps in a presipping and serving of the creature, more than tion." e Creator.' Thus it may even prove to be ne of the devices of the grand adversary, to eceive the mind of man, and divert it from e performance of true, spiritual, heart-felt orship. Now should this effect be produced, ne practice in question becomes a positive

The Bishop of Cambray thus writes on the bject of music: "As for music, it is well nown, that the ancients believed nothing ore pernicious to a well regulated state, an to suffer an effeminate melody to be inoduced into it. It enervates men, and reners their souls soft and voluptuous; languishg strains are only pleasant, because the soul ves itself up to the charms of the senses." The gifted Hannah More pleads: "Dare I peal to Christian parents, whether music, hich fills up no trifling portion of their ughters' time, does not fill it without any oral end, or even without any specific object? ay, whether some of the favorite songs of olished societies are not amatory, are not nacreontic, more than quite becomes the odest lips of innocent youth ?"

The testimony of one who had delighted usic? To raise those emotions which should subdued-to weaken our moral sense-to courage our sinful propensities-and to re-rd our growth in religion."

Thomas Clarkson in his "Portraiture of nakerism," represents, "Music does not apar to the Quakers to be productive of eleted thoughts; that is of such thoughts as ise the mind to sublime and spiritual things, ostracted from the inclinations, the temper, id the prejudices of the world. It may give irits for the moment, as strong liquor does; it when the effect of the liquor is over, the irits flag, and the mind is again torpid. It n give no solid encouragement, nor hope, or prospects. It can afford no anchorageound which shall hold the mind in a storm. he most melodious sounds, that human inruments can make, are from the earth, rthy. But nothing can rise higher than its vn origin. All true elevation, therefore, can nly come, in the opinion of the Quakers, om the Divine source."

The following estimate may give some idea the cost of music, so far as the piano is conrned: "There are at the present time 874) according to authentic statistics, 700,nount to over 200,000,000 dollars. This sum ould build 200,000 school houses, at an exense of one thousand dollars each-or it ould construct the Pacific railroad-or it and volumes each, for 200,000 neighborhoods or this interesting concern, they were desired to report "their views thereon." In the report throws ashes to windward, which come back ne world with a cheap Bible or good Testaent. Is it not a wise prohibition which riends have adopted, of the practice which as led to this enormous extravagance, for a seless, not to say worse than useless gratifiation; while so many are suffering for the is now confined to portions of the Holy Scriptures.

For "The Friend."

Westtown Boarding School.

pils who have partaken of the benefits of the ed throughout the Yearly Meeting by the Institution during the past year, is 231; of Boarding School in furtherance of the impor-whom 102 were boys and 129 girls. "En tant work of education." "The committee deavors are used to impart to the children a have endeavored to conduct the concerns of of the Christian religion, as held by our So-my, and they believe the sum* agreed to be ciety; and we believe the introduction of raised by the Yearly Meeting will be suffi-these exercises into the school has been at-cient to relieve the funds from embarrasstended with benefit. At the opening of the ment." schools on Second-day morning of every week the pupils recite portions of the Holy Scriptures, which they have committed to memory, and they are also examined on Fifth-days in liams, were appointed to advise with and as-Barclay's Catechism and Scripture Quessist the superintendent and teachers, as occations." The teachers frequently read to sion may require, in the preservation of order them from the sacred volume, the approved writings of our Society, or other suitable works; and when collected in the evening, there is generally some appropriate religious reading before they retire to bed."*

While the committee are sensible that diffitended the management of this interesting concern, they believe there is cause for gratitude to the Author of all good for the degree benefits which it has been the means of conferring on many of the members of our Society. And they are encouraged in the persuasion that as it is cherished by the Yearly with its importance, and conducted with a humble reliance on the Divine blessing and a ed, it will continue to be productive of essential advantages.

large, it was suggested that "Friends who the committee on teachers such views as money for general purposes, by which the cause of instruction may be further improved, while the charge for board and tuition and orderly conduct of the pupils during the may be kept at a moderate price.' of the country to which Friends were subjected in procuring suitable school learning for their children, engaged "the serious conost, at three hundred dollars each, would sideration and sympathy of the Yearly Meeting." A committee of five Friends out of ture for warming the collecting room and each Quarterly Meeting was appointed to meeting room with heated air, if on due ining." A committee of five Friends out of consider this important subject in all its parts, vestigation they should be satisfied of the exand if any way should present, to alleviate or lessen the existing difficulties; and to promote > their united judgment, after some other snggestions and advice, the following proposition is made: "On considering the present situa-

> * The reading in collection before retiring for night

ninent degree—on those who are most under necessaries of life, and are growing up in tion of the Boarding School at Westtown, we in influence of their passions, or who are the ignorance and darkness, for want of suitable have agreed to recommend, that in order more rethest from worshipping or serving God in provision to enlighten them? It is now com-widely to spread its usefulness, the price for er lives and conversation. It is therefore mon to find families provided with costly the board and tuition of children, members of nite possible that the feelings alluded to, far pianos, who when called upon to assist chari-tom being those of the true worship of the table objects, 'cannot afford to;' and the duced to $60 per annum." Which report was lmighty, may prove on close investigation, parents cannot' bny for their children useful fully united with by the Yearly Meeting, with be but a self-gratifying exercise, - a wor-books for intellectual and religious instruct the expectation that the diminished charge would not meet the expenditure, and that the deficiency must be supplied by contributions in the Yearly Meeting. The expectation of a loss proved to be correct, amounting in six The report made to the Yearly Meeting in years to about $18,175.82, which, it is stated, 1837, informs that the average number of pu- "may properly be said to have been distributknowledge of the principles and testimonies the Institution with a strict regard to econo-

At a meeting of the committee held Sixth month 9th, 1837, Saml. Bettle, Enoch Lewis, Saml. Hilles, Thomas Evans and Geo. Wil-

and good government in the school.

At this time several salutary rules were adopted, referring principally to the change proposed to take place in the Tenth month following, of dividing the school year into two sessions, by having vacations in fall and music is, "What then is the tendency of culties and discouragements have at times atand in the spring three weeks. One of the rules then adopted, and which yet remains to be of importance, is that the "Treasurer and of success which has attended it, and the Superintendent be requested to impress upon parents who are about to send children to the school, the necessity of introducing them punctually at the time the session is to commence, as a want of punctuality will materi-Meeting in a spirit of liberality commensurate ally derange the classification of the pupils, and thus defeat one of the great objects of the change." "That it be recommended to the constant reference to the religious concern for teachers to meet once in two weeks in comthe welfare of the youth, in which it originat- pany with the Superintendent for mutual improvement, and to confer together on the state of the schools, the course of instruction The fund for the education of the children and the amendments of which it is susceptiof those needing assistance in this way, being ble; that they communicate in writing to may be disposed to encourage this valuable may from time to time present, relative to seminary by pecuniary aid, should give their the progress of the pupils and the improvement of the system.

"That the duty of attending to the moral intervals of school be impressed on the In 1830 the great difficulty in most parts teachers as well as on the governor and gov-

> 9th mo. 6th. The committee on the boys wash-room, grounds, &c., were authorized "to introduce into the wash-room a suitable fixpediency of doing so."

of this committee, which they state to be to the same place and cover him all over.

Your "few things" may be very few, and very small things, but He expects you to be faithful over them.

^{*} Believed to be $10,000.

"Without Me ye can do nothing." John xv. 5.

How true these words spoken by our light. How utterly incapable we are even to good, without his help. We are dependent on Him for all our supplies, both in temporal because "He lives you shall live also." and spiritual things. But we read in the Scriptures of truth, "Seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." So that when desires are raised in us to be in this seeking state, then He will, in his own time, dispense his favors unto us; but we must be willing to wait his time, to be as one sitting at his footstool.

What a blessed favor it is when we are permitted to have these desires for good raised in us, and feel humbled under a sense of our own littleness and nothingness, and refreshed even by a few tears; knowing that it is the Master himself that permits it, and gives this evidence to our poor seeking souls, that we are not forsaken by Him! "For as the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people from henceforth even forever." He has never yet said to his trusting seed, "seek ye my face in vain."

How beautiful the language, through the prophet Isaiah, "Come now, let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as searlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." How inviting the language, and in what familiar terms is it used: "Come now, let us reason together!" Who can withstand the affectionate pleadings, "though our child?" sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow?" Is this not enough for any that are of doubtful mind, or think that it is of no use this sufficient to convince any that through the help of their Saviour, their Redcemer, their sins may be washed away; and by faithfully abiding in Him, they may become purified, and fitted for his use? And then, further on in the same chapter, he goes on to say : of a decrease there would be an increase?

will still continue to be. If those that are regain his health, though never his natural within the enclosure will not serve Him, He buoyant spirits; he became a quiet gentle boy, will bring in those that are without, and cause fragile-looking and very sweet and affectionthem to be his willing and obedient people, ate. Soon after his recovery he went to New-"God hath chosen the foolish things of this town School, and though he did not make world to confound the wise; and the weak very brilliant progress in his studies, it was things of the world-yea, and things that are remarked that he was diligent and attentive not, to bring to naught things that are." So, to his duties, and of very orderly habits. One Saviour, and loved Him because he died for will it not be well for some of us to look well who knew him there, when speaking of him him. to our steppings, and hold fast to that which said, "Samuel was a hard working, conscienwe have, lest others be brought in to take our tious, quiet lad, who never had to be punished said, "I am happy going to my blessed Lord places, and we, like one formerly, sell our or reproved; always most careful and diligent who died for me and for you all, up, up, to birthright; and when we would inherit the in his work, and thoroughly satisfactory in heaven." Just before recollection ceased, he blessing, as was his case, find no place of re-pentance, though we may seek it carefully. In the win with tears?" This would be an awful state school, and remained at home for some months After a sharp struggle he gradually sank to be in; and if such should be the case with in sweet enjoyment of the country, and the away, and with a little sigh his happy spirit any of us, the fault would be our own; for society of the relatives he loved so well; he "He has never yet said to the wrestling seed appeared healthy, but was rather delicate of Jacob, seek ye my face in vain."

know their Saviour as they would like, to pleasure to the time when he should be able these I would say, are there not desires raised to be up and out again; but as be grew worse in your hearts to know more of Him? Then he was less sanguine, and would say: "These Saviour, formerly, and even to every one that seek "Him while He may be found, call upon medicines are doing me no good, it will be a is brought by Him to the light—the inward Him while He is near," and He will give you long time before I am strong again." At one light. How utterly incapable we are even to to know of his good things: "Come, taste and time his mother seeing him suffering, said to have our minds to dwell on any thing that is see that the Lord is good," and know for him, "I hope thou looks to the Lord for help yourselves that your Redeemer liveth,—and and asks Him to give thee patience;" he because "He lives you shall live also." And quickly answered, "I do." At another time you will find you will have a place of safety to flee to, when storms and trials arise, where held her hand in his for some time; she said, you may abide until they be overpast.

go before the people of his day, he said, "I she said, "In heaven there will be no pain, am a child;" but the Lord told him to say no sickness; thou knows the little hymnnot be was a child, "for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and I am with thee to deliver thee." And furthermore, the Lord put forth his hand and touched his mouth, said, "Behold my family are poor in Manassah, and I am the least in my father's house. thee," so that he, too, felt his great inability that the Lord is going to make thee a good ment to be derived for poor, weak, little ones, from these instances left on record, that we,

While I feel my own unfitness to offer these lines for the readers of "The Friend," yet, as On the day before his death, having obtained the words arise, I can but pen them for their temporary relief from pain, he exclaimed, perusal. At the same time knowing that "I "God is very good." In the evening he refor them even to try to be Christians? Is not perusal. At the same time knowing that "I am nothing, Christ is all."

Samuel Roberts.

"And I will restore thy judges as at the first, of 4th month, 1853, and during the early part and thy counsellors as at the beginning." Is of his childhood was a fine healthy boy, very there not great cause to believe that if this lively, and peculiarly loving and amiable. In was an individual work, there would still be his 13th year he had a severe attack of seara people raised up here and there, and instead lating which brought him very low, and there seemed but very little hope of his recovery : The Lord will have a chosen people for but it pleased his heavenly Father to restore And shall I tell them you wish them to love Himself; it has always been so, and I believe him for a while longer and he appeared to God? He looked round wonderingly and said

In the winter of 1869 he was removed from If there are any who read these few lines, but for some days there did not appear any his 16th birth-day.

and feel in their own breast that they do not cause for alarm, and he looked forward with he stretched out his hand to his mother and ou may abide until they be overpast.

When the prophet Jeremiah was called to "My darling, I fear thou art in pain," he said, "Not exactly pain, but so sick." Well, dear,"

> 'Around the throne of God in heaven, Thousands of children stand, Children whose sins are all forgiven, A holy, happy band, and said, "Behold I have put my words in and all who love the Lord Jesus He will take thy mouth." So that he was bound to go there to be forever with Himself, and I'm forth and proclaim the word, although he no sure Sammy loves his Saviour." He replied, doubt felt that he was but a child,—the state "O I do; but not half enough." "Well, so much to be desired—the humble, childlike dear," said his mother, "We cannot love Him state. And Gideon, also, when he was called enough here while we are in these poor bodies, to save Israel from the hands of the Midianites, but when we get to heaven we shall spend an eternity in loving and praising Him." he said, "Would'nt it be very early?" She But the Lord said, "Surely I will be with said, "Perhaps thou will be spared to us, and for the work. Is there not much encourage, and useful young man, for He does not willingly afflict,—it is for some wise purpose."

As he drew near the close, he became more too, in this present day, when feeling called, resigned, and finding that the means used for will be enabled, through his holy help, to per- his recovery were unsuccessful, he asked his form what is given us to do; although some nurse about some cure he had heard of; she of us, with Jeremiah, may exclaim, "I am a said she thought it would be good, and if it were in season she would get it for him; he said, "No matter, it is God who does it all," fused to take any more medicine, remarking, "It is doing me no good." His nurse tried to teach him a little prayer, but he said, "I cannot remember all that," but he repeated Samuel Roberts, who lived near Waterford the Lord's prayer with an effort. Soon after in the South of Ireland, was born on the 20th he said, "I want to go home." His parents took leave of him as his mind began to wander; he drew his mother down to him and kissed her repeatedly. He said, "I am tired, heaven is my home, I want to go home." His sister asked him, should she give his love to his brothers? He said, "Oh yes, my dear love." decidedly, "Willie does love God, and George loves God, and I love God." He would sometimes exclaim, "Oh my Father, oh my Father, my own Father, my Heavenly Father!" He said his Lord was going to take him home where he would take all his loved ones in a little while; he had brought all his sins to his

A little before he became unconscious, he threw up his arms and cried, Jesus! Jesus!these were the last audible words he uttered. fled to be forever with the Lord.

He died on Second-day afternoon, the 19th looking. He took ill on the 31st of 3d month, day of Fourth mouth, within a few hours of

And now in concluding the foregoing short account of this amiable and hopeful young When I was young I was crazy to go to sea. lad, we desire to acknowledge the goodness At last my mother consented I should seek and mercy of our God and Saviour, who did my fortune in New York.' not only give the dear sufferer remarkable patience in the midst of pain and suffering, garden gate and he on the other, when, with but enabled him also to glorify Him during his bundle on his arm, he was ready to walk One drop of Heaven's sweet mercy in his cup, the most trying conflict, which was so re- to the next town. She said to him markable that the nurse said she had never attended such a death-bed.

"O death, where is thy sting? O grave, me those great towns are sinks of wickedness, where is thy victory? The sting of death is and make thousands of drunkards. Now, sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But promise me you'll never drink a drop of thanks be unto God, which giveth us the vic-liquor.' tory, through our Lord Jesus Christ."-1 Cor.

For "The Friend,"

GO FORTH AND SOW.
Ps. xxvi, 5-6: Eccl. xi, 4-6: Isa, xxxii, 20: Jer. iv. 3. Go sow thy seed, with weeping though it be;

Heed His command, Coupled with precious promise unto thee, Of fruitful land.

Go, though in sorrow and in pain thy tears Fall down like rain. He promises, despite thy shrinking fears, Thou'lt come again, Bearing within thy arms the golden sheaves,

In harvest time;-

Notes such as only joyful heart conceives, Making glad chime.

Go sow thy seed; nor heed the adverse wind, Though it howls foud.

If thou a harvest full wouldst reap and bind, Heed not the cloud. Sow in the early morning's rosy light,— Near thee the land;

And, in the quiet of the evening bright, Hold not thy hand, Blessed are ye who sow, all waters near;
Rich is the yield,
Housed when the leaf and bloom of life grow sear,

From such a field. Break up the soil, untilled and fallow grown;

Sow not 'mong thorns Faint not, though o'er the ground debris is strown; Heed not the storms.

When field is cleared and seeding time is done, He'll send the rain;

He'll send the dew, He'll send the light of sun-Quicken the grain.

The solitary and the desert place, In beauty clad, Shall then become a glory to His grace, Joyous and glad.

Sow, then, while yet the light of day is ours,-Soon comes the night; Soon e'en the amber mist of evening hours, Fades from our sight. Large is the field awaiting to be tilled,— Large as the earth.

E'en the whole world with seed is to be filled, Of heavenly birth.

Go, then, and let thy ground with care be sown, Ere life has fled. Soon come the reaping and the "harvest home," When time has sped.

A. L. WASHBURN. Philada., 8th mo. 3d, 1882.

A Mother's Influence.-In a railway car, once, a man about sixty years old came to sit beside me. He had heard me lecture the eve- ful things, has it not also the power to restrict ning before on temperance.

out of New York, and have just returned from my fiftieth voyage across the Atlantic. About thirty years ago I was a sot; shipped while dead drunk, as one of a crew, and was carried on board like a log. When I came to, the captain sent for me. He asked me:

'Do you remember your mother?" "I told him she died before I could remember anything.'

"'Well,' said he, 'I am a Vermont man. "He told how she stood on one side the

"'My boy, I don't know anything about towns, and I never saw the sea, but they tell

'He said:

"'I laid my hand in hers and promised, as I looked into her eyes for the last time. She to take that pledge?" said he.'

children at home, and I have helped others."

all can alone tell .- Wendell Phillips.

For "The Friend."

The Manufacture and Sale of Intoxicants.

Upon reading in the public papers the daily. in for all this destruction of peace and pros- talents in the earth. perity, of the pursuit of happiness, and the preservation of even life itself? Do the pulmay yet spare the fruitless fig tree! that, perway of oppressive taxation, for their private intercession for us. The query arises of its citizens, alive to its duty herein? Where It is expedient for every one, with every controlling influence, ought to be aroused to the occasion. If the unto you.' government has the power to suppress lotteries, to prevent the sale of obscene literature, of poisons, of explosives and other burted unto being deeply felt! so that this hercu-

Philadelphia.

With respect to the maker and vender of this destructive beverage, would not the lines (a little altered) of a Christian poet not untruthfully represent the sentiments of a large and increasing class:

Can dig, beg, rot, and perish, well content, So he may wrap himself in honest rags At his last gasp; but could not for a world Thus live upon gains so oft the price of blood, And so bedewed with bitter tears of wives and children,' 7th mo. 10th, 1882.

For " The Friend,"

Awake-Turn to the Lord-Labor in his Vineyard.

The spirituality of the gospel of our Lord died soon after. I've been on every sea, seen and Saviour Jesus Christ, has been much bethe worst kinds of life and men-they laughed fore me, as set forth in Holy Writ, which has at me as a milksop, and wanted to know if I been too much overlooked by both professor was a coward. But when they offered me and profane, and the language hath presentliquor I saw my mother across the gate, and ed: "I remember thee, the kindness of thy I never drank a drop. It has been my sheet-youth, the love of thine espousals, how thou anchor; I owe all to that. Would you like wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown;" "how then art thou My companion took it, and he added, "It turned into the degenerate plant of a strange has saved me. I have a fine ship, wife, and vine unto me." "For though thou wash thee with nitre and take thee much soap, yet thine How far that little eandle threw its beams! iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord That earnest mother saved two men to virtue God." "Judgment will I lay also to the line and usefulness-how many more He who sees and righteousness to the plummet, that everything that is offensive may be removed, for the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on, and the covering narrower than he can wrap himself in." Yes, though we may be nicely clothed and securely seated in the appalling, the even horrible accounts of our ceiled houses, what will it avail at that misery and death caused by intoxicating great day that is fast approaching to us indidrinks, from the recent wrecking of the vidually, when enquiry shall be made, "Where Sciota, to the well-nigh hourly rum-murdered are the lambs committed to thy care?" O. victims in the streets, and especially in the the remorse and anguish that must follow, for drinking saloons of large cities, one can but many are saying in the line of their conduct, query : where does the responsibility come "Thou art a hard Master," and have hid their

How my heart yearns for these, that He pit and the press do their duty? Is public adventure, in one year only after the branches opinion sufficiently awake and outspoken to have been pruned by adversity and affliction, have its correcting influence around? Does and the dry stumps moistened by celestial the punishment and the odium fall where it showers, there may yet be life found; for I so greatly belongs?—on the manufacturers do earnestly desire that we may all be brought and venders of this wholesale money-making to a sense of our responsibility to our Creator, out of the bodies and souls of men? Is it to our Saviour, to Him who died for us and just that one class of men should be allowed rose again, that led captivity eaptive, and reto expose their temptations to the young, the ceived gifts for men, for the rebellious also, weak and the erring? and not only this, but and has ascended on high, and is now sat to prey upon the whole community in the down at the right hand of God, there to make

The query arises: what are these gifts? of its citizens, alive to its duty herein? Where 'It is expedient for you that I go away; if such a destructive enemy is in our very midst, I go not away the Comforter will not come to you; but if I go away I will send Him

Dear friends, have we as individuals experionced for ourselves this renewing of the Holy Ghost, the change from a state of nature to a state of grace? A little leaven leaveneth and prohibit the infinitely greater desolating the whole lump. When we have experienced "I am master of a ship," said be, "sailing scourge flowing from the manufacture and this, all covetousness and evil surroundings sale of intoxicating drinks? Is this vortex will cease; instead of every man's hand being of iniquity to go on swallowing up its victims against his brother, there will be a feeling, without redress? Would that individual and "Come, let us go up to the house of God topublic responsibility might be more quicken- gether," each one bearing his or her portion of the allotted burden of the Church with lean power of Satan might be stayed, and a dignity and forbearance. It is an undeniable truly sickening scene of sorrow and misery truth, a little leaven leaveneth the whole be removed from the time-honored city of lump. When we are individually brought lunder this purifying power of light and life, a peculiar people, zealous of good works, tion on the blood vessels.

Faith without works is dead. only Mediator between God and man, and contractile power is reduced. the Advocate with the Father. Deism and In the third stage, the brain becomes im-abled him to expect his daily dole of bread, give. Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet; show my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sin."

No divination or enchantment shall prevail centres which govern the actions of the body; will gently lead them by the waters of life.

For " The Friend," Natural History, Science, &c.

first effects of this substance is to cause the system; the living centres are thus slowly re- As stated by C. Booth, the Salvation Army heart to beat more quickly. Careful experi-lieved, and so there is a slow return of power. grew out of the efforts used by her husband ments on a young and healthy man gave the average number of beats of the heart, in 24 erate quantities, tends to enfeeble the blood of England, who were practical heathens; hours, to be 106,000 in a natural condition of vessels; to alter the constitution of the blood; never attending any place of religious worthe system. Under the influence of alcoholic and to thicken, and interfere with the func ship, and regarding religion as a matter that stimulants, the number of heats in the same tions of, the membranous envelopes which concerned only the more respectable classes patient rose to 131,000 in the same length of cover every organ of the body, and on whose of society. The marching in procession with time. Adopting the lowest estimate which work the building up of the body depends banners, and singing, and other similar exhas been given of the daily work done by the In this way the foundation is laid for organic pedients, are used by Wm. Booth and those has been given the day with the leart way in the heart size, as equal to 122 tons lifted one foot, changes in the heart and blood vessels, lungs, under his control, to arrest the attention of the heart in this case did extra work at the liver, kidney, &c., which lead to a long series this ignorant class, who in a general way retime of its greatest excitement equal to the of diseases that entail much suffering, and fuse to go to any of the places for worship lifting of 28 tons the same elevation, in 24 shorten the duration of life.—Condensed from used by the regularly organized denominahours. It is little wonder that after such a Dr. R. W. Richardson. labor imposed upon it, the heart should flag; Device of a Dog.-J. G. Wood, in his work The rapid growth of the Salvation Army or that the brain and muscles which depend entitled Man and Beast, relates the following during the seventeen years it has been in exupon the heart for their blood supply, should anecdote. be languid for many hours, and should require the rest of long sleep for renovation.

and minute blood vessels which the heart fills home. with blood at each of its strokes. These vesresistance to the force of the heart, and the man: pulsating organ thus liberated, like the mainspring of a clock from which the resistance with its mother, used to pass our house daily, has been removed, quickens its action. This early in the morning, during our breakfast engorged condition is not confined to the skin, time, and had a habit of straying upon a Lord has given us to upbold. but extends to the brain, liver and other parts piece of waste ground which then occupied of the body. In course of time, in persons its front, but has since been enclosed and since their day who have become truly consystem become permanent. The bloom on who is extremely partial to horses, used to belief, that man without Divine assistance we shall then, and not till then, be brought the nose which characterizes the confirmed run out and offer the little animal a piece of forth a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, toper, is the established sign of alcoholic ac-bread.

Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, who is the influence of the paralyzing agent, and their for the expected morsel.'

atheism have been permitted to stalk through plicated, the mind loses its equilibrium; the and his reason taught him, that when the the land, to awaken and arouse us in our rational part of man gives way, and all the knocker was sounded, some one came to the self-secure homes from our beds of case. Oh, mere animal instincts and sentiments are laid door. It is evident that the horse had seen how listless and lifeless, how dead to a sense bare. The emotional faculties are all in wild the knocker used, had noted the result, and of our own individual interest or the welfare disorder; foolish sentimentality extending had followed the example, using of course his of the human family! Awake! awake! put often to tears, grotesque and meaningless nose in lieu of a hand.—J. G. Wood in Man on strength in the name of the Lord! The laughter, absurd promises, insane threats and and Beast. call has gone forth, "Come, labor in my vine-lehildish predictions impel the tongue, until yard, and whatsoever is right, that will I at last there is a failure of the senses, insensiagainst those that are standing with their and with their collapse, the organs under their feet in Jordan, who are bearing the burden in control cease for the time to act. The nervthe heat of the day, and have not bowed the ous centres which stimulate the heart and given in full an address delivered at Friends knee to Baal, but who have stood valiantly the breathing apparatus are the stood valiance for London for the cause of Truth and righteousness. As affected of all. The different systems of or- Yearly Meeting, by Catharine Booth, the wife their day so shall their strength be; for, as gans experience a temporary ecssation of ac-lof William Booth, who commenced the movethe mountains are round about Jerusalem, so lion, one after another, with the exception of ment known as the Salvation Army. She the Lord is round about his people, and He these two on which the continuance of mere herself is an active worker in its ranks; and ably die.

"Whilst a friend of mine was superintend-While the heart is thus working, the minute dog busily occupied in collecting monthfuls blood vessels become distended, as is shown of hay and withered grass, and earrying it all kind, it appeals to the sympathies of those by the varying shades of color in the cheek to one spot. On going to examine it, he found who love their fellow-men and earnestly deor other exposed parts of the body. This the deposit made was on a closely coiled hedge-may often be noticed in persons under the influence of wine, and is spoken of as the flush purpose of rendering the spines harmless, produced by wine. The effect of alcohol is to proceeded to take up the heap with its conjus to sanction and unite in measures that are weaken the contractile force of the extreme tents, and then set off triumphantly towards inconsistent with those truths of the gospel

Horse Begging for Bread.—The following sels, thus partially paralysed, offer inefficient account of a horse was sent to me by a clergy-

"A neighbor possessed a young foal, which

"This went on regularly, until at last when If the action of alcohol be carried further, he was between two and three years old, he My heart yearns for the establishment of a new set of changes is induced in the nervous would not wait for the bread, but used to go Christ's militant Church the world over, that system. The nervous control of certain of the to the door, plant his fore-feet on the steps, all may be brought to the true ground of re-muscles is lost, and the muscles themselves fail so as to gain sufficient elevation, and then lift pentance toward God and faith towards our in power. They come under the depressing the knocker with his nose, afterwards waiting

In this case the memory of the animal en-

THE FRIEND.

EIGHTH MONTH 19, 1882.

In the London Friend for 7th mo. we find animal life depends. But for this provision the address gives evidence that she is a woman every deeply intoxicated man would inevit- of more than ordinary ability. Its object was to enlist more fully the sympathy and co-It usually happens that under favorable cir- operation of Friends in her enterprize, to cumstances, the alcohol diffuses itself through which some of our members in England have Physiological Action of Alcohol.—One of the the tissues and gradually escapes from the already contributed, at least, pecuniary aid.

The continued use of alcohol, even in mod- to reach a large body of the working classes istence, gives it an interest as a matter of history; and, like every other honestly ining his workmen in a wood, he observed his tended effort to spread the kingdom of the Redeemer and to promote the welfare of mansire to see them true servants of the King Immortal. But it is needful for us to be on our guard, that such sympathy does not lead of which we have been convinced. While we may be willing to leave those who are active in these things to the judgment of our common Lord, in whose cause they profess to be laboring; and may rejoice at any degree of blessing which accompanies sineere labor; yet we are not to desert the standard which the accustomed to alcohol, these changes in the formed into a front garden. My daughter, vinced of our principles, were settled in the could do nothing to help the Lord's cause; gage in the Lord's work. The strong testi- 100,000,000 bushels this year. As there is scarcely any Salvation Army, and other bodies termed give uneasiness to concerned Friends. evangelical. Theoretically, the Methodists

It is painfully evident that in many parts Christ as that without which no religious places, ministers no longer wait in reverence on the Lord, to feel their own spirits bowed ove to have it so; and thus their attention is reat loss. The very existence of our Society s a distinct body is thus brought into jeopardy n some places; for though many may be ttracted to meetings where this modified Quakerism prevails, yet there is no sufficient eason for their separate existence, and they vill probably in the end be merged in other o engage in active work in their cause.

n its interests, those who conduct them apdinded to the steadily increasing departures rom the standard of Truth which we have Pristianity revived." Week after week they pread before their readers, not merely as natters of information but as examples to be ollowed, the doings of those whose time to abor is always ready. Such excesses as might hock those who are not fully in sympathy with the departures from our ancient pracices, are palliated as mere accidental accomaniments of renewed spiritual life. Efforts middling. re used to create the belief, that the restless bundantly, but not in their own will and and Kansas, as those of the present season."

The total wheat crop of Indiana this year is offici-

that the Holy Spirit must operate to turn any monies to the necessity of this fresh extension of one from evil to good, from darkness to light, of help from on high, as a preliminary to refrom the power of Sata to God; and that ligious labor, which abound in the writing light of help for the power of Sata to God; and that ligious labor, which abound in the writing light of the power of Sata to God; and that ligious labor, which abound in the writing light of the power of Sata to God; and that ligious labor, which abound in the writing light of the power of Sata to God; and that ligious labor, which abound in the writing light of the power of Sata to God; and that ligious labor, which abound in the writing light of the power of Sata to God; and that ligious labor, which abound in the writing light of the power of Sata to God; and that ligious labor, which are the power of Sata to God; and the p one from evil to good, from darkness to figure to the growth of the consistent members of our Society, are the small grain harvest in Dakota is mission. When the small grain harvest in Dakota is mission, when not Divinely required, of the consistent members of our Society, are the yield of oats per are; and is of extra quality, but undertaken in man's own will, would seldom revived in connection with these narrows in the prove ineffectual or even hurtful. This prin-trives of religious services of our own members of the state of the consistent members of the connection with these narrows are the state of the consistent members of the service of the connection with the service of the service of the service of the connection with the service of the ercise of the ministry of the gospel, as well as infer that these are such as they may safely to other religious services; and it is the earry- imitate. The want of earnestness in the cause ing of this into practice, that produces the of religion, and the absence of spiritual life principal differences between the religious which may be apparent in some places, is used meetings of Friends, and of Methodists, the as an excuse to justify those doings which

We have no doubt that the influence of old the same doctrine that we do on this subset. They believe that to be a minister, a friends, and operating slowly but steadily name treceive the Divine call. But when the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the true into the proper of our second that the proper of ect. They believe that to be a minister, a Friends, and operating slowly but steadily non must receive the Divine call. But when from year to year, is adverse to the true interests of our Society; and that it has been a frequent recurrence of as it rose. There has been a frequent recurrence of the strip of the flood subsided almost as rapidly as it rose. There has been a frequent recurrence of the strip of the flood subsided almost as rapidly as it rose. There has been a frequent recurrence of the strip of the flood subsided almost as rapidly as it rose. nim, they encourage him to preach on every instrumental in leading some of our members such phenomena in that part of Ohio within the last occasion, without waiting to receive a fresh away from the full maintenance of our doctor of the days, unointing for every service. They arrange a trines and testimonics, and inducing them to the forms h peries of performances for their meetings, adopt practices and views inconsistent thereeries of performances for their meetings, adopt practices and views inconsistent therecompany Prof. Newcomb's party to the Cape of Good which may prove attractive to the people with, and which at one time they would have Hope, to make observations of the transit of Yenus. -such as reading the Scriptures, praying, rejected. And we fear that the effect on preaching and singing of hymns-without others has been, to so familiarize them with waiting to feel the Spirit of Christ directing practices inconsistent with our profession, as hem what to do and what to leave undone to cause them to regard with comparative in-The Salvation Army, as C. Booth said, has difference assaults on those principles in defrom the disease have occurred at Matamoras, one a step in advance of Wesley. They fence of which our forefathers suffered the nake it the duty of every one of their converts loss of liberty and life itself.

A new edition of the Memoirs of Mary f our Society there has been a practical de-Capper has been recently issued by the Meetparture from a dependence on the Spirit of ing for Sufferings. Most of the expense of printing it was paid by a Friend who believed abor can acceptably be performed. In some that the work was peculiarly fitted to be useful. It is a lively record of the experiences of one who, from youth to old age, found that n homage to Him, but are eager to engage in as she walked in obedience to the light of the rocal services; and too many of the people Lord Jesus revealed in her heart, she was safely led through the dangers and trials of urned from the Spirit of Christ in their own time, firmly established in the truths of the nearts and fixed on the preacher, to their Gospel, cheered and sustained by the sweet presence of her Heavenly Father, and animated by the sure and blessed hope of happiness hereafter. The book is neatly gotten

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES.-Congress adjourned finally at 3 It is a grief to many thoughtful Friends, o'clock on the 8th inst., a resolution for adjournment at tho love our Society, to observe that, as to everal of the periodicals professedly published to its interests, those who conduct them ap. hear to have been so dazzled by the show of sion. The House took several recesses, waiting for the good in many active labors, that they are Senate's action, and the Senate, before adjournment, spent most of the time in executive session. Most of the executive session was occupied by discussion of a

The total exports of petroleum and petroleum pro-ducts from the United States during the twelve months sold to an English synticate 105,000 acres of land in the Pipestone district, at $4.50 per acre.

The friestone district, at $4.30 per acre.
The first bale of new cotton received in Montgomery, Alabama, was sold at auction in that city on the 9th inst, for 33 cents per pound. It was classed "scant

Letters have been received by business houses in St. Louis, from correspondents in the South and West, say-

Ill., on the morning of the 14th, aged 60 years. He was known as "a good Indian."

Dr. Reeves, Secretary of the Board of Health of West Virginia, has been advised of a new cattle disease—a contagious fever-which prevails in several counties in that State. A disease is reported among cattle in Berks county, Penna., which has caused a loss of thirty cows within a short time.

A "waterspout" flooded the valley near Shelby, Ohio,

First Lieutenant Thomas L. Casey, Jr., Engineer Corps, has been detailed by the Secretary of War to ac-

Yellow fever being prevalent in Brownsville and at Matamoras, Mexico, the Governor of Texas has pro-claimed quarantine against Mexican ports, and au-thorized the counties on the Rio Grande and exposed points, to proclaim local quarantine. Over 70 deaths

There were 406 deaths in Philadelphia for the week ending 8th mo. 13th, as compared with 510 for the pre-vious week, and 450 for the corresponding week of last year. Of the whole number 130 were under one year f age; 197 were males and 209 females: 69 died of cholera infantum, 46 of consumption, 26 of marasmus, 18 of inflammation of stomach and bowels, 14 of inflammation of the brain, and 10 of typhoid fever.

Markets, &c. — U. S. 3½'s, 101½ a 103½; 4½'s, 114¼; 4's, 119; ; currency 6's, 134.

Cotton was firmly held; sales of middlings are re-ported at 13½ a 13½ cts. per lb. for uplands and New Petroleum.-Standard white, 67 cts. for export, and cts, per gallon for home use.

Flour is quiet and prices remain as last quoted. Sales of 2600 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $7 for fresh clear, and at $7.25 a $7.50 for straight; Pennsylvania extra family at $5.25 a $5.50; western do. do. at $6 a $6.25, and patents at $7.25 a $8.75. Rye flour is dull at $3.50 a $3.75 per barrel.

Grain.-Wheat is quiet and easier. Sales of 9000 nos and may be obtained at the Book Store, No. 304 Arch street, Philadelphia.

Gram—whest is quiet and easier. Sales of book up, and may be obtained at the Book Store, bushels new Southern at $1.14 a $1.18. Rye is searce and wanted at 75 cts. for prime new. Corn—Local lots are searce and firm, and futures are of firmer. Sales of 7000 bushels, including yellow, at 92 cts.; mixed, 91 cts.; steamer at 90½ cts.; No. 3 at 90 cts., and rejected at 89 a 89½ cts. Oats are scarce and firm. Sales of 9500 bushels, including old at 70 a 75 cts., and new at 66 a 70 cts.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 8th mo, 12th, 1882.—Leads of hay, 331; loads of straw, 49. Average price during the week—Prime timothy, 95 cts. to SL05 per 100 pounds; mixed, 85 cts. to 95 cts. per 100 pounds; straw, 60 to 70 cts. per 100 pounds.

Beef cattle were in good demand and prices were firmer; 3500 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 4½ a 8½ cts. per pound, as to quality.

Sheep were active and firmer: 14,000 head sold at the different yards at 33 a 55 cts., and lambs at 4 a 72 cts. per pound.

Hogs were active and firm: 3200 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 111 a 121 cts. per lb., as to condition.

Foreign.-In the House of Commons, Gladstone, moving the consideration of the amendments of the House of Lords to the Arrears of Rent Bill, stated that he would have to ask the House substantially to dissent from the first amendment. The Government will propose to enact that either a landford or tenant can initiate proceedings subject to ten days' notice from the initiating party. Gladstone also said: I shall not ask the ctivity which prevails among some is of the looks from correspondents in the South and West, says proceedings subject to ten days' notice from the initiating and nature as that manifested by George oats raised in Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, House to reject the second amendmen, but to amend Tennessee, the Indian Territory, Kentucky, Missouri, it so as to provide that, in case where a tenant right is is on a to provide that, in case where a tenant right is sold within seven years, the landlord shall have a lien on the proceeds for the arrears he has been deprived of by the action of the bill to the extent of one year's rent, the landlord only to have this lien if the sum realized trength; and who were concerned to wait, then a long time, for the arising of the feeling of life and power before they ventured to en-

The House sustained the views of Gladstone by a de- have taken up positions immediately threatening the W. Gilbert, O., $1, to No. 52, vol. 56; also $1 for the curred.

According to the official return, 231 outrages, in-from De Lesseps eluding two murders, occurred in Ireland during the 7th mo., against 283 outrages, with five murders, in 6th on. The total number of evictions during 7th mo. was 321 families, representing 1619 persons. Of the families evicted half were reinstated as tenants or care-The number of families evicted in 6th mo. was 515. representing 2669 persons.

The North German Lloyd's steamer Mosel, Captain Hesse, from Bremen for New York, is aground under Lizard Point. She had between 600 and 700 passengers. The mails and specie have been safely landed. There was no panic when the vessel struck, the officers assuring the passengers they were in no danger. The majority of the passengers have gone to Falmouth. Lighters have gone to the wreck to save the cargo.

At a meeting of the constabulary at Cork on the 9th inst., the following resolution, which was approved by the Limerick and Belfast men. was adopted: "Having seen, with surprise and disgust, a calumny cast upon our loyalty by the insignation that we are in collusion with Fenians, we desire to mark our sense of its utter falsity by withdrawing from further agitation and relying upon a speedy redress of our grievances.

he sum of £2445 has been paid to the Limerick constabulary, it being their portion of the £180,000 granted by the Government for extra pay.

The Berlin Tribune says that Russia has assured the Porte that she has not instigated the Panslavist agitation in Bulgaria and Roumelia, as she has no intention to increase the embarrassments caused by England. An official return of the census of France shows that the population of the country is 37,672,048. The Turkish Consul at Bombay has been ordered to the action of the Porte in sending Turkish troops to co-operate with the British in Egypt, which has produced a great sensation among Mohammedans in India. The Consul has been instructed to explain the reasons which have induced the Caliph to send troops.

Constantinople, 8th mo. 8th.—De Lesseps has sent a will soon be laid telegram here declaring that the whole of Egypt has Hawaiian islands. embraced the cause of the National party, and that the English will find everywhere a determined and intelli-

Egypt has been postponed. Constantinople, 8th mo. 11th.—At the sitting of the

At the Conference which met at the residence of Said Pasha and discussed the question of protection of the Suez Canal, no decision was reached. It is believed the resolutions of the Conference in relation to this matter have no immediate importance bearing on the It is understood that a majority of the Amsituation. bassadors is in favor of bringing the Conference to a close or adjourning its sitting.

El Jawaib states that Arabi Pasha has already been should be make submission, but that if he refuse strong measures will be taken to enforce his obedience, as contrary to the interests of Islam.

The Musselman jurists, whom the Sultan frequently consults, explain that Arabi Pasha, in so far as he has consults, explain that Arant Pasna, in so are as ne madisobeyed the Caliph, is a rebel and may be uncere-moniously treated as such; but, in so far as he has been a defender of the Mohammedan country against the aggressive designs of Christians, he has merely fulfilled the duties of a good Musselman, and consquently the James Scarlet, Pa, $2.10, vol. 56; from Caleb Hoopes, Caliph cannot make common cause with England. The Pa,, $2.10, vol. 56, and for Benjamin P. Hoopes, $2.10, Sultan may punish Arabi Pasha, if some act of rebellion is proved against him; but he must not associate himself with those who wish to crush Arabi Pasha as the defender of Islam. A correspondent says this will greatly influence the Turkish military action. Constantinople, 8th mo. 14th.—The irade declaring Arabi Pasha a rebel and authorizing the Anglo-Turkish Military Convention has not been signed. Arabi Pasha's Tatum, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sarah Ann Allen troops are busy creeting earthworks beyond Mahala Junction. Several Abysinian pumps have been sunk Seth Shaw, Agent, O, $2.10, vot. 0.5, fo, and for like principles, and diligent in the about the English positions and are found to answer Cope, Job Huestis, Barak Ashton, Midlin Cadwalader, ings; and though little known beywell the requirements of the English army. Good Benjamin Harrison and Nathan M. Blackburn, O, and daily acceptance with the requirements of the English army. Good Benjamin Harrison and Nathan M. Blackburn, O, and daily acceptance water was quickly found. The rebels, in great force, J. F. Harrison, Io., $2.10 cach, vol. 56, and for Sarah upright and excellent of the cartle.

cisive majority, in which the Lords subsequently con-curred. The English Admiral has occupied the water curred. He will not allow any interference whatever

A despatch from Buenos Ayres states that the vessel conveying Lieutenant Bove and the members of the Italian Antartic expedition has been wrecked off Cape Horn. All on board were saved by the British vessel Allan Goodin

Complications are reported between the native and the French fishermen on the so-called "French shore," on the west coast of Newfoundland. The French insist western and southern counties of Nova Scotia.

Toronto, Ont., advices state that during the past fortlight the weather has been so violent that through a large part of Ontario the farmers will suffer very seri ous losses. The reports go to show that south of a line drawn from Goderich to a point a few miles north of Toronto the actual yield of the crops will be very seriously reduced.

A telegram from Ottawa says, it is announced that $8,500,000 of the $10,000,000 Pacific Railway bonds have been taken up.

Advices from Sagua report the destruction of the core crop, owing to the extreme drought,

El Triunfo publishes a letter from the President of the Central Board of Agriculture of the Republic of Colombia to Captain General Prendergast, warning the latter to take effective measures to prevent the larvæ and locusts now devastating that Republic from being introduced into Cuba by vessels carrying cattle to the island. It is recommended in the letter that the cattle give explanations to the Ulemas of India respecting on board the vessels be fed with hay only. These locusts are rapid travellers, and are of enormous fecundity, and they would soon invade the United States after reaching Cuba.

Honolulu is to be lighted by "electric towers" and several street railways are projected there. A cable will soon be laid to connect the city with the various RECEIPTS. gent defence, to check their enterprise if possible. The departure of Dervisch Pasha and Server Pasha for Haines, N. J., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Levi B. Stokes, Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Sarah P. Johnson, $2.10, conserence yesterday the Russian representative asked 55, and for Ezeklei C. Shoemaker, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from for an explanation of the action of the British in occupying Sucz. Lord Dufferin, the British Ambasa-Hofman, W. Philada, $2.10, vol. 56; from C. A. dor, replied that the step was taken in consequence of deserton, Gity, $2.7, vol. 56, and for James Cole, Me, and military necessity, and in order to save the town from Phebe A. Elkinton, N. J., $2.10 such and find destruction and pillage. vol. 56; from Richard C. Shoemaker, Pa., $2.10, vol. Samuel Allen, City, $2, vol. 56; from Thomas S. Pike, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Ephraim Smith, City, $2, vol. 56, and for Morris S. Cope and Elizabeth Hughes, Pa., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Robert Knowles, Agent, N. Y., $2.10, vol. 56, and for James R. Boss, Benjamin Knowles, Chester A. Weaver, Dorcas Collins, David Peckham and Lorenzo Rockwell, N. Y., and David F. close or adjourning its sitting.

El Jownis states that Arabi Pasha has already been [fifth, Va. S2.1, Vo. 65; from Mary N. Brochamatic semi-officially acquainted with the terms of the City S2, vo. 56; from Arny H. Nicholson, X.J., $2.10, to fifth the Common semi-officially acquainted with the terms of the City S2, vo. 56; from Lydia Ann Hendrickson, X.J., $2.10, to formed that the Sultan would grant him free pardon vol. 56; from Lydia Ann Hendrickson, X.J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Lydia Ann Hendrickson, X.J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Lydia Ann Hendrickson, M.J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Lydia Ann He rmed that the Sutian would grant him free partion you. oo; from Markina S. Johnson, Ind., Szali, you. ooj; oudle he make submission, but that tile refuse strong from Mary M. Applegate, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Joseph The Cherifs have condemoned the acts of Arth Pabla [Xay, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Joseph Grant Middleton, N S₂, vol. 56; from Josiah L. Haines, City, S₂, vol. 56, and for Any Middleton and Albert Haines, N. J., S2.10, and for Many Middleton and Albert Haines, N. J., S2.10, vol. 56; from Uriah Borton, N. J., S2.10, vol. 56; from Uriah Borton, N. J., S2.10, vol. 56; from Example, N. J., S2.10, vol. 56; from Ex N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Joseph Barton, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sarah Haines, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from vol. 56; from Joshua Jefferis, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from vol. 36; from Joshua Jeneris, Fra., $2.10, vol. 39; from Rebecca A. Bell, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Edward Richie, City, $2, vol. 56, and for Edward B. Richie, N. J., and Rachel J. Shoemaker, Ind., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from George Abbott, Jr., City, $2, vol. 56; from Samuel L. Whitson, W. Philada., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sarah E. Evaus, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from John R. and Sarah Ann Cox, N. J., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Bible Association; from George McNichols, Io., $2.10, vol. 56; from Joseph Elkinton, City, $2, vol. 56; from Samuel M. Wickersham, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Alice P. Roberts, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from John W. Buzby, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Elnathan Roberts, $2.10, vol. 56; from Huldah H. Bonwill, City, $2, vol. 56, and for James Kite, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Albert Webster, City, $2.10, vol. 56; from George Sharpless, Pa., $2, vol. 56, and for Lewis Sharpless, Minn, $2.10, vol. 56; from Henry Albertson, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Mary Wistar, City, $2, vol. 56; from Peter Thomson, on the west coast of Newfoundland. The French insist flor Mary Wistar, City, S2, Vol. 96; From Feter Thomson, upon their exclaims a concurrent right, according to treaty. It is $210, vol. 56; From Sarah L. North, Pa., $210, vol. again to the French and British Governments.

The army worms are reported to be numerous in the R. 1, $210, vol. 56; and for Etika G. Sheffledd, Comp., The army worms are reported to be numerous in the R. 1, $210, vol. 56; and for Etika G. Sheffledd, Comp. $2.10, vol. 56; from Joel Wilson, Agent, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Isaac C. Stokes and Ruth A. Harned, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Robert P. Gifford, R. I., $2.10, vol. 56; from Alice H. Carter, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jacob R. Elfreth, Pa., $2 10, vol. 56; from Samuel Betts, City, $2, vol. 56; from Dr. Edward Maris, City, $2, vol. 56, and for Hannah M. Stokes, Pa., and Samuel W. Maris, Md., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Elisha A. Griffith, N. Y., $1.05, to No. 27, vol. 56; from Wil-A. Griffith, N. Y., $1.05, to No. 27, vol. 56; from William George England, N.S. $2.10, vol. 56; from James G. McCollin, City, $2, vol. 56, and for Anna G. McCollin and Frances B. McCollin, City, $2 each, vol. 56, and Ann Garrett, Pa., and Margaretta E. Reed, West Philada., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Charles M. Cooper, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Thomas Perry, R. I., for Ann Perry, J. Barclay Foster, John W. Foster, George Foster, George C. Foster, Mary Ann Shove and Lydia F. Nichols, $2.10 each, vol. 56, and for Charles Perry, $2.10, to No. 11, vol. 57; from Charlotte H. Hollingshead, Pa., 10 cents postage on vol. 56; from Jeremiah Foster, R. I., $2.10, vol. 56; from Mary A. Smith, Mass., $2.10, vol. 56; from Benjamin Lippincott, N. J. $2.10, vol. 56, and for Lydia Lippincott, $2,10 vol. 56; from Sarah McDonald, Ill., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jacob Edge, Pa., $2.10 vol. 56, and for L. Caroline Ash, and Joseph Harrison, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Mary Ann Haines, Rebecca Ashead, and Mary and Rebecca Mat-lack, N. J., $2.10 each, vol. 56.

Remittances received after Fourth-day morning will not appear in the Receipts until the following week.

WANTED,

An experienced and well qualified female teacher, to take the charge of Friends' School at Plainfield, N. J. Apply at once to W. Taylor, Plainfield, N. J.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS, PARENTS AND OTHERS.

The Yearly Meeting's Committee on Education have placed a book at Friends' Book Store, No. 304 Arch St., Philadelphia, where applications from teachers wishing situations, and committees who desire to employ teachers among Friends, may be recorded. Please give address, and full particulars,

Elliston P. Morris, Clerk.

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE. Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelph Physician and Superintendent-John C. Hall, M.D. Applications for the Admission of Patients may be made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Board of

DIED, at his residence, Barnesville, Belmont county, Ohio, on the 5th day of the 6th month, 1881, LIGHTFOOT, a beloved member and overseer of Somerset Monthly Meeting of Friends, in the 76th year of Managers.

-, at her residence, West Chester, Pa., 1st mo. 13th, 1882, ANNE PIM, in the 90th year of her age, an esteemed member of West Chester Preparative and Birmingham Monthly Meeting of Friends

Birmingnam aroundly accepting of Friends.

—, at Burlington, N. J., on the 8th of the 5th mo.

1882, EMLEX CRAFT, in the 78th year of his age. He was well known in this city as one of the pioneers in the local express business, which he pursued almost uninterruptedly for more than 40 years, and in which, as in all his affairs, his extreme care and strict integrity had become proverbial. He was a consistent member of the Society of Friends, strong in his attachment to its principles, and diligent in the attendance of meetings; and though little known beyond the sphere of his daily avocation, his memory is cherished as one of the

FRIEND. THE

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, EIGHTH MONTH 26, 1882.

NO. 3.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

ice, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to bscriptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, AT NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS,

JOSEPH WALTON. MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

PHILADELPHIA

For "The Friend." Wanderings South and East.

(Continued from page 10.) THE NEW HEBRIDES, BANKS' AND TORRES'

ISLANDS. THE SANTA CRUZ ISLANDS. When on Norfolk Island, our author had een invited by Bishop Selwyn of the Melanean Mission to accompany him in a tour nong some of the islands of the Pacific, longing to the Mission.

les, some had babies."

'he leaves of many of the trees were no less other." eantiful than the flowers, and I have seldom eld and brown foliage.

rough mats.

ke his passage. About 40 of the natives, common dwelling-places. This we learned he had been receiving instruction, were to was the money house. We were taken to passed round with buge delight, and much returned to their homes, "and," he resee what was inside, and crawled through pointing at the possessors of these titles!"

arks, "I must say 40 Cook's torrists could the very small doorway for that purpose."

"One really needs to visit some such place ome of the flowering shrubs, planted purely moneys, and it is the time thus spent upon try, and without the all-purifying element." or their beauty's sake, were really magnifi- them that makes them of value. This kind ent; great scarlet flowers on one; cream of money is, as far as we could learn, only establishing of friendly relations with the plored honeysuckle blossoms upon another; current in the matter of club advancement. Santa Cruz Islanders, who are noted for their right-yellow bell-shaped flowers upon a third. A fairly old mat is worth as much as a large ferocity. It was here Bishop Patteson and las! not one of us was botanist enough to boar with finely-curved tusks. Of all the others were killed in 1871, in revenge for the now the names or families of these flowers, forms of money that I have seen this is cer-kidnapping of five of the natives which had nd although some of us had been in many tainly the most curious, for it cannot even be taken place some time before, but of which ountries, we could not compare more than carried about, and is, if possible, never moved he probably knew nothing. Here too, Com-way, perhaps two feet high, leads into the quarters of an inch in diameter and an inch single room, and the floor is covered with and a half long, through the cartilage of the ough mats."

"To each village is attached a club-house upwards. These little blocks are of polished or 'gamal' as it is called. A club-system black wood and have a small mother-of-pearl prevails throughout almost all the Western disc let into them at each end. On one of Pacific Islands, varying merely in detail. these islands, the vessel left Bishop Selwyn When the boys of the village have grown out on his return from the north, to spend two of actual childhood, they are sent from their months with the people who were suffering homes to sleep and eat in the village gamal, from horrible sores aggravated by want of which is generally in a central position. Upon water and careless treatment. The young entering the club they pay a small fee, and girls and boys were very pretty and affected and eat at what is called the lower end. From this position they work their way they walked along. W. C. says: "Nothing gradually upwards, at each advancement pay-ing the chiefs of the elub-house certain fees." men and women being called up repeatedly by "In connection with the fees paid for ad-the more courageous ones to look at and feel vaneement in these curious lodges, I must them. When I first pulled up my sleeve there not forget to mention a curious custom on was quite a stampede—that any one should this island. Of course the money is different be white all over seemed to them sometin every group of islands, just as in every country of Europe, but here it is so singular visit we discovered an amusing fancy which hich he was in the habit of periodically that it deserves special mention. Near the we had not understood before; it was that aking in the Southern Cross, a small vessel centre of the village at which we stopped, the people were all most curious to know our was a small and rather exceptional-looking names. I had been asked some question a On the 1st of Seventh month, 1880, he went house. It was fenced around, and had a hundred times, and at last some one guessed e second time to Norfolk Island, ready to more elaborately-constructed front than the what it was that they wanted. After that

t have made more commotion. Some had From the roof of the hut were suspended as this to appreciate the value of water. Here gs, many had cats, all had boxes and bun-eight or ten mats, their sizes as they hung were many hundreds of men, women and down from the beam being about two feet by children, of whom I suppose but a few had The island of Maewo, one of the New fifteen inches. They reached to within a ever known what it was to wash. Natives lebrides, is described as an earthly Paradise. foot of the ground, and under them a small will not use salt water to wash in, although Thile walking in its interior they came upon wood fire was kept ever burning. In course they will bathe in it while fishing or even little village, which is thus described: "We of time the mats become coated with a shining perhaps for pleasure. On the whole, however, und a wide clearing quite level and free black incrustation, which gradually accumul these dirty Torres folk seemed to me more om either grass or weed. Perfectly clean, lates in such a quantity that it hangs down merry than any people I visited, and the noisy orcover, so that one could not so much as in stalactite forms, called by the natives crowd that came down to see us off was evise even a cocoa nut shell lying out of place. breasts. The fire, it will be seen, requires dently none the less happy for being so unprinkled about upon this level clearing were very constant looking after, for if it became clean. It was only when we saw the poor, dying bout a dozen little houses. Some of them at all large the mats would be set alight, and wretches lying in dozens outside their houses ore fenced around with white cane fences, if it went out, the process of coating them in miserable little sheds, that we realized how ut all had, planted beside the doors, one or would be arrested. A man has, therefore, awful a thing it is to be the prey of disease and ore handsome flowering shrubs or trees, always to be kept watching these curious flies and loathsome insects, in a tropical coun-

One of the objects of the voyage was the few of them to any we had seen before, even when it passes from one owner to an-modore Goodenough and two of his seamen were wounded with poisoned arrows, which North of New Hebrides lie the Banks' and cost the lives of all three. Their vessel first sen a more gorgeous display of crimson, Torres' Islands. Several of these are practituehed at one of the small Reef Islands of cally without water. The soil consists of Santa Cruz, which are small coral patches, no-"The houses are small, and have, strictly crumbled coral through which the rain per- where more than 30 feet above the sea-level. peaking, no walls. They consist of a deeply-colates as it would through sand: the natives The bishop had been there two years before, abled roof set upon the ground, and are, in are accordingly dependent upon cocoa-nut and had brought back one of their people who cet, like very large and long hencops. The milk as their sole beverage, and of course do had been blown away as far as the Solomon rorkmanship is, however, as I have said, not wash. The men in the Torres' group Islands, and whom he had found a prisoner ery neat and good. A small square door-wear a short stick, generally about three-there. This man was among the first to board their vessel, and very glad he seemed hopeless. It is impossible to say what the 'Christin you the hope of glory;' which we to be to see his old friends. "Before long the people thought of our visit, but, as we carried did, and never will, fail those, who in im a thick tortoise-shell ring about an inch and friendly." a half in diameter, and in their ears were from ten to as many as twenty thin tortoiseshell rings of about the same size. A very fine and neatly made mat was their sole article of clothing. For ornaments the usual armlets were worn, and also in many cases a

those who went on shore, and he was con-faint-hearted expediency." ducted to a louse in a village in the forest. We sincerely hope the "large majority" in hard greated the most unbounded delight by in the words of faith and of good doctrine," kerly Meeting a white skin. "People flocked in as to stand for the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the most standard of the right and the true; even to the control of the most standard of the m ever been, amongst that crowd of savages, Body for a number of years past?—once such This spirit has spread, even among those w perhaps the most treacherous in the world.

"a burning and a shining light."

The light was dim, for there were only two

The following communications, addressed robbing Christ. They talk much of belief tempers; it was therefore pleasant to see the storm. through the little doorway the waves dashtance the ship with the canoes still round her."

not from actual bodily exertion, but from sheer excitement-than when I got on board the ship again. There was a feeling of relief the ship again. There was a feeling of relief amongs are statement of the stage button, I charge you, take care how you hol amongst us all that night; the anxiety of the their final account, the sour leaven then introduced into their writings to derision; the last few days was taken off our shoulders now. The stage of the solety has not ceased its infectious influenced who are resting from their labors far beyond the vessel's deck was crowded with the natives, no arms and took practically nothing from plicity believe, and faithfully build the br who swarmed up the sides like monkeys, them but gave away a considerable amount nothing doubting. By diligently mainta in They were finely made fellows of a dark of, to them, inestimable treasure, one may the watch in that holy light, bestowed recopper-color. Through their noses they wore presume they considered our intentions were deeming love on every individual of that

(To be continued.)

Desultory Selections and Pencillings.

Meeting just past, have reminded of what our turely activity and excitement, have round, flat, shell breast-plate was hung round late friend Christopher Healy is reported to been corrupted from the simplicity that in the neck. Most prominently of all, however, have said at the dinner table of one of their Christ. Watch ye, therefore, and pra a they carried, always and without exception, prominent members of that day. Upon two ways; that ye may be accounted worth they earried, always and without exception, provided and control of the daughters coming in late, their doing escape all these things that shall come to stave twenty long and highly-ornamented poisoned so was excused by the mother—a reputed and to stand before the Son of man. Bless arrows, which are certainly the most terrible minister in the Society-who introduced them and holy injunction,-never out of seasc and deadly weapons I have ever seen. They to their guest with the apology that they had never more needed?" are not (indeed no arrows in these seas are) just returned from the Bible Society. C. H. "Frequently am I brought under appara are not timeed no arrows in these seas are place to the finding time of the control of the contr being colored with red and white pigments. of Society." Will not his language, "Out of ligious profession, who bore the burden in The points are long and thin, and of a light Society, apply to the whole Body so far as heat of a day of deep suffering in the faith brown color, the tips being made of human that Body is committed by "the heaty manbone."

Having made friends with these Reef Is.

Missionary work' was announced from the spiritual heatty of the gospel church manbour the spiritual heatty of the gospel church manb landers, they persuaded a few of them to go table?" An action which is thus characterized have shone forth through us, with a splen along and introduce them to some of the peo- by a writer in The British Friend of Seventh which the different professors of the Chris ple on the large island of Nitendi. They month—"the sacrifice of one of our most name, could neither have gainsayed nor were well received. W. Coote was one of precious testimonies on the mean altar of a sisted," &c.

their wonder and euriosity rose higher than bave not defiled their garments." We enter-bave any thing to communicate; but my not wonder and euriosity rose higher than bave not defiled their garments." We enter-bave any thing to communicate; but my my ever. I had brought with me no presents or tain but little hope that the committee, ap- has been impressed, as I have sat for a sh valuables of any kind-nor indeed any clothes pointed without due Christian courtesy or time in silence among you, and I was will beyond the plainest shirt and flannel rousers, authority, will do other than continue to become a fool for the Lord Jesus Chris as it was most desirable not to excite their "sacrifice on the altar of a faint-hearted exemple with the continue to the contraction of the Lord Jesus Chris as it was most desirable not to excite their "sacrifice on the altar of a faint-hearted exemple with the continue to the Lord Jesus Chris as the Lord Jes bundle of fish-hooks in the pocket of my compliance long since, as an entering wedge, shirt, and these I distributed, amidst great inaugurated, until nearly all our distinguish-couraging a carnal wisdom, a head knowled enthusiasm, amongst my crowd of admirers. ing characteristics as a people will be obliter an outward learning, which exalteth its It was a strange experience, indeed, to sit ated. Who can fail to see or to fear this, being and is ever endeavoring to find out the w there, where I suppose no white man had familiar with the retrogressive steps of that of salvation by the study of the Scriptur or three square holes for doorways; a fire to Friends in England or directly, to that the Atoning Sacrifice, but are setting burnt in one corner, and in the centre of the once influential Body, the Yearly Meeting of nonght and despising Christ in his inwa house was a large arrangement like a four. London, are worthy of deep consideration at appearance, and apply them in a carr post bed, upon the top of which were stowed the present time.* Thus Daniel Wheeler in sense. Such was not the way in which o bags of nuts and stores of spare arrows and 1832:—"Assuredly, my beloved friends, a day worthy predecessors acted. The Lord rais other treasures. Every one had his bow and of trial is approaching, yea, hastening upon our predecessors in the Truth, to be a lig arrows, and would not so much as cross the the nations, when nothing short of an indi-in a dark, degenerate age; and through the house without them, and I could not resist a vidual heart-felt knowledge of Him, in whom instrumentality, He was pleased to reprosuspicion once of foul play and quickly roused we profess to believe, will stand unshaken by the carnal professors of the outward letter ing against the rocks outside, and in the dis- our highly favored religious Society, that it writings of these our worthy predecessor may be preserved immovable upon this its and are endeavoring to cast disrespect upo man race, the snares of the insidious a er sary, although laid in the most insinu: in manner, will be detected and broken : he specious guise of a false religion itself w b penetrated. This has assuredly slain its thu The proceedings of the London Yearly sands, who dazzled and distracted by

A part of a testimony by that extrao their day; but there are some among yo "Great is the solicitude I feel on behalf of who are holding up to scorn the acts at "I have seldom been more utterly tired ancient and sure foundation, Jesus Christ them. Take care, as you will have to give account in the awful day of righteous retr * Though most of the active members upon the stage bution, I charge you, take care how you hol amongst us all that night; the anxiety of the last few days was taken off our shoulders now, for the experiment was over and had proved satisfactory. With such terrible precedents we could hardly have expected so successful the true are perfectly an experience. Our best hopes had been calized, and a beginning at least made upon out of his place, or the had-writing upon the wall, as an island that had been considered almost in the case of king Belshazzar, be fortheoming.

rough which the Lord shall speak and not go back to the world and the beggarly ele-word more than He shall give me, and to selare to you the whole counsel of God, so former days, caused divisions in this Society? at I may be clear of your blood. The Lord Were they not all blighted and seattered? the a controversy with the spirit that has "And ye, faithful ones, to whom the prinath a controversy with the spirit that has od Almighty will show himself valiant on should ever cease to be a people." our side, and will arise for your signal de-tensions; for though these talk of the unity of the substantial good.

your God : you know not how long these con-

"And now, my beloved young people—you, dear children, on whose behalf I have often

100se my own words as a minister of the and perplexity, and produces such a sensa-I always desire to be the instrument tion, will fade away, and the authors of it will ept into this Society, and which is sitting in ciples of truth are yet precious; who love the rens referred to in the lively and instructive ept into this Society, and which is sitting in ciples of truth are yet precious; who love the rens referred to in the lively and instructive in the judgment seat. The Lord, I say, bath a pure cause, and are often bowed down in spirit article of J. S. L., describing his trip to Hammattoversy with these, but He hath a still on its behalf, you have no cause to fear; for monton, N. J. We left the railroad which reater controversy with those who are seek-though you be left as the gleanings of the th Christ with Behal, what union between on a very fruitful hill; not one of self-exalta- which however unpromising to the eye of an

The subjoined is from the pen of Mary Capper, in 1830 :- "As an individual incor-The annexed is the substance of a portion porated into the Society of Christian believers, f what was delivered in a visit to the Men's denominated Friends or Quakers, not by edu- of considerable economic value—the Cranearly Meeting, by Sarah Lynes Grubb, the cation nor much familiar intercourse with berry and the White Cedar. ame year as the preceding, viz., 1836; taken any of them, not in my minority, but in more own by a Friend shortly after: - "Oh! my advanced years of my life; and having seen, grows in considerable abundance in low ciends, there were some in ancient days who with serious observation, it may be rather swampy grounds. The stem trails on the aid one to another, 'Go to, let us make brick, more variety of scenes and manners than falls ground, and sends up short shoots with very

of Babel, the Lord came down and confounded the religious meetings of Friends. To me, "large-fruited." their language, so will it be with the Babel-solemn and reverential was that stillness, that builders amongst us; for when they come to-silence, which seemed to hush every thought, old mill-ponds may make good locations for gether, they will not understand each other's I believe that in this still calm, there is a re-eranberry bogs, yet the water-powers conspeech; and their building on the sand will newal of spiritual strength to be known; yea! neeted with them must be too valuable to be erumble to pieces, and they themselves will an enlargement of spiritual understanding, in sacrificed for such a use. It is a thinly settled wither, wither; and be scattered to communion with the Father of spirits, which and unproductive part of the land, and one the north and to the south, to the east and to surely is true, spiritual worship. Thus, as an who travels through it on any of the lines of individual, I was led step by step, and found railroad leading to the ocean, will pass through "And oh! let me earnestly entreat you of no difficulty in comprehending the ground and miles of bush land or low pine and oak woods, this description, in the love of the Gospel, to consistency of adopting plainness of speech, burnt and stunted. The forests which once stand still and see what you are doing. The behavior and apparel; all seemed consonant covered it, furnished logs for the saw-mills, lieve there have been times when some of you with apostolic counsel, evangelic doctrine, and fuel for the glass works and iron furnaces have seen, in the true light, that you were and the example of the early Christian con-which were located in their midst. As the wrong; but the pride of your hearts would verts. A corruption of language and of man trees were cut down and consumed, the mills ber it is an awful thing to tempt the Lord Christian professors, in the present day. The ceased to be profitable as business enterprises. Society of Friends having seen this, and being victions may be granted you; and if the light gathered in early times as a 'people turned that is in you be darkness, how great is that to a pure language, I marvel not at their setting a cautious guard against innovations." 7th mo. 14th, 1882.

you; for I have to tell you (and I wish you marred by one Friend speaking too long; to sion—some of them quite limited in extent, to take notice of it, and to write it down) that begin in the life, and conclude in the power but two were of greater magnitude. all this that now causes so much stumbling and life, is becoming a minister of the gospel. fires prevent the growth of the timber through

For " The Friend."

Excursion to Brown's Mills, N. J.

On the 24th of 7th mo., a little company of three concluded to explore the swamps about the head-waters of one of the branches of the Rancocas in the section of white sand barruns from Camden to Whitings, at Brown's g to please both parties. What concord grapes of the vintage, yet shall you be planted Mills station, and soon entered a swamp, he temple of God and idols! But I have a tion, but a hill above the spirit of this world; agriculturist, was rich in floral treasures, and ord of comfort for the little remnant whom and you shall spread abroad, and increase, very inviting to a botanist. It was with a e Lord bath yet among his people; may He and flourish; for this Society was planted a somewhat excited feeling of exultation, that rant you his Spirit to discern and avoid the noble vine; wholly a right seed; and it is not we saw before us the side-saddle plant (now rievous errors which abound. And the Lord the will of the Almighty that this people in fruit), the white pond lilies, the bright yellow polygalas, and nearly all of the plants described by J. S. L., as well as many others.

Barren as this section of country appears to be, it is the favorite abode of two plants

The Cranberry, Vaccinium macrocarpon, nd burn them thoroughly; 'let us build us to the lot of every private person, I may say, small heath-like leaves, and handsome though city and a tower, whose top may reach that although I was ignorant and as easily not very conspicuous, flowers. The fruit is a into heaven.' Some of you are laying hand led into folly as my associates, brought up in round berry which, as it matures, assumes a o hand, and shoulder to shoulder, to erect a the same habits and dissipations, there were beautiful red color, mingled with white, with ower whose height may reach unto heaven; times when I was led, in deep thoughtfulness, which we are all so familiar. Its lively and cautiful indeed to the eye, and of fair proto query with myself, What is a profession agreeable acid taste, when modified by the ortions; and you are saying to others, Come of religion? Having at an early age, gone sugar with which it is cooked, renders it a hold behold what we are doing; join your-through the forms of what is called our Na-general favorite. The principal supply is oblelves unto us, and we will show you the gostional Church, and with reverence partaken tained from artificial plantations, which are bel path unto heaven; a path full of charity of the outward and visible sign of faith in the carefully made in positions—such as the old blood of Christ, as an atoning sacrifice, oft-mill-ponds in the pine barrens—where a supwherein ye may avoid the cross; but, 'say ye times it arose in my mind, What has this ply of water is available to flood the plants at boop le shall say, a confederacy; Oh leware before that subtle spirit which would lead you from the pure truth, under such delusive pre- aware that the ecremony was but a shadow past, and though we saw a few plants in bloom, "Not without sacrifices, hindrances and berries. The New Jersey species bears a with which Christ unites his disciples in prediscouragements, by little and little, not rash larger fruit than the species which is found cious fellowship. And I am commanded to ly, but after mature deliberation, in simple to the northward—as is signified by its spetell you that, as in the instance of the tower obedience to apprehended duty, I attended cific name - "macrocarpon," which means

The reader may naturally think, that though ners has crept in, and is adopted by many and furnaces which depended upon them country has been followed by a constant succession of fires, which in dry weather are kindled by the sparks of the passing locomotives, and overrun these lands; while rarely is an attempt made to extinguish them; so John Churchman, in allusion to a meeting that they burn till the material is exhausted, the more public one in the assemblies of the be attended, says: "I thought the beauty people, be not dismayed at the prospect before and solemnity of the meeting were a little We saw several fires during our day's excurand thus render the land practically almost it first appears. valueless; for the soil will not yield crops that revenue-producing cranberry-bogs.

The White Cedar, Cupressus thyoides, grows mass, generally on the upper side of scales divisions were so narrow as to be almost make the change, to go into effect on the 1s which thicken and constitute the cone. In grass-like in their shape. the course of our walk we saw but little cedar swamp remaining.

for many years, said that this section of country furnished to the courts an unusual num-full of interest. ber of cases of violation of the law. This was owing to the fact that the openings for business employment were now so few, that the better class of the community went elsewhere to reside.

Much of the surface of the swamps and of the shallow bodies of water was covered with peat moss, Sphagnum, which is exceedingly abundant. As this dies away below, it concontain large cells filled with water which gives the plant its remarkable power of retaining moisture for a long time, and peculiarly as a packing material around the roots of livand were being slowly digested. The hairs in the region we traversed. when undisturbed, stand out straight from the leaf, but when an insect was captured, all those near were bent down over it like the elasping of the fingers of the human hand around an article held in it. We brought "Benjamin Cooper, Jeffrey Smedley, Clayton several specimens home with us, having taken Wistar and Charles Downing were appointed provement can be made in this respect, with the roots with them. They were placed in a to advise with the Superintendent and to asdish with water, and continued for days after-sist him in the selection of a suitable situation

a large section of the Jersey Pine barrens, the stem gradually unrolled the coil in which steps as may be expedient to insure a time

In the moss we found also many young stitution." pay for ordinary cultivation, and its power of pitcher plants, with leaves about an inch in producing timber was almost the only element length, and the cups just beginning to develop of value about it. We need not be surprised, at their extremity. These must have come following proposal, viz: "As the house ne therefore, at the readiness manifested by the from the seed of the previous year, for the the east end of the boys lane at Westtow owners to turn their neglected mill-ponds into seed vessels of this year's growth were yet unopened.

in the swamps. The wood though soft is been familiar with in former years, in Chester existing agreement with the farming cor durable, and highly valued. The trees grow county, Pa., as a common resident in moist mittee relative to the appropriation of the very closely together, and the foliage is pringrounds, where its white flowers, and large building for the use of the sick, whenever cipally confined to the tops. They are much smooth arrow-shaped leaves were conspicul may be needed for that purpose; it being all used for fencing, being cut off when sufficientions objects. But one who did not know the understood that the committee be accomme ly large, and a new growth allowed to take extremely variable nature of this plant, as to dated at the infirmary as heretofore. On con the place of the old. A good piece of cedar the shape of its leaves, would scarcely believe sideration these changes were approved, an swamp is regarded as quite valuable. The the specimens we found to belong to the same the clerk was directed to furnish the supe Cedar belongs to the same natural family as species. Instead of leaves six inches wide at intendent with a copy of this minute." the Pine, the Coniferae, or cone-bearing plants. the point where the lobes diverge, with each st mo. 18th, 1838. The farming commi In this division, the young embryo, from of the two receding lobes or projections at the tee informing that Jos. Bailey desired to b which the seed develops, is not enclosed in a base of the arrow, of at least half that width; released at an early period from the care covering as is the case with all other plants the greatest width of our leaves was less than the farm, and that Hughes Bell was willing that bear flowers, but is formed as a naked an inch, and the long back-ward pointing to take his place, they were authorized t

The examination of the air-bladders on the sub-aqueous stems of the Utricularia which tions and improvements in the boys' collect Meeting with one of the people who live in we gathered, failed to reveal any of those ing-room, grounds, &c., report they have near that section, we entered into conversation, minute animals which have been found in ly completed the proposed improvements and were rather curious to know how he them by other observers. This may have "By removing the partitions of the entry and managed to make a living and support his been owing to a want of power in the micro-school-rooms on the first floor at the east end family. He had been much of the day pick-ing the upland huckleberries which are found different season of the year, or to a difference 55 feet, capable of accommodating with com in the pines,—of which he had collected per- in habit of different species. But these blad- fort 120 boys. New black walnut desks were haps a quart. We found that in winter his ders, under the microscope, were very beau-business was burning charcoal. He was a tiful objects, presenting an elegant tissue of the comfort of the boys, and be likely to pro-good-natured fellow, and voluntarily went network, with a central bubble of air, which mote habits of order and neatness. The with us some distance to show us a path the plant must have the power of secreting amount expended for these improvements through the woods leading towards Brown's The drop of water which contained the por- being $668.39—besides $139.80 for the board Mills. Though he asked no reward, yet his tion of utricularia under examination, fur of the workman- of which $675 has been free-will service was at least as profitable to nished also some interesting objects belong contributed by Friends interested in the welhim as his huckleberry gathering. One of ing to the lower forms of vegetable life. But fare of the school, and it is expected that most our company, who had held a judicial position the manner of growth of these is too extendof the balance will be procured from similar sive a field to enter upon at this time, though sources.' 'The basement story has been fitted have been found in the white sand region of at the east end has been enlarged and inclosed New Jersey, both belonging to the same na- with a good fence, the ground neatly laid out tural division of the ferns, and the only re- and sodded, or sown with grass-seed, and a Northern United States. One of these, the the advance of spring shall have clothed it Schizea pusilla, it was stated some years since, with verdure, it will present a pleasing aspect had been discovered in but three localities; I in approaching the Seminary. The playthink, Newfoundland, Quaker Bridge in New ground under the shed north of the yard has tinues to grow at the summit. The leaves Jersey, and the Falkland Islands. It is a been paved with brick, which is found to obvery slender inconspienous plant. The sterile viate the disadvantage experienced from the fronds or leaves are only about an inch in mud and dirt in wet weather." height, resembling narrow grass leaves; and fits it for the use to which it is largely applied, the fertile frond is a thread-like stem, 3 or 4 Cooper, Thos. Evans and others. inches high, with a minute cluster of fruit ing plants sent out by nurserymen. Among about one fourth of an inch long. The simil on the boys side was proposed, "with a view this moss grew in abundance the different larity of the soil at Brown's Mills to the white of opening a primary or elementary school species of Sun-Dew, Drosera. Of these, the sand at Quaker Bridge, renders it not impro- which seems to be required to prepare many Thread-leaved, D. filiformis was the most bable that this delicate little fern will yet be vigorous in growth, and many of the speci-discovered by sharper eyes than ours-esmens were studded with small insects which pecially as the kindred species, Lygodium to, and the committee on teachers desired to had been entrapped by its glandular hairs, palmatum, or climbing fern, is known to grow

For "The Friend," Westtown Boarding School.

At a stated meeting held 9th mo. 6th, 1837, wards to unfold in succession pink flowers, as for a new orchard, and to take such other girls' grounds.

succession of good fruit for the use of the 11th mo. 21st. Special meeting called, the request of several Friends, to consider t has become vacant, it is proposed that Cyr Mendenhall remove into it, and that Jam The Arrow-head, Sagittaria variabilis, I had Emlen occupy the infirmary, subject to tl of 4th mo, next. 4th mo. 5th, 1838. The committee on altera up for a wash-room for the boys, and fur-We had hoped to meet with two ferns which nished with a stove, boilers,' &c. The yard presentatives of that division found in the number of trees and shrubs set out, and when

Signed on behalf of the committee by Benj.

The appointment of an additional teacher of the pupils for the studies of the regular nominate at a future meeting, a suitable person for this department.'

"As much danger and inconvenience attend the present mode of warming the house and cooking, the following friends were appointed to give the subject careful consideration, and report to our next stated meeting what im-

^{*} Some of the apple trees yet remain, north of the estimate of the expense of the proposed lange, viz : Philip Garrett, Thos. Evans and re others.

imber, were appointed to examine and settle e accounts of the school for the past year, mother whose memory was so dear to him to d to prepare an essay of a report to the the last.

There ised by the Yearly Meeting has been nearly (now merged into Scribner's Monthly:) I paid, but owing to the unusually high ices of provisions, and the cost of introducg a supply of wholesome water for the use the school, the expense of conducting the stitution has much exceeded the income for e last two years, leaving a deficiency in the nd raised for defraying in part the expense educating the children of Friends in straited circumstances of $1430.78, and in other nds of $2482.21, amounting to nearly $4000, most of which interest is allowed by the hool.

"As it is evident that the present charge r board and tuition is considerably below e actual cost to the institution, the comittee is united in recommending to the early Meeting that the price be raised to 0 per annum," &c.

While it is very desirable that the price of ard and tuition should be kept so low as be within the reach of Friends generally, l performance of the trust reposed in them, endeavor to improve and extend the course instruction as far as it can be done consisttly with the design of the Yearly Meeting the establishment of this valuable instituon, and it is hoped Friends will cherish it th a spirit of liberality commensurate with e important benefits it is calculated to conon the youth of our Society. at, while it is conducted with reference to e religious concern in which it originated, e Divine blessing will continue to attend r efforts for the advancement of so good a ork.

Selected.

THE TWO GATES.

A pilgrim once (so runs an ancient tale), Old, worn, and spent, crept down a shadowed vale! On either hand rose mountains bleak and high, Chill was the gusty air, and dark the sky, The path was rugged and his feet were bare; His faded cheek was seamed by pain and care; His heavy eyes upon the ground were east, And every step seemed feebler than the last.

The valley ended where a naked rock Rose sheer from earth to heaven, as if to mock The pilgrim who had crept that toilsome way; But while his dim and weary eyes essay To find an outlet, in the mountain side A ponderous, sculptured, brazen door he spied, And, tottering toward it with fast failing breath, Above the portal read, "The Gate of Death."

He could not stay his feet that led thereto It yielded to his touch, and passing through, It yielded to his touch, and passing through, the came into a world all bright and fair; Blue were the heavens, and balmy was the air; Blue were the blood of youth was in his veins, And he the blood of youth was in his veins, And he was clad in robes that held no stains of his long pilgrimage. A mazed, he turned: Behold! a golden door behind him burned in that fair sunlight; and his wondering eyes, Now lustreful and clear as those new skies, Free from the misse of age, of care, and strife, Above the portal read, "The Gate of Life."

—Harne--Harper's. "NOW I LAY ME DOWN TO SLEEP."

It is said of the late John Quiney Adams Enoch Lewis, Henry Cope and Thomas that he never went to bed without repeating this little prayer, the first taught him by the

There are two little poems descriptive of a pears that the sum of $10,000 agreed to be both. The first is from Putnam's Magazine, Golden head, so lowly bending; Little feet, so white and bare; Dewy eyes, half shut, half opened— Lisping out her evening prayer.

Well she knows when she is saying, "Now I lay me down to sleep, "Tis to God that she is praying, Praying Him her soul to keep.

Half asleep, and murmuring faintly, "If I should die before I wake Tiny fingers clasped so saintly—
"I pray the Lord my soul to take."

O the rapture, sweet, unbroken, Of the soul who wrote that prayer! Children's myriad voices floating Up to heaven, record it there.

If, of all that has been written, I could choose what might be mine, It should be that child's petition, Rising to the throne divine.

Where the other originally appeared we ments. e committee are persuaded that it comports do not know. It is called "The Unfinished

> "Now I lay—repeat it, darling"—
> "Lay me," lipsed the tiny lips
> Of my daughter, kneeling, bending O'er her folded finger-tips.

"Down to sleep"--"to sleep," she murmured, And the curly head bent low;
"I pray the Lord"—I gently added,
"You can say it all, I know."

"Pray the Lord"—the sound came faintly, Fainter still—"my soul to keep;" Then the tired head fairly nodded, And the child was fast asleep.

But the dewy eyes half opened When I clasped her to my breast, And the dear voice softly whispered, "Mamma, God knows all the rest."

-Lutheran Home Monthly.

A little girl was anxious to know how the Lord took the evil spirit out of one and put in the good spirit, and after an attempt at explanation, said she would "like to have the bad taken out of her, if it wouldn't hurt any. A great many older people would like to serve the Lord if there were no cross-bearing or self-denial in the way; but when there is anything that "hurts" they beg to be excused, regardless of the ten-fold deeper hurts and "wounds without a cause" in the way of sin.

in the eternal Spirit, which was before the Scriptures were given forth ; for if they have not his Spirit, they are none of his. Though they may have his light, them that hate it, yet they can never bring any into unity and fellowship in the Spirit except they be in it. -George Fox.

blessed Truth for themselves; reviving the tions of profound importance are agitating language, "Other sheep have I not of this the world, and warped and distorted concep-fold, them also will I bring, and there shall be one fold and one Shepherd .- H. Gibbons.

An Address, Issued by the Executive Committee of the Society for Home Culture, of Philadelphia, at the close of the Term 1881-82.

Another year in the existence of the Soeld on the 13th inst., a report was presented child saying this prayer, that are among the ciety for Home Culture is drawing to its close, om which the following is taken, viz: "It tenderest in our language, and we give them and as we take a comprehensive survey of the work accomplished under its auspicesour gains and our losses-we find encouragement from the fact that, although the whole number of pupils who have shared in its benefits is smaller than in any preceding year, most of the heads of departments bear testimony to a livelier interest on the part of the students and correspondents, and a consequent increase of thoroughness. This falling off in numbers has been probably owing to want of time on the part of some, and on the part of others to unfounded fear of the amount of intellectual effort expected.

Lest the objects of our Association may be misapprehended or its aims overestimated, we would say, that these have always been and continue to be simple and limited in their scope. They do not tend to stimulate unduly a mere love for science, nor do they seek to promote a knowledge of literature beyond that which may be reasonably looked for from persons of average culture and acquire-

The education of the mind and character less with sound economy than with a faith. Prayer," and is equally tender and beautiful: is so inseparably connected with our highest interests that we need to approach its consideration with a reverent feeling of responsibility and a desire that all our aims and methods may be shaped in accordance with the Divine will, and so promote and not frustrate his purposes.

In the education of children this responsibility rests with the instructors, but in the association which we have undertaken, in which all have reached a time for more mature thoughtfulness, it is a matter of mutual concernment. Those who offer their help should see that they hold out no inducements to absorb any time or attention which rightly belongs to family, social, or religious duties, and the inward retirement which is needed for the nourishment of the spiritual life. Those who avail themselves of the help should be governed by a single-hearted desire to improve the talent or talents committed to their keeping for the good of society. While enjoying with thankfulness the pleasure which it is intended we should receive from mental exercise and the acquiring of new knowledge, they should seek to have their spirits so subjected as to be freed from any unworthy ambition to excel or temptation to undue indulgence of their intellectual tastes

We have reason to be thankful for the None can be a minister of Christ Jesus but growing disposition to regard the acquisition of knowledge as subordinate to the cultivation of the powers of observation and reasoning, and also to recognize that the work of our school-days is only the beginning of that which must go on with our advancing years. The power of sound minds, trained in right habits of thinking, furnished with general knowledge sufficient for the formation of I am sometimes comforted in the belief that broad and clear views of truth, and informed there are a number meeting with us on First- and guided by a wisdom better than our own, days, not in membership, who are seeking the is greatly needed at the present day. Questions of truth and right are brought into con-flicts with each other which cannot be settled ready gained, or pursue somewhat further this Schizomycete is able to effect a cha views.

countable for the privilege of having been are still at their own disposal. The advance transformation of organic bodies, and the educated in a practical belief in immediate ment which is being made in every depart an operation hitherto unsuspected in the Divine guidance, and the duty of reverent ment of knowledge is rapid and great; and of any Bacteria.

silent waiting to receive it. While this in we feel that the younger members of the So. The bacterium of nitrification is but on duces a calmness of mind, an impartiality of ciety of Friends should not be greatly deficient a great number of the lower forms of feeling, and humility of spirit very helpful in their share of what has been thus added to now engaging the attention of scientific n to the judgment, we also find ourselves, if we the common stock. An acquaintance with which are, or ought to be, of immense interare faithful to our own principles, naturally what is really valuable as to the results of to the scientific pursuit of agriculture. freed, as we approach social or religious questions, from many prepossessions and con-ble, in order that they may fill worthily their Bacillus of Anthrax, and the study of the fusing considerations which have troubled places in the domestic and social circle, and ganisms, concerned in the changes wh the world. We need therefore, under a feel- aid in the discouragement of unprofitable occur during the souring of milk and ing of responsibility for this in the Divine subjects of conversation; and especially, that ripening of cheese, are kindred studies be sight, to seek for ourselves and our children, they may be able the more effectively to cope ing in a direct manner on the daily pract minds well informed and exercised in clear with various forms of error when presented of the farmer. The investigations into thinking; so that our judgments on the many to them. subjects which greatly affect the true welfare be, any more than cau the physical frame branch of the professing church. when deprived of proper nourishment, or kept undisciplined in thought, with little knowl-their behalf. edge of good and evil, and with no friend to counsel or to warn, may be led unawares into the wilds of scientific scepticism and materialism, or become enervated by the feverish sympathetic, wholesome stimulus to mental shown such remarkable development as in its all kinds of trees, including the maple, horse exercise, careful responsible guidance in the bearing on the art of agriculture. selection of books, and systematic training in clearness of apprehension, of thought and of suggest, twenty years ago, that the process so numerous in the city as to become a rea expression. Nor must it be imagined that of nitrification going on in soils and waters nuisance, and the sparrows are unable to rethe Society assumes the position of a task- might be due to the agency of an organism; press it on account of the long stinging hain master, that it sets up any standard of attain- but it was not until the last five years that with which it is protected. Among garder ment or any fixed requirement as to the researches conclusively showed that this is amount of work to be accomplished in a given time; this must vary with varying circum. This bacterium is present in all fertile surface collecting in numbers upon that plant, while stances. The sole desire of those engaged in soils, and under proper conditions is continul others remain comparatively free. Availing the work is to help the students to make the ally converting ammonia and nitrogenous or myself of this liking, I have this year fed most of their opportunities, and to increase ganic matter, which has passed the putrefac-these by offering the use of the lending library, tive stage, into nitrates. That nitrates are from the caterpillar to the moth. When fully free of charge.

days are ended, and yet would fain increase use of this nitrifying organism is thus ap- for a period varying from a few days to two

but by the presentation of higher and clearer certain branches of study in which they in a mineral substance, ammonia, causing have become especially interested, might thus oxidation into nitric acid, all other known We as a religious Society are highly ac-profitably occupy the periods of leisure which organized ferments being concerned in

The position which our religious Society is fungus of potato disease, point to the grow of the community may be intelligent; that meant to hold in the world cannot be ad relation between the kindred sciences of thus happily, they may be felt to be those of vanced or even retained if an unwarrantable ology and agriculture.—Nature. men and women who seek to know and degionarance is permitted among its members.

A Satt Mine Two Thousand Years Oldsire to do the will of Him whose purpose is While, therefore, holding firmly to those exmine has been found in the mountain ne to shape all things to the good of mankind alted views of Christian truth and practice Salzberg, Austria, which gives indications and his glory; and may also inspire confi- which are the rich inheritance received from having been occupied and abandoned at le dence as being founded on a full understand-our forefathers in Christian profession, we two thousand years ago. It contains a lar ing of the subjects, and have the influence cannot but feel that, if we would fully pre- and confused mass of timbers, which we which the power of clear expression gives. pare the rising generation for the work of used for support, and a number of mine. The human mind needs food and exercise their day, we must see to it that their minds, implements. The timbers were noteded a just as surely as the body; if it be denied as well as their hearts are being trained for sharpened, but were subject to an inundation these it can never develop into the instrument that wider field of usefulness which we believe and left in confused heaps. The implement of power and usefulness which it is meant to is opening before Friends as an important were mainly wooden shovels, axe-handles, & in inactivity. The effect of mental starva- mendable effort of our beloved younger mem coarse wool, the fibre of which is very eve tion will show itself differently in different bers towards improving the talents which and still in good preservation, and a tore natures; in one case, the sluggish mind will have been committed to them, yet conscious bound together with flax-fibre. The prob simply run to waste, occupying itself feebly of the dangers and temptations to which bilities are, that the ancient salt-miners we with trifles, with scarcely any appreciation they are continually exposed, our desires are overtaken by the flooding of the mine, of the faculties for which it is responsible. On still strong and deep to aid them, so far as mummified bodies have been discovered, als the other hand, active spirits, craving knowl the Society for Home Culture can, both ten- The find seems to have belonged to the pr edge, eager for mental employment, will be derly and wisely; and we thus enter upon a Roman times, as the axe-handles were ev too apt to seize upon any books which may new year craving that the Divine blessing dently used for bronze axes, specimens happen to be within reach, and, hasty and may rest upon them and upon our labors in which have been found upon the surface

> For "The Friend." Natural History, Science, &c.

Biology and Agriculture .- Recent advances atmosphere of sensational literature; while in our knowledge of the lowest forms of life (Orygia leucostigma) is one of those injurior in the large number of cases to which these have tended to bring into prominence, not insects the ravages of which might be entired extremes do not apply, there will result more only their relation to disease, but the ever prevented by sufficient care at the proper or less of lazy or careless habits of mind. To increasing importance of the part which they time. The caterpillar is prettily marked with all such, as well as to those who only need a play in our arts and industries. Probably in red, yellow, and white, and may at once b little assistance, the Society for Home Culture none of the industrial arts, save those con-recognized by the long dusky tufts of hair wishes to hold out a helping hand. The cerned with fermentation, commonly so-called, which project like horns in front, and which aims which it puts before itself are three: has the progress of this branch of biology appear to form a tail behind. It infests near the chief form from which most crops and grown, the caterpillar ceases eating and soon Many of our young friends, who with ripen-especially the cereals assimilate their nitrogen spins itself a small white silken cocoon, and ing years may secretly regret that their school is now admitted generally; the very great passes into the chrysalis state; here it remains too well-known coffee-leaf disease, and Among the relics, also, was a basket, made With a hearty sympathy in every com-untanned raw-hide, a piece of cloth woven the mountain. The relics are of a high orde the basket being superior even to some the were used in the early historic times .- Amer can Antiquarian.

The Tussock Moth.—The tussock mot chestnut, and apple, frequently preventing We believe that Pasteur was the first to the fruitage of the latter. This season it ay judge what the prospect for another year "The War-System of Europe" is an 8 page likely to bc.

Friends' Intelligencer.

eight of the lid is so adjusted that when a and then from sheer necessity the custom was heasant stands on the perch the lid is raised, abandoned." nd the bird can get at the food. The pheas- "The Crisis in Egypt," apparently issued Wood in Man and Beast.

THE FRIEND.

three weeks. The females usually emerge entitled, "Peace Conference Papers," and are their 80-ton guns right in view of the Tower the report of the proceedings, and the papers and Somerset House. That is the state of flight; indeed, these are merely scales retreat at a Conference on Peace held at Leeds Egypt now."

The sincere love we bear to the English entire the state of the papers and Somerset House. That is the state of the state of the sincere love we bear to the English entire the state of the sincere love we bear to the English. we had fully winged specimens which laid the anti-Christian nature and tendency of people leads us to mourn over every depars. In most cases, however, the mother war—the duty of Christians in relation to ture from Christian principle in its governes not leave the cocoon from which she has this monstrons evil—and the enormous evils, ment, being well assured, that in the righteons t emerged, but clinging to it with her feet, political, financial and moral which flow from judgments of God, retribution will follow in e deposits on the outside from one to two the military establishments of civilized nandred eggs; these are very minute, much tions. Among other points to which the ataller than a mustard-seed, and yellowish tention of the reader is called, is the strong color. When all are laid, she deposits upon the other tention of the reader is called, is the strong only a reproach but a curse to any people.

The coldinary of the tention of the reader is called, is the strong only a reproach but a curse to any people.

The coldinary is times of the reader is a reader in the strong of the strong o em from view if looked at from the outside, is a profession. The soldier in times of peace hough the eggs are distinctly visible uncan hope for little or no promotion, has little rneath. In a short time this froth hardens chance of financially bettering his condition, d becomes of a snowy whiteness, making no chance of booty, no opportunity of distine mass of eggs a conspicuous object, less guishing himself or illustrating the military an an inch in length and not a half inch ability whereof he may deem himself posond. At the present time there are prosessed. Peace, so full of blessings to the nably not one dozen trees in the city which tion at large, to him is idleness, and mere decay e free from the cocoons and eggs of the and frustration of his ambition. It is not oth, and window-sills, doorways, brick walls, reasonable that men highly trained, perfectly at board fences are lined with them wherdisciplined, conscious of vigor and ability and er a safe shelter is afforded. Probably continuing the safe shelter is afforded. ery foot of coping in the city will show pends largely on opportunities for distinguishem safely ensconced below. I have seen ing themselves, should do otherwise than tract issued by the Peace Society at London, The cocoons ought to be removed and and contains a mass of facts and arguments urned as fast as they are formed during the presented in a vigorous and concise style. It mmer, and the eggs at any time they are is an interesting and effective protest against en, summer or winter. - Graceanna Lewis, the military system-which as the Hungarian statesman, Francis Deak, remarked, "reminds Device of a Crow.—In places where pheasman where preserved, it is customary to give when men wore coats of mail, which in the nem their food in such a way that other birds supposed necessity of more effectual self-deunot get at it. This is done by placing it fence, they went on increasing in weight, a feeding-box, which is closed by a lid, until at last they became so crushingly heavy mmunicating by a lever with a perch. The as to weigh down their wearers altogether, nts soon learn the object of the perch, for, by the "Anti-aggression League," argues that then these boxes are first introduced, a few the armed intervention in Egyptian affairs Third-day, to organize a movement for the construction can be observed to meet at Junius, still, on the other construction of the lid. The by the British Government is inconsistent of a canal to connect Lake Superior with the waters of ird gets on the perch in order to reach them, and so exposes the stores of food in the box.

Such an arrangement is made at Mountque Beaconsfield from office; and that it is one of arric, Cupar, File; and one day a gentleman the unjustifiable intermeddlings in the inter-for support in the appeal to Congress, as watching the pheasants and their boxes nal business of other people of which English

There were 439 deaths in Philadelphia for the week vas watching the pheasants and their boxes nal business of other people of which English n the lawn just before the house, and saw a history furnishes so many disgraceful exam-row also watching them. Presently the ples. The author of this address endeavors row flew to one of the boxes, settled upon the perch and expected the box to open. The the Egyptian people, who though very poor, ind, however, being much lighter than a are subjected to an excessively high taxation, 19 of indammation of stomach and bowels, and 7 each of dibhiberia and typhoid fever. the nowever, being much lighter than a are subjected to an excessively nigh taxation, is a manufactor of measant, was unable to lift the lid in spite of one-half of the proceeds of which is sent out little than the spite of the country to pay foreign bond-holders empts it flew off to a tree where there was for money loaned at a high rate of interest to components of the country nother crow, and a grand jabbering ensued. a former Khedive, and mostly spent in exhe two crows then flew to the feeding-box, travagant ways which did not promote the oth settled on the perch, and their united welfare of the general population. He says: veight was sufficient to raise the lid.—J. G. "Imagine your own feelings, if you had to send every year some forty millions sterling out of the taxes of the country to pay Turkish or Arab or Chinese bond-holders; and then, having paid that regularly, that you had to keep a Turkish pasha and a Chinese mandarin some shape; that it is righteousness alone which exalts a nation; and that sin is not

UNITED STATES .- The Department of State, at Washington, has information of an anti-foreign insurrection in Corea, and that the situation there is regarded as critical. Until the return of the Monocacy, which has been ordered to Corea, the details cannot be definitely

The Choctaws in the Indian Territory are greatly excited because President Arthur signed the bill granting the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad the right of way through their nation.

The Cree Indians are reported to be much discon-tented at the inroads which the various projected rail-way lines will make into their hunting grounds, and threats are freely made against any surveyors who may begin operations on their reservation.

Word was received from Pine Ridge Agency, Dakota, em safety ensconced below. I have seen in the transfers, sound to the seen and the Agent from the christians of the agency by the first of Tenth month. A general council of chiefs, head men and Indians at the Agency, have sworn allegiance to the police. Dr. MacGillicuddy, on the 21st inst, telegraphed to Indian Commissioner Price that Red Cloud and the hostile Sioux, at the Pine Ridge Agency, are completely disconcerted; that Red Cloud is on parole, and that the chiefs and police are responsible for his

The Pan Handle coal miners went to work on the 21st inst., at the reduced rate. Their struggle with the operators lasted 4 months, and cost the defeated strikoperators muce 2g months, and cost to decided strikers about $550,000 in wages. The striking freight-handlers of the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroads, at a meeting on the night of the 21st, in Jersey City, denounced those who induced them to strike, renounced the Union "now and forever," and requested the Company to permit them to resume their work.

The Convention called to meet at Duluth, Min., on katchewan, and other large navigable rivers in British America, closed its labors by adopting resolutions call-ing on Congress for aid, and on the State Legislature ending 8th mo. 19th, as compared with 406 for the pre-vious week, and 400 for the corresponding week of last year. Of the whole number 209 were males and 230

Sales of middlings are reported at 13½ a 13½ cts. per lb. for uplands and New Orleans.

Petroleum.—Standard white, 6¾ cts. for export, and

cts, per gallon for home use.

Flour is quiet, but choice sound old wheats are firm. Unsound and sonr springs and new winter are weak, Sales of 2000 barrels, including sour, at $5.75 a $6; Minnesota extras, at $6.50 a $6.75 for clear, and at $7 a $7.50 for straight; Pennsylvania extra family at $5.15 at $3.50 for straight; Pennsylvania extra family at $5.37; western do. do. at $5.75 a $6.25, and patents at $7 a $8.75. Rye flour is dull at $3.50 a $3.75.

EIGHTH MONTH 26, 1882.

We have received from Friends in Great Britain several pamphlets and printed slips, which show that efforts are being used to pread, through the press, sound sentiments in war and other subjects. Four of these are ferent yards at 4 a 8 cts. per pound, as to condition.

Sheep were without essential change: 14,000 head sold at the different yards at $2\frac{3}{4}$ a $5\frac{3}{4}$ cts., and lambs at 3 a 7½ cts. per pound, as to quality. Hogs were firmly held: 3200 head sold at the different yards at 11½ at 12½ cts. per lb., as to quality.

Foreign.—In Dublin on the 16th inst., E. Dwyer Gray, Member of Parliament and proprietor of the Freeman's Journal, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of £500 for contempt of Court, in publishing a letter of O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, accusing the jury which convicted Fran-cis Hynes of the murder of John Dolonghty, of being drunk on the night previous to the day their verdict was given, and an article commenting thereon. O'Brien and Davitt were put out of Court E. D. Gray, after being sentenced, was handed over to the custody of the take charge of him, but Judge Lawson called upon him to do his duty. The Coroner, whose intervention was necessary, because Gray is High Sheriff of the city of Dublin, then conveyed the prisoner to the Richmond prison. Gray, at the expiration of his term, must find spreties—himself for £5000, and two others in £2000

sensation. The prisoner was Lord Mayor of Dublin for 1880, and was nominated a second time for 1881, but

The decision of the Court has caused a great declined to serve the office. Judge Lawson refused to adjourn the case to allow Gray to be represented by counsel. Subscriptions are flowing in towards the fund for the payment of the fine. The list is headed by the names of Catholic Bishops. The Corporation of Dublin has passed a resolution of sympathy with Gray. The resolution describes Gray's imprisonment as arbitrary and oppressive, and expresses the opinion that proceed-ings for contempt should be regulated by statute. The Conservative members of the Corporation were absent from the meeting which passed the resolution.

Thirteen suspects, who were arrested under the Coercion act, have been released from Emiskillen prison.

A meeting of the Snez Canal Company was held at Paris on the 20th inst., at which resolutions were passed declaring that it is the duty of the company to uphold the claims already made in favor of the neutrality of the canal, and to oppose all warlike measures taken by England, acting in her assumed character as supporter of the Khedive. The resolutions state that the company's concession cannot be disturbed, even by the Sultan, and that the company reserves to itself the right to claim, before a competent tribunal, compensation from England eventually.

A despatch to the St. James' Gazette from Berlin says that the Germans who suffered loss by the bombardment of Alexandria have petitioned the German Govern-ment to claim compensation for their losses from England.

The Post understands that the Porte has countermanded the military preparations for the expedition to Egypt, and declines to accept the British conditions for a military convention.

A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Constantinople says the Porte refuses to permit the exportation from Turkey of mules for British service in Egypt. Lord Dufferin, the British Ambassador, states that this is a contravention of treaty rights, and has addressed a strong protest to the Porte, stating that Turkey will be held responsible for heavy damages.

General Sir Garnet Wolseley, the English com-mander, with the authority of the Khedive, has issued a proclamation to the people of Egypt, representing the sole object of the British to be to restore the authority of the Khedive. It says all peaceful inhabitants will be kindly treated, the mosques will be respected, and all supplies paid for. General Wolseley adds that he will be glad to receive all chiefs who are disposed to assist in repressing the rebellion.

London, 8th mo. 20th.—The Eastern Telegraph Com-Loodon, 8th mo. 20th.—The Eastern Telegraph ComJames S. Newbold, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Benjamin pany announces that Port Said was occupied at 3 (filtert, Agent, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; and for Joshou Cope, please give address, voleck this morning by the English forces. At 2.30 | Albert Cope, Mary M. Price and Dillon Gibbons, $2.10, vol. 56; from Bartam Kaighn, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; between the European and Arah quarters of the town, vol. 56; from Bartam Kaighn, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; Seventeen transports and five mene-of-war are at Port from Isaac Sharpless, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Vargaret County, Pa., $2.80, vol. 56; from Eagles Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Caleb Wood, Wolseley are both here. This morning Ismailia was City, $2, vol. 56; from William Picket, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Vargaret Collidations also occupied by the British, and the rebel troops were 56; from Edward Sharpless, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Vargaret Collidations and Scale Collidations and the self-state of the Collidation of Friends.

sagnac made a speech, in which he declared that the Imperialists were ready for power and meant to take it. The correspondent of the London Standard at Madrid says the spirit of the peasantry is becoming strongly socialistic in the provinces noted since the revolution of 1868 for the republican inclination of their large towns. The press says the state of affairs in Andalusia is serious, and requires prompt remedy. All the relief doled out by the Government in Andalusia, Estremadura, Galicia, Aragon and Catalonia has proved unavailing. Several acts of brigandage have occurred near Granada.

The correspondent of the Standard at Vienna tele graphs that the situation in Romania is becoming very disquieting. The Russians have, apparently, comenced their old intrigues. Russian officers are frequently found on the Lower Danube studying the passages of the river and noting the Roumanian garri-sons. Moldavia and the Dobrudscha are the chief headquarters of the Russian intrigue.

Despatches from Pietermaritzburg report that small pox is rapidly spreading in Cape Town. The Malay population resist isolation and treatment. The mortality is great.

The Jesuits of Quebec are agitating, as a matter of justice, for the restitution to them of all their property confiscated during the reign of Henry IV., of France.

RECEIPTS

Received from Joshua T. Ballinger, Agent, for Susan B. Doan, Edward H. Hall, Rachel E. Woodward, Elizabeth M. Worth, and Lydia Yearsley, Pa., Mary E. Hall, O., and Mary H. Hambleton, Io., $2.10 each, vol. James Maulsby, Agent, Ind., for Isaiah George, $2.10, to No. 27, vol. 56, and for Amos Whitson, Sarah Mills and Esther Mills, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from William J. and Esther Mills, S2.10 each, Vol. 59; from William J. Jenks, City, S2, Vol. 56; from Sarah Hoopes, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for John Hoopes, $2.10, vol. 55; from John Alkins, Pa., $2.10, vol. 50, and for Levi Alkins, $2.10, vol. 56; from Julianna N. Powell and Esther A. Haines, N. J., per Samuel Haines, $2.10 each, vol. 56; for Lydia Thompson, fo., and Emma Williams, Pa. $2.10 each, vol. 56; from John Letchworth, N. J. $2.10 vol. 56; for Elizabeth Mendenhall, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Mary L. Evans, W. Philada., $2.10 vol. 56; 56; from Mary L. Evans, W. Philada, §2.10 vol. 56; from George S. Garrett, Fa., 8.2.10 vol. 56; from Aron Mekeel, N. Y., for Sarab E. Haight, §2.10, vol. 56, and for Elizabeth Mekeel, §2.20, to No. 13, vol. 57; from John M. Sager, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Joshua Haight, Agent, N. Y., §2.10, vol. 56; and for Levi H. Atwater, H. S. Haight, and William Breckov, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Jacob Barrett, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jacob Roberts, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from George from William Kite, Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Thomas Kite, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Francis Bartley, Mich., $2.10, to No. 22, vol. 57; from Henry Wood, N. J. $2.10, vol. 56, and for George Wood and William C lyins, N. J., and Lewis Toft, Md., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Elizabeth Hunt, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Evans, University of the Computation City, $2, vol. 56; from William Berry, Gtn., $2.10, vol. Caty, S.Z. vol. 56; from William Berry, Gin., S.Z.I.0, vol. 56; from George Abbott, N. J., S.Z.10, vol. 56; from Prisella M. Lippincott, N. J., S.2.10, vol. 56; from Robort P. Lovett, Pa., S.Z.10, vol. 56, and for Elizabeth Satterthwaite, S.Z.10, vol. 56, and for Elizabeth Satterthwaite, S.Z.10, vol. 56; for Phebe Coutant, O., S.Z. 10, vol. 56; from Anna M. Warrington, Pa., S.Z.10, vol. 56, and for Curtis H. and T. Francis Warrington, S.Z.10 each, vol. 56; from R. B. Jones, Pa., S.Z.10, vol. 50; from R. B. Z.10, vol. 50; from R. B. Jones, Pa., S.Z.10, vol. 50; from R. B. Z.10, v 56; from Ezra Embree, Kansas, $2.10, vol. 56; from James S. Newbold, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Benjamin

new mixed at 70 a 71 cts., and new rejected at 70 a 72 cents. Old whites are nominal at 77 a 80 cts.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 8th mo. 19th, 1832.— Loads of hay, 346; loads of straw, 44. Average price during the week—Prime timothy, 90 cts. her to S1 per 100 pounds; mixed, 80 cts. per 100 pounds; mixed, 80 cts. per 100 pounds; straw, 60 to 70 cts. per 100 pounds; mixed, 80 cts. per 100 po vol. 56, and for Charles Cooper, Lettice Thompson, at vol. 56, and for Charles Cooper, Lettice Thompson, at Thomas B. Hoopes, 82.10 each, vol. 56; from Jam J. Lord and Lewis Stokes, N. J., per George P. Stoke 82.10 each, vol. 56; from Thomas M. Hurvey, Agen Pa, $2.10, vol. 56; and for Clarkson Moore, Harve Murray, Rebecca S. Conard, Sen., Zebede Haine Samuel Hoopes, George T. Satterthwatte, William Wickersham, Thomas H. Whitson and Lewis Forsyth Wickersham, Thomas H. Whitson and Lewis Forsyths Pa, and Sartah B. Chambers, Del, S.2.10, each, vol. 56, from Eooch S. Zelley, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Wil-lian C. Buzby, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Samuel F. Wilkins, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Mary M. Wilkins $2.10, vol. 56; from William C. Allen, City, $2, vol. 56 from Ann Bargess, Pa, $2.10, vol. 56; from Cerge I. Smedley, Pa, $2.10, vol. 56; from Charles Darnell Vol. 50; vol. 56; from Larry Ann Balwin, Pa $2.20, vol. 56; from Larry Ann Balwin, Pa $2.20, vol. 56; from S.2.10, vol. 56; from Larry and Palwin, Pa $2.20, vol. 56; from S.2.10, vol. 56; from Larry Ann Balwin, Pa $2.20, vol. 56; from S.2.10, vol. 56; from Larry Ann Balwin, Pa from M. Hodgson, Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jame Dennis, R. I., $2.10, vol. 56; from Martha T. Cox. Gtn. $2.10, vol. 56; from George Blackburn, Agent, O. $2.10, vol. 56, and for Theophilus Morlan, Josiah Faw cett, Catharine W. Darlington, Richard B. Fawcett Stacy Cook, William Fisher, Aaron Stratton, Thoma Y. French, Mark Bonsall, Barzillai French, John French, Sarah A. Cope, John M. Stratton, Sarah L. Stanley, Ann Fawcett, Robert Miller, Amelia Maerkt Staniey, Ann Fawcett, Robert Miller, Amelia Maerkt Jonathan Blackburn, Charles Gamble, Mary French, and Edward Bonsall, $2.10 each, vol. 56, and for Samnel Street, $2.10, to 0.27, vol. 57; from William Carpenter, Agent, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Rebecca Wistar, Lettia Reeve, Ann D. Sinnickson, Josiah Wistar, John Wistar, Samuel P. Carpenter and Achsad Wistar, John Wistar, Samuel P. Carpenter and Achsad Wistar, John Wistar, Samuel F. Carpenter and Access. S. Reeve, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Mark Ballinger, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Richard Buzhy, N. J., $2.0, vol. 56; from Martin B. Holloway and John Vail, Io., vol. 50; from Martin E. Holloway and John Vail, 10, per Benjamin Vail, 82.10 each, vol. 56; from George W. Sheppard, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sarah H. Dutton, Fkfd., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Archut, City, $2, vol. 56; from Walker Moore, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Andrew Moore, $2.10, vol. 56; from Joshua T. Ballinger, Agent, for Isaac Evans, Jr., Charles B. Sheppard, Sarah A. Harry, Susanna F. Sharpless, Wil-Sheppard, Sarah A. Harry, Susanna F. Sharpless, Wil-liam P. Townsend, and George B. Mellor, Pa., Thomas Sharpless, Colorado, William T. Sharpless, W. Phila, and Thomas Thorp, Del., §2.10 each, vol. 56, and for Aon Sharpless, W. Town, §2, vol. 56; from Eather L. Jackson, Pa., §2.21, vol. 56; from Martha Evens, N. J., §2.10, vol. 56; from Henry R. Woodward, N. J., §2.10, vol. 56; from Mary B. Clement, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; vol. 56; from Mary B. Clemen, N. J., $2.10, vol. 50; from Charles H. Sboemaker, Ind., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jane De Cou, N. J., $2,10, vol. 56. We have received $2.10 from Westfield, Ind., with no name attached. Remittances received after Fourth-day morning will not appear in the Receipts until the following week.

MOORESTOWN ACADEMY.

This institution, under care of Chester Monthly Meeting of Friends, offers good opportunities for the instruction of youth, from 7 years upwards, under teachers of good attainments and qualifications, and subjected to moral and religious influences. Boarding may be obtained at reasonable rates, Opens Ninth mo. 4th. Circulars and full informa-tion may be had from SETH WARRINGTON, Moorestown, Burlington Co., N. J., or WM. EVANS, 252 South Front St., Philadelphia.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS, PARENTS AND OTHERS.

The Yearly Meeting's Committee on Education have blaced a book at Friends' Book Store, No. 304 Arch St., Philadelphia, where applications from teachers wishing situations, and committees who desire to employ teachers among Friends, may be recorded.

Please give address, and full particulars.

ELLISTON P. MORRIS, Clerk.

DIED, at his residence in Edgemont township, Delaware county, Pa., Second month 16th, 1882, MENDENHALL, in the 89th year of his age, an esteemed member of Middletown Preparative and Chester Month-

FRIEND. THR

LITERARY JOURNAL. A RELIGIOUS AND

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, NINTH MONTH 2, 1882.

NO. 4.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

ice, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

oscriptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, T NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

Wanderings South and East. (Continued from page 18.) SOLOMON ISLANDS.

The Solomon Archipelago extends N. W. maments, but wear little or no clothing. esign.

At some points the natives have been utrly ruined by traders and whalers. oate says: "It is the old story; in Japan, China, in Africa, in the Sandwich Islands, here you will, the white man seems for a ong time only to change the vices of the naves. If he suppresses cannibalism he introne of a kind.

lood-thirsty of any known savages."

beir heads, and having a most formidable charmed will redeem the lost fragment at as solidity of the whole structure is most reppearance. There was no turning back high a figure as he can afford. A piece of markable, and I suppose at a pinch nearly all tow, however, so we pulled on until the boat betel nnt was, at a feast on a neighbouring to inhabitants of the village might find grounded, and then jumped into the water island, carried away by a guest a few weeks refuge here. At either end of this honse are repeating the chief's name, and so we waited though the man with the piece of betel nut These men were evidently strangers, and did across to him, and redeemed the fragment not know quite what attitude to assume. for forty dog's teeth, which is an equivalent They made no actually hostile demonstra- for four thousand cocoa-nuts!" tion, but holding themselves aloof, shouted "The curse of the northern Solomon Isvociferously and seemed to be ready for any-thing that might turn up. There were no ing. The more savage tribes make collecwomen and children near, and this littlearmy tions of heads with which to adorn their was far more elaborately equipped than is houses, and are as assiduous in their search usual in ordinary times. Their ornaments for these articles of vertu as any collector in in some cases were most beautiful, one or two Europe is for old china. The mere acquisi-men wearing wide sashes, one might almost tion of such old heads among their own peocall them, of native bead-work, fringed with ple as may turn up in the natural course of d S. E. for the space of 200 leagues. It is human teeth. The more elaborate of these things, does not satisfy these zealous hunters. mposed of eight or ten principal islands, were worn over the right shoulder, and round They go far afield for their highly-prized ornand many others less considerable. Their under the left arm. The colours were, as ments, and organize extensive expeditions, uees drunkenness. If he improves the laws toms at these feasts are very curious. No ing along their branches.

and waded ashore. At first no one seemed previous to our visit. The chief fell ill, and to know us, nor could the bishop remember imagined something was wrong; at length any face amongst the wild crowd, but he kept he discovered what had taken place, and, alfor some time, hoping for a friendly face, was living far away, upon another island, sent eneral structure is that of a long chain of always in native workmanship, quiet and rich is weeping down on weaker tribes and carry-fity mountains. The people are fond of in tone and harmoniously arranged. ing off all they can seize. The southern end "After a rather awkward delay of twenty of the island of Ysabel is a favorite huntingheir canoes are exquisitely graceful, made minutes or so, during which we laughed and ground for the more northern tribes, who bent planks of wood and cemented with a talked amongst ourselves, and endeavored to come down in great force, bringing large nd of gum. The work expended on some appear quite at our ease, a merry old fellow canoes full of warriors from the islands of the more magnificent ones was quite sur-arrived, who turned out to be the chief whom Choiseul and New Georgia. The more peaceising, in some cases there being many the bishop had seen on his former visit. This ful southerners make no attempt at resistance, ousands of pieces of pearl shell, all carefully man spoke a few words to the crowd, evidently but have built themselves strongholds into aped and let in in accordance with a quaint assuring them that he knew who we were, which they retire, and, if possible, defy their after which they were willing to trade in enemies. These places of refuge are of two bows and arrows and spears and ornaments." kinds—tree-houses and bill-fortifications. The "We also made out with some difficulty tree-houses possess the greatest interest, and that the assembling of these armed ruffians in some parts of the island are quite numerwas on account of a feast to be given that one and even used as ordinary places of resinight at the village; natives from far and dence in times of peace. The people attain wide had been asked, and were coming in all almost the agility of monkeys by continually day long from the neighbourhood. The cus-climbing up and down these trees and walk-

f humanity he makes more lax those of part of the food provided, for instance, is At the village near which we first an-orality. I often feel that the difference be-"At the village near which we first anween his wickedness and our wickedness is the contrary, brings such provisions as are ne- was good of its kind. The tree in which it eessary for his own use during his stay, and was built was a magnificent one growing They met with somewhat of an adventure takes his share of the feast away with him upon the cliff by the shore; all the lower then landing at a point on one of the Solo- when he goes. Our idea of 'eat what you branches were cleared away, and its pecunon Islands, where the natives have the repu-can, but pocket none, is exactly reversed, liar appearance made it most conspicuous ation of being "the most treacherons and and 'pocket what you can, but eat none,' is amongst the surrounding palms and smaller lood-thirsty of any known savages."

and 'pocket what you can, but eat none,' is amongst the surrounding palms and smaller the Solomon Island practice. This custom growth. There was a cleared space around "We went ashore at Palulaä one morning, is necessitated by the 'taboo' laws, which the foot of this giant, and from the branches colling into a small estuary round which are so severe in this group that at a public hung a slender rattan cane ladder. The asnangroves were growing in great quantities, feast it would be almost impossible to avoid cent is certainly not a very enjoyable affair, When we arrived at the mouth of the little some infringement of these complicated regn-the ladder seems of the very weakest, and iver itself we were somewhat surprised lations; the difficulty is therefore avoided by swings about unpleasantly; the rounds, the food being taken away and eaten at home, moreover, are merely bits of stick lashed on the vere a great number of natives on the shore. Without attempting any entrance upon so the cane rope, and afford practically no wide a field as the question of tabooing, I foothold to the boated European. On reacher a stress were all men and all armed with an available to the coat of complications that here have a prevised to find a large natives were all men, and all armed with an may illustrate the sort of complications that ing the top I was surprised to find a large musual number of long spears and bows and arise when the food is eaten on the spot by a well-built house, quite level, and fixed in unusual number of long spears and nows and arise when the lood is eaten on the spot by a web-fill most, and have the area of the branches with the greatest inge-take place, but what we could not tell. They lid not shout or show us any welcome; they the food, he is enabled thereby to exercise a currulously clean. It is twenty-six feet to the food, he is enabled thereby to exercise a long by eighteen wide, and the ridge pole is mysterious influence over the giver of the long spears standing up far above the considering himself thus the feet from the floor. The strength and the ridge pole is the pole of the pole o pleasant balconics, one of which seemed literally to overhang the sea which lay more than a hundred feet beneath. The height of the house from the ground is between seventy and eighty feet. Arrayed along the sides are numbers of small heaps of stones for defensive purposes. When a raid by the head-hunters is reported, the people all retire to this curious fortress, and drawing the thin ladder up after them can defy their enepelt them with stones from above, and unless say these tree-fortresses were quite impregnable. Other fortresses there are upon this island, as I have said, and these are but little less curious; they are perched upon bold rocky peaks, and the approaches are in some cases cut off by the construction of large dykes or fosses, upon which a most surprising paring for service in the Lord's army." amount of labor must at one time have been expended."

The European colonists who have settled in Queensland, Fiji, New Caledonia and other develop the immense tracts of fertile lands three years, and enforces the payment of the same, What more could have been done than source of great oppression and ill-feeling. Unprincipled commanders of vessels engaged honest labor of Friends herein was not appre-in us, which sees it to be so; but unless we in this business visit the different islands, and clated nor regarded; one official minute of diligent in spirit to have this sight renew. often either kidnap by force, or earry off London Yearly Meeting (see "Brief Narra and this vision of life repeatedly impress under delusive pretences, the natives to the tive," &c., pp. 23, 24) closing the correspond-labor-marts. This leads to reprisals by the ence on this important subject with that body. friends of those who are thus taken away, guish between the innocent and guilty; and mental doctrines and testimonies of this retake their revenge on the first foreign party ligious organization. that comes into their power. Of this traffic W. Coote says: "The labor trade is in a now, unite with these adulterated views and bad state everywhere, whether under French principles; hence her apparent isolation. But flag or English, and what is said here on this because of this has she ceased to exert any flag or English, and what is said here on this because of this das one tested of the said here and women in our rengious so subject applies equally to all the colonies to influence as some have predicted? Was the which natives are taken. For my own part, influence of Noah wholly lost when, as dispersed that we, as a civilized nation, have rected, he took to the ark for safety? Was sufficiently humbled themselves under by influence of Noah wholly lost when, as dispersed to the safety of the safety? Was sufficiently humbled themselves under by influence of Noah wholly lost when and women in our rengious so subject applies equally to all the colonies to influence as some have predicted? Was the civity. I have thought the defect has been and women in our rengious so subject applies equally to all the colonies to influence as some have predicted? Was the civity. I have thought the defect has been and women in our rengious so subject applies equally to all the colonies to influence as some have predicted? Was the civity. I have thought the defect has been and women in our rengious so subject applies equally to all the colonies to influence as some have predicted? Was the civity of the civity o no right to hire native men until we have the influence of Mordecai rendered nugatory hand, nor gone down the number of time first made them clearly understand what our in the eyes of the Omniscient by his sitting appointed them to wash in Jordan, so the first made them clearly understand what our in the cyes of the Omniscient by his sitting appointed them to wash in Jordan, so the terms of engagement are. At present the at the king's gate clothed in sackcloth—so come not up sufficiently cleansed, they are labor trade is merely a disguised slave trade. The much to the disturbance of proud Haman in some degree, but not altogether clear labor trade is merely a disguised stave trade, much to the distinguishment of production in some degree, but not altogether clear It is said the islanders are paid. Yes, but Was the constancy of the captive Jews of no there still remains some of the old disorde what does the pay amount to? Even if avail at least with Him who seeth in secret, to be seen, their flesh is not that of little chil the "trade" given as wages were honest when they hung their harps upon the willows, dren, of whom it is said, 'Of such is the king stuff, it would be no payment to them. They and wept when they remembered Zion? Was dom of heaven, and to whom the mysterie give it all away as soon as they land at their the influence of the prophet Jeremiah abro- of the kingdom are revealed.

I believe to be distinctly wrong as at pre- early Friends lost upon those among whom and we have half-baked cakes; but spirits sent carried out, and very probably wrong however it were to be carried out, for we cerated in filthy dungeons for a faithful ad times, and so purified, we want in the house however it were to be carried out, for we take the strongest men away from their herence to what they believed to be their these are take the best period of their lives, and duty? We believe but one answer can be active members in our religious Society will

(To be concluded)

For "The Friend," Desultory Selections and Pencillings.

THOUGHTS RESPECTING PHILADELPHIA YEARLY MEETING

To such as are disposed to criticise or to censure what they call the anomalous situation of this body, we would respectfully solicit an attentive perusal of "A Brief Narrative in Relation to the Position of Philadelphia abide in the tent. Like Joseph in Eg Yearly Meeting," issued by its Representative who was also separated from his breth mies. If the invaders come near to try and Yearly Meeting," issued by its Representative cut down the tree (no light work, for the Meeting in 1872. This sets forth the conditrunk is hard as iron), the beseiged party tion alluded to as having been brought about hated;" but at the same time Philadeli through "the natural outgrowth of seminal the enemy were armed with rifles I should principles, speciously presented and associated with much that is true, but tending to lead away from the spirituality of the Christian religion, as professed by Friends, and to substitute something else for submission to the revelations of the Light of Christ in the heart, as a means for perfecting salvation, and pre-

It should not be forgotten that Philadelphia bore an early and unequivocal Christian testimony against the novel views and practices now so prevalent, pleading again and places in the South Pacific, need laborers to again in reference to them with another coordinate body within whose limits they oriwhich have come into their possession. This ginated, and setting forth whereunto they which have come into their possession. This structure will be a surely lead, if not promptly met tation, which shall come upon all the wor these points and the South Sea Islands. Surely lead against. With respect to this to try them that dwell upon the earth." Though this is now under government regu- brotherly labor and faithfulness, it may be lation, which limits the term of service to queried upon an impartial retrospect of the wages agreed upon, yet it has been and is a was done to stay the threatening wave of innovation? The sequel has proved, that the

The modified faith and altered practices and has been the primary cause of many of warned and pleaded against while in the the murderous assaults which have been blossom, ripened in their season unto the made on vessels and boats' crews of latter bitter but legitimate fruits now so wide spread, will be ready to dazzle our view, and bind years; for the natives cannot in general distinant, and, when adopted, so fatal to the funda-us from seeing the intrinsic beauty and com

Philadelphia could not then, neither can it give it all away as soon as they land at their the indicate to the propose of the surgician and the control of the kingdom are revealed.

"We want sanctified spirits amongst us certain popular measures, he was thrown into we have some in the whole labor trade system, therefore, prison? Or was the salutary influence of our colorably skilled in handling the outward lay. upon a tempestuous main!

True, Philadelphia has been much spren against, and her holding-back course or "m. spiracy of silence," condemned, because in deavoring to heed the "cautionary sign which abound; and heeding too, we hopele fore all, the pillar of cloud and of fire-tyles to us of the only safe guidance of the S in of Christ-which in the case of Israel poi ed out respectively their duty to journey of "the archers have sorely grieved, shot at, with her sister Ohio are Yearly Meetings t almost alone, have early and continuou pleaded for, and sought to uphold the preci doctrines and testimonies of this religi Society-believed to be primitive Christian revived.

While profoundly assured that it hath no ing whereof to boast, nothing to glory in s its manifold infirmities, it is nevertheless ea estly desired that, "He that is holy, He t is true, He that hath the key of David," in his own time, in undeserved mercy ope door for Philadelphia which no man shut; and verify his ancient promise: " cause thou hast kept the word of my patien

RELIGION-THE VISITED OF THE LORD.

"There is nothing appertaining to m more noble and glorious, than the cause on our understanding, in our frail state, t things that are present will be apt to opera more forcibly upon our nature, than the thin which are to come. The splendor of the pondered why the visitation and call of L vine condescension should be so universa and yet that there should be so slender succession, in this generation, of serviceab

they were set as a light by their being incartified as gold is tried, refined, baptized sever as a rule we return them again demoralized given to these interrogatories. And surely have enough to do in their several departand diseased, so that the whole social organi- it is far better, like ships at sea, to "lie to" in ments; the harvest is great, the field of labor and diseased, so that the whole social organication of the native tribes is corrupted, and seasons of peril and of danger, rather than their numerical strength most alarmingly run the risk of shipwreck by standing out everlasting; so that I rest in hope that many against adverse winds and threatening gales of our successors of the present generation, will not give their strength entirely to the eir forefathers, and nobly aspire after those secret things would be left to the Lord. etters of Richard Shackleton.

e pangs of him who has reason to believe years of age. at his child has not only lost an eternity of ory, but incurred an eternity of misery, rough the carelessness of that parent, who ey do not believe in it practically, person- ligious experience. ly, influentially,"-Hannah More.

THE SECRET OPERATION OF DIVINE GRACE IN THE SOUL.

sperienced, termed in scripture a new birth, new spiritual creation, through the secret peration of Divine grace in the soul. My easure of experience disposes me to feel nderly for those in whom this work is beun, because I am aware that it must be arried forward through humiliations, close rovings, and searchings of heart. Nature as her strongholds; but we must not be disther power, and can complete as well as bein that which is our sanctification. I know criptures; this is no new thing; our prayers oo may seem unavailing, and clouds of thick arkness may appear to envelope us; but we al evidence manifested in the soul. O! how nlargement of spiritual understanding. Mar-salvation.

orld, either to the profits or pleasures of it; vellous are the Lord's dealings with his hum-teonsidering the excellency and dignity of bled, patient, and believing children. O! that following notice posted up in various places e cause, the short term of human life, and there was a believing heart in every child of e awfulness of the silent grave to which we man; there would be no need to puzzle and on a date some ten or twelve days in advance, isten, will enquire after the Lord God of bewilder the mind, in things too high for us; ings which make for their present and am set much as a solitary one, though in the ernal peace, the knowledge of the Truth, bosom of kind friends. Shall I be presumptud the promotion of it among men."-From ous if I record, with feelings of great seriousness, that my prevailing exercise in this my ildren, can put in competition a temporary of godly simplicity among the Quakers, so-dulgence, which may foster one cyil temper, called. I am one of those who mark the fasten one bad habit, with the eternal wel-boasted. March of intellect with a jealous re of that child's soul-a soul of such incon- fear. The refinements of our day seem, in my evable worth, whether we consider its na- view, to draw the mind from under the cross n by his own rash negligence, or false in if faithful, we should be; we are too generally algence, risk the happiness of such a soul, intermingled with the manners and maxims ot for a few days or years, but for a period of the times. Everlasting mercy can yet turn mpared with which the whole duration of and overturn, and settle a faithful people."me is but a point? What remorse can equal From Letters of Mary Capper when about 78

THE SCHOOL OF THE SAVIOUR.

"Only with the aid of God's blessed Spirit. signed his very fondness as a reason for his I had found out the way of the Lord. I knew eglect? Think of the state of such a father, what it meant. I knew that it was one way, hen he figures to himself the thousands and and not many ways. I had a personal, exns of thousands of glorified spirits that perimental acquaintance with the only path and before the throne, and his darling exthat led to communion with God. I had found n as of all others. Notwithstanding an in- watching and waiting for the food which its efinite, indistinct notion which men call Heavenly Father might see fit either to give

A TESTIMONY IN PHILADA. YEARLY MEETING. Mildred Radcliff once expressed herself in the Yearly Meeting of Philadelphia nearly as follows: "I had rather be an Indian-the atby nature, there must be a change of heart tention of the meeting was at the time directed to this people-than one of those in this highly favored city, who are neglecting their privileges, in that awfully approaching period that fast maketh haste.

pat we can scarcely read and understand the of the Ten Virgins and the Marriage Feast; said one to his neighbor. "No," with the feeble of the flock. I can bear my the gospel and the offers of redceming grace. do, and no one going in. estimony to his protecting power, the inter-Thinking over the matter, he fixed upon a It was nearly eleven e'clock, when an old where all his tenants could see it. It fixed and read as follows:

Mr. A--- will be present, with his steward, at his office in the village, between the hours of nine and twelve, on Tuesday after next, and will then and there freely pay all debts, to whomsoever due, latter day, is secret, wrestling prayer, oft on of any of his tenants who have not the means to the bended knees, in my quiet, secluded cham-discharge their obligations. To avail themselves of "I wonder how parents who love their ber. My spirit craves for more evident marks this offer, the applicants must each give an exact statement of the amount and nature of his debts, and to whom they are due, and they must also give a full statement of their own means, and of what property they have.

Very soon crowds were seen gathering re, its duration, or the price which was of Christ. According to my observation, we about the various placards through the vilud for its redemption! What parent, I say, are not the plain, unfashionable people that, lage and at the office; and curiosity and aslage and at the office; and curiosity and astonishment possessed them all. Every one was asking, "What does this mean?" But to one and all the steward had but one and the same answer, "This is Mr. A---'s offer, and the notice speaks for itself." Any further explanation he declined to give. He merely said he was directed to put up the notice by Mr. A--- himself, and that it meant just what it said.

The day appointed in the notice rapidly drew on, and the excitement among the tenants increased. Some, as they read the last clause of the notice, seemed to think it meant that they must give up all they had if uded |-excluded perhaps by his own ill it to consist, not only in the silencing of the they would claim the offered benefit. And dged fondness. Oh, my friends, disguise it outward man, but in the silencing also of as they were not insolvent, they concluded we may, and deceive ourselves as we will, every thought, and the concentration of the that they would not apply. Some looked ant of faith is as much at the bottom of this sonl and all its powers into a simple, quiet over their accounts, and made out the required statements, but thought they would wait and see how others might fare, intendith, they do not actually believe in this eter- or to withhold. In no case would it be sent ing, if the latter succeeded, then to present ty; they believe in it in a general way, but away empty."-From a reminiscence of re their own list of debts. Some, again, planned to keep back part of their assets; while others, influenced by argument or ridicule gave up all thought of the matter; and still others thought the idea was so strange and incredible that they did not deem it worth a moment's notice. "But there's his own offer, and he'll never go back on that," said a neighber: and so the discussion went on.

At last the day came; and the crowd of tenants and lookers-on gathered about the office. A little before the appointed hour Mr. -stepped from his carriage into the office, The Nobleman's Offer; or, the Door was Shut. and closed the door after him. Precisely at Our Saviour, when on earth, taught the 9 o'clock a step came from the inner room, most important truths by parables; and Bun- and the door was thrown wide open, so that yan, in his wondrous dream of the "Pilgrim's any one could enter. Men looked at each ouraged though the triumph of Grace be a Progress," has set forth some of the most other and waited, none being willing to be reat work. The Divine Power is above every impressive lessons of both truth and duty. In the first to go in fearing either to confess the light of the parable that follows, all may their poverty and indebtedness, or to meet learn a lesson of the deepest moment-the the ridicule that might follow an unsuccessful here are times when our faith is so weak lesson that the Saviour taught in the parable application. "Do you go and try, Jones," Lord A — was a nobleman of wealth and other; "I'm not so poor as that." "Do you influence; and as an earnest Christian, he go," was said to another. "I guess I'll wait, was ever seeking to do good, both to the poor and see what the others do," was the answer. hust persevere in earnest, wrestling prayer, about him, and to the tenants on his large "Why don't you try it?" said a fourth.

hough it may only be with sighs, and conict unutterable.

he was often saddened and grieved to find plenty of time yet." And so the hours passed "Surely our Heavenly Father deals gently that so few seemed impressed with the calls of on, each waiting to see what the others would plan which he hoped might teach a lesson of couple from the poor house came up to the checks, how it teaches, how it guides from faith that would not be forgotten, and which, office. "Is it true," they asked, "that Mr. hildhood to the oldest age, just according to at the same time, might impress the import A— has offered to pay all our debts?" ur state, obedience opening the way to an tance of now accepting the gracious offers of "Well—yes; but he hasn't paid any yet." "Has any one been in to see if he would do about it." "Well," said the old man, "the glory of any little services that I have been offer seems plain, and, thank God, we may consider to perform bacterial, and in whose yet die free from debt; for we have some debts. Lord, who gave the qualification, and in whose we were never able to pay." And they both sight no flesh may glory, without condemnative to pay. "And they both sight no flesh may glory, without condemnative to pay." And their terrors to quell, Jesus whispered, "Fear not: it is I." right, old man," exclaimed one; "you go in first, and let us know how you fare." "Well," said another, "I guess he'll find himself fooled after all." "And," said another, "I guess he'll find himself fooled after all." "And," said another, "I guess he'll find himself fooled after all." "And," said another, "I guess he'll find himself fooled after all." "MOUNTAINS.

Refreshed, from the sleep of the night, we arise he'll go back to the poor-house just about as he'll go back to the poor-house just about as Amid grandeur of earth, beneath splendor of skies, be came." Such were some of the comments Fanned by health-bringing breezes from summits of and remarks as to the old couple; but, disregarding them all, they went forward and entered the office.

Within, they found Mr. Asteward. And the old man laid his statements on the table, saying, "There, sir, are my debts. I have no property, but live in the poor house; but that matters little, if I can but pay what I honestly owe, and so die free from debt." "But why should I pay your debts?" asked Mr. A-"I do not know, except that you say you will; and I fully believe your promise and rely upon your word." "That is enough," said Mr. Aand turning to his steward he told him to fill out a check for the whole amount, which being done, he signed it, and handed it to the old man, who received it with the deepest thankfulness, and then started for the door. saying, "I must go and tell all those outside, of your kindness, that they, too, may come as I have done." "No," said Mr. must not tell them; they must trust my word for themselves, as you have done." And so the old couple were shown into another room, to wait till twelve, while Mr. A-, being satisfied that their poverty was their misfortune and not their fault, ordered the lease of a nice little place to be made out to them for life, and added this to the check he had given them.

Outside the office, time wore away; some wondering why the old couple did not come out, and some concluding that they must have failed, and that, after all, there was nothing in the matter. The hour of twelve drew near. Men looked at each other, but still did not go in. At last, the hour rang out from the church-clock; and, with the last stroke from the bell, the door opened, and the old man and his wife were seen coming out. "How is it? how is it?" cried the people. "Have you got the money?" The old man showed them his check. "Good," he said, "as solid gold; it was all so." And at the same moment, Mr. - came out: and, as he went to his carriage, there was a rush toward it, each one pressing forward with his statement, and erying, "Here, Mr. A-, will you not pay my debts?" "Here is my account." "Will yon not look at my statement?"

"Friends," was the reply, "it is after twelve o'clock. The hour is past. It is too LATE!'

And he drove away!

"Now is the accepted time;" and "now the day of salvation!" "Strive to enter in at the strait gate; for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able when once the Master of the house hath risen up and hath shut to the door!"-Selected.

A Safe Dwelling-place. - Now that our labors in New South Wales are nearly concluded, it in New South Wales are nearly concluded, it is my lot to dwell much under the feeling of emptiness and unprofitableness. For this I desire to be thankful; for were it otherwise, for worship, which was an impressive occasion.

it?" "Well-no-not yet; we are thinking I might be in danger of taking to myself the snow,

For "The Friend." *MORNING WORSHIP IN THE ROCKY

On the desolate wastes where the sage-bushes grow, Where no beast treads the sands and no bird skims the air,

We turn to our morning devotion and prayer. On the fast-moving train as the Scripture is read, And silence is over our company spread, For thanksgiving and prayer is fit utterance found, And here is the desert made hallowed ground. In these solitudes vast, and these altitudes high, We are freshly assured that our Father is nigh. I would not forget what we feel in this hour, Of the presence of God, of his goodness and power; Of the calm of his peace, and the strength of his care : His own benediction and answer to prayer. 6th mo. 19th, 1882,

THE LOOM OF LIFE.

Selected.

Selected.

Say it.

Love it.

All day, all night, I can hear the jar Of the loom of life, and near and far It thrills with its deep and muffled sound, As tircless the wheels go round and round.

Busily, ceaselessly, goes the loom In the light of day and the midnight gloom, And the wheels are turning early and late, And the woof is wound in the warp of fate.

Are we spinners of good in this life-web, say? Do we furnish the weave a thread each day? It were better, then, by far to spin A beautiful thread than a thread of sin. __

RESOLUTION.

If you've any task to do, If you've any task to do, Let me whisper, friend, to you, Do it.

If you've anything to say, True and needed, yea or nay,

If you've anything to love, As a blessing from above,

If you've anything to give, That another's joy may live,

Give it. If some hollow creed you doubt, Though the whole world hoot and shout, Doubt it. If you know what torch to light Guiding others through the night

Light it. If you've any debt to pay, Rest you neither night nor day, Pay it.

If you've any joy to hold, Next your heart, lest it get cold, Hold it.

If you've any grief to meet, At the loving Father's feet,

If you're given light to see What a child of God should be,

Whether life be bright or drear, There's a message sweet and clear Whispered down to every ear-

Hear it. - Harper's Magazine.

Meet it.

* Our party of Friends numbered ten. Most of our

JESUS ON THE SEA.

When the storm of the mountains on Galilee fell, And the faithless disciples were bound in the spe

The storm could not bury that word in the wave, For 'twas taught through the tempest 10 fly; It shall reach his disciples in every clime, And his voice shall be near in each troublous time Saying, "Be not afraid: it is I."

When the spirit is broken with sickness or sorrow And comfort is ready to die;

And comfort is reasy to due,
The darkness shall pass, and in gladness to-morrov
The wounded complete consolation shall borrow
From his life-giving word, "it is I." When death is at hand, and the cottage of clay

Is left with a tremulous sigh, The gracious fore-runner is smoothing the way For its tenant to pass to unchangeable day, Saying, "Be not afraid: it is I,"

When the waters are passed, and the glories unknown Burst forth on the wondering eye, The compassionate "Lamb in the midst of the thro Shall welcome, encourage, and comfort his own, And say, "Be not afraid: it is I."

Nathaniel Hawthorn

Prohibition not a Failure.

An article by Thurlow Weed published the New York Tribune on Intemperance, say

"Maine laws have been so generally eitl violated or evaded as to satisfy calm think that drunkards are not to be reformed prohibitory enactments. The great champi of Prohibition, Neal Dow, worn out by lo years of indomitable efforts, has announce his intention to retire.'

To this Neal Dow replies:

"I am so far from being worn out in te perance work that I was never more acti in it than now, and so far am I from any tention of retiring that I was never before full of beart, hope and confident expectati of success in the near future." "Prohibiti is now, and has been from the day of enactment in Maine, a great success, and it for that reason that Kansas and Iowa ha imitated our example, and have resorted prohibition by their constitutions, in which line of policy Maine will immediately follo their lead, as will Michigan and Indiana."

From the resolutions of the Maine Repub can convention of 1882, he quotes the follow ing paragraph:

"We refer with confidence and pride to the general record of the Republican party support of the policy of prohibiting the traff in intoxicating liquors, the wisdom and e ficiency of which legislation in promoting the moral and material interests of Mair have been demonstrated through the pract cal annibilation of that traffic in a large po tion of the State; and we favor such legisla tion and such enforcement of law as will secur to every portion of our territory freedom from that traffic. We further recommend th submission to the people of a constitutions prohibitory amendment."

Neal Dow concludes his letter as follows: "It is in the face of such declaration widely published to the world, of which n shrewd politician should be ignorant, that Mr. Weed has ventured to affirm Prohibitio in Maine to be an abortion. There is no dis tillery or brewery in Maine-not one; a have been suppressed by the law. Three fourths of our territory is now practically free from the liquor traffic, so that The Port nd Press said a little while ago: 'In a large should be sold off, which according to the esevery kind was spent in strong drink in tee, very period of less then twenty years, mak-Maine the poorest State in the Union, hile now it is one of the most prosperous. here are a great many districts in many planted. ates not yet having Prohibition, where the quor traffic is under the ban of the law, by urteen hundred parishes under Prohibition, hile in Scotland, Wales, and Ireland there Prohibition for the Sunday, and the policy Prohibition is rapidly extending in the nited Kingdom. As to Mr. Weed's suggeson that wine is a remedy for intemperance, perefore Kansas and Iowa put that policy ld piece of lumber, laid away with dry-rot, nd worm-eaten long ago.

Portland, Me., July 11, 1882."

For "The Friend."

Westtown Boarding School.

6th mo. 8, 1838. "The consideration of the ppointment of a literary head to the instituion was again brought before the committee, nd as no way opened for action on the subor further attention at some future meeting."

The following report on the subject of Hauling do. at $2 Carrying coal and making fires,

Cost of new stoves, &c.

own up practically unacquainted with the per acre. The proceeds of this sale would Martha Jefferis), who came to assist in nursnor traffic and its effects. Our State is enable the committee to creet a saw mill, ing, her gentle manners, as well as her endeaw more prosperous by far than it ever which is much wanted in the neighborhood, vors to make good impressions on the minds The liquor traffic which lingers and could be profitably employed, and leave of the children, are still held in lively and ere is on the sly and on a very small scale, a fund of $3000 for any other desirable pur-grateful remembrance by some who were d is confined to our larger towns and cities, pose, while the land thus cleared would be then there as pupils. om which it will soon be expelled by certain productive under tillage. As a supply of wood mendments to our law that are necessary to is already prepared for the consumption of a at end. The whole face of the State has year, it is suggested that the experiment erate can enter the kingdom of heaven. And on wonderfully changed for the better by should be made during the ensuing winter in even were it possible for us to enter that holy e policy which has so largely driven the a few of the school-rooms only. The expedi- habitation, unprepared, what would it avail nor traffic out, thereby saving to the peo- ency of providing a substitute for wood in us? Surrounded by holiness, we could not e the wages of their labor and the profits cooking has engaged the attention of the com- be happy unless we were holy ourselves; no, their business, which now go to build up mittee, but they have not arrived at any con- we should be wretched indeed, without the d stimulate every legitimate industry. For clusion which they doem safe to submit with mantle of righteousness, in the presence of an erly the entire valuation of all our property the report. Signed on behalf of the commit infinitely holy Being. BENJAMIN COOPER.

BARTHOLOMEW WISTAR." the orehard report that 180 trees have been is? Thou knowest, Almighty Father, that

From the report submitted to the Yearly Meeting in 1839

anada, and in England there are more than acquirement of useful knowledge in all the knowing thy matchless goodness I believe it elementary departments; and when we com- possible, and will still hope through the merits bine with this the smallness of the charge for of the blessed Saviour. - Catharine Seely. board and tuition, the religious instruction, and the watchful care exercised over the morals of the scholars, and their being sheltered from many of the temptations incident to the their minds are at times favored to experience that they do not go far enough. — Correa degree of that solemn quiet and introversion spendent of Chr. Advocate. ect at present, it was concluded to defer it of spirit which is the preparation for acceptable worship.

$450.00 been exposed to the risk of contracting any vide for a son, who, were it not for rnm, could, 200.00 infectious disorder.

At this trying period there were about 172

The kind attention of Edith Jefferis, (a art of our territory an entire generation has timate of the superintendent will bring $90 valuable minister, daughter of the matron,

Nothing unrighteous, impure, or unregen-

If I must pass through the furnace of refinement, of what consequence is it in what 10th mo. 11th, 1838. The committee on manner it is done or what the temperature while sustained by thy supporting arm, it is immaterial to me whether by pain and sorrow, trouble or sickness, if thy will may be "We believe there are few, if any, semina-fulfilled and my heart made acceptable, it is he same thing is true of the Dominion of ries, which offer greater advantages for the all, it is more than I am worthy to ask; but

For " The Friend.",

Religious Items, &c.

Pere Hyacinthe .- In conversation with some period of youth, and to indiscriminate associ intelligent Frenchmen I learned that the nonnat Prohibition is an abortion in Maine, and ation in mixed schools, the benefits which the success of his movement is generally admit-Society derives from the Boarding School, are ted. He preaches to a small audience, and strikingly apparent." "In conformity with his list of followers does not include a single rite a line even, upon that matter; it is an the concern which has so long existed in the Frenchman of prominence. His fatal error Yearly Meeting, that the religious education has been his open opposition to Protestantism. of the children of our Society may keep pace Though he professes to be a communicant in with their literary improvement, endeavors the Church of England, he has repeatedly deare used to instruct the scholars in our doc-trines and testimonies. Meetings for divine permanent value to France. The result is worship are regularly held on First and Fifth-that the Protestants of England and France days, in which the deportment of the scholars cannot hopefully rally to his support. As to is orderly; and we trust that through the con-the reforms in the Romish Church, for which descending goodness of the Shepherd of Israel he eloquently pleads, they are all well, except Responsibility for Drunkards.-In a Westchester County Court, recently, an old man Soon after the commencement of the win- of eighty-two years of age was summoned by varming the house was received, and the tersession, the measles made their appearance the Overseer of the Poor of Portchester, who ommittee was continued to make an experi- among the children, introduced by one of the wished him to provide for a worthless, drunknent of the proposed plan so far as it relates girls who had been exposed to the infection a en son, thirty years of age. The old man o the heating of a few of the rooms with coal; short time before leaving home. Although proved that his income was not sufficient to be remainder of the report was deferred for the disease was of a mild form, and many of maintain the family dependent upon him, thention at a future meeting. The report is the invalids bad it very lightly, yet it imposs among whom were a blind son, and a daughts follows: "That having conferred with the ed a heavy duty on the care-takers and nurses, ter subject to fits, and with choking utterance uperintendent and made careful inquiry in occasioned a loss of many weeks time to some tried to tell how much he had done for the other quarters, they have arrived at the fol- of the scholars, and in a few cases its effects drunken son whose maintenance the town owing result,—It is the judgment of the proved of a serious character. The scarlet was trying to avoid. Judge Giflord firmly committee that the house may be more comortably warmed and with much less risk to in a similar manner at the opening of a former town," he said, "has licensed the establishhe building by the use of coal. For this pur-session, the committee deem it incumbent on ments where this old man's son buys his rum, pose there will be required 100 tons of coal, them earnestly to request that no child may so the town must take care of the drunkard. which can be delivered at Norristown at $4.50 be sent to the school who is known to have I cannot order a man of eighty-two to proand should now be, earing for his father."

The United Christian Army .- The United pupils in the institution, 94 of whom had the Christian Army recently held its Annual Conpupils in the institution, or of whom had the Christian Army recently head to Amburdance on measles. The nursery accommodations were ference at Goole, England. Most of its members 1287.10 not so comfortable as now, two rooms on each bers originally belonged to the Salvation side in the main building being all the space Army. The United Christian Army has sta-Should it be concluded to substitute coal for placed in two of the school-rooms and thus and is purchasing and acquiring property at wood, it is proposed that 40 acres of wood occupied.

the Public Rooms there, which cost them established, by right of long possession of its would hardly be possible to find a St. Michi 88,500. The main business of the Conference site, it will take far greater watchfulness to or Tangerine orange that had not hund was to settle a code of doctrines, as well as keep it down than it would to have prevented of these little creatures in various stage rules and regulations, for the government of its development in the first place. The toes development on their surface. Lemons, the "Army." The doctrines defined, are of must have room to spread and to get away are frequently covered. Upon inspection, the simplest-the belief in God, Christ, and from each other; this is the essential fact to skin of an orange will be found to be do the Holy Ghost, and the efficacy of Christ's be borne in mind in every effort to prevent over with brownish scarlet spots of vari atonement. The rules place the government or cure this annoying affection. One who is of the body in the hands of an annual concepted to simply wage a prolonged war a needle, and when placed under a microse ference. Over 100 delegates and evangelists fare against these pests is to be pitied. The of the body is for any time subjected to greater life .- L. S. Pilcher in Chr. Adv. friction and pressure than usual, the outer layer of the skin thickens in response to the has succeeded in photographing four times obtain nonrishment and never moves agained of increased protection to the tender the spectrum of the nebula in Orion. The passing through the various stages of dev parts underneath. If we examine the cuticle same spectrum has been photographed by opment until it lays its eggs and dies. In twith a microscope, we find that it is made Dr. Huggins, of England. Dr. Draper has case of the male insect, the chrysalis after up of innumerable minute scales matted to also taken photographs of the nebula itself, short period opens and the insect flies of gether, their edges overlapping in accumu- so as to watch for changes in it, and observe The male is supplied with wings twice t lating layers. These are secreted from the whether the process of aggregation into stars length of its body, and each of the legs has true skin underneath, and a constant condi-tion of shedding of the outermost scales and graphs of the spectrum, they show clearly, antenne, and is so tiny that it cannot be see the formation of new ones is going on through- it is said, evidences of condensations. ont life. This is the source of the scurf, the dandruff, the scarf-skin which we find forming upon our persons.

For "The Friend."

Natural History, Science, &c.

skin underneath the corn becomes inflamed, kind reception from his mistress."—J. G. from about the age of 15. It was written by (a comparatively frequent occurrence,) the Wood in Man and Beast. suffering may be extreme, and the tortures cuticle, and to work in under it from all full gallop, until it reached a blacksmith's been under religious convictions, and these points toward the centre, gradually lifting it forge, into which it went without a pause, were deepened by a knowledge of his danger up until it is completely lifted away, and the carrying its unwilling rider with it. soft, somewhat reddened depression in the The astonished blacksmith tried to lead the conflict, he was enabled to yield up his own nuder the corn. with a razor or sharp knife is not a good one, for the relief which it affords is very transient. The use of pastes and causties is thoroughly relief which proper dressing for the feet does of a large number of eggs, which are o bring in these cases is marvellous. A strong white bodies standing on end, like little b and broad sole, with a soft and ample upper, of flour, some of the inhabitants of which m a low heel, and a firmly grasped instep con-very probably be seen in process of emergi-stitute the best defence against corns, and are from the opened end of the egg. The fem Corns.—Whenever any part of the surface susceptible of giving an entirely new color to insect upon leaving the egg, has six legs, t

Anecdote of a Horse.-J. Nelson Smith tells me that, while examining one of the Ameri- us having their rind covered with a coccus g upon onr persons.

can mines, he saw a horse which was doing quite a different type. The surface of orange pressure and friction upon the skin of the his work without the assistance of any driver indeed, affords the possessor of a microscop toes provokes an increased formation of these As soon as his cart was filled with ore, one of an infinite amount of interest and amusement scales as a protection; the pressure mats the miners gave his signal, and the animal -Chambers' Journal. them together, presses them back again down went off to the spot where his load was to be into the skin, which increases the irritation dumped, waited until the cart was unloaded, of the skin; increased effort at protection results, a thicker mass of scales is formed, and strangest point in his conduct was, that he had thus a corn is produced. There is so little of to take a certain number of loads daily, and soft flesh in the make-up of the upper surface knew when his task was finished, as well as and sides of the toes, that the skin, when did any of the men. J. N. Smith happened pressed upon, finds itself between the hard bone to be present at the time when he deposited L. Washburn, and published by Garrigue within and the compressing leather without, his last load for the day, and, on seeing him Brothers, Philada, entitled, "Wayward an neighbors who stand firm against pressure, trot off quickly in another direction, was told so that the poor skin has to bear it all! When-that he knew his work to be finished, and that of the ontward travels and inner experience ever, as the result of unusual irritation, the he was going home, where he would meet a of a young man for a period of seven year of walking in the customary shoe unendur- of these animals let for temporary hire, and the language, being scrupulously preserved. able.

The great secret of thoroughly and easily by a young lady in delicate health, who was removing a corn is to get under its edges obliged to keep to a very slow pace. One day came very ill, so that it was not thought likely where it merges into the surrounding natural in 1873 the pony was seen dashing along at he could recover. He had for several years skin, which formed its bed, is exposed. To animal out of the forge, but it resisted this will, and trust himself unreservedly in the do this one does not want too sharp a knife; strongly, and he found it had cast a shoe, hands of God. This was followed by a feel after the first approaches at the edges have which it wished to be replaced. In this in just of relief and a sense of the forgiveness of the forgiven been accomplished, the sharp knive should be stance, as in many others, reason conquered his sins and of acceptance with the Lord. put aside, and something less likely to wound instinct. The instinctive feelings of horses In detailing his subsequent religious probe substituted; a pair of seissors will often are strongly opposed to the operation of shoe-gress, he describes two occasions in which he answer admirably for slowly snipping a way ing, and it requires a determined exercise of was unusually affected by Divine visitations. The practice of simply shave reason to induce an animal voluntarily to These he regards as marking special eras in ing off the most prominent layers of the corn counteract its own instincts.-J. G. Wood in his history, or planes of religious experience. Man and Beast.

long hair-like appendages, and no wings; The Nebula in Orion .- Dr. Henry Draper thrusts a sucker into the orange in order when flying.

From some parts of Spain oranges come

THE FRIEND.

NINTH MONTH 2, 1882.

We have received a book written by A A Welsh Pony .- At Rhyll there are many himself; the facts and thoughts, though no ous situation. After enduring much mental

We think the difference between these and Insects on the surface of Oranges.-When a the usual manifestations of Grace, is more in dish of oranges is seen on a table for dessert, degree than in kind. When through the bad, and even dangerous, for in many cases the fact is hardly realized that in all proba- Lord's goodness any have been brought to it has provoked serious inflammation of the bility their surface is the habitat of an insect submit to his visitations, and been made senof the Coccus family. This tiny creature is sible of his love, and that the door of mercy Whatever is done will produce only a tem-found on the orange skin in every stage of is open to them; they must still follow on to porary effect unless the cause is removed; if transformation, from the egg to the perfect know the Lord, by waiting on Him in spirit, the same ill-fitting, cramping shoes continue insect, during the winter months, instead of and seeking to maintain communion with to be worn, the corns will continute to reapprenaining dormant in the cold weather, as is Him, so that they may partake of spiritual pear. Indeed, after a corn has once become the case with most of the insect tribe. It food and be preserved in a living condition.

this daily watch and the constant warfare ainst evil are maintained, they will grow grace, and the Lord will make known to em the mysteries of his kingdom, unfolding their spiritual vision one thing after an her, as they are prepared to receive it. is is the path in which all Christians should Ik. Those who become negligent and cares fall away from the good condition they ere once in, and would become spiritually ad, if it were not for the renewed visita ons of the Lord's Spirit. In a sense of this nger, Isaac Penington exhorted the Friends Chalfent, "that none of you grow slothful, owsy, or negligent, and so, unfaithful, in ation to the great talent, which God hath t into your hands; and so, the Lord be proked against you, and suffer the enemy to npt and prevail upon you." On another casion he addresses them in these stimuing words: "My dear Friends, be encoured to wait upon the Lord in the pure fear, the precious faith and hope which is of im; and you will see and feel He will exalt e power of his Anointed in you over the wer of that which is unancinted, and will reep, and cleanse, and purify, even till He th left no place for the impure; and then, shall become his full dwelling-place, the ace of his rest, the place of his delight, the magnetized. ace of his displaying his pure life and glory;

r evermore!" The most prominent thought in the book fore us is the possibility, reality and blessedss of so trusting in God and living in comunion with Him, as to be sensible of his sidance and help in our outward concerns well as in our religious experiences. This in accordance with the scripture declaraons, "In all thy ways acknowledge the Lord,

d He will be your perfect dwelling-place d He shall direct thy steps." It is one of e unspeakably valuable privileges of the ring Christian to feel, that the Lord is ever atching over him; and that, if we are attenre to his voice, He will lead us in the way which we should go, both inwardly and twardly, and overrule everything for our timate good. "Because thou hast made the ord which is my refuge, even the Most High y habitation, there shall no evil befall thec the encouraging language applicable to the ncere follower of the Lord Jesus.

Our author tells many interesting incidents the experience of the young man whose story she relates, showing how he was assted to make long journeys and voyages to stant countries, though poor and in feeble ealth. Some of these incidents are very mple in their character; and the reader may the raiders. oubt whether the traveller has always put right construction on them.

Conversion, and the indwelling of the Holy pirit, are spoken of as wholly distinct experinces. Though a distinction may be made etween them, yet conversion is effected in an through the presence and power of the pirit turning him from evil, and influencing im to yield in all things to the government the Spirit of Christ, which is to be his uide and Leader through life. So that conersion may be regarded as the early stage of nat dwelling with Christ which is to con-

The book as a whole is interesting and inructive; and it leaves on the mind an innue through life.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES.—A statement prepared at the General Land Office, Washington, shows that during the fiscal year ended 6th mo. 30th, 1882, there were 15, 699,848 acres of land disposed of for "about" $8,361,091, against "about" $5,000,000 received for lands in the night. Loss $410,000, insurance $190,000. Five of the employees lost their lives.

The New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad Company's elevator, at Buffalo, New York, was by an explosion of gas burned to the ground late on Fifth-day

The steamer Coptic, which arrived at San Francisco last week from China and Japan, confirms the reports of the insurrection in the capital of Corea on the 23d of 7th mo. All the Japanese in the city, including several members of the Japanese Legation, are believed to have been killed. The Japanese Envoy and Consul escaped to a British vessel. The insurgents took possession of the palace and murdered the Queen and all the royal family except the King. Thirteen Ministers of State and other dignitaries were also slanghtered. The mas-sacre is attributed to the ex-Regent Tai In Kun, father or uncle of the King, a violent opponent of foreign intercourse. Japan has taken prompt measures to secure reparation for the murder of her representatives, and will make war if it is refused. Admiral Clitz has been advised from Washington of the rejection of Commoof the question.

The second artesian well bored at Yankton, Dakotah Territory, has developed powerful magnetic properties.

A piece of steel held in the water becomes speedily

Special despatches from the Indian Territory say that "the election of Overton for Governor is a great triumph for the stalwart Indian element as against ontside influences and the violation of treaties. He has been Governor for four years, and the Indian na-tion made giant strides during that period. Overton opposes the railroads.

Major Sumper has advised the War Department that Red Cloud and the dissatished Sioux have demanded an investigation, and will put Agent McGillicuddy off the reservation by force within the notified sixty days.

Red Clond, he says, is cool and determined, and has quite a following, which is daily increasing.

Advices received at military headquarters in Chicago show that the Piegans, a band of Blackfeet Indians, are suffering from hunger, and likely, in consequence, to ber of horses, and three companies of soldiers had to be sent to "overawe them" It is requested that speedy action be taken by the authorities to relieve their dis tress. Agent Miles, of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Agency, in the Indian Territory, reports that the Northern Chevennes have "declared their intention of migrating to the Pine Ridge Agency in Dakota, regardless of the wishes of the Indian Office in the premises. These Indians had previously requested permission to make the removal to the Pine Ridge Agency, but, receiving no reply from the Commissioner of In-dian Affairs, they have resolved to act upon their own responsibility

A telegram from Wichita reports the notorious Captain Payne encamped on the Canadian river, in the Indian Territory, with "a colony embracing 27 fighting men, who are well armed and well mounted." Neither Indians nor Federal soldiers have yet interfered with

The Smithsonian Institution at Washington has received from Professor Forster, of Berlin, the announce-ment of the discovery by Palica at Pola, on the 22nd instant, of a planetoid of the twelfth magnitude, in 22 hours 18 minutes right ascension and 13 degrees 41 minntes south declination.

Professor Daniel Kirkwood, the astronomer, reports the observance of 1526 meteors at Bloomfield, and 521 at the State University, in Indiana, on the night of the 10th inst. He considers this an extraordinary display of August meteors.

Snrgeon General Hamilton, of the Marine Hospital Service, reports that the deaths from yellow fever in Brownsville have numbered 40, of which 17 occurred last week. The total number of cases of fevers of all kinds has been 343. An effective cordon has been established around the infected district by means of mounted guards, and the disease "is now confined within the triangle bounded by the Rio Grande, the Gulf reased conviction that "a good man's steps control of the Lord."

The Hardy of the Lord. The Lord of the Lord. The Hardy of the Lord. The Hardy of the Lord. The Hardy of the Lord. The Lord of the Lord. The Lord of the Lord. The Hardy of the Lord of the eighty-six new cases and eight deaths on Second-day of this week. Seven more cattle died at Weedsport, New York, on Seventh-day, of the Texas fever, which has been prevailing at that place. The "ticks," which accompany the disease, are being found in many fields near the infected pastures, and there is great excitement among the farmers. On Fifth-day last, the 24th inst., about twenty-seven hundred persons, descendants of John Sharpless, a Friend, who landed at Chester two hundred years previously, gathered at Ridley Creek, near Chester, to celebrate that event. There were representatives pre-sent from Florida, Kansas, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, New Jersey, Mississippi, New York, Delaware, Minnesota and Ohio. They all gathered at the old homestead and indulged in a social reunion.

Several relics of interest were displayed.

The Acting Treasurer of the United States, in accord-The Acting Treasurer of the United States, in accordance with an appropriation for the purpose made at the last session of Congress, has ordered the transfer to the Philadelphia Mint, for recoinage, of all the uncurrent subsidiary silver held at the different depositaries throughout the country. About $500,000 of these coins are held at the various offices, including three-cent, figures are designed than the country. About $500,000 of these coins are held at the various offices, including three-cent, figures are designed than the various offices, and other units of the contract of th five-cent and twenty-cent silver pieces and other uncorrent silver.

For the week ending 8th mo. 26th, there were 356 doer Shingkeld streaty with Corea, requesting that a ship | deaths in Philadelphia, as compared with 439 for the of war be sent to Corea, and stating that Young, the | previous week, and 349 for the corresponding week of U. S. Envoy to China, would assume diplomatic countrol | state | year. Of the whole number 191 were males and 165 females; 42 died of consumption, 33 of cholera infantum, 25 of marasmus, 17 of diphtheria, 13 of inflam-mation of stomach and bowels, and 11 of typhoid fever.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3½'s, 101½ a 101½; 4½'s, registered, 113½; coupon, 114½; 4's, 120; currency 6's, 133. It is estimated that three-and-a-half per cent, bonds, aggregating about $300,000,000, have been surrendered to the United States Treasury Department for exchange into the new 3 per cent, bonds.

Cotton.—Prices remain about the same as last quoted. Sales of middlings are reported at 131 a 131 cts. per th. for uplands and New Orleans. Petroleum.—Standard white, 61 cts. for export, and a 74 cts. per gallon for home use.

Flonr continues in fair demand at former rates. Sales of superfine, at 3 a $3.25; western and Pennsylvania extras, $3.50 a $4.50; sour at $4.25 a $6; 400 barrels Minnesota extras, clear, $6.75 a $7; 350 do. Minnesota extras, clear, straight, good, at $7 a $7.50; 550 do. Pennsylvania extra family, good, $5.12} a $5.30; 600 barrels do. fancy, $5.371 a $5.50; 100 do. Ohio do. do. good and choice, at $6 a $6.25; 100 do. St. Louis do. do. on private terms: 100 do. winter wheat patents, $7.50 a 8.75; 200 do. Minnesota do. at $7.50 a $8.75; 800 do. do. city mills, family, on private terms. Rye flour was dull; sales in small lots at $3.50 a $3.75. In corn meal there was very little doing, and prices were nominal. Feed -Sales are reported at $20 a $20.50 for winter, and $19 a $19.50 for spring wheat bran.

Grain,-Wheat was unsettled and rather lower, Sales of 7500 bushels red and amber for milling at $1.10 a $1.18, as to quality and location; 3000 bushels do. at $1,161; 2000 bushels do. at $1.161; 1700 bushels ditto at $1.16; 3300 bushels spot at $1.16;; 1900 bushels spot at $1.16;; 1800 bushels spot at $1.16, and 70,000 bushels No. 2 red at $1.15\frac{1}{2} a $1.16. Corn was unsettled; sales of about 9000 bushels, lots at 89 cts, for yellow 88 cts. for mixed, 87 cts. for steamer, 87 cts. for No. 3 84 cts. per bushel for rejected, and 30,000 bushels sail mixed at 871 a 881 cts. Oats were also unsettled; sales of 10,000 bashels white at 65 a 68 cts., and rejected and mixed at 53 a 55 cts. per bushel, and 20,000 bushels No. 2 white at 60 a 61 cts.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 8th mo. 26th, 1882.—Loads of hay, 330; loads of straw, 45. Average price during the week—Prime timothy, 90 cts. to $1 per 100 pounds; mixed, 80 cts. to 90 cts. per 100 pounds; straw, 55 to 65 cts. per 100 pounds.

Beef cattle were in fair demand at about former rates: 4000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 4 a 7½ cts. per pound, as to quality.

Sheep.—Good sheep were in demand at full prices: 15,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 23 a 55 cts. per lb., as to condition. Hogs were in demand at an advance: 2800 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 113 a 121 cts. per lb., as to quality. FOREIGN.—Earl Spencer, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, having ordered the dismissal of five of the sub-constametropolitan police. Four hundred of the latter met

In Limerick there have been tiltry resignations from the constabulary in consequence of the dismissal of the five sub-constables. The Inspector General made an attempt to address the men who have resigned, but they refused to listen to him.

The city was without the usual police on beat on the night of the 28th.

The straits in which many Irish landlords find themselves is illustrated by a recent experience of Allies, Secretary of the London Catholic Poor School Committee, who is the proprietor of two islands off Galway, containing 3140 acres, with a nominal rental of $3,170. Having been sued for $1000 for poor rates, he, by legal advice, paid it, and then wrote to Gladstone to ask if the Government could not intervene to help him in view of the fact that for four years he had not received a penny of rent, and his agent had informed him that any attempt to evict would be at the risk of his life. Gladstone replied, expressing his great regret that he was utterly unable to assist him.

The majority of the French papers comment very unfavorably on the action of the British in occupying the Suez Canal.

In consequence of the representations made by Lord Dufferin, the British Ambassador, the Porte has authorized the exportation of mules from Smyrna for British service in Egypt.

The hesitation of the Sultan to ratify the Military Convention with England, is stated to be priocipally due to the receipt of anonymous threatening letters from Syria, Arabia and Egypt.

Constantinople, 8th mo. 28th.—Austria supports Ne-Constantinopie, 5th no. 25th.—Austra supports Me-lidoff, the Russian Ambassador, in his effort to have the Military Convention, when signed, officially com-municated to the Conference, and to obtain from Great Britain a declaration that she will seek no exclusive advantage in Egypt, and will submit the final solution of the question to the decision of Europe,

A despatch to Renter's Telegram Company from Constantinople, on the 25th, states that Said Pacha and Assym Pacha, the Turkish delegates to the Conference, yesterday advanced fresh demands relative to the Military Convention with England, to the effect that the Turks should land at Alexandria, and that the proclamation relative to Arabi Pasha, instead of declaring bim a rebel, should summon him to submit to the De Lesseps adheres to his opinion in regard to the National party in Egypt. He says he still considers Arabi Pasha a noble patriot, and he felt happy to think that he (M. De Lesseps) had had a great share in preventing France from participating in an adventure which he believes will have even more disastrous consequences than those of the French expedition to Mexi-He believed the campaign would be a long one, and that the English would encounter a determined resistance.

A despatch from Ismailia to Renter's Telegram Company reports that the Egyptians have cut the fresh water canal near there, but states that the supply of water will suffice for some time.

A despatch to the Times from Ismailia, states that Arabi Pasha's soldiers are doubtless suffering great hardships, as those captured by the British look worn and feeble. The English also are suffering from the heat of the sun and its reflection from the sands.

Some fighting occurred last week, in regard to which General Wolseley telegraphs from Ismailia, under date of the 27th, as follows: "I have just returned from the outposts, and find that our actions on Thursday and Friday had far more important results than I was aware of yesterday. The enemy were completely routed, and fled toward Zigazig, throwing away their arms and acoutrements. A very large amount of camp equi-page and munitions was captured. Mahmond Fehmy, Arabi Pasha's Chief Engineer and Military Adviser, Arabi Pasha's Uniter Longuese is now a prisoner in my camp."

A telegram received in London from Hong Kong, dated Fifth-day, last week, says: "Four thousand natives have died of Asiatic cholera in a single Philippine has the midomic is now decreasing. There have been only six fatal cases among European resi-

Pink-eye has again become prevalent among the horses at Ottawa, Ont., and its immediate vicinity. There were nineteen deaths from yellow fever in Havana last week.

RECEIPTS.

$2.10, vol. 56; from Mary W. Stokes, for Horace Stokes, W. Va., $2.10, to No. 27, vol. 57; from Joel Thompson, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from William H. Blackburn, Agent, O., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Hannah Blackburn, Abel H. Blackburn, and J. Tullis, $2.10 each, vol. 56 from Ann Smallwood, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Dr. Stephen Wood, L. I., 10 cents postage on vol. 56; from Stephen Wood, D. 15, 10 cents postage on vin 0.07, 100.08 Phebe L. Walin, Fkid, 82.10, vol. 56; from Thomas Hoyle and Sarab V. Willits, Io, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Samuel Morris, Pa., $2.10, to No. 27, vol. 57; from Daniel Smith, O, $2.10, vol. 56; from Hannah Wildle N. U. $2.10, and 56; from Lahn S. Loure, Mickle, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from John S. Lowry, City, $2, vol. 56, and for John C. Lowry, $2,10, vol. 56; from Joseph G. Evans, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Hugh D. Vail, Cal., $2.10, vol. 56; from William B. Oliver, Agent, Mass., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Mercy H. Meader, $2.10, vol. 56; from Dr. William R. Bullock, Del., 82.10, vol. 50; from Dr. William R. Bullock, Del., 82.10, vol. 56; from William Bishop, Civ. $2, vol. 56; from Joseph N. Taylor, Ind., 82.10, vol. 56; from Russel Taber, Io., $2.10, vol. 56; and for Phebe C. Harkness, $2.10, vol. 56; from Stephen M. Brinton, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from William C. Taber, Mass., $2.10, vol. 56; from Samuel Woolman, N. J., $2.10, vol. 50; f $2.10, vol. 56; from Samuel Woolman, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Fracois Taber, Mass, $2.10, vol. 56; from Ingolo P, Jones, City, $2, vol. 56; from Ephraim Tomlinson, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Ephraim Tomlinson, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Elwood E, Haines, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Elwood E, Haines, Vol. 56, and for Rowland D. Allen, City, Richard J. Allen, Jr., Col., and Rowland J. Dutton, N. J., $2.10, and St. from Willow Sandawal St. each, vol. 56; from Milton Stanley, Agent, Ind., for Joel D. Carter, $6 30, to No. 52, vol. 55, 1ra Carter, $2.10, to No. 28, vol. 56, Isaiah George, $1, to No. 52, vol. 56, and Joel Newlin, $2.10, vol. 56; from Daniel Packer, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from James R. Kite, Agent, O., for Jesse Dewees, Elizabeth Burgess, Samuel King, Samnel Fawcett, William Harmer, Richard Penrose, and Robert Milhouse, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Deborah Paxson, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Elias E. Paxon, $2.10, vol. 56; from George B. Allen, Pa., 2.10, vol. 56; from John D. Harrison, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from David Edgerton, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Isaac Hall, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Bettles, Ill., $2.10, vol. 56; from Benjamin W. Passmore, Pa., $6.30, $2.10, vol. 50; from Benjamin V. rassuore, 2.10, 2000, vol. 56, 3 copies, and for Sarah W. Passmore, $2.10, vol. 56; from Parker Hall, Agent, O., $2.10, vol. 56, and for William Hall, William Hall, Vr., Lewis Taber, Elwood D. Whinery, Jonathan Binns, Joseph P. Binns, David Thomas, Gilbert McGrew, Jonathan Faweett, Land D. Jonathan Faweett, and Joseph P. Lupton, Israel Steer, Lindley B. Steer, Elisha B. Steer, and Robert Smith, $2.10 each, vol. 56, and for John C. Hill, 75 cents, balance of his account; from S. H. Headley, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Hannah Stevenson, Ill., $2 10, vol. 56; from John W. Hilyard, N. J. son, In., 52 10, vol. 50; from John W. Hiyard, 8. 59, $2.10, vol. 56; from Josiah A. Roberts, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Allen John, Io., $2.10, vol. 56; from Maria Penrose, Io., $2.10, vol. 56; from Richard Pattot, George E. Young, Zachens Test and William Test, Io., per M. B. Test, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Daniel Williams, Agent, O., for Branson D. Sidwell, Asa Branson, Joseph H. Branson, William L. Ashton, Maria Walker, Mary J. French, Thomas Conrow, Mary Ann Holloway, Sarah Purviance, Juliann H. Branson, John C. Hoge, Jacob Holloway, Edwin F. Holloway, Mary Chandler, Joseph Bailey, Mary A. Mitchell, Richard Ashton, Ephraim W. Holloway, Stephen Hobson, and Henry Stenton, $2.10 cach, vol. 56; from Richard Mott, Agent, $2.10, vol. 56, and for Thomas E. Mott, Joseph Embree, Joseph Patterson, Robert W. Hampton, and Embree, Joseph Patterson, Robert W. Hampton, and William P. Young. $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Amy J. Brooks, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Elwood Thomas, Pa., $2.10, to No. 14, vol. 57; from Samuel J. Eves, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Levi I. Hoopes, Pa., $2.10, N. J., $2.10, vol. 50; from Levi I. Hoopes, Fa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Daniel J. Morrell, Pa., *2.10, vol. 56; from John T. Moorman, Io., $2.10, to No. 13, vol. 57, and for John M. Mendenhall, III., $2.10, vol. 56; from and for John at Auendemant, Int, $2.19, vol. 50; from Lydia T. Edward Michener, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Lydia T. King, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Thomas Evans, Md., and Joseph E. Mickle, Pa., $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Edmind S. Fowler, Agent, O., for Edwin Hollings-Edmind S. Fowier, Agent, O., for Edwin Hollingsworth, Thomas Hobson, Elizabeth Bowman, Stephen Hobson, Thomas Bowman, Thomas Bundy, Daniel M. Mott, Benjamin J. Hobson, and Joseph Penrose, $2.10 each, vol. 56, and for Elisha J. Holloway, $1.60, to No. 52, vol. 55; from Joshua T. Ballinger, Agent, Pa., for Deborah I. Brinton, Chrise S. Carter, John Cope, ter of the late Robert L. and Elizabeth Pitfield, in the Deborah P. Eldridge, Jesse H. Garrett, Thomas C, 58th year of her age, a member of the Monthly Meeting Hogge, Buth P. Johnson, E. Daos Smelley, Thomas F, jo Friends of Philadelphia for the Northern District.

metropolitan police. Four hundred of the latter met to complain that they were not compensated for extra twork. While the meeting was proceeding, the Chief work. Masters, W. Philadas, $2.10, vol. 56; from William Y. Warner, Grn., $2.20, vol. 56; from William Y. Warner, Grn., $2.20, vol. 56; from William Y. Warner, Grn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sissan J. Yer work. Masters, W. Philadas, $2.10, vol. 56; from Sissan J. Yer work. Masters, W. Philadas, $2.10, vol. 56; from Sissan J. Warner, Grn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Warner, W. State, Grn., Warner, Grn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sissan J. Warner, Grn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Warner, Grn., $2.10, vol. 56 Scattergood, Sarah S. Scattergood, Susan L. Ter vol. 56.

> Remittances received after Fourth-day morning will appear in the Receipts until the following week.

> CORRECTION.—In essay "Desultory Selecti and Pencillings," in last issue of "The Friend," 2 line from beginning, for "large majority," read "la minoritu.

FRIENDS' SELECT SCHOOLS.

These schools, under the care of the three Monti Meetings of Friends in this city, will re-open on Secon day, Ninth mo. 18th, 1882.

A limited number of children will now be admit who are not members of our religious Society, who parents may desire to have them educated free from unnecessary but fashionable accomplishments, too co mon in many schools at this day.

The attention of Friends residing in the city and neighborhood is invited to them. The terms are mod-ate, and Friends belonging to Philadelphia Year Meeting, sending children to these schools, (also me bers), who may find the charges burdensome, can fully relieved.

The principal schools will open for the next ter under the care of John H. Dillingham and Mary Woman, as Principals, both experienced teachers of man years' experience. Facilities for illustration are afford by a valuable collection of philosophical and chemic apparatus, minerals, and Auzoux's models of parts the human system, &c.

The primary Schools on Cherry St., and at Sixth at Noble Sts., will be continued under their former ef ent management.

Further information may be obtained upon application to the Treasurer of the Committee, JAMES SMEDLEY, No. 415 Market St.

MOORESTOWN ACADEMY.

This institution, under care of Chester Monthl Meeting of Friends, offers good opportunities for the instruction of youth, from 7 years upwards, under teachers of good attainments and qualifications, an subjected to moral and religions influences. Boardin may be obtained at reasonable rates.

Opens Ninth mo. 4th. Circulars and full informs tion may be had from SETH WARRINGTON, Moores town, Burlington Co., N. J., or WM. EVANS, 252 Sont Front St., Philadelphia.

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE, Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelphia Physician and Superintendent-John C. Hall, M. I Applications for the Admission of Patients may b made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Board Managers.

DIED, on the 31st of 7th month, at her residence in Philadelphia, after a short illness, ABIGAIL WOOD widow of Horatio C. Wood, in the 70th year of her age. This dear friend's latter days shone brighter and brighter, so that she often remarked, "If more joy wert her portion, she did not think she would be able to bear it." She felt her time was short, and earnestly bear II." She felt her time was short, and earnestly pursued the path she believed her loving Saviour was leading her in. On the 29th of 7th month, the day she was taken ill, she queried of a friend if she thought she would recover? On being answered in the affirma-On being answered in the affirmative, she asked, what her daughter thought? A similar reply being given, the friend inquired what she thought herself. She said, "I feel my Saviour very near me underneath are his everlasting arms bearing me upwhat is his will, will be done, and that is best." Several times she alluded to feeling her Saviour near her. On First-day she spoke only when roused, being in a state of extreme weakness; which continued until she quietly eeased to breathe, on Second-day as the morning was beginning to break. "The path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more to the perfect day.

, at Newport, R. I., on the 14th of 8th month, REDECCA F., widow of Charles H. Abbott, and daughter of the late Robert L. and Elizabeth Pitfield, in the

FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, NINTH MONTH 9, 1882.

NO. 5.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

ce, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON

MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J. criptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS.

PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend." Wanderings South and East.

(Concluded from page 26.) CHINA-MEXICO-PERU.

China and Japan have been made so fa- make their loads more easy. liar to modern readers, that W. Coote's ochow to see the tea plantations on the no less than these bright pretty peasant opinion, a no less wonderful specimen of hucking Hills, gives so pleasant a picture of women, for I had no idea that China produced seem to duced such homely objects."

"No one can travel in Pern without a feelasant life, that it may be quoted here.

"Immediately on reaching the crest of the ne more carefully and by hand. At last empire, wrote as follows: e tea is dried a third time until almost all ore than sixteen or seventeen years old, pher."

young women no one could wish to see the Andes to the height of 15.722 feet, W They were all neatly dressed, wearing wide Coote says; "The scenery throughout the and very short blue trousers, which covered whole ascent is simply tremendous, and nothonly very little of their brown round sturdy ing more grand or awful could be conceived. legs. Above these garments was a loose blue. The crags, precipices and peaks are those of tunic, which covered, though failed to hide nightmares and dreams, the whole terror and their well-proportioned figures. Their hair awful magnificence of the Andes being laid is always of the deepest black and shiny, I open to the spectator." am afraid, with grease, but ornamented with am arraid, with grease, our ornamented with the property of the more interesting to me than any other, artificial flowers. People who have only The sides of the mountains for many miles seen the yellow, sickly, washed-out women at a time are covered with irrigation works of the Chinese cities, can form no idea of of the old Inca race. These works are in these rosy-cheeked, chubby wenches of the the form of terraces, though smaller than the Paeling Hills; down they came in files of rice terraces of China and Japan, being in eight or ten or twelve, singing a little grunt-places mere horizontal ledges but a few feet ing tune to which they kept step in order to wide, yet admirably adapted to the growth make their loads more easy.

wide, yet admirably adapted to the growth of corn. The work that these terraces rep-

it to those countries may be passed over familiar ones as azaleas, rhododendrons and miles of hillside, and reaching to incredible ry briefly. An excursion from the city of violets were conspicuous, excited my surprise heights, is so stupendous, that it is, in my ocess the first curl is given to the leaf. Tezcucan, retiring from the government of has given place to poverty-stricken Pern." ben it is spread out again in the sun for a his country to pursue his literary inclination,

"There was a feature of the valley scenery

"The wild flowers, amongst which such resent, scattered as they are over miles and

The Spanish-American countries in gen-ing of wonder at that vast organism-the Is we found ourselves amongst the tea eral did not impress our traveller favorably. Inca empire: it is only with the temples of untations. On all sides of us were men, "Mexico in its carliest days of indepen legytand of Nineveh that such works as these men and girls stooping over the little dece stood at the very top of the tree of of the Incas can be compared. Have always the real gathering the leaves into large ancient civilization in the New World; the felt most keenly the contrast between those mboo baskets. They only pick certain Tezencans and the Aztecs in many ways sur-past and these present days; it is ever upon ung and green leaves, which must be seted with some care, and they do it with vancement. Again, Mexico in the early days past that the most despicable human condionderful quickness and dexterity. From of colonization was the most magnificent of tions of the present are to be found. In the ese plantations we passed on to the little all the Spanish possessions. It has now fallen Nile valley and amongst the ruins of Syria; mhouses, where we found them earrying to the very lowest place among nations, and at poor modern Tunis, or amongst the hovels the various other processes for preparing has become an actual bye-word 'with none on the plain of Smyrna, turn where you e tea for the city market. On being brought is poor to do it reverence.' As I think of will to seek monuments of the past, and the from the fields it is spread out on large this I am tempted to quote a few lines from very Pariahs of modern races shall you find. ats in the sun for a short time, after which the works of one of the old kings of this And if the lowest of Eastern peoples are to be is put into flat trays of four or five feet di-land, a monarch who reigned many years found at Thebes and Carthage and Ephesus peter and rolled by men's feet. The coolies before Columbus discovered the West Indies, and Nineveh, the same fact is no less observe their toes like fingers, and curl the tea and who was the most high-minded and en-into a large ball, rolling it in that manner lightened perhaps of all barbarie potentates, and Aztees have been supplanted by the lawund and round the circular tray; by this In his old age, this king, Nezahualcoyotl, the less Mexicans, and the royal land of the Incas

"We passed out of Peru with the Chileno tle while, and then curled once more, this perhaps anticipating the downfall of his great flag flying over one of her most valuable distriets, and an expensive and disastrous war "All things on earth bave their term, and, raging along her whole coast line; with Cale green color has left it, when it is ready in the most joyous career of their vanity and lao in a state of perpetual alarm at the rerefiring. Very little firing goes on in the splondor, their strength fails, and they sink ported advent of the Chileno fleet, and Lima a districts, that little being done over redictions are strength fails, and they sink ported advent of the Chileno fleet, and Lima a districts, that little being done over rediction to the dust. * * * The great, the wise, in the now almost chronic throes of revolute thereon in the peasants' cottages. The the valiant, the beautiful, alas! where are tion and anarchy. There seems to be a judgal operation consists of packing it tightly they now? They are all mingled with the ment on these Spanish Americans for that to hags weighing half a picul or sixty-clod; and that which has befullen them shall greaterine at Caxamalca, when the ransomed two pounds, in which state it is sent down beautiful. ven pounds, in which state it is sent down happen to us and to those which come after Inca was burnt in the great square, and the us. Yet let us take courage, illustrious no- honor of Spain and the fair name of Chris-"We met scores of women and young bles and chieftains, true friends and loyal sub tianity were dragged in the very dust. That rls on our way up, carrying these bags jects, let us aspire to that heaven where all murder perpetrated by Pizarro three hunown the mountains. They hang one on is eternal and corruption cannot come. The dred and fifty years ago is perhaps, the foul-tich end of a bamboo pole, which makes horrors of the tomb are but the cradle of est crime in the long black list of wickedcir load at least a hundred and thirty-four the sun, and the dark shadows of death as ness that history can show: it seems that his bunds apiece. This enormous weight they brilliant lights for the stars.' I fear there are own assassination in Lima was not punishill take for ten, twelve and fifteen miles few modern Mexicans with either the wis ment enough; it seems that the full of his the day. Many of the girls were not dom or the religion of this old royal philoso-race and at last of the whole line of Viceroys was not enough; it seems that the nd more healthy, merry, and even pretty Of the Oroya railroad in Peru which climbs crimes of those bloodthirsty Conquerors are still bearing their punishment even unto these our consistent godly lives, that we have re- AN EXAMPLE OF SELF-DENIAL AND FAIT

For "The Friend,"

Desultory Selections and Pencillings.

PLAINNESS AND SIMPLICITY IN DRESS.

Dress, to be consistent with the spirit of Quakerism, should not be merely plain in before men, that they may see your good color and form, but in the simplicity and in-works and glorify your Father which is in expensiveness of the material. Such a garb heaven," has lost none of its binding obligator our poor perishing bodies as would show tion upon every follower of Christ. Then is that we took little thought about it, further there not danger of our so swimming with than was necessary to convenience and neat-the current, in our so amply providing for the feel at liberty to consult only self-inclinate ness. Such as should not occasion the re-desires of the fleshly mind in relation to these and then to go when and where they lis mark that is often made, that the Friends' worldly gratifications and indulgences, as to dress though peculiar in its style of plainness, overlook consistency, and to render in the

for more faithfulness in holding up our standard very questionable? and of plainness and simplicity, and in such a Under those circ ard of platiness and simplicity, and in such a manner that we shall not be stumbling blocks to those who are inquiring into the ground of blessed Lord and Lawgiver!—"Watch and ton, and before setting such examples? our testimonies. The tide of fashionable folly pray lest ye enter into temptation." Nothing such "lose time" which, it may be in the coseems at its very height, and its votaries are short of this can preserve any steadfast in the following its course of extravagance to the truth as it is in Jesus. And oh! that there extent of wicked indulgence, so that dress and was more heed given to his still small voiceshow would seem to be the object of life with to his internal reproofs—to the restraints of and even life, are talents to be used under some of the young women who parade their his cross—to the preciousness of his holy ex-direction of the Great Husbandman, and finery in our streets; it is enough to make the ample-to his law written on the heart, as a world lying in wickedness. When adopted, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, not in the spirit of self-righteousness or sec-zealous of good works." tarianism, but in simple obedience to the light of Truth as manifested to the waiting, watchful soul, it will be a means of preservation to them. So may our dear young friends nexion with evil; for those who profess to be in Pennsylvania and the Jerseys, during the questioning obedience, and they may find that which sets right bounds to our desires, and Smith, of Marlborough, in Pennsylvania, a this humbling, mortifying way of confessing leads those who faithfully follow it, to apply aged minister, who had witnessed, as he be their Saviour, is just what their spiritual health all the gifts of Divine Providence to the purposes lieved, considerable declension among hi requires. "Whose adorning, let it not be that for which they were intended. outward adorning of plaiting the bair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel; der Divine visitation, feel an inward enquiry the following purport: 'That he had been moderation be known unto all men:" for the cere inquirers. superadded reason, "The Lord is at hand."

commended by his consistent practice, that a part in their customary way of living from man's increase of means was no excuse for that purity of life, which under humbling exindulgence in excesses of any kind; especially ercises has been opened before them as the if such excesses might tend to entangle him- way of the Lord's people, how mournful and If such excesses might tend to entangle mines and the prospect of the life, might prove discouraging is the prospect! and how strong-prejudicial to his children, might be a bad by doth such unfaithfulness operate against the example to others, or might abridge his charity spreading of the peaceable, harmonious prin- Society. That there had been a continued in-last generations of these that have hated nounced its ways, wages and customs! and are, as we profess, the filial, self-denying followers of Him who "pleased not himself;" who bought us that we might glorify Him; verifying the language: "Ye are not your own"-"ye are not of the world, even as I am not of the world."

The injunction, "Let your light so shine dress though peculiar in its state. Plantage of the richest of silks and the view of critical observers any real difference tiquarian research and novel entertainment. between man and man—between the professor If, as saith the apostle, "we are not our ov

Under these circumstances, how imperamore thoughtful blash with very shame for our sufficiency and guide into all truth! This How faithfully, then, should we seek to kin would induce a "Looking diligently lest any whether heavenly approbation, direction a man fail of the grace of God," with also a unction—within the reach of all—be vouc people is a safe-guard against the evils which "Looking for that blessed hope, and the safed! which are so necessary to a right wa follow in the course of fashion—the corrupt glorious appearing of the great God and our and warfare through this perilous journey conversation—the pernicious reading—the Saviour, Jesus Christ; who give himself for very responsible existence. dangerous maxims and debasing pleasures of us, that He might redeem us from all iniquity,

BEWARE OF BEING STUMBLING-BLOCKS.

"As every degree of luxury hath some connot be discouraged by the cry so often raised disciples of Christ, and are looked upon as period from 1750 to 1820, it may be more dif against plainness, that it is a form of self-leaders of the people, to have that mind in cult to speak with precision. In many par rightcousness; that it is not bearing the cross them, which was also in Christ, and so stand much weakness existed, particularly in the of Christ, but making a cross for ourselves; separate from every wrong way, is a means period preceding the revolutionary war. Probut if they feel that the Master calls for this of help to the weaker. * * I have felt an periods in the things of time, too many were sacrifice from them, offer it in child-like, un-increasing care to attend to that Holy Spirit forgetful of those pertaining to eternity. Joh

but let it be * * even the ornament of a meek after God, and when such in the simplicity of member of our Society upwards of sixty years and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God their hearts mark the lives of a people who and he well remembered that in those early profess to walk by the leadings of his Spirit, times, Friends were a plain, lowly-minder "No less care should be exercised and ob- of what great concern is it that our lights people; and that there was much tendernes served with respect to the size of our houses, shine clear, that nothing in our conduct carry and contrition in their meetings. the style of our furniture, and the general a contradiction to the Truth as it is in Jesus, twenty years from that time, the Society in manner of our living; so that the precept of or be a means of profaning his holy name, the apostle be not trenched upon: "Let your and be a stumbling-block in the way of sin-

"When such seekers, wearied with empty It was a sage testimony borne by Samuel forms, look towards uniting with us as a peo-Bettle the elder, and one which he no less ple, and behold active members among us deDEVOTEDNESS

It is related of Daniel Wheeler that v on his religious visit to the South Sea Island he was solicited to visit a volcano not no miles off, and which, as he had never t would undoubtedly have been an object interest to bim. He replied "No: th. was not in his certificate; and that he afraid to lose the time, not knowing might depend on it."

Should not the above relation conve cautionary hint to those of our members pursuit of new things-even to crossing nest of cloths.

There surely never was a time which called representation of Christ and him who denies Him—to be ought there not to be a recognition very questionable? sels of Heavenly wisdom, should be otherw appropriated, and thence without "know

A TESTIMONY CONCERNING THE CHURCH. "The middle of the last century was a ve low period with the Christian Church und various names and in most countries. Of the state and condition of the Society of Friend brethren, expressed himself on this subject i "I trust there are many who at times, un- 1764, in a meeting of ministers and elders, t creasing in wealth, and in some degree con forming to the fashions of the world, true humility was less apparent, and their meet ings in general were not lively and edifying That at the end of forty years, many of them were grown very rich; and many of the Society made a specious appearance in the world; that marks of outward wealth and greatness appeared on some in our meetings of ministers and elders; and as such things became more prevalent, so the powerful overshadow to the poor. If we are truly "not of the ciples and testimony of Truth amongst man erease of such ways of life, even until the preworld," how can we do other than prove by kind P—John Woolman. sent time, and that the weakness that had

THE LORD WILL STILL HAVE A PEOPLE.

m, who raised us up by the breath of his have so long and so unworthily partaken, thful, and those that humble themselves in I have a people peculiarly formed for Him-end. f, who shall purely show forth his praise, e the Lord, and to be crueified with Christ;

African Malaria.

orers contain frequent allusions to the maial fever, with which many parts of the He has his route to think about; he has to tinent are so infested, that few travellers note the characteristics of the country, to em die from its effects.

ects of this fever, and of the best means sleep. resisting its depressing influences. This iter, who speaks from experience, says:

nich are thus described:

w overspread the Society, and the barren-purer atmosphere. It seemed to take the Under these conditions mountains were cross ss manifest among us, is matter of much form of rheumatic fever, and acted with such ed, and more lay before us. dire effect on my lungs and heart that I "On leaving Mtandala we had a long march thought it would kill me. The hard work of to reach the next village. The men got into an entire day seemed concentrated in each camp after midday, but I was so far behind Whatever may be the good pleasure of step I took. Every few feet I had to stop, gasping for breath and blowing like a brokenrd, with regard to the undisturbed enjoy-winded horse, while my heart palpitated in mock to carry me. That I knew would only nt of those sweet privileges of fellowship the most alarming manner. My mind be-have been torture amongst such precipitous cether, as a visibly distinct body, of which came dazed and stupid, while my poor limbs hills. However, as I could not get along, a seemed made of jelly, so utterly incapable of rope was tied round my waist, and with this dust before Him, will never be utterly journey, wearily dragging myself behind the umphantly into camp like a valuable prisoner saken or forgotten :- that these will never caravan, and struggling desperately to keep of war. altogether disappointed of their confidence, up with it, but finding myself each day gradubugh they have the bread of affliction and ally falling back till I would be left alone in altitude and got into purer air the same ter of adversity administered for a long with my servant in the lonely solitude of the effect was produced, already described as mark-

About a month later the party reached a and reduced him terribly. He became parbe enabled to lift up his standard to the point almost in sight of Lake Nyassa, towards tially delirious and excessively irritable. He y truth, not feignedly,—and who in proof "Yet," he says, "I felt as if it required more caged, and in my impotent rage would alreof are given up to follow Him in the restrength than I possessed to reach it. The most dash my head against any obstruction. neration and daily cross, I trust will not be frightful fever which attacked me on first The weaker I grew, and the more mable to mitted to be moved by afflictions, nor be leaving the lowlands, still clung to me like a wreak my vengeance physically on any of ried away by delusions, nor exalted by vampire, sucking my heart's blood. But for my men who thwarted me, I developed a cerindance of revelations, nor turned aside by the rule 1 adopted 1 think 1 should never tain strength of language which would have 5 business or the pleasures, the cares or have survived to get so far. That rule was astonished those who know me. I make this hes of this life, or by the love of other simply to keep marching on as long as my confession in justice to the Zanzibar porters. ngs; but these are concerned to lie low be-legs would sustain me, and never to be car. We hear frequently about their troublesome ried by my men. For an African traveller conduct, desertions, obstinacy, &c. But we it so they may say in truth, 'I live, yet not to half that he may get better is the worst are never told how much they have to bear out Christ liveth' and moveth and reigneth policy possible. With nothing to amuse him, from their masters, when they have lost all me." "—John Barclay." he lies and groans in his tent. There is little moral control of themselves by incessant to think of but his troubles, his delays, and troubles, and throw on the most frivolous his thousand and one vexations, while a burn-pretexts, sticks, books, boots or the strongest ing sun pours down on his flimsy tent. He language of Billingsgate, at them. The journals of most of the African ex- is thus apt to become worse rather than better. But when on the march it is different.

more attacks of the disease; and many of keep a vigilant eye on the men, so that every-

ion, and by manfully fighting the baleful not be. Poor Johnston's tortures rose too tempt to remove them. Being in earnest to duence. The man who has nothing to do, vividly before my eyes. For more than a succeed we applied more strength, and persewon't do what he has to do, is sure to suc- month at this time my memory entirely for- vered, till those which could not be pulled up mb in a few months, and degenerate into sook me, so that I have sat at night vainly were broken off, and our lot was cleared of idiot or a baby. He becomes the helpless attempting to write up my diary, and almost them. tim of manifold bilious troubles, and is tearing my hair in despair. The day's jour. We ntinually open to attacks of fever, diarrheea, ney would appear as a perfect blank, and I pleasure on the clean appearance it presented, dysentery. His mental energy flies with would sit and stare at vacancy like an idiot, clothed with grass and free from weeds. We physical, till any sustained thought is im-when I tried to think whether or not we had were busy, here and there, for some time, and ssible, and to pass the time he must dose crossed any streams, passed any villages, or almost forgot our old experience with the sh and day, except when he is grumbling seen any mountains. I could not remember weeds, when we one day found a few weakly defaming the climate. Hard constant the names of any of my friends. And thus I docks here and there among the grass. They ork is the great preserver. Sweat out the would sit in the most Indicrous plight, en-looked insignificant, but at a leisure moment daria and the germs of disease, and less deavoring to recall what had marked our large deavor the ground intending to eradi-ll be heard of the energy-destroying elimate course. I have actually a clearer idea now the tropies."

of the incidents of each day's march that I tempted to pull them they invariably broke As he ascended the mountain ridges which had at the close of any particular day, and off instead of drawing out, and at last we found m the flanks of the central plateau of but for my constant habit of jotting down at they were shoots from the old roots left behind rica, he felt more evidently the effects of the moment whatever occurred or was seen, when we first tried to clear our ground of s long sojourn in the malarious lowlands, my map and diary would have shown a con-them. They were again broken off and left, siderable hiatus. And now when I had got again to put up an appearance later in the "The poison began to show itself, and as almost within reach of Nyassa I was so weak season and once more to give us the trouble with my good servant Uledi that the men became alarmed, and came back with a ham-It was bauled up the mountain, while two men thing, and those that humble themselves in "In this dreadful condition I continued my steadied me behind. I was thus brought tri-

At a later period of his journey, as he rose son and in large measure:-the Lord will mountains, to wonder where all this would ing the change from the coast lowlands to the mountains. The malaria began to work out

We had on our farm an old enclosure which o remain long in its precincts escape one hold consultations with guides and chiefs, and lay long uncultivated. Owing to the press of business, incident to farm occupations, it was thing may be straight. His mind is thus little looked after, till at length our attention In the narrative of the "East Central Afri-drawn away from his troubles. The physical was attracted by noticing that the spot was n Expedition," written by Joseph Thomson, exertion helps to keep his system in better growing up with weeds. Among them we me interesting statements are made of the working order, and enables him to eat and saw docks, and knowing them to be "vile eets of this fever, and of the best means sleep." "On this principle then I moved on. I moment to endeavor to eradicate them. Some never allowed my illness to stop me a single were mere seedlings, of recent growth, and "It is a well known fact that the only way day. Perhaps some may be skeptical when these yielded to a smart pull and came out, resist successfully the enervating effects of I say that I have frequently marched till I root and all; but some were more vigorous, numid tropical climate is by constant ex-have fallen on the road, but carried I would well rooted in the soil, and resisted the at-

We went our way, and at times looked with were to coze out under the effects of a that I could hardly lift a weight of six pounds, of trying to be rid of them. At last we were forced to do, what ought to have been done lament the poverty of their book-shelves set in the soil, and hard to move; but by the able use of one's books is the formation of a spreading and evil weed. is careful to watch lest any evil of this world's The reader who overcomes the first feeling of growth take root and mar the beauty of a inertia, and, instead of postponing his studies clean heart. But the cares and daily occur- to a time that never comes, makes now his rences of life sometimes get so entangled with opportunity, will be surprised to find how soon our better moments that they gain an undue his sense of increased intellectual strength will "Thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of ascendency, and habits are formed, or ways of become apparent to himself and his friends. worldliness fallen into, which mar the sweetness of our early love for the Truth. If these are not watched against, the weeds of the world take root and become fixtures in our characters, hard to turn away from. After a time some of them become quite conspicuous to ourselves, and we are led to look over our conduct-the loving Master moving us thereto by his Spirit-we see and mourn our weakened love, and carnestly set our hearts to overcome these failings, as we call them. If we do so as we ought, and come humbly to our Lord asking the help and strength He can give us, we will know a victory which will be permanent; but too many of us do, as we did with Docks, go to work in our own strength and will to break off from what we see are wrong in our ways. We turn from these growing evils, and watching over ourselves, realize a reformation for a season. Thinking we have known an overcoming, we guard against them for a time, but busy times of a worldly character intervene, and we become slack in this watchfulness, till at length we waken up to the knowledge that the old evil roots have sprung up once more in our hearts. We sometimes try to excuse ourselves thinking they are but little things, brought out by care and trouble, and we are tempted to pass them by as some of the frailties of human nature-matters of small moment, though forced to admit they mar our happiness :- wishing to ignore the truth that these little things spring from the old uneradicated root of wrong.

Well will it be for us if, in mercy, we early see our state, for if we would know a return ing and rest we must get down to the root of the matter,-not now in our own way and strength, but seeking in heartfelt prayer for divine help, know these evils eradicated from our hearts. Ah me! what work some of these old roots, grown too near to our hearts, give us, ere we know a thorough cleansing, and the sweet peace of a pure heart is again ours. Reader, thoroughly search thy heart; it may be some wrong things thou thought destroyed are faintly eoming to the surface again because the old roots are yet alive. Beware of Docks, new or old!

Use Your Books. - Individual owners of books do not always get much advantage from the books on their shelves. A very small percentage of the volumes contained in many a home, are put to constant and serviceable use. The books are there, ready to instruct or to amnse; but their possessors fail to "get the good of them." Just as men and women express their desire for more faith and more grace, but do not use the faith and grace they have, so do they sigh for more books, and at the first, to get a dock-spade and lift the while neglecting to avail themselves of the SINS CAST INTO THE DEPTHS OF THEE, roots out of the ground. They were old, well existing stock. A good beginning for a profit. "Thou wilt cast all my sins into the depths, the state of th aid of the spade, and some hard labor, they habit of looking up things at the time when Deep sea! in whose unfathomed caves were all taken out and the land cleared of a they are uppermost in the mind. You are not quite sure of the spelling or meaning of a Now reader, for the moral of all this. The certain word; perhaps you have dodged it for Christian, desirous of doing his duty, as he say five to fifty years; get down your Web-enters the vineyard of his own heart to labor, ster or Worcester, and fix it in your mind.

Like Egypt's submerged chivalry.

Like the army and horse, the shield, bow and query.

TO WHICH KINGDOM?

Selected.

A TRUE INCIDENT

A hnsh in the school-room prevailed; Each heart with expectancy burned, For the Kaiser was coming that day, And all eyes to the portals were turned.

And now he has entered the room,

Lo, that Kaiser, so stately and proud; He has gazed on each sunny head there That before him in reverence is bowed.

And now every heart gives a throb, As before him is stationed a class, And the Kaiser, so great and so tall, Thus questions a bright little lass:

"To which kingdom belongeth this rose?" Taking one from the vase by his side; Her blue eyes were lifted to his, "To the Vegetable," quick she replied.

"Right, right, little maiden; and this?" And forth from his pocket he drew A fair jeweled watch, with its chain, And then held it up to her view.

Not a doubt to her blue eyes arose, As she stood 'neath the Kaiser's proud gaze, But clear came her answer again: "To the mineral, sir, if you please."

With a smile at her answer so quaint, Said the Kaiser, so mighty and high: " And now, little maid, can you tell Of which kingdom a member am I?"

Ah! poor little maid, 'twas indeed A specimen strange to her eyes: She gazed at the Kaiser, so tall, But mute were her lips with surprise.

A specimen rare—that wise little maid That question had not heard before; Of the kingdoms three, to which he belonged, That Kaiser-it puzzled her sore.

And the spotted tigers as well, And the lions, too, with bristling mane. And their kingdom she quickly could tell. But a Kaiser! ah, never before

The elephant great she had seen,

Had she seen one so stately and grand; Sure, not with the rose or the watch, Or the elephant huge, could he stand.

A sweet puzzled look filled her eyes, And she stood in a wondering maze; On the stately form and the kingly brow Of the Kaiser she fixed her gaze.

But now springs a light to her eyes, As, placing his hand on her head, "To which kingdom!" he questions again; "To the Kingdom of Heaven!" she said.

Ah! wise little maid! may thy words A prophecy truly unfold And when thou shalt enter the Kingdom above, Thou may'st then the Kaiser behold. N. Y. Tribune.

sea."-Micah vii, 19,

Our sins are cast and found no more; No tempest rage, no surging waves, Can beat them back upon the shore.

They slumbered deep down on the coral-paved ion So our legion transgressions are buried forever; In judgment they rise to condemn us no more Buried forever!

sea"

How gracious the tidings for you and for me!

Deep sea! the load from sight is lost; But where the mighty burden fell,
Though many a gallant ship has crossed,
There is no milestone left to tell.

Evermore

Unsounded caverns, low and deep, Forever will the secret keep Oh, yes! the great burden is sunk in no river, Which the drought of the summer to sight n restore ;

It is plunged in the ocean depths, buried forever, In judgment to rise and condemn us no more; Buried forever! Evermore

"Thou wilt cast all their sins in the depths of it

Thrice blessed the tidings for you and for me!

J. R. Macdi

For "The Frien

A Word in Season.

As a friend was walking along the stre of Philadelphia about the middle of the d he passed the corner of Second and Wal streets, where at that hour may generally found a group of loungers. His attention v arrested by hearing, behind him, the name the Supreme Being attered in a careless to Looking around, he noticed that it came from a stout-built, weather-beaten man, perhi past the meridian of life, who had just join one of the small knots of men who were loui ing about; and that it seemed to be a me salutation to his friends, and not the result any feeling of anger.

Our friend paused a few moments to co sider what was his own duty in the case. was very possible that any advice from h would not be kindly received, and might n prove of any real benefit to the person whom it was addressed. But yet it was in portant to keep his own conscience clear any neglect of duty. After deliberating short time, the right course seemed clear; at finding a lull in the conversation, he spoke the man and requested his attention. I willingly stepped aside, and listened to the a vice given him to avoid using the sacred nam unnecessarily. There was no irritation; bu a kind response to the remarks made, and repeated and hearty thanking of the one wh had thus shown an interest in his welfare.

The friend passed on, not only relieved (the concern that had pressed upon him, bu with a sweet sense of tenderness and spiritus refreshment, which reminds one of what wa said many years ago of Samuel Emlen,-tha he earned his daily bread by jobbing.

Simple and common-place as this little in cident is, it illustrates the way in which Christians are led. Their preservation and growth in grace largely depend on their watchfulness to the pointings of duty, offer in very little matters; and on the honest faith t the good of the land."

For " The Friend."

Spiritual Gifts.

iritual discernment holds a prominent place.
is virtually the basis of all other gifts. The ness with which they obey the commands cumstances. When such nurse or nurses are avowed to Count Kesselef, infinitely noble, the Lord of the vineyard, and perform the father or mother, or both, having a good un. She was animated by wounded vanity, and ork which He assigns them. Such will ex-derstanding of the mind of the physician, and incurred no personal destruction when she rience the fulfilment of the Scripture pro a deep interest in the health of the children, caused the death of 200,000 men and the waste se-"If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall and faithfully advise submission to the need- of eight milliards of francs. The "Yes; and ful treatment, such advice ought to have a I don't repent of it a bit," seems more horrisalutary effect. Herein the younger in re- ble than the destruction .- Herald of Peace. ligious experience should be subject to those who have arrived at greater maturity. The Those who occupy the responsible position members who are under the care and teachministers and elders, should be changed ing of the one Master, will be very much of rsons, should know the work of regenera- one mind, and will witness a comfort and cate speaks encouragingly of the progress of on in their own particulars, and also a right strength in being "subject one to another in their denomination in Rome. They have alification for the work to which they are love." May the heart of the fathers be turned recently received two persons who had been Among the gifts which God bestows upon to their fathers, that God's blessing may rest hoped would be useful among the people. e members of his church, that of true upon the earth.

ribe who is instructed unto the kingdom the late Count Kesselef's memoirs which are declaration or affirmation. The Government heaven, and qualified to bring forth out of coming out (in French) at St. Petersburg, is recommended a religious oath, with a diss treasure, things new and old, has given an account of the visit of the Grand Duke pensation for persons entertaining religious ood heed to the evidence of right and wrong, Constantine to the Imperial Court of France, scruples; while the Roman Catholic chiefs at has been afforded in the lines of his own Count Kesselef, be it remembered, was then demanded the retention of the old Church perience. By this evidence, the minister ambassador of the Czar Alexander to Napoleon oath, with the infliction of heavy penalties in tains to soundness in word and doctrine, to III., and an elderly, grave, and observant old case of its violation. Some parts of the now the Shepherd's putting ferth; to recog-gentleman who wished to think the best of debate were intensely exciting. The most ze the provision that a compassionate Sa-everyone. At the dinners and dejeuners given powerful speech in favor of the Committee's our deigns to bless for the benefit of the in honor of the Grand Duke, his Imperial report was made by Jules Roche. He desople. And each disciple is enabled to know Highness sat on the right hand of her Majesty scribed with wonderful effect the Roman hat portion they have to hand forth, and and Count Kesselet on the left. They found Catholic efforts for centuries to tyrannize hen the people have enough. It is practical her voluble, laughter-loving, and yet preten-over the conscience, and hurled against the isdom for ministers to know and observe tious, and animated with a burning desire defending logic of their leaders, with tree right time to begin and conclude their to prove that it was she who really held the mendous emphasis, the stubborn facts conrvice. To feed, but not overcharge the peo-sceptre. One morning, at a gala drjeuner, she nected with the massacre of St. Bartholomew, e. By a faithful exercise of this gift of God, suddenly, in her talkative way, said to the and their prolonged persecutions of the Huguee clder is made quick of discerning in his Grand Duke, "Oh! I was going to tell you nots. He closed by denouncing these persecuar.

Those on whom God is pleased to bestow pened, when the Emperor interrupted in a spring still suffering. The effect of his argument special gifts, He prepares for the position logan in a letter from the Czar. Nicholas, in is shown by the vote which followed the der which He designs them. Many are the answer to the one in which we had announced bate. An amendment, ingeniously offered to covings to which they are subjected in the our marriage. The Emperor took it into my meet all objections to the oath by defining it ery furnace. In these severe operations room one morning to read it to me. When as a mere attestation, not implying any prote vessel may be marred by the enemy in be was folding it up he observed that it was fession of religious belief, was lost by a vote is transformations, suggesting an easier way. cold. I said. It is worse—it is severe. The of 220 to 205, and the formula, "On my honor, ut as there is a passive endurance until judg- exact word I made use of was (here the Em- faith, and conscience I swear," was adopted. ent is brought forth unto victory, ability is press turned round, and put her lips close to be used to offer unto the Lord an offering in my ear,) it is coarsely rude grossiere. How paper, published in Bengal, speaks as follows selected to other unto the Lord an olivring in my ear,) "It is coarsely rude grossers." How my left, published in Bedgas, speaks is nows glateousness. In such an experience there do you make that out? returned the Emotive the excellence of the Bible: "It is the best a growth, as from the child to the strong peror. "Why read it again, and you will see," and most excellent of all English books, and an. As in the physical developments when life re-read. He admitted that I was right, there is not its like in the English language, health and the enjoyment of suitable food and said he would reflect over the matter. I also every joint of the sugar cane, from the respective to the super scale, and the super scale that the super scale with the most isldem. Those who have to teach doctrine, Majesty, I interposed, 'caused the death of precious instruction. A portion of that book ad to feed the flock, have first to be taught 200,000 men and the destruction of eight would yield to you more of sound morality nemselves, and to partake of the food that is milliards of frances? 'I did, and I don't re-than a thousand other treatises on the same ponvenient for them. If they are to be minters of Christ, He must first minister to turbations must take place in the lives of English language with a view to gaining nem. He, from time to time, enlarges their nations. France (the Emperor and herself) wisdom, there is not another book which is inds in spiritual things, giving them underly anding in the Scriptures. During these regain her ancient position. Thanks to the lessed experiences they may have to endure recently things the enemy, with his determined to be sold the enemy of the enemy, with his deligible processing the enemy, with his deligible processing the enemy, with his deligible processing the enemy, with this deligible processing the enemy, with the deligible processing the enemy, with the deligible processing the enemy of the enemy flight, and make suggestions to the teach-seated opposite, was on pins and needles. He church. ble mind that are liable to be mistaken for called over to the Empress, "I dare say you be teachings of Christ; and will lead from are talking politics." She was going to anne simplicity of the truth as it is in Jesus; swer, when he rose, and made a sign to her that the breakfast was at an end. The Embrought of superior attainments—which is press was also the author of the war with Adams, of Kings College, London, describes piritual disease. When such is the case, Prussia. She called it maguerre a moi. She is in Nature certain electrical effects experienced arough temptation in whatever form, there sorry that she risked it, I believe, but it does in the Alps. We reached, he says, the top of but one Physician that can prescribe, or not appear that she has "repented" in the Hps. We reached, he says, the top of pply the remedy. A refusal to take the theological sense of the word. The motives of by a violent halistorm, which came rolling up rescription, or receive the application, will Hartmann and his associates which led them from the northern side of the Col. We at ggravate or prolong the disease. A careful to blow up a railway train were certainly, as once started to return, and had been walking ttendant nurse is very useful under such circompared to those which the Empress Eugènic for two hours down the centre of the Aletsch

Religious Items, &c.

Methodists in Rome.—The Christian Advoto the children, and the heart of the children Catholic priests, and whose labors it was

Judicial Oaths in France.—In the French Chambers the bill from the Committee on Empress Eugenie and the Crimean War.—In Judicial oaths proposed a uniform secular glacier when the electrical effects began to be saw it growing in thickets on the waste lands markable. The ill-usage of the other felt. We were enveloped in cloud, above near Auckland; and, though some enthusiasts still continued, and at last the cock ways charged with electricity, and as they ap preparing the soil for more remunerative kennel. Probably from the perpetual b proached we were gradually being charged crops, I think the farmers would certainly ing which he endured, he fell ill, and more and more strongly by induction from have preferred its absence. Certainly, those morning was found dead in the kennel, lyn the lower cloud, and when the discharges of of Australia do not attempt to conceal their closely pressed to his only friend. - J. G. H thunder occurred we were suddenly relieved dismay at its extraordinary increase. It is by an electric shock. A kind of brush disbarely a quarter of a century since the very charge of gradually increasing intensity went first thistle was imported to Australia and on for some minutes, followed by a sudden landed safely at Port Philip. Every Scotchshock, and this process of bringing us up to man in Victoria made pilgrimage to the capithe right state of excitement, to be relieved tal to have a look at the old familiar emblem by a sudden shock, was repeated over and and dream of home. A great public dinner over again several times.

For " The Friend,"

Natural History, Science, &c.

An Electrified Party. - Professor W. G.

alpenstocks, and gradually increased in loud-Many were the speeches made and toasts lished in No. 1 of the present volume. ness up to the sudden discharge. There were drunk on the occasion, and the enthusiasm correspondent thinks that the terms use less in to the student discharge. There were knew no bounds. Afterward, this thistle was "A Yearly Meeting for Canada"—"virtur tricity, we were not all of the same capacity. carefully planted in its new kingdom, and gives to the other meeting a right to be ide We were roped together in threes; in one set right royal has been its rule. Never was fied as Canada Yearly Meeting; and it d of three I was in the middle. While the conquered country held with a firmer grip, not accord to us any right to such identit charging was going on I felt a pricking sensa. The stately thistle proved so prolifie in the ition at the waist on the side where the cord congenial soil and kindly climate that now suppose our words would bear such a congenial soil and kindly climate that now suppose our words would bear such a congenial soil and kindly climate that now suppose our words would bear such as was knotted, showing that those who were thousands of acres of the farmers' best land struction, and we had no intention of conv mendation of bearing a considerable amount same way, both in Ceylon and Tabiti, I have One part adhering to the old discipline de of frost, so that in temperatures like that of seen the lantana, introduced a few years ago termined to meet at Pickering and re-establis Arran it could be grown in the open air. In as an ornamental garden shrub, now overrunthe Yearly Meeting on original ground, an South Africa it seems never to attain to the ning thousands of acres, to the despair of the invited [Norwich Friends] to join them. enormous weight of extra large Australian cultivators; and in Tahiti and Hawaii, I have other part sanctioned the act of the Yearl specimens. Todeas are often seen in Ameri-ridden through miles of guava scrub, all de Meeting and met at Norwich. can collections of exotic ferns, usually kept seended from a few guava bushes introduced under glass cases, as it seems almost impos in fruit gardens. - Gentleman's Magazine. sible for them to thrive anywhere but in a close and damp atmosphere. In such glass Edinburg sent me this remarkable anecdote eases, however, they thrive amazingly, and of sympathy in a dog: those who have them usually feel that they have something to be proud of when they ex- farmer friend in the neighborhood of the city that have been made, that the body with hibit them to admiring friends. - Gardener's and Jack's kennel was placed in the farm-Monthly.

Mischievous Plants.—That water-cress which what was originally so carefully planted in an attempt to get any food. the streams has spread in such dense masses and choke their mouths. In Otago and Can- to leave some of his food, to earry his 'bicker' plant; and thousands of pounds are annually down where the cock could get it, and stand year. expended in the effort to check its too luxu-on watch all the time in order to protect him. A letter written by a friend of Pickering riant growth. The innocent daisy, round Sometimes he would leave the bicker inside says: "The report on Pastoral work opened which weary, toil-worn men assembled in al-the kennel, and, if the bird were near at hand, the way for fone of the strangers in attendmost tearful homage, does not seem to have he would go round about him until he got ance] to advance some of his views. He said which there were no doubt other clouds maintained that it was doing good work in customed regularly to take refuge in the was given in its honor, and the precious plant Canada, which refers to the short accoun The hissing sounds were first heard in the occupied the post of honor on the table, the proceedings of their Yearly Meeting p more influenced by electrical induction were are completely cropped with thistles, and no ing such an impression. As the status of the charging the others through the rope, which acted as a conductor.—Chr. Advocate.

As the status of the status of the state of the Colossal Fern.—Recently a huge stump- pounds have been expended in carrying out Meeting, we simply desired to avoid an fern, Todea, was brought away from its seelu-various schemes for its extermination; but pression of opinion upon it. sion in the Dandenong Ranges, near Port the hardy invader laughs at them all, and Philip. After the removal of its hundreds of blooms as fresh and fair as ever it did on its outline of the position of the two bodies: fronds, the stump-like trunk weighed 2900 own native soil. Indeed, it is a much stronger pounds. It required to be dragged by a train and handsomer plant than were its Scottish separate meeting which they managed to g of oxen out of its recess, where it may have ancestors. Another plant, which in all these the Yearly Meeting to acknowledge, and le grown for more than a century to accumulate isles has taken a too vigorous hold of the soil our meetings untouched which we held in the substance of its massive stem. This mon- is the common sweet-briar. Introduced for isolated manner, and made no report for tw of Melbourne. Giant Todeas may be obtained cially in Tasmania, has become so strong and managed to adopt a new discipline (contained) from South Australia (Mount Lofty Ranges), so tenacious that it is impossible to keep it ing doctrines at variance with Friends pri various places in Victoria, Tasmania, New within bounds. Its thick roots penetrate the ciples) in the face of a protest, and man South Wales and Queensland, but specimens soil to a great depth; and it forms a dense Friends would not submit to it, and Wer South wates and queensand, but specimens son to a great depth; and it folias a dense ritional would not submit to be and weighing over half a ton (without fronds) are scrub, to the total destruction of what were rare. This colossal fern has also the recom- formerly pleasant pasture lands. Just in the in sentiment that a separation took place

Amongst them happened to be a poor, un-Society; and that both Yonge Street and I gathered with such delight from the spark- fortunate, unpopular cock, which was not West Lake sent up a request for the Yearly ling brook at Kawau has proved anything allowed to have a share of what was going. Meeting to issue a confession of faith, so that but a boon to the Southern provinces, where but was punished severely whenever he made

FRIEND. THE

NINTH MONTH 9, 1882.

We have received a letter from a friend

The letter received gives the following br

"In Norwich, the other party set up t

Not having received a copy of the printed minutes of that body which accepts the new Sympathy of a Dog .- A gentleman living in Discipline, we have published no account o the proceedings of their late Yearly Meeting From other sources we learn that several or "I once gave a spaniel, called 'Jack' to a its members are uneasy with the charges which they are connected did not maintain a yard, where the poultry were daily fed. testimony to the original principles of our it might be seen that they stood on right n attempt to get any food.
"Jack somehow observed this, and, feeling opposed in the Yearly Meeting, and after conas literally to obstruct the course of rivers sympathy for the poor bird, was seen daily siderable discussion a vote was taken on the subject, when a majority were found to be in terbury Provinces, destructive floods, which which contained it into his kennel, and wait favor of issuing such a statement of doctrine. have resulted in loss of life and property, are there until all the poultry were gone. He Its preparation was referred to the Select attributed solely to the increase of this simple would then take his bicker outside, put it Meeting, which decided not to report till next most cearter normage, does not seem to have be would go done any damage; but the tall purple thistle him into the kennel, so that he might take the time had come when the members of Canada Yearly Meeting would have to put zealous Scot, now runs riot over the land. I The end of this strange friendship was retheir hands into their pockets, and support it. There was no getting around it. They inst send preachers out to gather souls to eing taken up.

be Canada Yearly Meeting is now acting; als to the Church," which we regard as a under our name will be careful to avoid. seided step in the abandonment of those inciples of worship and ministry, which riends.

The Western Friend, whose editor has rently been paying a religious visit in Canada, ates that in Yonge Street Quarterly Meetg, which is far the largest of the three uarters, and where no separation has taken ace, there is a strong conservative element posed to the "Regressive methods and doeines" which have been the fruitful source sewhere. We are quite prepared to believe at this is the case; and we would heartily joice if such Friends would unite in removg those things which have been destructive the unity of the body, and prepare the way r a reunion of all those who believe in the iginal doctrines of our Society, and are willg to bring their practices into conformity erewith. Those, whose belief or preference ould lead them in a different path, could en join themselves to whatever body they ight desire -- as some have done already hree of the Regressives ministers" having, is said, "gone into water-baptism, and are ow preaching for other denominations."

e First month last, provided for a State ten thousand bushels of wheat this season. They have ommittee. We have received a copy of an tiele proposed to be added to the Constituon of the State of Pennsylvania prohibiting e manufacture and sale of intoxicating liproposed to lay before the next General ssembly, with the prayer that it may be bmitted to the qualified electors of the mmonwealth.

We do not doubt that many of our readers e so impressed with a sense of the evils hich flow from intemperance, that they will ready to assist every right movement lookg to its suppression or disconragement. The xt of the proposed amendment is as follows:

"ARTICLE XIX., Sec. 1 .- The manufacture sale of alcoholic or intoxicating liquors, hether fermented, brewed or distilled, or y compound of such liquors which can be ed as a beverage, is prohibited within this ommonwealth; but the manufacture and sale such liquors, or compounds thereof, for pur-cate penalties."

organizations as "Sons of Temperance," "Good Templars," &c. The paraphernalia, he Church. Which resulted in a collection display, processions, &c., of such bodies we do not believe to be consistent with the profes-We wish to bear a decided protest against sion of "Friends," nor calculated to promote he practice of submitting to vote questions the best interests of our members. However feeting the doctrines of our Society, which good may be the object they professedly aim e suppose is sanctioned by the new discip- to secure, there is a better way for us to perae under which one of the bodies claiming form our part of the social, civil and religious duties that claim attention, than by uniting been reduced $36,000 during the last twelve months, in such organizations; which we hope all Nine steamers—eight British and one German nd also against hiring persons "to gather in such organizations; which we hope all

We have received a few lines from a friend, we heretofore distinguished the Society of who, in commenting on a selected article that recently appeared in our columns, revives the doctrine ever held by our religious Societythat it is only by the help of the Holy Spirit of Christ, that we can approach the throne of Grace, not in our own time, nor in our own words, for He that knoweth our need will teach us what to say. We believe the views held by the unknown writer are correct, and that his concern was an honest one; but we trouble among Canada Friends as well as think he need not have withheld his name tions. and residence from the Editor.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS

UNITED STATES .- A telegram from Salt Lake City says the Utah Commissioners have concluded the work necessary to secure a thorough revision of the registra-tion lists. "Officers are being appointed in every county, with deputies in each precinct, amounting to over 350 in all, with power to purge the lists of every voter disfranchised by the Edmunds law. To accomplish this it became necessary to direct that every perprish this it became necessary to direct that every person, male or female, who, since the passage of the law of 1862, has at any time lived in violation of said law, be refused the rights of franchise. It is not expected that the result of the election will change materially the existing condition of affairs in the Territory, the

The General State Temperance Convention at Harrishurg on the 19th and 20th of have, most of them, become farmers, and will harvest

a white teacher in husbandry

The Galveston News publishes a summary of the ddress issued by this body, signed by Joshua amount and value of the products of the State of Texas Baily as chairman, and containing an for the year ending 8th mo. 31st, 1882, as follows: Cotton, 878,854 bales, value, $50,094,678; wool, 22, 299,652 pounds, value, $5,128,919; hides, 13,572,795 pounds, $1,628,735; cattle, 681,367, $16,654,070; horses and mules, 43,724 head, $1,093,100; lumber and shingles, 87,644,329; grain and hay, 88,497,625; cotton-seed, cotton-seed cake and oil, 92,485,740; miccellane-son products, 83,427,595; sugar and molasses, $725,694. Total value, $97,380,438. During the year there were completed 1641 unites of railroad, at an estimated cost for construction and equipment of $44,525,000. The State now has 5908 miles of completed railroads, costing for building and equipment $165,800,000.

Captain Payne and six of his followers were arrested in the Indian Territory on the 28th ult. The arrest was made by the military authorities, and as Payne refused to leave the Territory peacefully he and his gang were disarmed and taken to Fort Repo as prisoners. The retary of War to order Captain Payne to be turned over with his followers to the civil authorities at Fort Smith, Arkansas, for trial The oat copp of Illinois, this year, is officially re-ported at 99,275,000 bushels, which is 24,000,000 bush-els greater than the crop of 1875. The crop is mostly threshed, and its quality is generally good. The winter wheat crop exceeds 50,000,000 bushels, and it is the is such liquors, or compounds thereof, for pur-ses other than a beverage, shall be regu-ted by law. The General Assembly, at its st session after the adoption of this article the qualified electors of the Common-salth, shall enforce its provisions by ade-tate penalties."

ne work. The Quaker Church must come stituted in part of representatives from such purposes. Over 1,000,000 bushels have been sent, and 50,000 more are contracted for.

The wheat prospects throughout Oregon are "flatter-It is estimated that the amount available for exing." port will be 285,000 tons.

The Charleston News and Courier says the yield of wheat, oats and corn in South Carolina "far surpasses that of any previous season," and the business of Charles-ton shows an increase of $5,000,000 compared with last year. There are now in the city 138 factories, employing 4456 persons, and a new cotton mill with nearly 20,000 spindles is ready to start. The city debt has sailed from Baltimore last week with full cargoes, for various European ports. Among the exports were 843,109 bushels of wheat.

The Cincinnati Price Current estimates the total corn crop of the present year at 1,800,000,000 bushels, or 50 per cent. larger than the crop of last year.

A telegram from San Antonio, Texas, confirms the report that 120 human lives were lost by the Concho flood; 15,000 sheep, cattle and horses also perished, and the loss in property is estimated at nearly $100,000.

Edwin Smith, of the U. S. Coast Survey, who is chief of the party selected for observation of the transit of Venus, left Washington Seventh-day for New Zealand, where the observation is to take place. He will be assistant. After the task in New Zealand is completed, E. Smith will go to Japan to make pendulum observa-

How the cost of some public works grows with their progress is shown by the great East River Bridge. The original estimated cost was $5,000,000; the Comproller of New York now estimates its cost at completon at $20,000,000.

The public debt statement shows the total debt, less cash in the Treasury, to be $1,658,926,171, and the decrease during 8th month $16,128,262. Diphtheria is reported to be very prevalent in Lun-enberg county, Virginia. In some instances two or three deaths have occurred in a single family. The total number of cases of yellow fever officially reported in Brownsville during last week was 482, and of deaths 26. Total of cases from the beginning of the of deaths 20. Total of cases from the regimning of the epidemic until Seventh-day noon last week, 1113; deaths, 66. There is great destitution in the city, and the Mayor is about to issue another appeal for aid. The protective cordon established around Brownsville and other infected places on the Rio Grande is maintained. Several deaths from the same disease have taken place in Pensacola, Florida.

There were 372 deaths in Philadelphia for the week ending 9th month 21, as compared with 356 for the previous week, and 375 for the corresponding week of last year. Of the whole number 108 were under one year of age: 200 were males and 172 females; 50 died of consumption, 38 of marasmus, 31 of cholera infantum, 19 of inflammation of the stomach and bowels, 24 of old age, 14 of typhoid fever, and 13 of diphtheria.

Markets, de.—U. S. 3½*s, 101; 14; s, 113; 4*s, registered, 119; coupon, 120; currency 6*s, 133.

Cotton is steady at 13; ets. for middling uplands.

Petroleum is dull at 6$; ets. for refined in barrels, and at 91 cts. for case

Flour and Meal.-Flour is quiet and unchanged. From and mean—From is quiet and unchanged. Sales of 1650 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $6.75 a $7 for clear, and at $7 a $7.50 for straight; Pennsylvania family at $5.12 a $5 25; western do. do. at $6 a $6.25 and patents at $7 a $8.75. Kye flour is steady at $3.50 a $3.75.

Grain.—Wheat is dull and \(\frac{1}{2}\) a \(\frac{1}{2}\)c. lower. Sales of 8000 bushels red at \(\frac{1}{2}\).107 a \(\frac{1}{2}\).17. Options closed with disarmed and taken to Fort Reno as prisoners. The $1,12\frac{1}{2}$ bid for 9th mo., $1,12\frac{1}{2}$ for 10th mo., $1,13\frac{1}{2}$ for 12th mo. Ryc.—None here, Corn was unsettled and 3 a 13c. lower. Sales of 6000 bushels No. 3 and steamer at 82 a 84 cts. Sail mixed closed with 831c. bid for 9th mo., 821c. for 10th mo., 77c. for 11th mo., and 67c. for 12th mo. Oats were dull and lower. Sales of white at 45 a 50 cts, and rejected at 40 a 42 cts. No. 2 white closed with 46c. bid for 9th month, and 45½ cts. bid for 10tb, 11th and 12th months.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 9th mo. 2nd, 1882. — Loads of hay, 231; loads of straw, 49. Average price during the week-Prime timothy, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 100 pounds; mixed, 90 cts. to $1 per 100 pounds; straw, 60 to 70 cts. per 100 pounds.
Beef cattle were dull and rates were barely steady;

3800 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 4 a 7½ cts. per pound, as to quality.

Sheep were dull and ½c. lower on the top grades, We observe the "State Committee" is con- City direct to St. Paul and Minneapolis, for milling while common stock was fully \(\frac{1}{2}\)c. lower 10,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 23 a 53 cts. per lb., as to condition.

Foreign.-On the 1st inst. 234 members of the Dahlin Metropolitan Police force were dismissed. Great excitement prevails in the city. All the police stations occupied by a strong gnard of military. Rioting broke out on College street in the evening. The mob was very violent. Some policemen who remained on duty at the College Street Station were brought out in a body, but were obliged to retire before the mob. The whole police force, comprising 883 men, besides the 234 men who were dismissed previously, left the service, only the officers, numbering 26, remaining. men who resigned sent a memorial to the Castle in the evening, expressing deep regret at their action, and re-spectfully asking Lord Spencer to consider their case. once mer case would receive the fullest consideration.

A number of the men returned to their posts. This 64,000 tons in excess of that at the corresponding date result onquestionably saved the city from scenes of last year. The customs receipts of the Island for 7th rioling, as many of the special constables who came forward were unable to cope with the disorder. The military were, however, employed in closured. The military were, however, employed in closured. Lord Spencer replied that if they returned to duty at province are suffering from drought. the streets; there was much stone throwing; a number of persons were injured, one fatally.

Dublin, 9th mo. 4th.—Evening.—The military are not out to-night. The constables who have returned to duty were allowed a good rest to-day. They apparently desire to discharge their duties faithfully. The special constables have ceased wearing badges, in order not to attract marked attention. A proclamation has been issued by the Lord Mayor thanking the citizens for their hearty response to the appeal for aid and for special constables, and giving notice that there is no necessity for the appointment of any more constables.

The annual report of the wheat erop in France shows it is excellent in twenty departments, good in forty-five, an embankment into a swamp, where their weight caused them to sink. It appears that the train was overtaken by a heavy wind and rain storm. One account ascribes the disaster to the washing away of a part of the embankment by an overswollen brook. A elegram from Mulhouse states that 160 persons were killed and 300 others injured by the accident.

Russia. One death from the disease has occurred at Odessa.

Four German expeditions will soon leave Hamburg for America to observe the transit of Venus, being destined for different points of view on the northern and southern continents. Each party will consist of two astronomers, a student and an assistant. The points of observation allotted to the Germans are in Connecti-ent, South Carolina, Costa Rica and the Straits of Magellan.

A hail storm occurred near Pesth on Second-day last week, destroying vineyards and maize fields and partly demolishing fifty houses. Many workmen were

A syndicate of London capitalists have entered into

Spain be admitted to take part in the collective pro-tection of the Suez Canal. It is believed, however, that in consequence of the recent turn of affairs, the proposal for collective protection of the canal will be without result.

A contest has been entered upon between Greece and Turkey, in Thessaly, on account of disputed territory. On the 4th inst. Said Pasha, Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs, had a conference with Candouriotis, the Greek Minister. The Porte is disposed to surrender the territory claimed by Greece, except a portion bordering on Lake Zenas. It is believed that the matter must again be submitted to an European conference before a final settlement can be obtained. Austria has remonstrated with Greece on the subject of the latter's action on the Cholera is prevailing to an alarming extent in the Philippine Islands. As many as 300 have died of the Eliza Branson, Henry Crew, Any John, Jane H. Sea disease in one day.

Yokohama, 572 cases have proved fatal. At Tokio about eighty cases and fifty deaths occur daily.

A despatch to the Times from Durban states that besides the Kaffir chief. Secocoeni, his son and fourteen followers were also killed. The killing was done by Mampoor, the chief put into his place by the British.

The yellow fever epidemic in Matamoras is reported ser-to be slowly abating. During the 8th mo, the deaths The from the disease numbered 214, in a population of about During the 8th mo. the deaths

Extensive forest fires are destroying valuable timber in Annapolis county, Nova Scotia. The crops in that

RECEIPTS.

Received from Sarah T. House, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Benjamin S. House, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Erra Barker, Ind., $2.10, vol. 56; from Benjamin Hoopes, City, S2, vol. 56, and for W. Walter Hoopes, S2.10, vol. 56; from Jacob Smedley, Fa., S2.10, vol. 56; from William Webster, Pa., $2.10, to No. 11, vol. 57; from Edward C. Jones, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from John Trimble, Agent, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Caleb E. Thomas, Rebecca Larkin, Harvey Thomas, Thomas M. Webster, Samuel Fogg, and Henry L. Paschall, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from John E. Darnell, N. J., $2.10, vol. it is excellent in twenty departments, good in forty-five, 56; from William P. Smedley, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from fair in eleven, poor in nine, and bad in one—that of Gorden.

Graph of Ground State of Groun g and colmar, fetcher rains near rangue even, there is a color with the second series masshed or shot down vol. 56; from Jehn L. Kite, Agent, O., $2.10, vol. 56 ankment into a swamn, where their weight and for Edwin Holloway, Joseph Lynch, David Ellyand for Edwin Holloway, Joseph Lyncu, Lavid Lar-son, Robert Ellyson, Abuer Woolman, Eliza Ann Fogg, Sarah Stanley, Mary Woolman, Mary Warrington, James A. Cope, Rebecca Painter, Joel Kirk, Anna W. Cobb, Edwin Fogg, Samuel R. Smith, and John Brantingham, $2.10 each, vol. 56, and for Lydia Warrington, $2.10, to No. 18, vol. 57; for Daniel Peckham, N. Y. The Siberian plague is appearing to an alarming $2.10, vol. 56; from Edmund S. Fowler, Agent, O., for extent in most widely-separated quarters of European James Hiatt and Ellwood Dean, $2.10 each, vol. 56; Schools for Adult Colored Persons, men's and women James Hiatt and Ellwood Dean, $2.10 each, vol. 56; Schools for Adult Colore from Hetty Ann Bellah, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from Rebecce V. C. Pugh, Pa., per T. Valentine, $2.10, vol. 56; from Levy Pope, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from George M. Haverstiek, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for William Matlack, $2.10, vol. 56; from Elight Haworth, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Elight Haworth, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Asa Garretson, Agent, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Palight Haworth, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Pal vol. 56, and for Beula Roberts, Esther Wilson, Isaac N. Vail, George Tatum, Dr. Ephraim Williams, Joseph Doudna, Robert Plummer, Elisha Doudna, James Steer, Doudna, Robert Plummer, Elisha Doudna, James Steer, Lydia H. Bailey, Sarah S. Bundy, Sarah M. Bailey, Rebecca W. Bundy, Elizabeth Bailey, Jesse Bailey, Jesse K. Livezey, Jehu Bailey, Joseph Congill, Aaron Frame, Eli Stanton, Joseph W. Doudna, Elizabeth Wilson, Francis Davis, William Stanton, Esther Sears, Jounthan T. Scofield, John Bandy and Amasa Frame, A syndicate of London capitalists have entered into Jonathan T. Scofield, John Bundy and Amasa Frame, contract for the construction of an electric railway, upon the Edison system, between Geneva and Ferniey and Geneva and St. Julien.

All the Powers, including England, have replied Award Environment of the proposition of Italy, that Holland and Roberts, $2.10, vol. 56, and for Amos Board and St. Scotian Control of the Powers of the St. Scotian Control of the Powers of the St. Scotian Control of the Powers of the St. Scotian Control of the Power of the from John Woolman, City, $2, vol. 56, and for Elizabeth Wright, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Pelatiah Gove, Vt., $2.10, vol. 56; from Mary Eldridge, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Seth Warrington, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56 from Joseph Brinton, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Marguret Robinson, Ghn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Marguret Robinson, Ghn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Marguret, $2.10, vol. 56; from Job McCarty, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Joseph Snell, Pa., $2.10, to No. 12, vol. 57; from Abel Joseph Snetl, Pa, $2.10, to No. 12, vol. 57; from Abel J. Hopkins, Del, and Lawrence Hopkins, D. C., $2.10, each, vol. 56; from Josiah W. Leesle, City, $2, vol. 56; from Hannah J. Reid, City, $2, vol. 56; and for James F. Reid, Pa, $2.10, vol. 56; from John Tatun, City, $2.20, vol. 56; from T. Chalkley Palmer and Mary C. Palmer, Pa, $2.10, vol. 56; from Theigh Hutton, City, Child, Del, $2.10, vol. 56; from Theigh Hutton, City, Standard Stan | Child, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from Finley Hutton, City, the Staff. | Child, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from Finley Hutton, City, the Staff. | Child, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from Finley Hutton, City, vol. 50, 22d, 1882, Ann H., widow of the late John Bacow Handing of 2000 or 3000 Turkish troops at Port Said. Elevary Forsythe, Hl, $2.10, vol. 56; from John Foreythe, Pa, $2.10, vol. 56; and for larged nearly 83 years. (Blessed are the pure in heart late expedition, and that Baker Pasha will command Hustis, Agent, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from John Foreythe, Pasha will command Hustis, Agent, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from Hutton, City, vol. 50, and for larged nearly 83 years. (Blessed are the pure in heart late of the properties of the propert Clarkson Burgess and Fleming Crew, $2.10 each, v Out of 775 cases of cholera within twenty days at 56; from Joseph Masters, Kans., $2,10, vol. 56; from Ovee Rosda (okohama, 572 cases have proved fatal. At Tokio Rebecca E. Bacon, City, $2, vol. 56; from Ovee Rosda Rebecea E. Bacon, City, $2, vol. 56; from Ovec Rostis Lo., $2.10, vol. 56; from George D. Smith, O., $2.3, vol. 56; from Isaac Roberts, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; fro Joshua T. Ballinger, adg., Pa., for J. Joness McPadget E. Malin Hoopes, Alfred Embree, Lydia Embro Samnel Worth, and Albina B. Carpenter, $2.10 eact vol. 56; from Isaac W. Stokes, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sisans Britinon, Pa. $2.10, vol. 56; from Elizabe C. Cooper, City, $2, vol. 56; from James W. Haim N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Isaac E. V. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Elizabe C. Cooper, City, $2, vol. 56; from James W. Haim N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Isaa Leeds, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Mary Leeds, N. J., $2.10, vo 50, and for Lydia Post, $2.10, vol. 56; from Mary Maris, Del, $2.10, vol. 56; from Joshna Brantingha Agent, O, for Edward Y. Cope, Josiah Camero Joseph Stratton, Uriah Price, Joseph Winder, Cyri Brantingham, Alfred Brantingham, William Brantin Brantingnam, Aireu Brantingnam, Wilman Bok, Man, Nathan Whinery, and Joshan Coppock, $2. each, vol. 56, for Anna M. Edgerton, $4.20, to No. 5 vol. 56, and for Charles W. Satterthwaite, $2.10, to N 19, vol. 57; from Eliza J. Barton, City, $2, vol. 56.

Remittances received ofter Fourth-day morning will n appear in the Receipts until the following week.

In the notice of the decease of Abigail Wood, the last number of "The Friend" it was omitted state, that she was a member and a minister of the Monthly Meeting of Friends of Philadelphia.

WESTTOWN SCHOOL.

A stated meeting of the Committee on Admission will be held in the Committee-room of Arch St. Mee ing-house, on Seventh-day, the 16th inst., at 10 A. M.

TOUGHKENAMON BOARDING SCHOOL Will re-open Ninth mo. 18th, 1882. H. M. COPE, Principal. Toughkenamon, Chester Co., Pa.

WANTED.

Ephraim Smith, 1110 Pine St., Philadelphi Thomas Elkinton, 400 S. Ninth St., Thomas Woolman, 858 Marshall St., Finley Hutton, 400 Chestnut St.,

FRIENDS' SELECT SCHOOLS.

These schools, under the care of the three Monthl Meetings of Friends in this city, will re-open on Second day, Ninth mo, 18th, 1882.

A limited number of children will now be admitte who are not members of our religious Society, whose parents may desire to have them educated free from th unnecessary but fashionable accomplishments, too con mon in many schools at this day.

The attention of Friends residing in the city and i neighborhood is invited to them. The terms are mode ate, and Friends belonging to Philadelphia Yearl Meeting, sending children to these schools, (also men bers), who may find the charges burdensome, can be fully relieved.

The principal schools will open for the next terr under the care of John H. Dillingham and Mary V Woolman, as Principals, both experienced teachers of many years' experience. Facilities for illustration ar afforded by a valuable collection of philosophical an chemical apparatus, minerals, and Auzoux's models of parts of the human system, &c.

The primary Schools on Cherry St., and at Sixth an Noble Sts., will be continued under their former eff cient management.

Further information may be obtained upon applica tion to the Treasurer of the Committee,

JAMES SMEDLEY, No. 415 Market St.

FRIEND. THE

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, NINTH MONTH 16, 1882.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

ice, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON. Moorestown, Burlington Co., N. J.

oscriptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES.

AT NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIKS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend." The Christian Seaside Resort, Pacific Grove Retreat, Monterey Co., California.

On the westerly shore of the beautiful Bay acific Grove Retreat.

large flourishing village.

uge granite rocks projects seaward, against away by curiosity seekers.

nany places along the shore, is found the beds of the Hotel Del Monte.

loors of sand.

tunitas, or wild fig, a pleasant refreshing fruit. California meet annually, and religious gath-Its leaves are a bright green, somewhat re-erings are encouraged. sembling the iceplant, bearing rich purple Here, in the lovely climate of California, flowers. The fruit is much sought after by standing on the margin of this fine bay, and also abound with sea life.

y scenery of the most diversified character, interest are reached, after an exhibitanting ride utterly helpless and insignificant man appears. netly nestled beside the restless, surging sea, of about twenty miles. The old Carmelo The Creator is exalted, and we are led to exusical with the swaying of wide branch Mission is worth more than a passing notice, claim, "Great and marvellous are thy works, g trees, and the songs of woodland warblers, the quaint old ruins are visited by hundreds, Lord God Almighty!
se the pleasant watering place known as if not thousands yearly. The antique lookHere, too, are seen Feeling the need of a summer resort, free tion, and presents quite an imposing appear- and vivifies with many tints the sands of the om the follies and vicious influences of more ance. After looking back about a hundred sea shore; the fisherman's boat moves noiseretentious fashionable places, some good years, we can here see in its stone walls, lessly over the bay, giving it new life; the cauty became better known and appreciated, old town of Montercy, the ancient capital of fade away in the dim shadowy distance, the as assumed quite the air and proportions of further on is the elegant Hotel Del Monte, in glory to all, sinks below the water line, and ent-like structures and cosy cottages of its and scenery. There is a fine beach near, and romantic, and the beautiful! wellers. At night, canopied by trees and a large swimming bath-house attached, sup-elieved by myriads of lights, the soughing of plied with warm and cold salt-water, where he wind, and the "sound of many waters," and to it a charm peculiarly its own. Here Lastly may be mentioned the "old Monterey nd there are seen handsome houses, their whating Company," with their boats and the utside garlanded with sweet-sented flowers arious "warlike" implements used by them and vines, and beautifully furnished and decoated within, indicative of wealth and culture, quent the Bay of Monterey in the fall, winter the native Spanish Californians.* The wild looking out over its blue waters, a feeling inverbena (or a flower resembling it) grows in describably grand and delightful seems to great profusion near the shore line of the bay, steal over the senses—there we see a long There are many curious plants and flowers sweep of shore-line of glistening sands, surtfound on the rocks and sands near the margin washed with snowy foam that beats ceaseof the sea in that region, which would doubt- lessly against its whitened margin-here, at less interest the botanist; the rocks and sands our feet break the resistless surges of wave lines on rock and cavern; then again, we By taking a public or private conveyance stand gazing on the majestic waves of the over a fine macadamized driveway (built by mighty Pacific as they roll in beside us, each the "Pacific Improvement Company," who succeeding wave seeming more grand and own most of the "Grove" and immense tracts awful; dashing high, with quickened and of lands adjacent,) with the ocean nearly al-tremendous force, a cloud of seething foam ways in sight, Point Cypress, Pebble Beach, bursts on the frowning rocks. Contemplating Monterey, in a grove of pines, surrounded the old Carmelo Mission and other points of this sublime and overpowering scene, how Here, too, are scenes of quiet beauty. The ing front is still in a good state of preserva- sun gilds the surface of the water and warms hristian people, a few years ago, conceived arched and tile-covered roof, and its interior sea-birds wheel past in long curving lines; re idea of fixing upon this spot as likely to vestiges of ornamentation and architectural and porpoises and sea-lions are seen disport-making purposes. As its adaptability and early Spanish founders. We pass on to the mountains, purpled by the evening sunlight, s popularity increased; and now thousands california, with its curious old Mission, finely whole forming a picture somewhat similar, prospected and always open to visitors. All but grander and more expressive than the anent and temporary, neat, comfortable around are to be seen old adobe tile-covered famous Bay of Naples, without the terrors of wellings are to be found there, and the place bouses still occupied or in ruins. A little Vesuvius. The snn, imparting its setting the midst of a grove of large live oaks, with as the evening shadows lengthen into the To me it was very interesting to pass park-like grounds, tropical plants, and a product darkness of the night, I bid farewell to a scene hrough the labyrinth of pines and its many fusion of brilliant shrubs and flowers, forming not easily forgotten, and that has so wonderbreets, lined on either side with the pretty a rare and wonderful combination of views fully and charmingly embraced, the wild, the

San Jose, Cal., 8th mo. 1882.

Worth the Diamonds.-The Princess Eugenie, only sister of the present King of Sweden, is known less widely than she deserves to be. It is known that she not only gives out of her abundant wealth, but she alse makes personal sacrifices in order to insure videncing that those in the different spheres and spring months, and are sometimes cap-the success of charitable schemes she sets on f life are alike attracted by the salubrity of tured in large numbers; the bones of these foot. One of her designs was the building of he climate and the many natural advantages, sea monsters, bleached and whitened, are a hospital for the sick. This was of so extenbe climate and the many natural advantages, sea monsters, bleached and whitened, are a hospital for the sick. This was of so extenmmediately below the "Grove" is the bathstrewn along the shore, and can be had for sive a character that her present resources ng ground, and then, just beyond, a ledge of the taking—great quantities being carried the difference of the designs was the building of a hospital for the sick. This was of so extensive a character that her present resources were exhausted before the building was comsive a character that her present resonrces pleted. But in order that no delay should thich the waves dash in wild fury. Within The charges at the "Grove" are quite take place, she sold her diamonds to raise the asy walking distance of the Grove are shell-moderate, and the homelike feeling pervading necessary funds. Since the hospital was comasy waiting distance of the Grove are shell-moderace, and the homenic recing pervaning necessary tunes. Since the hospital was comecaches and quiet rocky nooks, where the princes has reen limpid waters ripple on the pebbly and pounds watering places. Intoxicants and spaid it a visit, and talked with many of the gambling are prohibited, which largely tends sick. One man, overcome with the intensity to produce quiet and good order. This is of his emotions, wept as the princess approached bis bed. The seene was one of deep learned and the procedure of the procedur oors of sand.

On the drifting sand hillocks here, and in

*It is largely cultivated in the handsome flower-side, said, "Ah! now I see my diamonds again."-Selected.

For "The Friend."

Selections.

FIRST-DAY SCHOOLS-RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION The Methodist says: "Religious instruction by schools ought not to become a means of abrogating the duties of parents. We have, in recent years, read often with growing amazement that Sunday-schools are depended upon by the Church to give her children religious instruction. It is a most astonishing theory, for it implies a communistic order of ideas-that children are not in the custody of particular persons called parents, but of a body of persons called a church. If the Church has in this communistic fashion forgotten all about parents, and undertakes to do without their service of childhood, it is not very surprising that the Sunday-school is 'regarded as falling short of its duty.' possible Sunday-school can ever do the mother's work. If any are troubled on this subject, they will do well to labor for a restoration of parental obligations rather than for a Sunday-school which shall do away with any moral and religious uses of parents."—British Friend, 7th month, 1882.

A TESTIMONY CONCERNING THE QUAKERS.

The following is the substance of a declaration made in 1877, to -----, by an elder in another religious organization concerning the that the Quakers (I mean no disrespect by age to Christendom.

"You must not come to us, we are going to you. But I fear many of your people are deyou will have to take a new start on the original foundation.

"I am a Quaker in many respects; and among other things do not approve of instrument of them.

"I think I know what Quakerism is; and bers, better than they do themselves.'

He said he thought there was especial need now, for Friends "to press their views of and to depend upon things not of vital importance.'

TRUE STANDARD OF SIMPLICITY.

"I believe myself called upon to bear an open, unequivocal, unflinching testimony, not only against all pride, extravagance, ostentaner against all the secret insinuations and enables them to act and speak in his own aucreeping in, and growing up amongst us as a Society. I have for years believed, that the deof simplicity is great; and I am of the mind, and to mislead by its deceptions." that if they had diligently hearkened unto, and implicitly obeyed the dictates of best Wisdom, they would have been led to 'apply all the gifts of Divine Providence to the purposes for which they were intended.' I be- will grow up to be a help and comfort to pose lieve that it is my duty to live in such a hum-thee, and in order that it may be so, and that ble, plain, homely, simple manner, as that the Lord may delight to bless them, I doubt which the vulture's eye bath not seen, the neither in the furniture, food, or clothing not but it is thy solicitous care, to watch over king's highway to holiness; it is so contrary used, any misapplication of the gifts of Divine the tender plants, lest any budding of pride, to flesh and blood, to the highly cultivated Providence be admitted or encouraged."-John Barclay.

A CHRISTIAN EXAMPLE.

of Alet were persons of superior piety. Dis- of manners and appearance which Truth lea tinguished for affluence, they were yet more into. Many parents, it is to be feared in so for Christian simplicity, self-denial, and day, have been miserably deficient in humility; a simplicity which they were not education of their offspring; checking, hind only careful to maintain throughout their ing, and preventing that which ought to whole household conomy, but with a love for cultivated in them, and cherishing, forwa whole household economy, but with a love for which, they were very peculiarly anxious to ing, and encouraging what ought to be root inspire their children, which is often too out and destroyed; and hence it comes to pa much neglected amongst religious parents. The that so little tenderness of spirit and amia bishop's house exhibits a model of true Christian hospitality, as well as of primitive simplicity."—Memoirs of Port Royal.

A SCHOOL FOR HAPPINESS.

"If men consider the world on the true Scripture ground, as a state of probation; if they consider religion as a school for happiness indeed, but of which the consummation come less forcible, less clear and less felt, a is only to be enjoyed in heaven; the Christian so disregarded too much; and hence for wa hope will support them, the Christian faith of faithfulness in the little, and in the ear will strengthen them. They will serve dilidiscoveries, there is not a right growth egently, wait patiently, love cordially, obey faithfully, and be steadfast under all trials, sustained by the cheering promise held ont to him, 'who endures to the end.' "-Hannah Shackleton.

THE SCHOOL OF CHRIST.

This is a day in which, while there may be much surface work, there appears to be too pretty full meeting, which was painful at Society of Friends: -"I want to say to you, little of "that sub-soil upturning of the heart exercising under a sense of a worldly spin that the Quakers (I mean no disrespect by with the plough-share of the Holy Ghost." with parents, that caused them to negle the term) have been of incalculable advant. Too little of the washing of regeneration and their duty to their children, with respect renewing of the Holy Ghost, which make teaching them the principles of Truth and tl men and women for God. Hence the low fear of the Lord; an evil much to be lamente you. But I fear many of your people are decestate into which the Society has fallen. "As and hard to be removed. This has the effer parting from original Quakerism; and I think our members more generally come to experit to settle such children in the form of god ence the heart-changing power of Divine grace ness without the power, whereby they b in themselves, whatever may be their rank or come a grievous burden to Society; for pa station in life, they will be taught in one com- rents feed their children with what they lov among other things do not approve of instru- mon school; a school very different from that and teach them what they admire; thus the mental music in our churches, nor the adorn- in which the acquirement of knowledge de- old Pharisee educates the young to follow h pends upon the vigor and subtlety of the in-steps, and they become a burden to the nex tellectual powers; a school in which the lessons generation."-Journal of Joseph Hoag. should not be surprised if I understand the taught break down the pride and haughtiness departures being made by some of the mem- of man, reveal to him his incapacity to judge in holy things, except as he is enlightened by the Spirit of his divine Master; and in which in this land, feeling the language pass throug he is instructed to value obedience to the my mind: Oh! that Friends did but enoug spiritual worship, as there was an evident least intimation of that Master's will, beyond consider what our forefathers passed through tendency in the different churches to magnify all the deductions of his unsanctified reason, in support of the principles we profess, an or the judgment of a fallen and corrupt world. the righteons blood that was shed for th It is of members thus disciplined and in-liberty we enjoy, they would not wander from structed that the true Church is made up, the secret enclosure of Israel's King as the and when met together for the transaction of do; seeing the Lord doth not withhold an its business, and waiting in reverent depend-thing that is for the good of those that lov ence to be qualified to order its affairs aright. Him."—Joseph Hoag in England. its adorable Head condescends to communition and excess, but also in a particular man-cate to such as these the mind of the Spirit, covered appearances, under which they are thority, and preserves them from being led darkness, out of gross and superstitious wor astray by their own fallible understandings, or by the suggestions of that spirit which is at our very life that Satan is striking-the in clension among Friends from the true standard always seeking to exalt itself into His place,

PARENTAL DEFICIENCY, WITH ITS CONSE-QUENCES.

gree towards them; and carefully and assi-"Both the father and mother of the Bishop ously to nurture them up in that simplic simplicity is to be seen in our youth, and ve little of a succession of testimony-bearers in prospect. One of the first temptatic thrown in the way of children, after the a of infancy, is a little finery in dress, and t convictions of grace remonstrating against being resisted, the reproofs of that Divi Monitor, (through repeated resistance,) I of faithfulness in the little, and in the ear perienced, but the contrary prevails, and he is one great reason that the city of our fathe: sepulchre lies waste. - From a Letter of Richa

A WORLDLY SPIRIT IN PARENTS, WITH NEGLE OF DUTY.

"I next went to --, where I had

A CALL TO GREATER FAITHFULNESS.

"Many affecting scenes I passed throng

YE SEE YOUR CALLING, BRETHREN.

"As a religious body, did God call us out o ship, into his marvellous light; and now it is ward revelation of the Lord Jesus, the true light, borne testimony to by many faithfu martyrs, and preached again with power by our enlightened predecessors-and it is from among ourselves that the enemy is trying to * * * I have a secret hope thy little ones take and make instruments to suit his pur

"'There is a path which no fowl knoweth, or any wrong shoot, spring up and frustrate natural understanding, and to that which is the gracious intentions of Heaven in any de-on the wing exploring the depth of science. uch tribulation and suffering, did our preecessors pursue their holy course; and now, hen so many things present, in the garb of ligion, to divert from it, we should be cauous of being drawn aside from the simplicity the truth as it is in Jesus."

COUNT THE COST OF BEING A CHRISTIAN.

Thus we find it will cost much to be a hristian; and that if we mean to purchase is goodly pearl of gospel salvation, we must sep back no part of the price, but sell all the Scriptures, what ingenious pretences, ost easily besets us, and to reconcile duty ith inclination!"-Hartley.

OUR DEPENDENCE FOR SALVATION.

"All that Christ hath done for us, without s, will avail us nothing, unless we be inardly transformed, and renewed in the spirit four minds, unless we become new creatures, nless we make it the continual and sincere adeavor of our lives to keep the commandents of God."-Richard Claridge.

The Periodical Literature of India.

The heathen are not all illiterate. The re, in a sense, educated. They read and ccased 17th of Eighth month, 1867. onfined to the higher castes, and even among o sound out the great Gospel message, who ored to follow her blessed Redcemer. rst made use of this mighty organ in the igion. The old Brahmins have their paper, the afflicted. ninism, have theirs. Johammedans and others.

emoved the embarrassing conditions his pre- friends. lecessor had imposed, and the press is free

India in English by educated natives.

It is surprising to a stranger to see how many English newspapers India supports. There are five or six in each of the large eities, such as Calcutta, Bombay, Madras; one or two in such cities as Allahabad, Agra, Delhi, Lahore. It is a careful estimate to newspapers published in India. Now this has been proven, that the natives who conduct the vernacular press are in many, spirit all that day-the last she spent with us at we have to give in exchange for it. But if not in most, instances men acquainted with on earth. In the evening after tea she was ow hard is this doctrine! how few can bear the English language; and that the English not so well, and thought she would retire! What pleadings of nature, what torturing newspaper, in the language of their rulers, early. The pain returned with much severity has the latest news which they covet. The in the night, and she suffered some time before hat learned evasions in favor of the sin that English press largely influences the vernacular she was willing the family should be disturbed. press. Thoughts and discussions in the English newspapers are translated and read by to have us called; and after taking medicine the Hindu in the secret chamber of his home. and bathing ber, she thought she soon would The effete civilization of that ancient land is be relieved, and desired us to go to bed. We being constantly touched and shaken by the left the room a short time but soon returned, freshest discussions of this advancing genera-finding she was no better. tion. The language of the most pronounced Christian nations of the world is giving its relieve her, she was engaged in tervent supburden of pure thought and ideas to one of the neediest lands on the globe .- J. H. Gill.

> For "The Friend," Grace Evans.

A tribute to the memory of Grace Evans,

" A woman that feareth the Lord, She shall be praised."

ven trade, were not divulged needlessly to beloved aunt, Grace Evans, I feel constrained after became very quiet and calm, as if falling utsiders. It was the advent of Western to give forth a short testimony concerning into a sweet sleep, and passed peacefully copies that stirred up the demand for the her; not only as a little tribute of love, but away, we doubt not, to her Heavenly rest. ress to the consequent supply. To-day there also with a view to magnify the power of re 230 different newspapers published in the Divine grace, that made her what she was; believe her work and labor of love was acernacular languages of India. It was the and to incite us, her survivors, to follow in complished before any shade came over to ause of his Master. Soon opposition was ful disposition, joined to a pious consistent roused, resulting in the present large num-life, rendered her company very pleasant. er of newspapers, which represent every re. She felt tenderly for her friends, and others,

Concord in the Eighth month, 1867, and swers about the Opium Trade." He appeals The English press in India never was inter-seemed very lively in her spirit; and on re- to those who have "a simple desire to see ered with by the Government. A Hindu turning home remarked, she thought we had things as they are, and to act justly towards writing in the English language had rights, a favored meeting, and hoped it would be re- all men;" and that class of men will find in denied him if he wrote in the vernacular, membered. She spoke afterwards of the exer- his pamphlet an unanswerable condemnation nat few there be that find it. In it, through This itself was inconsistent. There are to-cises of the meeting being fresh in her mind, day several non-Christian sheets published in and requested me to get the Bible and read several passages that were quoted, that had much impressed her; and seemed comforted in hearing them revived.

She appeared to be in her usual health until Sixth-day, when she spoke of feeling indisposed, but was able to be down stairs, and employed at her sewing, as she generally was; say there are from fifty to seventy-five English and conversed cheerfully with her family; and, as her dear husband remarked after she was gone, seemed remarkably sweet in her When we came to her, she said she was sorry

While we were preparing applications to plication. At one time she said, "Cast me not off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength faileth." We inquired of her if she could take a little nourishment. She replied, "yes;" but we found she could not swallow; and soon after she prayed very aders of society in all the castes of India of Springfield, Delaware Co., Pa., who de-fervently, "Oh, holy Father! thou wilt not lay more upon us than thou wilt enable us to bear." These were the last words that we could understand. She appeared to be entirely From the pleasant remembrance I bave, sensible, although articulation had ceased. hem, all were not allowed the key of knowldge. The mysteries of every profession, or and also the exemplary Christian walk of my She looked at us all very sweetly, affecting

Although thus suddenly called away, we aissionary from Christian lands who longed ber self-denying, careful walk, as she endeav-veil her loveliness; and her sun went down in brightness, and she has been permitted, we She was one whose affectionate and cheer-doubt not, to "enter into the joy of her Lord."

The number of signatures to the petitions igion in the land, and in some instances the under the varied trials incident to this life, in Great Britain against the opium trade, at arious schools of thought in the same remanifesting in tender love her sympathy for last accounts, was 73,926. Additional petitions. The old Brahmins have their paper, the afflicted. he young Brahmins theirs. The Keshab She was a loving and faithful wife, and an which there are over 400 names, contains the hander Sen seet, who have renounced Brah- affectionate, careful mother over her children; signatures of the Bishop of Bedford, the The latter offshoots an example also in industry, rising early in Bishop of Rangoon, the Archdeacons of Midrom this sect have theirs. So with the the morning, and encouraging her family to dlesex and Southwark, the Dean of St. Paul's, do so, -often reminding us that the morning and many other dignitaries. Now that the As it is a fact that the native vernacular was the most lively part of the day, and if we anti-opium cause is making so much headnewspaper started in the interest of religion, rose early it would forward our outward busi, way, its opponents are putting out some oit has kept on. A few have taken up poliness, and we would have more time for read-hitherto unheard-of arguments—asserting ies, but the statement is correct that religion ing and meditation. She used the things of that "opium-smoking is not only an inneent, becupies the greater part of their discussions. It is world as "not abusing them;" being a but even a beneficial practice, and that the correct while this class got so bold, so terrible good example of moderation in all things. A promoters of the trade are really philauthroot their rulers, that Lord Beaconsfield estab-diligent attender of all our religions meetings pists laboring to effect a great temperance ished a censorship over the whole vernacular for worship and discipline, and thoughtful in reform, and that it is pure hallucination to oress. This measure, however, was opposed making way for others under her care. She suppose that China was ever under constraint y some of the most collightened Englishmen was fitted and qualified and willing to support in the matter." This may certainly be called hen in the Indian office. A few papers were the good order of our Society; and her services assuming a bold front. It has a pretty close topped, but this whole measure was evidently in her own Monthly Meeting, and also the parallel in the assertions of the liquor dealers wrong and unnecessary, and Gladstone has Quarterly Meeting, were acceptable to her of this country. Griffith John has done signal service to the cause in a pamphlet entitled, She attended the Quarterly Meeting at "Plain Questions and Straightforward Anof the traffic. Dr. Thoburn's articles on "The Opium Shops top, then I'll do good work." of Calcutta," in which he shows that one has

Garibaldi on War.—In 1860 Garibaldi issued a manifesto beaded, "The present state of Europe and what it might be, for the benement of the overburdened nations of Europe, -a movement which he believed "only to need a powerful and generous initiative," so that "the immense capital which is almost always wrung from the wants and the miseries of the people, and is prodigally spent in murderous and unproductive armaments, would be converted, to their advantage, into a colossal development of industry, into the construction of roads, the building of bridges, the cutting of canals, the foundation of public establishments, and the erection of schools. which would rescue from misery and ignorance so many poor creatures who in all countries of the world, whatever be their degree of civilization, are now condemned to a state of brutishness, to prostitution of soul and body, by the selfishness, calculation, or bad administration of privileged and powerful classes. With the disbanding of these forces, the minds of sovereigns, ceasing to be occupied with schemes of ambition, conquest. war, and destruction, would be directed towards the creation of useful institutions. Thirteen years later, just after the adoption by the British House of Commons, of the motion in favor of international arbitration, introduced by H. Richard, the member for Merthyr Tydfil, Garibaldi headed an address of congratulation, signed by most of the other leading men of Italy, in which they declared that, "Inasmuch as the English Parliament has now set a noble example to all nations, by its sanction of this execulent method, we hereby give expression to our joy at this event, both as Italians and as men sincerely devoted to peace between all civilized nations -peace which is a blessing to the whole world, injurious to none, and the most effectual means of securing real progress and true

Do Your Best .- A gentleman once said to a physician, "I should think, doctor, that at night you would feel so worried over the work of the day, that you would not be able to sleep.

"My head hardly touches the pillow till I fall asleep," replied the physician. "I made up my mind," he continued, "at the commencement of my professional career, to do my best under all circumstances, and so doing, I am not troubled by any misgivings.

A good rule for us all to follow. Too many are disposed to say, "No matter how I do this work now; next time I'll do better." practice is as bad as the reasoning. "No matter how I learn this lesson in the primary class; when I get into a higher department then I'll study." As well might the mother in knitting a stocking say, "No matter how the tip is done; even if I do drop a stitch now and then, I'll do better when I get further along." What kind of a stocking would that be?

As well might the builder say, "I don't

The Friend of China, from care how I make the foundation of this house; which we gather the above items, reprints anything will do here; wait till I get to the Said Sir Joshua Reynolds once to Dr. no need to go outside of India to learn the Samuel Johnson, "Pray tell me, sir, by what much to make them messenger of the same terrible results of opium smoking.—Chr. Adv. means have you attained such extraordinary accuracy and flow of language in the expres sion of your ideas?"

"I laid it down as a fixed rule," replied the doctor, "to do my hest on every occasion, and fit of Governments and of Populations." In in every company to impart what I know in this document he urged a general disarmathe most forcible language I can put it."— Review and Herald.

Selected. THE LITTLE COMFORTER,

I have a little comforter That climbs upon my knee, And makes the world seem possible When things go wrong with me. She never is the one to say, "If you had only been More careful and more sensible, This thing had been foreseen," She blesses me, Caresses me, And whispers, "Never mind; To-morrow night All will be right, My papa, good and kind."

To give me wise and good advice have of friends a score; But then the trouble ever is, I knew it all before. And when one's heart is full of care, One's plans all in a me The wisest reasoning, I think, Can't make the trouble less. My Mamie's way "O papa, don't be sad; To-morrow night All will be right, And then we shall be glad."

Some think I have been much to blame; Some say, "I told you so;" And others sigh, "What can't he helped Must be endured, you know." Of course, if trouble can be helped, Then crying is in vain; But when a wrong will not come right, Why should I not complain? In Mamie's eyes I'm always wise : She never thinks me wrong; It's understood I'm always good-

All day I've kept a cheerful face, All day been on the strain Now I may rest, or I may sigh, Or, if I like, complain. My danghter thinks as papa thinks, And in her loving sight I am a clever, prudent man, Who has done all things right, Faith so complete, Oh, it is sweet, When neither wise nor strong; But Love stands best The bitter test

Of Sorrow and of Wrong.

Good as the day is long.

Then come, my little comforter, And climb upon my knee; You make the world seem possible When things go wrong with me. For you've the wisdom far beyond The reach of any sage,
The loving, tender, hopeful trust
That best can strengthen age.
Say, "Papa dear,
Now don't you fear; Before to-morrow night. The cares you dread Will all have fled, And everything be right."

-Harper's Weekly.

From " The Recorder and Covenant The following lines brought to me in a ve severe spell of illness, by a dear friend, spe such sweet comfort to me, that I desire ve some other sorely tried ones.

Faithfully yours

"Blessed Jesus! I am lying On my weary couch of pain, Night and day, to thee I'm crying— Do not let me cry in vain! Blessed Jesus Speak in love, to me again!

I am lying still before thee, Racked with pain by night and day, Yet I know thou'rt bending o'er me, Hearing more than I can say; And thy presence Turns my darkness into day!

Let thine arms of love enfold me, Make me lean npon thy breast With thy gracious strength uphold me, Soothe me into perfect rest. Blessed Jesus ! In thine arms I'm fully blest!"

For "The Friend.

Dublin Meeting-house.

The endorsement at the foot of that i teresting paper, "Germantown Friends' Pr test against Slavery," is dated "At our Month Meeting at Dublin, 30th, 2nd mo. 1688," ar signed on behalf of the Monthly Meeting 1 Jo. Hart. The question was naturally raise Where was Dublin Meeting-house? Son research in the matter, I think, bas enable me to answer the question.

In 1857, Ed. Y. Buchanan delivered a "Historical Sketch of the Parish of Trinit Church, Oxford, Philadelphia." A few e: tracts from this address, which was printe in pamphlet form, will, I think, give us th information needed.

Before, however, turning to the pamphle I will take a few lines from Comly's Mi cellany relative to the settlement of Byberr Meeting, which throws light on the subject it says, the Monthly Meeting in 4th mo. 168 "Ordered that the meeting which of lat hath been held at Giles Knight's, be remove to the house of John Hart." In the 6th me following it is stated-"Friends did freel accept of ten acres of land given by Walte Forrest for a burying-ground for the service of Friends, near Poetquesink creek, and it left to the trust and care of Joseph Fishe John Hart, Samuel Ellis and Giles Knight, t get the ground surveyed and a deed of cor veyance to be made from Walter Forrest t themselves for the only use and behoof of Friends forever.

When George Keith disturbed the harmon of the Society with his schism, John Har went off with him, and after a few change became a preacher among the Baptists. "Som disorders and disturbances are reported t have taken place in the meeting at Poetque sink, so that Friends were induced quietly t abandon the meeting-house and meetings, an afterwards held their religious assemblies a the house of Henry English."-Comly. Henr. English emigrated to America in 1683.

To return to Buchanan's pamphlet. "Evan Evans, Episcopal Minister of Chris Church in Philadelphia, in a letter dated 170 says: 'Trinity Church, in Oxford Township lies in the county of Philadelphia, nine mile from the city, where for the first four year after my arrival in Philadelphia I frequently

he hundred and forty people-most of the in a dry-goods store. cople brought over to the Church of England

"The church to which Mr. Evans refers, as a building, probably of logs, which, acording to Keith, had been put up, or at least sed, for a Quaker meeting-house, but had een given by its proprietors to the parishne most of them having become converts to 24th, 1840. "A communication was received e church." Page 9.

"It probably stood near the present churchuilding, and may have been the one afterards spoken of in the records of the parish hurch.' Previous to the donation of it to was referred to the Committee on Instruction, ne church it may have been used, and proba- to report when prepared. ly was, by the Dutch Anabaptists and lace at Franckfort in Pennsylvania, or ceived by J. S., and signed by him. 'ranckfort alias Oxford,-as he had before dition, page 51.

Lecting-house, Philadelphia.

A Sailor's Wife. - There have been heroines survivor of them, &c.: In trust, nevertheless, s well as heroes on the sea, and of these for the sole use and hencfit of an Institution annie Wilson is one. When she was four-established at Westtown, Chester Co., Pa., een years of age she married the captain of (under the care of the Yearly Meeting of the vessel, and for seven years accompanied religious Society of Friends, which has for im on his voyages around the world without many years held and still continues to hold ccident.

vreck. They manned the pumps; and when stitution is large and increasing, a committee he gale had subsided a little, they rigged up was appointed to consider the subject, who iny-mast, under their new captain's orders, at the next meeting proposed that a com-

here, and as her husband was still quite in collecting the outstanding debts," &c. The lays. After this she settled down in New this department.

cached and administered both sacraments, York, and for seven years supported her

For "The Friend,"

Westtown Boarding School. At a meeting of the committee, 4th mo.

from Nathan Sharpless and Martha Jefferis, informing that they have looked towards being released, in the 4th month of next year, from their present stations of Superintendent s the School-house belonging to Oxford and Matron of the Institution. The subject quite commendable.

The report made to the Yearly Meeting in "The passage in which Keith speaks of the be released from that station, the committee usual; this is a source of regret, especially as

At the meeting held 6th mo. 1842, a legacy written-'where the congregation assembles was reported from Ann Swigett, deceased, n the Lord's day, is called Trinity Chapel. amount not stated. At the same time there t was formerly a Quaker meeting-house, is recorded an extract from the will of Jost wilt or fitted by Quakers, but some time ago Ely, deceased. After devising to his wife, ad been given to the church by such who Ann Ely, an estate for life in his brick dwell-ad the right to it." Pages 9, 10, quoted ing house, did further devise in the words roun Keith's Journal, P. E. Hist. Society's following, viz: "And at her decease, I give and devise to Henry Cope, merchant, and Though some doubt may be felt, there Thomas Evans, druggist, and their heirs, all yould be good grounds from the above to that aforesaid three-storied brick dwelling elieve that the meeting-house where Dublin house, No. 190, and lot or piece of ground donthly Meeting was held stood on the thereinto belonging, situate on south side of mulberry St., between Delaware 7th and 8th Sts., in the city of Philadelphia, * * * together said Henry Cope and Thomas Evans, and the its meetings and transact its business in the But in 1872 the ship encountered a terrible Friends' meeting-house on Mulberry St., betorm off the banks of Newfoundland. The tween 3d and 4th streets, in the city of Philaaptain was knocked down and his shoulder delphia,) commonly called and known by the vas broken. The first mate and several of name of the "Westtown Boarding School," he crew were also disabled, and the second and upon this further trust absolutely to disown, lashed on a door, into the cabin; and manner as the committee for the time being vhen his wife saw him rendered helpless in having charge of said Boarding School, shall his way, instead of yielding to lamentations, or may at any meeting or meetings, by minute he only thought of what she could do to of their proceedings in writing, direct, order upply his place. She rushed on deck, and and require." Geo. Williams, Henry Cope, allod the men around her.

"Boys, our lives are in danger," she said; on Trusts, made a report of their condition but stick to me, and I'll take you into port at this meeting, which was placed on record.

12th mo. 1842. "It being represented that She set them to work to clear away the the amount of outstanding debts due the intet sail again, and in twenty-one days the mittee of eight Friends, chosen with regard lettle, Thos. Evans, Ann Mifflin and Rebecca to their location in different parts of the Year-Allen, are appointed to inform them of this After the necessary repairs had been made ly Meeting, be appointed to aid the Treasurer

From the report of 1843: "The frequent hd had, when I last preached in it, about crippled husband and her child by working reading of the Holy Scriptures is practised, and portions thereof are committed to mem-When her husband died Secretary Sherman ovy by the pupils; they are taught the prinom Quakers, Anabaptists and other per-parisons." Page 8.

Appointed her to the post of Inspectress in the cipies of our Society as set forth by our ap-lasions." Page 8. only for their literary improvement, but to afford them the advantage of religious instruction, and to encourage them in the prac-tice of virtue and piety. The examination which recently took place, afforded to the committee satisfactory evidence of the attention bestowed by the teachers in these respects, as well as of application on the part of the scholars, many of whom evinced a degree of proficiency in their studies which was

The following is worthy of consideration at the present time :- "Notwithstanding the ample means provided in this institution for rell as by the English Quakers from whom son, who has long and faithfully served the probable that during the approaching session institution as Transmitted that the probable that during the approaching session institution as Treasurer, having requested to the school will be considerably smaller than ource whence it was received by the church united in appointing Jos. Snowdon to succeed the committee believe that owing to the opera-have transcribed. It reads thus: 'The him.' Then follows a list of securities retion of the school law and other causes, a number of our youth are receiving instruction in situations where a due regard is not paid to their moral and religious improve-

Extract from the will of Ennion Cook, deceased, which was proved 8th mo. 8th, 1842. I further direct that the residue of my estate, after paying the foregoing sums, be divided as follows, viz: one balf of said residue to be distributed among the persons before named who are relatives of my said wife and * * the other half of said residue be paid over by my executors to the treasurer for the time being of the Boarding School in Westtown township, Chester county, under the direction of the Yearly Meeting of Friends with the appurtenances, to hold to them, the held on Mulberry St., in the city of Philadelphia: the said sum to be appropriated first to the fund for increasing the salaries of the teachers of said institution, and then in any other way the committee having charge of said school may deem proper for its benefit."* Ennion Cook resided near the meeting-house at Birmingham, Chester Co., Pa., and was for some time usefully engaged in conducting a boarding school there. Residue, according to the administrator's account filed, $4970.13,-($2472.43 was subsequently received as the net amount of this legacy.

At a special meeting held 9th mo. 15th, 1843. This meeting was called at the renate was so frightened that he could not pose of and convey the same, either in fee or 1843. This meeting was called at the rerive any orders. The captain was carried for such other estate and in such way and quest of the Committee on Instruction, whose minute, dated the 28th ult., was now produced and read, informing that Pennock and Sarah Passmore had offered themselves to fill the stations of Superintendent and Matron at the boarding school, and that they had agreed to forward the subject for the consideration of this committee. The application of these friends being now read and deliberately considered, after a full expression of sentiment, it was unitedly agreed to accept this offer, and they are accordingly appointed to their respective stations, to enter upon their duties at the opening of the winter session. Saml.

^{*} It is very desirable that the example here set by there, and as her busband was still quite in collecting the outstanding debts, "Ac. The learning the stable of the ship of Liverpool, and made the voyage in thirty continues yet to afford valuable assistance in the testator has some special object of benevolence.

eonclusion and to introduce them into the

The Higher Criticism. - A contemporary gives the following very elever slash at what is styled the "higher criticism," which speaks of two Zechariahs, several Isaiahs, and half a dozen or more Moseses. The writer proves as satisfactorily as any of these writers have done on the same method that there could not have been less than six Robert Burnses. "For it is beyond a doubt, and indeed admitted on all hands, that there was one Robert Burns who wrote poems and songs in the broadest Scotch Doric. But then there was another Robert Burns who wrote the 'Cotter's Saturday Night,' and 'Mary in Heaven, in the purest Saxon English, So that, according to the critics, in their two perfect incompatible styles, we have clear and unmistakable evidence that there must have been, at least, a second Robert Burns. But this is not all. For there must have been a third Robert Burns who held low Democratic-Radical principles, and wrote 'A Man's a Man for a' That.' And a fourth Robert Burns, who was at heart a Jacobite loyalist, and had no sympathy with the divine rights of the people. Further, there must have been another Robert Burns of very questionable religion and morality, who wrote 'Holy Willie's Fair,' who could not possibly have anything in harmony with the writer of the 'Cotter's Saturday Night.' And to sum up all, there must have been some editor or interpolater of a later period who wrote the epitaph of the poet. For how could it be possible for a man to write his own epitaph, and tell the very place he was to die and be buried, and the character and the quality of the grassy sod? No, no! It must have been written by some editor of a later period -say 100 or 200 years later-one that had examined into all facts of the history of the primitive Robert Burns .- London Freeman.

John Bright's Resignation.-Much as I regret the loss sustained by Gladstone and his cabinet, I rejoice on many grounds in this resignation. John Bright is the foremost champion of the peace party. He holds that the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," is broken when men are slain in war. He cannot approve, much less justify, bombardments, military occupation, armed intervention in the affairs of Egypt. To be consistent with himself and loyal to his convictions, he could do none other than resign his membership in a government which ordered Admiral Sevmour to bombard the forts at Alexandria, and which has sent out some thousands of soldiers to coerce Egypt into compliance with the proposals of England. Bright has covered himself with honor, alike by his resignation and by the dignified and patriotic statement he made in response to the calls upon him for an explanation. Better far that the govcrnment should lose Bright than that he should be unfaithful to his conscience, or disloyal to the Prince of Peace. - Correspondence of Nat. Bapt.

It is well to attend to the making of one's will in proper season, and to remember, that in the Day of Judgment, account will as surely have to be rendered for the right use and the disposal that has been made of the talent of property, as for that of any other talent.

Marriage in Stamboul.

The state of society was revealed to me with rather startling force one day. I called upon a young Mohammedan whose English education has made him one of ourselves in all respects, saving that it has not shaken his religious faith. He held in his arms a lovely child of two years old or so, who screamed with passion. A small Circassian boy, fair haired, blue eyed, was trying to appease her, but the apparition of the "Chelebi" was more successful

The children were presently dismissed to the harem, and my friend observed :

"I dread to think of that boy's departure. My baby has the temper of a little fiend, and only he can manage her."

Knowing the small Circassian to be a slave, I asked why he was leaving.

"I must send him to Robert College soon," was the reply, "and get another playfellow for the child."

Robert College is the American school where so many middle-class youths are being educated-well educated, too, though perhaps the training is not in all respects the best.

I said, "The kindness of your people toward their slaves is well-known to me, but I did not think it ran so far as to pay their expenses at college.

He answered, laughing: " Not as a rule, of course. But my intention is to marry those two if Ahmet turns out well. He is clever and well disposed. The missionaries will keep him honest, I hope.

 This was such a novel view of the relations between bondslave and mistress, that I discussed the matter at length several times.

My friend told me that such matches, never rare in Turkey, are now quite usual. The state of morals is such in Stamboul, that parents do not willingly take a daughter or son-in-law from families of their own rank. They distrust all the world. It has lately become a common thing to choose a slave, boy or girl, to grow up under their eyes. The first expense averages, perhaps, forty pounds, and the female child costs little. She is taught truthfulness and virtue, fine sewing, the mystery of coffee-making and of filling a pipethe arts of a very simple housewife. A boy is vastly more expensive, as in this case he must be sent to school, launched upon some kind of employment, and provided for until the parents are satisfied that he will make their child happy. Then the pair are married and the ex-slave becomes a member of the family, though that makes little change to him.

My Moslem friend is on such terms with me that I speak of his wife almost as freely as I should speak of a Christian's. Remember that he was brought up in England and speaks the language as well as we. Many readers acquainted with Constantinople will, know to whom I refer.

To my question how the child's mother regarded this idea, he answered that it was her own conceiving. And then he related various stories of domestic misery and crime within not wed a Turk of Stamboul.

I asked what they proposed to do if this little slave died before marriage, determined to look out a husband in Syria, where there are still honest men.'

Such is the view which a Turk, educain the real sense, expresses of his country;
—not the elder, but the new generation whom so much is hoped .- All the Year Roz

Origin of Names in Eastern Pennsylva; -The following are the meanings or sign cations of some of the names of rivers, strea and places in the eastern part of Pennsylvar in the Schuylkill and Lehigh Valleys:

Schuylkill, (Holland Dutch,) origina Schuilen, "hidden or concealed," kill, "riv or creek."

Lehigh, from Lecha, or Lechaw, "w branch.

Manayunk, or Manajung, (one of the Indi names of the Schuylkill river,) "our place Perkiomen, Pakihomink, Pahkehome cranberry place." Catasauqua originally Caladaque, mea parched land."

Mauch Chunk, "bear mountain."

Manatawny, Mahanatawny, or Menhatti ink, "the place where we drink." Coplay, from Copeechan, "a fine running Hokendauqua, from Hockondogue, "searc

ing for land. Towamencin, or Towamensing, "wilde

Wissahickon, from Wisamekhan, "catfis

Skippack, or Schkipeck, "stinking or sta, nant pool.

Wyoming, from Maughwanwame, "larg

Susquehannah, "long crooked river." -Selected.

A Question and Reply.-Said a caviler & the Bible and religious truth, whose deligh it was to propound questions which migh puzzle and confuse the Christian professor to a good man whose face had been set heaver ward for many a year, "What do you thin of this doctrine of annihilation? As for me the more I think of it, the more I believe is it. It doesn't seem like God to punish th wicked eternally. What do you think abou

"I don't think much about it," was the reply. "It doesn't concern me, for I am no going that way. I have started for heaven and I mean, by the grace of God, to get there and take others with me. I don't care whethe it is hell or annihilation. You must not come to me. Ask those who are travelling tha way. They ought to know what kind of place they mean to fetch up at."

The caviler was silenced, and his question thrown back upon him in a way he did no expect. An honest doubter deserves con sideration, but a caviling spirit merits more of slight than rebuke.—American Messenger.

For " The Friend." Religious Items, &c.

Faith-Cure Camp Meeting .- The Faith-Cure Camp-meeting at Old Orchard Beach is one of her knowledge which had brought his wife the things that it is very difficult to comment to a fixed resolve that her daughter should upon, yet which is deserving of serious notice On the one hand, we have no desire to say a word that could be construed into disparage ment of the faith or zeal or Christian charac "In that case," said the father, "we are ter of so devout and carnest a man as Dr Cullis. On the other hand, the spectacle of 600 invalids passing in procession before the t all of them, as well as five out of a huned? Is any one sure that the persons rerted cured were as helpless as they supsed themselves to be? These may be called e questions of skepticism, but they are quesons that naturally arise, and to which it is that an answer should be given before acknowledge that the day of miracles has turned.—Chr. Adv.

Egypt has been to suspend the work of the ssionaries employed there. Many of these ve left the country and sought refuge else-

Liquor and Tobacco Statistics.—The report the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for nount of distilled spirituous liquors used for inking purposes in the United States in 79 as over 66,000,000 gallons; of wines, ,000,000 gallons; of ale, beer, and other ferented liquors, 14,000,000 barrels; of tobacco, e consumption was more than 136,000,000 unds; and the number of cigars and cigarllions.

The money expended in these useless luxues in two years would probably pay the on of it would suffice to pay the expenses ening and encouraging to some. government, and to support hospitals, hools and other institutions for the good of e community in all parts of the country. hen we reflect that the effect of these stimuats is injurious to health and character, and at therefore the sums spent on them are orse than wasted, it is difficult to see how eir use, or the trading in them can be reconed with the advice of the apostle-" Avoid e very appearance of evil.'

THE FRIEND.

NINTH MONTH 16, 1882.

The duties that devolve upon different perns are very different; yet, however unlike e lines of service may be which open before , if they are performed in the fear of the id of the church, if one member suffer all lassureury rest on those the path which generally assured the entire that the path which several partake in its joy. And those several partake in its joy. And those the path which is since ely move forward in the path which is several partake in its joy. And those the path which is since ely move forward in the path which is were found to guilty, and in reference to three, the jury were made to bribe the jury were made to bribe the jury, which are to be investigated. rties which seem comparatively of a humble d inconspicuous character are as essential

d in invalid chairs, dwarfs, cripples, blind who are bringing up their families in "the duction of a plant whose general use is cerrsons, each to be anointed with oil, and nurture and admonition of the Lord;" watch-tainly injurious to mankind. That a plant of ayed over, for the purpose of being healed, ing carefully over the development of charae-such strong narcotic and poisonous properties is said that some threw away their crutches, the buddings of evil propensities in the young was confined, even approximately, to such d walked off in the consciousness of regained children; turning their thoughts to their purposes, there might be a reasonable excuse Others feel themselves greatly Heavenly Father as an ever-present witness for a Friend to cultivate it. But there is no kind, in the Lord's vineyard. Such exercises of our fellow-men.

"honorable women," she feelingly referred to our lands to the production of a substance Missions in Egypt.—One effect of the war the manner in which the multitude of little which is burtful to mankind, and which we distracting cares connected with her flock are reasonably certain will be so used as to and honsehold drew away the mind from do harm; or if, by trading in such an article, that communion with the Source of all good, we are instrumental in bringing it within the which is so essential to the preservation of reach of those who will use it to their own spiritual life; and to the constant occurrence injury; how can we suppose that in so doing of little things which tended to produce a we are acting to the glory of our Creator, or e year ending 6th mo. 30th, 1880, gives the mental unsettlement which was not favorable doing his will? to true peace or to the proper discharge of her duties. We do not doubt that she expressed the feelings which often rise in the things without sufficient consideration; but hearts of many mothers. But cannot all rather to invite such to carefully and subsuch take comfort in the thought, that this missively regard the feelings of uncasiness burthen is one, which in the ordering of the with their course which we believe the Light Lord has been allotted to their position, and of Christ in their own hearts will inspire. tes consumed in smoke approached three that if it is patiently borne, it may be blessed to themselves, and effectually help forward their own growth in grace?

Since writing the above, we have met with hole of our national debt; and a small fracthe following scrap, which may prove strength-

> "WAIT .- 'Oh, the drudgery of this everyday routine! reits many a business man, a large amount of money. Phipps having fled from and many a bouse-keeping woman. To the city, a reward has been issued for his arrest. Some get through the day, and to have the same of his accomplies have been taken into custody and round to traverse to-morrow! Yes, but how released on ball. The value of property plundered do you know what use the gracious Superju. From the city during the past nine years it is thought do you know what use the gracious Superiutendent of your life is making of this humtendent of your life is making of this hum-drum, as you call it? A poor, blind mill-deaths in Philadelphia. Of these 135 were of children he is turning is geared into others, and they far away beyond his hearing, are working out results that he could never comprehend. Wait until you see no longer through a glass darkly, and see the unknown bearings and connections of your life-work with other generations, and may be with other worlds.

While we cannot know the unseen results ord and with an eye to the promotion of of our labors and prayers and exercises, the s cause, all will tend to our own welfare humble and devoted follower of Christ may d that of others. So closely interwoven be comforted by the belief that the Lord will e our mutual interests, that it may truly be do all things well, and that his blessing will dinconspicuous character are as essential. A recent excursion into some of the Latsure | faiton in Boston, it was stated that reports had been the welfare of the body, and their faithful parts of Pennsylvania gave evidence of the received from $1 exchanges, representing about 29,000 for formance may yield as rich a reward of spread in those fertile lands of the eultrivation sheet in the second part of the property of the part of the property ctor, some tottering on crutches, some care pathy and respect, than those faithful mothers lead them to devote their fields to the proes not seem to us altogether edifying. Some ter in their offspring; looking after their may have a useful place in the economy of these persons declared themselves lealed physical and intellectual culture; checking civil society, we do not doubt; and if its use nefitted, though not cured. Many experi- of all that they say, and do, and think; and reason to believe that one pound in a thousand ce no change in their condition. What is directing their attention to the impressions is applied to uses which promote the good of e effect on this latter class? If it is the of his Spirit in their minds as a guide to their mankind; on the contrary, with a very slight ayer of faith that is to heal the sick, why steps. Those who occupy such a position exception, the tobacco crop is devoted to will necessarily partake of the exercises of ministering to a depraved appetite, and inspirit which attend all laborers, of whatever juring the health and impairing the vitality tend to humble our self-confidence; lead as to seek to the Lord for wisdom and strength; and teach us to depend on his blessing for success in our endeavors.

In a recent conversation with one of these glory of God." If we devote our labor and

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES, - Recent investigations into the management of the Almshouse in Philadelphia, have shown that Ellis P. Phipps, the late Superintendent, has been in the practice of fraudulently disposing of a large amount of articles of food and other movable property under his charge, for a considerable time past; will amount to several hundred thousand dollars.

horse treads his beat, hour after hour, and it under 5 years of age: 40 deaths were for consumption all seems to come to nothing. But the shaft of the lungs; 33 from cholera infantum; 26 from he is turning is greated into others, and they marsams; 17 old age; 17 dilphtheria; 13 typhoid fever. The crop reports of the Agricultural Department at into wheels, that in other rooms, above him, Washington for the 9th month, indicate that the corn crop in all the region south of Pennsylvania and of the Ohio river, is in high condition in every State except West Virginia, represented by 100 or higher figures. In the New England States there has been a decline in the probable crop, as compared with the prospect last month, excepting in Vermont, as is also the case in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. If early frosts do not injure the crop the yield, it is thought, will be materially larger than last year.

The oats crop when harvested was in unusually high condition, and the rye crop is also above the average. A verdict in the trial relating to the Star postal rontes, which commenced in the 3rd month last, was e our mutual interests, that it may truly be do all things well, and that his blessing will rendered on the 11th inst. Two of the accised, John id of the church, if one member suffer all assuredly rest on those who honestly and R. Miner and Mentford C. Rerdell, were found guilty,

At a recent meeting of the National Telephone Asso-A recent excursion into some of the Eastern ciation in Boston, it was stated that reports had been Lispamingo, in the Indian Territory, and Governor for 12th mo. Overton was installed. The Governor, in his message, Beef cattle recommended stringent laws for the protection of life and property, and favors the improvement of educational facilities and the establishment of manual labor schools, where youth can be taught the science of chemistry, practical agriculture and mechanics,

An extensive cave-in recently occurred at Lost Creek, on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about three miles from Shenandoah. The ground continued settling during the day, and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon a seam was opened along the railroad track, about three feet in width and 1000 yards in length. The running of trains was stopped for a time, until the track was raised to its usual grade. The sinking was caused by the working of underlying coal veins.

The oat crop of Illinois this year is now estimated at the enormous aggregate of 100,000,000 bushels-onethird larger than the largest crop of any previous year.

The Governor of Texas has issued an appeal to the authorities of the towns and cities of that State for relief for the Brownsville sufferers from yellow fever. The total number of cases to the 10th inst. has been 1539, and of deaths 88.

On account of the increase in the number of new cases of yellow fever in Pensacola, Fla., an appeal has been made to the public for help.

During a thunder storm on the 9th inst., "a meteor weighing one pound and eleven onnces" fell in Lebanon,

Pa., appearing like a ball of fire as it touched the ground.

In carrying into execution the provisions of the late anti-Chinese law, the question has arisen "whether a and chinese law, the question has arisen. "whether a certificate is required of Chinese travelling from one point to another in this country on a through ticket, and who may stop in Canada en route." The Acting Secretary of the Treasury has concluded not to decide the matter, but to "leave all such questions to the diseretion of the enstoms officers to act according to the

In the case of an alleged Chinese merchant, who arrived in San Francisco from Panama, and was not permitted to land, Judge Field, in the U.S. Circuit Court, has decided that "merchants coming from other countries than China may land without certificates."

Careful calculators say that by the close of the season there will have been sent to New York 1,500,000 baskets of peaches, and about 500,000 direct to various points in New England. The canners of Baltimore and Philadelphia, and the evaporators located near the peach-growing section have operated very heavily this year, using fully 1,500,000 baskets. No fewer than eighly evaporating establishments are said to have heen Chester Co., Pa.; or to Charles J. Allen, Teasurer, busy in Delaware and Maryland ever since fine fruit 304 Arch St., Philadelphia. Terms, 880 per session. was ready to be plucked. This evaporating method, it is believed, has almost superseded the old custom of sun drying. It is believed that the crop of this year will equal that of the remarkable yield of 1875. The Commissioners appointed by Congress to inves-

The Commissioners appointed by Congress to investigate the working of the present tariff with a view to its improvement, have had interviews in several of the large cities, with individuals representing large manufactures and the state of the Milwayhead. facturing interests, and are expected to sit in Milwaukee on the 11th inst., St. Paul and Minneapolis 13th, Des Moines 15th, St. Louis 18th and 19th, Nashville 21st, Chattanooga 22d, Atlanta 23d, Savannah 25th, Charleston 26th, Wilmington 27th, Richmond 28th, Baltimore 29th and 30th, and at Philadelphia on 10th mo. 2d.

It is stated that a party of capitalists in Chicago have formed a company, with $6,000,000 capital, to ship refrigerator beef from Texas to New York

The returns of the State election in Maine, held on the 11th inst., indicate that Robie the Republican candidate for Governor has been elected, and that the Legislature, in both branches, will be largely Repub lican.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3½'s, 101¾; 4½'s, 113¾; 4's, regis tered, 120; coupon, 121; currency 6's, 133

Cotton moves slowly at 13 cts, for middling uplands, bers), who ma Flonr and Meal.—Flour is inactive. Sales of 1700 fully relieved. barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $6.75 to $7.25 Florr and Meal.—Flour is inactive. Sales of 1700 tulty reneved.

harrels, including Minnesota extras, at $6.75 to $7.25 to $7.50 for straight; Penna.

for clear, and at $7.25 to $7.50 for straight; Penna.

cextra family at $5 to $5.25; western do. do. at $5.50 Woolman, as Principals, both experienced teachers of to $6, and patents at $6.50 to $8.50. Rye flour is firm at $8.75 to $4.

at 8.57.5 to 8.1. Grain.—Wheat is unsettled and irregular. Sales of Grain.—Wheat is unsettled and irregular. Sales of Grain.—Wheat is unsettled and irregular. Sales of the including the sales of the s 12th mo. Rye is nominal. Corn is dull at irregular Sales of car lots at 80 to 82 cts., as to quality. Sail, mixed, closed with 72 ets. bid for 9th mo., 72 ets. for 10th mo., 65 cts, for 11th mo., and 50 cts, for 12th tion to the Treasurer of the Committee, mo. Oats quiet, No. 2 white, 45 cts, bid for 9th mo.,

The Chickasaw Legislature met on the 5th inst., at 441 cts. for 10th mo., 44 cts. for 11th mo., and 441 cts.

Beef cattle were dull except for extra good stock, and 16 12; ets. per potent, as to condition. Foreiers.—A prochamation of the Sultan of Turkey against Arabi Pasha has been published, which declares that the maintenance of the authority and prestige of the Khediwe is indispensably necessary, and that the designs of Arahi Pasha justify his being described as a rebel, and exhorts the Egpvians to obey the Khedive. It is stated that Lord Dufferin is disastispide with the Sultan's proclamation, inasmuch, while it states that Arabi deserves to be declared a rebel, it does not expressly proclaim him as such.

It is stated that Arabi Pasha's army consists of: Infantry, 44,600; cavalry, 18,000; Bedouins, 30,500.

On the 8th inst. an engagement took place near Kassassiu of an undecisive character, after which the English army made a slight advance towards Tel-el-Kehir, where Arabi Pasha's army is encamped. Additional troops have sailed for England.

In reference to the annual report of the crops of the world collected and published at Marseilles, the London world correct and photosers at the control of the correct and former says: "Never, during the time since these reports were collected, has the harvest in the Northern hemisphere been so good all round. We usually had hemisphere been so good all round, we usually nau-to report a difficiency either in Europe or America. This year there is absolutely none. The world over an average harvest, and with such a harvest the year is likely to be one of cheap abundance."

A late earthquake at Panama has resulted in the destruction of several thousand dollars worth of property in that city. At Aspinwall several lives were lost, and the railroad between the two cities so injured that travel has been stopped.

The Mexican National Railway has reached the 93d mile post from the City of Mexico, entitling the company to a subsidy for the 270 miles of the main line completed, amounting to $3,000,000. The company has built in all, of main line and branches in Mexico, about 400 miles.

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL.

The WINTER SESSION begins on Second-day, Tenth month 30th, 1882. Parents and others intending to send pupils, will please make early application to Jonathan G. Williams, Supt., address Westown P.O.,

WANTED.

Teachers and assistant teachers for the Evening Schools for Adult Colored Persons, men's and women's departments. Apply to Ephraim Smith, 1110 Pine St., Philadelphia. Thomas Elkinton, 400 S. Ninth St., " Thomas Woolman, 858 Marshall St., Finley Hutton, 400 Chestnut St.,

FRIENDS' SELECT SCHOOLS.

These schools, under the care of the three Monthly Meetings of Friends in this city, will re-open on Secondday, Ninth mo. 18th, 1882

A limited number of children will now be admitted who are not members of our religious Society, whose parents may desire to have them educated free from the unnecessary but fashionable accomplishments, too common in many schools at this day.

The attention of Friends residing in the city and its neighborhood is invited to them. The terms are moderate, and Friends belonging to Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, sending children to these schools, (also members), who may find the charges burdensome, can be Noble Sts., will be continued under their former efficient management.

Further information may be obtained upon applica-JAMES SMEDLEY, No. 415 Market St.

RECEIPTS

Received from Mary De Cou, N. J., $2.10, vol. from Joshua Taylor, Mich., $2.10, vol. 56; from Ric Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Martha L. Scott, Pa., $5 (cfn, §2.10, vol. 50, and for Martina L. Scott, 72, §2. vol. 56; from Frances S Williams, City, §2. vol. from James M. Price, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from J S. Fowler, O., per Edmund S. Fowler, Agent, §2. vol. 56; from C. I. Hayes, O., $2.10, vol. 56; f Elhanan Zook, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Abner J ridge, Agent, Io., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Alexander McGrew, $2.10, vol. 56, and M. A. Fritchman, $2 to No. 19, vol. 57; from Dr. William H. Walker, $2,10, vol. 56; from Elwood Comfort, Mich., $2.10, vol. 56; from Elwood Comfort, Mich., $2.10, vol. from Reuben Battin, Agent, Pa., $2.10, to No. 10, vol and fur Joseph McCarty, Abel McCarty, George Scl John S. Brown, Charles F. Hess and Theodore H S2.10 each, vol. 56; from Deborah Hopkins, City, S2: 0.0, 56; from Samuel W. Stanley, Agent, 10, S2.10, v. 56, and for Benjamin V. Stanley, Thomas E. Stanl Thomas D. Yocun, Eli Hadgiu, John E. Hodgi Asenath Edgerton, and Micujah Emmons, S2.10 each, vol. 56; from Hannah G. Evans, N. J., S2.10, vol. 56; from Mary Hasket, O., S2.10, vol. 56; from Libeliderston, Md., S2.10, vol. 56, and for George Bald ston, S2.10, vol. 56; from William H. Blackbu Agent, O., for Wilson Hall and Joseph Hall, S2 each, vol. 56; from World and for Mary Ann Jones, S2.10, vol. 56; from Woolst and for Mary Ann Jones, S2.10, vol. 56; from Woolst $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Deborah Hopkins, City, $2 each, vol. 56; from Charles Jones, Gun., $2.10, vol. and for Mary Ann Jones, $2.10, vol. 56; from Woolst Comfort, Mich., $2.10, vol. 56; from Stephen H. Fost III., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sarah C. Glover, N. J., $2, vol. 56; from Truman Forsythe, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56 for Michard M. Acton, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; for Willif, G. Reeve, N. J., $2.10, to No. 14, vol. 57; from William C. Reeve, N. J., $2.10, to No. 14, vol. 57; from William B. Coope, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Lydii Cooper, $2.10, vol. 56, and for Lydii Cooper, $2.10, vol. 56, and for Lydii Cooper, $2.10, vol. 56. N. J., $2.10, vol. 50, and in Lydin Cooper, $2.10, v. v. 56; from Sue and Arthur Jones, Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56 from Samuel Jones, Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Samth, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from E. W. South, M. 1 N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sidney Garrigues, Pa., $2.1 No. 56; from Samuel F. Balderston, City, $2, vol. 56; from Charles T. Lukens, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Miriam French, O., $2.10, vol. 56; from John Ballinger, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56.

Remittances received after Fourth-day morning will a appear in the Receipts until the following week.

THE CORPORATION OF HAVERFORD COLLEGE.

A Stated Annual Meeting of "The Corporation Haverford College" will be held in the Committee-roo of Arch Street Meeting house, Philadelphia, on Thirday, Tenth month 10th, 1882, at 3 o'clock, P. M. EDWARD BETTLE, Jr., Secretary.

WESTTOWN SCHOOL

A stated meeting of the Committee on Admission will be held in the third-story room of Friends' Boo Store, 304 Arch St., on Seventh-day, the 16th inst., a TOUGHKENAMON BOARDING SCHOOL Will re-open Ninth mo. 18th, 1882. H. M. Cope, Principal.

Toughkenamon, Chester Co., Pa.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS, PARENTS AND OTHERS.

The Yearly Meeting's Committee on Education hav placed a book at Friends' Book Store, No. 304 Arch St Philadelphia, where applications from teachers wish ing situations, and committees who desire to emplo teachers among Friends, may be recorded.

Please give address, and full particulars.

ELLISTON P. MORRIS, Clerk.

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE, Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelphia. Physician and Superintendent-JOHN C. HALL, M.I Applications for the Admission of Patients may b made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Board of Managers, 11 - R FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, NINTH MONTH 23, 1882.

NO. 7.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

e, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON, MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

criptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

Robert Proud, the Teacher. ome manuscript memoranda of Robert tem mittunt. oud, the author of the first History of Pennvania, which were placed in my hands, led the preparation of the following sketch of life. In compiling it, some use has been ton family and other records. Ie was a member of the Society of Friends, of his life written by himself. was born on the 10th of 5th month, 1728, Yorkshire, England. Of his early years, n earrying out this desire for mental im- suit and determined to go to America. vement, he went to live, when about sevene was kept up between them until the a more modern edifice. th of D. Hall. This was carried on in the ore than 50 years before,) R. Proud was It reads as follows:ng in London. It reads as follows :-

Amiee dilectissime, i ad te gratis et sine pretio literarum and Ann Proud, of Wildon, in the County of such competent government, the school necesfacio nos plerosque omnes impræsentiarum having been made, nothing appears, but that prosperâ frui valetudine, teque plurimâ sa- he is of a sober and orderly conversation and lute importire, meque Kara +6 coos erudiendorum exemplary in his conduct, and also clear of puerorum officio fungi; quod quidem opus est any engagements respecting marriage, so far mihi annum ætatis septuagesimum primum as we know. We recommend him to your agenti (Dei opt. max, beneficio difficilia, facilia, kind notice and brotherly regard and remain dura mollia reddenti) haud quidem est per- with the salutation of love, molestum, sed potius pergratum.

"Amicos meos omnes prout se tibi offert salutandi opportunitas, nomine meo salutes Meeting held in London, 18th of Ninth month, velim; qui sum tibi amicus certus, salutisque 1758. tuæ semper studiosus,

DAVID HALL. Uxor necnon et filius, tibi plurimam salu-

"Skiptoniæ 4to 9ni mensis, 1753." Ad Robertum Prondum.

de of the Memoir by Charles West Thom-to literary attainments, but he had been published by the Pennsylvania Historical taught in the school of Christ, and was an item 1760, speaks of procuring a teacher of Latin for the Public Schools and says: "I am not icty; and additional information has been accepted minister in the Society of Friends. ained from the MSS letters of the Pem- After his death, some of his productions were Prond to undertake the care of the school, collected into a small volume, with a sketch though he at present chooses only the care of

In 1750, R. Proud removed to London, where through the influence of his relative, says: "I had a sense of what is good and Dr. John Fothergill, he obtained a situation tice), and they, I think, improve in their learncellent, and of the contrary; and have ever as private tutor to the children of Timothy ing. Charles reads Horace and his Greek in according to that sense, very desirous Bevan. In his intervals of leisure, he con-Testament, and has a good notion of what he he best things; and therefore early, in my tinued to prosecute his literary and scientific ing years, had a strong inclination for pursuits; and after a time entered on the ming, virtue and true wisdom, or im-study of medicine, which he successfully purwement of mind and mental felicity, be-sued for several years. His prospects of suc-or in preference to all mere worldly or cess as a physician were very good, but be grior considerations; which I afterwards became disatisfied with his situation. It exected on that account, when I was courted posed him, he remarks, "to a very glaring them, and had it in my power to have view of the chief causes of those diseases, (not beared in a much superior character and to say vices,) which occasioned the greatest tion in the world, than I am since known emolument to the profession of medicine; and, upon this ground he abandoned the pur-

He arrived in Philadelphia in the First n years of age, with David Hall, who kept month of 1759, and resided there during the parding school at Skipton in Yorkshire, remainder of his long life. During a part of was, as R. P. says, "esteemed one of the this time his home was with his worthy friend st learned, reputable and most worthy per- Anthony Benezet; and he frequently spoke, s, then in that part of England." Here he with great satisfaction, of the many pleasant be a manifest prejudice to them to suffer him aimed four years with great satisfaction hours he had spent in the company of that I improvement. By the persuasion of his estimable man. He used to compare feed-cher, he applied himself to the study of zet's house to a ship's cabin, it being below William Log in and Greek, in which he made consider- the level of the ground, with descending steps e proficiency. A firm friendship was ee- to the door. This antiquated building stood nted between preceptor and pupil, and on Chestnut street below Fourth, and was and an usher to assist him, that he appeared or R. Prond left the school a correspond removed in the year 1818, to make room for contented, and that "things are in a fair way ng then in his 82d year. When received, in Philadelphia, or elsewhere in America."

mittendi occasione, his te breviter certiorem York: This may certify you, that due inquiry

Your friends and brethren. "Signed in and on behalf of our Two weeks

SILVANUS BEVAN, TIMOTHY BEVAN. Joseph Phipps, SAMUEL BOWNAS."

In Philadelphia he soon resumed his employment of teaching—in which most of the active years of his life were spent. A letter David Hall was not only a learned man as from Israel Pemberton, dated 2d mo. 12th, for the Public Schools, and says: "I am not out of hopes we shall be able to engage Robert a few children, and seems rather calculated for that than a public school. My two younger sons are with him (the eldest being apprenlearns.'

That he was esteemed as a teacher, is shown by a letter of James Pemberton, of 12th mo. 22nd, 1760, to William Logan, who was then in England, which thus refers to him: "Robert Proud being so nneasy with his situation in respect to his board, where he was subjected to divers inconveniences, that to prevent his breaking up school and returning to England, which he talked of, I have with my wife's consent offered to take him into my family, and to provide him with the compting house in my yard for his boys until he can furnish himself more to his satisfaction, with which he seems pleased. My son and his other pupils make so good advancement in their learning, that I think it would

A second letter from James Pemberton to William Logan, on the 21st of 12th mo. 1761, mentions that Robert had been in the school for some time past, that he had thirty scholars of being conducted with reputation."
C. W. Thomson says that teaching "was in tonge. In R. P.'s MSS, the last of Society of Friends, granted to him on his his element, and perhaps the sphere of his series of letters is transcribed, when he iself was drawing near the close of life, dressed "To the Monthly Meeting of Friends delight in the languages—was well acquainted." with Latin and Greek, and had also a considerable knowledge of French and Hebrew. "A certificate being requested on behalf of With the Latin he was so familiar that he Robert Proud, a member of Grace Church thought he could understand a subject better Oblata per consanguineum J. Foster Street Monthly Meeting, and son of William in that language than in his own. Under sarily flourished; and he had the satisfaction waited on and cared for by another poor was needful to fan him almost constitute of sending forth from it many, who have since woman, her only attendant. Word came to The disease seemed to be making rapid. attained a high standing in society, and behave moved. His manners as a teacher were mild, commanding and affectionate. I once heard a gentleman, who had been his pupil, speak with much satisfaction of Proud's conduct towards him on leaving school. He entered with perfect freedom into familiar conversation, enquired with the most paternal with the greatest kindness offered him some appropriate advice, and parted with him as a father parts with his son. It produced on the mind of this individual, though he was at that time but a boy, an impression of the hunger and die?" deepest respect.

fested in some lines which he wrote on the the suffering there, and administered unto it, thy house, and the place where thine has decease of one of them in 1783—a child of caring for her all the way through.— Talmage. dwelleth; gather not my soul with sinner Nicholas Waln, who was then in Europe on a religious visit.

(To be continued.)

Dreams.

CONVERTED BY A DREAM.

John Newton, the fame of whose piety fills all Christendom, while a profligate sailor on shipboard, in his dream thought that a being approached him and gave him a very beautiful ring, and put it upon his finger, and said Joseph Evans. His mag, and part a spon wear that ring you to him, "As long as you wear that ring you mility, and a preacher of righteousness in his him, "Dear brother, I hope we shall meet will be prospered; if you lose that ring you mility, and a preacher of righteousness in his him, "Dear brother, I hope we shall meet will be prospered; or you have not been shall meet the prospered; or you have not been shall will be ruined." In the same dream another life and conversation; to whom may justly be fore the throne." Soon after, he had personage appeared, and by a strange infatual applied the words of the Psalmist, "Mark the family called around the bed, and spoke v personage appears and the second of the seco folly in having thrown overboard the trea- forth," to the refreshing of many. sure, another personage came through the said that he saw in his dream that that valuable gem was his soul, and that the being who dade gem was his soul, and that the being who dade gem was his soul, and that the being who deem do deemed spirit was gathered, we doubt not persuaded him to throw it overboard was the 10th of 2d mo. 1871, in the 82d year of its heavenly rest. Satan, and that the one who plunged in and his age. The morning he was taken ill he most wonderful man.

come, and that the roil of the snip's crew was comforted that morning in reading the body, and that the called, except his own name; and that these particularly the 147th Psalm, 11th verse, "The me that when the tidings of this change can people, this crew, were all banished; and in Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear Him, his dream he asked the reader why his own in those that hope in his mercy." He mentions the same that it has been been that it has been comportantly for repentance, was applicable to himself, for his only bogy the was before." "Twelve months had pass the walk was a different way. The has now we in the mercy of God his Chiest Leasure." "Twelve months had pass a way." was the program of God his Chiest Leasure. He woke up a different man. He became was in the mercy of God in Christ Jesus. illustrious for Christian attainment.

and great philanthropies—at Wellington, prayed fervently for patience to bear all that conclusion that he was in every respect a fin England, showed me a house where the Lord was laid upon him to be made fit to appear man than ever before; he was kinder, mo her one day that this poor woman had died, gress, but he did not express what he the come ornaments to the circles in which they and the invalid of whom I am speaking lay respecting the issue until his dear broken helpless upon the couch, wondering what the physician, came. He inquired of I would become of her. In that mood she fell be considered the disease of a serious na asleep. In her dreams she said the angel of He replied, he did. He looked very tho the Lord appeared, and took her into the open ful and said, "It is an awful thing to car air and pointed in one direction, and there have nothing to trust to but merey." were mountains of bread; and pointed in an-seemed to be much of the time engage versation, enquired with the most paternal other direction, and there were monntains of fervent supplication,—sometimes using anxiety respecting his prospects in life, and butter; and in another direction, and there words, "O Heavenly One, be pleased to were mountains of all kinds of worldly supply. short the work in righteousness, if consist The angel of the Lord said to her: "Woman, with thy holy will." His sufferings from all these mountains belong to your Father, pression were so great, he feared his pat n and do you think he will let you his child, pepest respect."

Dr. Crannage told me by some divine imthe Truth. Soon after he said with the Truth. Soon after he said with the Truth is in the Truth in the Truth. Soon after he said with the Truth is soon after he said with the Truth. Soon after he said with the Truth is soon after he said with the Truth. Soon after he said with the Truth is soon after he said with the Truth. Soon after he said with the Truth is Joseph Evans.

A tribute to the memory of Joseph Evans, of Springfield, Delaware Co., Pa.

> " Precious in the sight of the Lord, Is the death of his saints.

A testimony lives in my heart, which I de- of this tabernacle were dissolved, we ha sire to preserve as a little tribute of love to building of God, an house not made the memory of my beloved and honored uncle, hands, eternal in the heavens."

Then the mountains in sight were full of fire, very precious, and its fragrance, like the and the Truth would keep them. He and the air was lurid with consuming wrath. "odor of the ointment, has filled the house, peared to be peacefully wearing from While John Newton was repenting of his and may it long remain as ointment poured earthly things; and continued in a sw

Although we have the consoling assurance dream, and told John Newton be would plunge that our beloved relative has joined the "just said to his brother, "I think the time into the sea and bring that ring up if he de- of all generations," and is forever with the nearly come." He replied, "I think it sired it. He plunged into the sea and brought Lord; yet we cannot but deeply feel the loss not be long before thon wilt be released fit up, and said to John Newton, "Here is that we have sustained by his removal—the loss all thy sufferings." Soon after, the fan gem, but I think I will keep it for you, lest of his pleasant company and his excellent went down to dinner, I only remained w you lose it again;" and John Newton consented, and all the fire went out from the mountains, and all the signs of lurid wrath endeavored to follow his dear Saviour; and
"O what shall I do," took my hand i disappeared from the air; and John Newton finally be permitted to meet him around the pressed it, and soon after, leaning on the a restored that gem, keeping it for him, was remarked to us, that it might be the will of Christ. And that dream makes one of the his Heavenly Father to take him out of the ago that he tried this principle of form most wonderful chapters in the life of that world with this sickness, but he did not know his judgment as to the character of religi how it would terminate. In the afternoon he from observation with respect to his o John Hardonk, while on shipboard, dreamed relieved from pain, and appeared distended one night that the day of judgment had posed to converse. He said he had been much the power of the gospel in a mission I mys come, and that the roll of the ship's crew was comforted that morning in reading the Bible, had held some time before. This man to had appeared in a wonderful dream to a poor in the presence of Infinite Purity. In the generous, more manly, and above all obvious woman. The woman was rheumatic, sick, morning he was relieved from severe pain, a 'happier man,' And now,' he added,' poor to the last point of destitution. She was but suffered so much from oppression that it would not hold out to the end; and expres the hope he would not bring any dishon

One morning after taking a glass of w he said, "O that I might drink of the wi of Life!" He was not able to lie dow several days, but sat up in an easy chai was observed to him that the poor l seemed weary with sitting up; he looke ns very sweetly, and calmly repeated passage, "For we know if our earthly h

On Fifth-day before the close, his dear heavenly frame to the close.

On Sixth-day, the last of his useful life

A Test .- A young man told me not le away," said my informant, "and I had plen illustrions for Christian attainment.

Dr. Crannage, one of the most remarkable men I ever met—remarkable for benevolence thought he could not continue long; and At the end of that time I came to the definition of the could not continue long; and the could find d for my own."--A. H. Aitken.

Grace Darling.

Who has not heard of Grace Darling, the long the annals of those who, although buld grace the occupier of the loftiest posin in society?

Grace Darling was born in 1815, and was oup of the Farne Islands, in which solitary she was carried by it in that direction. ode she constantly resided with her parents. e is described as having been "remarkable a retiring and somewhat reserved disposition of the vessel to be ascertained. n, of a fair complexion and comely countence, with nothing masculine in her apbect, and with an expression of the greatest peril of all on board. Idness and benevolence," which latter quali-and the most resolute courage.

The Farne Islands lie off the northeastern sea. 1-fowl; and their sides are in many parts could scarce stand erect on it.

tremely precipitous.

e family.

Through the channels between the smaller quarter boats and left the ship, having one wreck, until the tide again ebbed.

nimity she exhibited on this occasion—that while the fore part remained on the rock.

e was not habituated to the use of an oar A portion of the passengers and crew had

She had received a good education for her hich we will now proceed to relate.

rist, and so I desire to take my brother's repaired, and the fires relighted, and in this of the day, a reward of £5, offered by the state she proceeded on her voyage, passing steward of Bamborough Castle, could scarcely the "Fairway" between the Farne Islands induce a party of fishermen to venture off and the mainland at about 6 P. M., on the 6th. from the mainland. At about 8 P. M., she entered Berwick Bay, roine of the Longstone Lighthouse, whose the sea running high, with the wind strong ble passage would have done the highest me, associated with the wreck of the "For- from the north. The leakage now increased honor even to the well-tried nerves of the shire" steamer, will long be remembered to such a degree that the firemen could not stoutest of the male sex. But what shall be keep the fires burning, and at about 10 P. M., said of the errand of mercy being undertaken ding humble stations in life, have yet ex- she bore up at St. Abb's Head, the storm still and accomplished mainly the she bore up at St. Abb's Head, the storm still and accomplished mainly through the strength after became useless and would not work, when the sails were hoisted fore and aft, and glass, the figures of the sufferers were seen the vessel tacked, in order to keep her off the clinging to the wreck. But who could dare

At length, breakers were discovered close and each taking an oar. to leeward, and the Farne lights became

s, we need scarcely remark, are not no catastrophe by running between the islands have passed between the islands; and they mmonly found associated with gallant bear and the mainland; she would not answer her knew that the tide would be flowing on their helm, and was impelled to and fro by a furious return, when their united strength would be ast of England. They are a group of barren struck with her bows foremost on the rock, the light-house island. So that, had they not d desolate rocks, inhabited principally by which was there so precipitous that a person got the assistance of the survivors on their re-crnc Islands, the sea rushes with great im- of the passengers with them, who had con- It could then only be by the exertion of tuosity; and doubtless many a shipwreek trived to throw himself into the boat; but two great muscular power, as well as of deterwhich there is no record has occurred there others, making the same attempt, perished, mined courage, that they could hope to reach former times, when no beacon existed to The scene which now presented itself was of the wreck; and when there, the danger would ide the mariner in his path through the a most heart-rending description. Several be much increased from the liability they ep. Rather more than a century ago, a women were uttering cries of anguish and would run of being dashed to pieces on those nich 40 gun frigate, with all her crew, was despair, and amidst them stood the bewildered rugged rocks. st among them; and numerous other wrecks master, whose wife, clinging to him, frantically e recorded to have happened between that besought the protection which he was unable hope; but their courage rose with the emer-ne and the present. Very soon after the first shock, geney, God's blessing accompanied them, and Living on this lone spot, in the midst of a heavy wave struck the vessel on the quar-their efforts were crowned with success. The e ocean, with the horrors of the tempest ter, and raising her off the rock allowed her whole of the nine survivors were taken into miliarized to her mind, Grace Darling was immediately after to fall violently upon it, their little bark, and conveyed in safety to the ut out, as it were, from the active scenes of when, a sharp ledge striking her about amid-light-house. Here, owing to the violent seas e, and was principally occupied in assisting ships, she was fairly broken into two pieces; which continued to prevail, they were comr mother in the management of their little and the after-part, containing the cabin and pelled to remain two days, during which time usehold; and it is worthy of remark-in many passengers, was immediately carried they received every kindness and comfort der to the better appreciation of the mag- off by a rapid current through the Pifagut, that the household could afford, and in which the management of a boat, those offices previously betaken themselves to the fore- also nine in number, were picked up the next ving been performed by other members of most part of the vessel, considering it to be morning by a Montrose sloop, and conveyed the safest place. In this dreadful situation, exposed amid ation in life, and had reached her twenty-darkness to the buffeting of the waves, and life are soon told. The deed she had done cond year, when the incident occurred fearful lest each rising surge should sweep may be said to have wafted her name all hich has rendered her name so famous, and away into the deep the fragment of the wreck over Europe. That lonely light-house beon which they stood, they waited in anxions came speedily the centre of attraction to On the evening of the 5th of [Ninth mo.,] expectancy the breaking of the day. In the curious and sympathizing thousands, includ-38, the "Forfarshire," a steamer of about fore-cabin, also exposed to the intrusion of ing many of the wealthy and the great, who ree hundred tons burthen, John Humble, the sea, was a woman, the wife of a weaver, in numerous instances, testified by substantial aster, sailed from Hull for Dundee, having with her two children, who, when relief at tokens the feelings with which they regarded board a valuable cargo; and, as nearly last came, was found yet alive, but her two the young heroine. Among the number were could be ascertained, sixty-three persons, children lay stiffened corpses in her arms.

unely: the master and his wife, a crew of Such was their seemingly hopeless position, who invited her father and herself to Alnwick venty men, and forty-one passengers. She when, soon after the day broke, they were Castle, and presented her with a gold watch. as a new vessel, being only two years old; descried from the Longstone by the Darlings, Grace and her father received the silver medal t her boilers were, no doubt, in a culpable at nearly a mile's distance. A mist hovered of the National Lifeboat (then Shipwreck) ate of repair. Previous to her leaving Hull, over the island; and, though the wind had Institution, and numerous testimonials from small leak had been discovered in them, somewhat abated its violence, the sea was other public bodies and admiring strangers. id for the moment closed up; but when off still raging fearfully, making any approach A public subscription was also raised with a amborough Head it broke out afresh to to the rugged pinnacles and sunken rocks view to reward her for her bravery and the an extent as to put out two of the fires, which surround these islands a work of ex-humanity, which is said to have amounted ppiness is to be found in the service of The boilers were, however, again partially treme peril. Indeed, even at a later period

To have braved the dangers of that terri-

Through the dim mist, with the aid of a daughter of William Darling, keeper of land. She, however, soon became unmanage- to tempt the raging abyss that intervened, a lighthouse on the Longstone, one of the able, and, the tide setting strong to the south, in the hope of succoring them? W. Darling, it is said, shrank from the attempt. Not so It rained heavily during the whole time, his daughter. At her solicitation, the boat and the fog was too dense to enable the posi- was launched, with the assistance of her mother-the father and daughter entering it,

In estimating the danger which the heroic arance, but, on the contrary, gentle in visible, leaving no doubt as to the imminent adventuress encountered, there is one circumstance which ought not to be forgotten. It was in vain attempted to avert the Had it not been ebb tide, the boat could not Between three and four o'clock, she utterly insufficient to row the boat back to turn, they themselves would have been com-A part of the crew now lowered one of the pelled to remain on the rock, beside the

It must have seemed to them a forlorn they were in so much need.

The party who had left in the ship's boat, to Shields.

The subsequent events of Grace Darling's to about $3,500. To such an extent indeed, have returned to it, after being obliged to prietors of one or more of the metropolitan oranda of Mary M. Sheppard. theatres, on the condition that she should merely sit in a boat for a brief space during the performance of a piece whose chief attraction she was to be. All such offers, however. were promptly and steadily refused; and it is gratifying to know that, amid all this tumult of applause, Grace Darling never for a moment forgot the modest dignity of conduct which became her sex and station. The flattering testimonials of all kinds which were showered on her seemed to produce in her mind no other feelings than those of wonder and grateful pleasure. She continued to reside at the Longstone Lighthouse with her father and mother, finding, in her limited sphere of domestic duty, on that sea-girt islet, a more honorable and more rational enjoyment than the crowded baunts of the mainland would have afforded her, and thus giving, by her conduct, the best proof that the liberality of the public had not been unworthily bestowed.

Grace Darling did not live long in the enjoyment of the honors that had been showered on her. She died of consumption, Tenth mo. 25th, 1842, at the age of twenty-seven years, and four years after the occurrence which has made her name famous for all time .-Sunday at Home.

For "The Friend."

Conversation - Retirement.

"What is social intercourse unseasoned by the fruits of the Spirit? It is an easy matter to sit down and interest ourselves in what is passing in the world around us,-what has happened as a matter of particular interest to a friend, or has been striking as an event in a neighborhood; and no doubt to a certain extent these are allowable themes. But when we come to find them necessary to beguile a passing hour, or to give zest to our intercourse, there is reason to fear they are unduly occupying our minds, and tending to disarrange that balance the Truth calls upon us to maintain.'

"How often do I wish that chastened seriousness might take the place of levity; and that we might evince more by our conduct and conversation that the mind was stayed upon an anchor, which outward and worldly variations can neither reach nor disturb. "Tis not in created objects to impart to the mind that settled and abiding satisfaction which renders to this life its comfort and its hope. We may mingle with the 'loved of earth,' and derive from the congeniality of tastes and pursuits, much that tends to cheer the weary round of eare, and lighten the burden of toil and anxiety that the lack of friendly intercourse might cause us more to feel. But to be enjoyed it must be partaken of only at intervals; an incessant round must certainly weary and exhaust the better strength. And as for myself, if obliged to choose between constant society and uninterrupted solitude, I think I should unhesitatingly decide upon the latter; believing frequent retirement so essential to the growth of that Divine life so important for all to experience and cherish above every thing else.

"Beantiful is the light of Christian faith little comforter! She did not know what perience and cherish above every thing else. The retirement of a solitary chamber is often useful life blends itself with the dawning of by since then, but the simple words have a source of unspeakable satisfaction; and I the life everlasting.'

did the popular enthusiasm reach, that por- devote much of my time to society, or the ortraits of her were eagerly sought for; and dinary care of life, with a relish heightened she was even offered large sums by the pro- by abstinence."—From the Letters and Mem. And have praised thy sweet song that has robbed letters are the controlled by the proshe was even offered large sums by the pro- by abstinence."-From the Letters and Mem-

CONVERSATION.

"Souls that carry on a blest exchange Of joys they meet within their heavenly range, And with a fearless confidence make known The sorrows sympathy esteems its own, Daily derive increasing light and force From such communion in their pleasant course, Feel less the journey's roughness and its length, Meet their opposers with united strength, And, one in heart, in interest, and design, Gird up each other to the race divine.'

-Cowper. Selected.

VANISHED FACES.

BY MARY CLEMMER. The vanished, vanished faces Press on our inner sight; We see them in the morning, We see them in the night. Beloved are the living, Who have not taken flight, But the vanished, vanished face Make the lonely heart's delight.

O the vanished, vanished faces! The baby's fairy face, The mother's, sweetly human, The maiden's airy grace. O the endless, endless patience,
O the peace upon the face
Of the dear old, weary father,
As he neared the heavenly place!

O the vanished, vanished faces! The ones that life hath ta'en And set in passless distance, Beyond our love or pain. We see them in our sorrow. We see them in our pride; But they're farther from us Than the loved ones who have died.

Life, life's the hopeless robber, When it sets its iron wall 'Twixt eyes that seek each other Twixt hearts that love and call. O the vanished, vanished faces Fill the swift receding years, Leaning in upon our visions, Touching all our smiles and tears, -IIome Journal.

Selected

CANST THOU BY SEARCHING FIND OUT GOD?

Thought plumed her wings of heavenly birth And sought through all the fields of earth The footsteps of her God. She scanned its surface bright and fair, And searched the viewless tides of air. And farthest ways untrod.

She passed the sunbeam in its flight, And smote the azure plains of light, With never-tiring wing; She kept her course from star to star, And searched the universe afar, But sought her God in vain.

Then back she came to earth again, With mournful heart and lowly mien, Oppressed by sad despair: To her east down by sore unrest, A voice ariseth sweet and blest, "Lo, God is every-where!"

She hears the voice, she lifts her eyes, And lo! beneath the bended skics Sees every-where his power; The sunshine speaketh from above, It speaks a benison of love, And God himself is there!

FAREWELL TO MUSIC.

hours I have said thou couldst lull every feeling of stri

And counted thee one of the blessings of life.

I have thought that thy anthems of holy delight, Brought the dawning of day, mid the shadows of That the spirit oppressed with unspeakable grief, Could at last find one refuge, one certain relief.

Ah! thou lily-white wand, and thou rose-bed Thou betrayest the heart, and then leaves it to m

For thou hast not one comfort, one boon to bestov From thy high-mounting anthems, what deep me: It flow.

Then I'll leave thee, I'll shun thee, I'll bid thee well, Nor shall reason or conscience henceforward rebe Thou shalt rob me no more of sweet silence and r For I have proved thee a trap, a seducer at best.

Yes, thou spirit of darkness transformed out of lig Thou voluptuous form, clad in raiment of white: It is thine, when our passions seem conquered and But to raise up and cherish the evils we dread. Then go where vice haunts the thoughtless and ga

Where the midnight of folly sends reason away: Where the mind draws its sorrows, its pleasures thence,

And the heart pants alone for the raptures of sense

But oh! enter thou not where devotion has trod, To beguile the poor soul from its duty to God: For the well-springs of life, and the bread of the d It is thine not to give, but to barter away.

Then may each son of folly and each daughter of c Hear the whisper that bids others reflect and bewa The sin that will seduce them from peace and from The arrow whose point will envenom their breast.

For while sin, open sin, leads its thousands astray, Tens of thousands are borne by false pleasures away Let the Christian in heart redeemed and set free, Never dare to return, Oh! Music, to thee.

-Amelia Opi

The New England Journal of Education 1 the following paragraph on the recent liqu dealers' convention :

A national convention of the Liquor Deale Association, representing $400,000,000 inve ed in drink, has been held at Chicago to vise means to resist the gathering of popul indignation against the ravages of intemper ance. It is refreshing to observe the co impudence with which a body of men w are responsible for three-fourths of the crim pauperism and misery of the land, the was of whose trade exceeds by millions the who cost of education in the Union, assumes the air of martyrdom and demands the protectic of its unalienable right to flood the land wit

Face to the Light .- It had been one of thos days on which everything goes contrary, an I had come home tired and discouraged. A I sank into a chair I groaned, "Everythin looks dark, dark, dark!" "Why don't yo turn your face to the light, auntic dear?" sai my little niece who was standing unperceive beside me.

"Turn your face to the light!" The word set me thinking. That was just what I had not been doing. I had persistently kept my face in the opposite direction, refusing to se the faintest glimmer of brightness. Artles never been forgotten .- Christian Index.

Praying Always.

"In the precept to pray always," says chbishop Trench, "there is nothing of exgeration, nothing commanded which may t be fulfilled, when we understand prayer d; having, indeed, its times of intensityisons of an intense consecration of the one brother towards another. iritual life-but not confined to those times, easion, and which, as a flower at sun-rising, sweetly gathered them again.

ting my plain meal, that I may be fed with thy name be praised in and over all. Word of God; if weary, that I may find st in Jesus; if diligent with my daily toil, nporal and spiritual, may be provided for my covenant-keeping God and Redeemer, d that He will receive me, at last, to the essed family of the redeemed above!" In this spirit, one may be always praying; t only, as Cecil says, by "finding parentheses prayer in the intervals of the most pressbusiness," but by associating every form aver and communion with God, asking his esence and guidance and blessing at every p of our way. And if this be our spirit, may truly say, with another,

Though once I sought a time and place, For solitude and prayer; Yet now where'er I find thy face, hole strength be understood, or the full fety and blessedness it has brought us be ss !-N. S.

I find a closet there.

*[This must be accepted with this qualification— t the longing is that produced by the Spirit of Christ, m which all true prayer comes.]

Extract from the writings of Isaac Penington. drawer of his desk standing in the room,

How many weaknesses doth the Lord pass ice the whole life of the faithful should be, by in us! how ready is He to interpret all know it. The "thin-whiting," which hapthe beautiful words of Origen, 'One great things well concerning his disciples, that may needed prayer.'" And so good old Dr. bear a good interpretation! When they had wene tells us, "That the soul that is ac-all been scattered from Him upon his death, hours would reveal his wickedness. As the stomed to direct itself to God, on every He did not afterwards upbraid them, but ws sometimes when it does not know it ready to receive that which may tend to the marks, which will one day be revealed. Sin ays." And in the same spirit, Augustine excuse of another in any doubtful case, and detiles the soul. It betrays those who engage

We read of an excellent woman in humble spirits in crying out one of another because who, when spoken to on the subject of of evil, but watch and wait where the mercy iyer, meekly replied, that with all her in- and healing virtue will arise. O Lord, my sant toil and labor in struggling to support God, when thou hast shown the wants of r dependent family, she found but little Israel in any kind sufficiently, (whether in the for the closet; but she added, "If I am the general or in the particular.) bring forth shing, I pray that my soul may be washed the supply thereof from thy fulness, so order. the blood of Christ; if sweeping, that my ing it in thy own eternal wisdom, that all art may be cleansed by the Holy Spirit; if may be ashamed and abased before thee, and

Hurry and bustle are not essential to sucat I may be faithful and diligent in the cessful action, but impede it. The spirit of rine life; if I am trying to provide for the hurry causes confusion, and is fatal to soundints of my family, that all my wants, both ness of judgment. Nelaton, the greatest of French surgeons, said that if he had but four minutes in which to perform an operation on which a life depended, he would take one minute to consider how best to doit. "Always in haste, but never in a hurry," was John Wesley's rule.-Selected.

Did Not Go Where They Were .- " I've been business, or pleasure, or daily avocation of in India for many a year, and I never saw a cathedral, the stateliest Góthic building in y kind, with the up-going of the soul in native Christian the whole time." So spake the world, a marvel of architectural skill, and Holding fast thus to prayer, we hold fast perhaps you meant three." "No, sir, thirty," were attired in gorgeous Christ; and holding fast to Christ, we are this time with emphasis. "Well, now, that's for glory and for beauty." ever safe and blest. "He that knows' strange," said the missionary, "I've been in was nearly perfect. The prayers, however, us "to pray," says Jay, "has the secret of India twenty-five years, and I never saw a were recited with their faces toward the fety in prosperity, and of support in trouble; wild live tiger all the while." "Very lively altar; and, had the crowds of spectators a art of overcoming every enemy, and of not, sir," said the colonel; "but that's because understood Latin, they would have caught rning every loss into a gain; the power of you did'nt know where to look for them." othing every care; of subduing every pas- "Perhaps it was so," admitted the missionary, n; and of adding a relish to every enjoy- after a moment or two of apparent reflection; ent. The merchandize of it is better than but may not that be the reason you never But there was no message delivered, no gos-

ly known and felt, in the perfect blessed mason to do some work for him, and among also notable features in the service. other things to "thin-whiten" the walls of Such a celebration as above described is as the chamber was finished, to find on the ple is drawn outward to the performances of

-Let all strive to execl in tenderness and white finger-marks. On opening the drawer, long-suffering, and to be kept out of hard and be found the same on articles in it, and also evil thoughts one of another, and of harsh on the pocket-book. An examination reinterpretations concerning anything relating vealed the same marks on the contents of a one to another. Oh, this is unworthy to be bag. This proved clearly that the mason be the continual desire of the soul after found in an Israelite towards an Egyptian, with his wet hand had opened the drawer, but exceedingly shameful and inexcusable in and searched the bag, which contained no money, and had then closed the drawer without once thinking that any one would ever pened to be on his hands, did not show at first, and he probably had no idea that twelve work was all done on the afternoon the drawer was opened, the man did not come again; ceives a sense of God in every beam of b, and spreads itself in thankfulness for life of severy beam of b, and spreads itself in thankfulness for life of severences itself in thankfulness for life of sweetness? Let us bring forth the are known to his employer. Beware of evil ary blessing He sheds upon it; that soul same sweet fruits, being ready to excuse, and thoughts and deeds! They all leave fingers that "longing desire prays always, where there is any evil manifest, wait, Oh but to the tongue be silent," and that, "if wait, to verceme it with good. The send of our graphs always, if not quite, invisible at first.—

1. Invariant of the send of the se

I was constrained to express something, by way of stimulating to good order, in sitting down to meals; that we may be favored, in our short pauses at such times, to participate also in renewed refreshment of spirit. Paying but a slight regard to these moments, allowed in a family for individual secret breathing to the Fountain of all our rich supplies, temporal and spiritual, is attended with great loss. There is a danger of the lamp of life, in a spiritual sense, becoming dim, and even being extinguished by the cares of this life. The deep work of regeneration, redemption and entire sanctification, is not sufficiently the object of Christian professors .- Mary Capper.

For "The Friend,"

Religious Items, &c.

Ritualistic Worship .- The correspondent of the National Baptist thus describes his attendance at a Roman Catholic service at Cologne.

"In the morning, at 9.30, we went to the a colonel on board a steamer going to Bom- one of the most impressive places of worship bay. Some days afterward the same colonel in christendom. It was the time of High was telling of his hunting experiences, and Mass. The procession of priests and acolytes said that thirty tigers had fallen to his rifle, and choristers was most imposing. As it "Did I understand you to say thirty, colonel?" proceeded down the nave and up the aisle, asked a missionary at the table. "Yes, sir, chanting solemnly and sweetly, the congrethirty," replied the officer. "Because," pur-sued the missionary, explanatorily, "I thought Then came the service. Celebrating priests were attired in gorgeous garments, 'made for glory and for beauty.' Their intonation only part of a sentence now and then. The music and the singing were all that could be desired for harmony, and volume, and effect. emerchandize of silver, and the gain thereof saw a native convert, as you affirmed the pel proclaimed, no word of any kind spoken tan fine gold." Not till life is over, will the other evening at this table?"—Shanghai Tembel answer to such prayer be given, or its perance Union. of the wafer and the adoration thereof, and Finger Marks.-A gentleman employed a the meek reception of the benediction, were > one of his rooms. This thin-whiting is al- far removed from the idea of religious wormost colorless until dried. The gentleman ship, as held by the Society of Friends, as we was much surprised on the morning after can well imagine. The attention of the peo to the spirit of the Lord, from which alone the thicket, and then I was obliged to ac- for some years in charge of a water-side par ability can be received to offer that worship knowledge myself vanquished and make good and knew many a bargee who would h churches, and especially in churches which from the thorns and prickles with which the are established by law, and in which liturgi- climbing palm, (Calamus,) the climbing Hi- instead of waiting for thanks, would be cal forms are used, the language of public biscus, the Euphorbia, and a multitude of boxed its ears soundly, rated it for internal worship is of a kind which can, at most, be other jungle plants, repulse every attack made ing him in his work, and then have proceed appropriate to a very small fraction of those on their impenetrable labyrinth. who use it. The customs of society draw within the church men of all grades of piety language of devotion and the habitual dispotional.—Lecky's Hist. of England.

value of oaths in courts. In his judgment the oath should be entirely dispensed with, as doing more harm than good. He declares a restraint, and is merely the formula of an master's breakfast.

exploded superstition.

For "The Friend," Natural History, Science, &c.

giving in the German Rundschau some account ference from man, and are surrounded and land. overgrown by a wilderness of creeping and climbing plants, of ferns, orchids, and other the dog, instead of displaying the least affecparasites, the interstices being so completely tion for it, cuffed it first with one paw and filled up with a motley mass of smaller weeds, then with the other, and returned to the spot that it is quite impossible to disentangle the where he had deposited his master's break. Society coil of tendrils so as to distinguish one species fast, and carried it to him as usual. from the other. My first attempt to penetrate the priests; instead of being turned inward hour's work brought me only a few steps into to make light of the whole business. I of the heart which is "in spirit and in truth." a retreat, stung by mosquitoes, bitten by ants, Effect of Liturgical Forms.—In most great with torn clothes, and arms and legs bleeding

But the attempt had not been made altogether in vain; for it enabled me to gain a and of faith. The skeptical, the frivolous, very fair idea of the jungle as a whole, more into the water at once, he could not be the selfish, the worldly, the indifferent, or at especially of the magnificence of its trees and caught the little dog; but by galloping do least, men whose convictions are but half creepers, besides introducing me to many the stream getting ahead of the drowni-formed, whose zeal is very languid, and whose separate varieties of animal and vegetable animal, and then stemming the current til religious thoughts are very few, form the life, which were of the highest interest. Here was swept within his reach, he made sure bulk of every congregation; and they are I saw the magnificent Gloriosa superba; the his object; and no man could have act taught to employ language expressing the poisonous elimbing lily of Ceylon, with its better if he had tried to save a drownivery ecstacy of devotion. The words that red and amber flowers; the prickly Hibiscus child.—Man and Beast by J. G. Wood. pass mechanically from the lips, convey in radiatus, with large cup-shaped, brimstone turn the fervor of the martyr, the self-abase- colored flowers, deepening to violet in the ment or the rapture of the saint, a passionate hollow; while around them fluttered gigantic confidence in the reality of unseen things, a black butterflies with blood-red spots on their passionate longing to pass beyond the vail. tail-shaped wings, and chafers and dragon-The effect of this contrast between the habitual flies flow past with a metallic gleam.

A remarkable sand storm, accompanied by sition of the devotees, between the energy of an intensely cold temperature, is mentioned religious expression and languor of religious in Icelandic journals as having raged on that convictions, is, in some respects, extremely island for two weeks during the past spring, an account of the recently held Yearly Me-The sense of truth is dulled. The air was filled with dry, fine sand to such ing of North Carolina, the substance of whi Men come to regard it as a natural and a degree that it was impossible to see more scarcely censurable thing to attune their feel-than a short distance, and the sun was rarely ings on the highest of all subjects, to a key visible, though the sky was clear of clouds, wholly different from their genuine feelings Nobody ventured out of his honse except and beliefs, and that which ought to be the upon matters of most urgent necessity, and early members, are precious; and who a truest of human occupations, becomes, in many who were exposed to the storm were fact, the most unreal and the most conven- frozen. The sand penetrated into the houses Yet it is evident, from the narrative we have through the minutest crevices. It was found received, that there are influences at wo Oaths .- Judge Edward A. Thomas dis mixed with articles of food and drink, and which tend to lead astray. This is shown I cusses, in the North American Review, the every breath drew it into the lungs. Thou- the utterances of one or more of the stratige sands of sheep and horses died.

Sagacity in a Dog .- The following aneedote Sagacity in a Dog.—The following aneedote "Devotional Meetings," different in their cha was sent by a gentleman resident in the neighbor acter from ordinary meetings for worshi that the conscientious man will tell the borhood of the locality where the adventure and in which expounding the Scriptures ar trnth, when legally called upon to do so, as occurred. The dog of which it speaks, besinging are permitted. thoroughly without the oath as with it, and longed to a miller, and after being unchained that dishonest persons are seldom restrained in the morning was in the habit of going from ly Meeting are at all conscions of the loss the by the utmost solemnity of form. In short, the mill on the Teviot, near its junction with have sustained by recognizing the Binn he believes that the oath has lost its force as the Tweed, to the house and bringing his Body in Ohio, and thus opening the door fi

"On one occasion, when the Teviot and the Tweed were in flood, a little dog ventured in- helps which would have tended to promot eautiously into the Tweed, and was rapidly their true spiritual welfare. carried down the stream, struggling and yelp-A Ceylon Jungle.-Prof. Haeckel, who is ing as it was burried along.

"It so happened that the miller's dog, while of his travels in Ceylon, thus describes his carrying his master's breakfast to him, saw first attempt to penetrate a Ceylon jungle; the little dog in distress. He immediately The jungle, he says, is not, properly speak- put down his burden, turned, and set off at ing, primeval forest-forest that is untrodden full gallop down the stream. When he had by the foot of man, (such are in Ceylon of got well below the drowning dog, he sprang Fourth-day the 16th of 8th mo., at 10 A. a small extent and rare occurrence;) but it cor-linto the river, swam across; and so exactly The first business was routine and reading responds to our idea of such a forest in that had he calculated the rapidity of the river the minutes of proceedings since last year it consists of a dense and impenetrable mass and his own speed, that he intercepted the the new safe was ready to be put in its place of mighty trees of all kinds, which have little dog as it was being helplessly swept in the house for reception of the document sprung up without regularity or any inter down the current, and brought it safely to and papers belonging to the Yearly Meeting

"When he got his burden safely on shore,

such a jungle as this was sufficient to convince like that of a burly, kind and rugged bargee, me of the impossibility of the undertaking possessed of cool judgment and rapid action, strangers being allowed to attend. Consider except with the aid of ax and fire. A hard willing to risk his life for another, and then able discussion took place on this subject, and acted exactly in the same way, if a child fallen into the river. He would have got child out at the risk of his own life, and th with his journey as if nothing bad happen

The animal exhibited self-denial, preser of mind and forethought. Had he jumi

${f THE}$ FRIEND.

NINTH MONTH 23, 1882;

NORTH CAROLINA YEARLY MEETING.

We have received from one of the membe is given below.

We have good reason to believe that the are within the limits of that body many whom the principles of truth, as held by o endeavoring to walk consistently therewit in attendance, and by the holding of so-calle singing are permitted. We do not suppose the Friends of that Yea the operation of influences adverse to tru Quakerism, and shutting out in measure thos

"North Carolina Yearly Meeting convene this year three months earlier than last, a New Garden, Guilford Co. There were fet strangers present, and a pretty full attend ance of our own members.

"Representative meeting commenced o Many old and valuable records of the Society are seattered and need to be collected an cared for before they become useless. Friend were encouraged to collect and forward any papers connected with the history of the

"At 3 P. M., the meeting on ministry and The whole behavior of the dog is exactly oversight was held, and a minute from one of the subordinate meetings read, concerning fessed by Friends.

Lord's work.

arly Meetings were read, and a committee speakers can be easily heard. pointed to prepare epistles to all the Yearly etings with whom we correspond. The votional Meeting, so-called, began two hours sing the meeting, in which he was joined several in the congregation. Later on, a r attention to the stanza,

'E'er since by faith I saw the stream Thy flowing wounds supply, Redeeming love has been my theme, And shall be till I die,' d be queried whether every one who joined singing it could truthfully say so? Another iend informed strangers present, that conegational singing was contrary to the rules the Society of Friends of North Carolina; d that these meetings, called Devotional, ere appointed for the performance of true orship in spirit and in truth, and unless inviduals felt they were required by the Pre-rit, to the need of fostering the true babes meeting agreed to contribute $100 for the before receiving applicants into membership, the budding forth of spiritual life, and peace cause—much of interest was communito ascertain whether they were truly con-ninst what would repress and discourage cated on both these subjects. The dividing vinced of our principles, otherwise how can shutters between the men and women Friends they do us any good? or walk in communion At 7 P. M., the meeting of the Peace Asso-being raised, a joint conference was held to with us unless we are agreed? Numbers do tion began, and a report for the past year consider a proposal to give up the present of not necessarily add to our strength.

s read, and agreeably thereto it was confined in meeting house and near school premises, to ded to ask the Yearly Meeting to approbe fitted for educational purposes in advance held, and much encouragement given to the ate $100 towards the expenses for the cur- of the present, involving a change in the place nt year. A Friend from South Carolina for holding future Yearly Meetings, and the vineyard, to find out and help to develop the re an interesting and encouraging account building of a new house. The meeting was powers and talent which He has given; trainthe progress of peace principles amongst united in accepting the proposal, with a slight ing efficiently for life's work, and for eternity, public in South Carolina, as well as their modification so as to give more freedom in the hand, the head and the heart, all brought wing towards the principles of the Gospel selecting a new site to the committee ap-under discipline for the good of man and the pointed; a man and woman Friend from each glory of God-a noble work; and as the Fifth-day, 8th mo. 17th. The meeting for of the Quarters being named to undertake teacher individually seeks to be taught by scipline assembled at 10 A. M., and in the this important work, and they were advised Him who teaches as man never taught, and mee before entering into the business, we to seek best help and direction in the location, requires truth in the inward parts, so will refavored with spiritual refreshment which and to proceed with diligence, as the condi-they be enabled to explain the truths of Holy s felt to be a good beginning. Most of tions of the very kind and liberal offers of Scripture, which are able to make wise unto Representatives answered to their names help for the alteration and partial endowment salvation, through faith which is in our Lord ten called. Minutes were read for several of the present meeting house premises require Jesus Christ. iends in attendance from other Yearly to have a new meeting house built before pro- "8th mo. 2" setings, who were welcomed. The London gress can be made in the re-arrangement of business of the Yearly Meeting was transneral Epistle was read, and after some re-the old one. It is not necessary to have a acted; essays of epistles prepared by the rks thereon 3000 copies were ordered to be rery expensive house, but neat and accom-committee appointed were read and passed; nted and circulated. Epistles from London, modating; and that improvement shall be Friends were favored to conclude the meeting the line of the construction, so as that in love and mutual forbearance, agreeing to of the Representative Meeting were read; not mo. next, and notice given. much progress in building new meeting houses oner, and was small. After reading a chap-had been made during the year. Mention Friend not young in years, and in high standin the Bible and some explanation there- was made of some property at Charleston, ing in another Yearly Meeting, should have , a hymn was sung by one of the Friends S. C., now under care of Friends in Philadel spoken slightingly of the use of the plain lanphia, and as North and South Carolina were guage now-a-days, as if what our forefathers included under the name of the Carolinas so suffered for is of little account with us, or ung Friend in the station of minister called when this property was acquired, the meet as if God had changed, or truth become less ing was of the opinion that the property, and strict; no doubt it is more agreeable to the all funds derived therefrom, should be admin-istered under care and direction of North "Friends who came from Tennessee this istered under care and direction of North Carolina Yearly Meeting, and a few Friends year found it much easier and cheaper to were named to attend thereto, and report reach New Garden, as the railroad through "At 4 P. M., meeting on First-day schools,ing the year,-reports sent up were not as Travelling from Tennessee is as cheap now full as desirable.

"8th mo. 19th. Meeting of ministry and oversight met at 9 A. M. The answers to the Queries were read and considered.

"The meeting for Discipline again assemlent of all rightly gathered assemblies for bled. The answers to the queries were read; vine worship, the Lord Jesus Christ, to excellent council on the attendance of meeteach, pray, expound or sing, it was a grave ings for worship and other important duties, sponsibility to do so. If felt to be a duty was given—many of our own members taking ere was freedom.

The statistical returns showed a memere was freedom.

"At 3 P. M. meeting for worship was held, bership of nearly 5,500, an increase above d at 4 P. M., that on Indian affairs. Report last year of nearly 5,500, an increase above about about one hundred and forty millions, or five hundred as read of the work done amongst the hand by accounted for her the difference may and twenty millions in all." as read of the work done amongst the band be accounted for by more accurate returns East Cherokee Indians, numbering about this year. Books for the purpose of having a 00, ander our care and Western Yearly correct record of births, deaths, and removals, arrived to terminate the strike." eeting. Five schools have been in opera- are to be provided, and old records to be colon amongst them during part of the year; lected and lodged in the new safe at Yearly e money received for interest on funds benging to them, was accounted for; vigilant port this year showing a larger number of re and wisdom is required in the effort to members who use and grow tobacco, and them good, and it is no light weight for Friends were earnestly and lovingly invited e friends, on whom the responsibility rests, to give up its growth and use in every way.

One of the answers to the queries having reearry.

One of the answers to the queries having reabout four years ago, on a voyage of exploration, under turned 22 exceptions, it was explained as conCapt, De Long, and was broken to pieces in the ice, pline met at 10 a. m., Nereus Mendenhall sequent on newly admitted members; and we north of Siberia; after which the crew in different par-and advice was given in a loving Christian Peace Association and on Indian affairs. The practice of our forefathers, who were careful workers in this department of the Lord's

"8th mo. 21st and 22nd. The remaining meet again next year in 8th month, if the The shutters having been lowered, minutes | Lord will; time and place to be fixed by 4th

"It was felt as cause for regret that a the mountains from Tennessee to North Carolina, by way of Warm Springs, Ashville and these appear to have been well sustained dur- Salisbury, to Greensboro', was completed. as from Eastern Quarter of North Carolina."

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES.—The report of the Department of Agriculture for the Ninth mooth says, regarding the wheat crop: "The general condition of winter and spring wheat, when harvested, is represented by 100, an average rarely attained. * * * The aggregate of winter wheat, as indicated by the returns, is about three hundred and eighty million bushels, spring wheat

Pittsburg, 200 delegates, representing 35 mills and 5000 men, being present, it was decided that "the time had

In Chicago and some other large cities mills have resumed work, while the men of Pittsburg are idle. The workmen in the latter city, it is said, have lost so far this season, wages amounting to over two million dollars by the strike.

Oo the 13th inst., three of the crew of the steamer

Jeannette, lost in the Arctic regions, arrived in New York, viz: Chief Engineer Melville, and Noros and Ninderman, seamen. The Jeannette left San Francisco prine met at 10 A. M., Agreus Mendenhani sequent on newly admitted members, and we north of shorta; after which the crew in different parported that the Representatives had not, were told it was desirable to receive fresh ac-ties endeavored to find their way to the abodes of exist where united in proposing the names of cessions, and then work to reform and teach lized men. The parties under Capt. De Long and Chipp than Cox for Clerk, and L. L. Hobbs and them; and the apostle Paul was quoted, 'Let N. Parker for Assistants, to which the him that stole, steal no more,' &c., as appliant traversing trackless fields of ice and snow, reached N. Parker for Assistants, to which the limit that stole, steal no more,' &c., as appliant traversing trackless fields of ice and snow, reached the cost reached the cost near the mount of the Lena River. The cetting agreed. Reports were read from the cable. This certainly is a departure from the U. S. Government, in view of the long absence of the Jeannette, had sent a vessel in search of her, under Arabi Pashi was handed over to the English on their Lieut. Berry, which was also lost. Berry and the party arrival at Cairo. under Melville met on the shores of Siberia, and the latter retraced a journey of some hundred miles in search of De Long and his crew. They were successful in finding the remains of this party, and the records of their expedition, the latter of which they brought away, and have been carefully preserved by Melville to be forwarded to Washington,

In the Criminal Court at Washington, on the 15th, inst., the verdict in the cases of Rerdell and Miner, the alleged Star Route conspirators, was set aside by Judge Welle, and they were granted a new trial. They were then released in $10,000 bail each. The first Second- It is believed th day in 12th mo. was fixed for the new trial of the to the Khedive.

William Dickson, the foreman of the jury in the late trial of the Star Route conspirators, has addressed a letter to Benjamin H. Brewster, Attorney General of the United States, stating that he had been approached by Henry A. Bowen, an officer in the Department of Justice, with an offer of a bribe to influence his judgment in the case. It is said another juror was also approached with similar intent. Brady and Dorsey are the two defendants whose conviction was sought by these attempts.

During the week ending on the 16th inst., 232 new cases of yellow fever occurred at Brownsville, Texas, and 6 deaths, making the total number of 1793 cases and 95 deaths. At Matamoras, and on the Mexican side of the river, the disease appears to be spreading.

the treat Northern Transit Company, and had left.
Collingwood, Ont., the previous evening, for French River and Sant Set Marie, laden with about 100 pass. The authorities expected from the police that they sengers and freight. But few of the passengers it is would omit references to the disciplination. Lake Huron during a violent storm. She belonged to the Great Northern Transit Company, and had left The committee feared have escaped.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3½'s, 101½; 4½'s, 113½; 4's, registered, 119½; 4's, coupon, 120½; currency 6's, 132.
Cotton.—Sales of middlings are reported at 13 to 13½

cts. per lb. for uplands and New Orleans.
Flour is inactive and weak. Sales of 2000 barrels, patents at $6.50 a $8.50. Rye flour is firm at $4 a $4.25 for Pennsylvania.

quality. At the open board, 73 cts, was bid for 9th mo., 74 cts. for 10th mo., 70 cts. for 11th mo., and 60 cts. for as did the Americans in 1876 12th mo. Oats are quiet but firmer. Sales of 9000 bushels, including white, at 40 a 51 cts., and rejected and mixed at 25 a 38 cts. At the open board 45 cts. was bid for 9th mo., 44} ets. for 10th and 11th mos., and 44½ cts. for 12th mo.

Beef cattle were in fair demand this week and extra stock higher; other grades were unsettled and rather lower; 4500 head arrived and sold at the different The Visiting Committee meet at the school on S yards at 4 a 7½ cts. per pound, as to condition.

Sheep were in fair demand, and better grades were a fraction higher: 11,000 head arrived and sold at 3 a 53 cts., and lambs at 6 a 7 g cts. per lb., as to quality. Hogs were active and firm: 3500 head sold at the different yards at 11 a 123 cts. per lb., as to condition.

Foreign.—On the 12th inst., the British army in Egypt began a movement from Kassassin towards Telel Kebir, where Arabi Pasha's troops were encamped, and during the night advanced to such a position as to the matron in care of the household. Apply to attack them before day break. The force under Arabi Jos. S. Elkinton, 325 Pine street, Pilaida, is reported to have been 20,000 to 30,000 regulars troops and 6000 to 7000 Bedonins and other irregulars. English army is stated to have been 13,000 in all. At 9 o'clock the battle was practically over, and the Egyptians flying in confusion, having suffered great loss Cario was afterwards occupied by the English. Al persons of rank who were concerned in the rebellion, departments. Apply to Lephraim Smith, 1110 Pine St., Philadelphia.

Despatches from General Wolseley on the 15th state, Arabi Pasha and Toulba Pasha have surrendered unconditionally. Ten thousand troops at Cairo have laid down their arms. The Prefect of Police has undertaken to maintain order. The war is over.

Arabi Pasha and Toulba Pasha have been arrested by the Egyptian police at Cairo, it is reported, for havof the Egyptan pane at control is reported to the reputation in gincited the populace to incendiarism and plunder. Applicat Ali Roubi Pasha has been handed over by the Egyptian authorities to General Wood as a prisoner of war. Managers.

It is stated that a regular constituted Court will be established for the public trial of the rebel chiefs, who will be allowed to engage counsel.

With the exception of a few leaders and one or two persons accused of crimes, no rebels were made prisoners by General Lowe, at Cairo, who merely required them to surrender their arms. Many who have been prominent in the rebellion were told, much to their surprise, that they were free.

A despatch from Cairo to Reuter's Telegram Com-pany says: "The news from the interior is favorable. It is believed that all the towns will-tender allegiance

A despatch from Alexandria on the 17th says: The following decree was proposed at the Council of Minis-ters to-day, and has been signed by the Khedive:

Article 1. The Egyptian army is dissolved.

Article 2. Officers guilty of rebellion will be prosecuted and punished according to military law.

The commanders at Rosetta and Aboukir having offered to surrender to the Khedive, he replied that they must march to Kafr-el-Dwar and surrender to the English.

It is announced from Dublin that Parnell, Davitt, Dillon and Brennan have decided to hold a conference in the autumn, in order to inaugurate a national movement in which the various movements will be consolidated upon a platform of national self-government, the abolition of landlordism, the promotion of home indus-On the 14th inst., the steamer Asia foundered on tries, the rights of laborers and a paid representation complain.

President Gonzales read his message to the Mexican Congress on the 16th. It refers with satisfaction to the general progress of the Republic; it speaks approvingly of the agreement with Guatemala and the establishincluding Minnesota extras, at $6.75 a $7 for clear, ment of diplomatic relations with Chili, and declares and at $7 a $7.25 for straight; Penna. extra family at that "The Government of the United States, a country $4.87\frac{1}{2} a $5.25; western do. do. at $5.50 a $6, and with which we are in connection by other interests in addition to those of proximity, has given and received from us proofs of the sincerest friendship." It states for remny vauna.

Grain—Wheat is in fair demand and steady. Sales for 8000 bushels red in car lots at $1.02 a $1.12. At the lion dollars, while from 1867 to 1877 it averaged only open board, 15,000 bushels 19th mo. at $1.04 a $1.03, is 1.05\frac{1}{2} a $1.12. At the lion dollars, while from 1867 to 1877 it averaged only and $9,000 bushels 12th mo. at $1.10\frac{1}{2} a $1.10\frac{1}{2} a $1.65\frac{1}{2} a $ of 8000 bushels red in car 1018 at $1.02 a $1.12. At the part of the period of the per Sales of 10,000 bushels, in car lots at 74 a 80 cts., as to coming generation will doubtless celebrate the Centennial of Independence in 1921, with the same just pride meet in Philadelphia on Sixth-day, 9th month 29th, at 11 A. M.

> WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL, The Committee who have charge of this institution

The Committee on Admissions and the Committee

The Visiting Committee meet at the school on Second day evening, 9th mo. 25th. For the accommodation of this committee, conveyances will be in waiting at Street Road Station on the arrival of trains which leave Philadelphia at 2.40 and 4.55 P. M.

WM. EVANS, Clerk.

WANTED,

A woman Friend, as teacher in the Boarding School

John Sharpless, Chester, Delaware Co., Pa., Ephraim Smith, 1110 Pine street, Philada.

WANTED.

Teachers and assistant teachers for the Evening All Schools for Adult Colored Persons, men's and women's

> Thomas Elkinton, 400 S. Ninth St., Thomas Woolman, 858 Marshall St., " Finley Hutton, 400 Chestnut St.,

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE, Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelphia, Physician and Superintendent—John C. Hall, M.D. Applications for the Admission of Patients may be made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Board of

RECEIPTS.

Received from Josiah W. Cloud, N. J., $2.10, v 56; from Jesse D. Hockett, N. C., $2.10, vol. 56; from Ashton Richardson, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from Pears Hall, 10., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Nathan Satterthwai James Frame, and Esther Fogg, $2.10 each, vol. 5 from Benjamin Ellyson, Io., $2.10, vol. 56; from F becca Hibberd, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jane Pickering, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Tatum, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jonathan E. Rhoa. Del., $2.10, vol. 56; from Joseph Cartland, Mass., $2.1 Del, §2.10, vol. 56; from Joseph Cartland, Mass, §2.1, vol. 56; from Huldah M. Beede, R. I., §2.10, vol. 5; from Levi Varney, Canada, §2, vol. 56, and for Willia Branscomb and Mary E. Jones, §2 each, vol. 56; from Rebeca H. Wills, N. J., §2.10, vol. 56; from Stary Haines, N. J., §2.10, vol. 56; from Targ R. Satte thwaite, Pa., §2.10, vol. 56; from David Wallace, C. §2.10, vol. 56; from Targe R. Satte thwaite, Pa., §2.10, vol. 56; from David Wallace, §2.10, v thwaite, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from David Wallace, £ 210, vol. 56; from Charles Bell, N. J., $2.10, vol. 5 and for Joseph K. Lippincott, $2.10, vol. 56; from Slatch Allen, Gtn., $2.10, vol. 56; from Sarah Roberts, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Clement ogden, Pt $2.10, vol. 56; from Dr. George Thomas, Pa., $2.10, [82.10, vol. 36; from Dr. George Thomas, Pa., 82.10, No. 24, vol. 57, and for J. Preston Thomas, $2.10, No. 23, vol. 57, Charles T. Thomas, $2.10, vol. 56, at John Ogelsby, City, $2, vol. 56; from Owen Y. We ster, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; for Edwin Leeds, N. J. He man H. Leeds, Pa., Bardey R. Leeds, Philada, ar William H. Leeds, Orgon, $2.10 each, vol. 56; from West Cares. Pa., Bardey, Blockbyn, Acon. $31 William H. Leeds, Oregon, §2.10 each, vol. 56; from Maria Carey, O., per George Blackburo, Agent, §2.1, vol. 56; from Sarah Ann Leeds, Pa., §2.10, vol. from Henry A. Knowles, 10., §2.10, vol. 56; fron Thomas Emmons, Agent, Io., for Elwood Spence Jonathan Briggs, John Lipesey, Edward G. Vall, an Jesse R. Gurwood, §2.10 each, vol. 56; from John C. Alhen, City, §2. vol. 56, and for John C. Allen, Jr., an Samuel L. Allen, N. J., Samuel Leeds, Mich., and Jac B. Broomall, Pel., §2.10 each, vol. 56; from Jac Spence, John M. J. Scholler, Vol. 56; from Lace Sp. 10, vol. 56; from Pennell L. Webster, Pa., per Josh T. Ballinger, Agent S. 210, vol. 56; from Cartu, William T. Ballinger, Agent, $2.10, vol. 56; from Capt. Willian Reed, Mass., $2.10, vol. 56; from Parker Hall, Agen O., for John W. Smith and Josiah Hall, $2.10 each vol. 56, and for Joseph Russell, $2.10, to No. 20, vo 56; from Mary W. Bacon, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; fror William H. Boone, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Jame Forsythe, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Samuel B. Smith O., $2.10, vol. 56,

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL.

The WINTER SESSION begins on Second-day, Tent month 30th, 1882. Parents and others intending to send pupils, will please make early application to JONATHAN G. WILLIAMS, Supt., address Westlown P.O. Chester Co., Pa.; or to CHARLES J. ALLEN, Teasurer 304 Arch St., Philadelphia. Terms, $80 per session.

THE CORPORATION OF HAVERFORD COLLEGE.

A Stated Annual Meeting of "The Corporation of Haverford College" will be held in the Committee-room of Arch Street Meeting-house, Philadelphia, on Third day, Tenth month 10th, 1882, at 3 o'clock, P.M.

EDWARD BETTLE, Jr., Secretary.

MARRIED, at Friends' Meeting, Burlington, N. J. On Fifth-day, Ninth month 14th, Francis Barton Gummere, Ph. D., to Amelia Smith, daughter of Richard F. Mott—all of Burlington.

DIED, at her residence, near Fallsington, Bucks Co. Pa., on the 24th of Eighth month, 1882, JANE LOVETT in the 77th year of her age, a member of Falls Monthly Meeting of Friends.

Meeting of Friends.

—, on the 16th of 8th mo. 1882, at his residence in Baxter Springs, Kansas, in the 65th year of his age
JOHN N. MILLER, a member of Coal Creek Monthly Meeting, Iowa. He was a man of talent and influence Society. On reviewing the many trials through which he had passed he said, I freely forgive all. His illness was short, and he was mercifully spared much suffer ing; yet from the first expressed that he had no pro ing the content of th

> WILLIAM H. PILE, PRINTER, No. 422 Walnut Street.

FRIEND. THR

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, NINTH MONTH 30, 1882.

NO. 8.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

ce, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON. Moorestown, Burlington Co., N. J.

JOHN S. STOKES, P NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

Ancient Testimonies and Advices.

THE CARE AND TRAINING OF CHILDREN. istles" issued by London Yearly Meeting its members, beginning with the year 1690, d extending to 1725. They not only show Christian care and concern of the early the time-honored and truth-honored minor 1690. timonies (as they are called)-guarding and mes even in Sardis which have not defiled e in white: for they are worthy."

relation to the smaller tithe has led some in tenth of the state of the smaller than the same in the land and planness, reater has become painfully obvious. How for it will suddenly wither, as the mown grass in language and habit; and not examples to use the testimonies: "He that contemnet by lefter the smaller than the smaller than the land glittering gayety of this fading world; them, in wisdom, moderation, and plainness, reater has become painfully obvious. How for it will suddenly wither, as the mown grass in language and habit; and not examples to use the testimonies: "He that contemnet by lefter the sun. And if yo intend to be happy only, but also to restrain them from anymall things shall fall by little and little." In this life, and that to come, thirst after thing that might be their hurt, either in-bite him.

is our Christian and earnest advice and counsel to all Friends concerned, (so far as they children are the most immediate objects of are able, or may be capable) to provide school our care and concern, it is tenderly recommasters and mistresses, who are faithful mended to all parents or guardians of chil-Friends, to teach and instruct their children. dren, that they be diligently exercised in this And not to send them to such schools where care and concern for the education of those they are taught the corrupt ways, manners, committed to their charge; that in their fashions, and language of the world: * * tender years they may be brought to a sense but to take care that you train up your chil- of God, his wisdom, power, and omnipresence, dren in the good nurture, admonition, and so as to beget an awe and fear of Him in fear of the Lord, in that plainness and lan-their hearts (which is the beginning of wisguage which become truth. And parents dom); and as they grow up in capacity, to and masters, &c., to be good examples to acquaint them with, and bring them up in The following are extracts from "Annual them, in a sober and godly conversation, and the frequent reading of, the scriptures of plainness of speech. And not suffer your truth; and also to instruct them in the great substance to be bestowed upon your children love of God, through Jesus Christ, and the to furnish them with such things as tend to work of salvation by Him, and of sanctificapride, and to lift them up to vanity, or affect tion through his blessed Spirit. And also to ationing both parents and teachers to faith- be corrupted, and how liable to corrupt and thus instructed in the way of the Lord when ness in support of these lesser "tithes" as hurt one another by evil example and liberty, they are young, they may not forget it when ell as the more important ones "of judg- it is earnestly requested that all parents among they are old: or, however, that all concerned ent and the love of God,"-but they also Friends take all godly and Christian care in may be clear in the sight of God, that they have ove a fact, which he who runs may read, the education of their children, and be good not been wanting in their duties to them, at even in that once favored church, there examples to them, and not to allow them in And that the labor and travail of Friends thereseen a gradual apathy and lukewarmness anything that may gratify a vain mind, in it may be more effectual, it is our tender descepting over many of its members, until immodest apparel, or foolish garbs, or other sire, that seasonable opportunities may be ere has, with these, been an almost total extravagancies, tending to their hurt, and taken to wait upon the Lord, with your chilporing of "the ancient land-marks" in these reproach of our holy profession, and incurden, in your families, for the manifestation spects, which their illustrious forefathers so ring God's displeasure and judgment, which their illustrious forefathers so ring God's displeasure and judgment, which their illustrious for his blessed power, to make them sensible tiently suffered for, and so nobly set and stands against the pride of life and haughti- of his witness and seed of life and grace in aintained before the world. A portion of ness: but sincerely to use their best endeavors their hearts, in order to beget them into a e language of the Spirit to the angel of one to train them up in the nurture and admoni-living knowledge and love of the truth as it the churches was: "Be watchful, and tion of the Lord, in sobriety, modesty, and is in Jesus."-1706.

eir garments; and they shall walk with that pride, and the vain customs and fashions respects, may be continued and increased of the world, prevail over some under our among you; and that parents be exemplary Our early Friends claimed that they were profession, particularly in the excess of aptot their children, in keeping out the vain doubt of conformity to the world in these parel and furniture, doth earnestly recom- fashions, customs, and pride of the world, by ings by the Spirit of Christ, our holy Law- mend, that all, who make profession of the adorning themselves modestly and in plain ver! can any one presume to hold that the truth, take care to be exemplary in what ness, according to the simplicity of Truth they wear, and what they use; so as to avoid me yesterday, to day, and forever, would the vain customs of the world, and all ex may be carefully and zealously concerned for ad his spiritually minded followers directly travagancy, in color and fashion; and keep our ancient Christian testimony against mixt ck into them again? Or is not said lapse themselves, in respect thereof, spotless and marriages; that none of your children may cause, to these, the offence of the cross has blameless; adorning their profession with all be corrupted and alienated from Truth thereticeased? and that, because less humiliating modesty and sobriety. And that all parents by."—1708.

the fleshly mind, such have yielded to be watchful over their children; and careful "That nothing be wanting in Friends' care vim with the current, rather than against it, not to suffer them to get up into pride and towards their children, let all be concerned otwithstanding the latter so marked the excess; but to keep them in that decent plain to see that they do not only watch over them burse of those sons of the morning whose ness which becomes the people of God: that for good, but that they also rule over them antles they profess to have taken up, and the sin of the children may not lie upon their in the fear of the Lord; and none, in the

"Whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall righteousness, and let holiness be your habitation while on earth; so shall eternal glory The extracts are these: "Dear Friends, it our Christian and earnest advice and coun-

mbers of this religious Society in relation them with the vain fashions of the world."—keep them out of the vain and foolish fashions and ways of the world, and in plainness of "Being sensible how incident youth is to language, habit and behavior; that being rengthen the things that remain, that are plainness in apparel, language and conversa-adythed to die: for I have not found thy works tion, as becometh our holy profession and freet before God." "Thou hast a few Christian religion."—1692. "And dear Friends, brethren and sisters "This meeting, being under a deep sense within the bounds and limits of Truth in all bose name they bear?

Who can but see, 100, how unfaithfulness parents' neglect."—1703.

parents' neglect."—1703.

them costly and gaudy attire, unbecoming naturally exposed them to much odium and without bail or mainprise until he shall b godliness, nor letting them have money to misrepresentation at that stormy period. The leased by order of this conneil, or some o gratify themselves therein."-1709.

fervently in spirit, with secret supplication cised by those Friends on whom the burthens in Philadelphia to that in London, dated unto the Lord, that He may give them an in- of the Church rested, to prevent their mem |mo. 26th, 1778, says, "In the country heritance in the Truth, wherein they may be bers from being entangled in any of the snares which the governments lately set up ins enabled to stand up in their generation after laid for their feet, to expose the false charges of our late excellent constitution exer you to his praise and glory, rather than labor which were constantly circulated, and to as power, great fluings, imprisonments and to get great inheritances for them in this sist those who were brought under suffering ous other distresses, have been inflicted to world; which have proved a snare and temptation to some to shun the cross, and embrace the glory of this present world."-1725.

For "The Friend."

Robert Proud. THE LOYALIST.

with it many exercises and trials to the con- and reaffirming a declaration issued in 1676, sistent members of the Society of Friends in that it is not our business to be concerned in America, and in these Robert Proud appears any contrivance to set up or pull down the to have shared. Their views and feelings are government under which we live. It says: clearly set forth by the late Nathan Kite in "May we therefore firmly unite in the abhorthe first of an admirable series of articles rence of all such writings and measures, as headed "Thomas Scattergood and his Times," evidence a desire and design to break off the which were commenced in the 10th mo. of happy connection we have heretofore enjoyed 1847. He says :-

had generally been opposed to the usurpation of the British Parliament in its far-famed ing minute was made-Stamp Act, and duty on tea; and prominent men amongst them in Philadelphia had been be proposed to Friends in general on the sub-the most carnest, faithful and efficient pro-ject of the declaration of Allegiance and Abtesters and petitioners against these measures juration required by some late laws passed by of the ministry which finally involved Eng-the Legislatures who now preside in Pennland and America in war. They would not sylvania and New Jersey, having several silently submit to the infringement of their times met and deliberated thereon, we have rights as citizens, performed under order of the satisfaction to find we are united in judgpriest, magistrate, or by authority of an act ment, that consistent with our religious prinof parliament. But their voice went forth ciples, we cannot comply with the requisitions clothed with argument, with demonstration of those laws, as we cannot be instrumental of right, not with threats of revenge. When in setting up or pulling down of any governcalled on to join in plans of opposition to the ment, but it becomes us to show forth a peacemother country, which tended to warlike able and meek behavior to all men, seeking measures, and which pointed towards a ter-their good, and to live a nseful, sober and remination of blood, they drew back. It was not ligious life, without joining ourselves with at the whispers of fear, -it was at the prompt-lany parties in war, or with the spirit of strife of the Government and Civil Order, by an i They knew that all and contention now prevailing. ing of principle. wars were done away to those who were fully come under the government of Christ Jesus, covers the period of time we are now considerthe Prince of Peace, and therefore, like the ing, contains many entries which show some der; i. e. Rebels," &c. early Christians, they could not fight. Yet of the sufferings to which Friends were then like them they were prepared to show by the exposed. He was a member of a revolutionary entered into mercantile business in connecti patient endurance of suffering, that the weakness of fear was no principle in their actions.

"Soon came the determination to throw off ing items are extracted from his book. allegiance to the king. The true Quaker could unite in neither the one nor the other. every royal or ministerial mistake, by every legal outrage or usurpation of right.

of the Revolution. Not only were they com- the inhabitants of the Colonies. pelled by their conscientious convictions to refrain from all participation in warlike mea- 1776. John Baldwin, for refusing to receive sures, but they were also restrained from Bills of Credit in payment, was declared an transferring their allegiance to the revolu- enemy to his country, and precluded from all records of the Society show the unremitting person lawfully authorized so to do." P. "You who are parents of children, labor vigilance and exertion which were then exerfor conscience sake. Fines and imprisonment many, who cannot for conscience sake joi were the frequent experience of the faithful their measures." A summary of these fi in those days. From the many illustrations in the limits of Philadelphia Yearly Meet which exist of this watchful care, we select drawn up about the close of the war, sh the following:

At a Meeting for Sufferings held 1st mo. In the MSS. of R. Proud, I find the foll 20th, 1776, an address to the public was ing evidence of an attempt to impress u adopted, pleading for the continuance of his fellow-citizens the blessings of peace. The stormy period of the Revolution brought efforts to amicably settle existing disputes. with the kingdom of Great Britain, and our "The members of the Society of Friends just and necessary subordination to the king."

On the 30th of 6th month, 1778, the follow-

"On consideration of what is necessary to

The diary of Christopher Marshall, which committee in Philadelphia which assumed with his younger brother, John Proud. and exercised arbitrary power. The followplaint was made against John Drinker, hatter, He did not understand the nature of that for refusing taking continental money, who, allegiance to king or to commonwealth, which being sent for, acknowledged he did, and that titled "An Elegy," written on the 25th of 12 was abrogated by every act of oppression, by in point of conscience he refused it; npon mo. 1782, which may be quoted as a specim which he was to be censured agreeably to the of his versification, and as showing the loya gal outrage or usurpation of right." resolve of Congress published [Jan. 11th, 1776] of his sentiment. In it, be represents his in the duty of loyal submission to the government but to be referred for one week, in order for two country, Natale solum, as inviting h ment under which we are placed is clearly him to consider well of it." Congress had to return to its bosom. laid down in the Scriptures, and has ever been ordained that persons refusing to receive Conacknowledged by the Society of Friends. The tinental Bills of Credit should be published adherence of our members to this principle and treated as enemies of the country, and be subjected them to much suffering at the period precluded from all trade or intercourse with

"Order of Council of Safety of Oct. 31st, tionary governments, or doing any voluntary trade and intercourse with the inhabitants of act inconsistent with their continued fidelity these States." "Resolved that the said John wardly or outwardly; neither providing for to the authority of the British crown. This Baldwin be committed to jail, there to re-

An epistle from the Meeting for Suffer a total of more than £35,000.

In the MSS. of R. Proud, I find the foll

THE CONTRAST, &C.

The following Contrast, being written R. P., anno 1775, abt the Beginning of Revolt of this Country from its Connec with Gr. Brit. was refused a place in Public News Paper, the Printer not dan to insert the same, in that Time of m boasted Liberty, &c.

" Pace nihil melius, nil pace salubrius orbi Terrarum dominus, qui regit astra dedit, Pace suas mercator opes, sua rura colonus Possidet; absque metu carpit and hostis iter

No greater Bliss doth God on Men bestow. Than sacred Peace; from which all Blessings flo In Peace the City reaps the Merchant's Gains ; In Peace flows Plenty from the rural Plains; In Peace, thro' foreign Lands, the stranger may Fearless and safely travel on his way,

No greater Curse invades the World below, Than Civil War, the Source of ev'ry Woe; In War, the City wastes, in dire Distress; In War, the rural Plain's a Wilderness; In War, the Road, the City, and the Plain Are Scenes of Woes, of Blood, and dying Men!

-" Nulla Salus bello." Virg.

In a somewhat similar paraphrase of t Latin poet, Claudianus, written 9th mo. 30 1776, R. Proud laments over "the violati warrantable usurpation," &c.; and he ref to Milton who represents, in his Parad Lost, the devils as "the first violators of

About the commencement of the war, Т success of the Revolution was unfavorable his business prospects, and his commerc Jan. 30th, 1776. At this meeting com- affairs went to ruin. John returned to Er land, and Robert resumed his school. . allusion to his losses is found in a poem,

> "1. Distant from thy Country far, On the Banks of Delawar, Thou dost mourn; Compassed round by Rebel Foes, Worn with Grief, and pressed by Woes, Oh! Return!

2. Thee, thy native Soil again, Welcomes from beyond the Main; Come and see, Once again before thy Death, What thy native Country hath, Good for thee.

- 3. Long, too long, in Troubles tost, From thy Fr'ds, and Kindred lost; Far from Home; To relieve thy Griefs and Woes, All thy Sorrows to compose, Hither come.
- 4. In the Confines of these Bowers, Pass thy yet remaining Hours, Thon mayest have, Here, at last, upon this Shore, Where no Ill shall reach thee more A peaceful Grave.
- 5. Peace and Plenty, yet a while, Thon mayst have upon this Isle, If thon flee From the Idol of the Crowd, And where Noise and Strife are lond, Seldom be.
- 6. If thy Intimates be few A few chosen Fr'ds will do, Thon, with these Far from Rage, Revenge and Strife, Mayst enjoy that Bliss of Life Which will please.
- 7. Long enough, and Ah! too long; Troubles thou hast been among From the Bad, Of the Wages which are due Only to a Rebel Crew, Thou hast had!
- Now thy former Fr'ds are gone, Thou art valued there by None; Robb'd of all* By the infernal Powers assign'd, There to punish human Kind! Thee I call.
- 9. What hast thou to do with those, Who embrace Rebellion's Cause? Come away There to live is Death to thee: Worse than their's thy Lot shall be,
- 10. From the faithful and the true, Separation why dost thou Longer try i Here on Earth, while Pow'r is giv'n, In an order nearer Heav'n Live and die."

To this appeal, the poet prudently objects. at owing to his long absence he was now rgotten and unknown in his native country. J. W.

(To be concluded.)

irit, to wrap him up into high enjoyments, to enable him to speak great things of the s heart more, it helps him on his journey ore, it prepares his spirit more for the Lord, adds to his growth more than the other

But the still working of the power, which recious and profitable ministration of life."

-I. Penington's Letters.

e strong bond of natural attachment to disallowed. orthly things .- Mary Capper.

* "By Means of what was called the Revolution orldly Property; or had it thereby rendered entirely seless to him!"

For "The Friend." Westtown Boarding School.

the orchard north of the girls' grounds having from the following minute: "By a minute been planted in 1838. This appears to be an from the committee on instruction it appears error, that orchard having been planted pre- to be their judgment that with the present viously, believed to have been under the number of scholars, the services of one teacher superintendency of Philip Price, probably in the boys' school could be dispensed with, about 1825. Some apples were observed on which being concurred with, the subject is one or more trees yet standing in it a few referred to the committee with authority to days since. The one planted in 1838, under carry out this arrangement, and, in conjunc-Nathan Sharpless' superintendency, is on the tion with the superintendent, to make such west side of the road leading past the girls' further reduction in the expenses of conductgrounds south, and towards West Chester on ing the institution as its reduced resources the north. It originally consisted of 180 trees, may seem to require, and as they think can 172 are still standing, and about 160 more or be adopted without disadvantage. less healthy and bearing fruit. The new one At a meeting of the committee, 10th mo. adjoining on the south, was planted whilst 4th, 1844, an extract from the will of Jno. Aaron Sharpless was superintendent, probably Paul was read, which directed that after the about ten years since, and makes the fourth decease of his wife, Hannah Paul, the sum of orchard of apple trees planted since the cs- $1000 should be paid by his executors to tablishment of the school. The original one Thos. Evans and Thos. Kimber, in trust, "the stood on the north side of the lane leading interest or income thereof to be appropriated east from the school, bore apples as late as to supplying such children as may be admit-1843, and totally disappeared about 1868.

and 88 girls; and that two deaths among the tution, at the discretion of the committee, to pupils had occurred during the year. The enable such pupils to prosecute their studies committee were not exempt from trials and without being a burden to their friends, or a the following minute: "In their oversight of been very useful. The committee on warmthe school however, the past year, the com- ing and lighting, "proposed the use of gas as mittee have been brought under much exer a safe and efficient means of lighting the cise on account of the frequent disuse of the building; and reported the result of some inimpropriety of their departure, and to induce tinued to give further attention to the subthem to use the singular pronoun in speaking ject. to one another; which the committee hope they have been to a good degree successful the school building is imperfectly warmed obligations. He began by asking as a favor and lighted during winter, Thomas Kimber, to be accepted as the "honorary guardian" Samuel B. Morris, Solomon Lukens and Jos. of two or three orphans, and the calling, Snowdon were appointed to have such im- which he had thus taken up for his own satisprovements made in these respects as may, on careful examination, appear necessary

The care of the committee to avoid the In a former number, mention was made of needless expenditure of money, is manifest ted to partake of the funds for schooling those From the report made to the Yearly Mect- not in circumstances to pay for their educa-ing in 1844, we learn that the average num- tion * * with suitable books, stationery or ber of scholars during the year was 95 boys other necessaries not furnished by the instiexercises at this period, as will appear from charge to the institution." This legacy has plain language among the scholars; repeated quiries in relation to the best apparatus and efforts were made to convince them of the materials for producing it." They were con-

The Father of a Thousand Children.-An in accomplishing. The gradual and increas- old man has just died in Vienna whose name ing evasions of plainness in dress which have deserves to be chronicled in all land for the appeared, have also been a subject of much singular goodness of his life. Ferdinand Reidt anxiety; particularly in the color of the gar- has been known in his own city as the "Father ments worn by some of the children, and in of the Orphans" for nearly half a century. the cut and form of the coats and vests of the He was a man of considerable means, and was boys. We apprehend that unless parents and happily married, but it was a great grief to It is more to meet with one little touch of others who have the care of providing the him and his wife that they continued to be ower, to help a man against his corruption clothing, are more vigilant and firm under a childless. Herr Reidt said to his wife: "Since d the deceit of his heart, than to meet with sense of religious duty in restraining them in we are not to have children of our own, can great descending of Power upon a man's these respects, that the Institution will be in we not be parents to some of those who are danger of losing the appearance of a Friends' fatherless and motherless?" He was a man school, and great disadvantage will accrue to of action, and began at once to carry his conysteries of God's kingdom; for it changes the minds of tender children, as well as a door ception into practice. He commenced with be opened for increasing weakness in regard taking fatherly charge of two or three orto the support of our testimony to simplicity phans, but his zeal and repute increased to of dress and manners. We would suggest such an extent that, at the time of his death, a the other will hurt him, unless his spirit whether it would not be proper to remind he was the legal guardian of more than a poised by the Lord, and made able to bear parents afresh, that the Yearly Meeting exthousand fatherless children. Those whom pects all the children to keep to our ancient he adopted in this manner were not fitfully cretly melteth and changeth the mind, re-and scriptural practice of using thou and thee taken up and then let drop, but he kept con-swing it (as it were insensibly) daily more and more into the image, that is the safe, or rests will be permitted to be worn at the their early education until their marriage, or school which are not plain in color and form; their start in adult life at the close of their and when any of objectionable shape are sent apprenticeship. He never sought fame or there, they will be altered, as well as any publicity, and took no credit to himself for his other garments that are not conformable to devotion to those who had no natural claim plainness; also that the introduction of unupon him. Now that he is departed however, are not experienced by the conformable to the confor cans of spiritual instruction, by loosening suitable or gay colored clothing be altogether every one speaks of his singular life, its quietness, and yet restless energy, its conscientious-"6th mo. 14th. It being represented that ness and severe fidelity to his self-imposed faction, as he put it, was in time regarded by of the victuals and clothes he has been acmany of his fellow-citizens as a sort of official customed to receive, if he chooses the last occupation which he was bound to fulfil.

London Globe.

George Washington's Slaves.

By a clanse in his will, Washington provided for his slaves. I give it here entire, because it is a remarkable example of his thoughtful care for the comfort of others. The will is in the handwriting of the General, and is dated July 9, 1799—only a few months before his death. The following is the clause referred to:

"Item .- Upon the decease of my wife, it is my will and desire that all the slaves whom I hold in my own right, shall receive their freedom. To emancipate them during her on account of their intermixture by marriage with the dower negroes, as to excite the most painful sensations, if not disagreeable consequences to the latter, while both descriptions are in the occupancy of the same proprietor; it not being in my power, under the tenure by which the dower negroes are beld, to manumit them. And whereas, among those who will receive freedom according to this desire there may be some, who, from old age or bodily infirmities, and others, who, on account of their infancy, will be unable to support themselves, it is my will and desire, that all who come under the first and second description, shall be comfortably clothed and fed by my ben's while they live; and that such of the latter description as have no parents living, or, if living, are unable or unwilling to provide for them, shall be bound by the Court until they shall arrive at the age of twenty-five years; and in cases where no record can be produced, whereby their ages can be ascertained, the judgment of the Court, upon its own view of the subject, shall be adequate and final. The negroes thus bound are (by their masters or mistresses) to be taught to read and write, and to be brought up to some useful occupation, agreeably to the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia, providing for the support of orphan or other poor children. And I do hereby expressly forbid the sale or transportation out of the said commonwealth, of any slave I may die possessed of, under any pretence whatsoever. And I do, moreover and most pointedly and most solemnly enjoin it upon any executors hereafter named, or the survivors of them, to see that this clause, respecting slaves, and every part thereof, be religiously fulfilled at the epoch at which it is directed to take place without evasion, neglect, or delay, after the crops which may then be on the ground are harvested, particularly as it respects the aged and infirm : seeing that a regular and permanent fund be established for their support, as long as there are subjects requiring it; not trusting to the uncertain provision to be made to individuals And to my mulatto man, William, calling himself William Lee, I give immediate free dom, or, if he should prefer it (on account of the accidents which have befallen him, and which have rendered him incapable of walking, or of any active employment) to remain in the situation he now is, it shall be optional in him to do so; in either case, however, I allow him an annuity of thirty dollars during his natural life, which shall be independent of the victuals and clothes he has been accustomed to receive, if he chooses the last alternative; but in full with his freedom, if he prefers the first, and this I give him as a testimony of my sense of his attachment to me, and for his faithful services during the Revolutionary War."—B. J. Lossing in S. S. Times.

LINES ON A SKELETON. Selected.

real, and is dated July 9, 1799—only a few months before his death. The following is the clause referred to:

"Hem.—Upon the decease of my wife, it is my will and desire that all the slares whom I hold in my own right, shall receive their freedom. To emancipate them during her attended with such insuperable difficulties on account of their intermixture by marriage with the dower negroes, as to excite the most with the dower negroes, as to excite the most painful sensations, if not disagreeable consequences to the latter while both descriptions. Chronicle: 1 Behold this ruin! "Twas a skull Once of ethereal spirit full; This narrow cell was Life's retreat, This space was Thought's mysterious seat, What beauteous visions filled the spot, What dreams of pleasure long forgot? Nor hope nor pleasure, joy nor fear, Has left one trace of record here.

Beneath this mouldering canopy Once shonce the bright and busy eye; But start not at the dismal void, If social love that eye employed, If with no lawless fire it gleamed, But through the dews of kindness beamed, That eye shall be forever bright When stars and suns are sunk in night,

Within this hollow cavern lung The ready, swift, and tuneful longue; If falsehood's honey it distained, And, where it could not priase, was chained; If bold in virtue's cause it spoke, Yet gentle concord never broke, This silent tongue shall plead for thee When time unveils eternity.

Say, did these fagers delve the mine?
Or with its envied rubies shine?
To hew the rock, or wear the gem,
Can little now avail to them.
But, if the path of truth they sought,
Or comfort to the mourner brought,
These hands a richer meed shall claime.
Than all that wait on Wealth and Fame.

Avails it, whether bare or shod, These feet the path of duty trod. If from the bowers of Ease they fled, To seek affliction's humble bed; If Grandeur's guilty bribe they spurned, And home to Virtue's cot returned, These feet with angels' wings shall vie, And tread the palace of the sky.

Selected,

THE NIGHT-BLOOMING CEREUS. BY MARY D. JAMES.

Oh, beautiful Cereus,
How welcome thy bloom—
Thy grand coronation—
How rich in perfume!
How wondrously charming—
So queenly, so chaste!
We mourn thy sweet flowers
Should fade in such haste.

Beholding with rapture
The exquisite sight,
We wonder thy glories
Are kept for the night.
In darkness to lavish
Their beautiful bloom,
And give their rich odors
To midnight's deep gloom!

Some sister plants close up Their petals at night, And open them only To greet morning light. Thy charms are unfolded When nature's asleep; As angels night-vigils So lovingly keep.

So Faith comes in darkness, And blooms in the night; To soothe in affliction, In danger, in blight. When sources of comfort All fail and depart, Faith brings sweetest solace To cheer the sad heart.

And night-blooming flowers Bring lessons of Love, As messages coming From regions above. We too have a mission— In darkness and grief, To bring the afflicted And suffering relief.

To be to the feeble,
The sinful, the proor,
Sweet love-plants, all blooming
With charms that endure.
To shed on the lowly
In earth's deepest gloom,
The fragrance of kindness;—
Most blessed perfume!

The way of salvation
To show to the lost,
Which Jesus provided
At infinite cost;
To help struggling spirits
To gain heaven's bliss;
What service so hallowed,
So Christ-like as this!

-S. S. Time For "The Friend

Our Yearly Meeting now having a late committee to attend the subordinate me ings, it was thought that it may be app priate to publish in "The Friend" the folloing letter from Dr. John Fothergill, coping from vol. 9th of "Friend's Library" nage 2.

from vol. 9th of "Friends' Library," page 2. In the year 1776, Dr. John Fothergill w nominated one of a committee appointed the Yearly Meeting, to make a general vito the meetings throughout the nation. (It is occasion he wrote the following letter "To the Friends nominated at the late Year Meeting, to visit the Quarterly and Month Meetings, &c., and to the members of our S ciety in general:" "Dear Friends,-Having been nominat on this service, I accepted of it with reluc ance, from an apprehension of my unfitner as well as from the confining nature of n employment. But being desirous to acqu myself to the best of my ability, I could n avoid considering, with much and delibera attention, the proposal made to the meetin both in respect to the manner of it, the natur of the service and its object; all of whice claim my hearty concurrence. That it are from the simple movings of Truth, I am full persuaded; the prevalence of a holy influence over the minds of many, when it was deliered, was generally felt and acknowledged The nature of the service is to render us helpfi one to another, in promoting the growth an prosperity of every individual in the truth and by this means to advance the great en of true religion, the glory of Him who create us, and the comfort and happiness of all. Th complaining language of many counties hav ing deeply affected the minds of Friends, fer vent desires were raised that the life of re ligion might be renewed in the churches to

to engage in this service; and oh! may it and the general edification of the churches. blessed, so as to make it a memorable seaof Divine refreshment, from the great ester of our assemblies. A desire to conbute my mite to this great and useful labor, ompts me to throw before my hrethren the lowing reflections, hoping they will be reved as the fruits of a mind cordially dissed, in the first place, to build up its own

'I would wish to apply to my brethren enged in this service, and to recapitulate some rt of the wise, important, heavenly eounsel portance, as well as of the time and manner is the spot where a holy man died. which you are to proceed. These conmplishing the work, to the churches benefit, in "h." d your own growth and experience in righthich gathered us to be a people, and has words, "The pillar of all other pillars." therto, in a good measure, preserved us one y an awful labor, to awake them to a sense which the Lord thy God hateth." essed effects; this is the one thing needful; nd oh! that they may wrestle and prevail, Jacob did, and obtain the blessing for yourlves and for the whole heritage of God.

on; receive this visit as a fresh renewal of your God is asleep, and hears you not. xample to those who follow after us.

o be afresh roused up to diligence, I found and the true worship .- S. S. Times.

ir help in the maintenance of pure, un- a willingness to throw these few hints before xed piety. And it pleased Divine Provimy brethren, as a testimony of my full unity nce to open the way to a fresh labor of love with the proposition, and my desire that it ongst his people, and to make many will- may be rendered effectual to the help of many, JOHN FOTHERGILL."

The High Places in Egypt. BY EDWARD A. VAN DYCK.

Hotel d'Orient, at Cairo, Egypt, there takes dency to raise serions reflection in the minds place, once every lunar year, a most interest of some? Oh! how much there is which has ing ceremony. A number of Moslems set up a tendency to scatter and divide instead of ose which the enemy has made in the walls a long wooden pole, around which, for three healing and binding up! The desire of my days, a large crowd of men is to be seen from poor feeble mind at times is, that each one may about 9 o'clock in the morning till sundown, do with their might what their hands find to gathered in a circle, all facing toward the do, in order for the repairing of the walls pole, and crying out incessantly, "Ya Allah!! which are so lamentably broken down: and Ya Allah!" which means "O God! O God!" as these honestly endeavor to go forth in ns on this subject, by many concerned They bow, and wave their arms from down humility and godly fear, I trust the work athren; that as you have given up your upwards and inwards toward the pole. Some will prosper, though they may have, as it mes, and that with a willingness that be-times not more than eight or ten men are to were, to work with one hand, while they eaks your zeal for the cause of Truth, and be seen performing this ceremony: at others, hold a weapon of defence in the other. prosperity among the people, you will let the number must be at least three or four trust there are in different places a tribulated,

This-and, indeed, any pole or mastlerations were earnestly pressed upon you, called in the Arabic of to-day a Sari, and in d as you keep them in humility and fear the high Arabic of by-gone days it is called Pompey's Pillar, at Alexandria, is to this usness and Truth. Let it be your care, in day called by the natives 'Aamûd es Sawâri,

"cutting down the high places." In Denteat wisdom which led our ancestors to es-ronomy, chapter 16; verse 21, we read: "Set the pure and simple truth as it is in Jesus, blish a most wholesome discipline amongst not up for thyself an Asarah [pole] of any and persuading the unwary that there is an an or the control of the con re, in much brotherly love, to strengthen God that thou shalt make for thyself; and self-denial and the daily cross. Oh! may is, the hour for the morning sacrifice—the hour hell shall not be able to prevail."—Hannah when Abraham was about to sacrifice his son Gibbons. Ishmael, according to the Moslem tradition. "And you, my dear friends, who are the And precisely at sunset the cries stop, to be bjects of the churches care, and amongst again taken up the second and third days, as in an address at a great temperance meeting hom I rank myself, surrounded with many already remarked above. Thus it is that we during the session of the British-Wesleyan reaknesses, much imperfection, far short of read of the prophets of Baal who cried from Conference, 1878, referred to an important ae excellency that adorned our predecessors, morning until evening to Baal to burn the decision by his parents, as follows: sacrifice they had prepared; and when, at hall we be made partakers of the benefits in —a remnant of the old worship of Astarte, or mission to pull out the tap, and let the liquor ended, feel our strength renewed to run with Ashtaroth; and what was most emphatically run away. She quickly did so, praying all lacrity the race that is set before us, be made forbidden in the Mosaic books (and in the the time."—Selected. ielpful to others in their progress, and having verse quoted above) is to-day practised upon inished our course with joy, leave a bright the banks of the Nile by a people who abhor the banks of the Nile by a people who abbord any worship other than that of The Gon who glory lift us no whit nearer Heaven. It is "Under a sense of the great need we have sent Mahommed to teach men the right way easier to step there from the lowly vale of

Selected for "The Friend,"

"1st mo. 1858.-These are days of tribulation and sorrow; yet it is a comfort to remember, that the Lord's arm is not shortened that it cannot save, neither is his ear grown heavy that it cannot hear the cries of the poor and the sighings of the needy soul. I am a little encouraged at times in the hope that the work is on the wheel. Is there not cause to hope that some In a corner of the small open space near the things which are developing may have a tenour minds. Let it be your fervent prayer, at you may be made deeply sensible of its erected—for three days in succession only— Lord's time know Him to arise for their help, 'Fear not, little flock, it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

"Desires are raised that we may not be suffore you, way will be opened for your ac a Sariah, - baving the feminine form ending fered to cast away our confidence in the unoften see our standing to be as on a sea of glass; wherein great is the necessity of watchis service, to look to that Arm of power that is, the "column of the poles;" or, in other ing unto prayer. Here there is no time to be ords, "The pillar of all other pillars." | idle, lest, as formerly, while men sleep the How often we read in the Old Testament of enemy sow tares. Truly it is a day when he is very busy striving to draw the mind away from ie weak, and bring back the scattered, and put not up for thyself an upright—the thing such be given to believe that the enemy of the holy principle of light, life and grace, an obedience to it, to a knowledge of its cries of "Ya Allah!" is about halfway between their minds drawn to that foundation which sunrise and mid-day, the so-called Daha; that standeth sure; against which the gates of

Early Home-protection .- Bishop Bowman,

"When I was a little boy, I slept on a om from entanglements, more love to God sundown, they ceased, the prophet of the God truckle hed in my mother's room, and one nd his truth; yield to the word of exhortal of Israel laughed at them, and said, "Perhaps night, when, no doubt, she thought me asleep, he love of God, and of help administered in the needful time. Let us embrace the hand the masses of the people even of this Semitic work people. Father made answer, What eld out to help us, kiss the rod we may have race, and of the eminently monotheistic re-shall we do, then? 'Well,' said mother, 'I eserved, and give thanks to God for his ligion of Islam, this "high place" or, more will make strong coffee, and supply them with nercy and loving kindness, in thus exciting properly speaking, this "pole" ceremony still it while at work, and at the close of the day fresh concern in the church for the resto-holds its own through the many ages. The give one shilling to each of the forty enaction of individuals. Let us prepare our Koran, and its doctrine of a single, unique ployed. I carried out the coffee, and that elves, in sincerity, to receive the word of God, has not been able to root out the custom day all hands were content, and not a bad xhortation in meckness and humility; so of worshipping around a pole, or upright beam, word was used. Father gave mother per-

"And there shall be a great cry throughout all the under governors and tutors whom you must crossed the Ganges in safety. This was the ten plagues which He sent upon Pharaoh and punished the heir-apparent of the mightiand the land of Egypt-the prediction of est kingdom of Christendom in a manner death of all the first-born of the land. And which he felt. Then placing him in the cormired flowers, which we should least willing the heart of the land, from the land, from the land, from the land, from the land smitten all the first-born of the land, from the land learn your lesson until -- Hillyard green leaves of a very poisonous characteristics. first-born of Pharaoh on the throne to the gives you freedom; and never forget that you first-born of the captive in the dungeon, and are now under tutors and governors, and all are irritant poison; the delicate compo all the first-born of cattle," then it is added, ways under the law of God."—From the Gereleaves of laburnum have a narcotic and a as in fulfilment of the prediction, "that there man. was a great cry in Egypt," such as never was heard before, and never would be heard again.

Now this, of itself, seems a very strong expression. But when we turn to Herodotus, account of an elephant's ingenuity in extri- ing and purging. The dangerous charac we find he says, that the Egyptian way of cating himself from a quicksand was sent by of aconite, or monkshood leaves, is doubt mourning was this: When there was a death the gentleman who witnessed the occurrence, well known, but each generation of child in any family, all the surviving members of and was one of the party. the household, rushed out of the dwelling, as "It was at the close of a 'pig-sticking those large, palm-shaped leaves, dark-gr that time, was the greatest kingdom on the three friends I had been riding hard all the nauseous taste give timely warning agai face of the earth, and that there was a dead afternoon, and, feeling very tired, we deter their being consumed. Of all our Brit one in every house in the kingdom, so that mined to go home on the clephants. the whole nation rushed forth from their "We had travelled some way, and were order contributes the rankest and most wi dwellings to howl and scream forth their nearing the river, when one of us noticed spread elements of danger. The tall hemde lamentations, we may well understand that that the ground looked rather unsafe, and is everywhere known to be poisonous, and there was a great cry in Egypt, such as never that the elephant seemed to become uneasy, is one of the most abundant occupants of was heard before and never would be heard So we all decided to dismount and walk to hedge. A peculiar "mousey" odor can ge, again !- Nat. Baptist.

Prince of Wales was standing one day in ever, evidently considered that he knew bet- and deeply cut. It is said that the mous one of the long windows of the Royal Palace, ter than we did; and we therefore went smell can be detected in water containing t studying his lesson. But his eyes wandered constantly from his book towards the lovely "We had not proceeded far when we heard juice. Hemlock is both an irritant to a grounds ontside, and with his fingers he was the elephant trumpeting (a well-known signal sore place and a general narcotic poison, drumming on the window. His governess, of distress or danger), and on looking round troducing headache, imperfect vision, loss the gentle and pions — Hillyard, observing saw that the poor beast was in a quicksand, power to swallow, and extreme drowsine his behavior, asked him kindly to study his and that the mahout had dismounted and with complete paralysis of voluntary muscl lessons attentively. The young prince answas making the best of his way out of reach and muscles of respiration. The water dresswered: "I do not want to." "I will have of the animal. I may here mention that to wort, too, a flourishing ditch-plant; the wat to place you in a corner," replied the teacher. be on an elephant's back or within his reach hemlock, fool's parsley, must be ranked amor "I will neither learn nor stand in a corner, under such circumstances is certain death : our most dangerous poisonous plants, belon for I am the Prince of Wales," and saying he is sure to take hold of a man and place ing to the umbelliferous order. The foo this he knocked his foot through the window him under his feet, so anxious is he to get parsley leaves are sometimes mistaken f pane. Leaving her seat and walking up to something solid to stand upon. the Prince, she said: "You must study your "We were then about fifty yards from the darker leaves should prevent this. The night lesson; or I will be obliged to put you in a river and it was rapidly getting dark. The shade order is another, with dangerous at tesson; or a win be conject to put you in a liver and it was rapidly greening and the corner." It will not, he repeated, and the leiphant was making frantic efforts to escape often extremely poisonous leaves. Indeed, 1 foot went through another pane. The lady out of his difficulties, and the ground beaved nightshade can be regarded as safe; while the now rung the bell, and sent for Prince Albert, all around him. How to help him we did deadly nightshade, with its oval, uncut leave requesting his Royal Highness to come im-not know; for he was sinking deeper and soft, smooth and stalked, are in the higher mediately to the room, since she needed ad-deeper, and go near him we dared not. vice. The faithful father came, and after "As good fortune would have it, there hap-ple again, with their large and much-indente hearing of the disobedience of the young pened to be at hand a number of large plants leaves, are conspicuous members of the "dar scholar, turning to him and pointing to a which had been left by some villagers. We gerous classes." Holly leaves contain a juic back." Fetching a Bible from the adjoining threw the planks within his reach. The vomiting, pain, and purging. Even clde apartment, and seating himself near the son, clever animal seized them in his trunk, drew leaves and privet leaves may produce active the father said: "Listen now what Paul says them to him, and laid them one upon the and injurious irritation when eaten. Wit to you and other children of your rank." other in front of him. When he thought regard to treatment in cases of poisoning by Then he read Gal. iv. 1, 2: "Now I say, that that he had enough, with one gigantic first leaves, if no doctor is at hand, produce womit the heir, so long as he is a child, differeth he got his fore legs out of the quicksand, and ing till all offending matter is expelled, an nothing from a servant, though he be lord in a short time he had managed to extricate when considerable sleepiness or drowsines of all; but is under tutors and governors himself, and was standing safely on the planks, has come on, give strong tea or coffee, and until the time appointed of the father." Then though trembling all over. he added: "It is true, you are the Prince of "He had still some fifty yards to go before rouse the brain in every possible mode.-Wales, and if you conduct yourself properly he could reach the river, and the intelligent Land and Water. you may become a great man; yes, you may beast never moved a step till he got a plank become King of England after the death of and placed it in front of him. He thus moved your beloved mother (whom may God long on step by step, until he reached the river, tians, but his Spirit will make us feel that w preserve to us). But now you are a little boy The mahout then remounted him, and he are sinners.

Land there shall be a great cry introground at a telephant the shall gain, Solomon says, Prov. xiii. small relief to our feelings; for the loss be like it any more."—Exodus xi. 6.

24: "He that spareth his rod bateth his son; elephant would not only have been a This is the declaration which God, by but he that loveth him chasteneth him be costly business, but the mode of his d Moses, added to the prediction of the last of times." Thereupon, the father took the rod, would have been inexpressibly painful."

For "The Friend." Natural History, Science, &c.

we would say, to the side-walk, and there meet on a large island in the Ganges, oppo- on the upper surface. Leaves of coarse we howled and screamed out their lamentations, site Cawnpore, in June, 1873, that an event provide an abundant quota of danger, Now when we bear in mind that Egypt, at occurred which excited my admiration. With frequently their strong scent and bitter the river, previously instructing the mahout rally be recognized on squeezing the leav to take the elephant by a short circuit, so as which are deep green in color and trel Prince Albert and his Son .- The young to avoid the soft ground. The man, how compound, the small lobes being lanceole

"Sit down there till I come went as near the elephant as we dared, and which is both narcotic and acrid, causin small relief to our feelings; for the loss of G. Wood-Man and Beast.

Poisonous Leaves.—Some of our most The narrow long leaves of the daffodil ac juice which causes purging, vomiting, has not unfrequently led to death. The row leaves of the meadow saffron, or Autucrocus, give rise to the utmost irritation Ingenuity of an Elephant .- The following the throat, thirst, dilated pupils, with voi requires instruction to avoid above all thi: orders of plants perhaps the umbellifere genuine parsley, but their nauseous odor at again bring on vomiting; then stimulate and

God will never compel us to become Chris.

List of Agents.

Ve append herewith a list of Agents to om applications may be made and who authorized to receive payment for "The PENNSYLVANIA. in Trimble, Concordville, Delaware Co.

hua T. Ballinger, West Chester. omas M. Harvey, West Grove, Chester Co. orge Sharpless, London Grove, Chester Co. njamin Gilbert, Yohoghany, Westmoreland

ıben Battin, Shunk P. O., Sullivan Co. NEW JERSEY.

arles Stokes, Medford, Burlington Co. l Wilson, Rahway. lliam Carpenter, Salem.

NEW YORK. bert Knowles, Smyrna, Chenango Co. red King, Aurora, Cayuga Co. shua Haight, Somerset, Niagara Co.

MASSACHUSETTS. lliam B. Oliver, Lynn. NORTH CAROLINA.

njamin P. Brown, Woodland Post Office, Northampton Co.

оню. orge Blackburn, Salem, Columbiana Co. niel Williams, Flushing, Belmont Co. a Garretson, Barnesville, Belmont Co. shua Brantingham, Winona, Columbiana

mes R. Kite, Pennsville, Morgan Co. . Isaac Huestis, Chester Hill, Morgan Co. rker Hall, Harrisville, Harrison Co. nu L. Kite, Damaseus, Columbiana Co. lliam H. Blackburn, East Carmel, Columpiana Co.

mund S. Fowler, Bartlett, Washington Co. th Shaw, East Fairfield, Columbiana Co.

mes Woody, Thorntown, Boone Co. mes Maulsby, Danville, Hendricks Co.

lton Stanley, Plainfield, Hendricks Co. IOWA. arson Hall, West Branch, Cedar Co. place of Joseph Hall, Springdale, removed to Ohio.

iomas Emmons, Coal Creek, Keokuk Co. ner Eldridge, Muscatine. muel W. Stanley, Springville, Linn Co. chard Mott, Viola, Linn Co.

CALIFORNIA. hn Bell, San José, Santa Clara Co. GREAT BRITAIN.

seph Armfield, South Place Hotel, Finsbury, E. C. London.

Agents and others sending the names of w subscribers will please be careful to state at fact distinctly in their communications; d in all eases of change of address, friends Il greatly oblige by giving the name of the ice to which the paper has been sent, as all as that to which it is now to be forwarded.

ar of offending wilfully in thought, word, or lish an extract of a letter recently received.

ed, predominates as a check to evil, and as

The writer of it thinks there is evidence commence on a small scale. It is too common in the beginning—George Fox, William Penn, for young housekeepers to begin where their Robert Barclay, and a host of others in that for young housekeepers to organ mothers ended. Buy all that is necessary to day.

"The power that gathered them remains "The power that gathered likely life and both life and both life and the state of the seal both life and b all that will render it comfortable. Do not to be the same; the Gospel light, life and look at richer homes, and covet their costly power changeth not; and therefore the sons furniture. If secret dissatisfaction is ready to spring up, go a step further, and visit the homes of the suffering poor; behold dark, cheerless apartments, insufficient clothing, and absence of all the comforts and refinements of social life, and then return to your own with a cheerful spirit. You will then be prepared to meet your husband with a grateful heart, and be ready to appreciate the toil of self-denial which he has endured in the business world to surround you with the delights of home; and you will co-operate cheerfully with him, in so arranging your expenses that his mind will not be constantly harassed the new man (created anew in Christ Jesus) lest his family expenditures may encroach upon public payments.—Extract.

reporter of The Washington Star an account soul, not only fitting and preparing it for the of Alexy, the hero of the Jeanette expedition, mansions of eternal blessedness in the world whose name was little known until found to come, but also for an habitation for his penned so often in the sad journal of Commander DeLong. During all that march to and pilgrims, are journeying through this death in the Lena delta, it will be remem- wilderness world. [It] is a light to our feet, bered, it was Alexy who went on ahead to and a lantern to our paths, and is the true explore the way, it was Alexy who secured Comforter, whom Christ said 'the Father for the wanderers their meagre supply of will send in my name, even the Spirit of truth food, it was Alexy who gave his coat to save whom the world cannot receive, because it DeLong from freezing, and it was Alexy who, seeth Him not, neither knoweth Him, but ye faithful to the end, at last succumbed and know Him, for He dwelleth with you and lay down to die among the latest survivors, shall be in yon. I will not leave you comfort.

This brave man was an Alaskan Indian from less, I will come unto you. St. Michael's Norton Sound. He was finely "After this time of great shaking, treading proportioned, with small, delicate looking down and destroying, my faith remains firm, polite manners and readiness to help in any will be more and more heard in the land-for was very fond of his family, and at times be be despised, rejected and trampled under foot boy would not have sufficient clothing while brightness and beauty, and must gradually he was away. Before sailing he had made spread over the whole earth, until the kingarrangements to have his pay all given to his doms of this world become the kingdoms of wife. She will not know of his death until our Lord and of his Christ. next spring, and it is thought that some arrangement will be made by which she will encourage every one to faithfulness, watchfulreceive his pay up to that time.

THE FRIEND.

NINTH MONTH 30, 1882.

For the encouragement of those faithful If my small experience has taught me members of the militant church, who are at ything in this best of schools, the Divine times depressed in spirit by the weakness that pur to obedience. Hold fast the knowledge that many people in different parts of the filling up of cellars, d power thou has received; and when thou country are "glad of the privilege of attend. The storm began of the privilege of attend. d power thou has received; and when thou country are "glad of the privilege of attendance the coast of North Carolina, and tesusible of coming very short of the standing meetings held after the ancient order and of Truth; in lowliness, in quietness, and practice of Friends; and that the doctrines of the coast of North Carolina, and practice of Friends; and that the doctrines of the coast of North Carolina, and extended, chiefly along the coast of North Carolina, and the truth of the coast of North Carolina, and extended, chiefly along the coast of North Caro

To Young Housekeepers .- Be satisfied to instrumental in gathering our beloved Society of Jacob are not consumed, the foundations are not destroyed; and after man has wearied himself in bringing in changes and innovations in principle and in practice, endeavoring to find an easier path to walk in, an easier way to climb up to Heaven than the way of the cross, it will be found that the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal-the Lord knoweth them that are his-and that other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ; and that to build on this foundation, the earnal mind must be slain, the old man with his deeds put off, and put on; which is not an imaginary work, but a real work, an experimental, heart-changing work, through the powerful operations of the Lieutenant Danenhower has given to a Holy Spirit purifying and sanetifying the Holy Spirit to dwell in, whilst we as strangers hands and feet. Among the Jeanette's erew that there will be again a time of gathering, he was a general favorite on account of his a time when the voice of the true Shepherd work. He learned the English alphabet, bethere shall be one fold and one shepherd. came an expert at stuffing birds, and also The Gospel truths proclaimed by our worthy learned to draw. He often amused the crew predecessors in the beginning are as unchangeby illustrations of Indian war-dances. He able as their Author; and however they may came home-sick, fearing his wife and little for a time, yet they will arise again in greater

> "This blessed hope is animating, and should ness and diligence, that we may be found in our allotments at the end of the days. Having fought the good fight, finished our course and kept the faith, there will be laid up for us a crown of eternal life in the world to come.'

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES .- On Fifth, Sixth and Seventh days ything in this best of schools, the Divine times depressed in spirit by the weakness that of last week, a remarkably heavy rainfall occurred in pactor instructs in stillness, and leads gently prevails in our own Society, and who long; the docile learner scarcely perceives that its light may more conspicuously shire the U.S. signal Office to 1009 inches, viz., on Firsh-day, e progressive steps of attainment. The forth to the glory of its Holy Head; we published the progressive steps of attainment. The forth to the glory of its Holy Head; we published the progressive steps of attainment. day, 3.72 inches. A very great amount of damage was done in the city by the bursting of culverts, the washing out of streets, embankments and bridges, and the 2.45 inches; Barnegat, N. J., 2.62 inches; New York, 113; 4's, registered, 118$ to 119; 4's, coupon, 119$ to 7.39 inches; Boston, 4.94 inches; Portland, 2.49 inches.

The continuance of rain in northern New Jersey on the 25th, has resulted in great damage to Trenton, Paterson, Newark, Jersey City, and other cities and towns in northern New Jersey.

rivers. The town of Indianola has been threatened, patents at $6.50 a $8.25. Rye flour is firm at $4.25 for and serious results were feared if high winds should Pennsylvania.

previous week, and 345 for the corresponding week of last year. Of these deaths, there were cansed by cholera infantum, 16; consumption of the lungs, 33; diphtheria, 22; heart disease, 14; typhoid fever, 11, and marasmus, 16. For the week ending 9th mo. 23d, there were 350 deaths. The main causes were: Cholera infantum, 23; consumption of the lungs, 39; diphtheria, 26; heart disease, 10; typhoid fever, 11; marasmus, 32.

The experiment of lighting passenger cars with elec-The experiment of figuring passenger can sum con-tricity has lately been tried by the Pennsylvania Rail-road Company successfully. Thirty cells of Faure's battery, taken on the cars at Jersey city, supplied the electricity to six of Edison's lamps suspended from the print could be read with ease.

The U. S. Judge at Fort Smith has released Captain Payne and his associates, arrested for the invasion of the Indian Territory. Suits have been entered against them to recover the penalty of $1000 imposed by law for their offence, and they have been cited to appear at the 11th mo. term of Court.

Two trains on the New York Central Railroad collided in the tunnel at Fourth Avenue and 86th street, New York, on the 22d inst.; four deaths have occurred from it, and several persons sustained slight injuries.

Cotton picking is said to be progressing rapidly in the river districts above New Orleans, and the crop promises to be the largest gathered for many years.

A comet has lately been visible near the sun before its rise, the elements of which nearly resemble those of 1843 and 1880. It was computed to pass on the 22nd inst., about 800,000 miles from the sun, or less than the diameter of that body from it.

The recent election in Maine indicate the election of Robie, the Republican candidate for Governor, by a plurality of 8,798 over all others. An election in Arkansas resulted in favor of Berry, the Democratic can- other leaders of the late revolt.

didate, by 37,181 majority. In Massachusetts, Benjamin F. Butler was recently

In the Convention a resolution in favor of woman suffrage was set aside by a small majority.

The population of the United States in 1880, is stated to have been 50,155,783—the foreign born, according to the census, numbered 6,679,943. Of these, 2,772,169 were natives of the United Kingdom of Great Britain were natives of the United Kingdom of Creat Britain and Ireland, 1,966,742 of the German Empire, 717,084 of British America, 194,337 of Norway, 181,729 of Sweden, 106,971 of France, 104,541 of China, "and the remainder represents all the countries of the earth."

The iron workers' strike in the Pittsburg, Youngstown and Wheeling districts is at an end. The strikers will return to work at the old rate of $5.50. It is estimated that the loss to the men of the above districts in wages County Mayo, a thousand ejectment decrees are posted $9,000,000.

The National Distillers' and Spirit Dealers' Association of the United States met recently in Cincinnati. About fifty members were present, and the session was secret. The call for the Convention says that, in addition to disappointment concerning Congressional action for the relief of the whisky business, "dangers are arising at the hands of a misguided and irrational class of our fellow-citizens who are, with fanatical zeal and persistency, seeking the destruction of our business through The call restrictive and prohibitory State legislation." suggests the reorganization of the association "on an enlarged and practical plan.

At a recent Convention of friends of temperance held in Philadelphia, it was agreed to organize under the troops in a state of readiness for war. name of the Constitutional Prohibition League of Penn-The section of the constitutional Formation League of temperature, and resolutions were adopted in flavor of pro-perature, and resolutions were adopted in flavor of pro-ference and the constitution of the this can be most wisely and permanently done by an amendment to the Constitution of the State; and that the Convention will only support such candidates for the Legislature as shall be unequivocally pledged to support the submittal of such an amendment to the 120; currency 6's, 130 to 133.

Cotton.—Sales of middlings are reported at 12% a 131 cts. per lb. for uplands and New Orleans.

Flour is in fair request and steady. Sales of 2000 Vast prairie fires are ravaging the table lands in for clear, and at 7x 8.72.5 for straight; Penna, family afforded by boats. The towns of Trient, Villad rivers. The town of Indianol has been threatened, plents at 8.50 a 8.52.5, two flouries firms at 8.50 a 8.50.5 at 8.60. and for the straight of the straight of the straight penna, family afforded by boats. The towns of Trient, Villad rivers. The town of Indianol has been threatened, plents at 8.50 a 8.82.5. Ever flouries firm at 8.70 at 8.70. and for the straight penna, family afforded by boats. The towns of Trient will be towns of Trient at 8.70 at 8.70. a barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $6.50 a $6.75

Grain.-Wheat is dull and lower. Sales of 7500 There were 316 deaths in Philadelphia for the week bushels red, in car lots at $1.00 a $1.08, as to quality ending 9th month 16th, as compared with 375 for the and location. At the open board, $1.05 was bid for 9th and location. At the open locate, $21.00 as a set of the mo.; $1.07\frac{1}{2}$ for 11th mo., and $1.08\frac{1}{2}$ for 12th mo. Rye is quiet at 72 ets. Corn is in limited request and lower. Sales of 9000 bushels, in ear lots at 72\frac{1}{2}$ a 77 ets. At the open board, 70 ets. was limited request and lower. Sales of 9000 bashels, in Postage on vol. 55; from Lindley H. Holloway, Io., S limited request and lower. Sales of 9000 bashels, in Postage on vol. 55; from James Heald, Io., for L car lots at 72 | a 77 ets. At the open board, 70 ets., was J. Heald, $2.10, vol. 56; from Eliza Wilson, O., S bid for 9th mo., 71 ets. for 10th mo., 692 ets. for 11th vol. 55; from James W. Boone, Canada, $2.10, vol. mo., and 59 ets. for 12th vol. 56; from Joshua Brantingham, Agent O., for Film of 10,000 bashels, including white, at 40 at 421.

ceiling of the car. With the light thus furnished, fine cts., and lambs at 4 a 71 cts. per lb., as to condition.

Hogs were firmly held: 3300 head arrived sold at the different yards at 11 a 123 cts. per lb., as to quality. Foreign.—Large bodies of the Egyptian troops are reported to have surrendered to the English, numbering on the 19th inst. 23,000 men.

A dispatch from Zigazig states: The entire popula-tion of this part of the country have returned to their homes and are working in the fields. Every house and 34, vol. 56; from Joseph S. Heald and Edwin T. He hovel floats a white flag. The forbearance of the conquering army has produced a most wholesome effect.
All the native property has been left untonched.

In some places in the interior of Egypt some resistance continues to be made, and European houses and factories have been plundered, and murders have been ommitted.

The London Times of the 20th says, it understands that Sir Edward Malet, the British Consul-General at Alexandria, has been directed to inform the Khedive that no capital sentence passed on the Egyptian leaders must be carried out without the consent of Great Britain. Steps have been taken to obtain the services of a competent English barrister to defend Arabi Pasha and the

A large number of natives have arrived at Alexandria from Cairo to do homage to the Khedive. Among nominated as the Democratic candidate for Governor, them are many who were openly compromised in the rebellion, and these the Khedive has refused to receive.

The Khedive reached Cairo on the 25th, accompanied by the Egyptian ministers and English officers. Many Chester Co., Pa.; or to CHARLES J. ALLEN, T casur thousand of the inhabitants gathered along the route 304 Arch St., Philadelphia. Terms, $80 per session.

giving him a friendly welcome.

Seeing the manner in which the British treat their prisoners and the wounded, Arabi says they are a great prisoners and the wounded, Arabi says they are a great near people, and he is heartily sorry he fought them. He asserts that he never thought the English would send a large army to assist the Khedive, and so was led into days army to assist the Khedive, and so was led into the war. He denies that we had are reconstructive for Arch Street Meeting house, Philadelphia, on Thir the war. He denies that we had are reconstructive for the transfer of the control of the contr a large army to assist the Khedive, and so was led into lot Arch Street Meeting noise, runaucipua, vii a let war. He denies that he had any communication day, Tenth month 10th, 1882, at 3 o'clock, F. M. —

EDWARD BETTLE, J.T., Seerdary,

A dispatch from Dublin states that at Swineford by the strike, which lasted 116 days, amounts to about at the Court House at the suit of Lord Dillon. No rent has been paid on Lord Dillon's estate since 1879.;

fifty families during the last few days in the Barony of Erris, and the people have been ordered not to shelter them

A contract has been signed by the Portuguese Gov-ernment for the laying of a cable between Lisbon and the United States, touching at the Azores.

Emperor William, of Germany, has written a letter Schools for Adult Colore to the King of Saxony in regard to the recent organization of a Saxon army corps, in which he says that it affords him sincere satisfaction to again assure himself how entirely the king's views coincided with his own respecting the immense importance of keeping the

The steamer Alaska of the Gnion Line, from New same vessel also made the fastest trip previously re-

The Czar of Russia and Czarina have lately gone to Moscow, it is supposed, in order to be crowned. They were received with great manifestations of loyalty and Markets, &c.-U. S. 3½'s, 100g to 101; 4½'s, 1123 to day upon which the coronation will take place.

News has been received that an offensive and sive alliance has been concluded between Russi. Montenegro.

Terrible inundations have occurred in the Tyro North Italy. Many towns are flooded and large of country are without other communication

RECEIPTS.

Received from Sallie Raley, O., $2.10, vol. 56; Daniel B. Price, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Hai Child, N. Y., $2.10, vol. 56; from Amos Buzby, N $2.10, vol. 56; from Lindley H. Holloway, Io., $ no, and 50 ets, for 12th mo. 04s are quiet. Sales of from Joshua Brantingham, Agent, O., for Ellen S 10,000 bushels, including white, at 40 a 43½ ets, and rejected and mixed at 27 a 35 ets.

Beef cattle were in good demand, and prices were steady: 3500 head arrived on the 25th, and sold at the 10, $210, vol. 56; from James C. Chappell and W different yards at 4 a 7½ ets, per pound, as to quality.

Shep were also in demand at former rates: 13,000 from Price Z. Supplee, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Stephend arrived and sold at the different yards at 3 a 5½ which was a state of $2.10, vol. 56; from Stephend Particular and Particular and Particular and Stephend Particular and Particular and Stephend Particular and Par England, 10 shillings, vol. 56; from Benjamin Shiles, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from Pearson Hall, Agent. for Abraham Cowgill, Samuel Cowgill, Israel He John Oliphant, Joseph Armstrong and Aaron Robs $2.10 each, vol. 56; for Eli Hadley, Ind., $2.10, vol. for William Harvey and David Haworth, Ind., $: each, vol. 56; from Richard W. Hutton, Westtown, to No. 6, vol. 57; from Sarah T. Smith, Cal., $1, to 34, vol. 56; from Joseph S. Headd and Edwin T. He. Jo, per Tilman Patterson, 2:10 each, vol. 56; fr James Woody, Agent, Ind., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Ist Hall and Isaac N. Coffin, $2.10, vol. 56, and for Maria Eastburn, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56, and for Maria Fa., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Marsh Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Marsh Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Marsh Pa., $2.10, vol. 56; from William Marsh Joseph Edgerton, Albert Emmons, John Q. Spear Joseph Edgerton, Albert Emmons, John Q. Spear Thomas Blackburn, John Horne, and Georee W. M. Thomas Blackburn, John Hogue, and George W. M $2.10 each, vol. 56; from Anna T. Hancock, City. vol. 56; from Owen Evans, Del., $2.10, vol. 56; fr Job Bacon, N. J., $2.10, vol. 56; from James Meloney, Pa., $2.10, vol. 56.

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL.

The Winter Session begins on Second-day, Ter month 30th, 1882. Parents and others intending send pupils, will please make early application JONATHAN G. WILLIAMS, Supt., address Westtown P.

THE CORPORATION OF HAVERFORD

WANTED,

A woman Friend, as teacher in the Boarding School as been paid on Lord Dillon's estate since 1879.; for Indian children, at Tunesassa; also one to assi The military and police of County Mayo have evicted the matron in care of the household. Apply to Jos. S. Elkinton, 325 Pine street, Philada.

John Sharpless, Chester, Delaware Co., Pa., Ephraim Smith, 1110 Pine street, Philada.

WANTED,

Teachers and assistant teachers for the Evenin Schools for Adult Colored Persons, men's and women' ents. Apply to Ephraim Smith, 1110 Pine St., Philadelphir Thomas Elkinton, 400 S. Ninth St., " Thomas Woolman, 858 Marshall St., " Finley Hutton, 400 Chestnat St., "

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE. Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelphia, Physician and Superintendent-JOHN C. HALL, M.D. Applications for the Admission of Patients may b made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Board o Managers.

DIED, on 5th of 8th mo. at his residence in Moores were received with great manifestations of loyalty and cutlinsiasm. Secrecy is maintained in regard to the Chester Monthly Meeting of Friends, N. J., in the 836 year of his age.

FRIEND. THR

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

7OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, TENTH MONTH 7, 1882.

NO. 9.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

e, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON. MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

riptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES.

NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend,"

Robert Proud.

THE HISTORIAN.

'he history of Robert Proud had its origin concern which was early felt by the Soy of Friends in these parts to preserve a ord of the establishment of its meetings of the leading facts connected with the lement of Pennsylvania and New Jersey n the minutes of the Yearly Meeting for 7, it is mentioned that John Kinsey, the rk, was continued to collect materials for history of these provinces. And from t time forward the subject is frequently iced. John Kinsey having died, in 1750, nuel Smith, of Burlington, was requested ake the papers and continue the work.

n 1755, Samuel Smith had so far progressed his labors, that he placed the proposed hisy in the hands of the Overseers of the Press examination. These were officers of the eting, whose business it was to examine, ore publication, treatises written by our mbers and affecting the doctrines and inests of the Society. It is probable their ion may have been delayed by the difficulin which Friends were then placed, owing the development of a warlike spirit in re of the people, and the Indian wars, ich led to the general withdrawal of our mbers from the administration of the govment, in which they had previously held influential or controlling position. In 1757 overseers reported that they would make densation of certain portions of the narra-

e, &c. About that time the Meeting for Sufferings s established, whose original business was, gely, to care for those Friends who were bught under suffering by Indian wars and er military operations, and whose cases ght require prompt assistance. Other dus meeting last year respecting the proposed accordance with another recommendation of two provinces; nothing has been done therein of the papers collected by Samnel Smith, reof late, and it being the desire of many Friends lating more particularly to our religious Sothat this work may be completed, it is recom-ciety, should be sent to John Gough, of Ire-mended to the Meeting for Sufferings and the land, who was then engaged in compiling a Overseers of the Press to use the further History of Friends. necessary endeavors towards fulfilling what Proud's History was not published till the has been repeatedly requested by this meet-year 1797-8. It is valuable as a reliable of the history of the settlement of Friends in reward for the labors of authorship, the necesthese two provinces," reported that "having sary expenses of publication were not reimmost of them met several times and considered the essay, and apprehending addi. Proud applied to the Meeting for Sufferings tions and alterations may yet be made there- for relief. A committee of that body made a to," they had "communicated their mind to report in the 3d month of 1804, giving an outour friend, Samuel Smith, who agrees to take line of the concern of the Society and the some remarks into consideration, and also steps taken from 1747 downwards. They acquaints the Friends that he hath collected were evidently kindly disposed towards their some further materials which may be useful, aged friend, and on their recommendation it and he proposes to add."

and the history appears not to have been fully completed. The papers which had been entrusted to him were returned to Friends, and nent Friends. completed. The papers which had been ensubsequently placed in the hands of Robert Proud. This was about the year 1777.

not very favorable to peaceful literary labors, ing and writing, sometimes in translations of and several years elapsed before the history various Latin authors, and sometimes in comagain makes its appearance. In the 11th mo. positions of his own. His closing days were of 1784, the Meeting for Sufferings deputed passed in tranquillity and peace, and he quietly some of its members to confer with R. Prond, passed away from this stage of existence on "in order to know what progress has been the 7th of 7th month, 1813, in the 86th year made therein, and how far the design of promoting such a history is likely to be an-C. W. Thomson, writing in 1826, says: swered, and what expectation R. Proud has of "Robert Proud was in person tall-his nose completing it."

sketch of the plan he had followed in prepar-seen him when I was quite a small boy; his ing his work, on which he had bestowed con- appearance was striking, and could not readisiderable labor. He stated that it was a Civil ly be altogether forgotten. I well remember history of the settlement of Pennsylvania, and the imposing effect which the curled gray the transactions to 1733, with some sketches of subsequent events; but it was not an Ecclesiastical history, or an account of the Society ne suggestions to Samuel Smith, as to the of Friends as to its religious state; and therefere he thought it did not properly come who adhered faithfully to the dignified dress under the cognizance of any body of men in of our ancestors. One by one they have a religious capacity However valuable R. Proud's production almost every trace of the olden time. might be, it was clearly not of the kind which he had been engaged to prepare, and not one honest worth may be summed up in a few which it was proper for the Society officially words: I give nearly the language of one who to sanction and publish. The committee to knew him well. He was a zealous advocate b, from time to time, were devolved upon confer with him accordingly made a report for useful learning, a man of regular habits as a body representing the Society during to the Meeting for Sufferings in the 1st mo. and great temperance, and in his manners the intervals between the annual gatherings of 1785, "from which," says the minute of model of a gentleman. mitervals between the annual gatherings of 1753, "rom which," says the minute of model of a gentleman. The preparation of the Histy was placed under its care—as is shown the following minute of the Yearly Meeting of the Meeting for Suffer.

1771—
189 the minutes of the Meeting for Suffer.

189 the minutes of the Meeting for Suffer.

189 the minutes of the Meeting for Suffer. s it appears that although they have had thought it would be most proper when public full recollection of his worth and virtues, can der their notice the recommendation of lished to appear as his own performance. In sanetify the memory of Domine Proud.

history of the settlement of Friends in these the committee, it was agreed that a transcript record of historical facts, but it was not sue-At a Meeting for Sufferings held the 15th of cessful as a business venture. Thomson states, 9th mo. 1774, the committee "for the revisal that instead of yielding him any pecuniary was agreed to make him a payment of $500. Samuel Smith died not long after this time, To this report are appended the names of died the history appears not to have been fully Nicholas Walu, Henry Drinker, Jonathan

In the latter years of his life, Robert Proud seldom went abroad, but lived in much seclu-The stormy period of the Revolution was sion. Much of his time was employed in readwas of the Roman order, and 'overhung with To this committee, Robert Proud gave a most impending brows.' I remember having wig, the half-cocked patriarchal-looking hat, and the long ivory-headed cane, had on my boyish imagination. I believe Proud was one of the last of the old school-I mean those dropped away, and with them has departed

"The character of this venerable relic of

Condensed from "The British Friend." Sundry Observations on America,

MADE BY GEORGE PITT IN A RECENT VISIT.

In a letter preceding receipt of these observations, the author informs us that on the 29th of 7th mo. himself and wife arrived home after a three months' trip to America. its surroundings, it numbers about two mil-After a most delightful and successful jour-lions, and its real estate is valued at over one they would have as many law suits for ney in every particular, he says-"My mo thousand million dollars. It is one of the preciation of property as there were own tive and object in the back-ground was to go three great commercial and financial centres of property on the line—and so they we among Friends of different sections, and feel of the world. Yet it is within the last 50 in New York if the railway were a priv how it was with them-whether the Seed of years only that it has increased so marvel concern; but being the work of a corporat Life was over all, mixed with all, or under lously, and assumed its metropolitan characthey do as they like.

All Being as it were partially deal and ter. It has a bay and harbor where the Electric lighting is dumb, I could not have managed this with- navies of the world might find a resting place, out my wife, who enjoys society and served and where more than 100 ocean steamers ply as an ear and a monthpiece for me. We act to and fro to Europe and other countries. complished all I designed and more.

with most a dread of sea dangers, I hesitated wheels; and so, instead of sinking the malhas many years before venturing to cross the chinery under deck, as we do, they work it great waters; but after crossing four times in up in the air; and nothing strikes the stranger summer weather, I have proved that there is on arriving, as a curiosity, more than these of English visitors. In the Central Pa in these voyages very little to dread or fear, large steamers, with their tall iron beams sup-which corresponds with our Hyde Pa be praised too strongly.

The pure, cool, bracing sea air produces vated above other parts of the boat. such a change and vigor in the system, as, perhaps, nothing else would effect. Country big things. They call it "whipping creation." The wheels especially are so thin-the fell open, consider, and reply to—no newspapers locomotive and all entire, across the lakes or being made of the best seasoned hickory, we with their events, opinions, politics, or market rivers, shunting them bodily on to the rails the best workmanship, and unpainted. The prices to disturb, or occupy a place in the on the other side of the water. They have wear well. The bodies of the carriages t mind. There is no constant stream of callers steamboats which may truly be called "float- are light to match. A four-wheeled cover to distract or engage the attention with their ing palaces"—there is nothing in our country carriage or brougham, to hold four or six p business or their troubles. Even telegrams to compare with them. They are magnifisons, and to run with a pair of borses, a stro cannot reach you, and letter-writing is of little cent and sumptuous in the extreme. Saloons, man could easily lift. use because you cannot post. Thus entirely nearly the length of the ship, elegantly fitted. Three remarkable men have not long si relieved of all cares and daily round of duties, and furnished. The best velvet pile carpets, died in New York, who, from poverty or you have the opportunity for thorough rest, sofas and chairs fit for royalty, splendid significance, realized fortunes equal to fi you can read, study, or reflect.

landing in America, was the peculiar charac- in luxurious style. teristic appearance of the people, especially the men-mostly lanky, or tall and thin, with longest suspension bridge in existence, from dians at the close of the last English war w long wrinkled faces, sallow complexion, and the Canadian to the American side of the America, at a nominal price, and selling a tuit of hair on the chin. I concluded the Niagara River—a stretch, without support, high prices. After accumulating wealth, earicature pictures we see in England of the of about 1200 feet, and 250 feet above the foresaw the extension of New York, a "cute Yankee" are founded on facts. The water. But even that is being outrivalled bought up in a panic, large quantities of to word "cute" also conveys a fair impression by a suspension bridge across the East River lots at trifling prices, and selling them so of the general American physiognomy—an from New York to Brooklyn. It has been after at fancy prices, realized his enormed intelligent, knowing, restless, self-satisfied many years in course of crection, and is to be fortune. look, indicating a keen desire and swift race opened next year, costing many millions of Another man was Commodore Vanderb after the "almighty dollar," as they call it—dollars, and so clevated that a large ship with an American farmer who had a taste for ship any legal shape or form. The English are its masts and sails full set can pass under it ping, and borrowed money to get a sm fast enough in the race for wealth, but they ap- without touching. It will outdo every bridge craft. Perceiving a great future for stea pear milder—features less sharp, less shrewd, in the world.

ships, when they were first invented he can much fairer and plumper. The American New York is all bustle and drive, a goal tracted for them, realizing great gains. The girls are tall and graceful, sprightly, modest head business city, and, like London, anything he speculated in railways, and owned t and fair, giving them a pretty and attractive rather than beautiful-you soon long to be New York Central, and the Hudson and H to land at. It is the London of America lovely and grand recreation ground, well stud. Dry Goods or Drapery Store, studied t the empire City and State of the Union. A ded with trees, plants, and flowers, forming wants of his customers, kept a good article vast and busy inetropolis on a long and nar- in its variety charms said to be unequalted had one price only, and would not puff I row island, averaging 13 miles long and over anywhere, 14 miles wide, in the middle of a river 18 miles It shocks the eyes of English people to see cheap; succeeding so well that at last be bu from the ocean, and as you approach it is the Elevated Railways in New York. Seven a new store on Fifth Avenne, without dou viewed edgeways, the first part narrowing years ago there was but one; now they run the largest in the world, occupying an ent almost to a point, called the Battery or Castle up several of the leading avenues and are inand eighteen years ago our King Charles II. making the shops and everything dark took possession of the city fron the Dutch, dismal. The trains run every minute or and gave it and the entire territory to his and cause a continual noise, as well as be brother, the Duke of York, calling it "New within a few feet of, and on a level with York."

Its population then was 1500; now, with they overlook all that is going on.

Most of their river steamers are shallow, Being a bad sailor, and having in common with almost flat bottoms, worked by paddle-light and has not the blue ghastly shade o while there is so much to desire, it can hardly porting long cylinder rods, stretching their where the gentry drive out of an afterne giant arms out and back, up and down, ele-for amusement or airing, their carriages scenes, or hills, or even sea-side resorts fail to So they build hotels making up a thousand about an inch square, and spokes thinners yield the same benefit.

There are no daily budgets of letters to trains, laden with passengers and freight, should collapse; but they are safe enou chandeliers, polished and elaborately carved millions of dollars, or ten million pounds ca The first thing to rivet my attention on posts and rails, with hundreds of state rooms One was John Jacob Astor, who emigraappearance. The fashion of tight-fitting coront of the noise and strife. It has a "Central lem Lines, ending as a great millionaire, sets prevails more generally than in England. Park," in which art has triumphed over nature. The third man was A. T. Stewart, a Scot sets prevails more generally than in England. Park," in which art has triumphed over na-New York is the grand centre for foreigners ture, converting a barren rocky waste into a man, who, shrewd and industrious, opened

Garden, famous as Washington's head-quarters in revolution time.

About 250 years ago this island was a wil-torials, supported by iron columns. They two million dollars, besides owning other than the second of the property of the second of the second of the property of the second derness, and was purchased of the natives for run in the middle, or sometimes both sides of similar buildings.

24 dollars, or their equivalent. Two hundred the roadway, where considerable traffic pas first or second floor windows of the hous

In England, were such a thing attemp

Electric lighting is much more common New York than in London. In the Th Avenue every other shop has it, and it gi a whiter, steadier light than we get. light in the shops is more intense than d

The extreme lightness of the carriages America is a thing which rivets the attent various shapes look like skeleton or spi-The Americans believe in the biggest of all conveyances, or like a number of velociped

Three remarkable men have not long sit from Germany with a few flutes to sell, Again, at Niagara Falls, they have the became a furrier, purchasing furs of the goods. He bought largely at sales, and so is in Vanderbilt's case, after death, rela-ile we were in America.

se wonderful falls.

(To be concluded.)

uced the enmity to the law of God in our ful to the call of duty in ministering to the t parents; and he does now stimulate in help of others. ainst the conviction of the Spirit of God, Lord's house. y deny that the Holy Spirit operates in s fought at law for his wealth; and as a guidance and a consequent separation from lowly in heart." As you obey the Light and rming place, 450 miles from New York, in set forth the doctrines of the atonement made these times of proving, "east not away your ching Niagara Falls, the bed of the river ambitious of converting the world to their ps some 50 feet, and the waters rushing way of thinking; and claim that they are a torrent over the rough stone bottom, bringing souls to Christ. They do manage called the Rapids. Then a hill beyond, to bring an influence to bear upon the minds terms such as "Hiding behind the cross," er that feeling is no evidence of acceptance which lighteth every man that comet into First Avenue tenement, looked up at last, the God. These ideas are popular with the the world. Your fathers had the same light, and said, "Miss —, why did we not know tural man.

Those who were faithful to the light were in these things before?" When the answer was

Friends have practically recognized Divine their measure like the Master, "meek and ral and commentary on the vanity of the spirit of the world, more fully than any walk in it, you too will be meek and lowly; see, the body-snatchers stole away his other religious body, and have been letinoties; will be preserved from being heady and high-thly remains; and his drapery store, when timonies peculiar to themselves; testimonies minded, and will not think yourselves wiser was gone, did not thrive, and was closed that professing Christendom very much need, than your elders. Beware of that which This high Christian standard is only attained puffeth up; it is dangerous ground. As you of course every foreign traveller visits through Him who saves to the uttermost all are preserved in humility you will grow in gara Falls. We spent ten days there. It that come unto God by Him. As I under grace. But you will have your trials, even ne of the world's natural wonders, and a stand it, Friends have ever held and clearly sore besetments and discouragements. In N. W. corner of New York State, and is for man, and the work of regeneration in man, confidence, which bath great recompense of s formed: Lake Erie, containing 150,000 as both essential to a complete reconciliation reward." Keep near the Divine counsel. Be are miles, whose waters are on 334 feet between God offended and man the offender, not in haste in opening your condition to her level than those of Lake Ontario, is It is strange that any should wish to retain others; they may prove to be miserable comrated at its extremity from it, by a neck their membership with Friends, and indus-forters. Submit to be weaned from an undue and some 30 miles wide; the overflow of triously propagate, in the name of the Society, dependence upon men; but seek to have your te Eric finding an outlet to Lake Ontario one sided xiews, by enlarging on the atone minds directed into the love of God, "and He ment, and substituting simple faith, or belief, into the patient waiting for Cirist," and He information. But these will fit you for a place in his spiritual buildbe waters on leaving Eric for some miles things are forming a chapter in the history ing, as lively stones "to offer up spiritual serve their level, but about a mile before of the day. There are persons who appear sacrifices acceptable to God by Jesus Christ."

Some two years ago, in New York, a lady oldding its straight course, makes it turn of the people, that, without right religious who had been teaching little girls household arp corner, forming a horse-shoe curve, discernment, will lead astray. They do not duties through the use of the kitchen garden then drops down some 200 feet at one besitate to use questionable means. They system, asked berself, Why cannot this idea, into a much narrower channel, at the rate misrepresent the teachings of Friends, hold in a modified form, be used in training older bundred million tons an hour, producing ing them up to ridicule at times, and often girls and women? She found and took for present their own views in a blind way, using one evening a week, a bright, cheerful room in a central locality, and by means of cordial "Taking shelter under the cross," and ignore invitations extended, gathered around her a For "The Friend." self-denial and the daily cross as useless; as large class of working girls: all poor, yet thas ever been a cause of discouragement being something of man's own making. These self-supporting. Several came from factories, the right-minded when many turn back and other similar teachings, together with some from dressmakers and millinery estabm walking in the truth. "The ways of the use of appliances in order to get up ex-lishments, others from smaller and larger n do mourn because none come to the citements, with their boast of doing much shops. The first evening over fifteen were emn feasts," was an ancient lamentation. good, have a great influence upon the inex- present, and as there was a bright fire burna greater or less extent the same wail may aken up on behalf of the Society of Friends, any places, at the present day. But it is less than a great against an undue depression; to binder the work of the Lord. Not a few present form. Then the lesson became more each in their own particular to endure as who appeared to be established in Friends practical; how to prepare for, build, and Lord's burden-bearers.

who appeared to be established in Friends practical; how to prepare for, build, and Lord's burden-bearers.

To appear to the established in Friends practical; how to prepare for, build, and Lord's burden-bearers. n the proneness of the human mind to reland become advocates of the things that they the teacher's surprise, several acknowledged the will of God and follow the allure-aforetime disapproved. Therefore the young that they always used kerosene to light the nts of sinful pleasures, is a fruitful source among us have a claim to much sympathy fire more quickly. Wood was taken up, and wil. Those who have been enabled through and care; yet there is nothing but the light for half an bour it held the girls attention. rine grace to overcome evil, have known of the Lord that can effectually open their From this simple beginning followed a course ny struggles between their own wills and understandings to right and wrong. "Except of evenings very interesting to the teacher, will of God, as they, through the deceit-the Lord build the house, they labor in vain but more so to the girls. One evening, "The workings of the enemy have tried to evade that build it; except the Lord keep the city, home, what it should be, and how we can eross of Christ. In the work of regeneration the watchman waketh but in vain." We are make it," was the subject; then followed n, those who have witnessed the new birth assured that "God is good to Israel," and that several meetings devoted to household work re known these conflicts in a greater or there are both laborers and watchmen. Oh —the kitchen, washing, ironing, and how to s degree. Although Satan, by his transfor a supply of trustworthy servants who can make an attractive table; the bedroom, &c.; mations, may present himself as an angel discern the difference "between the clean and during them all, questions were freely asked ight, and profess to be a belper in religion the unclean," who watch and labor right over and answered, when possible; if not, the inbis ministers, he is the same serpent that against their own houses, and who are faith-formation was found and given the next week.

Then came several evenings devoted to personal and home hygiene. Here the inminds of the disobedient a dislike to the We thankfully recount the labors of the terest of the girls became very intense, and cipline of the cross. He presents an easier worthies who have gone to their rest—some it was with difficulty the teacher could get y by substituting the sufferings of Christ of whom we have known personally. We return to go when it reached half-past nine, the cross for that which men have to bear member their warnings, which we now look One evening will long be remembered. The the work of regeneration; holding to view you as prophetical. We admire their fail, talk was upon personal health. Hanging on a the atonement made for sin, finished the fallness. Is the Lord's hand shortened that the wall there was a chart of the human rk of man's salvation. Such is the pro-sed theory of many who call themselves the emergency? It is no time to dwell in surprise and pleasure; bow they took home lends. In order to secure such a belief eeiled houses and neglect the duties of the to themselves the plain words which were spoken! One, a bright girl, who worked all A word of affectionate counsel to the young: day at a dressmaker's, and went home at n's hearts before conversion; and they You have been privileged with the true Light night to a small room on the top story of a then taught, and the girls learned of presence on themselves."-1724. of mind and immediate action. Plain directions for sick-nursing interested them greatly, as did also similar bints on the care of chilits full dignity.

Throughout the lessons, Christ's love for ligion. us, and his interest in our every-day life, were freely spoken of; the dignity of household labor, the value of knowing how to do and importance to our peace and well-being in doing effective missionary work there. W act, was impressed. The attendance was this world, and may prove of no small conse-however, broke out between England good, and the interest was well kept up.-S. S. Times.

For "The Friend." Ancient Testimonies and Advices.

IN RELATION TO SUITABLE CONNEXIONS IN MARRIAGE.

contracting marriages with such as are not their children, in the nurture and admonition acts of E. Judson was to bury the manuscr of our Society, contrary to the repeated ad- of the Lord, and for suitably qualifying them of the New Testament under the house vice of this meeting, to the dishonor of our to discharge their duty in their various allot- the soil, lest it should be found and destroy holy profession, and the hindrance of Truth's ments in the world. prosperity; in order therefore that a stop on to marry as aforesaid, that then such per- ments. sons be dealt withal according to the good The perplexed situation of the offspring of The few poor mattresses and pillows, whi but rather be careful that their chalfens be and sisters are trained up in lines of conduct a good deal on the contents of the straugioned in marriage with persons of religious diverse from, and, in some cases opposite to pillow he had lost. He thought of passag inclinations, suitable dispositions, temper, each other. Thus, differing in principle, they is that New Testament which might be mo sobriety of manners, and diligence in their are frequently divided in affection, and though business; which are things essentially necess on early related, are sometimes at the greatest titure of the manuscript would be. Would distance from that love and harmony which are thing and carefully to guard against all mixed marginal continually to subsist between them. riages, and unequal yoking of their children therein."-1722.

prove of, and consent to, the marriage of the sordid interests, and ensuaring friend-flung it back into the prison. Tastes of their children; so this meeting doth earnestly ships of the world—the contaminating pleadesire that Friends' children would consult sures and idle pastimes of earthly minds; thing to rest his head upon he might have and advise with their parents and guardians also the various solicitations and incentives for all the jailer cared. Presently came in that great and weighty point, so essential to festivity and dissipation. Let our dear day when the prisoners were stripped to their happiness and comfort, before they youth likewise especially avoid too frequent nearly all their clothes, "tied two-and-two let out their minds or do entangle their affee- and too familiar converse with those from and driven barefooted over sharp gravel ar tions; the too frequent examples that have whom may arise a danger of entanglement, burning sand to a wretebed prison some mile happened to the contrary hereof, have caused by their alluring the passions, and drawing away. When, on that occasion, the fier lamentation in honest parents, and great afflic- the affections after them. tion to themselves."-1723.

given, of "I do not know, I've-" she quickly and such as may have the care of children, amongst us, as well as others, have woun said, "But, Miss-, I think we ought to that they do, as far as in them lies, prevent their own souls, distressed their friends, have known them; we should have been unsuitable persons in their endeavors to enjured their families, and done great dissert aught them at school." The earnest, long-tangle the affections of our youth in relation to the church, by these unequal connexion ing look in her face spoke of deeper feelings to marriage; the unhappy disobedience of which have proved an inlet to much than could have been expected. What to do some therein having frequently brought deep generacy, and mournfully affected the mi in emergencies and sudden accidents was affliction on their tender parents, and misery of those who labor under a living concern

"Dear Friends, amongst the many hurtful upon carth."-From the London Epistles, 17 things those are liable to, who live not in due subjection to the light of God's Holy Spirit dren, economy, system, plain sewing, what to in their own conseiences, let us revive in read, and how to maintain womanhood in your view at this time, that of mixing in mar to Burmah, completed the translation of Marriage being a Divine ordinance, and a solemn engagement for term of life, is of great the capital of the empire, very hopeful quence respecting our state in that which is Burmah, and all foreigners were soon to come; yet it is often too inconsiderately garded with great suspicion. Dr. Judentered into, upon motives inconsistent with was apprehended, and with cruel viole the evident intention of that Unerring Wis- and gross indignity was cast into the dea dom by which it was primarily ordained; prison. In a few days, through a mor which was for the mutual assistance and com-payment, he and other prisoners were fort of both sexes, that they might be meet-moved from that awful place to an open sl "Being given to understand, that in divers helps to each other, both in spirituals and within the prison bounds. There they places there are some who profess the Truth temporals, and that their endeavors might be with irons upon their limbs. When her h with us, who deviate from the way thereof, by united for the pions and proper education of band was thrown into prison, one of the fi nay be put to an undue liberty in such mar-nay be put to an undue liberty in such mar-riages, and the evil consequences thereof, we Whilst the parties differ in religion, they stand naturally, one of his carliest inquiries relado hereby tenderly advise and desire that all disunited in the main point; even that which to the safety of the work which had cost h parents and guardians of children do take should increase and confirm their mutual hap- so much time and toil. The rains had set especial care, as much as in them lieth, to piness, and render them meet-helps and bless- and the manuscript would be destroyed if prevent their children from running into such ings to each other. Where it is otherwise, remained long in the ground. A plan for t marriages: and that Friends of each Partieut the reciprocal obligation they have entered preservation of this priceless treasure w har Meeting, as also of the Monthly Meetings, into becomes their burden; and the more so, soon devised. E. Judson sewed it up in so to which such persons belong, do, in the wis- as it may not be of a short and transient cotton stuff, which she further encased with dom and power of Truth, use their endeavors duration. Whatever felicity they might exmatting, thus making a pillow for her h to put a stop to the said evil, by admonishing pect or flatter themselves with in the begin-band, so unsightly and so hard, that she sa such as attempt to marry as aforesaid, to ning, they have found themselves disappointed posed no one would care to take it from hi desist before they accomplish the same. But of, by the daily uneasiness accompanying. After about seven months had passed to fif they refuse to take counsel, or privately go their minds, and embittering their enjoy-prisoners were suddenly thrust again in order of Truth, and judgment fixed upon all such alliances is likewise to be lamented had scarcely seemed to ease their achi such as take such an undue liberty."-1719. Attached by nature to both parents, the con-bones, were taken from them, and amo "Parents who have children to dispose of fusion they are in often renders them unfixed these the rough bundle on which Dr. Juds in marriage, are tenderly advised not to make in principle, and unsettled in practice: or if, was wont to lay his head. The first night it their first or chief care to obtain for them as it is usual, the sons go with the father, this new misery the prisoners expected speel large portions and settlements of marriage: and the daughters with the mother, brothers execution, and Dr. Judson's thoughts dwe but rather be eareful that their children be and sisters are trained up in lines of conduct a good deal on the contents of the stran

"As parents have a natural right to ap- to beware of the paths that lead to them- ble, and apparently so worthless, that "We tenderly recommend to all parents, ence to the convictions of Divine grace, many Dr. Judson's pillow, and as the hard stu

the good of all, and the prosperity of Tr

A Precious Pillow.

Dr. Judson, one of the earliest missiona: riage with those of different persuasions in re- New Testament in 1823. The manuser was destined within a year to enter or strange history. The Judsons went to A by their persecutors. When Dr. Judson v Marriage implies union and concurrence, permitted to receive a visit from his bra the inner prison and loaded with extra fette ought continually to subsist between them.

To prevent falling into these disagreeable of Burmah? The jailer, however, to who and disorderly engagements, it is requisite share the pillow fell, found it so uncomfort Burmans were seizing all the spoil they coul For want of due watchfulness, and obedi- the mat was unfastened by one of them fro hin seemed to be of no value it was thrown y. A Christian convert picked it up as lic be would keep in memory of the dear Lord, we can trust thee for our holy dead, cher whom he feared he would never see in. Little did he imagine what the meanring cotton roll contained. Months afterrd, when the troubles were over, and the sons were free again for their loved work, New Testament was found no worse for Our dead have reached their haven, but for these perils through which it had passed. In time it was all printed, and to-day the and women of Burmah read in it "the aderful works of God."

DAY BY DAY.

Day by day the manna fell; Oh, to learn this lesson well; Still by constant mercy fed, Give me, Lord, my daily bread.

"Day by day" the promise reads; Daily strength for daily needs: Cast foreboding fears away: Take the manna of to-day.

Lord, my times are in thy hand; All my sanguine hopes have planned To thy wisdom I resign, And would make thy purpose mine.

Thou my daily task shalt give; Day by day to thee I live; So shall added years fulfil, Not mine own, my Father's will.

Fond ambition, whisper not; Happy is thy humble lot: Anxious, busy cares, away; I'm provided for to-day.

Oh, to live exempt from care, By the energy of prayer: Strong in faith with mind subdued, Yet elate with gratitude!

-Jos. Conder.

Selected.

Selected.

THE PILGRIM'S WANTS.

ant that adorning divine hon only, my God, canst bestow— ant in those beautiful garments to shine, Which distinguish thy hon-ehold below.

ant every moment to feel hat thy Spirit resides in my heart; t his power is present to cleanse and to heal— nd newness of life to impart. ant, oh ! I want to attain ome likeness, my Savionr! to thee, t longed-for resemblance, once more to regain; hy comeliness put upon me! ant to be marked for thine own,

'hy seal on my forehead to wear, receive that "new name" on the mystic white stone, Vhich none but thyself can declare.

ant thine own hand to unbind Each tie to terrestrial thingstenderly cherished, too closely entwined, Vhere my heart too tenaciously clings.

ant by my aspect serene,

Iy actions and words to declare—it my treasure is placed in a country unseen, 'hat my heart's best affections are there.

ant as a traveller, to haste trait onward, nor panse on my wayr forethought nor anxious contrivance to waste, In the tent only pitched for a day.

ant, and this snms up my prayer, ant, and this sums up my prayer,
'o glorify thee till I die;
en calmly to yield up my soul to thy care,
And breathe out in faith my last sigh.

Through all the depths of sin and loss Drop the plummet of thy cross! Never yet abyss was found, Deeper than that cross could sound. -J. G. Whittier. LEAD THEM HOME.

They, underneath the shadow of the tomb Have entered into peace; with bended head We thank thee for their rest, and for our lightened

Teach us to trust thee, Lord, for these, our loved and

For these we make our passion-prayer to-night, For these we cry to thee through the long day, We see them not, oh, keep them in thy sight! From them and us be thou not very far away.

And if not home to us, yet lead them bome To where thou standest at the heavenly gate; That so, from thee they shall not further roam; And grant us patient hearts thy gathering time to

For "The Friend,"

Selected.

Natural History, Science, &c.

Edinburgh relates the following anecdote: he advises such persons to transfer to their I was walking down Duke Street, when I own carelessness and idleness nine-tenths of felt myself gently nipped in the leg. I turn- the blame which they are in the habit of layed, and there was a ragged little terrier erouch-ing upon their food, or upon their cooks.ing and abasing himself utterly, as if asking London Globe.

pardon for what he had done. He then stood Human Spit. up on end, and begged as only these coaxing Philadelphia, experimented on human saliva, little ruffians can.

little nippier-the same scene, only more in-saliva of a mad dog. much faster than I could. He stopped every ings, and can be destroyed by boiling or by now and then to see that I followed. This the use of carbolic acid. continued till, after going through sundry ished him greatly. He came out to me, and as much as said, Why don't you come in groots as a race.

I tried to open it but in vain. My friend vanThese experiments throw light on the cases rude and waste.

sold for high prices.

they can only eat stale bread; they find new appetite; a large abscess formed in the finger, bread too indigestible. The virtue, he tells them, is not in the staleness of the bread, but in the care and thoroughness with which they are compelled to masticate it, on account of its hardness. The tongue not only deceives the human race in speaking, says the learned physician, it is a great deceiver in eating. As soon as the tongue perceives that any morsel in our mouth is soft and yielding, we are persnaded that it may safely be swallowed. No time or labor is spent upon its mastication.

Stale bread and hard biseuit, on the other hand, are not of themselves inherently so very digestible; but they give the eater so much trouble to soften them, that they are not swallowed until they have been reduced into a fit condition for that process. Hence the stomach has not that trouble with them which it almost invariably has with the softer and more delicate food, which has never received more than two or three turns with the teeth. Rapid eating and insufficient chewing are the two worst focs of the majority of dyspeptics Sympathy in a Dog .- Dr. John Brown of and hypoehondriacs, says our authority, and Human Spittle Poisonous.-Dr. Claxton of by injecting portions of it under the skin in "Being in a hurry, I curtly praised his per-rabbits. In numerous instances it caused the formance with 'Good dog!' clapped his dirty death of the animal. The symptoms and apsides, and, turning round, made down the pearances after death were similar to those hill; when presently the same nip, perhaps a produced by inoculating the rabbits with the tense—the same begging and urgent motioning of his short, shaggy paws. 'There's be due to the presence of minute living ormeaning in this,' said I to myself, and looked ganisms, which multiply in the infected tisat him keenly and differently. He seemed to sues, and poison the blood. They can be twig at once, and, with a shrill cry, was off removed from the saliva by thorough filter-

The saliva of all individuals is not equally streets and bye-lanes, we came to a gate, un- poisonous. The virulence is especially great der which my short-legged friend disappeared. in those whose occupation brings them much Of course I couldn't follow him. This aston- in contact with decomposing substances, in ished and was silent. I was leaving in des-recorded in surgical works, where a slight pair and disgust, when I heard his muffled wound effected by the teeth has been followed yelp far off round the end of the wall; and by very serious results. Prof. Gross relates there he was, wild with excitement. I fol-the case of a distinguished priest who struck lowed, and came to a place where, with a a man upon the mouth, wounding his finger somewhat burglarious ingenuity, I got myself slightly against his teeth. Erysipelas supersqueezed into a deserted coach-yard, lying all vened, and the hand had to be amputated; subsequently the disease reappeared in the "My peremptory small friend went under stump, and necessitated the removal of the a shed, and disappeared through the window arm. A second case was in the person of a of an old eoachbody, which had long ago lady, of middle age, always in good health, parted from its wheels." In this retreat the who struck the back of her hand against the benevolent doctor found a pointer and brood tooth of a servant girl, producing the merest of puppies almost starved to death, on whom scratch of the skin over the knuckle of the the sagacious terrier had taken compassion, right index-finger; the part bled only a few and brought him there to relieve. The terdrops, and caused hardly any pain at the time. rier found a home with the doctor, as he de- Within two hours afterward, however, it beserved, and lived to the age of 16, " healthy, gan to throb and ache, the pain extending up and bappy to the last." The pointer proved the hand, and thence gradually up the limb to be a valuable dog, and she and her pups as far as the armpit, where considerable enlargement of the glands soon took place. The New and Stale Bread .- The famous Leipsie forefinger swelled rapidly, and to an enormous physician, Prof. Reclam, has ventured to say degree; the hand and arm were also much a good word on behalf of newly baked bread. tumefied, and a deep red line was seen passing The majority of the old people, dyspeptics along the limb. Great constitutional disturband hypochondriacs, he observes, say that ance came on, attended with loss of sleep and welding together of the remaining bones of Upward of a year elapsed before the re-establishment of the general health.

THE FRIEND.

TENTH MONTH 7, 1882.

OHIO YEARLY MEETING.

was opened to encourage the members of the church militant. Yearly Meeting to a more general acquaintsubjects, which have often been a means of ment of the Quarterly Meeting. leading persons away from the Truth. The The report from remissing quarter contained an knoweth not the things of the Spirit of God, neither can be know them, because they are spiritually discerned. We the principles of our Society and of the spirit of maintain a lively and fervent spirit will need, therefore, the openings of Divine Grace of the discipline, for members to join with Odd assembled for Divine worship. It was s to give us a true conception of spiritual truths; and those who rely on their own intellectual but, as that organization was not mentioned on the mornings of meeting days to avoid building up a doctrinal edifice, are building the Yearly Meeting would take such action labor, or partaking too largely of food, wh on a sandy foundation. The result of the as would remove any uncertainty as to the sometimes tends to produce drowsiness. concern was the appointment of a committee application of the discipline to such cases. The nature of our testimony to pure spi to prepare a minute of advice on these points, Remarks were made by many Friends dis- ual worship was brought to view, and the

rounding country, who assembled on this oc-disposition existed to draw the line too closely, them the inconsistency of such a course w casion. There were probably 1500 persons or to restrict their liberties more than was our views as to the nature of true Gos the house, and perhaps 2000 in all about in the house, and perhaps 2000 in all about the premises, including those who could not real welfare. The whole subject of secret so the fresh anointing and command of the He find room in the building. The continued cieties was referred to a large committee, who arriving of new comers, and the difficulty in finding seats for them, necessarily prevented Yearly Meeting some modification of the exponents the meeting in the morning from becoming isting clause of the discipline on that subject, seeking to draw them into the safe enclosure soon settled. A large number of those in attendance had brought provisions with them; in his hands purporting to be from a Yearly had not yet seen for themselves the impo and during the interval between the morning Meeting held in Iowa. As directed by the ance of our testimony to plainness and si and afternoon meetings they might be seen discipline in such cases, it was given to a few plicity were reminded of the duty of bone scattered about on the grass among the trees, Friends, verbally nominated, for examination, ing their parents by submission to their a partaking of their refreshments. It was a In accordance with their report, the epistle vice, of honoring the religious Society curious and interesting scene. Though some was read at the close of the meeting. It was which they were members by obeying of these strangers may have regarded the oc a brief document, which stated that they counsels, and of walking in the footsteps casion somewhat as a picnic, or may have wished to convey to Ohio Yearly Meeting the flock of Christ's companions. been induced to come through curiosity, yet official information of their existence as a body it is to be hoped that good impressions were made on the minds of some. This hope probably enables Friends to bear with more willingness the burthens and unsettlement which nection they had been astonished to find how follows, which is sometimes broken by the e-

The close proximity of the Yearly Meeting school-building, which is used at this season as a boarding-house, proves a great convenience. A large number of Friends are entertained there during the week at a moderate the members of that meeting should be faith- at it of several persons who had been met expense; and the opportunity is thus given ful in the training of their children and familbers of the Binns' Meeting, but who had b for a cultivation of social intercourse, the re-lies. The necessity of properly restraining, lieved it right for them to join a body when vival of former friendships, and the formation as well as of advising and persuading them, the meetings are conducted more nearly i of new ones. A concern appeared to rest on was plainly and pointedly expressed; and the accordance with the principles of Friend with destruction of one of the bones, and right performance of the duties for which they vice was likely to be very effective, unless meeting for business commenced at 10 A. M., kingdom of Heaven and the righteous and the opening was favored with a quiet thereof above all other considerations. solemnity, under which tender advice was extended to the younger members, that they the subordinate select meetings and for might dwell under an exercise of spirit for strengthening and encouragement of t the right performance of the business of the members in the performance of their du

The Yearly Meeting of Ministers and Elders their proper places would tend to preserve in those meetings as way might open there and the Meeting for Sufferings convened on the dignity of the meeting, and they would The business of the meeting was transac be under preparation to take the places of with weight and dignity. In the Meeting for Sufferings a concern those who were being removed from the

An appeal from the judgment of one of the shown by the answers to the Queries, pas ance with the approved religious writings of Quarterly Meetings was taken up and the under review. Much religious exercise a our Society, to discourage the reading of doc-appellant being invited in, a committee of vailed, and indicious advice and exhortal trinal works which had not been officially four from each of the Quarters, except that were given, mostly in a condensed and weig sanctioned, and might contain a mixture of to which he belonged, was appointed to ex-manner. So that it was generally felt to truth and error, and to caution against a ten-amine into the case. At a subsequent sitting a very favored sitting. dency to speculative inquiries into religious they reported in favor of confirming the judg-

The report from Pennsville Quarter con-they were encouraged to persevere in the to be sent down to the members, if it should couraging any connection with secret socie-consistency therewith of attending at plan ties as injurious in its effects upon our mem- of worship where a stated ministry is ex The meetings for worship held in the morn-bers. There appeared also a feeling of tender-cised; and religiously concerned Friends we ing and afternoon of First-day, 9th mo. 24th, ness towards those who had been caught in encouraged privately and tenderly to adv were exceedingly crowded-not only with this snare; and a desire was expressed that such of our members as were in danger Friends, but with many others from the sur- the younger members might not think that a violating this testimony, and to point out that they had long been under oppression, buildings rings about 8 P. M., when the fami and that since they had met separate from assemble in the collecting room; a chapt those with whom they were formerly in con-from the Bible is read, and a time of silen are inseparable from the presence of such much they had been kept in the dark as to pression of counsel or concern. These opportunities are inseparable from the presence of such much they had been kept in the dark as to pression of counsel or concern. the principles involved in the movements that tunities are often instructive-and by 9 P. 1 had been going on in the Society.

Third-day, 9th mo. 26th .- The Meeting of rooms. Ministers and Elders convened at an early hour. A lively exercise spread over it that heads of families were themselves redece Second-day, 9th mo. 25th.—The general from a worldly spirit, and were seeking

A concern for the promotion of unit Church, and thus he instrumental in support-ing those on whom the burthens principally the appointment, with much unity, of a c fall. Their quiet settlement and abiding in mittee of men and women to visit and k

The general Yearly Meeting came toget at 11 o'clock, and the state of Society.

Sympathy was expressed with those v are constitutionally liable to drowsiness; ;

The clerk stated that a paper had been put of the Heavenly Shepherd. Such of them

The bell for evening collection at the school most of the inmates have retired to the

One of the interesting features of the pr sent annual gathering has been the present Friends that this unbending of the mind sound and wholesome doctrine was pressed than among those persons with whom the should not be carried so far as to unfit for the on the attention of those present that no ad had before been connected. This was the e more found a home. ship on Fourth-day morning was sound movements-of the spirit by which they were well-balanced, bearing full testimony to actuated, &c.

atonement and divinity of our Saviour

The visits and labors of such a committee by the Spirit into the hearts of all man-mony for the Truth and against error. thousand persons in attendar d, there to carry out the work of indi-Fitth-day, 9th mo. 28th.—The business was nearly equally divided as to sex. nal redemption and sanctification. It finished in one lengthened sitting.

n endeavoring to maintain our doctrines placed in the hands of the committee.

testimonies. They proposed that a comMuch interest was manifested in the right sated, so that they might obtain more bers of our own religious Society

s fully united with-and the same com- One of the Quarterly Meetings sent up on ition of one name.

previous session.

n observing the remarks made in the bearing and detraction. eting when this subject of the scattered ded, since becoming members. It was recognition at this time, and giving its com- that Divine Spirit, which only would enable asant to notice the satisfaction and enjoy- mittee permission to visit and inquire into them fully to comprehend the spiritual truths nt which they derived from thus mingling the condition and circumstances of Friends contained in them. h Friends, and being at meetings where elsewhere, showed the prevalence of a wise gospel doctrines upheld by our Society in and prudent spirit. As was said by some, beginning were proclaimed afresh with they had too little knowledge of the real into the Address, showing the belief of the mixture of error. One of them in simple situation of the Friends towards whom their Society of Friends in the great doctrine of guage said in the meeting, that he had minds were drawn-of the questions of disg been from home, wandering as in a wil-cipline which might be involved in their The Address was united with by the ness, and be rejoiced in feeling that he had organization,—of their views in regard to Meeting and directed to be published. some subjects of practical importance, such the doctrine preached in the meeting for as First-day schools, and other benevolent Societies proposed so altering the present us Christ; and to his coming in the heart as that appointed by Ohio Yearly Meeting, his Spirit to redeem man from sin and it performed under Divine direction, can I him in the way of righteousness. It was scarcely fail to be widely useful in removing Boarding School buildings had been fully dis-stactory to hear this latter part of the the ignorance which exists in many places, charged, and it was concluded that the sub-k of man's redemption clearly set forth, and encouraging to a steady alberence to scriptions yet unpaid, as they were received, ause there has been a tendency in some the principles of Friends. It may ultimately should be added to the fund for the gratuitous ces (though not so far as we have heard, be found, that its service in this direction education of children at the school ong Friends of Ohio Yearly Meeting) to dain, as referring to a second personal aptranee in the world of our Saviour, those Yearly Meeting; and even that it may be for the education of children under the care sages of Scripture which have heretofore helpful to many who belong to meetings of teachers in membership with us. n regarded by the Society of Friends as which have affiliated with the Binns' body, ns to be a perversion of the work of a The Boarding School report showed that pel minister, for a preacher to amuse his the expenditures for the year had exceeded ience by disquisitions on a second outward the income by about $20, a very small sum ing of our Saviour; while he neglects to considering that the number of scholars had their attention to the inshining of his been less than 60 in the Winter Session, and th in their hearts, which is a practical considerably smaller in the Summer Session. at of vital importance to every individual. It was stated that the "Benevolent Fund," n the meeting on Fourth-day afternoon for the gratuitous education of children, was first business that claimed care was the applied only in cases where one-half of the ort of the committee appointed a year cost was defrayed from other sources. To to take into consideration the condition relieve a class of children, whose parents this were unable to pay any part of the expense price. mittee had met several times and been of their education at the Boarding School, ught into sympathy with those who had the meeting directed $300 to be raised and tee on this subject should be continued by training of children (of whom it was reported Yearly Meeting, with permission to visit there were 718 of school age), and especially h Friends and their meetings wherever in their education under the tuition of mem-nite information concerning them and To the committee charged with the circuir situation; and report the result to the lation of the approved writings of Friends, trly Meeting next year. This proposition the sum of $100 was appropriated.

tee continued under appointment with the its report a reference to the low state of its answers, especially to the Second Query. The t was then concluded to make no minute minute of advice sent down in reply was a ake any action at the present in reference model of sententious brevity-being, as nearly he epistle from Iowa which had been read as can be recollected, as follows: "Keep low before the Lord, and avoid controversy, tale-

The minutes of the Meeting for Sufferings mants of our Society was under considera-contained an Address to the members of the 1; and in listening to the conversation of Yearly Meeting, cantioning them against readumber of the members at other times; it ing a work entitled "Salvation by Christ," s evident that many felt the importance of lately reprinted in England, on the ground ng wisely directed in their course in this that it had been originally published contter. The feeling of sympathy with those trary to the discipline of the Society, and rywhere who profess to be contending for after having been examined by the Meetings same precious doctrines opens the heart for Sufferings of three Yearly Meetings, and rywhere who profess to be contending for after having been examined by the Meetings addenly brought his troops to Seoul, the capital, and seizing Tai-ou-Kun, the king's father, the chief relet it is right it should) towards all such; by them deemed unsuitable for publication.

I under the influence of this feeling it is; Friends were advised in the address to read him to Seining Tai-ou-Kun, the proposed and carried tunder the influence of this feeling it is; Friends were advised in the address to read him to Sein, placed him on board a vessel and carried tunder the influence of this feeling it is; bable some might be willing at once to the Journals of our members as contained in the Chinese theory of sovereignty over Corea. Conditional the right hand of fellowship, and an The Friends Library; and avoid speculative U. Shimister Young arrived at Peking about the middle cital recognition of the organizations with discussions on doctrinal subjects; and to be ich they are connected. But the course diligent in the perusal of the Holy Scriptures events. It is add his action "was intended, in a large

t Yearly Meeting some of these had at taken by the meeting in avoiding any such with a mind turned to the illuminations of the Atenement.

The Address was united with by the Yearly

The committee on the subject of Secret discipline against Free Masonry, as to include in it a prohibition of Friends joining in similar secret organizations and associations. The proposal was adopted.

Report was made that the debt on the

At the meetings for business (which are firming the essential doctrine of his com- in strengthening them to bear a faithful testi- restricted to members) there were about one thousand persons in attendance, perhaps

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES.-The Secretary of the Interior has decided to reopen for settlement a tract of about 10,-000,000 acres of agricultural lands in Northern Dakota, which were withdrawn from settlement several years ago by Secretary Schurz. The lands, which once formed part of the great Sioux reservation, were withdrawn from the settlement pending the consideration of a claim to their occupancy by a roving band of Chippewas. This claim is now decided to be invalid.

The lands of the Florida Improvement Company nearly four millions of acres, it is stated will be offered this week for sale at $1.25 per acre, the Government

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics reports that the values of the imports of merchandise into the United States during the twelve months ended 8th mo. 31st, 1882, were $741,983,917; and for the corresponding months of the preceding year, $643,248,555, being an increase of $98,735,362 for the year ended 8th mo. 31st, 1882. The values of the exports of domestic and foreign merchandise from the United States during the twelve months ended 8th mo. 31st, 1882, were $737, 038,772, and for the twelve months ended 8th mo. 31st. 1881, $894,717,454, a decrease of $157,678,682 for the twelve months ended 8th mo. 31st, 1882.

Six steamers cleared from New Orleans on Seventhday last week, with 359,935 bushels of wheat, the largest shipment ever made from that port in one day.

The steamer Belgic arrived at San Francisco from China and Japan. Her advices confirm the previous reports that on 8th mo. 30th the Corean Government acceded to all the Japanese demands. It pledged itself first, to arrest the insurgents within twenty days, and first, to affect the listingents willim twenty days, and duly punish them, Japanese delegates to be present at the trial. Second. To properly bury the bodies of the murdered and pay 50,000 yen to their families. Third. To pay Japan 500,000 yen indemnity for expenditure, &c., in five yearly in-ialuments. Fourth. To allow Japanese troops in Seoul, for protection of the Lega-tion, and to provide accommodations for them. Fifth, To send apology by special embassy to Japan. Sixth. To gradually extend privileges to the Japanese residents and traders. Seventh. To afford conveniences for travel throughout Corea for the Japanese officials. While the negotiations were going on the Chinese Envoy degree, as an expression of moral sympathy toward dat 34 a 35 cts.; two cars ungraded white at 40 cts., and that it will order the Turks to evacuate all the class. The three cars low No. 3 do. at 40 cts., with No. 2 do. in points on the frontier without delay. Japan."

The total debt, less cash in the Treasury 10th month

1st, was $1,644,120,223, a decrease during 9th month

of $14,805,948

The Tariff Commissioners have been in session the present week in New York city.

Joseph K. McCammon, Assistant Attorney General for the Interior Department, has returned to Washingtoo from California and Montana. While in Montana he visited the Flathead reservation and negotiated an 7 agreement with the Flatheads to allow the Northern Pacific Railroad to be built through their reservation, a distance of fifty-three miles. They are to receive $23,000 for the concession.

St. Louis and its vicinity were slightly shaken by an earthquake at 18 minutes past 4 o'clock on the morning of 9th mo. 27th. The shock lasted about 15 seconds. In the centre of the city "a rolling even noise" was noticed, followed by twelve distinct vibrations at apparently regular intervals, the first vibration being the strongest. Earthquake shocks were felt at Centralia and Springfield, Illinois, at nearly the same time. Centralia the shock was accompanied by rumbling sounds, and awoke "nearly all sleepers." The earthquake was also felt at Vincennes, Indiana, where it "rattled windows and lasted three minutes."

In Southern New Jersey the destruction of incoming crops has been heavy throughout the district swept by Large fields of corn which had been nearly the rain. prostrated by a previous storm, were beaten down by the rain in consequence of the ground becoming moist and soft, and in some low places the ripening ears are Farmers, however, have sown but little grain for next ear's crops, thus saving the seed from rotting. It is thought that the storm will also cause the loss of considerable of the cranberry crop, as the bogs are so flooded as to interfere with picking. Grapes have been injured to some extent, the excess of rain causing them to lose their sweetness.

The steamer Robert E. Lee was burned on the Mississippi river, about thirty miles below Vicksburg, early on Seventh-day morning, and twenty-one passengers and hands are believed to have perished. The Lee was a large side-wheel steamer, of 1479 tons burthen, and the loss on the vessel and cargo is estimated at $175,000.

Yellow fever continues to prevail at Pensacola, Florida.

month 30th, numbered 438, as compared with 350 for the previous week, and 404 for the corresponding week of last year. Of the whole number, 187 were males and 161 females: 60 died of consumption; 30 of diplitheria; 19 of marasmus; 19 of old age; 14 of typhoid fever, and 9 of cropp.

Markets, &c.-U. S. 31's, 101; 41's, 113; 4's, registered, 1183; coupon, 1193; currency 6's, 133.

Cotton.—There was no essential change to notice in price or demand. Sales of middlings are reported at 123 a 13 cts. per lb. for uplands and New Orleans.

85 cts, per gallon for home use,

Flour continues dull, but prices were unchanged. Sales of 225 barrels low winters at $3.25; 350 barrels sonr springs at $4.50 a $5; 350 barrels Minnesota bakers' extras at $6.75; 300 barrels do. do, straight at $7.25; 275 barrels Pennsylvania extra family, medium, do, do, fancy at $5.10; $1.25 barrels Ohio do, do, choice, at $5.75; 175 barrels do, do, fancy, at $6; 125 barrels Southern Illinois do. do. at $5.75; 125 barrels Ohio patent at $6.50; 125 barrels do. do. fancy, at $7.25; 125 barrels Minnesota do. do., fair, at $8; 125 do. do. choice, at $8.25; 175 barrels do. do., fancy, at $8.50, and 750 barrels City Mills family on private terms. Rye flour was scarce and the market was firm .- Pennsylvania, $4.25 a $4.37½. Corn meal was nominally quoted at $4.50 per barrel for Brandywine. Bran.— Winter wheat sells at $17 a $17.50, and spring at $16 a $16.50 per ton,

Grain.-Wheat was a fraction higher. Sales of 4000 bushels Delaware longherry, track, at $1.07 a $1.08; 3200 bush. Delaware, red, track, at $1.04; 4700 bush. No. 2 red, in elevator, at $1.04; 3200 hush, rejected, at 85 a 90 cts. In rye there was nothing doing. Corn was firmer. Sales of 3000 bush, sail yellow, in grain deput, at 71 cts.; 3900 bush, sail mixed, in grain deput, at 70 cts., and 4800 bush. steamer, on track at Richmond, at 69 cts. Oats were unsettled. Sales of six cars rejected mixed at 27 a 28 cts.; four cars not re-The reports of the statement of the stat grain depot and elevator quoted at 40 a 43 cts.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 9th mo. 30th, 1882.—Loads of hay, 275; loads of straw, 35. Average price during the week—Prime timothy, $1.00 to $1.10 per 100 pounds; mixed, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 100 pounds; straw, 70 to 80 cts. per 100 pounds.

Beef cattle were in demand, at about former rates: 4400 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 4 a tcts. per pound, as to condition.

Sheep were in fair demand, but prices were a fraction lower: 15,000 head arrived and sold at the different law. Six hundred Jewish families have left the yards at 3 a 5½ cts., and lambs at 4 a 7½ cts. per lb., as on account of the riots. lo quality.

Hogs were steady: 3800 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 11 a 123 cts. per 1b., the latter rate for extra

FOREIGN.-A hurricane prevailed in Ireland on the 1st inst. At Cork more damage was done on land than had been caused by any previous storm for twenty years past. The American ship Harry Mills, from Liverool for New York, lying at Queenstown, was driven ashore, and several vachts were sunk in the harbor. At Newry, a large number of houses were greatly damaged, and the town was flooded. At Limerick, twenty feet of the spire of a Catholic church building was blown down during the service, causing a panic among the congregation, which was, however, quickly allayed. The ounty Jail was damaged.

Henry Fawcett, Postmaster General, speaking at Hackney recently, said: "England had no selfish object. Her chief concern is to secure to the Egyptians buried in mud and water. Potatoes are washed out, the best government and the greatest amount of liberty and buckwheat fields are nearly ruined. possible. The abuse connected with the late control will be avoided in future. The Egyptians will not have to submit to the injustice of an unduly large part of their revenues being appropriated by foreign officials," Marshal Serrano, one of the Liberal leaders in the Spanish Cortez, announces his intention, upon the reassembling of the Senate, to declare for the Constitution of 6th mo. 1st, 1869, which made the king inviolable and irresponsible, and placed all responsibility upon Ministers. The Ministry and their supporters have resolved to oppose it.

Sir Edward Malet, the British Consul-General at Cairo, thinks that an army of 10,000 men will be required in Egypt as a permanent garrison. Clothing for that number is being landed at Alexandria.

The Times, in a leader, says it has been decided to The deaths in Philadelphia for the week ending 9th retain, for the present, 12,000 men in Egypt to carry on and consolidate the work for which the suppression of Arabi Pasha does little more than clear the way.

to the explosion of an ammunition train there on the 27th ult., says: A train from Benha had arrived with the Sixtieth Rifles, when an ammunition wagon in the station exploded, killing a doctor, who was in the train with invalids, and some men. The train was ignited and the fire spread to the railroad depot, which was quickly burned. The flames next reached the Commisrice or demand. Sales of middings are reported at quickly burned. The manes next reacher the Commiss for Indian children, at Tunesassa; also one to a graph of the manor in care of the household. Apply to a graph of the manor in care of the household. Apply to our magazines, which exploded. Subsequent to the first explosion, two Arabs were seized in the act of firing John Sharpless, Chester, Delaware Co., P.

Brst explosion, two Arnos were sense in the act of the act of trucks; a third escaped.

Five battalions of troops have been despatched from Constantinople to the Hedjaz, Arabia, where an outbreak is reported.

The outbreak is probably connected with the recent deposition of the Grand Shereef of Mecca. It is semi-officially announced in Berlin, that the Powers expect a communication from Great Britain Managers. within a few days soliciting an expression of their views upon the state of affairs in Egypt.

De Lesseps, writing to the Times says, regarding the proposed second canal, his company possesses for ninety-nine years the exclusive privilege of maritime communication between the Gulf of Pelusium and the Bay of Suez. The Times says it entertains grave doubts of the validity of this claim. In strong contrast with Gen, Drenteln's recent speech against the Jews, Gen. Todleben, speaking at Wilna, has publicly expressed his belief in the impartiality and disinterestedness of the Jewish members of that municipality, and the hope that their advice would be taken as readily as that of Christians.

According to the budget of the financial department for 1883, the Russian revenue from indirect taxes for the financial year of 1882 exceeded the estimate by 9,778,000 roubles.

The report of the settlement of the Turko-Greek

The floods in the Tyrol have reduced hundre wealthy landowners to poverty. The laboring cl. in terrible distress. The approach of winter gr aggravates the situation.

Recent advices from Presburg report the occurr anti-Jewish riots at that place. The mob brok of anti-Jewish riots at that place. The mob brok windows of many houses occupied by Jews. The tary finally restored order after making forty ar The military are confined to their barracks. The istry have placed the Presburg district under many

Three members of the Salvation Army, who rece arrived in Calcutta, have been arrested in order to vent a riot which was imminent. Only one of the tingent which arrived there a short time ago is no Small-pox is spreading at Cape Town, Africa tewayo has arrived there from England.

The Mexican Congress has adopted a constituti amendment providing that " in the event of the d or removal of the President his successor shall be Senator who presided over the Senate during the m preceding the vacancy. When the Senate is no session the President of the Permanent Committee, is alternately a Senator or a Deputy, is to succeed. the case of a permanent vacancy the electors are t convened immediately." The Chief Justice has hith been an ex-officio Vice-President,

An epidemic of cholera, or cholera morbus, pre in portions of the Mexican State of Chiapa. Twe eight deaths in one day have been reported in Uxt town of 5000 inhabitants. A quarantine has been tablished by the Government. It is said that "as lar disease, but less violent, appears in that region e year, caused by cutting dye wood."

A telegram from Montreal says that the Islan

Anticosti, in the St. Lawrence, containing over 2,000 acres, is to be sold by auction to settle a law-suit.

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL

The WINTER SESSION begins on Second-day, 7 month 30th, 1882. Parents and others intending send pupils, will please make early application JONATHAN G. WILLIAMS, Supt., address Westtown 1 Chester Co., Pa.; or to CHARLES J. ALLEN, T. eas 304 Arch St., Philadelphia. Terms, $80 per sessio

THE CORPORATION OF HAVERFORI

COLLEGE.
A Stated Annual Meeting of "The Corporatio The Daily Telegraph's despatch from Cairo, referring Haverford College" will be held in the Committee-r of Arch Street Meeting-house, Philadelphia, on Tl day, Tenth month 10th, 1882, at 3 o'clock, P. M. EDWARD BETTLE, Jr., Secreta:

WANTED, A woman Friend, as teacher in the Boarding Scl for Indian children, at Tunesassa; also one to as

John Sharpless, Chester, Delaware Co., P. Ephraim Smith, 1110 Pine street, Philad

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelph Physician and Superintendent - JOHN C. HALL, M Applications for the Admission of Patients ma made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Boar

MARRIED, at Friends' Meeting-house, Media, D. ware Co., Pa., on Fourth-day, the 13th of Ninth mo 1882, Joseph J. Walton, of Philadelphia, and M. M., daughter of Clarkson Sheppard, of the former pl , at Friends' Meeting, Wilmington, Del., Fifth-day, Ninth month 28th, 1882, WILLIAM P.

Evans, of Malvern, Pa., to Mary, daughter of John and Lucy R. Tatum, of Wilmington, Del.

DIED, on the 26th of First month, 1882, MARMAD JAY, son of William and Rachel Jay, aged 70 year months and 7 days, a member of Salem Monthly M ing of Friends, Iowa. He was born in Warren con Ohio, 19th of Tenth mo. 1811. For the last twenty-years he was much concerned for the safety of the ciety of Friends; often was engaged in exhortation council, in which he was favored with an excellent;

> WILLIAM H. PILE, PRINTER, No. 422 Walnut Street.

FRIEND. THE

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

JOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, TENTH MONTH 14, 1882.

NO. 10.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON,

MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J. criptions, payments and business communications, received by

JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

Condensed from "The British Friend." Sundry Observations on America.

(Concluded from page 67.)

ms rather flat and uninteresting. We twice visited New England, comprising States on or near the ocean, viz: Maine, seachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, rmont, and New Hampshire. All put ether, they would not be so large as some of the States in the west, but the people more enterprising there than anywhere. ctories of all descriptions abound, because the abundant water-power they afford, and convenience of access by waterway. That the American people are industrious l enterprising beyond all other people in world, I have no donbt. Take as an inw York, in Illinois State, at the corner of and rest their weary bones.

ke Michigan.

n 1830 it had a population of 100 only; itre on the Continent, as also the greatest mary grain market in the world.

Its present population is about half-a-miln. Many of its streets are seven miles dear old England. g, and it contains over 700. To facilitate Yet the prosperi destroyed the best buildings in the cityer 30 hotels, 1600 stores, and 17,450 houses.

tonished to find they were as much ruins so ruinous in expense and demoralizing to slaves, and the breach is nearly healed. ed the stone, that they fell or were wrecked.

stories high, 50 to 100 feet frontage, or one skimmed from all countries-the bone and e, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid for every working hour of that time. There muscle, thew and sinew of nations - honis no precedent in the world's history, of such est, healthy, willing toilers, constituting the bravery and indomitable energy.

> and I answered, "If I were not an English-man I would be an American." With all In New York alone, while we were there, the recommendations of the States (and they these emigrants were arriving at the rate of and best.

Life and property are more secure at home. years. Liberty, all things considered, is equal. Law, will buy more in England than thirty shillings in our favor.

I do not wonder that English farm laborers for next to nothing. They have worked hard Hungary, and Italy put together. and they mean to work; and it is odd if they cannot cultivate fertile ground and grow crops from conscription of the army, free from taxes sufficient for their necessary existence, with to support an unproductive army to alarm a balance to the good besides, in a few years. their neighbors,-with a teeming and indus-They are slaves at home as to work; they trious population, earnestly engaged in useful are slaves there; yet, being volunteers, they and reproductive pursuits, blessed with peace are worth three press-men, having an eye to and favored with good trade, I ask, What emancipation, when after steady years of can prevent their becoming the most prosper-toil they pay for their land, build themselves ous nation? They may delay it by selfish a farm, and sell their surplus crops. Then laws; but without unforeseen events they nee Chicago, a city nearly 1000 miles from being free men, they can employ laborers, cannot prevent its consummation.

years after it had become the metropolis lish one, the Telegraph, and notice for a week century ago, lasting 8 years, was a heavy the north-west, and the greatest railway the number of murders, shootings, assaults, burden. They obtained their object, howsuicides, and robberies, reported in each, it ever and recovered again. In 1812 they de-will soon prove what I say, that law, order, clared war against England, and fighting sinage, about 1857 they raised the business and I believe is likely to be more so. They age produced activit war between the Northern tion of the city from three to eight feet, move with rapid strides, eclipsing all precedents. Everything conspires to favor their Southern States, who lived by their slaves! In the autumn of 1871 a fire occurred there, development into the most prosperous nation labor. This occurred in 1861, and lasted four e most terrific of modern times. It raged on earth. They must succeed in spite of years, a fierce, terrible civil war. They were the incredible fury for two days and nights, that a great storm alone stopped its progress. and Government, they will outstrip every ing for their livings (as they thought), fought country with rapidity.

most substantial kind in iron and stone, five Holland, and all parts. They are the cream wealth, energy, vitality, and prosperity of a We were often asked how we liked America? country-for labor is wealth; money is only are many and vast), I prefer England first 2000 a day-a quarter million in the last six months, and four millions in the last ten

The population of America is now about 54 millions, against 36 millions in Great Britain. order, and justice, deficient as we may be, millions against 36 millions in Great Britain. are better observed in England. A sovereign America has doubled its population in 25 years, while we have only increased one-fifth. After visiting the lively States, Canada in America, while inxuries are as two to one In round numbers, America for 30 years past has increased in numbers at the rate of a million a year, or more than the increase in emigrate there, and do well. They get land Great Britain, France, Germany, Austro-

Free from wars and rumors of wars, free

But the Americans, though isolated from If you take the leading American paper, Europe and the world, have not been without the New York Herald, and the leading Eng. their big wars. The War of Independence a justice, life, and property, are far ahead in lasted two years without much glory. They recovered from that and grew prosperous, Yet the prosperity of America is marvellous, when the question of holding slaves in bonddesperately, and prevailed for a long time. Their isolated geographical position be Nothing could stand against their firmness ne total area destroyed was three and a tween the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, ex- and fury; but they were poor and far less If square miles.

| cludes them from the alarms, rivalries, and numerous, and so in four years they were lieulousies of foreign continents, with their thoroughly exhausted. Slavery was abolished. |
| cludes them from the alarms, rivalries, and numerous, and so in four years they were lieulousies of foreign continents, with their thoroughly exhausted. Slavery was abolished. | The States were again united. The South e stone; but when I viewed it, I was of powers, wars, and preparations for wars, are able to live quite as well without their Previous to the War, the States had no the honses; the fire had charred and crum-the people. Previous to the War, the States had no ad the stone, that they fell or were wrecked. They have a square, compact country of "National Debt," and therefore no interest yo hundred million dollars' worth of pro- 38 States and some Territories, extending to pay on it. But to support the war, they rty was destroyed in that fire. Merchants from ocean to ocean, containing millions of had to borrow money at such a high rate, d millionaires were fed on government acres of rich and fertile land, not a quarter and in such quantities, that their "National of which is yet cultivated. Their climate, Debt" at its close, was about £550,000,000, or though hot, is healthy. Railways intersect two-thirds the amount of ours. It was alnext spring, and then within seven months, all parts of the States, and rapidly multiply, most a question of bankruptcy, but the enor-200 working days of eight hours, they had Emigrants arrive in prodigious numbers mous find of gold in their mines in California nilt and completed 1600 warehouses of the from Germany, Ireland, Norway, Russia, at that time assisted them to tide over the emergency. In a few years they received from these mines £250,000,000 in gold.

Taking a leaf out of our noble Gladstone's book, they decided that the present generation should pay for the war, and posterity should not be burdened and saddled with the expense of wars fought for their pleasure. So they put a heavy protective duty on most imported articles, the staples as well as the luxuries of existence, and by that means they pay, not only the interest, but also from 20 to 30 millions of pounds annually off the prineipal sum of their National Debt. In the 17 years since the war they have reduced the amount of debt by near £200,000,000, besides lowering the interest considerably.

They adopt Free Trade in their postal system. A halfpenny post-card or a threehalfpenny letter may go three thousand miles. Like us, they find such liberality pays well; it is self-supporting, besides adding to the revenue.

Their railway fares are dearer than in any other part of the world I have travelled in. In Germany, France, Austria, Italy, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, as well as in England, you can travel, on an average, for about half the price. Take an instance: The fare between New York and Philadelphia, the two largest much trembling. And my speech and my mercantile cities in the United States, is 10s. preaching was not with enticing words of the things of this world and the kingdom 6d.—a distance of only 87 miles. The rails run over almost a dead level. The land was in- spirit and of power, that their faith should not with the "eye-salve" of the kingdom, we expensive, and the trains, as in most parts of stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power never see into heavenly things; nor into America, run along the main streets of towns of God." And here let me in all sincerity ask, mysteries of the heavenly things; nor into on their way, without any fence or enclosure whatever-all for cheapness-and yet they the faith of so many now who are seeking the charge such exorbitant and uncivilized fares. They will, I daresay, presently see beyond cloquence of men than in the power of God? heaven we can never know nor see, only these barbarous enstoms. The railway carriages are on the saloon principle-doors at the end instead of the sides. So you can walk from carriage to carriage, and from one end of the train to the other, while in motion. In each carriage, they have a cistern of iced drinking water, with cups, a W. C., and in cold weather, two stoves to warm with. They collect and punch tickets as you travel, to save time. They are often elegantly fitted; but, to my mind, our English plan and earriages are preferable.

It cannot be denied that the Americans are visible found there is little faish many wise men after the flesh, not many all things are naked and opened unto the ey about their goods. Their many novel inven mighty, not many noble are called." "That of Him with whom we have to do." tions are labor-saving appliances. That is the main design in all; and in discovering these improvements, they seem to abjure all rules and conventions, and apply sound common-sense to their object in view, and with the result of astonishing us with their simplicity and usefulness.

I will sum up the matter, and conclude by repeating my assertion, that I would be an American if I were not an Englishman. GEORGE PITT.

Mitcham, Surrey, 12th 8th mo., 1882.

out of life, which has first burst in or up from is a deeper work of grace—a deeper baptized

For " The Friend," Religious Views and Tenets.

If we, in our meetings for worship, speak or read or pray or sing in our own strength, it amounts to nothing higher than an act between man and man; and should not claim to be true worship. For "God is a spirit; and they that worship Him must worship him in spirit and in truth." Yes in truth, not in imitation of the truth. For God under the old dispensation forbid all manner of similitudes. "He that speaketh of himself (without the constraining power of the Holy Spirit) seeketh his own glory. But he that seeketh the glory of Him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him." Then "he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord." For glorified.

" If self employ us whatsoe'er is wrought, We glorify that self, not Him we ought."

Although Paul was a man of learning, yet when he was sent out to preach the gospel, it was "not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect." For in the sufficiency of the grace and power he says he "came not with excellency of God to bring salvation, and attend to its tespeech or of wisdom declaring unto you the lings, by becoming willing learners, we testimony of God." And he says he "was never become proficients in the school with them in weakness and in fear, and in Christ. man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the men; but if our spiritual eyes are not anoin Is it not one of the great evils of our day, that by the spirit of man that is in him, may way to Zion, stands more in the wisdom and belonging to this world, but the things quent man, and mighty in the Scriptures, and was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the Spirit, he spake and have not the Spirit of Christ, and if we taught diligently the things of the Lord, not receive life and light from Him, we knowing only the baptism of John. Yes; knowing no deeper baptism than that of John, which was only a superficial and elementary not the things of God, neither can it kn work; designed to prepare the way of the them because they are spiritually discern Lord; yet he began to speak boldly in the And the Spirit searcheth all things, year synagogue. But when he had the way of deep things of God. "Out of the abundar God expounded unto him more perfectly, in of the heart the mouth speaketh." And a deeper work, he went on in his ministry, the heart abound with evil or earthly thin clever and very ingenious. The shops in and helped them much which had believed or if it hold heavenly truths in unrighteo London exclusively devoted to the sale of through grace. For he mightily convinced ness, how can a pure gospel stream flow fre Donaton excusively devoted to the saio of the fact of no flesh should glory in his presence."

unlearned and ignorant men, insomuch that to expect to be raised with Him into newne the Jews "marvelled and took knowledge of of life. We have to "abide the day of L them that they had been with Jesus." And yet it appears that at one time there were added unto them about three thousand souls. And until that flesh and blood (or life) which ca a little further on it is said that under the ministry of those who were called unlearned and ignorant as to the wisdom of this world, the number of the men that heard the word and believed, came to be about five thousand. "So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed." But it was not under the ministry It is a true conception of Horace Bushnell, of learned or cloquent men who receive honor one of another, but under the power and but also to suffer for his sake." So be of goo "Preaching is nothing but the bursting Spirit of God. So our great need as a church where God is, among the soul's foundations." ministry,—and a deeper baptized member-How much then that passes for preaching is ship. We want "a closer walk with God; a utterly unworthy of the name. - Ep. Recorder. more calm and heavenly frame" of mind. We want to be clothed with more humility as to have less of self. The Lord has said : this man will I look, even to him that is and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth a word." And it is such as have the Spi the Lord God upon them, that He an "to preach good tidings unto the meek" unto the haughty), and that He sends bind up the broken-hearted and to proc liberty to the captives," or to those who bound in sin. And to comfort all that me to give unto them the oil of joy for mouri and the garment of praise for the spir beaviness, that they might be as tree righteousness, the planting of the Lord, I ing fruit to his name, that He alone might

What are all our pretensions to reli without holiness of heart? What is hu reason, unassisted by revelation? Wha human nature unsubdued by divine gra What are all our pretensions to ministry we without gospel power? If we do not bel

We may have a keen-eyed vision tows and know the things of men, or the thi we are enlightened by the true light shin in our dark hearts from the Spirit of God. from him who is the light of men. And if never advance the cause of the heavenly ki dom. For the world by its wisdom knc

We have to submit to be buried with Chri It is said of Peter and John that they were into the likeness of his death, before we ne coming" when He comes "as a refiner at purifier." We must be erneified with Chri not inherit the kingdom of heaven, is mort fied and slain. He bore the cross for us, ar we must bear the cross for Him if we wou reign with Him in glory. He suffered th contradictions and persecutions of sinner and all that will live godly in Him shall suffe persecution. For unto the true disciples Christ "it is given not only to believe on Him elicer, for He says, I have overcome the work

Dublin, Ind., 9th mo. 15th, 1882.

Prayer is the vital breath of faith.

D. H.

For "The Friend." ussages from the Life and Writings of William Penn.

ks that had previously received the sancwas accepted and its circulation apved. The writer has had the opportunity eading only a portion of the work, but so as read, the impression has been made t the editor has been favored in making briefly as well can be done, the peculiar ters of men. trines which distinguish the Society of ends from most other religious professors, so smoothly joined together as to present ts publication at this time is thought to judicious and a wide circulation is very rable, in order that the clear and sound ws of Wm. Penn on Christian doctrine, ecially on that of the atonement, may be y understood and it is hoped more appre-ed by all who claim the name of Friends. In page 109, he briefly states, "I am conuned, for the sake of the simple-hearted, oublish to the world of our faith in God, ist and the Holy Spirit.

We do believe in one holy God Almighty, o is an Eternal Spirit, the Creator of all and express image of his substance, who k upon him flesh and was in the world; in life, doctrines, miracles, death, resurod, we only ascribe our sanctification, justcation, redemption and perfect salvation. se Three are one, who is the Alpha and of the children of disobedience. ega, the First and the Last, God over all, ssed for ever. Amen.

Deliverance from Sin-Salvation.

Iany are the devices of Satan, and great ne subtlety which he furnishes his children t which he got by subtlety; and has taught whole family that it is impossible for any y are made, to keep them in his service;

Now let us examine a little what reason re is for this great mistake:

First, they say, that sin is rooted and nted in the nature of man; yea, so that a n must cease to be a man, before he can ise from being a sinner.

this objection, to wit, that sin is rooted in the out presumption. nature of man, how came it to be rooted there? The faith of God's elect is but one in all unbroken, interesting and instructive narshould be so? If so, why is any man or woman to walk with God. As, for instance, Enoch punished or condemned for its being so, see- walked with God, several hundreds of years, but such as are wholly blind from the true he walked with God when he walked in sin; sense of God, will dare to say so: for then the as if God walked in a sinful way; for the prothe evil from them, to cease to do evil, &c., But Enoch dwelled and walked with the Lord, Well, if it was not by the ordering or ap-please Him. By faith Noah walked with pointment of God, but that God has made God, and was a preacher of righteousness in man righteous in his nature, will and affect the old world. By the same faith the pro-And in one Lord Jesus Christ, his only tions; yea, in the image of God He created phets were chosen vessels of God, and were wrought this great work, to plant sin in his came to obtain that testimony that they tion, ascension and mediation, perfectly did that it is the work of a cursed outcast, an unthey could not have been, and with a servants does continue to do the will of God; to clean, lying, treacherous spirit, who was reducted in the Scripture beareth record ose holy life, power and mediation and jected of God, and had no place in the whole of Zachariah and Elizabeth his wife, that they And we believe in one Holy Spirit that and so from that, came a great alteration to conversation, walking in all the commands ceeds and breathes from the Father and be in her, and a ground or foundation was and statutes of the Lord unblamable. But if Son, a measure of which is given to all to laid for the devil to build upon; and from that they had been under the power of sin, and fit with; and he that has one, has all: for time he has always had a rule in the hearts not freed from it, they had been neither un-> was freed from sin, since sin first entered into the Lord, or else they could not be sinners. the world; and that therefore it is presumption to expect such a thing in this life.

Answer. If this position were true, that there was never any man freed from sin, yet servants withal, by which he seeks to up- it would be presumption to say, that God d his kingdom, pleading now a right to should not be able to do that which He never usual interest, Dr. Trumbull's article in The did; and it is also presumption to conclude, that never any man was freed. But if this be freed from under his service, even as if position be false, then not only the consemen that are created of God, were created quence is false, to wit, that none can be freed, the service of the devil; and although he but also the argument itself is proved to be make no man, yet that he is able, after a lie, and so is swept away, and a door is opened unto all, that have more love to right-, although their Maker calls them to serve eousness than to sin; both to hope and to ex pect, that the same work should again be wrought in and for them, without presump-

That all men are sinners by nature, is evinatural state, is as evident; so that the ques- plish. tion is only, whether those that are translated so united with sin, as that he thereby is sepa-or nay? Which if it be so, what advantage rated from God, I do not deny; and also that have they beyond others, if after they are there is a natural inclination in man to com-translated, they must remain unfreed? But the last meeting of the Meeting for Sufngs, 200 copies of the above work were ated by the Executors of the late Ruth

If these champions for the devil's kingdom

If the property of the late Ruth

If these champions for the devil's kingdom

If the property of the late Ruth

If the accope, for distribution through the Book had blotted out of that which they call their in the body, but had suffered with, and were mittee of that body. The book having rule, all those precious sayings, that make a previously examined to a greater or less mention of a state of grace, of being under Christ, by a dying to sin; through which ent by many members, if not by all, and grace, of being changed or translated, of being every one must pass before they can come to inute being adopted which stated that all redeemed and made free, of being washed, the resurrection that is in Christ, by which, doctrinal passages had been taken from cleansed, and sanctified perfectly in soul, body said Peter, they obtained the answer of a good and spirit; and many more such places; then conscience in the sight of God, which he calls of the Meeting for Sufferings, the dona-tweeting for Sufferings, the dona-was accepted and its circulation ap-seeing there is such a large testimony of the been partakers of that death, baptism, and mercy and goodness of God, and of his power resurrection of Christ, by which they came and all-sufficiency to redeem and save; there- to cease from sin, and to have an answer of a fore it is worthy to be pleaded before we allow good conscience, without offence either to the devil such an unlimited power in and God or man, which none that sin can have, ctions calculated to illustrate clearly and among you, yea, over all the sons and daughten may some lawfully expect to come to the enjoyment of the same state of freedom Therefore, as concerning the first part of and clearness, as well now as formerly, with-

Whose work was it to make it so? Was it the ages; and that faith has purified the hearts work of God? Or hath He ordered it, that it of many in former ages, and has taught them ing it could not be otherwise? But none else and it would be a horrible thing to say, that manifold calling of sinners unto repentance. phet said, the bloody man, or the worker of to wash them, to cleanse them, to put away iniquity, dwells or walks not with the Lord. must all be against his will and ordering, and and did not iniquity; for if he had, he should so consequently but a mockery. But God not have obtained a testimony that he pleased forbid that any man should say or think so. the Lord; for sinners and evil-doers do not him; then it must needs be another that has upheld in their testimony for God, till they nature. When it is examined, it will appear were the men and servants of God, which creation; but by framing a lie, he brought a were both righteous before God, not by an poor woman from her integrity and obedience; imagined righteousness, but in regard to their blamable nor rightcous; but must at least The second pleading is, that never any man have transgressed some of the commands of (To be concluded.)

Water is Life in the Desert,

BY EDWARD L. WILSON, Last September I read, with more than Sunday-school Times, entitled "Is Wine Safer than Water?" I had always advocated total abstinence, but I was then anticipating a journey in the Sinaitic Peninsula, and the water question was one which had to be thoughtfully considered. Part of the journey which I anticipated was the one which had been accomplished by the friend whom I have named, and although I had already made up my mind what I should try to do, the article referred to gave me no little comfort, for it proved that what I had already determined dent; and that some were changed out of that to try, I could without fear readily accom-

And now, having returned from my pro-Answer. That man in his natural state is out of that sinful nature, remain sinful; yea posed longer travel of over a half a year, I desire to add my testimony, in these pages, to the truth of what Dr. Trumbull has said. and to state that water is not only the best drink for the traveller, but that water is life in the desert. During my absence, with three companions, I travelled thirty-five days on the Nile, another forty-five days in Egypt, thirty days on horses in Palestine, forty days on dromedaries in Arabia, thirty-four days on the sea, and was many days on the march. I lived and slept seventy-five nights in the tent, and during all this time not only was there no wine or intoxicating beverage taken along, but there was none absorbed by any of our quartette.

During those journeyings I had many interesting experiences, some of which I may report hereafter. That of which I now wish to speak particularly, is the fact which so impressed itself on me during all this travel, that water is pre-eminently life, in the desert; that without water there would be no life there. When I say this I refer particularly to the fact that wherever there is water there is more or less of grass and foliage as nowhere else. Such places, as it is well known, are called oases. They are found along the travelled ways of the desert, usually at about a day's journey from each other. The number of hours between them is greater between some than others; and again, a diversion from a straight line must be made in order to reach them for camping at night. To reach them is a necessity; because water in the desert is not only life to the products of the ground, but it is life to the camel and his attendant and to the traveller as well. It is true that there are bushes and thistles, and trees growing where no water can now be seen, but these are always snarly and snappy and ugly and are unfriendly to the touch. They do receive a little water in the rainy season, and nature provides them with a certain form of root which holds their supply until it is annually replenished; but they have no such loveliness as would attract one to them.

In some of my sea experiences I observed that as soon as port was left, and the vessel began to toss uneasily, passengers would flock to the little bar-always provided in a conspicuous place,-and swill brandy and whisky and other spirituous liquors. I observed, too, that such persons were generally more seasick than others, when they once got at it; but they would never agree that the liquor made them sick. I am satisfied, and I believe that my companions agree in this, that if we had depended upon wine or other liquors as our beverage, we neither could have endured the fatigue of our journey so easily, nor would we have been able to say that in all the six months' journeyings and roughing it, no one of us was delayed an hour by sickness. healthier quartette, I do not think ever made such a journey; and I attribute it very largely to our entire absence from any drinking but water, or tea, and coffee, and milk.

I can join with Dr. Trumble in saying: "I have never found a place where it was necessary for me to drink wine or brandy, or where I deemed the native wine as safe as the native water, judging from the apparent effects on those who use the one or the other." Moreover, I have found this promise true when called upon to discuss the subject of drinking with others: "Ye shall not be afraid of the face of man for the judgment is God's."-S. S. Times.

For "The Friend."

OUR BIRTHRIGHT.

We may not trace our lineage down, Thro' veins where royal blood has flowed, Nor find our forefathers renowned

For valorous deeds, nor wealth of gold; But greater than the emblazoned arms, And crest that tells of noble birth, Or trophied plume of war's alarms,

Our record of ancestral worth. We wreathe no hero's tomb with flowers, Nor crown with laurel, nor with bay, Yet never grander theme than ours,

For history's page or poet's lay, The priceless heritage we claim, By many a martyr's blood is sealed, And Time can boast no prouder name, Than Quaker, graven on his shield.

Why tarn we from those tenets now, And seek to find an easier way? The strength to stem sin's tidal flow Was ne'er more needed than to-day. Still round our hearth on every side The wily Tempter's baits are set, The path grows not more straight nor wide

Among the meshes of his net, We know that neither form nor creed, The heavy-laden soul can save-No ritual answers to our need, No vesture brings the peace we crave. But when we cross the billowy sea,

We choose a vessel staunch and tight, Tho' knowing still our lives to be In hands of One who ordereth right.

And sailing on life's ocean wave, Oh! may our fathers' ship be ours, The honored truths they died to save, Be cherished as most precious dowers. Cast not the smallest tithe away, Nor let another wear our crown, But down the ages gain for aye, An added lustre and renown.

And with the letter of our faith, O grant the spirit cometh too, That we may prove in life and death, The glory of our Israel true. Thus anchored on the eternal Rock, Our birthright will be ours indeed, And neither wave nor tempest's shock.

Can move the bulwarks of our creed.

Selected. PAUL DENTON'S REPLY TO WATT FOE-

Paul Denton, a Missionary to Texas, at one of his meetings, advertised that he would no choice is allowed one. A man who have a barbeene and plenty of good drink. This attracted a numerous crowd, among the his life-sources may prefer to seek the rest a desperado by the name of Foeman, who, during service said to Paul, "Paul, your reverence has lied, we have plenty to eat, but where is the liquor?"

MAN'S TAUNT.

"There! answered the missionary, in tones of thunder, and pointing his finger at the matchless double spring gushing up in two strong columns with a sound, like a shout of one's loved ones, of one's country, or o of joy from the bosom of the earth, there!"

verse by E. M. Snowden.

There is the liquor there! brewed for you by the hand Of God, the Eternal! Well he loves the children of his land.

Not over smoky fires, not in the simmering still With poisoned gases, odors rank, doth He your draught distil:

But in the grassy dell, where the red deer wanders free In the lowest valley down, and upon the wide wild sea, Where the young child loves to play in the green and pleasant glade, made Where the fountains ever murmur, and the rills forever sing.

Where the trees are always greener, and the flowers, fairer spring,

Upon the highest mountains, where the granite

Of sunny rays doth glitter, with a bright and gleam. Everywhere a thing of beauty! Singing in the mer rain. Glittering bright within the dew drops, gleam the verdant plain In the cataract madly leaping, in the glacier bound, In the hail-shower see it dancing, falling lightly ground. In the iris bow of promise, seeming like the bowers, By the mystic hand refraction, chequered with tial flowers.

The warp is made of raindrops, as they softly earth, And the woof so warm and brilliant in the sur finds its birth.

In the fairy flakes descending through the air so and slow, The wintry world enfolding in a curtain of bright And the trees no longer blooming in their su garb arrayed. It has turned to living jewels, in the prisoned light shade, Where the storm-cloud broods and lowers, and rolling thunders crash, Where the big waves sweep the chorus, and the bi madly dash,

There He brews life's blessed waters, gushing freb side your home. No poison bubbling in its brink, no madness i foam. No orphan child, no widow pale, leave in it bar tear, Nor to its bound doth shricking ghost of drun wander near, In despairing accents cursing the dread poison of still

That with luring spell enticed him, a dishonored g to fill. Whilst the water springs so gleeful, like a joy-s o'er the brink, Would you change the draught, health-giving, for alcoholie drink?

Would you give the pure cold water, rolling from depth below,

For the demon's drink of sin and death-as one answered. No!

Contentment.-Contentment is not alw present enjoyment. It may be found in deliberate choice of personal pain, as wel in the enduring of personal suffering w conscious that a painless disorder is sapp geon's knife, rather than abide in his dans ous repose. Then he would be conten under present suffering, in the hope it wo bring to him of restored health and prolon If a special emergency calls for braving of peculiar perils, and for the me ing of unwelcome privations, in behalf great and vital truth, the truly noble n The following is his answer arranged in will be content to take those risks, and submit to those trials; and he could not content to shirk them.

The true secret of contentment is in or conviction that the place he is now in is place now; that the work he is now doing the work that now needs doing, and that ought to do now; that he is better situat at the present moment, for effort or for durance that shall tend to his own high good, and to the good of the persons and There the beverage cool and pure, hath He, our Father, the interests dearest to him, than would possible elsewhere in all the universe; th in fact, his present sphere, his present of portunities, and his present possessions, a those which above all others he ought to c v enough about them and their tendings.

For " The Friend," Ancient Testimonies and Advices. TALE-BEARING AND DETRACTION.

Friends and brethren, be careful and thful against all whisperings, backbitings, tale-carrying, to the defaming of Friends tles, &c., 1719, 1721.

ementing in a very close and brotherly The London Epistles. wship one with another, in the Divine it, and therein watch against all occasions ng men."-1752.

which, if suffered to flow in our hearts with skeleton fish. Sir Roderick held up the speciunobstructed course, would bear away all men. The portrait was correct in every bone malice and guile, and cause all complaints of and line. The grave old doctors burst into tale-bearing and detraction to cease in our lond applause. "Sir," Agassiz said, on telling borders. O, the precious care that attends the story, "that was the proudest moment of the mind in which Christian charity is be-my life—no, the happiest; for I knew now come habitual! Charity, saith the apostle, my father would consent that I should give 'bopeth all things.' It divulges not the my life to science." thoughts of others, because, in its unbounded thers, and to put a speedy stop thereto; hope, it desires their removal without expopass righteous judgment upon all whise sure. For the mind in which it dwells, as another man on one occasion passed through rs and backbiters, who aggravate matters cribes its own preservation, and the cleansing a room in which stood a table laden with and the backs of others, and appear instru- of its former sins, to the unbounded love of luxuries good enough for the Court of Babyts of division and offences, contrary to God in Christ Jesus; and it prays that all may lon. The young man said to Wesley, "There peaceable truth and gospel we profess." partake of the same benefit. How opposite is not much self-denial here," to which the that disposition, which delights to report evil, preacher answered, "No, but there is a fine and to accuse! Shun it, dear Friends, as the field for its exercise." My young friends, poison of asps. Even the sacred writings europoison will often find yourselves crossing that mands of God be duty observed, viz:— poison of asps. Even the sacred writings curry you will often and yourselves crossing that on the same of the grand adversary ided; if you would have discipline, don't form the fear of the same of the same of the same of the get the exercise of self-denial. No man ever orethren, 'Follow, therefore, peace with all comes up into true nobility, into health and the lord, sawell as against all whisperers, and ensured the same of the same tation of the innocent; and the righteous seeing the servant of the Lord must not wine and the king's meat, but you will be a of God goes against both the authors and strive, but be gentle unto all men, let nothing slave, and you are made for something higher wagers thereof. And therefore, if you hear be done through strife or vain glory; but seek than the chains of a degrading captivity; ort of a Friend, be careful not to report peace and pursue it, that good order, union only a little below the angels is where God ain; but go to the person of whom the and concord may be preserved. Be not apt would have you stand. I call you to your rt is, and enquire if it be true, or not; and to take offence, and let each in his own par- rightful sovereignty, to the freedom of imbe true, then deal with such person for ticular, be more assiduous to guard against mortal beings, on whose forcheads Jehovah cording to the doctrine of Christ, Matt. his own weaknesses and imperfections, than has written his name; I call you to the bonda, but if false, then endeavor, as much as to pry into, or expose those of others. Let age of that love that wept over Jerusalem and on lies, to stop such reports."—Annual mutual forbearance and forgiveness have due bled away its life on the cross; I call you to ne epistle of 1726 also commends the fol-forgive men their trespasses, your Heavenly the sweet bondage of Him who took upon ng taken from that issued in 1722:— Father will also forgive you. But if ye for Him the form of a slave, and became obedient earnestly desire that all Friends will give not men their trespasses, neither will unto death, even the death of the cross." "If kfully embrace the present opportunity your Father forgive your trespasses." - From the Son shall make you free, then shall ye Anecdote of a Great Naturalist .- A good the utmost care guard against a practice "I think," he said at last, "I know a little overcome, and fell at his feet and wept like a de-bearing and private slander against about fishes." "Very well. There will be a child."—Selected. ons and families, as being contrary to the meeting of the Royal Society to-night. I will t of Christianity, and highly dishonorable take you with me there." All of the great scientific savants of England belonged to this Suffer not, brethren, any infringement of Society. That evening, toward its close, Sir From obedience to the law of Christ, Roderick. Agassiz took up the chalk, hesi-were excluded."

and which he would desire, if he only arises that stream of love to the brotherhood, tated a moment, and then sketched rapidly a Self-denial .- John Wesley, arm in arm with or to put a speedy stop thereto; for their root of bitterness springing up, trouble you, and the speedy stop thereto; for their root of bitterness springing up, trouble you, and tractices and works of darkness tend to and thereby many be defiled."—1804.—

The bitterness springing up, trouble you, into the fire: but if you have the liberty, the manhood to do it, you will have added pounds it and unity, and many times injure the watching over one another for good; and place among you; for, saith our Lord, 'If ye the glorious liberty of the sons of God, and to be free indeed."-M. Rhodes.

The After-thought. - A soldier records a iscord, or breach of unity, in any Quar-story is told of Agassiz, the great naturalist, striking fact in regard to his experience in Monthly, or Particular Meeting; to the His father destined him for a commercial life, battle. In the wild exhibitantion of the fight Sion may continue a quiet habitation, the and was impatient at his devotion to frogs, he was utterly insensible to the fact that his y and presence of God rest and remain snakes, and fishes. The last especially were shots were carrying death to men. This was er, and the spirit and doctrine of the gos-objects of the boy's attention. His vacations not thought of once in the mad intoxication nay be lived in and maintained; and then he spent in making journeys on foot through of the storm of shot and shell. But when the o not doubt of seeing Truth prevail in the Europe, examining the different species of surge of battle brought him to the place of our days, and the glorious and spirit fresh-water fishes. He came to London with where the wounded enemy lay dying, then tingdom of our blessed Redeemer estab-d in the hearts of men."—1726.

Letters of introduction to Sir Roderick Mur-chison. "You have been studying nature," loaded and fired for hours." he said, "without said the great man, bluntly. "What have to renew with earnestness the former you learned?" The lad was timid, not sure whom my shot had pierced, and when I beces of this meeting, that all Friends de at that moment that be had learned any thing. held his life-blood ebbing out, I was utterly

Religious Items, &c.

Instrumental Music.—The Presbyterians of nerly love, nor any root of bitterness to Roderick rose and said: "I have a young Scotland who are opposed to the use of inwithout earnestly and affectionately friend here from Switzerland, who thinks he strumental music in times of worship, have avoring to remove the cause; and be care knows something about fishes; how much I organized an Association to promote their mely to prevent the growth of differences have a fancy to try. There is under this cloth views, engaged a man to lecture on the subneir first appearance, that all breach of a perfect skeleton of a fish which existed ject, and prepared a petition to the General nony, strife and discord may be kept long before man." He then gave the precise Assembly or Synod, to be signed by the memon, and excluded. And let all detraction or locality in which it had been found, with one bers of the church. This petition sets forth nation, whispering and tale-bearing, be or two other facts concerning it. The species that, though instrumental music was part of ediately discountenanced and reproved to which the specimen belonged was of course the Temple service under the Old Testament, A whisperer separateth chiefriends, and extinct. "Can you steecth for me on that yet in the present more spiritual dispensation blackboard your idea of this fish?" said Sip" all ritualistic and sensuous forms of worship scribed or practised by Christ and his Apostles eluding the sale of alcoholic drinks; and this the room first, and according to custom t under the Christian system.'

mental music was used in the Christian enhanced it."-Law and Order. Church, it being introduced at length with the other corruptions of Romanism, and rejected with that system at the Reformation.'

Salvation Army.—The rigid discipline of General Booth in London continues. A few days ago Captain Gipsy Smith, leader of the Salvation Army Corps in Hanley, accepted a lowing anecdote of a dog. gold watch and testimonial as a token of respect on his leaving the district. For receive of these dogs, and I now relate an anecdote ous to have their share of the sport. As ing this the Captain has been discharged from concerning them during our passage across as they had got their noses well down in the Army by General Booth, and two Lieu- from Greenland. tenants, who also received watches, will only be reinstated on giving them up to the Army. The circumstance has caused much comment.

Brighton Beach race-course announced that encircle me, until every one had received ten fallen and humiliated. the proceeds of a certain day would be given of the capelins apiece. to the (Roman Catholic) Church. A large fill their church treasuries.

great Crystal Palace fete of the Church of of [7th mo.], Canon Wilberforce bad the Chris- getting three portions to each of the others' a strong preventer of microbes, is very w tian hardihood to denounce the leasing of one. This was enough, and it was now time as a disinfectant. church property for saloon or public house for me to reverse the order of Barbekark's 4. Nor is there parallelism between to say. I mean to say it, and I mean to ask fish; and although he changed his position carbolic acid, preservative agents par the reporters to put it down. I have it here three times he got nothing. Finding he cellence, have little effect on putrefact in print, and it is this, that this great Church could not succeed by any change of his posi-onee commenced. of England, to which I belong, is the greatest tion, he withdrew from the circle to where I 5. With exception of a very small num owner of public house property of any corpora- was, and came to me, crowding his way be- of substances that are strong poisons, tion in the whole of England at this moment, tween my legs, and looked up in my face as bichloride of mercury,) most antisepties, It is stated that on the lands of the Bishop of if to say, 'I have been a very bad dog; for-lotably carbolic acid, have very little act London there is one public bouse called the give me. Please give me wy share of capelins.' on bacteria. 'Hero of Waterloo,' of which the returns are I went the rounds three times more and let £10,000 a year. Where does it all come from ? him have the fish." The hard-earned wages of the working classes; J. G. Wood says: "One of my friends had and the toxical power of volatile compou and if we as clergymen are commissioned to a couple of little toy-terrier dogs. As is given off by it; indeed, these properties se do anything at all it is to stand by the side of usually the case in such instances, though to be even in inverse ratio. A frog is pla the working classes against the temptations very fond of each other, they were jealous in an inclosure with some of the liquid. WI that are put before them. It is asserted that with regard to their master, and neither could put refaction sets in a very fetid odor is possession of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, pened that one of them broke its leg, and and is known to be very virulent if inject they have it valued by a professional valuer was in consequence much petted. Its com-under the skin of an animal; but the fi and the church will also grant ground leases, the injured animal, pretended to be lame itself, After two months the liquid ceases to be for the creetion of a public house, as may be and came limping to its master, holding up virulent properties, but the animal breath seen on the Paddington estate."

Later he has addressed a letter embodying if it were in great pain." these statements to the Archbishop of Canterbury, in which he says

"I am not unaware of the difficulties of re- served by one of my friends. pairing the past. The sight of my own glebe lease, whether approved by the Commis-head of a sofa.

"That no instrumental music was pre-sioners or not, without a rigorous clause exaction, so far from depreciating the value of straightway for the eushion, on which "That for hundreds of years, no instru-the house property on the land, has rather established themselves comfortably, occ

> For "The Friend." Natural History, Science, &c.

Cheatery in Animals.—Captain Hall, author of the room, and suddenly began to ser of Life Among the Esquimaux, gives the fol- violently, barking, growling and sniffing

"I have before mentioned some particulars others, all blazing with excitement, and a whole of them around me, and gave to each round, and was happy. However, she of them in turn a capelin, or small dried fish. generous in victory, and made room for Unholy Gains. - The proprietor of the To do this fairly, I used to make all the dogs others as they came back to the sofa, or

"Now, Barbekark, a very young and shrewd after a series of experiments on the effect crowd and considerable gate-money were the dog, took it into his head that he would play antisepties in arresting putrefaction, are results. The receipts, amounting to two thousa trick. So that every time he received his at the following conclusions: sand dollars, in accordance with the pledge, fish he would back square out, move a distance were handed over to the priest. But when of two or three dogs, and face himself in line is weaker the older the putrefaction. the facts came to the cars of Bishop Lough- again, thus receiving double the share of every lin, he not only ordered the money returned other dog. But this joke of Barbekark's be (in order) permanganate of potash, chlo to the donor, but suspended the priest. This spoke too much of the game that many men of lime, sulphate of iron acidified with ac fact is commended to the attention of those play upon their fellow beings, and, as I noticed acid, carbolic acid, and the glyceroborate Protestant Christians who have dull con-it, I determined to cheek his doggish pro-sodium and potassium. sciences as to the sources from which they pensities. Still the cunning and the singular way in which he evidently watched me in-feetant action and action on microbes, Canon Wilberforce's Denunciation .- At the duced a moment's pause in my intentions.

England Temperance Society, on the fourth now commenced making another change, thus no appreciable action on microbes; also purposes in the following strong language: game by playing a trick upon him. Accord power of preventing putrefaction and the "Now I have something very disagreeable ingly every time I came to him he got no stopping it when it has arisen. Alcohol game by playing a trick upon him. Accord-power of preventing putrefaction and tha when the lease of a public house falls into the endure to see the other caressed. It so hap-duced, and the liquid swarms with bacte to see whether the rental can be increased, panion, seeing the attention that was paid to merely breathing the effluvia, takes no ha the corresponding leg, and trying to look as its volatile products is killed.

"He has three little black-and-tan terriers, ous. Prof. Le Bon ascertained that they studded, by consent of the Ecclesiastical Com- father, mother and daughter, which are great so to man. missioners, with drink shops; the knowledge pets, and consider the house as their own that some of the income of my own incum- property. Like most pet dogs, they have from bodies long buried, and prove that bency is derived from this very source sad-their favorite spots by way of conches; and atmosphere of cemeteries (contrary to where the spots of the dens and humbles me; but the future is yet as they all three generally take a fancy to the has been affirmed on the score of there be in our hands; the method which I have same spot, there is occasionally a difference few microbes present) may be very dang adopted with much blessing in the case of of opinion and a slight loss of temper. The ons. In connection with typhoid fever, my own glebe is, that of refusing to sign any one pet spot of all is a soft cushion at the and other affections, the volatile alkaloids p

"One day the father and daughter got ing the whole of its surface. Presently mother came in, and also went to the cust She tried to take her place on it, but he

"Presently she went to the farthest co she were digging out a rat. Up jumped corner, the mother ran to the sofa at "One day, in feeding the dogs, I called the speed, jumped on the cushion, curled be

Experiments with Antiseptics.—Prof. Le 1

1. The disinfectant power of any antise

2. The strongest disinfectants appear t

3. There is no parallelism between di minute organisms.) Thus, permanganat "Seeing my face smiling at his trick, he potash, so strong in the former respect,

6. There is no parallelism between virulent power of a substance in putrefact

7. The very small quantity of products "A curious and rather ludierous instance advanced putrefaction necessary to kill of cheating, on the part of the dog, was ob- animal by simple mixture with air prothese volatile alkaloids to be extremely pois

8. The experiments explain the evils aris: duced by action of microbes on certain orga ances are doubtless largely active .-

ted. pansion of Rice.—Some time ago a vespaded with rice put into port at East ed up until the sides of the vessel were and stations in the church. open. It is not often, perhaps, that tions instead of the powder blast .-

THE FRIEND.

TENTH MONTH 14, 1882,

conducting the affairs of the church, the onclusions so arrived at, they might use of the hearers. anguage of the assembled Church at Jebrought into subjection, fervently seek prepared to believe. ow and do the will of the Lord, and to ar character contained in the epistles honor, that so self being baptized into death, forth in ancient times by the Yearly the gifts may be used in the power of the reing of London, will show how fully the surrection of the life of Jesus in him." ious character of Meetings for Discipline recognized by our early Friends.

crown and beauty.

"Let all your affairs be managed in meetings, in the peaceable wisdom and in all your assemblies."

10. "Keep all your meetings, as well r, and peaceable spirit of his dear Son, h Christ, which is the alone true authorto nothing.

ed, carefully to keep to and in that au- equal with them.' ty; and therein manage all the business ffairs of the said meetings."

and spirit of God.

1706. "So will all be done in a holy awe, on, leaking badly, and an effort was reverence and humility, and none will intrude

ted. This force is so certain that it is nection therewith have been provided, or have times usefully employed in quarrying grown up. The clerk who sits at the table, is not a presiding officer, in the sense in which meeting, whose duty it is to record the decisions which have been dietated to those assembled by the Spirit of the Holy Head. In governed not solely by the numbers of those government was founded on the principles of ty of Friends has always believed that, who have spoken in the meetings, but also by e members, on whom the management the superior authority due to age, experience discipline and business devolved, were and wisdom, and above all by the sensible ings as directly opposed to the teachings of iently inward and weighty in spirit, evidence of the Divine influence which often would be Divinely assisted in these im-accompanies words spoken in the fear of the nt concerns; and that in reference to Lord, and which impresses itself on the hearts

The practice which prevails in the synods anguage of the assembled Chirch at Jeem formerly, when they wrote to the and conferences of some religious denominatial advocates, have always regarded such screts societies with disfavor, as inconsistent to subjection to the Jewish rites majority vote, is one that cannot be intotions, of deciding questions which arise by a split into subjection to the Jewish rites majority vote, is one that cannot be intotions of deciding questions which arise by a scret societies with disfavor, as inconsistent with that openness and sincerity of character into which Christianity leads its followers; Ghost and unto us."

George Fox exfrom the principles which have heretography to premive from a decidedly but. d his friends to hold all their meetings governed us. Such a change, we believe, will joining such organizations, as decidedly hurte Power of God. This is necessary to not only be an evidence of an incipient change ful to their growth in religion. served in meetings for discipline, as well in principle already accomplished, but greatly those for worship. For it the members promote the spread of a worldly spirit in the tractions. And yet, if William Penn were the practically recognize the headship of transactions of our church business, and lead personally present, he could not countenance st in these assemblies, know their own to results which few at the present time are such an exhibition of what he would regard

Is there not need to revive the carnest lan- ment. pt in a humble, patient spirit, in which guage of Stephen Crisp to the church in his A life of William Penn, in a portable form, blace is given to the views and feelings day: "It is no man's learning, or artificial has recently been issued, and may be prohers; the true authority of these meet- acquirements; it is no man's riches or greatwill be lost, and they will gradually be loss in this world; it is no man's eloquence It seems to be a suitable time to have such a little more than business conventions, or natural wisdom, that makes him fit for work widely distributed, so that the public ged in a worldly manner and spirit; and government in the Church of Christ; all his may know more of the real character of this will lose that Divine authority which is endowments must be seasoned with the hear truly great man, and of those sound views of e following few extracts from many of a of God's altar, a sacrifice to his peaise and and promulgation of which he not only labored

Isaac Penington clearly points out the propriety of recognizing the different degrees of growth, and the difference in authority and influence among the members of the Church, of our Lord Jesus Christ; not striving in the following passage in an epistle to Friends earing one with and for another; that about Chalfont: "If God hath made a differpower of Christ may rest upon you, and ence, and given degrees of life, and gifts different, according to his pleasure; what wisdom and spirit is that which doth not for good order, charity and Christian acknowledge this, but would make all equal? pline, as those set apart entirely for the Oh, my Friends! fear before the Lord; honor hip of God, in his love, and in the name, the Lord in his appearances, and in the differences which He hath made among the children of men, and among his people. He gave fall our meetings; for without Him we prophets of old, and the rest of the people proper compensation to the Indians." were not equal with them. He gave evangel-03. "Our Monthly and Quarterly Meet-lists, apostles, pastors, teachers, &c., and the being set up by the power and in the wis- other members of the church were not equal

"And let the man's part and natural wis- cessions, and other ceremonies proposed to dom and attainments, be subject to the power be observed on the occasion of the Bi-Centennial celebration of the landing of William Penn in America.

We are sensible of the difficulty there is in to pump her out and unload her, but themselves into things too high for them, nor arranging any order of proceedings which e this could be accomplished the rice exalt themselves above their proper growths shall be sufficiently attractive to meet the popular demand for an imposing display, and open. It is not often, perhaps, that It is on this basis—of the religious charac- yet be at all in keeping with the religious nolecular forces get such full play as in ter of our Meetings for Discipline, and the views and principles of William Penn, who ase, but a good many cases of bad leak-distinct recognition of the Headship of Christ bore a very decided testimony against all caused by swelling cargoes have been therein,-that all our arrangements in con-pride and ostentation; and therefore we do not look at the work of the committee who have had charge of this matter in a critical spirit. Yet there are some of the features the term is understood as to bodies different-embraced in the proposed celebration, so ly constituted. He is the servant of the manifestly in opposition to the character of the Founder of our Commonwealth, that we will briefly refer to them.

A grand military review seems strangely ascertaining what those decisions are, he is out of place in doing honor to a man whose peace, who went unarmed among the Indian natives, and who rejected all wars and fightour Saviour and his apostles.

A display of Knights Templars is scarcely more in good taste, when we reflect that the Society of Friends, of whose views William Penn was one of the ablest and most influen-

A musical festival is to be one of the attractions. And yet, if William Penn were as time and talents wasted on mere amuse-

A life of William Penn, in a portable form, eured at the Book Store, No. 304 Arch Street. venly salt, and his gifts pass through the fire Christian faith and practice, in the defence earnestly and long, but endured imprisonment and other sufferings. We hope our readers may be quick to embrace all right openings to circulate this work in suitable channels.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES .- It is intimated at the Post Office Department that a surplus of about $2,000,000 will be preparament that a surpus of about $2,00,000 will be left of the appropriations for the Star Route service during the last fiscal year.

The Secretary of the Interior has sent a letter to the Commissioner of the General Land Office respecting the claims of the Turtle Mountain Indians to certain lands in Dakota, lying north and west of Devil's Lake.

The Secretary ways be is "of the online into the claims." names in Dasoca, jying norm and west of Devi's Lake, The Secretary says he is "of the opinion that the claim is not well founded; yet if it should appear, on a care-ful examination of the facts, that such a claim does exist, it will be the duty of the Government to make lars to the Indian Agents directing them to give to their Indians the notice required by act of Congress, "that while the Government is disposed to treat them of God, which is the authority of those with them. He hath given fathers and elders kindly and even generously, and to extend to them ings, all Friends are tenderly desired and now, and the bases and young men are not fortable living for themselves and families, yet they must remember that there is now no treaty or other of ligation on the part of the Government to support them, We have received a programme of the pro- and that what they are now receiving is purely a gift, pected to labor for their own support.

General Suter, of the Engineer Corps, in charge of the Missouri river improvements, has sent his annual report to the War Department. It shows an expenditure of $389,254 during the last fiscal year, and esti-

The Secretary of the Board of Agriculture of Ohio, has sent to Washington the following crop estimates, based on returns from all the counties of the State: Wheat, total bushels, 45,787,811; rye, 406,157; oats, 18,435,779; barley, 1,337,309; corn, 87,005,580; potatoes, 8,900,000; sweet potatoes, per cent. average crop, 100; tobacco do. 74; sorghum do., 92; corn do., 87; potatoes, 101. Yield per acre in bushels: Wheat, 16.7; rye, 15.8; oats, 28; barley, 19.9. The condition of pastures and live stock is excellent, except that hog cholera is reported in a few counties.

The Commissioner of Agriculture of Tennessee reorts the following average of the crops in that State ports the fortowing average of une crops in fund state for 9th month: Corn, 172; cutton, 104; sorghinn, 135; turnips, 105; tobacco, 117; millet, 114; late Irish pota-toes, 131; sweet potatoes, 127; apples, 134; peaches, 106; grapes, 99; melons, 118; garden products, 137; buckwheat, 108; peanuts, 100; stock peas, 125. The Board of Aldermen of New York have fixed the amount to be raised by taxation in that city at $27 .-684,427 and the rate at $2,25. Last year the rate was $2.62.

The steamer Durban sailed for the Cape of Good Hope on the 6th inst., from Southampton, England. the exports increased £22,000 compared with the same are invited.

She had on board Professor Newcomb and his party, month in 1881.

On behalf sent by the United States Government to observe the transit of Venus. The steamship Herder, which left New York on the 5th instant, for Hamburg, with 145 passengers, ran aground near Cape Race, Newfoundland, during a thick fog, on First-day night, 10th mo. 8th. The passengers and crew were all saved. The Herder was built at Glasgow, in 1873, was 3494 tons burthen, and valued at $500,000. Her cargo was valued at $100,000. She will probably prove a total wreck, but part of her cargo may be saved. All the mails and the baggage of the passengers were got ashore.

On the morning of the 5th inst., Barnard, at Nash ville, and Professor Wilson, at Cincinnati, discovered that the nucleus of the comet had split into three unequal fragments, the largest estimated at 15,000 miles in length. The space between the fragments is estimated at 2000 miles. The nucleus had assumed the form of a long strip, not less than 24,000 miles in length and 3000 in breadth; but the disturbance makes no difference in the appearance of the comet to the naked eye. On the morning of the 9th, Professor Brooks, at Phelps, New York, took another observation of the joint control is extravagant, and that £400,000 might comet, and detected "great changes in the head. "The be sayed annually by the substitution of efficient natives nucleus was greatly elongated and clearly split into equal parts. A small crescent-shaped envelope was also being thrown in front of the head." A telegram also being thrown in front or the head." A telegram from Rochester says: "The separation of the nucleus the British Ambassdor, to the fact that the note of the of Crule' comet into three parts was again seen this morning by H. C. Maine, of this city. This observation bears out his theory that the fragments revolve if Lord Dufferin did not reply he would address himabout a common centre of gravity, alternately closing and separating. A separation was seen by Mr. Maine Sept. 30th. By October 2d the parts had nearly closed up. On the 5th Mr. Barnard saw a second separation. up. On the off Mr. Barthard saw a second separation. The British in the trendess at letter-roun long save.

Again the parts were partially closed together. On all resistance had ceased. A letter from a non-comble sth Prof. Brooks saw a pear-shape nucleus, and on miscioned officer of the Forty-second regiment, pubthe 9th Mr. Maine saw a separation. The separations [lished in the Times, says the orders were to spare none thus occur in periods of about four days.

deaths were reported at Pensacola on First-day last, and forty-eight new cases and five deaths on Secondday. Total cases to the last date, 1300; deaths, 112.

For the week ending 10th month 7th, there were 353 deaths in Philadelphia, as compared with 348 for the with fever.

previous week, and 347 for the corresponding week of A desnate last year. Of the whole number, 170 were males and 183 females: 51 died of consumption; 24 of diphtheria; 15 of croup; 15 of marasmus; 17 of old age, and 9 of typhoid fever.

Markets, &c.-U. S. 3½'s, 100%; 4½'s, registered, 113;

Cotton.—There was no essential change to notice in price or demand. Sales of middlings are reported at 11¼ a 12½ cts. per lb. for uplands and New Orleans. Petroleum.—Standard white, 8 cts. for export, and 9 cts. per gallon for home use.

Flour is in fair local request and steady. Sales of and that there must come a time when they will be expected to labor for their own support."

$5.25 a $5.75, and patents at $6.50 a $8. Rye flour is firm at $4.25 a $4.374.

Grain.-Wheat is in good request and higher. Sales of $000 bushels red, at $1.10 a $1.13, as to quality and location; 70,000 bush. 11th mo. at $1.08\frac{2}{3} a $1.09\frac{1}{3}; 10,000 bush. 12th mo. at $1.09% a $1.10%, and 10,000 ture of $555,254 uring the last uscal year, and each 10,000 uslah. 12th mo, at $1.09; a $1.112, Fee is steady at 8 a 70 a ratilley forces, with large supplies of amountion during the next fiscal year in continuation of the im cts. Corn is in good request and higher. Sales of 9500 bushels, 1 tilt mo, sold 69\(\frac{1}{2}\) a 73 cts. At the open board, says, peace negotiations between Chili and Peru 1

The Secretary of the Board of Agriculture of Ohio, has 75,000 bushels, 11th mo, sold 69\(\frac{1}{2}\) a 70\(\frac{1}{2}\) cts. Oats are been broken off because of the refusal of Chili to a bushels, in car lots at 69 a 73 cts. At the open board, 75,000 bushels, 11th mo., sold 69\secain 70\frac{1}{2} cts. Oats are in fair demand and higher. Sales of $12,000 bushels, including white, at 43 a 45 cts., and rejected and mixed at 30 a 37 cts.

Beef cattle were in fair demand this week, but prices were a fraction lower: 4500 head arrived and sold at other is to be Saskatchewan, the capital for which the different yards at 4 a 7 cts. per lb., as to condition. Sheep were rather dull, and prices were a fraction The protato crop of Nova Scotia and Prince Edws lower: 15,000 head arrived and sold at the different Island are reported to be "exceedingly large" this to quality. Hogs were in demand at full prices: 3500 head sold at the different yards at 11 a 12\frac{3}{2} cts. per pound, as to condition. FOREIGN.—The national debt of England on 3d mo. 31st, was reported recently to Parliament as amounting, pay the mioers $10 per day. net, to $3,645,280,514, the total funded debt to $3.547. 492,738, and the gross amount of the debt $3,814,163, 424. During the year ending at the same date the total reduction of debt was $37,242,227.

The returns issued by the Board of Trade show that during the month just past British imports decreased house on Twelfth St., below Market, on Sixth-day, £55,000 compared with that month in last year, while mo. 13th, at 8 p. m. Others interested in the sut month in 1881.

Prof. Blackie and others are about to start a fresh land agitation in the Highlands. The movement is wholly independent of the Land League party. In a speech at Glasgow on the 4th inst., Sir Stafford Northcote said he believed the Egyptian war was unnecessary and unjustifiable. Had the Government made averted

Several cases of Asiatic cholera are reported at Modane, on the French side of the Mount Cenis Tunnel. All mail bags passing through that place have to be disinfected. A commission of physicians has arrived to investigate the source, character and extent of the isease. The Paris Telegraphe reports that the French and English Directors of the Snez Canal Company, at a meeting on the 5th inst., came to a complete agreement in favor of the improvement and enlargement of the canal, in view of the expected increase of traffic.

Sultan Pasha, President of the Turkish Chamber of Notables, thinks that Turkish intervention in Egypt would mean anarchy, and maintains that the cost of the be saved annually by the substitution of efficient natives for foreign officials. He admits that the mass of the population is unfit for a representative government.

The Sultan has called the attention of Lord Dufferin, the British Ambassador, to the fact that the note of the Porte inquiring when the British troops will leave self to the Powers.

The Cairo correspondent of the Cologne Gazette declares that the Egyptian wounded were murdered by the British in the trenches at Tel-el-Kebir long after of the enemy, and to bayonet every one of them, as they Seventy-seven new cases of yellow fever and two would shoot the soldiers treacherously if the latter passed them.

A despatch from Suez to the Exchange Telegraph Company reports a water famine there. What water remains in the canal is putrid. Many persons are sick

A despatch from Cairo, to the Times, says: Arabi Pasha demands a trial by Englishmen, saying he sur-rendered to them, and that he would have escaped if he had known he was to be tried by Egyptians, from whom he expects no mercy. De Lesseps has tele-graphed to the President of the Court Martial, at Cairo, by which Arabi Pasha is to be tried, testifying that during the war Arabi excrted himself to maintain the neutrality of the Sucz Canal, and that he protected the lives and interests of several Europeans in Egypt.

It is believed that the English counsel sent by Wilfrid Blunt to defend Arabi Pasha will be denied access to him, the Egyptian Government being of opinion 2900 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $6 a $6.75; that legal assistance from such a quarter will be of no Penna, extra family at $4.75 a $5; western do. do. at avail, since the pleadings will be heard in Arabic.

Reports come from the Mexican State of Sonora the Yaqui and Mayo Indians, numbering together 000 souls, "are joining forces and preparing for a eral outbreak." The Yaquis are under Cajeno, a who fought with the French during their occupa and it is said "he has organized cavalry, infantry any of her demands

It is said that the Dominion Government has dec to create two new provinces in the Northwest. to be Qu' Appelle, with Regina as its capital. not yet decided upon.

yards at 3 a 5 cts., and lambs at 4 a 7 cts. per lb., as son, and prices are expected to be very low.

New gold fields have been discovered in the Car and Lilloet districts of British Columbia. In the la district, "Indians have brought in $4000 worth of dust from the Bridge river, some pieces weighing as much as $10." In the Cariboo district, the digg

A Temperance Meeting, designed especially Teachers in Friends' Schools in and near Philadelp and members of Committees in charge of the sam to be held in the Committee-room of Friends' Meet

On behalf of the Friends' Temperance Association THOMAS SCATTERGOOD, Philada., 10th mo, 10th, 1882. Chairma

NOTICE.

I will answer, through "The Friend," the postals necessary and unjustifiable. Had the Government made letters received in regard to sending clothing, &c. a firm stand at the beginning, the war might have been needy friends. We have many letters from the St and West, asking for plain clothing, plain bonnets shawls for winter, spring and summer; bedding partly worn carpets for old and afflicted; warm c ing for rheumatic persons, who are unable to work for want of it; caps and handkerchiefs for old Frier shoes and stockings, &c., &c. All such things ma sent to Friends' Book Store, No. 304 Arch St., P. delphia. Those packing bales and boxes are des to make a list of the contents and forward it to m advance, so that they may be marked and forwar direct to the point where they are most needed, without extra expense, and oblige
H. H. Bonwill, 912 Wallace St., Phil

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL

The Winter Session begins on Second-day, T month 30th, 1882. Parents and others intending send pupils, will please make early application JONATHAN G. WILLIAMS, Supt., address Westlown F Chester Co., Pa.; or to Charles J. Allen, Teasu 304 Arch St., Philadelphia. Terms, $80 per session

WANTED, A woman Friend, as teacher in the Boarding Sch for Indian children, at Tunesassa; also one to as Jos. S. Elkinton, 325 Pine street, Philada. John Sharpless, Chester, Delaware Co., Ps. Ephraim Smith, 1110 Pine street, Philada

DIED, in this city, Eighth mo. 10th, 1882, SAE LEWIS, daughter of the late Evan and Sidney I Lewis, in the 58th year of her age, a member of Ph delphia Monthly Meeting.

—, Ninth mo. 1st, 1882, at her residence in C den, N. J., AMY E. Alsor, widow of the late Willi J. Alsop, an esteemed member of Newton Partice and Haddonfield Monthly Meeting of Friends, in 76th year of her age. Though this dear Friend unexpectedly called hence to be seen of men no mi yet her family and friends are comforted by the be that she was prepared for the solemn change. In c and whilst in ordinary health, she said, There was terror in the prospect of death-all was peace.

—, at her residence in this city, on Ninth mo 2nd, 1882, Sidney Hibberd, in the 84th year of age, an esteemed member of Northern District Mont Meeting.

WILLIAM II. PILE, PRINTER. No. 422 Walnut Street.

FRIEND. THR

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, TENTH MONTH 21, 1882.

NO. 11.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

e, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to

JOSEPH WALTON. MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

Ancient Testimonies and Advices. E DUE OBSERVANCE OF ALL OUR MEETINGS ; ITH THE RIGHT EXERCISE OF MIND IN THEM Dear Friends, we tenderly advise and nort you, that, in all your assemblies for worship of Almighty God, you wait to l your hearts influenced by his power, and patience and humility possess your souls, pending upon Christ alone for instruction; o, whether immediately by his Spirit, or ir minds inward to the Lord, that every one of need."-1752. y witness Him who is the Master of our

odness toward the children of men.

is the crown and diadem of our assemblies, changeably true and steadfast: Where two Take care, we beseech you, in this day of ease or three are gathered together in my name, and liberty, lest a spirit of lukewarmness and there am I in the midst of them.' And as indifference prevail over you, to the stopping your affections come to be set on things that up of the streams of the water of life, and are above, your delight will be in frequent rendering you like the barren heath in the retirement from the world, its trade and con-desert, which knoweth not when good cometh. cerns, and your chiefest care will be to lay We entrent you to be especially watchful in up treasure in heaven secure from the reach this behalf, that an indolent and sluggish dis- of corruption and disappointment; and then, position appear not amongst you, to the stumbling of such serious enquirers as may attend be also. But, on the contrary, it hath been our meetings, in expectation of that life and justly observed, that where remissness and power, which the observation of your indiffer- neglect of attending meetings of worship hath ence and unconcernedness may give them too prevailed, it hath been too often an inlet to just cause to suspect that ye yourselves are further decleusion, and an introducer to such strangers to."—1741.

nnited to God, and one unto another, we shall experience the attracting power and force of public assemblies appeared to our faithful Divine love, drawing and strongly inclining predecessors of such consequence, that neither our hearts to a constant attendance at the the severity of human laws, the violence of appointed times and places for the public misled magistrates, nor the insults of an worship of God, who is love, and he that ignorant unthinking populace, could deter trumentally by his servants, is the teacher dwelleth in love, dwelleth in him.' This Di-them from meeting together, at their usual his people himself; in whose Spirit only vine love induced our worthy elders to main-times and places, for the maintenance of ght our whole trust, expectation, and de-tain their religious assemblies with an invin-their Christian testimony. And now, it hath dence to be. And as you are found hum cible constancy; for they, following the call of pleased Divine Providence to favor us with waiting for his teaching, without expectations, is it their Heavenly Shepherd, resorted the removal of those cruel obstructions, is it ion from man, He will administer comfort carnestly to those places of feeding where He less than an ungrateful abuse of such mercy your souls, either immediately or instru- [more largely on these occasions] ministered and goodness, for any of us to suffer the enintally, as it shall seem good to Him, who food to the hungry, and waters of life to those snaring profits, the vain delights, the flatterver faileth those who put their trust in who were athirst; and filled with the consoling friendships of a delusive world, or an in-ma. And all such, from the experience of lations of his Spirit the souls of those who dolent disposition of mind, to deprive us of blessings and the comforts they receive, waited upon Him in sincerity and truth. The ll bave a due esteem and regard for those same spiritual comforts and advantages are of eternal importance? It is not enough for rough whom they find them conveyed; as-to this day measurably enjoyed by those, who us, to meet in order for public worship, when bing, nevertheless, the praise and glory of with the like ardent desires, and earnest breath- we find little or nothing else to do. The to Him alone, whose instruments they ings of soul, are humbly waiting to receive Lord Almighty requires the first fruits, the s; and who, by his own power and Spirit, them. Let us therefore, brethren, as many prime of our service, and will not accept the orketh either with them, or without them, of us as have been remiss in this great and refuse, either of our time or talents. If we cording to his good pleasure, in the various necessary duty of religiously assembling to prefer worldly pursuits, or idle amusements, mifestations of his infinite wisdom and gether, be incited to double our diligence for at times when we ought to be solemnly en-"Beware, therefore, that you assemble not reverence bow before the Lord, and draw near said, that 'we follow after lying vanities, and a mere formal and customary manner; but 'unto the throne of his grace,' that we may forsake our own mercies?' The promise of both preacher and hearer labor to gather obtain 'mercy, and find grace to help in time the Saviour to be in the midst of the two or

"We find ourselves, dearly beloved brethren, gleness of heart, in all your meetings, that week-day meetings, may grow, increase, and tion?

""" week-day meetings, may grow, increase, and tion?" "Shall the poor perishing gratifications of the Holy Spirit, by which you as the proper means of renewing your strength, sense and self-love, or any inconveniences of ce and devotion of heart and soul for the from constantly attending those meetings, excuse for declining this duty and thereby power and life-giving presence of God, which inasmuch as the words of Christ remain unother undue liberties as Truth and its guid-"Dearly beloved Friends, as we become ance do by no means admit of."-1754

"The due and constant support of their the time to come, and with an holy awe and gaged in this great duty, may it not justly be three gathered in his name, by implication invites us, not only to meet with one another, semblies to go before them, and put them carnestly concerned to remind you of another but, in so doing with himself also. Shall the thin their respective services. The immetoken of degeneracy too visible among us; King of kings and Lord of lords, condescend tte teaching of the Holy Spirit is the founda-viz: a negligence in attending our appointed to offer his Divine presence for our good, and a for all gospet worship and ministry; and meetings for worship, both on the First-day shall we, his dependent creatures, set so light been destrictly thereon, shall not and other days of the week. A neglect which by his inestimable kindness, as, either wilfully disappointed, through the failure or ab-calls for seasonable reproof, and a pressing ex-or negligently, to let slip those precious seance of instrumental means. Wherefore, we hortation, that a religious concern of attend- sons wherein we might receive his blessed asseech you, wait in silence, with reverence and ing all your meetings, and especially of your sistance, so necessary to our help and salva-

Il be strengthened in the inward man, and and as suitable opportunities of abstracting a trivial nature, be suffered to prevent our made to grow and flourish as 'trees planted your thoughts from the hurries and ineum-dutiful attendance upon Him in whom alone the rivers of water, which bring forth pir fut in due season."—1740.

braness of worldly affairs, and of habituating stands our everlasting interest? Shall a your methods, in all your meetings applied to the property of th depriving ourselves of the blessed advantage, schools." Hence, no effort should be spared their school-work, and to place them at marl The London Epistles.

Home Training.

BY GERTRUDE W. CARTLAND.

often justly, of particularly happy and attractive homes, where "the daily round of duty duties-a want of the patient self-sacrifice, sometimes so beautifully exemplified in the them, and affect their intellectual and social home-life. Intelligent and well-meaning parents too often fail to appreciate the mutual they leave the shelter of the parental wing. loss sustained by themselves, and their chilwhich robs the home of its greatest charm, of our most experienced minds. and its most precious privileges.

Even our Bible Schools are of questionable benefit when they are permitted to separate parents and children, and to occupy perhaps the only unbroken hours in the week, which the father can spend with his family. One No question, it seems to me, presses itself with 'Friends' School,' for the time previously d can but feel pained to notice this infringement stronger claim upon our consideration, or voted to her music, in which she became of the school upon the private family com- bears more closely upon the object of our proficient, she regarded as quite wasted, sin munion, and also, in many cases, upon our Association. What course of study and dis- it afforded her nothing which proved of an meetings for worship; since the confinement cipline is best suited to promote the culture to school is not infrequently regarded as a of the whole being? Not to produce that sufficient tax upon the child; and thus a habit which is weak, and superficial, and aimless, the conscientions parent or teacher to set of neglecting meetings is early acquired. Con- or mere machines, running in certain grooves than what recreations are safe and benefici trasting this state of things with Bible instructof usefulness, but a living power for good, for our children. Can we do better in the tion in the undisturbed and free intercourse capable of adapting itself to the varied condi-of the home-circle, its sacred truths impressed tions and demands of life. I believe those peals to the resthetic element, than to confor-upon the young heart, as only a loving and who are laboring in the field, with a desire to our teachings and practice to the Christia devout parent can impress them, and then obtain the best fruits, will become fully per standard held up by the mother of Wesle the diligent attendance with their parents on snaded that those intellectual pursuits, those "Whatever weakens your reason, impairs the

and when circumstances require its early loss not easily repaired. transplantig into foreign gardens, it is a necessity always to be regretted.

not always the most profitable.

often vouchsafed to the faithful, of enjoying to make our homes the centres of intelligence disadvantage, beside others of their class; heavenly communion together in spirit, with and sweet Christian influences, and when the at a subsequent period, when called to a si the Lord of life and glory?"-1765.-From time arrives, as it does to most young people lar charge in a school controlled by Frien in this country, that they have ontgrown the I was ready to approve what seemed th intellectual resources of home, and must be wiser judgment, in excluding music from placed at school, how surely the discerning list of studies. teacher reads in their attaiments and tendencies, the record of their home training. Thus, The Society of Friends has the credit, and the family helps to give the school its tone, and the school in turn reacts upon the family. With the careful instruction, the warm chariis cheerfully and faithfully performed; but we ties and refinements of a Christian home, must still confess to humiliating deficiencies, children conform almost unconsciously to a "Suppose your pupil to begin music at We can but note a practical ignoring on the correct moral standard, and acquire habits of years of age, and to continue the average part of many parents, of their high and holy clear thinking, of definite expression, of nice four hours every week-day, -a very low c discrimination in the use of language, of kind-culation,-until she is eighteen, it will give watchful care, and loving authority, which ness and courtesy in manner, and above all, total of 14,400 hours, or 1,440 working da their sacred relations demand, and which are habits of devout meditation, which abide with of 10 hours each, equal to 4.8 years. pursuits, and spiritual progress, long after contemplate nearly five years of this me

It is indeed but too true that many mothers, that length of time, when the foundation dren, in allowing so little time for personal from their own limited or defective education, being laid for the superstructure of a life, with and sympathetic intercourse. How frequently and feeble appreciation of their solemn re-out concluding that it would have been c the mother, who is the natural teacher of her sponsibilities, are not prepared to direct the ployed to far more useful purpose in gaini child, and who better than any other should studies and training of their children, and a knowledge of domestic affairs, upon sol understand its needs, and the avenues to its under these circumstances, the value of a studies, and carefully-selected reading, in pr heart, even with ample time at her disposal, good school cannot be over-estimated. It has suits which lead to an acquaintance with r is found delegating to the kindergarten or the been said that "children are what the mothers ture, and appreciation of its beauties, and primary school, a care and instruction which are," and admitting the truth of this assertion, numberless ways which a competent as rightly devolve upon herself, and thus, even the education of our daughters should claim skilful parent or teacher can devise, for i from the nursery an estrangement commences, the earnest prayerful attention, and wisdom, struction and amusement? And such a co

"The sober comfort, all the peace which springs The soler comfort, all the peace which springs From the large aggregate of little things, On these small cares of daughter, wife or friend, The almost sacred joys of home depend."

How then, are we to train the daughters? public worship, and we can hardly fail to see courses of study and reading which induce tenderness of your conscience, obscures you habits of application, and careful thought and sense of God, or takes off the relish of spiritu It has become an admitted fact among our research, are no less essential to our daugh-things, that thing is sin to you, however it most enlightened educators, that the surest ters, than our sons—that in respect to mental nocent it may be in itself." foundation for their work is laid at the do- and moral development, the boys and girls It has doubtless been due to consideration mestic fireside, amid fostering home influ-may profit equally under the same school like these, that so many, in the unfolding eness. Home is the native soil for the young curriculum—that what is substantial and their religious experience, have renounce plant, where it should be tenderly nourished, practical, and best for our sons, cannot be music, and kindred amusements, which the and the twig properly bent, that it may grow superseded by fashionable accomplishments, have found usurping the place of importat into a tree of symmetry, strength and beauty, in the education of our daughters, without a duties.

of whom were members of the Society of by following too closely popular methods (When children are accustomed from their Friends, and many of them devoting two or education, should lose some of the strong an infancy to look for instruction and amusement three hours daily to their piano practice; and distinctive characteristics of our own, les beyond the family circle, we cannot wonder with my own predilections at that time, quite our family and school-life should suffer from that as young men and women, the home has favorable to giving music a place in the course the effect of experiments, which, however often a weak hold upon their affections, and of study, I watched with interest the effects, honestly made, may prove in the end seriou they learn to depend upon their own choice and was not long in perceiving that, not only mistakes. We cannot throw our children int of pursuits and social enjoyments, which are the time given to practice was so much taken the currents of worldly fashion and not ex from more important branches, but that it peet them to drift with those currents. It was a remark of Leigh Richmond, who even tended to create a distaste for those A system of guarded education, in harmon had experience in the education of a numer branches; and the social entertainments into with our religious belief, beginning in the

Bishop Cleaves, of St. Asaph, as quoted Hannah More, speaks of the misappropriat of time as a common fault of good people, a instances two particulars of the evil-mu and light reading; and in reference to former, he makes the following statemer

Can any reflecting and unprejudiced mi precious season, thus occupied, or even h clusion would have sufficient confirmation the testimony of thoughtful persons who ha received a musical education; as one of n former pupils, with several children to ed cate, remarked to me, that she should nev eease to regret not being placed earlier

I have dwelt somewhat at length upon thi In my early teaching a class of girls, few subject, as I recognize a danger lest Friends

ous family, that "a good school is better than which their musical associations led, were so, family, and running through all the years a bad home, but a good home is the best of dissipating, as to interfere essentially with student-life, to the completion of a colleg urse, should be our aim; and to secure this must have parents and teachers loyal to e principles of Friends, and acting with the rnestness and moral courage of individual to the farm, &c., appears in the minutes under ing benefit to many."

"The subjects of dress and language have nviction. If our denominational schools are date of 12th mo. 13th, 1844: any worth, as such, it is because through em our views of Christian doetrine and actice are faithfully inculcated and main-

But we must not lose sight of the truth ourves, or neglect opportunities to impress it on the young, that however favored by nare, and however broad our culture may be, ort, but through a full surrender of our arts to the regenerating, moulding power the Divine Master.

Neither can we with such an array of emint examples before us count that a wasted which, rich towards God, has enjoyed few vantages for mental culture. The Society Friends has recognized, from its rise, the ove all their talents, and with our educanal system properly grounded and deloped, keeping faith and reverence as its rner-stone, and alive to improvement, ready examine and appropriate all that is truly Il-disciplined, well-informed young people: d those, too, who under the special training nished for Christian service.

Let us always bear in mind that the Keeper the vineyard, who knoweth his work, has well as for the wise, the mighty and the tunity for improvement. ble. He still calleth from the receipt of will use in his various holy ministries, and hts." Life is not a failure to any humble rner in the school of Christ .- From Prodings of Educational Conference.

For "The Friend." "Faithful Mothers.

The editorial in the 6th No. of the present one half that amount (only) is productive land, very observant man. lume of "The Friend," page 47, so arrested it presents quite a different aspect." attention on reading it, and continues to re doing equally as much for the cause as At this meeting Joseph Evans was applications and the large results of the cause as At this meeting Joseph Evans was applications and the large results are the large results and the large results are the large results and the large results are kingdom of the Redeemer; and for this tendent, ed and often closely proven class amongst xious mother."

For " The Friend "

Westtown Boarding School.

have through the aid of the teachers recently considerable pains have been taken to prohad the farm surveyed. It contains five mote the concern of the Yearly Meeting in hundred and ninety-nine acres, two rods and these respects. It is satisfactory to be able thirty four perches; of which 59 acres and 3 to state that a manifest improvement has rods is attached to the school; 1 acre, 3 rods taken place in regard to the use of plain scripand 6 perches to the infirmary; Sacres, 2 rods ture language; but though the clothing of and 10 perches to the grist mill; 182 acres, 2 the children is in some respects more conescalone can never lead us up to the heights rods and 20 perches is under timber, leaving formable to the simplicity which we believe heavenly wisdom; the graces of the Spirit 346 acres, 2 rods and 38 perches farm land. Truth requires, yet there is still cause of unont to be attained through intellectual There is 55 acres, 2 rods and 39 perches of easiness in the form and manner of wearing land, between the mill-race and creek, which some of the garments, especially the boys is not suitable for tillage, being low and gen- coats and vests; and the committee believe erally swampy; it is included in the above the subject ought to claim the close attention farm land, and being deducted will leave 290 of parents, that the minute of advice issued acres, 3 rods and 29 perches of arable land, last year by the Yearly Meeting may be more The timber land is estimated at 182 acres, 2 strictly observed." rods and 20 perches, exclusive of the boys The concern here manifested for plainness and girls woods, 32 acres and 4 perches of and simplicity in dress and address has lost uristian duty of its members rightly to im-which is thicket, having been recently cleared, nothing in its importance through the lapse and 34 acres, 2 rods and 25 perches is young of time, and the desire is strongly felt at this wood, leaving 116 acres and 11 perches now present writing, that the time may be far disunder ripe timber, which will average forty tant when a Friend may not be at once known eords per acre; but if the timber suitable for and distinguished by his dress as well as adsawing is left out of the estimate, it would cut dress. It is a great privilege, and one it is luable in modern theories, may we not hope about thirty-five cords per acre. The young feared not sufficiently appreciated, that of see amongst us an increasing number of wood is generally thrifty and may increase being freed from following the slavish and at the rate of three-quarters of a cord per acre changeable fashions of the world by adhering for 40 years, dating from the period of its in great measure to the simple, yet in every our Lord,—a training which no theology of having been cut off. A part of the wood respect comfortable and healthful dress which schools can supply,—may be thoroughly has been lately much improved, the superind was worn some 200 years since, when Friends tendent having caused the underwood to be first rose up as a distinct religious people, gathered up, and such parts of the standing having peculiar and very important testitimber as was not thrifty taken out, giving monies to bear before the world. part for the humblest and most illiterate, to the timber of value a much better oppor-stom and from their fishermen's nets, as 80 cords of wood, the farm-house about 30, Society of Friends, but who had married out, Il as from the fect of Gamaliel, those whom and the tenements about 20. The farm re- whether it would be possible for him to have quires for the same period about 1200 rails, or his children admitted to Westtown Boarding them among his "bright and shining 24 cords, making in the aggregate a consump- School to be educated? Adding, in substance, tion of 154 cords. From this estimate, which "that there was in the present day such a we think approximates the truth, our timber flood of folly and extravagance in the world, it is not as productive as it should be from the simple tastes and habits." Of course the reply fact that the whole estate contains about 600 was in the negative, but it has been felt to be acres; but when we consider that not quite a striking and encouraging testimony from a t with me, that I feel like calling the at-tion of mothers to it again with the follow-cluding the clearing near the northern bound-doubt. In a recent conversation with a minextract from the Memorandums of H. W. any of the farm. Within a few years about ister of another denomination, a man of culti-At the close of the Yearly Meeting, 1846, 100 acres of swamp or wet lands have been vated tastes and observation, and who had ang mothers were affectionately addressed reclaimed by a judicious system of draining, travelled abroad, he remarked in regard to rtraying their difficulties, 'watching by and that the whole annual consumption of this subject, in substance, "that pictures and y and by night their infant charge, feeling wood for fuel is in the neighborhood of 50 music were generally considered necessary en very sad, as one formerly expressed, cords. It is expected that some native forest to refinement, but he had pointed to the Sos one out of mind; yet if they were con- or shade trees will be planted out this fall, ciety of Friends, who as a people discarded ned faithfully to maintain their places in and the desire is entertained by the com- both, and yet who were remarkable for a high Truth, and imbue the minds of their ten-mittee at the present time, to increase rather degree of refinement, and to whom be would

I feel a tender sympathy—the seed thus ing in 1845, we learn that the average num-upon, and is never satisfied, whilst on the vn in early life was often greatly blessed, ber of pupils in attendance during the past other hand the denial of the desire for super-ng watered with tears and prayers of the year was 162, viz., 86 boys and 76 girls, "That fluities has the effect of increasing the enjoylof the Holy Scriptures and of our religious affords to the pure and cultivated mind a principles and testimonies continues to be attended to as heretofore, and we trust that the The following interesting report, relating information thus imparted will prove of last-

"The Farming Committee report, that they engaged the attention of the committee, and

Some time since the writer was inquired of by one who occupies a high position in the The school now consumes annually about world and who had had a birthright in the in evidently decreasing. In reference to the that he desired to place his children where farm, many friends entertain the opinion that they would be brought up with plain and

That the cultivation of æsthetic tastes does It is understood that at the present time not harmonize with plain and simple habits

se who were going to and fro, preaching pointed on the Farming Committee in place of money in the purchase and adornments of gospel; there were many ways to exalt of Pennock Passmore, appointed Superin- our houses or grounds is not likely to produce permanent happiness, as the indulgence From the report made to the Yearly Meet- of artificial desires grows with what it feeds the instruction of the children in a knowledge ment of things that are really useful, and other simple and inexpensive pleasures, that edness in all who are so unfortunate as to be the voluptuary knows nothing of.

0th mo. 8th, 1882.

countable to no one, and come and go at the it; dont't leave it because hard blows are to ourselves make it. be struck or disagreeable work performed. The outside world reflects to each one the Behold your King! Though the moonlight steals world. We must expect to be knocked and purity. jostled about in the stern conflict, and get Not only nature and society, but even the spair, and fail.—Zion's Watchman.

Complaints and Confessions .- There are few unhappiness than the habit of complaining, and yet there are few habits more easily contracted and more difficult to abandon. suit him, whose food is never prepared to his kind, whose circumstances are always unfa- Ledger. vorable, for whom, in fact, the world seems to wear a perpetual frown. Wretched in him-gratification in the beauties of nature and self, he contrives to infuse a sense of wretchnear him.

There are real trials and disappointments, Stick to One Thing .- "Unstable as water, vexations and failures, which often appear to thou shalt not excel," is the language of the us to warrant open complaint or silent de-Bible. Whoever expects to succeed in any pression, and there are seasons when gloom undertaking, must enter into it with a hearty seems to overwhelm us like a thick cloud, and carnest will to do his best. When a which all our powers fail to penetrate or chase trade or profession is chosen, obstacles, be away. One idea, however, that is common to they large or small, must not be allowed to all complaints, whether small or great, reastand in the way of mastering that trade or sonable or unreasonable, is that something or profession. However much we may deprecate some one else, is to blame for our unhappiness. the old-time custom of indenturing apprenIf we could be convinced that we ourselves tiees, the system, in its practical results, were the chief authors of it; that it sprung, operated almost always for the lasting good not from outward events, or from the conduct of the apprentice. Generally, it insured to of others so much as from something within him a good trade and a wholesome discipline our own breasts; that it was, in fact, chiefly that fitted him for success in business. At our own fault, and not other people's, and the present time, very many young men was what we brought to the world, instead undertake to acquire a trade, and after a brief of what the world brought to us, our comtrial abandon it, because there are unpleasant plaints would have but little force, and would duties to be performed and obstacles to be soon give place to self-examination and self-overcome. They consider themselves ae discipline.

Probably nine-tenths of the complaints bidding of caprice, or an unsettled, uneasy that now bring discord to the ear may be mind. The result of this is to send out into traced directly to this source. A quaint the world young men who have not half preacher once said that he was disposed to learned their trades, of unstable character, entertain a very ill opinion of misery in gene- How little Time can give, or take away. who drift from post to pillar, and who suc- ral. Perhaps, if we could see it in its true ceed in nothing but strolling along the high- light, we should all hold it quite as censuraways of life, melancholy wrecks of men. We ble as it is pitiable, and the loud complaints would earnestly entreat every young man, we now endure would be softened into whisafter he has chosen his vocation, to stick to pered confessions; for life is largely what we

The men who have worked their way up to world within. Social life, too, is a response wealth and usefulness do not belong to the to character. The selfish man is convinced shiftless and unstable classes, but may be of the selfishness of his neighbors, while the shiftless and unstable classes, but may be of the selfishness of his neighbors, while the reckoned among those who took off their generous man sees only their kindliness. The coats, rolled up their sleeves, conquered their cold heart thinks that humanity is barren of Oh, hisk of his sorrow that we may know prejudices against labor, and manfully bore affection, while the loving spirit finds it over the depth of love in the depth of world the heat and burden of the day. Whether flowing all around him. Deceit is ever displeaded your King! Is it nothing to we upon the old, worn-out farm, where our fathers trustful, while sincerity extends the cordial toiled, diligently striving to bring back the grasp of confidence. The passionate meet From the kingly brow must fall like dew soil to productiveness, in the machine shop or with violence and the rude with rudeness, factory, or in the thousand other business while the gentle and courteous rejoice in the places that invite honest toil and skill, let the gentleness and courtesy extended to them. motto ever be-Perseverance and Industry. Each quality has a magnetic attraction by The baby training of the nursery was good which it draws out its like in others; the bad in its place, but it won't answer all the de-cliciting what is bad, the good and pure mands of an active life. This is not a baby drawing out and developing goodness and run over, if we are not on the lookout and conditions and opportunities of life will reprepared to meet the duties of life with a pur-spond to the spirit with which we receive pose not to shirk them but to fulfil them. A them. Poverty will discourage and break young man with a good trade or honorable down one man, while in another it will build profession, as he goes forth into the world up self-reliance, industry and firmness of will. with his mind made up to stick to his trade If this be truly so, if life is a mirror, reflector profession, is not obliged to ask for many ing, with tolerable fairness, our mental and do with a little means, if its possessor only favors. He will hew his way to success while moral features, or a structure of which we willing and quick-witted enough to make m the unstable and shiftless will grow tired, de-ourselves are the chief architects, it is quite of them. There was a cry on deck of "Ma clear that the complainer must lose all claim to the sympathy he crayes. In truth, he is, felt that he would be useless on deck, but by his murmurs, confessing his own weakness thinking of what he could do, be seized upo things which cause more real discomfort and of will, or poverty of mind or moral deficien the idea of holding his lamp close to the will cies. He is taking the outward conditions dow, so that its light would shine out upo wo moods, qualities and feelings. If the result all right!" That timely light had shown the tracted and more difficult to abandon. We most support and results and results and registration and right. That timely light had shown the abilitial grambler, the man for displease him he should seek for the hidden sailors where to cast the knotted rope, so the whom the weather is always too hot or too cause in humility and penitence. When comit tracehed the man struggling in the water cold, too wet or too dry, whose clothes never plaints come to be fully recognized as confessions, they will neither be so lond nor so not used it! Shine your light, and many ma mind, whose friends are inconsiderate or un numerous as they are at present. - Public yet glorify your Father which is in heaven.

The luxury of luxuries is that of doing good. S. S. Times.

TIME'S TAKINGS AND LEAVINGS. What does age take away? Bloom from the cheek, and lustre from the eye; The spirits light and gay

Unclouded as the summer's bluest sky. What do years steal away? The fond heart's idol, Love, that gladdened life; Friendship, whose calmer sway

We trusted to in hours of darker strife.

What must with Time decay? Young Hope's wild dreams, and Fancy's visions bri Life's evening sky grows gray, And darker clouds prelude Death's coming night,

But not for such we mourn! We know them frail, and brief their date assigned Our spirits are forlorn, Less from Time's thefts, than what he leaves behin

What do years leave behind? Unruly passions, impotent desires, Distrusts and thoughts unkind, Love of the world, and self-which last expires.

For these, for these we grieve; What Time has robbed us of we know must go: But what he deigns to leave. Not only finds us poor, but keeps us so.

It ought not thus to be; Nor would it, knew we meek Religion's sway; Her votary's eye could see

Faith, in the heart enshrined, Would make Time's gifts enjoyed and used, while le And all it left behind, Of Love and Grace, a noble monument.

BEHOLD YOUR KING.

Through the silvery sprays of the olive tree, No star-gemmed sceptre or crown it reveals In the solemn shade of Gethsemane,

Behold your King! Is it nothing to you That the crimson tokens of agony Through the shuddering shades of Gethsemane? Jesus himself, the Prince of Life, Bows in mysterious mortal strife;

Oh, think of his sorrow! that we may know The unknown love in the unknown woe! Behold your King! With his sorrow crowned, Alone, alone in the valley is He! The shadows of death are gathering round, And the cross must follow Gethsemane, Darker and darker the gloom must fall. Filled is the cup, He must drink it all!

Oh, think of his sorrow, that we may know His wonderous love in his wonderous woe!

-Frances Ridley Havergal,

Spencer Compton tells of an experience t sea that well sets forth the good that one ca steadily shining little lamp is better than a unused electric light with a forty-foot reflector For "The Friend."

ular of the Bible Association of Friends in America.

n again ealling the attention of Auxiliaries the Annual Queries to be answered preus to the general meeting of the Associaon the 1st of Eleventh month, the Coroonding Committee would press upon ends, who have been engaged in the disution of the Holy Scriptures, the importe of furnishing full and accurate answers all the Queries, and of forwarding theire-t seasonably to the Depository.

t may be recollected, that in making donais to Auxiliaries, the Board are guided in iding what number of Bibles and Testaits shall be sent to each, by the informagiven in its report. Hence those Auxies that do not report in time, are liable

e left out in the distribution.

pecifie directions should be given in every , how boxes should be marked and forded; and their receipt should always be nptly acknowledged.

ddress John S. Stokes, No. 116 N. Fourth et, Philadelphia.

Charles Rhoads, JAMES WHITALL, JOHN W. BIDDLE,

Committee of Correspondence. ilada., 10th month, 1882

QUERIES.

What number of families or individuals have gratuitously furnished with the Holy Scriptures ne Auxiliary during the past year?

What number of Bibles and Testaments have been by the Auxiliary within the past year?

iging to the Auxiliary

What number of families of Friends reside within

How many Bibles and Testaments may probably sposed of by sale within your limits hose within its limits who are not duly furnished the Holy Scriptures ecessary for the Bible Association to furnish gratuieading, who is destitute of a copy, and unable to

. How many Bibles and Testaments are now on are wholly unacquainted." Selected.

For "The Friend,"

Jonah, "Preach the preaching that I bid thee." Can it be believed, and especially by professed ministers of the gospel of Jesus, after near nineteen hundred years wherein "the new covenant" (Heb. viii.) has been in effect, of which He is the Mediator, that other minisfrom, and they perish not?

strict and watchful frame." Again, would Preaching What and When we List. not this great man say with his godly contributes recorded as the word of the Lord to temporary, George Fox, whom he honored in the Truth-"I am nothing; Christ is all."

10th mo. 17th, 1882.

Deliverance from Sin-Salvation.

Further, let us consider what these strong try than such as is taught by Christ himself pleaders for sin have to fortify themselves and is based upon obedience to his will can withal. They say they have the Scripture avail anything? Can that gospel, which to plead withal for sin, which eertainly was Paul tells us he received not of or by man, never the intention of the Holy Spirit, by but by the revelation of Jesus Christ, and to which it was given forth. But, say they, it whom, as he adds, the "woe" must attach if is written in 1 Kings viii. 46: "For there is he preached it not, ever become subject to no man that sinneth not." Answer: This human expediency or the beck of human is very true. Neither do I plead that any authority? Does the query, "How shall man is free from sin all the days of his life they preach except they be sent;" or the (except Christ), but have confessed they are command "Go thou and preach the kingdom all sinners by nature until they be changed of God;" with the testimony also, "They ceased not to preach Jesus Christ;" at all that were under the law, of which the sanction any ministry short of that immediapostle says, that it made nothing perfect; ately authorized by, and derived through the but, said he, the bringing in of a better hope revelation of the Spirit of Christ, our ever-did. The law did not purify the comers present Helper, Lawgiver, and High Priest? thereunto, according to the conscience; but Was it not obetience to an immediate man-when the officers of shall officed, there remained after from on high that made Jonah's ministry when the objection of the conscience; but effectual to the opening of the eyes of the what is that to the Christians who are come Ninevites and caused both king and subject to know a better hope, and the blood that to put on sack-cloth and to cry mightily unto purifieth the conscience? . For that same God that his fierce anger might be turned apostle that said, the law made no man perfect under which law Solomon was, as also that These few hints have been penned because people concerning whom it was said, there is of information received, that in some localities none that liveth and sinneth not), notwiththe request is heralded round from post to standing, the same apostle said that it was pillar and from priest to minister, that every the bringing in of a better hope that did it. How many members, male and female, are there such one should on a certain day preach And what! are these fighters for sin and singing to the Auxiliary?

about William Penn. Now is this an invita-pleaders become so zealous that they will What number of families of Friends reside within the total property of "necessity laid upon them?" Juid one from sin? If not, then there is a possibility as ot supplied with a copy of the Holy Scriptures of the total practice in those days presume to dictate to be made perfect by the blood of Christ, oddear type, and on fair paper; if so, how many? another what he was to preach about? Would which the blood of bulls and goats could not How many members of our Society, capable of William Penn himself in anywise have sanc-ing the Bible, do not own such a copy, of the Holy tioned such a copys ? Is it in the least in washed. If we say that we have not sinned tioned such a course? Is it in the least in washed, If we say that we have not sinned, accord with his own expressed views, as fol- we make God a liar. It is as much as if he lows ?- "The Light, Spirit, and Grace that would say, that even those that are saved Is the income of the Auxiliary sufficient to supcomes by Christ, and appears in man, was must confess to the power of God, by which cose within its limits who are not duly furnished what the apostles ministered from and turned they have been judged for sin; and not to What number of Bibles and Testaments would it people's minds unto, and in which they gather exalt themselves above it, as if they had ed and built up the churches of Christ in their never sinned, seeing that the witness of God seesary for the Bible Association to turnish grains and any constructions of the Bible Association to turnish grains and any." Again he writes: "A dry doctrinal testifieth in all that they have sinned and with the substantial properties of the substantial that they have sinned and substantial that they have substantial that they have substantial that they have substantial that they have substantial that the substantial that they have substantial there is another soundness, that is soundest hath not written here of an impossibility of of all, viz: Christ the power of God. This is being delivered from sin, but absolutely the the key of David, that opens, and none shuts; contrary; namely, that those that cannot and shuts, and none can open; as oil to the say they are without sin may come by conplain terms, let us preach up the Gospel lamp and the soul to the body, so is that to fessing their sins, to be cleaned and made ead of trying to reason down the error, the best of words. Which made Christ say, free from it; yea, from all that which is unenthe unbeliever assails all religious truth. My words they are spirit and they are life; righteons. Therefore I shall say this, that neomprehensible, leave him with the an-that is, they are from life, and therefore they all those that feel themselves in bondage rthat such revelations must forever remain make you alive that receive them. If the under this prince of darkness, in what manteries to the hearts that reject them. Many disciples, that had lived with Jesus, were to ner soever it be, and are not willing to resago a bold blasphemer spent an hour in stay at Jerusalem till they received it; so main so always; believe but in Him that tle company, gathered for another pur must we wait to receive before we minister, if we showeth you your bondage, and wait in his , in denouncing and ridiculing all that re- will turn people from darkness to light, and pure light in your own consciences, which ous men hold sacred. There was one simble the same of ded what be had to say to all this: "Simbound the subjection, insomuch that it was and to a daily crucifying and mortifying of this," replied the believer, "that religion visible to them who knew us, we did not think the earthly members. And as this hope matter of experience. Those who have en- ourselves at our own disposal, to go where we comes to work in thee, it will bring thee to d it, know that it is true; those who have have list, or say or do what we list, or when we an experience of being delivered in some know nothing about it. You are only list. Our liberty stood in the liberty of the Spirit particular things, and that will strengthen uking in ignorance of a subject with which of truth; and no pleasure, no profit, no fear, thy hope of being delivered from more; and no favor could draw us from this retired, so, at last, a faith will arise in thee perfectly and thoroughly to be made free from sin. ing for sin, and to obtain reconciliation with rent literature of the times, gives profit to perfection in this life, then they have no to forgiveness by Jesus Christ, and come to them; and I did learn some good leist need of Christ to be their Saviour; as if the know his blood cleansing them from their for but I did not stop with moral storie salvation by Christ and a perfect and pure mer sins; and so they come to perfect salvation taste was formed for reading all kinds of the were inconsistent with one another. Ye by grace, not by works, but by faith, that ries. I have learned a double lesson of the control of th fools and blind! know ye not that all good works in the love of God unto obedience, stories. They destroy the taste for religious and perfect gifts come from the Lord, and without which, faith is but dead, and makes reading. Sometime ago a paper, with a that none can come to perfection but by his no man saved. But those that have this in it, happened to fall into my possessio gift? And if God be the giver, is it not then true faith and hope in them, purify them resisted the temptation to read it 1 by grace? Where are works then? But selves as he is pure. He that has not this tew days, but finally yielded. I have these pleaders for sin are as great strangers hope does not purify himself, neither does he concluded to burn such stories as soon as to the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, as believe that he can do it; and by this we come into the house; then I will no they are to perfection, otherwise they would know the true believers from the false; and tempted. If I had thought of that it we see their ignorance. When Christ said to by this sinners are made manifest that can have been an easy matter to keep from his disciples, "Be ye perfect, as your Father not stand in the congregation of the right. ing this last story.—Selected. which is in heaven is perfect;" that is as much eous. So, now, let all pleaders for sin stop as to say, according to explanation of these their mouths forever, and let the devil stand people-there is your command; when that is for himself, and plead his own cause; and done, you have no need of Me. The apostle henceforth do not despise and revile the inspoke wisdom among them that are perfect, nocent that are travailing and striving after wick's Science Gossip there is a short acc but not such wisdom, or, rather, foolishness, perfection, with a faith to obtain it, that they of a number of sparrows mobbing a eat. as this, to persuade them that they have think to be saved by their own works. For cat evidently intended to make a mea. no need of Christ to be their Saviour, be we hope for no other salvation but that which one of the birds, but was greatly mistacause they were come to perfection. On is in and by Jesus Christ, the eternal Son of for the sparrows dashed at him so fier the contrary, he said that he could do all God, who is the first-born of every creature that he soon turned tail and ran into things; then he could be perfect, but not as that brings many sons and daughters unto house, one of the sparrows actually purs of himself, but through Christ, that enabled glory, but not by leaving them in their sins; him into the house. Poor Tommy ran him; and those that come to a perfect state but his name is Jesus, and he saves people stairs, and was found crouching in te know that their salvation is not of their from their sins .- Stephen Crisp. works, how good and pure soever they may be, but merely by grace through Jesus Christ, and that in respect of these three following greater mistake in connection with the desire ture is given in the Dumfries and Gallo is not yet a perfect salvation; for those that they.' have it may fall from it again, and so not be

and keeper unto the end, of those that trust on, hour after hour, book after book, without rather a nuisance on account of its habit in Him, and the apostles testify that those stopping to consider and to follow out the playing tricks on people. It has a spe who were delivered from the corruption of facts, or the principles, or the suggestions, facility in discovering the most vulnera this world must know Him to be their brought before the mind in that reading, is spots, and inflicts sly pecks at the bare t keeper that had gathered them out of the like searching the beauties of a new country of the native servants as they move throt world. Therefore, said Jude, in his epistle, by whirling through it on an express train, the house. Its great amusement, however "Now unto Him that is able to keep you never stopping to clamber a mountain, or to is to find the man who pulls the punkah I from falling, and to present you faultiest follow a winding stream, or to sit and watch before the presence of his glory, with ex-queriest continuous control of his glory, with ex-queriest control of his g are kept by the power of God through faith who of its visitants draw most books from legs so fiercely and actively that be is qu unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the its shelves. You will find that among the unable to drive it away, and go on with last time." And Paul testifieth that the keep-poorer-informed readers are the all-devouring work, and he is at last obliged to call for so ing is by Jesus Christ. So here you may readers. Those who really gain from read-one to rid him of his tormentor. see that the bringing to the state of perfecting are so busy making their former reading tion, and the keeping from falling from it profitable, and reading over again what they hand" mentions a tame buzzard that had again, are both the work of Christ; and yet, have read before, that they have not the way of flying after strangers, and knocki this is not a perfect salvation, for this does time to read much new material. not put away the former sins.

When thou art made partaker of this faith, God, and forgiveness of his former sins. For that very ability of an inability to gain be then the greatest and strongest bond of the all the holy conversation and perfection of knowledge-without a change in meth is devil is broken; for, through the unbelief of life can be counted no more but his duty; seeking knowledge .- S. S. Times. it, he keeps his kingdom in man and woman. and therefore he cannot obtain remission of Another great plea which these sinone of his former sins. But those that conpleaders bring, is this: If people can come fess their sins, and forsake them, such come

Abuse of Reading.—There is scarcely v An account of a somewhat similar ad observations:

First. That it was the appearance of God, that it when the power of God, that it we books—necessarily brings knowledge, was thought that they had nests there, brought them off from their sins and imperfections; and that they have not left them method of reading, but the proper limitation great discomfiture of the rooks, who ass off of themselves, but do own that it is the of reading, to begin with, and the use after bled on the roof of a neighboring house grace of God, as the apostle did. "For the ward made of that which is read, must settle held a consultation. This being over, t grace of God, that bringeth salvation, hath the question of the gain or loss as a whole proceeded systematically to attack the appeared unto all men, teaching us that, defrom reading. As a rule, the men and women dashing at her in groups of three or f nying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we who know most are not great readers. And, flapping their wings in her very face, if the distribution of the grace of God read as much as others," said the philosopher is the appearance of the grace of God read as much as others, "said the philosopher is the appearance of the grace of God read as much as others," said the philosopher is the appearance of the grace of God read as much as others, "said the philosopher is the appearance of the grace of God read as much as others," said the philosopher is the philosopher is the appearance of the grace of God read as much as others, "said the philosopher is the philosopher i that leads to perfection; and this perfection Hobbes, "I had remained as ignorant as hold of them nor their nests at length quie saved; but those that endure to the end shall be saved. Secondly. It is Christ who is the preserver prompt a thoughtful mind. To read right

Thirdly. Whoever comes to perfect salva- to read through a daily paper every day, and when forewarned, its victim had some di tion, he comes to know Christ to be an offer-then to "keep up" with all the better cur-culty in evading the blows.

Natural History, Science, &c.

Teasing Propensity of Birds. - In I under one of the beds. This happened

London.

descended. Continuous reading stands in the way of In T. C. Jerdon's "Birds of India," ther Thompson in his "Natural History of I their hats over their eyes with a blow of The man or the woman who can find time wing. It was so quick about it that, ev per was largely developed.

ent's stroke. The garden in which she lives is also in- case a general breaking up.—N. Y. Times. ited by a great number of aquatic birds, cipally gulls and ducks, and they have a of laying their eggs in different parts of garden. One day, a learned and respected hbor went into the garden, and, seeing e ducks' eggs on the ground stooped down xamine them. As he was thus engaged, driven off."

rescopic observer has discovered that all plasma to form bacteria when the condi-s are favorable. A few such crenated they are but as blind leaders of the blind. | Would n very slight muscular exertion.

inted with a heron in which this form of still beneath the lens. The professor glanced the evidences of this tendency manifested in at it; then moved the slide to and fro, so as recent articles in some of our exchanges pubhe bird was allowed to run loose in a to study one field after another; then counted lished in the interests of those who separated leu, and was on the most affectionate a few fields, and made a rapid computation. Itom us in 1827. They indicate that such the such role in the optician looked on in astonishment, views have a stronger foothold in that bedy yed in its owner's warehouse. "It is "That gentleman is one of our best cus-towners," he said; "buys more heavily than While we would be rejoiced to see an increasbird gives to the man, and to hear her half a dozen professors." "And this is a ing concern among them to receive the truth loving gabble asshe rubs her head against drop of his blood?" inquired the man of in the simplicity of little children, and to lay, or takes his hand gently in her beak, science musingly. The purveyor of lenses aside that worldly wisdom to which "Christ has taught her several tricks, as, for ex-assented. "Very well," replied the professor, crucified" is as much of a stumbling-block ole, to take off his hat at the word of com-"tell your best customer; if you can without now as it was to the wise Greeks in the days ode, to take off his nat at the word of comtell your best customer, it you can without how as it was to the wise trees in the day,
d. She is a beautiful creature. Unfor impertiuence, that unless he stops smoking at off the aposites; we are especially desirous tately, she has an unappeasable relish for once he has not many months to live." But that our own members should be preserved from the dangers that beset the path of those ggs, looking quite soft and gentle till they to Europe, thinking a sea voyage might rewho walk more by the light of their own within reach, and then driving her long cruit his wasted energies. In a few weeks reason than by the revelations of Divine p beak at them with the rapidity of a more his death was announced by telegraph Grace. from Paris, where the doctors styled his dis-

THE FRIEND.

TENTH MONTH 21, 1882.

heron stole up softly behind him, and de the teachings of the New Testament, as the babes in Christ-who are fed by the sincere red so tremendous a blow that she fairly words of truth, which ought to be reverently milk of the Holy Word and grow thereby and cked him on his face. The heron mounted received and believed, can reject the doctrine thus only. * * I want light in my dwelling his back, and triumphantly maintained that our Blessed Saviour, Jesus Christ, was a and bread in mine house, rather than to feed post there until assistance arrived, and she propitiation for the sins of mankind. It is on the tree of knowledge, or to be able to explainly set forth in many passages, as well as plain all mysteries." 'ffect of Narcotics on the Blood .-- A careful foretold by the prophets of former times.

otics-opium and its preparations, hash-man knoweth not the things of the Spirit of views. He says: "When I came unto the , &c., as well as tobacco-act in a peeu-God, because these are spiritually discerned, silent assemblies of God's people, I felt a manner upon the colored corpuscles of From this it clearly follows, that those who secret power amongst them, which touched blood, producing the phenomenon styled undertake to comprehend the mysteries of re-my heart; and, as I gave way to it, I found nation; that is, the margin of the corbligion, and to define them by the unassisted the evil weakening in me, and the good raised ble, instead of possessing the absolute force of intellect, go beyond their depth, up, and so I became thus knit and united to larity of margin noticed in the condition They may build up structures very beautiful them, hungering more and more after an innealth, presents a series of scallops, some to the outward eye; explain to their own crease of this Power and Life, whereby I at irregular in their distribution. When satisfaction the character of the influences might feel myself perfectly redeemed. And, ved by oblique light under the microscope, which have operated on the minds of holy indeed, this is the surest way to become a appearance is found to be due to the con- men of old and led them to the use of certain Christian, to whom afterwards the knowledge sion of the corpuscle into a minute sac, forms of expression or of action; and may and understanding of principles will not be taining some hundreds of spherical bodies, point out to others what they think should wanting, but will grow up, so much as is few hours the sac ruptures and the im- be accepted as consistent with their ideas of needful, as the natural fruit of this root, and oned organisms escape into the surround-right reason, what should be rejected, and such a knowledge will not be barren or un-etimes as high as one degenerated cor- The intellect alone, when not enlightened by mysteries of his kingdom! ele to ten healthy ones, and often attains a Divine opening, cannot comprehend how He figure of one to twenty-five or thirty. In | who walked among his disciples in an outa cases the countenance is pale and almost ward body, could have all power in Heaven notie; dark circles appear beneath the and carth, and be Lord of all; nor how his s, which lack lustre and are deeply sunken, death and sufferings should be a sacrifice for ood; while the heart palpitates violently ordering) in the salvation of mankind. Hence those who rely on their own reasoning powers n incident illustrating the sequel of this are prone to reject these truths so clearly ren memori illustrating the sequel of this are prone to reject these truths so clearly re-earance of the blood occurred a few months vealed in the Scriptures. The Scriptures designs, granted by the Patent Office in Washington in the office of a manufacturing optician themselves, they submit to the same kind of his city. As the professor of microscopy rationalistic treatment, accepting what acne of our medical colleges dropped in, a cords with their own views and rejecting or tleman of evidently large wealth and modifying what is contrary thereto. Thus shed intellectual culture was just leaving they use them as a builder does his material;

. G. Wood says he was personally ac-instrument was still adjusted and the slide! We have been painfully impressed with

A friend who has had long experience in the Lord's work, thus commented on an article of the kind above referred to: "To handle such deep mysteries by the intellectual powers alone is entirely unsafe. The Lord of Heaven and earth, who inhabiteth eternity, hath undoubtedly hid these things from the wise and prudent after the wisdom and prudence of It is difficult to see how those who accept this world, and reveals needful truths to the

The testimony of Robert Barclay as to his The Scriptures declare that the natural own convincement is in accord with these

Would that mankind everywhere were more ouscles, in the proportion of one to three This dependence on the "pride of intellect," concerned to bunger after an increase of that dred and fifty, occur in the circulation of we believe has been the source of much of the Divine Power and Life, whereby they might sons in normal health, not addicted to Unitarian sentiment, which regards our Sa-partake of that salvation of which Christ cotics; but in the opium and tobacco viour merely as a high and hely example, as Jesus is the author; and depend on Him for its, when of long standing, the ratio is a man eminently gifted with spiritual graces, a living knowledge and understanding of the

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

United States.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office, in his annual report, states that the Linds the respiration is weak and easily dissin, and be an essential element (in the Divine now embraced within the limits of the public domain, including Alaska, number 900,000,000 acres. He re commends the repeal of the Pre-emption laws, as the Homestead laws cover all cases now arising.

during the last fiscal year, was 17,713. The number of trade marks registered was 1079; labels registered, 223. The receipts of the office were $279,144 in excess of the expenditures.

The Director of the U. S. Mint, in his annual report says the total coinage of gold during the last fiscal year omice with a cigar between his lips. He hewing into the required shape what is fitted was $89,413,447, or nearly $11,000,000 more than in any previous year. The silver coinage amounted to 27,772, table microscope, using a drop of blood disregarding what is not adapted for his purnaling at the state of the business of the business of the state of the stat value of $644,757.75. The number of 5-cent pieces struck was 4,400,775, the remainder of the minor coinage consisting principally of one-cent pieces. The Government made a profit of $3,444,877 on the coinage of the silver pieces. On 7th mo. 1st, 1881, the total paper and specie of the country amounted to $1,469,-342,603, and on 7th mo. 1st, 1882 to $1,543,710,432, a gain of about $74,500,000, of which $28,500,000 was gold coin and bullion. Of the total increase "the Treagold com and bullion. Of the total increase "the Treasury received $15,500,000, the people gained $71,000,000, and the banks lost $11,500,000."

The corn crop of the United States this year is estimated by the Department of Agriculture at $1,600,000,-000 bushels. The condition of the crop is rated very high in the South and comparatively low in the States of largest production. The oat crop is estimated at 480,000,000 hushels; rye, 20,000,000; barley, 45,000,000; buckwheat, 11,000,000, and potatoes, 160,000,000.

The Sioux Commission to negotiate for the cession of part of the Sioux reservation in Dakota, left Yankton on the 16th inst., for the Santee and Yankton Agencies. L. D. Hinman goes with the Commission as interpreter.

Charles Furber has arrived in Chicago in the interest of an English syndicate to buy 1,300,000 acres of land in Mississippi for timber and cotton purposes, and 4,000,000 acres in Texas,

It is reported that silver ore mixed with copper and assaying 75 per cent. of silver, has been discovered in bed of Panther Creek, near Secor, 20 miles from Bloomington, Illinois, and that 1000 pounds have been already taken out.

The vineyards of the Los Angeles district, Cal., are laden with unprecedented stores of grapes this year. The crop is estimated at over 75,000,000 pounds, or 500 tons. These are worth nearly $1,000,000.

Henry Ward Beecher has delivered an address to the autumn meeting of the Congregationalist Association of Brooklyn and New York churches, announcing his withdrawal from them because of difference in regard to certain matters of faith. He especially rejects whole doctrine of original sin as found in the fall in Adam."

The Smithsonian Institution has been informed of the discovery by Schmitt, at Athens, on the 8th inst., of a comet four degrees southwest of the great comet, with the same motion in right ascension and declination. A telegram from Rochester says Dr. Lewis Swift says the Schmitt comet "is unquestionably a fragment of the great comet, broken off at its perihelion passage. This proves that the great comet must have grazed the sun, and hence passed through a terrible crisis. This is the second instance on record of a comet being disrupted, the first one being Biela's Comet of 1846."

Seventy new cases of yellow fever and three deaths were reported in Pensacola on the 16th inst., making a miralty, speaking at Liverpool of the beneficial effects total of 1677 cases and 141 deaths to date. The fever of the Land act, expressed the belief that a turning is spreading in the northern and northwestern portions of the city, heretofore comparatively exempt. The Pensacola Board of Health have issued a pathetic apeal to their countrymen throughout the United States in behalf of the sick and destitute in that city. appeal says the malignity of the epidemic seems to be on the increase; business and trade are paralysed, and there is no work for hundreds depending upon their daily labor for daily bread. The appeal continues: "They cannot go abroad in search of it, for we are isolated from the world by a rigorous and impassable quarantine. The care of the sick and poor devolves almost exclusively upon this Board. Our own resources are exhausted. We are dependent upon the generosity of our fellow citizens abroad for the means of supplying the urgent wants of the sick, the dying and the desti-It is not improper, under the circumstances, to say that our own services are rendered gratuitously. No member of the Board receives either fees or salary for his services as such. We have no personal interest in the matter, except the common interest of humanity. In that interest we need help, and need it promptly. R. B. S. Hargis, M. D., J. C. Whiting, M. D., D. G. Brent, W. F. Fordham, M. D., members present

Diphtheria prevails to an alarming extent in Pittsylvania county, Virginia, nearly two hundred deaths from it having occurred within sixty days. Twenty pupils have fallen victims in one school district, and three children were lying dead in one farm house on First-day the 8th inst.

The deaths in Philadelphia for the week ending 10th month 14th, numbered 298, as compared with 353 for previous week, and 359 for the corresponding week of last year. Of the whole number, 155 were males and tenants' absolute ownership of any property in the soil 143 females: 40 died of consumption; 25 of diphtheria; he either created or purchased, and the right of undis-17 of marasmus; 13 of old age, and 12 of typhoid fever, turbed occupancy for the tenant.

Markets, &c.-U. S. 3's, 102; 3\frac{1}{2}'s, registered, 1003; oupon, 113; 4's, 119\(\frac{1}{3}\); currency 6's, 133. Cotton.-Prices remain about the same as last quoted. Sales of middlings are reported at 11³/₄ a 12 cts. per lb. for uplands and New Orleans.

Petroleum.-Standard white, 73 cts. for export, and

cts. per gallon for home use.

Flour continues in steady demand and prices were firm. Sales of 250 barrels low winters at $3.25; 200 barrels sour springs at $4,50 a $5; 400 barrels Minnesota bakers' extras at $6 a $6.50; 375 barrels do. do. straight at $6.75; 300 barrels Pennsylvania extra family, medium, at $4.75; 500 barrels, do. do. good, at $4.87 285 barrels do, do, fancy at $5; 125 barrels Ohio do. do., choice, at $5.75; 175 barrels do. do., fancy, at $6; 125 barrels Southern Illinois do. do. at $5.75; 125 barrels Ohio patent at $6.50; 125 barrels do. do. fancy. at $7.25; 125 barrels Minnesota do. do., fair, at $7.75 125 do. do. choice, at $8; 175 barrels do. do., fancy, at $8, and 875 barrels City Mills family on private terms. Rye flour was scarce, the market was firm.— Pennsylvania, $4.25 a $4.37½. Corn meal was nominally quoted at $4.50 per barrel for Brandwine. Bran. Winter wheat sells at $16.50, a $17, and spring at $16 a $16.25 per ton, Grain.—There was rather more inquiry for wheat

Grain.—There was rather more inquiry for wheat, and prices were a fraction ligher. Sales of 2200 bashels Pash and his associates has not been completed it Delaware longberry, track, at $1.13 a $1.16; 3000 bush. Prosecution Committee believe that the court-an red, track, at $1.09½; 3000 bash. No. 2 rad, in elevator, cannot meet for another week. The question of co at $1.09; 2000 bush, rejected at 99 cts. a $1.04. Kye to defend the rebel leaders causes the delay in the sold at 70 a 71 cts. Corn was higher. Sales of 1900 ing of the court-martial. The Egyptian Governa, bush, sail yellow, in grain depot, at 80 a 83 cts.; 4000 preparing a note to Sir Edward Malet showing the bash, sail mixed, in grain depot, at 78 a 83 cts.; 3100 convenience of admitting foreign counsel in the bushels steamer, at 77 a 78 cts., and 80,000 bushels sail mixed at 79\(\frac{1}{2}\) a 80 cts. 10th mo.; 75\(\frac{1}{2}\) a 75\(\frac{1}{2}\) cts. 11th hand back Arabi mo.; 66 a 66\(\frac{1}{2}\) cts. 12th mo., and 61\(\frac{1}{2}\) a 61\(\frac{1}{2}\) cts. 1st mo. thorities for trial. Oats were in demand at full prices. About 11,000 The revenue of Russia from 1st mo. 1st to 81 bushels sold in lots at 45 a 47 cts, for No. 2 white, and 1st, this year, was 30,128,000 roubles more than c 40 a 42 cts. per bushel for rejected and mixed, and 15,-000 bushels No. 2 white at 45 a 46 cts.

gard to certain matters of faith. He especially rejects Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 10th mo. in St. Petersburg has set in. Ten degrees is rec the orthodox doctrine of eternal punishment, and "the 14th, 1882.—Loads of hay, 290; loads of straw, 60, by the thermometer in Nishni-Novgorod. Navis Average price during the week-Prime timothy, $1.10, has been suspended in the Volga and Kama rive to $1.20 per 100 pounds; mixed, $1.05 to $1.15 per 1.00 account of drift ice. pounds; straw, 80 to 90 cts. per 100 pounds.

Beef cattle were in fair demand this week, and prices were a fraction higher: 3400 head arrived and sold at stating that there seems to be no reason to doub the different yards at 4 a 7 cts. per lb., the latter rate there has been adjusted in Chili the basis of an arr quality of the stock: 15,000 head arrived and sold at 3 a 51 cts., and lambs at 31 a 71 cts. per lb., as to quality. Hogs were in demand at full prices: 3600 head sold at the different yards at 11 a 123 cts. per pound, according to condition.

Foreign.-Lord Northbrook, First Lord of the Adpoint had been reached in the affairs of Ireland. The number of outrages, he said, had decreased, and rents were being freely paid.

A despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette, from Dublin, reports that, owing to the alarming increase of panperism in the south of Ireland, the Dublin Union has taken the lead in a proposal to send one thousand ablebodied men and women to Canada, at a cost of £7000.

A convention at Athenry, Galway, on the 13th inst. adopted resolutions declaring the right of the country to national independence, accepting the principle of "land for the people," and approving the system of peasant proprietary and amendment of the Bright clauses of the Land act. A resolution was passed deprecating the prevalence of grass farming of the land as tending to paralyze industry and increase pauper-The convention also resolved to prevent hunting ism. until the extra police drafted in the county is dispensed with. The demand for local self-government in the programme of the National Conference includes the abolition of nomination by the Government to office, and the abolition of the office of Lord Lieutenant. The Central Council of the new League will consist of thirty members, twenty of whom will be elected by county conventions, and ten by the Irish Parliamentary party. The Freeman's Journal, reviewing the programme of the National Conference, says it is strictly constitutional and parliamentary. It is only within the lines of the Constitution that the battle of Ireland can now be effectively fought.

Michael Davitt, in a speech, at Edgeworthstown County Longford, recently declared that the only thing that could bring peace to Ireland was recognition of the

The North Staffordshire coal mine owners lee ceded to the application of the miners for an : ra of ten per cent, in wages. Twenty thousand 1 affected by this decision.

The committee under General Sir Archibald appointed to report on the Channel tunnel, c that the exit of the tunnel should be commanded fortress of the first class; that the tunnel should provided with a portcullis, and with an arran for filling it for a sufficient space with an irres gas; and that measures should be taken for the lition of the land portion of the tunnel, for the rary flooding of the main tunnel, and also for i destruction by mine. These arrangements sho controlled by separate parties, both inside and When all this is de of the commanding fortress. committee admit that it would be presumption to absolute reliance upon even the most compreh si arrangements.

Memoranda from Gen. Sir Garnet Wolseley a Duke of Cambridge, the Commander-in-chief Army, are appended, even more strongly conde the tunnel.

The Times considers that this report has settl question of the tunnel adversely for a long time to

Cairo, 10th month 15th .- The indictment of and explaining that the Government would prohand back Arabi and his associates to the milital

The revenue of Russia from 1st mo. 1st to 8t the same time in 1881, and the expenditure for same period 26,603,000 roubles less. Freezing we

The Panama Diario Official of 10th mo, 10th, lished an editorial article dated Arequipa, 10th mo ment that will bring about a prompt cessation of Sheep were dull and unsettled, owing to the poor tilities. These preliminaries of peace are made Garcia Calderon, with the intermediation of Mi Logan. Both will go to Bolivia, to discuss the tion with a view to make peace satisfactory to Bolivia and Peru.

Accounts from the Vueita Abajo show that the r cyclone in Cuba caused considerable loss of life great destruction of property. The tobacco seed were destroyed. At Herraduras, three hundred and houses, including the greater number of the tol drying establishments, were demolished. Two sand palm trees were blown down. Seven hur and sixty houses were destroyed at Consolacion del

The bodies of fifteen persons drowned by the over ing of rivers have been recovered, and many more sons are missing.

WANTED,

A situation for a boy of sixteen, in a Friend's Goods Store. For reference address J., box 337, Chester P. O., Chester Co., Penna.

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL.

The Winter Session begins on Second-day, 7 month 30th, 1882. Parents and others intendin send pupils, will please make early application Jonathan G. Williams, Supt., address Westtown I Chester Co., Pa.; or to CHARLES J. ALLEN, T. east 304 Arch St., Philadelphia, Terms, $80 per session

WANTED,

A woman Friend, as teacher in the Boarding Sel for Indian children, at Tunesassa; also one to as the matron in care of the household. Apply to

Jos. S. Elkinton, 325 Pine street, Philada. John Sharpless, Chester, Delaware Co., Pr Ephraim Smith, 1110 Pine street, Philad

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelphi Physician and Superintendent-JOHN C. HALL, M Applications for the Admission of Patients may made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Boai

Managers,

FRIEND. THR

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, TENTH MONTH 28, 1882.

NO. 12.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

e, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON

Moorestown, Burlington Co., N. J. riptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES,

NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

Dublin Meeting-House, Ly attention has been directed to an artiin "The Friend" of 9th mo. 16th, 1882. ight, Saml. Ellis and others.

for all the settlers until the separation, after No reason is assigned for this change; and tors of Dr. Benjamin Rush were buried, also ble that it was through the influence of Hart, Christopher Growdon, of Bensalem, whose who was then the leading Friend in Byberry.' place on the Neshaminy was so highly spoken. One would infer, taking all the connections, in 1698 in London. This lot was bequeathed provided, and that the new meeting-house by John Hart, grandson of the ancient John built on the Forrest land would soon be ready Hart, in 1786, to the township of Byberry; to be occupied.

The Keithian schism took place in 1691-2, veyed to me by my late grandfather, to be John Hart taking an active part in favor of occupied as a burying-ground forever."

ded, "Dublin Meeting House," in which John Hart, near the present residence of meeting house is at present located.

argued that "Trinity Church, Oxford," Wilmer Canelle. It stood on the west side Trinity Church, Oxford; the dedicatory against Slavery. Thom Germantown Meet, was fenced off during this year, to be used as was never within the limits of Dublin Township, and from there westige of both has long since passed away."

Weeting at Philadelphia, and from there westige of both has long since passed away."

Weeting at Burlington. I am I quote again from Martindale. If this log of the belief, from researches mecting house was built where Martindale by him in the Society of Friends, returned to ave recently made, that "Our Meeting at supposes, it would have been in Moreland England in 1694, and in 1700 received orders, blin" was located in Dublin Township. But if built where I suggest, it becoming a minister of the Church of Engladqhia Court instructions. t of Byberry, where the three townships, whereon he built a mill, and the strip of land cussions with Keith, on his arrival in Phila-wer Dublin, Byberry and Moreland came between the turnpike, then the Burlington delphia. Many of Keith's former adherents teher at the confluence of the Byberry read (for the travel from Philadelphia to joined the Church of England, while more nech of the Poquessing creek with the main Burlington was on the Pennsylvania side of went to the Baptist and other denominations. am. These are all now in the 23rd ward the river, crossing at Bristol, or at a later date A society of Seventh day Baptists contested ly beld alternately at the house of Sarah This I believe to have been the "Monthly going directly from this place to the opening ry, at Oxford, and at John Hart's house. Meeting-house at Dublin," of which John de Awe Church at Oxford where Mr. Talbot the Poetquessink. One of the papers lead by this meeting is still extant; it is a gainst slavery, sent by Germantown Meets are, granted to James Morris and Elizab Inglish their marriage, and is addressed, his op de graeff, Francis daniell Pastorius, Abrawattin by Talbot to Keith's return to England in 1705, and I give some extracts from a letter op de graeff, and of which John Hart's Oct. 20th, 1705. It shows the feelings of those of Poetaware, in ye County of Bucks," we think it not expedient for us to meddle as an incident of the bistory of that day; was issued "At our Monthly Meeting at un Hart's house, Poetquessink Creek, in conferation of ye Quarterly Meeting, was so distasteful to the adherents of the County of Puliadelphia, ye 2d of ye 4th tennor of it being nearly Related to ye truth."

1684." The Signatures to this paper John Hart was one of those in whose care. 1684." The signatures to this paper John Hart was one of those in whose care re. John Carver, Richard Townsend, Walland trust the ten acres donated by Forrest John Hart, Joseph English, Giles was placed in 1685, and, quoting again from and so was bound to answer it; but I could Dr. Martindale in his History of Byberry, of Friends at Byberry had been held at John

This was used as a burying place to be removed to the house of John Hart. which it was used only by the followers of as the location was not by any means so In this lot several of the ances-central as when held at Knight's, it is probaof by Gabrial Thomas in his book published that better accommodations were about being the site of "Our Monthly Meeting at of the road now leading to the Red Lyon. It sermon of which was preached by John Talolin ye 30 2 mo. 1688," at which the "Pro- is said that a lot adjoining the meeting house bot, called the first Bishop of New Jersey, ladelphia County, just over the creek from would have been in Dublin Township, and land. He was sent back to America as a an Hart's house, which creck was the di-would very appropriately be named "Our missionary in 1702, and travelled with John ing line between Byberry and Dublin Meeting at (or in) Dublin." Walter Forrest, Talbot through nearly all the Colonies. John waships, John Hart's house, where the who donated ten acres of land on the Poures. Hart, who had been one of his main suppinal Monthly Meeting was first established to the Pricads, owned the lands on the porters, had joined the Baptist church at ed in 1683, was in the extreme southern creek between Hart's land and the river, Pennepack about 1697-8, and had public dis-

Keith, when a large majority of the members "Tradition says that Friends built a log left the meeting, and met at the house of meeting-house on the flat lands belonging to Henry English, near where the Byberry

be city. In the 5th mo. 1683, at a Quar at Dunk's Ferry, and the Byberry branch the right to hold the Oxford Keithian Meety Meeting of Friends in Philadelphia, "It of the Poquessing was a much more eligible ing-house, but the church people held it, and then and there agreed and concluded and suitable locality than where suggested by in a report of a general meeting of the clergy to there be established a First-day Meeting Martindale. Besides, I have been told by held at Philadelphia, the following sentence reiends at Tookany and Poctquessink, and aged persons residing in the neighborbood, appears: "We have nothing further that is t these two make one Monthly Meeting, that when they were boys, the remains of an material to add, having by this very opporand women, for ye ordering of yeaffairs of old log house was on this strip of ground, and tunity written at large to the Board, we beg hirrch." The Monthly Meeting was accord they often wondered what had been its use, leave to conclude this with an account of our ly held alternately at the house of Sarah This. I believe to have been the "Monthly going directly from this place to the opening

Martindale, "Although the Monthly Meeting not provoke the friends to it by no means ^{*}Mm. Sewel speaks of Francis Bugg as "an enrious s, "Soon after this meeting commenced, a Harvis since 1683, yet the weekly meetings" who "chargethle Quakers with some Socialist and Harvis house, on the rising ground, was set lof Giles Knight until the 4th month of this dearored also to render them odious with the governant as a place of interment for Friends and year, when the Monthly Meeting ordered it meet."

swer it in print. Then I offered to take the with the Church.' two Almanacks by Dan, Leeds and Caleb Pusey and prove them by Friends Books. challenged ye latter at ye head of his Regiment to come forth and see himself proved a Lyar, in ye very same book and page where he most impudently charges G. K. (George tier, which appeared in the columns of this Keith) D. L. (Dan. Leeds) and ye eight minis- paper in 1839. ters of your Church of England. But all I could get of them at present was this sorry paper, 'False News from Gath,' which I intend to answer with 'True news to Gath,' * * at length I appointed a meeting at Church, and there I exposed their errors before all men, but of the wickedness of slavery by the Anti-tures and the divine character of the mone answered a void though several void the strong disposition deemer, I would affectionately remind were there," "Mr. Sharpe was very jointless, slavery societies; and the strong disposition deemer, I would affectionately remind were there." "Mr. Sharpe was very jealous stated a tryal; he to bring ye Quakers to stand a tryal; he reconcile slavery with Christianity. It was exercise of that honest zeal without place. and read a new challenge which I sent them, to answer what they had printed; but all in vain. Sam. Jennings stood up and said, · Friends let's call upon God;' then they went to Prayer and so their meeting broke up. Since, I have read several scandalous Letters from several Quakers, whereby I see they are preparing War against me; one was from W. laity in general, but of a large proportion of Bakeshaw, the same villain that pulled ye the clergy themselves—the experience of the ceived from James B. Cotton, describe st paper out of your hand last yearly meeting past-and the concurrent testimony of all of the scenes and incidents connected w at Philadelphia. He said there was not a word of truth in the Bomb, and he would son, the despised artisan of Nazareth, confined way to his home in Australia. It is belief answer it but none appeared." * * * * My horse you know dyed at Burlington and ye Quakers recorded it as a judgment upon me. Ben. Wheat set it down in his Almanack, and arrogant. such a day of y 1st month, John Talbot's horse dyed, and Barnet Lane haled him into the river. But I was more sorry for the mare an article which appeared in the next number the request to convey notice of things of "The Friend," in which the writer, R. T., terest, I intend to commence another, I before I came over the Bay in Maryland." "Ah, Mr. Keith, I have wanted you but once, and that is ever since you went. * * hope, good sir, you will excuse this long Letter. I had not time to write a short one. &c. John Talbot.

When George Keith received orders from the Bishop of London in 1700, he prepared a Memorial, from which I quote. "In Pennsylvania, when I came to live there, which was in the year 1689, by the number of men ture of "R. T." condemns some expressions in ness and will do so through all time, to the and women that used to come to the Yearly an article extracted from the "Pennsylvania who can read them and understand. In t Meetings from the several parts of that province, and from the West and East Jerseys, we have the writer of that article, I trust I may be as a witness for that Truth which shall y did commonly reckon there might be at least permitted to offer a word in explanation. 1500 Quakers, 200 of which might perhaps belong to the West and East Jerseys. After Saviour of mankind, seems to me by no means again be heard, and the lighting down of the breach that began in the year 1691, be-warranted by the simple allusion to the lan-holy arm be known to judge among the i twixt a party of Quakers that joined with me guage of those who could answer the sublime tious. I believe that by the same "faith in opposing some of their errors (especially truths of his mission only by sneering at his the operation of God," we may come, through their notion of the sufficiency of the light lowly human station as a Nazarene and a the same experience, as did "holy me within every man to salvation without any-laborer. I intended nothing more than a through all time, to ability to speak in pow thing else) & another Party that joined with simple recognition of this fact, as recorded in and freshness, as "the Spirit shall give nto Thomas Lloyd then Deputy Governor of the Holy Scriptures, in illustration of the ance." And still through the ages the migh Pennsylvania and a great Preacher among natural tendency to reject even truth itself, Leader shall call to and shall reveal "great the Quakers, all the Meetings in those Prov-when "the rulers have not believed" it, and things," (though still in unity with the pr inces above mentioned were broken, and they lits propagator is, to appearance, of humble that is of Him), and disciples shall "marve set up Separate Meetings one from another, origin. The contemplation of this fact, it and "believe." on the account of different Principles of Re-seems to me, can have no tendency to "deligion (especially in relation to the notion grade" the Great Teacher and Author of sal-the steamship "Ganges," and passed dov aforesaid) so that when I came from Penn vation. Inexpressibly tender and dear has the Channel through the thick air of tho sylvania to England, which was in the year lever seemed to me the beautiful and affecting coasts. A head-wind one night in the Bay 1694, I left behind me 14 or 15 Meetings in min of the humblest form of our common Biscay, proved our steamer a little; thou Pennsylvania, West and East Jerseys that humanity with the holy attributes of a Re-steady with the 2000 tons of iron that form met apart from the Quakers to the number deemer—this light of heaven shining through part of her cargo, she shipped a deal of wat of above 500 persons. Since there hath been the depths of earthly humility—this vindica- which found its way below; some inches det a Church of England set up in Phila. [1695,] tion of man's relationship, even in his lowest of it washing from side to side, and sweepit the Chief Town in Penna., a considerable estate, to his Creator and Preserver. It gives loose things with it-the loud clatter of f number of those that did come off with me me a deeper sense of that unutterable conde-tings, furniture, &c., "fetching away" in or

No, they say, as they used to do, they will and on account of the Quakers Errors are joined scension which prompted him to take ton S. C. W.

Sentiments of John G. Whittier.

We have been requested to republish an article by our esteemed friend, John G. Whitwas then editor, he reviewed a sermon de-comment; and while I highly respect livered at Andover, Mass., on the 4th of the 7th mo. of that year. Many of us can re-by "R. T.," and while I would do nothin member the intense feeling excited at that weaken the force of his communication, so no cause of surprise therefore, that such a sait seems to me, a forced construction u sermon should contain an attack on the the language of one whose opinions entiabolitionists. It assumed that "ministers of coincide with his own. the gospel" are the only rightful instrumentalities of reform. The review, which was also printed by "The Friend," says, we are satisfied "that the common sense of not only the history from the time when the 'carpenter's his journey from England to Bombay, on down to the present period, will prove a suffi- remember him while in this land.] cient refutation of a doctrine at once absurd

The expressions above italicised and some others contained in the review, called forth leaving London, and now remembering ag mentions his fear, that the epithets used may mising this, however, that the experiences derogate from the divine character of our a sea-life do not favor efforts in this way-Saviour, &c.

Under date of 11th mo. 23rd, 1839, J. G. article, in which he gives his opinions on some are few. important and interesting points of doctrine.

For "The Friend."

himself the despised form of a servant-en ing into the toils, the trials, the affection our nature-"touched with a feeling of infirmities"-enduring in his human chare the wants, the necessities, the temptation those whom He came to seek and to save

As the other charge in relation to his ciples is well answered by the admission In the Pennsylvania Freeman, of which he "R. T." himself, I am free to leave it with zeal for truth and sound doctrine manife

For "The Frien Letter from James B. Cotton.

The following extracts from a letter

Steamer "Rohilla" in the Red Sea, 15th 8th mo. 1882.

Dear Friend,-I sent thee a letter bet monotonous stroke of the engine, uneasin of the ship, &c., induce indisposition of varie Whittier replies to R. T. in the following kind-even reading is wearying and our bod

The Letters of I. Penington, thy pleas: gift to me, remind me of thee often, as th have to-day. Such writings, written as th A writer in "The Friend," over the signa- were in the power of Truth, retain their fre go forth again in brightness when the iniqui The charge of "irreverence" towards the of the times is full, and the Lord's voice sh We left London on the 12th of 7th mo., ich alarmed some of the passengers; after habitants. s the sea was calm, and has been so to the chored close under some of the old fortifi- have been arranged beforehand. ake up weapons of war, in any sense, do it in and luxnriant; the night dews are heavy.

on the 25th were off Port Said at the entrance on our return. of the Sucz Canal. A French pilot took each side the little barbor, and to our anchor lnoisy—some of whom almost took possession stantial truth.—Daniel Wheeler.

Bombay, 29th 8th mo. 1882.

It was a time of great excitement at Port forming of the 17th we anchored close Said, but I need not refer to it now, thou will camels were glad to snatch as they passed, o the neat, white looking, but small town have heard sufficient from other sources. Our Gibraltar—not so high or bold in appear-steamer had to wait 3 days for the Brindisi hours, at the rate of 5 or 6 miles the hour, we so as I had expected. It is situate on the mail. We soon heard of a Russian steamer passed over a fertile plain, through melon st side of the Rock; the fortifications are about to sail for Jaffa, and I went ashore to and sugar-cane fields, with other crops of conspicuous, but they are doubtless there, obtain tickets for passage by her, and make caving towards evening, we had a fine inquiries on other matters. The Arab boat vested land. On the hills to the left we counted wof the eastern face, almost perpendicular man was my guide, and we were not molested as many as 15 at a time of small stone built apparently crumbling away and sliding in any way except by a dragoman who rather "cities," clusters of small houses, though diso the sea, the debris resting in semi-cones fifercely asserted his right to act as guide. A tant, easily seen in the moonlight. The peounst the face of the Rock. The high vol- local missionary, speaking 9 languages, in ne hours, and then the coast of Africa was writing for us to Jaffa and Jerusalem, and cucumbers," &c.

We had a satisfactory meeting in the second the boatman more than twice the sum agreed journey, and found them much beyond 600. bin. It is beyond the power of the captain allow meeting in the saloon; in these ships Δ bout 40 had been employed to ship cargo so small that their riders looked as well able "Church of England service" only is per-on the steamer; to see them settling with to carry them. There were also droves of loadtted. There may be wisdom in this exclusitheir (Arab) leader, one might suppose an in-ed donkeys, and very tractable they seemed. eness, but there is a bondage also, which surrection on a small scale was about to take The road is made of large stones, carefully felt; we were most easy to make the applace. In the end some of them flung them laid originally, but now often displaced, and selves about in attitudes which might indicate the riding was rough beyond all previous ex-Reached Malta early on the 21st, where we utter despair in regard to any hope of common perience. Leaving the plain we found a well-

the people: many different types of face past the customs and all in connection, and time, a "land of oil, olive and honey," of ere there, and we felt a measure of that love saw us to an inn in the Enropean "colony" bich is not affected by prejudice of race or adjoining the old town, comparatively pleasant ationality, and recognizes no boundary or in its modern style; its gardens and many clothes were wet with the dew, and we found artition of sea or land. "For there is one trees, and yet dry and dusty—for no rain falls it uncomfortably cold, with foggy clouds

n a short walk we took the many guides ticular, and giving us full instructions in conwe felt inclined to take refuge again on board met with several friends, in regard to whom he shore. Fruit was plentiful and cheap, and blessing that attends a faithfulness in by. Here we remained a day, and then found being brought from the neighboring countries. these things, there is an introduction which friends who took us to their home for the rest Very much of the island is taken up with may well supersede all other, and which has of our 6 days stay.

To be concluded.) We steamed away in the evening, and early of the resident minister to arrange a meeting

r ship as she rolled, made a disturbance age at the town, said to contain 8,000 in- of the vacant seats in our conveyancepassing through the broad suburbs of fruit orchards, with hedges of prickly pear 10 feet high, full of their thorny fruit, which the -we emerged into the open fields. ic-looking mountains of Spain were in sight troduced bimself to us and was very helpful; and we passed many "a lodge in a garden of ible till nearing Malta; this generally high, giving us names of people there.

The Arabs maintained their character for with melons and with merchandise of various There were long strings of camels loaded y; all had a dry and parched appearance, this may have been because of distance. likely to suit their purpose: though I paid tempted to count the camels passed on this wed 12 hours to coal and land cargo. We justice in the earth, and yet their pay must made road through the lime-stone hills-but tions, pierced for very many cannon, but We left Port Said at 5 p. m. and were off till we reached Jerusalem at 7.30 a.m., the weem in position now. We went ashore for Jaffa in the morning at 7. Just as we were whole distance is about 40 miles. These hills We left Port Said at 5 P. M., and were off till we reached Jerusalem at 7.30 A. M., the o hours; we found it impossible to walk to prepared to land (the steamer anchoring a became more and more beautiful and suscepy advantage in the narrow, crowded streets, mile from shore) the local agent of Cook's tible of cultivation as we reached the city, bere there were so many determined to ob-Tourist Company came on board and took though we saw traces of ancient cultivation in money on some pretext or other; we applied to the distance of the cook ied to the driver of a good four-wheel car- of Jaffa stands on a small rounded hill or bluff through each layer of limestone extending age and pair, or rather, he applied to us, close on the sea. The light-colored stone some yards beyond the next—by removing remanding 6 shillings for an hour's drive—a houses seem crowded and without regularity the soil at the edge of these terraces and cololiceman standing by brought it down to as to streets. A reef of rocks, say half a mile lecting the loose stones in the soil and buildincipal streets and to places of interest, but forms a safe shelter for the many boats which there is much better adaptation for the raisminerial streets and to places of interest, but forms a safe shelter for the many boats which there is much better adaptation for the raisminerial streets and to places of interest, but forms a safe shelter for the many boats which there is much better adaptation for the raisminerial streets and to places of interest, but forms a safe shelter for the many boats which there is much better adaptation for the raisom the effects of the voyage, the intense ply between the ships and the town. Our ing of grapes, olives, &c.; beside which the cat and the glare of the sun from the white able conductor, accustomed to assume a bear, washing of heavy rains is more or less prepared to the place of the place of the plains and the "hill countries" in graphs and the plain is and the "hill countries" in the plain is a plain in the plain is and the "hill countries" in the plain is a plain in the plain in the plain is a plain in the plain in the plain is a plain in the plain in the plain is a plain in the plain in the plain is a plain in the ere not in a state much to enjoy what we which he had to deal, got us safely through try" together, Palestine might yet be, under uw of such things. But our interest centered the crowd of Arabs, &c., at the landing place, Among the hills in the early morning our ord and His name is one;" and they who for months—yet every thing is very green above. The wind, during our stay, was con-Our friend at once engaged a conveyance the sun powerful, but the nights pleasantly orgetfulness of Him.

Our friend at once engaged a conveyance the sun powerful, but the nights pleasantly to leave the same evening for Jerusalem, it cool. Into the crowded, narrow, and crowded to leave the same evening for Jerusalem, it cool. Into the crowded, narrow, and crowded to leave the same evening for Jerusalem, it cool. Into the crowded, narrow, and crowded to leave the same evening for Jerusalem, it cool. Into the crowded, narrow, and crowded to leave the same evening for Jerusalem, it cools. n bloom, but we had no time to go into the being the custom to travel in the cool of the streets within the walls, no carriages can nublic garden. There seemed no scats pronight; ordered provisions to "sustain us" on enter, though loaded camels stride along as if eided to sit in the "shade," such as it was, the way, anticipating our wants in every parall must make way, to the apparent danger vere so obtrusive, and we so hot and weary, nection with our journey. We soon found and seeming indifference, manage to find room. he ship; feeling glad, however, we had seen we did not forget our mission. In the power coachman conducted us to a good inn close

Had * * to insist on the necessity of our doing the will of the Holy Father, if we would We were glad to escape the crowded edge know the doctrine of the Son; unto those thus barge when about two miles out, and he took of the town, passing with difficulty among found in obedience, his doctrine shall distil as the two burdens") has my strong when about two mines out, and ne took of the two burdens" heads a sees, ("crouching bethe day, and as the small rain upon the tender the kneeling camels, asses, ("crouching bethe day, and as the small rain upon the tender the seed by dredging machines,) between the the sees of the constantly deeptween their two burdens") heaps of melons, the day, and as the small rain upon the tender they shall inherit substance, and shall entially know that they have not followed and boys, and others more energies and the standard and the shall rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the small rain upon the tender
the day of the day of the small rain upon the tender the day of the day of the day of the small rain upon the tender the day of the day o

For "The Friend." Thoughts about the Eternal Gospel and the Falling Babylon.

BY CHARLES SHIELDSTREAM.*

"Therefore seeing we have this ministry, even as we obtained mercy, we faint not, but we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in croftiness nor handling the word of God deceitfully, but by the maninaming the word of Good acceptancy, out by the manufestation of the Truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. But if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled in them that perish: in whom the God of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelieving, that the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should not dawn upon Christ, who is the image of God, should not dawn upon being the dispensation of righteodesics and be excluded from those portions of our house them. For we preach not ourselves, but Jesus Christ perfection. Therefore every man who faith be excluded from those portions of our house Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake, fully obeys and walks in the Light will obtain which we habitually occupy; in other wor as Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus sake. Seeing it is God that said, Light shall shine out of darkness, who shined in our hearts to give the light of knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus and introduction between the state good of coverous man, which is an indicator, has telefred to expenditly excluded from the preacher who has all power in heaven and in any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of the sun is partially excluded from the earth, who enlightens every man that cometh God.

GOSPEL EFFECTS.

| Continue of the sun is partially excluded from the earth, who enlightens every man that cometh God. judgeth. Having feared God and known the fest is light. Wherefore he saith: Awake, made subservient to the caprice of fashion and they worship Him who is the Father of and Christ shall shine upon thee. spirits, in spirit and truth; and are a spiritual household, a peculiar people, the children spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but holy sum total of the aesthetic requirements of of light-having realized the presence of God and without blemish! in men. They have seen and realized that the divine power of Christ has granted unto them all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of Him who The Struggle for Life against Civilization and nor back-bone. Almost all respectable citwhereby He has granted unto them his prethrough these they become partakers of the by Dr. Frank II. Hamilton, delivered before steps. Even when travelling, over-heated divine nature, having escaped from the cor- the New York Academy of Medicine: ruption that is in the world by lust. Yea, they have for this very cause used on their tion, and without concessions on the part of bring us to the end of our journey weary, and part all diligence, that to their faith might be civilization, there is, at present, no adequate often sick. Railroads have enabled us to acto knowledge temperance, and to temperance day we have had occasion to observe that men travelled in coaches or on horseback; patience, and to patience godliness, and to when men left the open plains and the small but it is doubtful whether, in the shortening godliness brotherly kindness, and to brotherly hamlets, and crowded themselves into the of human life it has effected, the loss is not kindness love—and these things have become narrow limits of cities, the ratio of sickness greater than the gain. All of these evils, and theirs and abound—have made them not to and death was proportionately increased, thousands not enumerated, are the necessary be idle nor unfruitful unto knowledge of our When, also, in the progress of civilization, the incidents to civilization, and medical men are calling and election sure, and they never same inexorable demands of progress in stumble, for thus has been richly supplied to ury and aestheticism, gas was substituted them the entrance of the eternal kingdom of oil, and hot air or hot steam furnaces our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. These stoves, the hand was again moved forward are the fruits of the gospel, which is eternal another point on the dial of human life. and is preached to the pure in heart.

be perfect, even as your Father which is in first of all, that civilization should make so heaven is perfect;" and Christ, the true gost concessions. The concessions demanded pel preacher, who is the Sun of righteousness condition of the successful application of and teaches as no man teaches, makes his present knowledge of the laws of hygiene people righteous and perfect; his dispensation 1. That all plumbing having any direct being the dispensation of righteousness and indirect communication with the sewers sl perfection. The Light makes manifest all that it shall be placed in a separate build things that are against the truth, and leadeth or annex. into all truth.

Ephesians of old: "Be ye therefore imitators The Gospel of Christ is eternal, and is the of God as beloved children, and walk in love gas-burners. So long as we are obliged power of God unto salvation. Some call the even as Christ also loved you, and gave him-depend upon gas, we must content ourselv four books of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John self up for us an offering and sacrifice to God with light, and not insist upon illuminatio for gospel, but it is not so. The gospel is for an odor of a sweet smell." And he desired. The concessions demanded are named preached to every creature, of which a part that uncleanliness or covetousness should not the order of their importance. The necess never see or hear of those four books. Every be so much as named amongst them; "nor for each is urgent, but the first admits of creature has to obey the power of God; for filthiness, nor foolish talking or jesting, which compromise. However, there are many of Christ the spiritual man will judge the world are not benefiting, but rather giving thanks." possible sources of ill health and physical (according to the gospel-that is according to And be reminds them that no unclean person cay incident to civilization than those I ha his invincible power. He is the true gospel nor covetous man, which is an idolator, has referred to especially. The wholesome lig and makes old things pass away, and makes words, for because of these things cometh the fends the educated by its vulgar and intrusiall things new. Those that receive and follow wrath of God upon the children of disobedi-garishness, and not unfrequently at large r his grace and light in all its holy manifesta- ence. Be not ye, therefore, partakers with ceptions the light of day is excluded wholl tions, they repent of their sins and vain con-them; for ye were once darkness, but are in order that the more esthetic and kaleid versations and come out of darkness to God's now light in the Lord; walk as the children of scopic effects of gas light may be substitute marvellous light, being more and more bap- light, (for the fruits of the light are in all good-regardless of the fact that the air is the tized by Christ's spiritual baptism into one ness and righteousness and truth,) proving predered unfit for respiration. Our soci body of which Christ is the head; and more what is well-pleasing unto our Lord, and have babits demand that both children and adult and more, as they are obedient to the light, no fellowship with the unfruitful works of dark-shall devote the hours intended for sleep t will they be enabled to become sons of God, ness, but rather even reprove them; for the amusements, which amusements are rendere purified in their hearts by Christ's holy bapthings which are done by them in secret it is more intoxicating and pernicious by the pre tism. They come to the new Jerusalem, and a shame even to speak of. But all things, longed respiration of heated and poisonou the innumerable company of angels, and the when they are reproved, are made manifest air. Dress makes its contribution. Utilit first-born of the just, and to God who justly by the light, for every thing that makes mani- and regard for health are almost invariable. time of his judgment, and given glory to Him, thou that sleepest, and arise from the death, the study of effect. Flimsy head-dresses

(To be concluded.)

Æstheticism.

Lord Jesus Christ. They have made their fire-places disappeared, with their great open painfully familiar with the impediments they *The author being a Swede by birth, and more familiar with his native language than with English, the Soriburg tests which he nodes will frequently be. which no sanitary engineer or architect has physician necessary as an integral part of ever repaired; and when, in obedience to the society."

In order to render pure and inodorous Our Lord and Saviour said: "Ye, therefore, atmosphere of our houses, it will be necessary

2. That we return to the open fire-place Paul, the apostle, gave this advice to the the grate as a means of warming our hour 3. A diminished consumption of oxygen

"Let no man deceive you with empty fades the costly rugs and drapery, and low necks, short sleeves, tight corsets, high See, here, the glorious church, having no heels, and narrow toes do not contribute the civilization in the matter of dress. Walking as a means of locomotion and of exercise i zens ride when they might walk, and complain e New York Academy of Medicine:

"Science has not kept pace with civilizaried and irregular meals, dust and smoke, rendered difficult and sometimes impossible

In the 'best' society there is neither muscle found to be different from our standard version in some of the words used.

Selected. THE CORNSTALK'S LESSON.

One single grain of corn took root Beside the garden walk;
"Oh, let it stay," said little May,
"I want it for my stalk."

And there it grew, until the leaves Waved in the summer light; All day it rocked the baby ear And wrapped it warm at night.

And then the yellow corn-silk came, A skein of silken thread: It was as pretty as the hair Upon the baby's head, Alas! one time, in idle mood, May pulled the silk away, And then forgot her treasured stalk For many a summer day.

At last she said, "I'm sure my corn Is ripe enough to eat: In even rows the kernels lie, All white, and juicy sweet."

Ah me! they all were black and dry, Were withered long ago; "What was the naughty corn about," She said, "to cheat me so !"

She did not guess the silken threads Were tender pipes to lead The food the tasselled blossom shook, To each small kernel's need.

The work her foolish fingers wrought Was shorter than a breath; Yet every milky kernel then Began to starve to death!

So list, my little children all, This simple lesson heed: That many a grief and sin has come From one small thoughtless deed. - Wide Awake.

LIFE'S HEAVIEST LOSS.

Upon the white sea-sand There sat a pilgrim band, g the losses that their life had known; While evening waned away From breezy cliff and bay, he strong tides went out with weary moan. One spake with quivering lip, Of a fair freighted ship, all his household to the deep gone down; But one had wilder woe-For a fair face, long ago, a the darker depths of a great town.

There were who mourned their youth With a most loving ruth, brave hopes and memories ever green; And one upon the West Turned an eye that would not rest, r-off hills whereon its joy had been,

Some talked of vanished gold, Some of proud honors told, spake of friends who were their trust no more ; And one of a green grave Beside a foreign wave nade him sit so lonely on the shore,

But when their tales were done, There spake among them one nger, seeming from all sorrow free:
"Sad losses ye have met,
But mine is heavier yet;
believing heart is gone from me."

Alas," these pilgrims said, "For the living and the dead, rtune's cruelty, for love's sure cross, For the wrecks of land and sea! But, however, it came to thee, stranger, is life's last and heaviest loss." -Frances Brown.

There is a saying, think it o'er, For a lesson it may teach, Sweep the rubbish from thy door, Ere to another thou wouldst preach."

ENDURANCE

"If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small."-Prov. xxiv. 10. Faint not beneath thy burden, tho' it seem

Too heavy for thee, and thy strength is small; Tho' the fierce raging of the noon-tide beam, On thy defenceless head untempered fall,

Tho' sad and heart-sick with the weight of woe; That to the earth would crush thee, journey on; What tho' it be with faltering steps and slow, Thou wilt forget the toil, when rest is won.

Nay! murmur not because no kindred heart, May share thy burden with thee-but alone Still struggle bravely on, tho' all depart : Is it not said that each must bear his own?

Then be not faithfess, tho' thy soul he dark; Is not thy Master's seal upon thy brow Oft has his presence saved thy sinking bark : And thinkest thou He will forsake thee now?

Hath He not bid thee cast on Him thy care, Saying, He careth for thee? Then arise; And in thy path, if trod in faithful prayer, The thorns shall turn to flowers of Paradise.

Maxims of Business.-Such suggestions as the following would secure a race of business men who would honor the land that furnishes them so noble a theatre for successful enterprise. 1. Engage in no business inthe Most High. 2. Follow your chosen vo-cation, and that alone, whatever temptations (hristianity, who think it not like a Chris-to speculation or rapid acquisition may pre-sent themselves. 3. Adopt no "tricks of charitable uses, to be employed and accounted holy weight and impressions of the Word of by such simple rules as these, may free the living body in the Society; and although himself from the feverish excitements of such might continue in a consistent form of adventurous traffickers, and assure himself, sound words and sound doctrine, as to the with God's blessing, of an honest competency, if not of a benevolent afflnence and a good name .- Christian's Penny Mag.

Divine Grace .- C. H. Spurgeon, in one of his sermons, compared the visitations of the Holy Spirit to the flowing of the tide. He says:

"What a wonderful thing a flood is! Go down to the river, look over the bridge, and see the barges and other crafts lying in the mud. All the king's horses and all the king's men cannot tug them out to sea. them with his hand."

never do without such help.

Selected.

Selected for "The Friend," How Ministers may be Exposed to Temptation.

Upon the occasion of a marriage at -I found it my place to sit the meeting in silence. The earnest expectation of people, especially on such occasions, I believe often obstructs the current of right ministry. Silence, if duly considered, may be the best lesson of instruction for those whose life is in words or outward declarations. I have thought some amongst us are so void of a right understanding, as to suppose there is a kind of necessity for something to be done by way of ministry, at marriages and finerals especially; it being hard for them to apprehend that they can be so honorably conducted without. I have observed some who, though but little concerned to maintain our testimonies by an uniform, consistent deportment, yet appear very zealous on those occasions; taking a deal of pains, and riding many miles, and sometimes from one preacher to another, to make themselves sure of having one; and when they have been so successful as to prevail upon any to come, it would no doubt be a great disappointment, were they to be wholly silent. In this situation, the minister himself may, unless well-grounded, be exposed to temptation to gratify such. My principal consistent with the strictest morality, nor in view in this remark is, to show how remote which you cannot daily seek the blessing of such are from the truth they profess, and trade," however sanctioned by custom, that that over-anxiousness in the people should involve deception or untruthfulness. 4. Never prevail on the preachers amongst us, to anincur a debt beyond your resources. 5. Al. swer their cravings and expectations, either ways live within your income. 6. Devote a in attending, or when there, in gratifying fixed portion of your income, beforehand, to them with words, without a due regard to the for as systematically as family expenditures. life, as the alone moving cause to public service, The man who will regulate his business they would be in danger of being lost as to external appearance, yet the substance being lost, their performances would be no more than as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal. Some, to our sorrow, have been observed to lose ground by such means; what can be more offensive to the gracious bountiful Giver, than to prostitute such a precious, divine gift, by making it subservient to the carnal, unsanctified desires of those who are strangers to God, yet love to hear of Him and his glorious acts by the hearing of the ear .- John Griffith.

Error in Catechism.—I spent some time in There they lie, dead and motionless as the a schoot, in which there are about thirty pnmud itself. What shall we do with them? pils, who are trained with much Christian What machinery can move them? Have we care, and are diligently instructed in the a great engineer among us who will devise Holy Scriptures. I could not, however, but a scheme for lifting these vessels, and bear lament to hear them taught such palpable ing them down to the river's mouth? No, it error as is conveyed in the Catechism of the cannot be done. Wait till the tide comes in! Episcopal Church, by which they are in-What a change! Each vessel walks the structed to say, that they become members water like a thing of like. What a difference of Christ and children of God by baptism, between the low tide and the high tide. You clearly implying by baptism with water. I cannot stir the boats when the water is gone; know this fallacy is attempted to be explained but when the tide is at the full, see how away by various arguments; but it is quite readily they move; a little child may push in vain to try to twist the plain meaning of the words. It remains palpably untrue that Even so when the hearts of the people are any infant, by water baptism, becomes a animated by the Spirit of God, they are ena-member of Christ, or a child of God; and the bled to perform his works, which they could direct tendency of such instruction as teaches them to say that this is the case, is to de-ligious state, and to lead to attach to this rite the imaginary effect of a mystical chain, and to divert their attention from the baptism of the Holy Ghost, received only through the Sahib was found out, and the poor cook used that in a hot and moist climate, where n mediation of Christ, by which alone they can to get into trouble, and be accused of keeping is never at rest, it may produce, not on become members of Christ, children of God, the missing chupattic for his own private cle a year, as with us, but one a month. and heirs of eternal life. - Joseph Backhouse.

For "The Friend." Natural History, Science, &c.

Trick of an Elephant.-Lady Barker relates the following anecdote of an elephant.

"When we paid them them a visit upon proud of his elephant's superior slyness and bacco. cunning, and begged us to stay and see him mahout for his supper.

so as to hide his spoil completely.

"Burra Sahib then raised his voice and in "Galignani. bellowed for his supper in lond and discordant tones. The mahout then ran up as if he had English exchange states that 150 tons of fresh He also states that R. B. "long enterta been a long distance off, stood in front of him, Australian meat preserved in frozen state ar- views of faults existing, as he conceive and commenced handing him the chapatties, counting as he did so, one, two, three, and so by afterward in an excellent condition to the obstructing its efficiency in promulgating on. The elephant received each in his trunk, and put it gently into his huge mouth, bolting it as though it had been a small pill. ship Sorrento, and brought through the Suez Wesleyan Methodists." This difference it Twelve chupatties was the allowance, and Canal in the hottest season. In all, the cargo, lief and views, naturally disqualified R. B. he required this sort of food to keep him in which was first taken to London, consisted of fully understanding the motives and coun good condition. When the mahout came to number cleven muffin he looked about for the twelfth in great dismay, pretending that he sailors in Egyptian waters. This experiment doings very foreign to that which the Sot could not think what had become of it, and has been a grand success, and it determined has ever entertained, and which was calling for the cook to scold him, searching the sending of the Sorrento for another cargo, gested to Robert Barelay's mind by his the ground, and wondering in good Hindostance, where that other chapattie could be. The elephant joined in the search, turning by Prof. Bachelart in Nature. His investiga- George Fox, and others of that day, as to over an empty box that was near and trum tions were made during visits to the ruins of source of their convictions, and their conpeting loudly.

The mahout was delighted to see how much this farce amused me, and at last he turned suddenly to the elephant, who was the palace to be cut down. On a second visit, ancestor-the Apologist. still bunting eagerly for the missing chupattie, in 1880, he cut the trees that had grown since and revited him as a thief and a 'big owl,' adding all sorts of epithets, and desiring him to kneel down, which Burra Sabib did very rior to their age. The oldest could only have as John Wesley did in after years, and I reluctantly. The mahout then scrambled up been 22 years of age, but on a section of one their movements were regulated by direct ceive the young with regard to their own re-down the chapattie, belaboring the clephant 60 to 65 ctm. in diameter. A shrub, 18 m well with the bough which had served to conceal it. It seems that the trick had been Charnay found the case repeated in played successfully many times before Burra species, and in trees of all sizes. He conc consumption."

Evil Results of Smoking .- My debut as a smoker was like every body's. My first pipe made me very ill, and it was only by degrees that I managed to become a third-rate smoker that is, I disposed of eight or ten pipes a day without inconvenience, but whenever I exthe afternoon of the storm, the huge beasts ceeded that average I suffered from violent were taking a bath, or rather giving it to sick headaches, ushered in by indistinctness themselves by filling their trunks with water, of vision, and numbress of one side of the and dashing it over their heads, trumpeting face, the tongue, and one arm, most often on and cujoying themselves immensely. At a the left side. These preliminary symptoms little distance the cooks were busy baking lasted about ten minutes, after which the headthe chapatties-a muffin as large as a soup- ache came on in full force. The most refracplate, and nearly as thick-in mud ovens; tory organ, however, was my stomach. After and the grass cutters had been down to a having smoked too much, I used to experience pond near to wash the dust off the large bun- the symptom known as pyrosis or hearthurn, dles of grass for the elephants' suppers. We to a very trying extent, though as any alkatalked a little to the mahouts, and one very line water speedily caused these phenomena became an interesting and important que picturesque old man seemed exceedingly to vanish, I did not care to give up my to-

About a year ago, having smoked for some be true, that we had for so many general so we waited till 'Burra Sahib' had months more than usual, I suddenly found been deceived in believing the plain s finished his bath, and came slowly up to the myself affected by a peculiar and terrific pain ments of George Fox and his contempor over the region of the heart; in short, I had as to the source from which they derived "The mahout called out to the cook to a violent attack of angina pectoris. It put a knowledge of Divine truths, and their Di bring the chupatties, and made us retire be-stop to my smoking, as, though I have since linary regulations, particularly in refer bind the tree and watch what Burra Sahib tried once or twice, I have always found my to the exercise of the ministry did. As soon as the cook went away, the eigar or pipe detestable, and, to sum up, am elephant put up his trunk and broke off a radically converted. I do not wish to discuss made an examination of those parts of Re large bough of the tree above him. This scientifically the nicotinic origin of my sufferthey generally do to serve as a brush to keep lings, but am sure that they all sprang from of Friends, and the result was published off flies, so be knew that was nothing remark-the same cause—excessive use of tobacco. De 1878, with the title, "An Examen." In able. He then looked slyly around him, and generation of the cardiac muscle is often caused review, which is a calm and thoughtful es as he could not see his mahout he thought by tobacco. So long as the rest of his organ- he produces evidences from the book itse the coast was clear, and hastily snatched up ism remains in good working order, the smoker show, that Robert Barclay did not hold a chupattic, which he put under the branch only experiences intermittent palpitation, and belief ever held by the Society of Frience on the top of his head. I noticed how care the grave injury done the heart remains until the immediate and perceptible revelat fully be felt with his flexible trunk if any perceived until some triffing cause brings into and influences of the Holy Spirit on the I edge was uncovered, and arranged the leaves relief the irremediable disorders produced by of man, under the operation of which his the prolonged use of tobacco .- Dr. Deschamps vation is wrought out, and by which a

> Importing Frozen Meat in Summer .- An assigned him by the Head of the Chur rived on 8th mo. 21st, and was served out short- the organization of the Society of Frie British fleet at Alexandria. On 5th mo. 1st. gospel and for increasing its membership; this meat was shipped at Sydney in the steam- advocated a system analogous to that of 402,000 pounds of beef and mutton, where the action of our early Friends, and led bir British Government bought 150 tons for the place a construction on their language > question has been answered in the negative away the clear and positive language Palenque, Mexico, in 1859-80.

that hid the façade of one of the pyramids of greatly at variance with those of his wor 1859, and he remarked that all of them had of R. B., is the statement, that G. Fox or a number of concentric circles greatly supe- ized and sent forth a band of preachers, m on his head, snatched off the branch, and flung of them he counted 250 circles; the tree was received from him, and not by their own old at most, had 18 concentric circles

THE FRIEND.

TENTH MONTH 28, 1882.

The views advanced by the late Re Barclay, in his work entitled, "The I Life of the Religious Societies of the Com wealth," as to the origin and early pracof the Society of Friends, were so striki at variance with the long settled senting of our members, and with the impression rived from the perusal of the writings experiences of those who were most in mental in gathering us to be a people, as settling the discipline and usages which ever since been maintained among us, th to determine on what foundation R. B. I his statements, and whether it could r

The late Dr. Charles Evans, of Philadely Barclay's work which related to the Soc he is fitted and enabled to engage in the v Do Tree Rings show the Age of Trees .- This prepossessions. Thus he was led to exp of church affairs; and to endeavor to m In 1859 M. Charnay caused all the trees them responsible for his own views, which heir being sent by the Lord to perform is untenable and deceptive.

Among other errors contained in the w

services which He required—and nowhere How is it possible to reconcile such a theory his strange assertion, is taken from letters send abroad out of the North country." are lest unsuitable persons go abroad in Lord, and go in the power of the Lord.

ds of certain neighborhoods. ition, and many of our members were in government of the Holy Head as himself." In strict accordance with the language of the collecting of information in regard to G. Fox, and in direct opposition to the assert e advised by him for attention to some Lib. vol. 13, p. 215. h services. But if it be admitted, as very by was the case, that in some instances for many and the control of the form and the form and the control of the form and the fo may have mentioned it to such an one, land."-Fds. Lib. vol. 14, p. 143. re is no reason to believe that this amounthad been. William told him he must go -Fds. Lib. vol. 14, p. 384. k to Coventry, where he had been in daneliberate consideration of the matter, and custom and practice." king to the Lord to know his will in it, I nge how any one familiar with the biogratic was not entered on, until the will of the credulous as to believe the assertion made now and history of our early members could Lord had been inquired after, and the way for the first time, that these servants of the eve such a statement, the truth of which had been made clear to go. And so we beontradicted by almost every one who has lieve it would be found to have been in those a record of his or her own experiences, cases, where G. Fox was led, as Wm. Dews-constantly find descriptions of how the bury was in this case, to recommend special d called them into the ministry, and then services to others. The theory that he exerhe growing up in their minds of a concern cised any control, similar to that of the Lonards some particular place or people, and don Missionary Society over its missionaries, we find any intimation of their labors with George Fox's own words? "About this ng performed under any such general artime [1654] did the Lord move on the spirits of a radical change in the principles and praccement as that which exists among the many whom He had raised up, and sent forth bwers of Wesley; or that they were sent to labor in his vineyard, to travel southward, by G. Fox, as R. B. asserts, "in the same and spread themselves in the service of the e as the London Missionary Society sends gospel to the Eastern, Southern and Western foreign missionaries." parts of the nation, * * for above sixty be evidence adduced by R. B., in support ministers had the Lord raised up and did now respectfully commend to the attention of those

I some Friend to places specified—or in-lin travelling abroad in the world. The same Book Store, No. 304 Arch St., Philadelphia; nation given that in accordance with his power that moves any to go forth, is that which or of Joseph Smith, No. 6 Oxford street, re certain visits had been paid or services must keep them. For it is the greatest danger Whitechapel, E., London. formed-or remarks made as to the need to go abroad, except a man be moved of the ministry-or reference to the spiritual Similar testimony might be multiplied from his Journal and other writings, for, as well Then George Fox was requested to send, observed by Charles Evans, "Every epistle or tid himself request a Friend to visit a cer- address to his fellow-laborers is couched in place or neighborhood, there is often language which shows that he took it for degrees in length and resembled the portion detached hing to indicate that the intention was granted, they were united with him in a comt such an one should go as a minister of mon faith, and acknowledged an equal respongospel. It was then a time of great per-sibility to act and speak under the same ir sufferings which might be laid before tions of R. Barclay, is the testimony given by government to procure relief, involved many who lived and labored at the same time. In labor and research. "The care of the John Crook says, "The circuit and compass rches" rested with weight on the spirit of of counties were showed me by the Spirit of ry, it is very probable that most of the travelling elsewhere, when required thereunto ts alluded to in the Swarthmore papers by the motions of the same Spirit."-Friends to anything more than that stirring up of ministers: "Being prepared of the Lord, and pure mind and encouraging the faith of having received power from on high, we went unother which has always been practised forth, as commanded of the Lord, leaving all a literary association, and by one day's canvassing the followers of Christ. John Richardson relations and all things of the world behind among the white secured the gift of 300 volumes and ttes* that in one of his journeys in the lus, that we might fulfil the work of the Lord the promise of a number of daily papers. se of Truth, he visited that deeply experi-unto which He called us. With flesh and to supply the home demand, and will save $125,000. ed man of God, William Dewsbury, and blood of any creature we consulted not, nor 000 which it has been accustomed annually to spend in ntioned to him the different places where took counsel of men, but of the Lord alone.

William Penn's works (folio, vol. 2, p. 542) from the rudeness and violence of the charges T. Hicks with talsehood for "saying ple. At first, John was unwilling to do so, that we appoint ministers beforehand to speak

After referring to these and many similar nd my way clear to go, and I had some passages, C. Evans says: "With this direct vice and good satisfaction, and left Friends and cumulative testimony of the parties conarer to one another than when I first met cerned, to the immediate Divine intimation white with snow as in winter. Between one and two the them." Here, though the suggestion of where He, the Head of the Church, required them to go and exercise their gifts as minisions of the Divine requirings. It seems came through Wm. Dewsbury, yet the ser-lany of the early Friends, who can be so blindly Lord were acting under the direction of George Fox,-who at the same time was urging them to be obedient to Christ, their councillor and commander."

We have referred more at length to this subject, because we have noticed of latter times in the Christian Worker and in the London Friend, some of the same erroneous views put forth that were advanced by R. Barelay in his "Inner Life." As they involve tices of our Society, and their adoption leads to the destruction of unity between those who continue to be Quakers and those who have ceased to walk in the ways of their predecessors in religious profession, we would who may desire to know the truth on these od in the Swarthmore papers. In these, In his address to the ministers among points, the perusal of the "Examen" above usts are made to G. Fox, that he would Friends, he says, "There is great danger, too, referred to, which may be procured at Friends'

SUMMARY OF EVENTS,

UNITED STATES.-Professor Brooks, at Phelps, New York, on the morning of the 22d, verified a discovery made by him on Seventh-day morning of a fragmentary comet, 8 degrees east of the great comet. It appeared smaller than on Seventh-day, when it measured two from Biela's comet. Professor Brooks thinks it identical with the envelope thrown off several days previously.

The old post-office site in New York city was sold at auction on the 18th inst. It was bought by members of the Chamber of Commerce for $650,000.

The enormous travel on the New York elevated railroads is shown by a report just made, which states that during the year ended 9th mo. 30th, they carried over eighty-six millions of passengers, and their cash re-ceipts amounted to $5,973,000. The annual business of the two great underground lines of London is but little Fox, as his Journal abundantly shows; the Lord, where mostly I should labor in the more in the number of passengers carried and far less in the absence of anything to the conwork of the Lord; though not restrained from in receipts. Their average fare is about one-penny work it is your probable, they work of the Lord; though not restrained from in receipts. Their average fare is about one-penny work it is your probable, they work of the Lord; though not required though the property of the control
At a sale of thoroughbred Jersey cattle in New York on the 18th, the cow Fancy Fan was sold for $1650, at for a brother minister to enter upon, and go and bear witness to his name in Scot- on its everal settlements and orchards, at short $3 per acre. On the same day eleven tracts of land in other Edward Burrough says of himself and other portions of the county, containing several orchards and settlements, and aggregating 1800 acres, were sold at an average of $1 per acre.

The colored men of Columbus, Ga., have organized the West for food.

Yellow fever appears to have been much worse this year in Pensacola, Florida, and Brownsville, Texas, than has generally been supposed. It is reported that the number of cases in Pensacola has been 1970, that is ple. At first, John was unwilling to do so, that we appoint ministers beforehand to speak to say more than one-half of the population have been William was positive that there was a in such a place, at such a time," and adds, ill. The death rate is not very heavy in proportion to vice for him to do there. J. R. says, "upon "God preserve us from that dry, hireling the number of cases, but reaches one in a little over twenty of the inhabitants. The proportions in Browns-ville are almost as bad; two-fif hs of the inhabitants have been sick with yellow fever, and one in forty-four have died of it.

In Tulare county, Cal., the Sierras are almost as feet of snow are reported from Mineral King Flat, about 8000 feet above the sea level.

Nineteen new pupils from Arizona, New Mexico and See this interesting circumstance in full in Life of ters of his gospel, and the absence of any in Eichardson, Friends' Library, Vol. IV., p. 29. sentence to the contrary in the writings of at Carlisle, making a total of 314 Indians in that school.

Deaths in Philadelphin for the week ending Tenth "is the fact that it is now nearly six months since there Cathedral, fainted and was carried, in an uncon a month 21st, numbered 303, as compared with 341 for has been a collision between the constabulary and the condition, to the Palace. The King accompanie the corresponding week of last year, and 298 for the people in the 1ri-h provinces." previous week. Of the whole number, 147 were males and 156 females: 49 died of consumption; 17 of marasmus; 16 of old age; 12 of typhoid fever; 12 of diph-theria, 13 of pneumonia, and 11 of casualties.

Markets, &c.—U. S 3's, 102\(\frac{1}{8}\); 3\(\frac{1}{2}\)'s, registered, 101\(\frac{1}{8}\); 4\(\frac{1}{2}\)'s, 113\(\frac{1}{8}\); 4\(\frac{1}{2}\)'s, 119\(\frac{1}{8}\); currency 6's, 133.

Cotton continues quiet at the decline. Sales of middlings are reported at 113 a 115 cts, per lb, for uplands 246,000,000 francs. and New Orleans soft springs at 4-209 a So; 100 parrets anim, pagers three races who seem at Common on a comparacy to extra at 86 a So.9; 300 parrets do, do, straight at indictament charges the prisoners with a conspiracy to $6.75; 400 parrets P-annylvania extra family, medium, mage civil war, a crime which is punishable with death, at 4.37; 2.75 parrets, do, do, good, at -5; 300 parrets. Eighty Frenchem, assisted by 1400 African labouers, at 4.87½; 275 barrels, do. do. good, at -5; 350 barrels do. do. fanev at $5.10; 125 barrels Ohio do. do., choice, do, do, fancy at $5.10; 125 barrels do, do, fancy, at $6; 125 barrels between the Niger and Senegal rivers. Their opera- by opposes the reform of the Constitution. It is Southern Illinois do, do, at $8.575; 125 barrels do, barrels Object to the Niger and Senegal rivers. Their opera- by opposes the reform of the Constitution. It is Southern Illinois do, do, at $8.575; 125 barrels do, do, fancy, at $7.25; 125 plant the French flag and erect two forts on the Niger. that the attitude of Marshal Serrano is the most barrels Minnesota do. do., fair, at $7.50; 125 do. do. choice, at `7.50 a $7.75; 175 barrels do. do., fancy, at $8, and 1100 barrels City Mills family on private terms. Rye flour was scarce, and the market was firm-Pennsylvania, $4.25 a $4.37½. Corn meal was nominally with the wheat sells at $17, a $17.50, and spring at $16 crisis has ended. The Egyptian Ministry have intia $16.50 per ton, Grain.—Wheat was rather easier. Sales of 2700 bush. Delaware longberry, track, at -1.13 a $1.17, 3100 bish, condition that the witnesses in the case shall undergo 380.) red, track, at $1.10; 2000 bish. No. 2 red, in elevator, a preliminary examination. The mode of procedure | A Detailed the property of the p yellow, in grain depot, at 85 at 85 at 85 at 2500 bush, sail will have the right of final reply. Arabi Pasha desires day the 20th inst. Brainess has since been end mixed, in grain depot, at 86 cts., and 2500 bushels that De Lesseps be summoned as a witness at his trial, suspended. There was great destruction of shippi steamer, at 83 a 84 cts., and 25,000 bushels sail mixed. Ninet, who was Arabi Pasha's European adviser, de Lima, 10th mo. 23d.—The Diar.o Official today. about 12,000 bushels sold in lots at 45 a 47 ets. for No. 2 white, and 40 a 42 cts. per bushel for rejected and mixed, and No. 2 white at 45 a 46 cts.

85 cts. per gallon for home use.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 10th mo. $1.10 per 100 pounds; mixed, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 1.00 pounds; straw, 75 to 85 cts. per 100 pounds. Beef cattle were dull and rather lower: 4500 head lb., the latter rate for extra. Sheep were dull and lower: 15,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards, at 21 a 51 cts., and lambs at 31 a 78 cts. per lb., as to condition. Hogs were less active: 4000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 11 a 121 cts. per pound, according to quality.

FOREIGN .- A new political movement, entitled the being the largest cargo of cattle imported this season tives, without loss, owing to the improved system of ventila-tion adopted by the line, An Irish National Land League was formed at Dublin on the 17th instant. It was decided that the Conncil should consist of forty-eight members, thirty-two from the counties and sixteen from the Parliamentary party. Since that time the Committee of the National League have adopted an address to the people, which is in substance as follows: "The landlords have combined with the purpose of breaking the spirit of the tenants. The dismay which the present scale of judicial rents has created among the applicants to the Land Courts renders it more necessary now than ever that the tenantry should be reunited in vigilant and lawful association for the purpose of protecting themselves from injustice. The inspiration of all our struggles is to transfer all local power and patronage from privileged strangers to the hands of the people, and so fortify the people for the work of self-government."

George Otto Trevelyan, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in a speech at Selkirk, Scotland, said the resident magistrates in Ireland, in their last reports, were singularly unanimous in stating that the relations between Britain for foreign wheat, from the first of 10th month attempted to lynch the assassin, at 15,500,000 quarters, or nearly 2,000,000 quarters less Political and financial circles of than were imported during the same period last year. The imports of France for the past nine months, as compared with those of the same period last year, increased 99,000,000 francs, and the exports increased

Threatening placards are nightly posted on the walls Petroleum.—Standard white, 75 cts. for export, and at Montecau-les-Mines, and threatening letters are sent eral party, meet with great difficulties, owing to a to the managers of the mines. There have been several sales of 200 barrels low winters at $3.25; 125 barrels leader and a notorious anarchist. The trial of twenty sour springs at $4.50 a $5; 150 barrels Minn, bakers' three rioters will begin at Cholors on the 100 three centres at $6.50; 300 harrels Admin, bakers' three rioters will begin at Cholors on the 100 three centres at $6.50; 300 harrels Admin, bakers' three rioters will begin at Cholors on the 100 three centres at $6.50; 300 harrels Admin bakers' three rioters will begin at Cholors on the 100 three centres at $6.50; 300 thr three rioters will begin at Chalons on the 25th. The It is thought, however, that an arrangement wi

A number of Tunisian chiefs with their followers have offered to return to Tunis and submit to the French. Tripoli is strongly opposed to such action. A French man-of-war has been placed at the di-posal of the French

Consul General at Tripoli.

mated their intention to permit Broadley and Eve and Mark Francis Napier to defend Arabi Pasha on the at 83 a 86 cts. Oats were in fair demand at full prices; clares that he received no rewards for his services, and that he can prove by documents that the evacuation of troops and Montonerus, which took place on the Alexandria and the defence of the country were ordered inst., near Peroto. The Montoneros were comple by the Ministry and sanctioned by the Knedive. Cairo, 10th mo. 21st.—Several influential landowners, 21st, 1882.—Loads of hay, 480; loads of straw, 65, who have just returned from visiting their properties Average price during the week -Prime timothy, $1 to in the country, report that the state of the natives is most unsatisfactory. A thin superstratum of fear over-lies among them a deep hatred of Christians.

The Times says, the departure of Lardon Bredif for arrived and sold at the different yards at 4 a 7 cts. per Egypt does not indicate that he is to resume his old position as Comptroller General, but, on the contrary, is an indication of progress towards an amicable solution of the minor questions still outstanding between England and France. The latter Government is aware impossible.

In the great towns of Germany where Catholics do not predominate, the elections have resulted in favor of Northern Reform Club, has been started at Newcastle the Liberals. The Liberals gain 30 votes in the Diet St. Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, on Tyne. The object is the union of the various politi- from the Conservatives. In several new districts, in a charge of 25 cents per trunk, to be paid either w cal organizations, to effect Parliamentary Land Law the vicinity of Potsdam and Berlin, the Conservatives Reforms, and to bring pressure upon the Government have been victorious. No one party will have a ma-Reforms, and to oring pressure upon the Government nave over Netotrons. No one party will have a may be same charge they will collect baggage from any lority in the new Chamber. In order to obtain the other railroad depots, if the railroad depots is the railroad depots, if the railroad depots is the railroad depots, if the railroad depots is the railroad depots is

A despatch to the Da ly News from Berlin says the repeal of the Socialist laws is expected shortly. North German Gazette favors their repeal on the condition that the Socialists abstain from interference in the higher grades of politics.

From a report made by the commander of the steamcr Louise, a trading vessel, which endeavored to reach the mouth of the Yenisei river in company with the Dutch Arctic expedition ship Varna, it is considered that both the Varna and the vessel of the Danish Arctic expedition are in a dangerous position, as they were both beset by ice on the Kara Sea, about 80 miles from the Continent. The Louise endeavored to assist them during two days, but, fearing to be ultimately beset in a similar manner, she effected her escape on 10th mo. 22. The commander says that if the vessels are not by this time free they will have to pass the winter in the moving pack.

Belgrade, 10th mo. 23rd .- A woman fired twice at King Milan in the Cathedral to-day. The King was The King's assailant is the widow of Colonel not hurt. Jefrone Markowitch, who was executed, with several other rioters, in 5th mo. 1878, by order of Milan. It is landlord and tenant were improving, that rents were suspected that the attempt is not merely attributable to James Caird estimates the requirements of Great and remained until the end of the service. The Political and financial circles are much excited 11st news that Senor Sagasta, the Prime Minister, ha a long and amicable interview with Marshal Sei The incident has created a profound sensation i bearing on the situation and prospect of political ties. Negotiations between the old Republican Marshal Serrano for the formation of a monarchica Negotiations between the old Republicant of accord with regard to a reform of the Constitu Marshal Serrano expects to interview Prime Min Sagasta again shortly, in order to effect a compro difficult unless Senor Sayasta consents to abandor Carlists, whom Marshal Serrano, in consequent their conservative tendencies, considers an insupthat Canovas de Castillo and Castelar are of the opi that the attitude of Marshal Serrano is the most portant and decisive event which has happened the restoration of the Bourbons.

In the Madras Presidency, in India, during £2025 (10,125) was paid as rewards for destroying tigers, 750 panthers and leopards, and 543 other A despatch to the Central News from Cairo says the mals, 1302 persons and 8938 animals were killed wild animals and snakes, tigers killing 135 persons 3328 cattle. The cattle killed by wild animals in Presidency during the year are valued at £17,876 (£ lishes the account of an engagement between the Chi dispersed.

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL.

The WINTER TERM commences on Second-day, T month 30th, 1882. Conveyances will be at the STR ROAD STATION on Second and Third-days, the 30th 31st of the month, to meet the trains that leave Ph delphia at the BROAD STREET STATION, at Broad Filbert Sts., Philadelphia, at 7.14, 8.38 and 11.13 A. and 2.40, and 4 55 P. M.

The Union Transfer Company will send England and France. The latter Government is aware that the reconstruction of the joint control in Egypt is phia, if notice is left either at No. 838 Chestnut St. the South East corner of Broad and Chestnut Sts. the Baggage Room 15th St. above Market, or at Mar St. Ferry, (north side), and will deliver it at the Bre the order is given or when the trunk is called for. I the same charge they will collect baggage from any such baggage are left at one of the offices of the Trans Company above designated. In all eases it must stated that the haggage is to go to Westtown Board School, Street Road Station, on the West Chester of Philadelphia Railroad. DURING THE SESSION, passengers for the School w he met at the Street Road Station, every day exce First-days, on the arrival of the first through train fro the City, and small packages for the pupils, if left Friends' Book Store, No. 304 Arch street, will be for warded every Sixth-day at 12 o'clock, except on the k two Sixth-days in the Twelfth month, and the expen-charged in their bills.

Tenth month 24th, 1882

FRIENDS' BOARDING SCHOOL, BARNES-VILLE, OHIO.

Wanted a Superintendent and Matron to take chart of this Institution at the close of the present wind term. Friends of Ohio Yearly Meeting, who may fe drawn to the service, are requested to communicate with Aaron Frame, or Asa Garretson, Barnesville, Be mont county, Ohio.

MARRIED, at Friends' Meeting, Stillwater, Belmot being fairly paid, and that intimidation was decreasing, revenge, but pertly to political motives. After the at-John W. Morr, of Linn county, lowa, and Sina A "Another subject for thankfulness," said Trevelyau, tempt, Queen Natalie, who was with the King in the daughter of the late John Hall, of the former place. county, Ohio, on Fifth-day, the 21st of 9th mo. 1885

THE FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, ELEVENTH MONTH 4, 1882.

NO. 13.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

ce, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON.

MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend,"

Letter from James B. Cotton.

(Concluded from page 91.) Vith regard to the object of our visit in I "the mountains are round about Jerusa-"," and, though weary with travel, we ened the seenery from the top of the house ch it in the fruit time and partly to escape h; oven-like recesses (3 in a side) were in new and half-mysterious feeling with it. walls of these, and they were filled with was easily apparent and comprehended. tets of the others are there. We thought very effective as it swept past us.

There is much of interest in this place, but be Scripture, "on the north 3 gates," &c. We left on the 11th, at 10.45, and entered I cannot undertake to write much about it.

tance can be gained into the town.] analy pare in case of a constant with sheep, all kept for from about one hundred to sixty yards wide, milk, and which are taken for pasture to distances of some miles, were coming in, as is the places, with reeds and shrubs; the banks custom, to lodge within the walls. The streets generally very low, but near the centre they are irregular, crooked, often arched over with are fitteen to twenty feet high. The desert houses; they are paved with large stones on is almost bare of vegetation, and many dust-which boots are ant to slide. No provision pillars were moving about. We anchored in which boots are apt to slide. No provision pillars were moving about. We anchored in is made for sanitary purposes. There are the lake at Ismalia at nightfall, but little of many ill-looking dogs who have an occupation; we thought of Jezebel and her end, the morning we went on again, and crossed The modern buildings ontside the walls are the bitter lakes before nine o'clock. Here we large and well built, but like those within, of had to wait till six o'clock next morning bestone; all rooms are arched in the ceilings, cause of a steamer having run aground in and the floors are of stone; the roofs flat or the channel. Arrived at Suez at cleven etings and other religious service, we had domed, and adapted for collecting the rain o'clock and stayed two hours. There is a set to be satisfied and grateful. We had water into wells. The country now is dry beautiful mountain to the west of the town, hittle time for sight-seeing—neither, per-os, do we attach that importance to out is any wind, but in the season, we were told, cluster of houses on the level sand of the rd locality which some seem to do. But all was different, and wild flowers abundant, shore. The land on both sides of the sea was

The scenery was exceedingly beautiful, with the east. The air hot and oppressive. Tembroad valleys and terraced hills. The land is perature of the sea, eighty-five degrees. cre we stayed, including a glimpse of the broad valleys and terraced hills. The land is ud Sea; beside taking a walk on the Mount very much improved, the stones being a the Olives, and another in an opposite directored into walls, terraces renewed, and vine the 17th. The straits of Bab-el-mandel are to the north. We passed a field something to do with this, and people of different nations are settling around. We saw east side. On the 19th we took the southarface solely of small stones-but this was the "Church of the Nativity," and weary western monsoon, which was moderate, exceptional piece. We called on a Turkish pilgrims come in to kiss the pictures and the though it had been heavier carlier in the scaily, living at their vineyard, partly to places about the manger where the babe was son. One night the whole surface of the born-the locality however is quite doubtful. sea, as far as the horizon, was covered with heat of the city; they spread mats for our We saw throngs of gaily dressed people; a substance, as white as the foam made by ty to sit on, brought grapes, and finally among the countenances of varied type, many the steamer. The horizon showed a defined baby." They also sung us some hymns, were excellent. A fine little boy of 12 years, white edge against the sky. We were told was the time of the Ramazan, when the who went with us on foot as interpreter, with it was composed of animalculæ or zoophites; hommedans fast between 3 A.M. and 7 P.M. the most persistent energy and a courage it had a very remarkable appearance. y strictly. They showed us some ancient which amused both our party and others, be they had discovered in the vineyard, cleared the way of camels or asses as we met instant. The low hills near the town were

We returned to Jaffa in the night of the 1st wn and half decayed human bones. They of 8th mo. met our friends there, and had the colored population. The streets were thronged spread them on the vineyard for manure. public meeting as arranged, then embarked in with them in their many-colored, light and friends referred us to the 8th of Jeremiah. an Anstrian steamer and arrived safely at simple garments—many bullock-teams, with saw a very ancient "wine press," far from building; there was a reservoir exea- past, having been preserved in many ways at tram-carstraversing the road-ways, which are ed in the rock, about 4 feet square; the a critical time and yet having acquired some often narrow, but, in many cases, of a very th we could not see, it might be 3 feet, pleasant memories that can never be effaced, good breadth, we it on the face of the rock which slanted We were obliged to wait six days at Port We were the 7) 10 degrees, about 50 square feet had been Said for the next steamer. Our missionary othed, and channelled for the flowing of friend made all arrangements for our stay on grape-juice into the reservoir; the grapes board a steamer chartered by the Govern-him, the way was at once opened for religious g spread on the rock were trodden out - ment as a refuge ship. It was thought un-meetings with the people. A valued triend, safe to live on shore. Disturbance was whom we had not expected to meet here, inur new Turkish friend accompanied us to thought to be imminent, and the war-ships vited us to his house, where we have enjoyed city, and passing through the Damaseus were all prepared. One of them, lying two all the comforts of a home. An old resident, e, he showed us how it was a triple gate. miles out, searched the harbor each night, and much respected here, his cordial assistance rugh only the outer ones were in place, the with the electric light; the broad ray was has been of no ordinary import to as passed through in succession before admit-bullet-proof, and the two cannon were pretance can be gained into the town.] Many pared in case of an attack. The canal is We went one day to Bethlehem (6 miles), well in sight till dark; the land uniformly we were a party of 7, and rode on donkeys. high on the west side, and not so much so on

Stayed at Aden five hours in the night of

out of the solid white limestone, and them. He sent a shout of "Allah il Allah" brilliantly green and pleasant to see. We ed full of soil through many a century, down the narrow and crowded street of Beth-soon landed in the care of a hotel agent, and pre were apartments 10 feet square and 7 lehem as we entered, that carried (to me) a were driven two and a half miles to our first resting-place in this large city, with its 800,-000 inhabitants, consisting chiefly of a mixed

We were thankful to find that a resident missionary, whose name we had, lived quite near our hotel, and, communicating with

he Scripture, "on the north 3 gates," &c. | We left on the 11th, at 10.45, and entered I cannot undertake to write much about it. edrawing which accompanies this description the canal. The deck was strongly barricaded Pleasnre or sight-seeing is far from being the shows that all three of the gates must be to render the steering-house, bridge, &c., object of our travel; and though we have apparently much of leisure, yet a weariness the months and days by Scripture names, and their creditors to accept of a part, inste apparently many that makes writing a not by heathen; and all other things, against the whole; notwithstanding the parties ay matter of some effort. The number of those which Truth's testimony hath been borne." look upon themselves legally discharge of who wish us to write to them increases as we pass along. The few things of interest I have set down thou wilt, I dare say, be wil-blessed Truth with us, be very careful to keep to be made, if ever the debtors are of ab m ling to let others of our friends have the perusal of.

9th mo. 6, 1882. We went on the 31st ult. to do justice to all men for righteousness sake, a manner of living in every respect the most to Schagpore and Hoshungabad, where are and to prevent the great reproach and scandal ducive to this purpose, and corresponde to two mission stations, distant about five hun-lof defrauding any persons, by breaking in the state they are reduced to: it being excel dred miles from Bombay, and returned this their debt, or otherwise injuring any. And ingly dishonorable for any to live in ostila morning, glad of the opportunity of seeing a where it shall happen any differences may tion and greatness at the expense of oths: little in connection with India, from a "nis-sionary" point of view. A great part of the journey was made in the night, but we saw a great deal of beautiful "country"-immense plains, slightly rolling and dotted with trees; other parts lightly wooded and liberty, too many under our profession have into full unity, or receive collections, wa all a rich green, just at the end of the rainy lannched forth into the things of this world cannot properly be deemed their own season. We saw much land not yet under beyond their means or capacities to discharge 1759 .- From The London Epistles. enltivation. The land appeared to be rich, a good conscience in the performance of their but the style of cultivation is very rude and promises and contracts, as well as their just simple. We saw no fences, so that crops debts, to the great scandal of our holy promust be watched. The native dwellings are fession, and the involving of themselves, their in clusters, very low-built, and made of straw families, and others in great sorrow and inand reeds, and overrun now with gourds of convenience: it is therefore our earnest desome kind. I cannot now go into detail in sire, that all Friends every where be very any way. Some meetings we are to attend, careful to avoid all inordinate pursuit after and on the 8th we expect to leave for the things of this world, by such ways and his touch. Australia, due early in 10th mo. I am thank-means as depend too much upon the uncertain ful to say we are pretty well. With love to probabilities of hazardous enterprises; but thyself and wife and other friends, who feel rather labor to content themselves with such in France. The English kings were supp I am, &c., an interest in us,

JAMES B. COTTON.

For " The Friend,"

Ancient Testimonies and Advices. CARE IN OVER TRADING; AND IN THE TIMELY PAYMENT OF DEBTS.

the payment of just debts be not delayed by may be preserved from the two extremes of of the most curious facts in ecclesiastical any professing Truth beyond the time prom-covetousness on the one hand, and extrava-tory. In France it was an old custom for ised and agreed upon: nor occasion given of gancy on the other; the latter of which has king, immediately after his consecration complaint to those they deal with, by their been the occasion of the failings of some gin nilgrimage to the managery of St. V. backwardness in payment where no time is amongst us, in the non-payment of their just limited: nor any to overcharge themselves debts; by which great reproach hath been with too much trading and commerce beyond brought upon our holy profession. Where The patients were first visited by the c their capacities to discharge-keeping a con- fore we greatly desire all Friends to be very science void of offence toward all men; and careful, not to run into larger trading and in the church, or, if they were too numer that all Friends concerned be very careful not business than their capacities and business in the adjoining cloisters and park. The k to contract extravagant debts to the danger can well answer; and that they frequently inof wronging others and their families; which spect their circumstances, and do not live at some have done, to the grieving the hearts of an expense beyond them. And, if through chief physician, and be made the sign of the upright : nor to break their promises, con- adverse accidents, any should fail in paying tracts, or agreements, in their buying and their just debts, and should after his or her selling (or in any other lawful affairs), to the compounding with his or her creditors, be so injuring of themselves or others, and occasion-far blessed and prospered in their affairs, as ing strife, contention, and reproach to Truth to be capable of paying their deficiencies; it liam Tooker, in the reign of Elizabeth, we and Friends. And it is advised that all Friends is the earnest desire and advice of this meetthat are entering into trade, or that are there ing, that they do not omit the same; it being witnessed, and he relates among other ca in, and have not stocks sufficient of their own agreeable to the command of the gospel, and to answer the trade they aim at, to be very common justice among men."-1727 cantious of running themselves into debt, without advising with some of their ancient Meetings everywhere, to be properly watchand experienced Friends among whom they ful over one another, and early to caution all live."—1692.

Friends everywhere keep to plainness both in of trade and business than they can extricate speech, habit and dealing; and not to launch themselves from with honor and reputation. too far into the things of this world, by over- And when any shall proceed in opposition to charging themselves with trading and debts such advice and counsel of their brethren, let beyond their abilities to pay; but keep out of them in due time be dealt with according to the spirit of the world in all things, that none former advices of this meeting. may be ensuared and defiled thereby. And "And it is the sense and judgment of this that all Friends keep to the simplicity of meeting, that if any fall short of paying their

"We carnestly desire that all professing the principle we profess enjoins full satisfa on their words and promises, by paying their And in order that such may the better just debts without unreasonable delay; and trieve their circumstances, we exhort the arise, to shun going to law one with another; which is certainly the case, where any but that such differences may be justly and of the debts, due by the law of equity parts of the debts. speedily ended, according to advice formerly strict justice, remains unpaid. And Frie given in this hehalf."-1702.

a plain way and manner of living, as is most to have inherited the power from Edward agreeable to the self-denying principle of Confessor; the French, according to s Truth which we profess, and which is most writers, from St. Lewis, according to oth conducive to that tranquillity of mind that is from Clovis. The miracle was perfor requisite to a religious conduct through this with every circumstance of publicity, ut troublesome world."-1724.

"It is advised and earnestly desired, that carefully walk in the Divine Light; that they

"We entreat Friends, in their Monthly against running beyond their depth, and en-"It is the advice of this meeting, that tangling themselves in a greater multiplicity

Truth, and our ancient testimony in calling just debts, and a composition is made with any obligation to pay the remainder, ye he in their Monthly Meetings, be cantions "Whereas, in this time of general ease and they admit such, whose debts are unsatis-

Curing Scrofula by the Royal Touch.

Lecky in his History of England in he 18th century says, that the enthusiasm the Established Church under Queen A was accompanied with a revival of the belief that the sovereign was endowed a miraculous power of curing the scroful:

"This singular superstition had exifrom a very early time, both in England "Dear Friends, it bath long been the con-cern of this meeting that all our members tenacity with which it survived so m the inspection of the royal surgeons, and changes of civilization and of religion, is go in pilgrimage to the monastery of St. A coul, in Champagne, where, after a period preparatory devotion, he performed the co physician of the king. They were then ran, went among them, accompanied by his gra almoner, the captain of his guards, and cross on the face of each, pronouncing words 'Dieu te guerisse, le Roy te touch

"The Reformation in no degree weaker the belief. A Doctor of Divinity, named W a work describing the cures he had hims that of a Popish recusant who was convert to Protestantism, when he found by expe ence that the excommunicated Queen h cured his scrofula by her touch. The Cath lies were much perplexed by the miraele, a were inclined to argue that it was perform by virtue of the sign of the cross which w employed, but in the following reign this si was omitted from the ceremony without any degree impairing its efficacy. Und Charles 1. the service was drawn up in Er lish, and in the conflict between the royal as republican parties the miracle assumed a co siderable prominence. One cure worked I

^{*} God cures, the king touches thee.

nat thou wouldst have, but God bless thee d grant thy desire.' The prayer was heard; e illness vanished, and strange to relate, the otches and tumors which disappeared from e body of the patient appeared in the bottle om which he had before taken his unavailg medicine, and it began to swell both withand without. The story is related by Dr. hn Nicholas, warden of Winchester College, no declares it 'within his own knowledge to every word of it essentially true.' After to sustain the delusion." e death of the king it was found that handrchiefs dipped in his blood possessed the

"Charles II. retained the power in exile, as ancis had done when a prisoner at Madrid, d he touched for the scrofula in Holland, anders, and even France. In the great outrst of enthusiastic loyalty that followed nether in the whole compass of history ere is any individual to whom a greater mber of miracles has been ascribed than to ngs. It appears that in a single year Charles rformed the ceremony 8,500 times, and that the course of his reign he touched nearly 0,000 persons. Before the sick were adtted into the presence of the king it was cessary that they should obtain medical rtificates attesting the reality of the disease, d in 1684 the throng of sufferers demandthese was so great that six or seven peris were pressed to death before the sur-me efficacy as the living touch.

on's door.

"The political importance of this superstion is very manifest. Educated laymen might seed the sovereignty entirely apart from eategory of mere human institutions, and oved that it possessed a virtue and a glory nich the other political forces of the nation ald neither create, nor rival, nor destroy. proved that no personal immorality, no sgovernment, no religious apostacy, no devation of political power, could annul the rted to the legitimate heir of the British monies, must die. rone. The Revolution in England at once spended the miracle, for William, being a anger, was not generally believed to possess the same time,' and that the touch, in spite the manifest incredulity of the sovereign, as being brought by his enemies through speaking of the king's evil, 'is happily healed test in the light? (inchester, on his way to the Isle of Wight, by the hands of the King of England stroking Consequently innkeeper of Winchester, who was griev- the sore, and if any doubt of the truth thereof, what is shown to us in the light. The Scripusly ill and in daily fear of suffocation, and they may be remitted to their own eyes for tures are understood and believed by us when he had vainly sought help from the doctors, further confirmation. 'To dispute the mature of the same Spirit as to go to the extra they were who gave them forth. e was driven back by the guards and not cesses of scepticism, to deny our senses, and fered to touch the king, but he threw him- to be incredulous even to ridiculousness. tures and carnality about finding out the right If on his knees upon the ground, imploring 'That divers persons desperately laboring meaning of texts. But all explanation in hulp, and crying 'God save the king!' The under the king's evil, 'said Bull, 'have been man will makes them more and more dark ag, struck by the spectacle of so much enred by the mere touch of the royal hands, and hard to understand. Still it is said, we rally, said 'Friend, I see thou art not per assisted with the prayers of the priests of our must believe what human learning makes out tted to come near me, and I cannot tell Church attending, is unquestionable, unless of them, even if it cannot be understood. The the faith of all our ancient writers, and the Scriptures are falsely called the Word of God, consentient report of hundreds of most credi-and too much used as an idol by the outward ble persons in our own ages, attesting the ones. But the natural man can not find out same, is to be questioned."

obtaining the gold medal which was bestowed precious, because he is in the same Spirit that on the occasion in England, or the alms which gave them forth. He has come to Christ and were distributed in France, and the great got life, and he does not seek the living among political utility of the belief, as well as simple the dead. He is indeed a spiritual man, and sycophaney, combined with honest credulity has a spiritual teacher, Christ, who teaches

For "The Friend." Thoughts about the Eternal Gospel and the Falling Babylon. (Concluded from page 92.) FALLING BABYLON.

e Restoration the superstition attained its of them will always present to the thoughtful years back. The common inscription which max, and it may be seriously questioned mind a spectacle of a sad character, in con- I found was Job xix. 25, 26, which in the book sideration of the consolation they have given of my native tongue reads: "I know that my the children of men during their existence. The Redeemer liveth, and He on the last day shall e most worthless and immoral of English Phenicians, &c., have long ago passed away. though the true Christian religion is in spirit tion to many. and in truth,-that religion has to pass away, earlier or later. It must pass away because Christian era, generations have lived and which is in spirit and in truth, of which our kind of consolation. I know a Professor in a Lord and Redeemer is the author. The out- University, who had the name of being one apostacy from the true spiritual religion, brew language, who said when asked what Christ said, "The kingdom of God cometh he did think about a good translation of the ride it, but in the eyes of the English poor not with outward observation, but is in man;" Old Testament; that it would not be advisawas a visible, palpable attestation of the and "the kingdom of God consists not in meat ble to make a correct translation because lefeasible sanctity of the royal line. It and drink, but in righteousness, peace, and many pious people would lose their consolajoy in the Holy Ghost." "God is a spirit and tion! Dear reader, how important, is it not, must be worshipped in spirit and in truth." nacles with the children of men, is an ever-fables, and of what we have not realized and lasting covenant in righteousness and in peace. tested? As the religious of old are dead and passed away, so the Christian (so called) religion in and furious; all must submit to it or perish; outward form, with its gorgeous temples of therefore for ages superstition has said: "If asceration which the Divine hand had im- show and heathenish fables and Jewish cere- thou doest not believe as I want thee to be-always be; but still superstition seems to not as I want thee to do, I shall burn thee as power, though Whiston relates that on ened by the all-darkness-and-weakness-dis-mented in hell for ever and ever." This is e solitary occasion the king was prevailed pelling light of Christ. Children of men hav-the outward religion that steals holy men's on to touch a sick person, 'praying God to ing rejected and rebelled against the Light, words and tries to feed people on them. This al the patient, and grant him more wisdom turned to fables and walked in the darkness, religion has been the best tool for Satan to

Holy Spirit should lead them in all truth, and hear the common rough question put to me oved efficacions. In the person of Anne, bring to their remembrance what He had about here, viz: Have all men gone to hell wever, the old dynasty was again upon the said? Did not Christ explain the parables to the land the bed on the long to me to answer, one, and in the ecclesiastical and political his disciples? Did not John write to his otherwise than those that rejected the light ection of her reign the royal miracle speedi-friends that they had anointing and knew all had to suffer for it. God is judge over quick is sovereign was especially famous. As he ly revived. 'This noisome disease,' says Fuller, things? And is not every thing made mani-

Consequently we believe and understand

There is very much studying of the Seripwhat he wants, but lives in his airy notions. "Many impostors came for the purpose of But the spiritual man keeps the Scriptures his people himself.

Without this spiritual teacher people will be deceiving and deceived. People having a zeal for God and seeming to be sincere, have often greatly erred. How have not generations of man quoted spurious Scripture texts? When very young I used to read inscriptions on tombstones and sarcophaguses, and I had Many ancient religions are dead; the dying occasion to do so on very old ones of 200 religions of the Romans, Greeks, Assyrians, raise me up out of the earth, and I shall then with this, my hide, be clothed over, and in There is a religion in form, in outward words my flesh shall I see God!" That was a very and outward ceremonies, without spirit and strange tale. (The English translation says without life, which has existed for centuries that the worms have eaten up the hide.) That and has been called the Christian religion-text seems to have given a kind of consola-

Both during the old times and during the it is not the religion of the new covenant died in superstitions, but it has often been a ward religion that must die has come up by of the most learned men in Europe in the Hethat we should follow the true Divine light, And that spiritual worship where God taber- and be independent of men's teaching, and of

But as superstition is blind so it is cruel lieve, thou art going to hell:" and when that Superstition was blind in all ages and will did not do enough, it said "If thou believest have given consolation to minds not enlight- a heretic, and after that thou shall be tor-Did not Christ say to his disciples, that the make hypocrites of human beings. I will and dead, for every talent received we must the cocks and hen, and immediately after of the day were over, and the ceremon give a strict account; but those who have ward they were handled to the Jewish closed with the words: "Next year we she done righteousness are acceptable to God? When proceeding is called the Keparoth, or atoning was now ended, the congregation have God has given us so much of light to guide sacrifice. . . The sacrifice of the present fasted from twenty-four to twenty-six bou us, are we not responsible if we don't accept? day consists of a cock for the male, and a hen and having continued in the exercise of the I think in this case none can excuse himself for the female. A white fowl is preferred to prayers upwards of twelve hours, wither by being ignorant. Words are one thing, any other, because the prophet says, "Though intermission.-From The Home and the Syr and life is a different thing. Imagination is your sins be as searlet, they shall become goque of the Modern Jew. one thing, and reality is a different thing. white as snow." . . . An historical religion is one thing-a spiritual religion is something different.

The Day of Atonement in Modern Times.

Of all the boly days which the various religious creeds require their respective followers to observe, none equals in austerity and apparent contrition of heart the sacred with a leather thong, forty stripes, save one. He will abide in us, and we shall bring for day of atonement of the Jews. In severity and then those who had been thus chastised, of observance and solemnity of ceremonial, inflicted the same punishment, in their turn, they cannot compare with this holiest of holy upon their chastisers. I must add that the and become withered. days in the Jewish calendar. And nowhere chastisement was a very mild one, and the is the day more strictly observed than in Po-ceremony bordered too closely on the ridica-be known by our fruits as we abide in Chr land. In most of the countries in which the lous to impress me very strongly with the our living Head. The fruits of the Spirit a scattered nation of God have been forced by effect it was intended to create. the circumstances of their history to take refuge, they have been drawn into associa- house for the last meal before the Great daily walk and conversation, in thought, wo tion with the general population, but in Po- Feast. The Day of Atonement is the time and deed, these fruits will be made manife and the line of demarcation between them when universal reconciliation takes place, as we possess the Spirit of Christ and abi and the inhabitants of the country of their Children ask forgiveness of parents; those in Him. Though our names be recorded adoption is still most rigidly drawn. In it the who have wronged one another implore particular the church record below, and we have a nar Jews are not only a race, but an exclusive don; all differences on that occasion are to live; yet, without this union, this abidin

When travelling in Poland, I happened to one another. be staying at the quaint, dirty city of Jitomir during the month of September—the month the festival of Yom Kippur, or Day of Atone east away. Says the wisest of men: "Eve sacred to the great Jewish fasts and festivals. ment, was ushered in, we proceeded to the a child is known by his doings, whether the It had long been my wish to be an eye-wit-synagogue, which was lighted up with nu-be pure or whether they be right." Me ness of the ceremonics performed on the merous candles. It was a dingy-looking build-gather not grapes of thorns, nor figs of thi great Fast of the Atonement by the Polish ing, utterly devoid of architecture; at its its. A good tree cannot bear evil fru Jews, who are the Ritualists of the Hebrew end was the ark, screened from public view neither a corrupt tree good fruit. Wh Church, adhering to the very letter of the by handsome curtains; and in its eentre the avails the glowing advertisements and recor ceremonial, and not departing one lota from reading desk, a kind of raised seat, of cir-mendations of a fruit-tree dealer if, in aft the rubric laid down by their forefathers, cular form, boxed all round, on which the years, his trees fail to bear the expects Thanks to an English elergyman, I was in officers of the synagogue take their seats, fruit? Simply null and void. So will we b troduced to an elderly Polish Rabbi, who But the appearance of the congregation fully come in the sight of God and man if we fi ment, the Rabbi, his wife, two sons, and my-levery phase of religions and irreligions be-while their hearts are far from the God the self, went into his study soon after breakfast, lief; I have mingled with worshippers abroad profess to worship, prompted only by a desi and there I saw the strangest ceremony I in cathedrals and in convent-chapels belong to appear great and learned in the sight ever witnessed in my life. On the table was ing to almost every Roman Catholic order—man,—their lives bearing only the fruits a large basket, in which were three cocks but I never met such an extraordinary-look-darkness and death! Let us learn to was and a ben, all having their legs tied. The ing congregation as on that night in the syn-upon the Lord, in silence though it be, askin Rabbi approached the table, took one of the agogue at Jitomir. Everybody was dressed limit to search us all out and see if there tooks by his tied legs, and, after repeating a in white. The men in the shrouds in which any evil way within us, and lead us in the cabalistic prayer, composed for the occasion, they were to be buried, and the women in ways of life everlasting, said, "The children of men that sit in dark white garments. No leather boots or shoes ness and the shadow of death, being bound were worn by the worshippers, or anything soever we will and it will be given us. La in affliction and iron : He brought them out made of calfskin, in sad remembrance of the us learn to ask more largely from the gree of darkness and the shadow of death, and golden calf worshipped by their forefathers, treasury on high; for Heaven's storehous brake their bands asunder. . . . If there The richer Jews had on cloth boots and can never become exhausted. Let us not fa be for him any angel, an intercessor, one shoes, while many of the poor stood in their to ask for clean and pure hearts that will f among a thousand, to show unto man his up-stockings. The service lasted three hours, us for immortality, for the companionship of rightness, then He is gracious unto him, and and was to me wearily monotonous. saith, 'Deliver him from going into the pit; From 6 o'clock the next morning till sunset, Christ our living head, forevermore, I have found a ransom.' The Rabbi then the whole day was spent in the synagogue; Dear Friends, have we this real a whirled the cock around his head, saying, and from the sunset of the previous day to this vital union with Christ our great Head "This is my atonement, this is my ransom, the next sunset, no food or water was taken If we have not here, we cannot expect to have This cock goeth to death, but may I be gath- by any of the congregation. The prayers of hereafter. Soon will the harvest be past an ered and enter into a long and happy life, and the morning service lasted six hours; those the summer ended. Let us work in the vinito peace." This he recited three times, of the afternoon service till four o'clock; then yard while it is day, for the night comet and then took the hen and performed the came vespers; and last of all the great con-when no man can work. The harvest is trul same ceremony for his wife. His two sons clusion prayer, which was not finished till great, but the laborers few. Does some brane now took hold of the other two cocks, re-peating exactly the same prayer as that of The concluding prayer finished, the ram's yard, that it may bring forth more fruit

In the afternoon we all went down into the synagogue: and, the prayers over, some of the Jews, with the assistance of their friends, prostrated themselves on the ground (taking extreme care, however, to fall down As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, of without kneeling, for kneeling is an act of cept it abide in the vine, no more can we determine the state of idolatry); whilst others inflicted upon them, cept we abide in Christ. If we abide in Chr healed, and everybody is on good terms with in Christ, our names will have no place in t

kindly offered to be my cicerone, and to give made up for any want of interest in their to bear the fruit in our lives which we profe me every necessary information. How many engage with gre-On the day before the Fast of the Atone-home-orthodox, unorthodox, and built for apparent earnestness and zeal in lip-service their father; and then all laid their hands on horn was blown as a signal that the duties Tear every idol away, whatever the idol be

The Vine and the Branches.

Christ is the vine, his disciples the branch much fruit; but if we abide not in Christ shall bear no fruit but be cast forth as a bran

As a tree is known by its fruits, so shall v peace, love, joy, meekness, temperance, i This over, we returned to the Rabbi's tegrity, brotherly-kindness, charity. In o record of the book of life above, and we she As soon as the setting sun proclaimed that be as one dead-as a branch withered ar angels and of God, where we may abide wit,

Dear Friends, have we this real abiding,-

I purge and prune me that I may bear indant fruit to thy name's honor and glory.

"The dearest idol I have known, Whate'er that idol be, Help me to tear it from thy throne, And worship only thee.'

et us seek, dear friends, to get a stronger, per root in the true and living Vine, that may bear precious immortal fruit, and t continually,-fruits akin to those on life's on the banks of the beautiful river flowby the great white throne on high. So ll our lives prove a blessing to ourselves to those around us, and our Heavenly her be glorified in our midst.

O. A. Pratt. reene, N. Y., 10th mo. 1st, 1882.

Selected. THE GATHERING OF THE CHURCH.

He which hath begun a good work in you, will orm it until the day of Jesus Christ."—Phil, i, 6,

Wherefore shrink, and say "'Tis vain : In their hour hell-powers must reign; Vainly, vainly would we force Fatal error's torrent-course Earth is mighty, we are frail, Faith is gone, and hope must fail."

Yet along the Church's sky Stars are scattered, pure and high; Yet her wasted gardens hear Autumn violets, sweet and rare-Relics of a spring-time clear, Earnest of a bright new year.

Israel yet hath thousands seal'd, Who to Baal never kneel'd; Seize the banner, spread its fold! Seize it with no faltering hold! Spread its foldings high and fair, Let all see the Cross is there !

What if to the trumpet's sound Voices few come answering round? Scarce a votary swell the burst, When the anthem peals at first? God hath sown, and He will reap; Growth is slow when roots are deep;

He will aid the work begun, For the love of his dear Son; He will breathe in their true breath, Who, serene in prayer and faith, Would our dying embers fan Bright as when their glow began.

-Keble. Selected.

LINES.

im of earth! who art journeying to Heaven, of eternal life,—child of the day! for, watched over, washed and forgiven, hou discouraged because of the way?

I for, watched over !- tho' often thou seemest y forsaken, nor counted a child d and forgiven!—tho' rightly thou deemest elf all unlovely, impure and defiled, y and thirsty, no water-brook near thee, ill provide thee with strength for the day.

thro' the brambles and briars that obstruct thee, I not the gloom and the blackness of night, on the Hand that will safely conduct thee; to his eye, to whom darkness is Light!

ustful, be steadfast, whatever betide thee, one thing do thou ask of the Lord, to go forward wherever He guide thee, by believing the Truth of his word!

on thy spirit deep anguish is pressing, or the yoke that his wisdom bestows, wier burden thy soul is distressing, ert that is slow in his love to repose, liness, coldness, unthankful behavior. hou may'st sorrow, but do not despair, this grief thou may'st bring to thy Saviour, ipon Him e'en this burden and care!

all thy hardness—his power can subdue it; full is the promise, the blessing how free! atsoever ye ask in my name, I will do it," de in my love, and be joyful in Me!"

FALLOW.

I like these plants that you call weeds— Sedge, hardhack, mullein, yarrow— That knit their roots and sift their seeds Where any grassy wheel-track leads Through country by-ways narrow.

They fringe the rugged hillside farms, Grown old with cultivation, With such wild wealth of rustic charms As bloomed in Nature's matron arms The first days of creation.

They show how mother-earth loves best To deck her tired-out places; By flowery lips, in hours of rest, Against hard work she will protest With homely airs and graces.

You plough the arbutus from her hills; Hew down her mountain laurel: Their place, as best she can, she fills With humbler blossoms; so she wills To close with you her quarrel.

She yielded to your axe, with pain, She yielded to you as you. The free, primeval glory:

Her free, primeval glory:
She brought you crops of golden grain;
You say, "How dull she grows! how plain!"—

The old, mean, selfish story!

Her wildwood soil you may subdue, Tortured by hoe and harrow;
But leave her for a year or two, And see! she stands and laughs at you With hardhack, mullein, yarrow!

Dear earth, the world is hard to please! Yet heaven's breath gently passes Into the life of flowers like these; And I lie down at blessed ease Among thy weeds and grasses.

-Lucy Larcom,

Our Desert Guide.

BY EDWARD L. WILSON.

was not quite so easy to get away from it.

sheik from Gaza as the guide of our party, he had opened for them. away from that region. After a final sepaleave some signal in view to prove to us that I went through a Hindoo publishing house at he was still caring for our welfare. Thus Lucknow, which had just sent an order to Selected. we were made confident of our safety, and coutent to go on, even through a country that we knew was infested by tribes of Bedawin unfriendly to those who were our attendants from the Akabab country.

These experiences made me think of the promises so frequent in the Bible,—promises which had been learned in early youth, and which now bubbled up like living waters for our comfort and help, such as, "I will instruct thee in the way in which thou shalt go, I will guide thee with mine eye." (Psalm 32: 8.) "Thou shalt go before . . . to give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace." (Lnke 1: 79.) And so we were "guided" through the unfriendly country even unto the waters of Beersheba and the borders of Eschol, by our trusty sheik, who turned out to be one of the noblest Arabs we had met during our whole travel, and from whom we parted with a good deal of regret. When we parted with him, and saluted him in friendly Arab style, I could not but thank him for his faithfulness, and refer to the fact that the God whom I loved was the God whom he loved; saying to him in the language of the psalm, with all heartiness: "For this God is our God forever and ever: He will be our guide even unto death." (Psalm 48: 14.) And it was beautiful to see his parting smile, and to hear him say, "I commit you now to God's care, and pray that He may safely guide you through the rest of your journey."—S. S. Times.

For " The Friend,"

Religious Items, &c.

E. B. Pusey, the leader in the famous Trac-While in the old rock city of Petra, among tarian movement in the Church of England, the sons of Esau, I had some experience known as Puseyism, has recently died. One which made me regret somewhat that I had of his co-laborers in the preparation of the not obeyed the injunction given in Deutero-"Tracts for the Times," Dr. Newman, soon nomy ii. 5: "Meddle not with them." I joined the Roman Church, and his example found it an easy thing to slip into their city was followed by multitudes of others. E. B. unawares; but after a four days' sojourn it Pusey always remained a member of the Church of England, and in his later years My experiences during the last three hours condemned the extravagant practices of the of my visit there, made it important for me extreme Ritualists, who had gone further to secure the extra services of a friendly than he was prepared to go in the path which Brahman Zeal .- The literature issued in ration from the quarrelsome children of India is not all on the side of Christianity. Edom, our Gaza friend Ouida, who had the The old faiths are using the printing-press only horse in the party and the only long with great energy, and some success. Based spear, rode ahead for as long a distance as on their old books, fascinating stories of gods would enable him to keep us in sight, and ancient heroes are issued by the million; also to keep within our vision, in order that as are also translations of popular infidel he might apprise us of any danger which books. These are peddled at the doors of all should arise on the way. It was his habit the schools, in the hope of holding young to climb up to the tops of the hills in ad-India to the old beliefs. In Lucknow and vance of us, to make a survey of the conn- Cawnpore, there are no less than forty-five try, and to signal to us if he saw unfriendly publishing houses doing this work. One of Bedawin in the neighborhood. Sometimes their publishers received $4,000 from a well-he would plant his spear among the rocks to-do Mohammedan, to assist in printing the on top of a hill, make his horse fast to it, Mohammedan books. Another issued a miland descend into the valley on foot; at other lion of Hindoo tracts, at the expense of a walking, he would plant his spear upon the papers, mostly weeklies, are issued to abet crest of a hill, where we could see it, and Paganism and Mohammedanism, and to atride until be came to a neighboring hill, per-tack Christianity. "The native presses," says haps to reconnoitre. In this way we were Joseph Cook, "are exceedingly active. They guided along the proper road, and made to throw off immense editions of books intended feel comfortable at all times, from the faet to defend paganism, and of heathen elassies that our guide never permitted himself to notoriously stained by passages of immoral go entirely out of sight, or, if he did, to tendency, sometimes of positive indecency.

Nat. Baptist.

Friend for the Tenth month contain several ing incensed at his loss and the laughter of be so constructed that the water may be notices, either editorial or from correspond the bystanders, he pulled out his penknife free as possible from all drainage and d ents, respecting the late Egyptian war. Some and cruelly stabbed the elephant in her trunk; tamination caused by the decay of small: of these evidence a feeling, that some of the the elephant, who was blind, was in general mals. members of the Society of Friends in Great a perfectly quiet animal, but had nourished Britain did not bear as full and open a testi- an enmity to the man in consequence of this mony against military operations as consist- injury, and eight months afterwards crushed jurious to health. Such an amount is alw ency required. The London Friend truly him to death against a wall. says: "For Christians, war is not a necessity. They have no right to reason from a human nal describes some experiments on the comstandpoint when they have their Lord's or-bustion of coal gas, tending to prove that City contains only four and a half grain ders; but as true soldiers of Christ they must where it can be conducted without flame, an solid matter to a gallon, and the Ridgewick be actuated by his Spirit and implicitly follow increased degree of heat is generated. An water, which Brooklyn enjoys, has a tr his directions." It characterizes as "the wor- ordinary blowpipe gas-flame was directed on a less, being about four and one-third grains ship of Mars, not of God," such sermons as ball of iron wire weighing some three pounds. a gallon. The waters of the Schnylkill ! one preached in Westminster Abbey, where it After a few minutes the flame was blown out, the Cochituate are still purer, while that was said, "We, as Christian men, thank God but the gas was allowed to flow as before. The Glasgow, in Scotland, brought from Lo to-day because we believe that the feat which temperature immediately rose, and was steadi. Katrine, is wonderful for its exceeding pur our army and navy have achieved is a feat of by maintained till the iron melted like wax, only about two grains of solid matter be that strength which is the true glory of a No trace of flame was visible in the gas while found dissolved in a gallon of it. Tak people."

gram says that a rumor was recently in circu- of perfect but of imperfect combustion. lation in Hongkong to the effect that an autograph letter, or what may legitimately pass centipede (Scolopendrum) running along a dissolved in its water as does the Cro for such in view of the Emperor's youth, will wet rope. It attracted my attention by the water. Only three of them contained l presently be sent in vermillion pencil to Queen phosphorescent light it threw out and left be than twenty grains to the gallon, and for the suppression of the opium traffic. No more but scarcely had I touched it with a pair of vegetable impurities dissolved in them w fitting work could be done by the young Empineers than it threw out a quantity of phospabsolutely bad. One contained two h peror in his first use of the vermillion peneil phorus, which besides shining on the rope, dred and two grains of solid matter to than to address a foreign sovereign, and in no fell on the table beneath, illuminating every-|gallon, another seventy-nine; another, six way could the good Queen of England more thing with its yellow light."-L. M. D'Alberti's six; and so on down. The stillness a brightly illume the latest pages of her history New Guinea. than by throwing the whole weight of her personal influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of an influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of an influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of an influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of an influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of an influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of an influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of an influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of an influence in favor of the speedy supdifferent wells in New Brunswick, N. J., has which is constantly going on in all runn pression of the speedy supdifferent well and the speedy supd of deepest darkness upon the fair name of the and the results published in the Scientific valuable as sources of water supply. In realm over which she rules .- Ch. Adv.

For "The Friend,"

Natural History, Science, &c.

Ink-bag of the Cuttle fish.—The ink-bag is a lar drain, and as such we can readily perceive that practical men cannot afford to ignore black, pear-shaped sac, with a gland attached that it becomes a receptacle for all surface which secrets the ink. The secretion is water in its vicinity. One might suppose Bad El found to consist of about 60 parts of water, that a well dug in a sandy soil or clayey soil shepherds, who are brought into const 31 parts of organic matter, and 9 parts of would be thus subject to impurities, but when companionship with their dogs, fully beli mineral substances. The black pigment is constructed through rock or slate it would that the animals can communicate ideas principally an insoluble organic substance.

shad feed and fatten on marine sea-weeds.

Bacterium a parasite of the Chinch Bug.—S. A. Forbes, of the Illinois State Laboratory of Natural History, in experimenting on the Chinch Bug was amazed at the rapid disap-long time, still the ground gradually becomes killing. As long as a dog can be kept fr pearance or death of those which he had saturated and acting as a sponge, the impure strange companions there is no great dan brought to the laboratory for observation, water is carried for many yards until, per as a collie is scarcely able to master the act On making microscopical examination, he haps, it strikes a well into which it may drain, and powerful sheep of those parts—she found that fluids of their bodies were swarmto operate as a means of limiting the often their water is obtained. disastrous ravages of this bug.

the flat crystals of sulphur from Catania, first, from drainage, as I have just illustrated; Sicily, contain enclosures of a colorless trans- and secondly, from the decay of animals or in a market-place, each, as a matter of cour parent liquid, in which gaseous bubbles may reptiles which have fallen in them. The accompanied by his dog, one of which l frequently be seen. The enclosed liquid is stones lining the wells are so rudely put to been suspected of sheep-worrying. After cently held in London upon the body of a quently fall into the water and perish. It is meanor in their conversation, that the own man killed by an elephant. It was shown stated by well-diggers that generally they consulted together on their own account, a

London for $25,000 worth of printing paper." vegetables, had been at an exhibition, when teen inches of mud, containing the decay the elephant put her trunk into one of his debris of these unfortunate creatures. The Egyptian War .- The British and London baskets and are up the vegetables. Becom-therefore of the utmost importance that w

Combustion without flame. - Chamber's Jour- ascertain if the matter is organie or inorgan it was thus being consumed. The experi-these waters for comparison, the aptness Opium and Chiva.—A recent London tele-ments seem to prove that flame is not a sign the comparison of a well to a drain is se Phosphörescent Centipede.—"I observed a contained nearly three times as much mat Victoria, requesting her personal efforts in hind it. I tried to catch the poor little animal, teen of them by reason of the animal a

American. The report of these results this location of a well, the thought that it is to be entirely free from such contamination, each other. So certain are they of this t Food of the Shad.—The Bulletin of the Fish This, however, is not always the case, for a shepherd is quite as fastidious about Commission contains an article stating that although rock may form some protection, dog's companions as he would be about th still impure waters are often found in wells of his own children. built entirely through stone.

dug may be able to retain the sewage for a is no doggish crime so unpardonable as she ing with a species of Bacterium, to which pose their wells to be free from such impuri- able to defend themselves against focs their death was attributed. This liability to ties, not knowing that the barn-yard or cess- which a southern fold-bred sheep would attack by these minute parasites appears thus pool may be one of the springs from which once succumb. But evil communications c

Salt Water in Sulphur Crystals.—Many of are particularly apt to contain bad water—collies uniting in their attacks upon the she found to be a weak saline solution in water, gether that ample room is allowed for toads, manner of dogs, the animals accosted es Retribution.—A coroner's inquest was resunakes, snails, &c., to collect, and hence fresother, and soon assumed so remarkable a that eight months before, the man who sold find at the bottom of old wells eight to six-agreed to set a watch upon their dogs.

"If a water contain over forty grains solid matter to the gallon, it is generally suspicious, and demands an investigation

The Croton water supplied to New Y. when it is seen that the purest of these wdarkness of the deep well are the very age Well Water.—The water from twenty-four that prevent the self-purification of the wa chemist prefaces by the following remarks one of the most efficient of subsoil dra which make them more intelligible. He says: lought never to be lost sight of. This is o "A well may be considered as a perpendicu- of the finely-drawn, laboratory-derived fa

Bad Effect of Evil Associates .- The Sco

It will be readily understood that in "Although the soil in which cesspools are great sheep-feeding districts of Scotland th "Persons living on high ground may sup- which by reason of their somi-wild life, rupt the manners of dogs as well as of m "Wells constructed in the usual manner and there is the greatest danger of seve

Some time ago a couple of shepherds n

ner, and set off after the sheep.

The old offender had invited the young and rocent dog to go with him sheep-worrying, al had even managed to tell him the time ven he was to start on his expedition.

A farmer near Leslie had lost a considerable stched earefully throughout the night for imals, which belonged to different owners, pre-arranged their meeting .- J. G. Wood.

ays Dr. James W. Alexander: "Observe families which have made this passage rn ancient strictness to fashionable Chrisinity, and you will find their children, one one, sliding away to looser forms of rer," continues he, " do I feel that our famiis must stand in a kind but determined cosition to the fashions of the world, rasting the waves, like the Eddystone ht-House.

THE FRIEND.

ELEVENTH MONTH 4, 1882.

rnal Gospel and the Falling Babylon." 'he concern of the writer, as we underons and ceremonies, an outward profession ectual knowledge of the Holy Scriptures ;

Holy Scriptures which the "natural man" be his name forever! not receive, because they are "spiritually man can understand the things of God. The preparation of these speeches has evilof our own members have been actively en-the Spirit of God. The Scriptures are dently been at the expense of much labor and gaged in embracing this opportunity of spread-y words, and treat of the things of God, thought. They are calm and argumentative ing a knowledge of some of the principles of

It very evening both dogs started from and, when once a man comes to the true forward them to all who will apply to her by ir homes at the same time, joined each understanding, he soon finds that the under-letter. Her motives are set forth in her Apnature of the true understanding."

further says: "Nothing makes a true Christruin." paber of sheep, and so he and his shepherd doth not hear the voice of Christ's Spirit in appeal, but in the firm belief that my life was purpose of detecting the dog which had publican. Yea, any church built up out of promote the good of my fellow beings, I cancrited the animals. About the middle of the life and power, (nay, a church, though not, I dare not remain silent, if any word of I night they saw a troop of seven dogs built by the power, yet, if not preserved in mine can indicate escape from national danking at full speed for the field where the the same,) is not better than a synagogne of ger and calamity.

The were kept. One dog was evidently the Satan." * * "But, God's building, raised." eler, and there could be no doubt that the in the light and life of his pure Spirit, how glorious, how beautitul, how lovely is it, even sylvania Retreat for Blind Mutes and Aged in the eye of God himself! 'Thou art all and Infirm Blind Persons," incorporated in fair, my love, there is no spot in thee. Soil the Pourth month last, and designed "for Song, iv. 7.—Into thy holy building, O God! completion of the system for the permanent into thy heavenly building, into the spiritual welfare of the blind." There were previously up in the Spirit, no unclean or defiled thing vania Institution for the Instruction of the can enter; nor is there any room there, for Blind," where pupils are received and taught; on, if not to utter carelessness. More than that which loves and makes a lie! - Without, the "Pennsylvania Industrial Home for Blind what they are not, and lay claim to that women deprived of their sight. This "Rewhich belongs not to them; but, within, are treat" has been planned to provide a refuge For, God doth not strip his people naked, and sistence. gather them out of the spirit of this world, them with life, fills them with holiness, fills have some four thousand dollars, and many n another part of our columns will be od the conclusion of an article by Charles them with righteousness, fills them with peace promises of substantial aid." He is himself beldstream entitled "Thoughts about. The and joy in believing and obeying the Gospel! blind, but possessed of great energy, and apwhich is not of this world,—the inward king- those who are deprived of sight. ad his meaning, is to call the attention of dom, the spiritual kingdom, the everlasting readers from a dependence on outward kingdom!-where the everlasting throne is his concern is one that is always in sea- son, of New York City, an Appeal to the paid to a statesman, a philanthropist and a ; for there always exists a tendency to American People on the subject of education teacher of wisdom, is to follow his instrucstitute form for substance. Even those and temperance. It is accompanied by copies tions, to profit by his wisdom, and to imitate b have begun in the Spirit, and in the of speeches on these subjects delivered by his virtues.

y days of their visitation have endeavore the Henry W. Blair, of New Hampshire, in the The public interest in William Penn, his valk in the Light,—in humble and sub-United States Congress. One of these was history and character has been much stimuch no man can understand, but in a light in tone, and embody a large amount of testi- Friends which he advocated, by the distribu-the same nature from which they came; mony and statistics. E. Thompson offers to tion of the "Passages from his Life and Writ-

standing which he had of the same before, peal, in which she says: "I am convinced was but after the flesh, even short of the from long observation and earnest endeavor to effect reform, that rum and ignorance are The same deeply experienced Christian cursing my countrymen and women to their "You cannot know how great an tian but the life and power: and he that effort it has eost me to put forth this public his heart, is no better than a heathen and a intended to be given without reservation to

We have received a circular of the "Penn-Jerusalem, which thou rearest and buildest in existence in Philadelphia, "The Pennsylindeed, are swine and dogs, vulturous eyes Women," and the "Working Home for Blind and crooked serpents, who make a show of Men," which furnish employment to men and the children, within is the heavenly truth, for those of this class whose age and infirmity even the new creation of God in Christ Jesus. renders them unable to earn their own sub-

The financial agent is H. L. Hall, Superinthat they should be empty and desolute for-tendent of the "Working Home for Blind ever; but, he gathers them into and fills them Men," No. 3518 Lancaster Avenue. A letter with his own Spirit, fills them with light, fills from him, dated 11th of last month, says, "I And, in this Spirit, is the kingdom known, parently much devoted to the interests of

In passing through the streets of Philanear, and the everlasting power revealed! delphia, and noticing the crowds of people and religion, and an outward or merely in and the Lord God Omnipotent reigns in the the preparations made for the Bi-Centennial hearts of his! and other lords do not reign, eelebration of the landing of William Penn in to direct them to an inward walking but their horns are broken-and the horn of this country, we observed on an arch which h the Light of Christ, by which they may God's Anointed exalted, who sits ruling as spanned one of the great thoroughfares, an clivinely instructed and led in the way of King on his holy hill of Zion !-- and they that inscription-" Pennsylvania honors her Quaker nteousness, and may be enabled to com- have suffered with Him, and gone through ancestry." On the same arch was to be found hend those spiritual truths set forth in great tribulation, do reign with Him; blessed the motto which governed the actions of the illustrious founder of the Commonwealth,-

"Mercy, Justice." This inscription was food We have received from Elizabeth Thomp- for thought. The truest bonor that can be sive communion with the Spirit of their in support of a bill to extend temporary aid lated by the occurrence of the celebration. eemer inwardly revealed,—are in danger, to Common Schools, which was prepared in He has been made the theme of a multitude hey come to neglect the holy watch, of view of the great deficiencies in popular edu-lually becoming mere formal professors.

""" to view of the great deficiencies in popular edu-ow instructive is the language of Isaac census. The other was on a resolution to so preachers of various denominations. Thou ington: "There was no true religion in amend the Constitution of the United States sands of readers and hearers, we doubt not, Apostles' days, without turning to the as to prohibit the manufacture and sale of have thus learned of the wise choice he made ard light, and to that the true ministry are to turn men; nor is there any true gion now, without being inwardly turned and scientific purposes, and for use in the obtain an eternal inheritance; of the patience and walking in the same light; nor canst arts." This resolution was introduced into and fortitude with which he suffered for contry any truth, or understand any Scriptor (Congress in 1876, and has since been renewed science sake; and of his labors for the good of other both temporally and spiritually. Some man can understand the things of God,

The preparation of these speeches has evictory members have been actively enings" recently prepared. It is greatly to be hoped that some good fruits may grow from these exertions.

Philadelphia have issued an 8 page "Tract quality. for Teachers," intended to give such information as may enable teachers to answer intellition as may enable teachers to answer metals gently questions that may be asked them ground the nature and effects of intoxicating about the nature and effects of intoxicating drinks. It seems to have been judiciously pre-flowed.

A depatch from Dublin to the Pull Mall Gazette Fears entertained that a cutatvipple more than the property of the property of the pull and physiological facts.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES. — The whaling schooner R. B. Handy has arrived at San Francisco, from the Arctic Ocean, and reports that the catch of whales by 24 of the 29 yessels of the fleet this season amounts to 83, against a total catch at this date last season of 380.

The Treasury Department has just decided that frogs' legs are not "fresh fish for immediate consumption." It appears that large quantities of frogs' legs are taken in Canada and shipped across the border for consumption in the United States. The treaty of Washington provided that fish should be taken across the line free of duty. The Treasury Department some time ago decided that frogs' legs were not fish, as provided for by this treaty, and the importers of the delicacy then sought this treaty, and the importers of the defleacy then sought to have the frogs' legs admitted free of duty under that line of the Tariff laws which places upon the free list "fresh fish for immediate consumption." Now the Department decides that frogs' legs are no more fish under the Tariff than they were under the Treaty.

A colored woman was killed recently by a meteor which fell near Orange City, Florida.

Four acres of pasture land were sowed with pine cones by Asabel Jewett, of Winchester, N. H., twentyfive years ago, which has resulted in the only cultivated forest in New Hampshire, and contains some 25,000 trees, measuring from eight to twenty inches in diameter.

The Flint Mill, at Fall River, Massachusetts, was destroyed by fire last Seventh-day afternoon, and the loss is estimated at $500,000. The mill and picker house were of granite, the main building being five stories high, 300 feet long by 94 wide. The picker house was three stories high. The structure was erected in 1872, employed 500 hands, had 50,000 spindles, and produced annually 13,000,000 yards of print cloths.

Eighty-seven thousand dollars of silver three cent pieces were recently melted in a single lot at the mint in this city.

The Bi-Centennial Anniversity of the landing of William Penn at Chester (then called Upland), took place in that city on the 23rd ultimo. The next day a representation was given of his landing in Philadelphia, followed by parades on that and the three following days. On Third-day evening the 24th, during a display of fireworks in the Park, an iron mortar exploded and scattered its fragments around, some of them to a great distance. Fifteen persons were struck, two of them killed almost instantly, and six others have since

There were 311 deaths in Philadelphia for the week ending Tenth month 28th, as compared with 303 for the previous week and 341 for the corresponding week of last year. Of the whole number, 162 were males and 149 females: 45 died of consumption; 23 of diphtheria, 17 of marasmus; 13 of pneumonia; 10 of croup; 10 of old age, and 8 of typhoid fever.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3's, 103; 3½'s, 102½; 4½'s, 113½; 4's, 119¾; currency 6's, 130 a 133.

Cotton continues dull, and prices favor buyers. Sales of middlings are reported at 11 a 11½ cts. per pound for uplands and New Orleans. Petroleum.-Standard white, 71 cts. for export, and 8½ cts. per gallon for home use. Flour is quiet, but firm, with sales of 2300 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $5.75 a $6.50; Penna. extra family at $5; western do. at $5.37½ a $5.90, and patents at *6.03 a $7.60. Rye flour is steady at $4 a tion higher: 3300 head arrived and sold at the different tion. yards at 41 a 71 cts. per lb., as to condition.

$4 37 per barrel. Grain.—Wheat, is quiet and steady. Sales of 4000 bushels red, in car lots at $1.06 a $1.14. Rye nominal. Corn is in fair request and steady. Sales of 7500 bushels, in car lots at 86½ a 89 cts. Oats are quiet but steady. Sales of 9000 bushels, in car lots, at 39 a 46 cts.

Sheep were rather dull, but prices were firmer: Berne, has been almost entirely destroyed by a ar 13,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards, at cane. 33 a 51 cts., and lambs at 4 a 71 cts. per pound, as to

Hogs were lower: 4500 head arrived and sold at the The Temperance Association of Friends of different yards at 101 a 12 cts. per pound, according to Foreign.-Heavy rains have caused floods in the Thames Valley, especially at Oxford, Windsor and way and on the Botzen, Trent and Lavis road have Egham. The water continues to rise. The Charing suspended. Both lines between Preis and Brent says, that 300 people on Tory Island, coast of Donegal, than that which lately visited the Tyrol is impe are without food, and that other portions of the population in Western Ireland are threatened with starva-

Michael Davitt, in his speech at Glasgow, denied tributaries. The Moell Jail Commissioners, wil that there were splits in the Irish national forces. He engaged in inquiring into the damage done by the said there were differences of opinion between Parnell floods, are imprisoned by the present floods at 1 as and himself, but not differences of principles, M. Davitt, speaking at Greenock on the 26th, announced Davit, speaking at Orrenock on the Zong amounted by the singular and the Sland of Skye, for the purpose of becoming acquainted with newed floods of the Tyrol. The Governor of the the case of the crofters. He denied that anybody con-attended the Council. It is believed that the dan nected with the Land League had anything to do with will reach 15,000,000 florins. the action of the tenant farmers in the Highlands.

Troops at Fort George, Scotland, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to the Island, the 6th ult. there were 500 cases of the disease in of Skye, to maintain order during the service of pro- hospital at Bogota.

cesses upon the crofters.

The Times says a wealthy resident of the Highlands of Scotland has, by telegraph, offered to pay all the arrears of rent of the crofters of the Island of Skye. It is hoped that the necessity of sending military to exeexpense of the army of occupation and the Indian con- with the old route, via Lisbon.

Among the documents belonging to Arabi Pasha in possession of the authorities, is a letter from the Sultan's tion "on a grander scale than for a quarter of a cent religious adviser to Arabi, seriously implicating the Sultan in the course Arabi pursued.

The trial of the authors of the riots in Montcean-les-Mines, in France, has been postponed until the next session of the court, owing to numerous attempts to intimidate the jury.

Le Paris publishes the details of the anarchist conspiracy. They show that it is composed of a small number of staunch supporters in all the towns and manufacturing villages of France. The members are mostly young men, who distribute revolutionary papers. Each group has a distinctive name. A letter, which was seized by the authorities, recommends that the groups should pretend to be trades' unions. All the groups in a department form a federation, some having a secret symbol, and these federations are the link between the groups and the Central Committee.

It is reported from Metz that the emigration of individuals and of entire families from Lorraine to France, particularly Paris, is on the increase.

Marshal Serrano, General Dominguez, Senors Ballaguer and Montero Rios, and other prominent members of the Democratic party and dissident Spanish Liberal factions, formally signed a programme agreed upon between the different groups composing the dynastic Left. The programme includes the re-establishment of the Constitution of 1869, with modifications. It was sub-sequently decided to form a committee for the general direction of the party, and to instruct it to organize sub-committees in the provinces. Marshal Serrano declared that he would endeavor to place the commercial relations of Spain with England on a better footing, with ont prejudice to Spanish interests. It was thought that the Cortes will meet on 11th month 10th. Marshal Serrano's programme has received the signatures of twenty-one leading politicians, including, however, only two Republicans. The old Republicans have held a meeting, and offered to support Serrano, but refused to accept a monarchical programme.

The result of the elections for the Prussian Diet is, that the Conservatives and Free Conservatives have gained 12 seats, principally at the expense of the National Liberals. The representation of the other parties is the same as it was last session.

Beef cattle were in demand, and prices were a frac- have been built. Everything is ready for the explora-

The village of Grindelwald, 35 miles southeast of Mount Etna is showing great and increasing a vi and is emitting fire and volumes of smoke. The damage by the late floods in the Southern is estimated at over 1,500,000 florins.

Vienna, 10th mo. 28th.—Floods have again oc in the Tyrol. Traffic on the Botzen and Meran a A telegram from Klagenfurt reports incessan and disastrous floods in Corinthia. The Drave is and there are serious inundations in the valleys

Vienna, 10th mo. 29th .- A Cabinet Council wa

The small-pox was ravaging all the Atlantic so of the United States of Columbia, at last accounts

The rebellion in Ecuador is at an end. The cable between Callao and Mollendo beir paired, communication by telegraph is now open between Valparaiso and points in the United S The opening of these lines connecting with the Co cute writs will thus be abandoned.

It is believed that the cost of the war in Egypt will Lima will be a saving of lifteen hours' time be amount to nearly four million pounds, exclusive of the Valparaiso, the United States and Europe, com

> A report has reached San Francisco that the vo of Kilauea, in the Hawaiian Islands, is again in

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL

In the notice respecting the opening of the W Term, in the last number of "The Friend," the for forwarding packages from 304 Arch street, through inadvertence, stated to be 12 o'clock inste 103 o'clock. The paragraph on this subject is t

DURING THE SESSION, passengers for the School be met at the Street Road Station, every day e First-days, on the arrival of the first through train the City, and small packages for the pupils, if l-Friends' Book Store, No. 304 Arch street, will be warded every Sixth-day at 10\frac{1}{2} o'clock, except on the two Sixth-days in the Twelfth month, and the ext charged in their bills.

FRIENDS' BOARDING SCHOOL, BARNE VILLE, OHIO.

Wanted a Superintendent and Matron to take cl of this Institution at the close of the present w term. Friends of Ohio Yearly Meeting, who may drawn to the service, are requested to commun with Aaron Frame, or Asa Garretson, Barnesville, mont county, Ohio.

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelph Physician and Superintendent—John C. Hall, 1 Applications for the Admission of Patients ma made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Boa Managers.

MARRIED, at Friends' Meeting-house, Mansl N. J., on the 19th of 10th mo. 1882, JOHN N. HAI of Medford, to REBECCA T., daughter of Hannal and the late Francis Decou.

DIED, on the 5th of 10th mo. 1882, at the resid The Germania, which sailed last summer for Cum-berland Sound with the German Arctic expedition, has of Samuel M., and Tacy M. Bines, aged 29 year returned to Hamburg. The construction of a station member of Germantown Particular and Frank at Kingawa has been completed and several houses Monthly Meeting of Friends.

> WILLIAM H. PILE, PRINTER, No. 422 Walnut Street.

THR FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, ELEVENTH MONTH 11, 1882.

NO. 14.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

iptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES. NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS,

PHILADELPHIA.

For " The Friend,"

Ancient Testimonies and Advices. EDUCATION AND TRAINING OF CHILDREN.

lren, for which this meeting has often our Elders."-1732. d a concern; we think it our duty to nelinations to vanity."-1717, 1719.

se and exhort all parents, and masters of you shall see occasion."—1735, 1736.

earnest manner, that all be very careful in sobriety: not with broidered hair, or pearls, or this respect; a neglect herein being in our gold, or costly array; but, which becometh judgment very blameworthy. And farther; women professing godliness, with good works.' where any deficiency of this sort appears, we 1 Tim. ii. 9, 10. Where he plainly showeth recommend to Monthly and Quarterly Meet, that such adornings are contrary to the proings, that they stir up those whom it may fession of godliness. The apostle Peter also concern to their duty therein.

mmend unto you the necessity that there under your care or tuition, we beseech you and did trust in God, placed not their delight a care in preserving them in plainness of to accustom them early to the reading of the in such ornaments. Oh! that you would ch and habit, suitable to our holy pro-Holy Scriptures, and to train them up in the weigh and consider these things! 'Let your on; and also, that no opportunity be way of the cross, as soon as they are capable moderation be known unto all men; and ted, nor any endeavors wanting, to in of receiving impressions of good and evil; grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, but be ye that parents be careful how they indulge followers of Him, as dear children; walking 288; that thereby they, being sensible of them in any thing that has an evil tendency, circumspectly: not as fools, but as wise; reoperation thereof in themselves, may find endeavoring to restrain them from every deeming the time, because the days are evil." only their spirits softened and tendered, fit hurtful thing which their natural inclinations -1739. way lead them to desire after; this, we think, and lead them to desire after after; this, we think, and lead them to desire after; this, we think, and lead them to de be no less concerned to have the sense of moment to their happiness, both in this life, of truth and holiness.

s Christ; and to educate their children ings and ornaments, so displeasing to the hour risest up."—1745.

he belief of those important truths, as Lord, and drawing down his judgments upon as in the belief of the inward manifestathem. If those things in that time were so than simplicity and self-denial which our analysis.

We therefore exhort, in the most in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and oncern to their duty therein.

"And as it is evident, that the simplicity, ject: 'Whose adorning,' says he, 'let it not and distinguishing plainness of our holy pro- be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, fession is too much lost among us, respecting and of wearing of gold, and of putting on of language, apparel, and behavior; we there-apparel: but let it be the hidden man of the fore earnestly exhort all to keep under the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even power of the cross of Christ, which will the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, crucify to the world, and the vanities of it, which is in the sight of God of great price; and bring up in a true life of self-denial, for after this manner, in the old time, the As touching the education of Friends agreeable to the gospel, and the example of holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves.' 1 Pet. iii. 3, 4, 5. Plainly in-"Dear Friends, you who have children timating, that those, who of old were holy, advised that parents and guardians, who too often occasions ill habits, which after such other good books as tend to their inthe care and oversight of children, be wards are not to be restrained without great struction in true Christianity; and to disconcerned to be good examples to them. difficulty, if at all. It is certain that the courage their reading any books of a contrary ndly, to be eareful to train them up in preservation of your offspring in the way of tendency, whereby their minds are in danger nurture and admonition of the Lord; true religion and godliness, is of much greater to be corrupted, and led aside from the way And we do with h on your own spirits; otherwise you and in that which is to come, than any thing earnestness recommend to all such parents not bring them to a sense of Truth on else you are capable of doing for them; and as have experienced the gracious dealings of spirits; and without that, your work therefore we renew our advice, that you be the Lord with their own souls, to take all be of small advantage. But if you find diligently exercised in such godly care, waiting proper opportunities of instilling into the th hath hold of their minds, then [hath upon God for wisdom from Him, first to walk minds of their children just sentiments rereligiously concerned parent] a help in wisely and circumspectly before them your specting the vanity and emptiness of fading 1 to work with you against those youth selves, and then you may, with more weight and transitory enjoyments and to direct them and authority, in the meekness of that wis- to seek after that solid peace and serenity of Dear Friends, we tenderly and carnestly dom, instruct, advise, exhort, and rebuke, as mind which attends the sincere practice of true religion and virtue, and which only can lies, that they exert themselves in the "It is our concern earnestly to exhort afford any durable and solid satisfaction. Such om of God, and in the strength of his Friends, both men and women, to watch a godly care in parents is agreeable to the to instruct their children and families in against the growing sin of pride; and to be-command of God, by his servant Moses to doctrines and precepts of the Christian ware of adorning themselves in a manner the people of Israel, Deut. xi. 18. 'Ye shall ion contained in the Holy Scriptures; disagreeable to the plainness and simplicity lay up these my words in your heart, and in that they excite them to the diligent read of the Truth we make profession of. Oh! your soul, and bind them for a sign upon of those sacred writings, which plainly set that they would duly consider that severe your hand, that they may be as frontlets be-the miraculous conception, birth, holy reproof, which the Lord, by the mouth of his tween your eyes. And ye shall teach them wonderful works, blessed example, meri-prophet, pronounced against the baughty your children, speaking of them when thou ous death, and glorious resurrection, as daughters of Zion, Isaiah iii., where he de sittest in thy house, and when thou walkest ion, and mediation of our Lord and Saviour scribes even the particularities of their dress-by the way; when thou liest down, and when and operation of the Spirit of God on offensive in the eyes of the Lord, how much cient Friends were in the practice of. Their r own minds, that they may reap the more are they so now in a people professing plainness of speech and apparel was remarka-fit and advantage thereof, for their own the plainness and simplicity which the gospel ble; and the scorn and derision they patiently e and everlasting happiness, which is of Christ recommends? 'I will, saith the underwent on those accounts, did demonitely preferable to all other considera apostle Paul, that women adorn themselves strate that their practice therein proceeded that a revolting from the form of godliness is often attended with the loss of the power of it." -1747. - From The London Epistles.

Three Months by the Sea Side.

For the last three months I have been a resident of Southern California. I am stopping in Santa Monica, a small town on a bay of the same name. Seven years ago there was thought to be a good landing here. A principles set forth by E. Hicks, and in com-coast, comprehended between the River C wharf was built and a large village predicted; mon with many of their cotemporaries in and Ambriz, is somewhat complicated streets were laid out systematically running Bucks county, separated from the Society of curious. All produce (except ivory) on the parallel with the ocean. Eucalyptus and Friends in the year 1827. They were carnest brought to the trader, is put on the s pepper trees were alternately planted along and unwavering in the cause they had es- and the price is agreed, in "longs" in each street; and cheap buildings were being poused; and when their son Mahlon turned lish, or "pecas" in Portuguese. This "put up rapidly, but from some cause the away from the fold to which he had been or "long" is the unit of exchange to w wharf was abandoned, and the enterprise gathered in childhood, and withdrew his sup- all the multifarious articles of barter ar soon came almost to a standstill. But not port to some of their most objectionable, but ferred: for instance, six yards of the ordical withstanding this the delightful climate could cherished religious principles, it was a sore kinds of cotton cloth, such as stripes, not be disputed, and thousands of people stop trial to them; and he felt himself unwelcome bleached calico, blue prints, cotton che here during the summer months for recreation, in their company, and an alien from his are equal to a "long;" a yard and a ha Having no fear of rain, after the botels are father's bonse. Surrounded with these em-red or blue baize, five bottles of rum, filled, tents are stretched in every direction. barrasments and deep provings, he felt his brass rods, one cotton umbrella, 3000 So that rich and poor, high and low, can all situation keenly; but under the precious and glass beads, three, six, eight, or twelve eo be accommodated and have the health-giving powerful influence of a loving Saviour, who handkerchiefs, according to size and qua influence of pure air, sea-bathing, &c. The bad revealed Himself in an extraordinary are also severally equal to a "long;" arti scenery on land is hardly equal in grandenr manner, and had plucked him as a brand from of greater value, such as kegs of pow to that described at Monterey Bay by J. the burning, he reasoned not with flesh and gans, swords, knives, &c., are two or n Bell. From the north-east to the south-west blood; but bowing in deep humility and pros-"longs" each we have first the plains, then a range of tration of soul at the sacred footstool, and mountains beginning with the foot bills, and passing through the baptism of the Holy weighed and settled for, the buyer writes gradually rising to quite an eminence; but Ghost and fire, he became established upon number of "longs" that has been agreed u thought to be much more beautiful during the immutable foundation, Christ Jesus, and on a small piece of paper called by the nat the winter season. The Pacific ocean is said baying put his band to the plough he looked "Mucanda," or, by those who speak Eng to be inferior in beauty to the Atlantic, but not back. to us, unaccustomed to ocean life, there is an attraction about it of which we do not tire.

comfort, and it is almost amusing to hear the the weight of a great exercise, and remained ranged at hand the many different kinds sarcastic tones in which some persons speak for some time without being able to see what cloth, &c., employed in barter. The nat of the sweltering heat of the East. But by my dear Lord and Master required at my cannot be trusted in the shop, which control others the comparisons are not favorable to hands, but not without partaking of the only the white man and his "Mafuea" the West. One woman said to me, "I have crumbs from his table; it finally pleased Him head man, so the noisy, wrangling mol not taken a drink of water for eight years, to open my eyes that I might see, and my paid from it through a small window.

After drinking from the crystal streams of ears that I might hear; and oh! I heard it will suppose, for instance, that a "book" New York, I cannot drink such water as we plainly pronounced in my soul, 'Thou shalt presented at the window, on which is man find here.' The scarcity of water, or rather go to thy father's house this day.' Although twenty "longs" as the payment of a bag the expense of getting it, is a great drawback. it proved a great trial to my faith, I became e The soil is almost inexhaustible in its pro- resigned to his beavenly will, and covenanted ductions when well irrigated. Both fruit with my Divine Master that I would, with and vegetables are raised in great quantities, his aid, perform whatever He required of me; and generally of very good quality. Besides but when I queried what can it be for? these those common to our northern climate, dif- words were very intelligibly uttered in my ferent kinds of tropical fruit are produced soul, Have I not always been with thee when in abundance. Geraniums and other choice I have required aught of thee, then go and plants, cultivated with so much care in our ask no questions,—it shall be shown thee in eastern homes, grow inxuriantly in the yards due time. It brought to my mind a dream here. The city of Los Angeles is sixteen I had last night; I dreamed that I was on my miles east of us. It being one of the oldest father's farm, and looked into the adjoining towns in the State, and first settled by the field, I there saw green grass bearing a simili-Spaniards, its adobe houses, irregularity of tude to oats, which I went into, but could its streets, &c., must be very noticeable to a scarcely get through from its height and such alterations in the payment as the nativ was purely conscientious. But, alas! how But it now contains many fine buildings, and who seemed to show by signs my inable are many degenerated in these respects! and, the business part is much the same as in other but I finally got through, and thought he by a mean compliance with the customs and large towns. In it are represented almost after I had broken down the grass ba fashions of this present evil world, under every state and nation; therefore the man-which seemed to be all round the field, the mistaken notion of rendering themselves ners and customs of some of the inhabitants over the remainder (which was small) agreeable to others, are indeed become con-agreeable to others, are indeed become con-temptible even in the eyes of those they seek tention paid to the First-day of the week wards in great measure realized, and to please; the more thinking part of whom more than as a day of leisure, to bunt, fish, forth fresh gratitude and praise to the have observed, that a departure from the or take a stroll. Excursions come in on that from me this day. Although many deli primitive plainness of our predecessors free day more than any other. Another thing seemed to weaken me, yet I have been no quently opens a door to the practice of such greatly to be deplored is the small value fully favored to witness the breaking thr pleasures, follies, and corruptions of the times placed on human life. Fighting in self-defence of a great harrier of ridicule, and was en as they were redeemed from, and consci-seems to be thought praiseworthy rather than as it were to run over the field. I obeye entiously forsook; it being a just remark, disgraceful. The thought of children being Divine Master and went in great fear t brought up under that influence, has been father's house, which visit resulted (deeply painful to me. Surely the Divine spondingly with my dream.' command, "Thou shalt not kill," should not be set at naught by man.

10th mo. 1882,

For "The Friend,"

An Incident in the Life of Mahlon L. Lovett.

The father and mother of Mahlon L. Lovett. were prominent and zealous supporters of the trading or bartering with the natives or

On the 18th of the Twelfth month, 1842, and purchasing, and the "books" are ta Mahlon L. Lovett writes: "Attended meeting by the natives to the store, which is fitted It is seldom too warm or too cold here for this day with my spirit bowed down under like a shop, with shelves on which are not from an affectation of singularity, but person accustomed to a well regulated city, thickness, and I looked back at some pen

With this extraordinary visit to his fall and mother, the natural affection of hi rents appears to have been re-established their respect and kindness was contile through the remainder of their lives.

African Trading .- The system adopt

A gnn—value 4 long One keg powder 2 " One piece of 18 yards stripes 3 " One of 18 yards grey ealico 3 " One of 18 yards checks 3 " Eight handkerchiefs 1 " Five bottles of rum 1 " One table-knife 1 " Three thousand beads 1 " Five brass rods 1 "	offee; the trader takes—		I
One piece of 18 yards stripes 3 One of 18 yards grey calico 3 One of 18 yards checks 3 Eight handkerchiefs 1 Five bottles of rum 1 One table-knife 1 Three thousand beads 1		long	ı
One of 18 yards grey calico 3 One of 18 yards checks 3 Eight handkerchiefs 1 Five bottles of rum 1 One table-knife 1 Three thousand beads 1	One keg powder 2		I
One of 18 yards grey calico 3 One of 18 yards checks 3 Eight handkerchiefs 1 Five bottles of rum 1 One table-knife 1 Three thousand beads 1	One piece of 18 yards stripes , 3	62	ł
One of 18 yards checks 3 " Eight handkerchiefs 1 " Five bottles of rum 1 " One table-knife 1 " Three thousand beads 1 "	One of 18 yards grey calico . 3	2.2	H
Five bottles of rum 1 " One table-knife 1 " Three thousand beads . 1 "	One of 18 yards checks 3	44	ì
One table-knife 1 " Three thousand beads 1 "	Eight handkerchiefs 1	44	Ĭ
Three thousand beads 1 "	Five bottles of rum 1	66	ŧ
	One table-knife 1	44	I
Five brass rods 1 "	Three thousand beads 1	44 3	ı
		44	ı
_			ľ

This is now passed out, the trader maki

rade with a new man or one not used to reap.

For "The Friend," "I Restore Him Four-fold."

o's Angola.

o him, Zaccheus, make haste and come four winds! hearts of every professed lover of the we have the light. here are multitudes who manifest some evermore. ree of anxiety to behold their Lord, and struggle on for long and weary years ler their load of sin. The Saviour does come to their relief, saying to them as He to Zaccheus, "this day is salvation come this house." The secret is they are not iciently humbled in spirit, and through mission to Divine Grace made willing to r the cross of Christ, which would lead m to confess and forsake their sins and to ce restitution to those they may have ore four-fold, and was accepted, some of ire within certain limits, exchanging, for gree of allowance. Perhaps they have failed tance, the handkerchiefs for red baize, or (rich,) placing their property in the hands of piece of calico for a sword, but there is another, or have belonged to certain "com- The report made to the Yearly Meeting in understanding that the payment is to be binations," which have enabled them to pro- 1846, informs that "It is cause of thankfuland great patience and good temper are void of offence toward God and man; that he appared becoming the children of Friends, ir ways and long known to them.

Some there are, however, with strong and who may send their children to the institutis rather startling to a stranger to see resolute will, in their own strength, with tion, will co-operate with the committee there hear a couple of hundred blacks all shouthear is all untamed by grace, who dare take in. The girls collecting room has been renvation.

our Saviour was passing through Jericho. religion would be laid, if each of the pro-sant and healthful by raising the building a nan named Zaccheus sought to see Him fessed children of God throughout our land few feet so as to elevate the ceiling and give could not because of the multitude and so dwelt under the influence of Divine love, the opportunity for more complete ventilang himself little of stature; he therefore as to know it to flow out, one toward another, tion, arrangements are in progress for carryahead and climbed up a sycamore tree. Then would sinners flock to the fold of Christ, ing this plan into effect. Jesus came along He looked up and said and skepticism as chaff be scattered to the made haste and came down, and received art a representative of a Christian sect, fore- that full and free ventilation which is desir-Saviour joyfully. But the people mur most in the ranks of truth and uprightness, able for sick rooms. The attention of the red, saying, that he was gone to be a gnest. As thou hast set high thy standard, so labor committee has been frequently turned to the unanthat was a sinner; to which Zac-imanfully to support and defend it. Woe to subject, but without being able to effect the user plied, Behold, Lord, the half of my thee, if through thy unfaithfulness it shall fall desired change, except at a cost which the ds I give to the poor; and if I have taken to earth. The higher the standard the greater limited funds of the institution would hardly thing from any man by false accusation, the fall, if it does fall. So the greater the justify. Recently, however, it has been constore him four fold. And Jesus said unto light the greater will be our darkness and cluded to erect two buildings for nurseriesthis day is salvation come to this house. condemnation if we fall away. If the light one on the east and one on the west of the I RESTORE HIM FOUR-POLD!" O that the within us become darkness, how great will be girl's and boys' galleries and connecting thereit of the penitent Zaccheus might pervade that darkness. Let us walk in the light while with. They are each to be 20 by 32 feet, two and endeavor to make all wrongs right, earnestly, day by day, confess our sins, show farm. will be in the way to have our bearts acts of charity, restore to those we may have 4th O. A. Pratt.

Greene, N. Y., 10th mo. 16th, 1882,

Humility and contrition of spirit seem the only safe dwelling place whilst we are clothed with these poor corruptible bodies; and we shall find that there is great need of patience unto the end of our Christian pilgrimage .-Mary Capper.

onged. While Zaccheus was willing to broken heart is strengthened by constant repetition from many quarters. He is said to

Westtown Boarding School.

ertain selection, from which only small cure more of the public funds than their intions can be made. If such were not services warranted; or have amassed their which have been bestowed to promote among ease the payment of 100 or more "books" wealth by defrauding their neighbors, or a short time would be impossible. It is taking advantake of their ignorance or neces, and the scholars greater simplicity in dress and short time would be impossible. It is taking advantake of their ignorance or neces, and the scholars greater simplicity in dress and short time would be impossible. It is taking advantake of their ignorance or neces, and the scholars greater simplicity in dress and the scholar spacessfully with the natives; long practican such an one say that he has a conscience ture language is now generally spoken, and essary. A good trader, who is used to business, can pay the same "book" for a having passed away and all things become ing the gratifying improvement in these read at deal less value than one unaccustomed new! Be not deceived, Good is not mocked; spects, we are sensible there is still ground for he work, and the natives will often refuse whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also continued vigilant care in the maintenance of these testimonies, and we trust that parents at the top of their voices to be paid first, a bold stand in the regions of self-glorifical dered more commodious by throwing into it l quarrelling and fighting over their pay tion; whose words are only as sounding brass two small rooms on the north side of it; and nt, or pretending to be dissatisfied with it, and tinkling cymbals. Such testimonies or having been furnished with new and larger hat they have been wrongly paid. -Mon- exhortations, however, are not likely to con-desks, and seats with backs to them, it is bevert sinners from the error of their ways, or lieved the comfort of the children has been increase their confidence in the power of sal-increased. The main building requiring a new roof, and it being apprehended that the What a ground-work for a true revival of boys chambers might be rendered more plea-

"For several years inconvenience has been experienced from the unfavorable location of vn: for to-day I must abide at thy house. How is it with thee, dear friend? thou who the nurseries, and the difficulty of giving them stories high, with two rooms on a floor and a d to-day! For how can we find accept- He who covereth his sins shall not prosper, basement story for washing rooms or other e with the Lord, and partake of his great, but he who confesseth and forsaketh his sins desirable purposes; and are to be put up withation, if we have not charity for the poor shall find mercy. Do we desire the Saviour out expense to the school, except the furnishneedy, and refuse to make proper resti-for our guest: to have Him come in and sup ing of the basement stories, the fuel for burnon, even to four-fold, if needs be, to those with us? Would we have his salvation enter ing the bricks, and such of the timber used may have wronged? If we repent of our our hearts and homes? Let us then seek Him in the buildings as can be procured from the 4th mo. 9th, 1847 .- The committee (Enoch le right in the sight of the Lord, from wronged, exhibit a meek and penitent spirit, Lewis and Thomas Evans) appointed to apom no secret thought or action can be hid, and Zaccheus' Saviour will be our Saviour, ply to the Legislature of Pennsylvania for s St. James: Pure religion and undefiled our abiding guest while here on earth, till we the exemption from taxation of the property ore God and the Father is this: to visit the are called home at last to inherit one of the under care of this committee, reported "That perless and widows in their affliction, and many mansions He hath gone to prepare for they gave prompt attention to the subject seep ourselves unspotted from the world. us, there to become his welcome guests for and succeeded in obtaining the passage of a bill, which was now read, exempting from taxation 100 acres of the farm at Westtown, together with the school and other buildings therewith connected." The certificated copy of the bill was directed to be deposited with the treasurer.

12th mo. 10th, 1847 .- "The sub-committee to whom was referred the resignation of our friends Pennock and Sarah Passmore, produced an application from Jos. and Hannah Snowden to succeed them in the Superin-The belief that General Warren died of a tendence of the Boarding School, which, on

^{*} It is understood that the buildings here referred to, se are not willing to restore even one-fold, have exclaimed not long before his death; and which continue to be very useful adjuncts, were consequently rejected by the Lord, "Bury me in citizen's clothes; I have had blooks upon sin and iniquity with no de-lenough of the trapnings of war."

eonsideration, was acceptable to the committee, and they were accordingly appointed. On the Proper Employment of Time on First-Nathan Sharpless, Samuel Bettle, Hannah Williams and Hannah Rhoads were requested to inform them of this conclusion and introduce them into the school.'

From the report of 1848: "The nurseries, which were finished and occupied soon after our last report, are found to answer well; the comfort and quiet of the sick being much promoted; and they are a valuable addition to the accommodations. Larger and more commodious porticoes have been erected with- phia the 7th of 5th mo. 1759. out cost to the institution, at the south and east entrances to the main building, and other much seasonable advice was given, and an improvements are contemplated, to be paid earnest concern attending this meeting that for in a like manner.

"The recent examination of the school has afresh impressed our minds with its value and in the several meetings may excite their memimportance as a means of affording a guarded bers to a more close attention and care in the concern of the Yearly Meeting for its estab- them from associating together for amuselishment and right maintainance; and that as ment or diversion on the First-day of the week those employed in its management, to con- impressions made on their attending the meetduct it in the fear of the Lord and in strict ings of worship in the morning, are too freconformity with our Christian principles and quently lost or diminished by unprofitable testimonies, watching against innovation even | conversation and unguarded behavior; to preinstitution with favor; and that it will be waiting on Almighty God, or in reading the made a means of religious as well as literary improvement to many of the rising generation." Friends or other edifying books."

At a stated meeting, 6th mo. 9th, 1848,-Present 19 men and 16 women Friends, and Jos. Seattergood, appoined at our late Yearly Meeting.

"Joseph Scattergood being proposed as Treasurer of this Committee in place of Jos. Snowden, now Superintendent, the nomination was approved and he appointed accordingly, the former treasurer is directed to place in his hands the money and papers connected with that office. Samuel B. Morris and Henry Cope being appointed to examine the accounts of Jos. Snowden and report them to a future

At an adjourned meeting held 10th mo. 11th, 1849: "The committee to whom the state of the buildings on the Westtown School farm was referred, report, 'That having several times met and consulted with an experienced mechanic, we have agreed to propose the erection of a farm house upon the plan herewith submitted. The house to be built of stone procured on the premises, and finished in a plain and substantial manner. From proposals made to the committee by several mechanics, the cost of its erection will be within the sum first estimated, which was $6,500; all the material to be furnished by the contractor. In case the white oak joists for the first floor, rafters, scaffold-poles and boards, and all the lath, are supplied from the farm, there will be a deduction of $411. It is proposed that the new building be placed on the north side of the present farm house and as near to it as convenient. The committee are of the opinion that it would be an advantage to defer the building of a barn another year, as there will be some materials left on hand after the completion of the house which may be profitably used about the barn. Size of the main building 40 x 48 feet, kitchen 24 x 35 feet.

N. Sharpless, I. M. Kaighn, committee."

For "The Friend." day afternoons.

Upon reading over lately some of the minutes of the Monthly Meeting of Friends of Philadelphia, the following advice issued in 1759 by the Quarterly Meeting held in Philadelphia was found, which appears to me to be well worthy of revival at the present day.

From our Quarterly Meeting at Philadel-

"On reading the answers to the Queries our Christian discipline may be more strictly maintained; it is much desired that Friends education to the children of Friends. We education of their children, and those under believe the Divine blessing has rested on the their direction, and particularly to restrain there is a united engagement on the part of in the afternoon, as it is much feared the good in what may be termed little things; we may went which it is recommended to parents and humbly trust that He, whose heritage chilcheads of families to call their families together dren are declared to be, will still regard the and spend the afternoon either in humble

FRINGED GENTIANS.

BY CLARA DOTY BATES. So long had the October skies Worn frown of cloud and rain, It seemed as though my tired eyes Would never see again What they so loved—the tender hue Of heaven's own blue.

I watched in vain for brightening streaks As dawned or died the day; But still the distant mountain peaks Wore cowls of misty gray; Nor gleamed one shining hand-breadth through Of heaven's own blue.

I sought a lonely country road, With bare fields at each side Where late the golden rod had glowed In all its plumy pride. Lo, something at the wayside grew Fringed gentians-each one bearing up Atop its humble stem, As with an arm aloft, a cup; I paused to look at them As deep a tint they wore, as true As heaven's own blue.

Of heaven's own blue.

I had so missed the sky's dear face, Its color and its light : Yet here in this deserted place Was something just as bright-The bluest thing I ever knew Except heaven's blue.

Thus, often when the joys of earth Are dimmed or disappear, Lo, humbly in the wayside dearth We find some other cheer— Some lowly flower that wears the hue Of heaven's own blue.

"Oh ask not then, how I shall bear The burden of to-morrow? Sufficient for the day its care, Its evil and its sorrow, Thy God imparteth by the way Strength that's sufficient for the day." GOD OMNIPRESENT.

Lo, God is here! From clouds above And from the crags on which they rest; From placid evening's robes of love, Outspreading in the crimson west And from the river, o'er whose banks Mysterious shapes of dew appear; From elms which stand in stately ranks, One sound is swelling: "God is here!"

I hear it in the insect's wing; I hear it in the thunder pealing; I hear it where the wild birds sing I hear it where the breeze is stealing. From pathless forests, thick with shade, And from the corn-fields rustling near, From every tree, in every glade, The voice is uttered: "God is here!"

Whilst evening hangs her lamps above, And dewy fragrance floats around, That voice still speaks in tones of love, And every spot seems holy ground, 'Tis written on the moon's pale face, Recumbent in ber lucid sphere, And countless stars the inscription trace In fiery letters: "God is here?"

When midnight bathes the world in sleep, Soothes weary hearts, and shuts the rose, The voice is heard in accents deep, 'Midst intervals of calm repose While round the casement's lattice pane The leaves and tendrils shake for fear, The awful words resound again
Amid the darkness: "God is here!"

Here, when the heart with joy runs o'er; And fancy her wild pastime taking; Here, when the world delights no more, And the bowed heart with grief is breaking Here, when amidst the circle gay, Of friends long tried, beloved, sincere; Here, in the solitary way, God never leaves us: "God is here!"

O Christian! let thy faith arise In every time, in every place! The Maker of the earth and skies Is strengthening thee to run the race. Bid tears depart; subdue thy grief; Hushed be the sighs, and wiped the tear; Thy God is nigh to give relief, And speaks in mercy: "I am here!"

Friends in the South of France.

AN OLD MANUSCRIPT.

Alençon, Second month 18th, 178 Dear Friend,-I find myself engaged w a pleasing satisfaction to write to thee, communicate to thee and Friends in Engl. the first events of our affairs in France, I years during the life of our respectable mi ter, the Count de Vergennes, whose loss much regret, we were informed by the pu report that the Assembly of the Notal were employed about the means of bestow on the Protestants of this kingdom a c rank and station. As till then we had b in a manner unknown to the king and ministers, we felt ourselves engaged to g them a faithful representation, in order to form them of our existence as a people, a to solicit for ourselves the same privileges

missioned to write the following letter to "The Friends of the Christian Socie called by the seornful name of Quakers, to f Count de Vergennes, Minister of the kingde were about to be granted to other Protest subjects. In consequence thereof I was ec-

Count de Vergennes :-

"As the simplicity of our principles de not permit us to address thee with praise compliments, we have with joy given that to the Almighty that He has been pleased pire of peace to be established in the world. to a magistrate. fone, and we therefore are probably un- the Almighty as we have done.

micate them to the General Assembly of From London Friend. Notables that are appointed to present to king the humble petition of his afflicted

We hope that the Spirit of Truth, that aks in the heart of all that attend to its ine voice, will manifest the innocence of principles to the Notables whom the ig has appointed to be the dispensers of ice, and in whom he has deposited his evolence. All the inhabitants of this at kingdom are equally the children of the narch, and since we love and respect him father and protector, we humbly entreat t his beneficence, and that of his ministers, v be extended to us and to all the inhabiits of this kingdom who are not Roman holies.

We are, with respectful affection, "Thy assured Friends."

'he Count de Vergennes answered that he ald make a proper use of my observations. desired me to give him a memorial of our gious and civil principles, which I did, he seemed satisfied with it.

The Protestants, being alarmed at the os we had taken, strongly solicited that mselves alone might be included in the n of toleration; but, not withstanding their ectives against us, to which we made no ly, we have partaken of the king's benefice, and obtained the same right and adtage as they; and not for us but for all ts in the world that maintain good order

Accordingly in the Eleventh month of last r the king gave an Edict, by which all se, without distinction, who do not profess

Roman Catholic religion are accounted d citizens and subjects of the state; their rriages, baptisms, and burials acknowled to be legal, provided a declaration of tholic subjects. Spirit and divine fire which regenerates done.

have learned with peace and satisfaction | Such wise laws give us a prospect of peace, r Sovereign intends to grant a civil rank and of being more free from storms in future, ful." How sweet the assurance,-"There rethe Protestants of this kingdom, and to and we are in hopes that our silent worship cure them in all the privileges of subjects can alarm nobody, and that we shall not be il citizens; but as hitherto our peaceable hindered from meeting quietly together in nciples have kept us at a distance from the our houses for the purpose of worshipping own to the monarch, we have found it our I intended sending thee a copy of my escientions duty to inform thee that there memorial to the Assembly of the Notables, as i, in the Southern Provinces of France, many also a copy at large of the king's edict in our ndreds of dutiful subjects who, though they behalf, but I decline it on supposition that the relation to the results of the results of the relation to the rel worship God in those temples that Jesus Our Friends in the South remain much in the Apostles did, viz., in the inward of the same situation, except that the favors we oir souls, and pursue in reverent silence the have received have made us more inward and trine of Christ only, without any mixture humble. They are all very sensible, as well casting of a ballot is placed under that com-On this memorable occasion we have friends in England and America entertain ught it our duty to address our humble for our little flock, which I expect to visit citations to thee, requesting thee to com- again next summer if it please the Lord.—

> tree, an infant hemlock. Had it lived a century it might have towered up above all the ging his hole under it, bit off its roots, and it was dead. It was full of limbs and knots and placed on his ballot? gnarls, and I felt curious to know how it happened that it was so.

and knots to support I don't wonder you

"And with my roots, which were my mouths with which we feed, all cut of too !'

"Yes, but where did all these ugly limbs come from?" said I.

"Just where all ugly things come from," said he. "I am pretty much like you men. will find where all human sins come from.

"I will take you at your word."

So I took out my knife and peeled of all

"You must go deeper than that." So I began to split and take off layer of The Bishops and the War!—The progress wood after layer. But all the knots were and termination of the war with Egypt have through at the large end. Ah! and I was peasantry under Arabi. * the heart .- Selected.

"Deeper still," said the dry stick.

Rest and be Thankful.—It is said that in the m be made to the magistrate. Decent Highlands of Scotland there is a mountain up ces of burial are granted to us, and we are which there winds a footpath; but the ascent firmed in all the rights of property, pos- is so long and difficult that many a strong man sions, and inheritance, the same as the finds himself short of breath and failing in strength before reaching the top. When once As in the short memorial I gave to the there, however, he finds a seat cut in the rock, int de Vergennes, I informed him that we and over it the inscription, "Rest and be thanknot own any other baptism than that of ful;" and this no doubt many a pedestrian has soul from the defilements of the flesh, and Christians in this world are like the Scotch scribes in the American Naturalist a stone and to the distressed a Protector, and to chap. iii.), the same Edict provides that where through life rugged and steep. Temptations ploy the abilities and power He has en- a child is born belonging to a sect that does and trials press upon them, and they feel isted thee with, to contribute to the relief not believe in the necessity of water baptism. weary. But if they faint not they shall soon the sufferings of mankind, and to cause the the father or mother shall declare the birth reach the end of the way. The summit of the holy hill of Zion will be attained; and to each one will the Redeemer say: "Rest and be thankmaineth, therefore, a rest to the people of God." -Heb. iv. 9.—Messiah's Herald.

> For " The Friend." Religious Items, &c.

The Christian use of the Ballot .- Under this heading, The Christian Advocate endeavors to impress on its readers the duty of voting only for men fearing God and hating covetousness. It says that he injures both himself and society, who gives power to evil men, who are sure in some way to establish injustice. "The casting of a ballot is placed under that comthe glory of God.' This wide reaching 'whatsoever' must cover the solemn act of voting, which, if not done with a purpose to 'glorify God,' must be accounted for in the day of retribution. And when a voter is confronted with the ballots he cast for men known to be A Parable.—I held in my hand a little dry false, covetous, unscrupulous, tricky, incompetent, and self-seeking, what exense will he have to offer to the righteous Judge? What forest, and held up its head in majesty. But defence can he make when shown the evils it grew on a sort of bog, and a muskrat, dig- which resulted from the legislation of the men whose names, perhaps for party's sake, he

"If every Christian citizen in this great country were known to be unalterably re-Poor fellow! If you had all these limbs solved never to cast a ballot for any but men reputed to be of the pattern portrayed by the sage Jethro-'able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness'-what a wondrous political reformation would soon be

The Mennonite Emigrants in Turkestan and Bokhara.-These emigrants from Russia settled in Bokhara near the boundary of Russian Find out where my limbs come from, and you Turkestan. The Emir of Bokhara ordered them to move, and caused their sod houses to be torn down, and them and their goods to be carried across the line. At the last acthe bark. But the limbs and the knots were counts they were still there, but unsettled and not knowing what would open as the best course for them to pursue.

elicited a series of utterances and thanksgivings from the Archbishops and the Bishops. Then I split it all off, and separating it the Great has been their manifest admiration of heart was laid bare; it looked like a small rod the feats of valor performed by the British about six feet long, and perhaps an inch army in conquering the Egyptian troops and * But one would now surprised to see that every limb and hardly gather from the recent episcopal utterknot started in the heart. The germ, or the ances that the speakers believe that Christ starting-point, of each one was the centre of ever gave his life for Egyptians, or for any members of the human family except Englishmen, or that the souls of other peoples and nations are similarly precious in his sight.

* If there be any measure of the Divine Presence in the hearts of universal humanity, how fearful a crime is war which outrages that image itself with bayonet and shell .-[London] Herald of Peace.

For "The Friend."

Natural History, Science, &c.

Idol of Delaware Indians .- C. C. Abbott dees us by the resurrection of Christ (Peter, mountain climber. They often find the path rudely carved into the resemblance of a human head, which is supposed to have been an scenery was beautiful, the air balmy, the so-his head when led to the water. He lay object of religious veneration among the In- ciety pleasant. But dian inhabitants of New Jersey, where it was found. It is about five and one-half inches high, and more than four inches broad. These when man neglects the inexorable laws of brute, rewarded him in the manner he des measurements are almost identical with those of similar specimens found in Ohio and West-water of the well gave out, and the guests ern New York.

for a dwelling house. The spot was covered Its water was poisoned, and on the last Sunwith scrub pines, with an undergrowth of day there were twenty guests. Of these, eighhuckleberry bushes. The subsoil was a homo teen were taken sick-twelve with typhoid geneous yellow ferruginous sand; and the fever, and six with typhoid symptoms. workman was impressed by the fact that his two of the twenty escaped-a child three years spade had struck a stone a few inches below old, and a man about thirty. Wm. Graham the surface, as the spot was so destitute of returned; his children and himself all sick stone that the presence of one was remark- with a disease which-its first cousin, diphable. In endeavoring to pry it out, the head theria, excepted—is the most treacherous of teresting memoir of the late Enoch Lei was broken off from its base.

was probably a nodule from the clay cliffs on covered after a long struggle. The narrative mathematical studies under his tuition the species of Aster and Solidago contained in the great herbaria of Europe, and has pub- water of death?" lished the result of his researches into those difficult genera in "Contributions to North come to us from the Cape of Good Hope. In mathematical pursuits, but in the gen American Botany.

they exist in such pools is often quite surpristhe unassisted eye.

parasite belonging to the Barnacle family ing there, he singled out one of them, and gree of self-control which was greatly to As these birds spend most of their time in the pulled him by the sleeve with his teeth. The advantage. When a boy, it was the cust air, only resting on the water at long intermediate man thinking the horse might possibly bite, of farmers to give spirituous liquors to the giving it a very tropical appearance. nax was used almost exclusively for arrows, on." The horse at once led the way to a command, while under the influence of combining as it did great strength with the pump at the further side of the square. Some draught. He was quick to perceive that necessary lightness. It is frequently figured colored servants were lonning about the he would make sure his escape from the French provinces, but it is also reported to the grateful brute almost spoke his thanks to moved, boy as he was, by persuasion or ri have been found in Siberia, in Persia and even his white friend by rubbing his nose gently cule. There were companions of his barve in Central Africa. Like the other useful against his arm; after which be walked off labors, who langued at him for his persists grasses, although used for a very different with a great sigh of relief. A story somewhat singularity, but who, in after times, may be purpose from the others, it is probable that analogous to the foregoing was told me by a lamented their own fatal delusion, when the the cultivation of this species for warlike purferend, whose uncle, an old country and a favorite in found themselves, before they were well aw poses has dispersed this plant far beyond its one of our western counties, had a favorite whither the current of their fate was tendit original limits at a period so early as to make hunter in a loose box in the stable. One warm whirled in the giddy circle of that maelstra

Impure Drinking Water .- The Christian Ad-tention to the fact, but without success. The into the country for a little vacation. The that he always had a certain halter put upon vals during much of his life. In 1793, wh

In vain with lavish kindness The gifts of God are strown, were supplied for ten days with water from a It was found in clearing a piece of ground well that had not been used for three years. the diseases of civilization. One of the chil- written by his son, which revives the men It is cut from an indurated clay-stone, and dren is not; the other, with the father, re- of the benefit derived from instruction the shore of Raritan bay, near Keyport, N.J. we had from the father on his return, after Botany .- Prof. Gray has been examining long absence, to his post of duty.

Horse Sense.—A pleasant story has just unusual mental powers, not only in pu Grant Reinett, as in all the old Dutch towns domain of the intellect, and as one who Minute Crustacea. These minute animals in the colony, there is, in the centre of the sessed a very varied and extensive fund feed on vegetable matter and are among the place, a large market square, where the farm-general information. most efficient agents in purifying the waters ers, traders and others, arriving with their Of his early childhood, he remarked: ") of stagnant pools. The numbers in which produce, at any hour of the day or night, may not remember the time when I did not ki "outspan" the oxen or horses from their the first three rules in Arithmetic-Addit ing. In a quart of water taken from a pond wagons, and turn the cattle out to the "com- Subtraction and Multiplication. Among near Minneapolis, there were counted 1829 in monage" to feed, while they bivouac at their amusements of my earliest recollection, dividuals all of sufficient size to be visible to wagons, as is the wont of African travellers that of setting down columns of figures of to do, until the eight o'clock morning auction. slate and adding them up, and then subtra Curious Parasite.—In the natural history An old horse belonging to one of these parties ing the sum of one column from that of collections made by the Italian frigate Ma- had wandered about in search of grass and other, and afterwards multiplying the regenta during a voyage round the world, were water-vainly, no doubt, for it was during the by some other number, and thus continu a large number of Puffins taken in the South severe drought from which the country is but till I had filled the slate. Atlantic and Indian Oceans. In all of these now recovering. Coming to the great bare His demeanor was habitually grave (the abdominal feathers were infested with a market-place, and finding a knot of men talk-serious, and he early learned to exercise a vals, it was a matter of wonder to find upon repulsed him; but as it was not very roughly workmen in harvest, but though he was v them animals usually found submerged in the done, he returned to the charge, with the same young and inexperienced, be noticed the reception; but he was a persevering animal, grading effects of the practice, and resolv Indian Reed .- The Arundo, or Indian reed, and practically demonstrated the axiom, that to abstain from all alcoholic drinks. is remarkable for the very leafy stems and "perseverance gains the day," for upon his biographer says: "This resolution was c the large brown or purplish panicle of flowers taking the chosen sleeve for the third time firmed by baving drunk, on a single occasi which tower above the surrounding plants, between his teeth, the owner awoke to the of a sweet mixture of which gin was an At the idea that a deed of kindness might be required gredient, and by having felt, without be time when the bow and arrow were the prin- of him; so putting his hand upon the horse's intoxicated, that he was more than usua cipal implements of warfare, the Arundo Do-neck he said, "All right, old fellow; march excited, and was bereft of his habitual s where it hung. He managed to nuhocij from its peg, and carried it to the groom, he at once, in great admiration of the known —Nature.

Praying for money, while refusing to vit to earn it, savors more of presumption tar

THE FRIEND.

ELEVENTH MONTH 11, 1882.

We have received from the author, and Westtown School; the friendly intercours later years, when we were both employe "Are not the contents of such a well the teachers in that institution; and the I esteem which was felt for him as a map comming as the superiority of the read grown in Italy.

Colored servants were lounging about the he would make sure his escape from the spot. One of them at the bidding of the white graded condition of a drunkard, he must average man, filled a bucket with water; three times fostering an appetite which might become grown in Italy.

Coloring and the strong for the control of reason or conscient was the bucket replantshed and emptied best strong for the control of reason or conscient was the bucket replantshed and emptied best strong for the control of reason or conscient. original limits at a period so carry as to make funder in a loose good in the status. One wait is impossible to determine its native country, summer day he was "athirst," and could get whose sweep is ruin, and whose vortex no water. He tried to draw the groom's at-

When about fifteen years of age he was e vocate of New York, mentions that William horse was not to be discouraged; he evidently ployed as teacher of a school near Radment of the New York, mentions that William horse was not to be discouraged; he evidently ployed as teacher of a school near Radment of the New York, mentions that William horse was not to be discouraged; he evidently ployed as teacher of a school near Radment of the New York, mentions that William horse was not to be discouraged; he evidently ployed as teacher of a school near Radment of the New York, mentions that William horse was not to be discouraged; he evidently ployed as teacher of a school near Radment of the New York, mentions that William horse was not to be discouraged; he evidently ployed as teacher of a school near Radment of the New York. Graham, connected with the Methodist Book gave the matter consideration. The thirst where the family resided, and be continued Concern, "took three of his children and went was pressing. All at once he remembered to follow this honorable occupation at international control of the first control of the f dies alone. king youth asking for such a book, entered or an intricate problem elucidated." npensation, which was accepted.

of the Commissioners, was a man of imm in carnest till I thunder at them, like a ing school for boys and young men. athen." "They obey me very well," redel his young triend, "when I happen to be them an order." "Yes, yes," returned From early life he was

pt. Though no less courageous than the Penn, which forms part of the series of 14 practicable, all controversial discussions. ders of the expedition themselves, he had volumes known as "Friends' Library." He died on the 14th of 7th mo. 1856. disposition to be involved in any scene of himself.

On the return of the party from their labors, ey met at Pittsburg. Wine was then used turned of seventeen, he went to Phila-fied at the conduct of his companion, E. L. writings of Joseph John Gurney, his feelings watched his opportunity and slipped away appear to have been of a similar character.

of New Garden, and in the fall of the same They came with horses and dogs, and though n the spring of 1795, being in the Phila-phia Library, to examine Newton's Prin-teacher at Westtown Boarding School, which almost ruined by their rough usage. In this a, he met with Andrew Ellicott, who had had been opened a few months before. He desire to evade controversy, we believe may n appointed a commissioner to make some was an industrious and zealous teacher. His be found the explanation of the position be veys in the western part of Pennsylvania, son says: "There was no bour however un-took in the latter part of his life. Many of icott was a mathematician himself, and seasonable, that he was not accessible where his friends, with whom he had always been ng surprised to hear a rustic, home-spun a mathematical question was to be resolved, associated in labor for the good of the church

h his intelligence and the accuracy of his out the aid of books, and when walking or open testimony against writings published as wledge. This acquaintance led to an offer riding abroad, usually worked mentally on those of Friends and not in harmony with the join the surveying party, with a liberal some subject which happened at the time to teachings of the Society. E. Lewis probably appensation, which was accepted. This was exposing work, and of the sixty stration, which afterwards appeared in a and content themselves with the spreading sons employed in it, many were rough in mathematical work, compiled by John Gum- of sound doctrines by the publishing of writwaeter. After leaving Pittsburg, they were mere, one of his pupils, and which is still the ings against whose doctrines no exception ler no roof, except for a single night, till best demonstration of a practical rule in sur-could be taken. But in times when the feelir return to that place late in the follow-veying extant, was the result of an evening's ings of men were deeply stirred on religious fall. E. L. steadily adhered to the mode of cogitation on horse-brack, on his way home subjects, such a course seemed to many like a sea and language in which he had been edu-lived in a Monthly Meeting at Concord. Other described of the Lord's cause, and a with ed as a member of the Society of Friends, demonstrations, which subsequently he gave holding more than is meet, which tendeth to I gained the esteem and confidence of his to the world in his published treatises, were poverty. Its effect was to weaken the bond nous temper, and on one oceasion when 35. She was an approved minister, and a which arose. itated, broke out into a volley of oaths. woman of unusual loveliness of character.

His son states that his feelings inclined him ood, or to be in the remotest degree respont to moderation in times of controversy, and left the consequences of a hostile collision, though he saw that the opinions of Elias of Philadelphia, we are glad to observe the s principles forbade the use of arms, even Hicks were Socinian in their character, and following paragraphs: a means of self-defence, and he would that doctrines were being maintained among t, in the most critical circumstances, allow some of our members, with regard to the action, disproportionately large has been the hers to do for him what he would not do atonement and divine nature of Christ and to number founded upon offences which grew the anthority of the sacred Scriptures, which were at variance with those of ancient Friends, yet to the last moment he hoped that by for been no such cases to come before us, the a beverage even by the most temperate, bearance and conciliation a division might be business of this Grand Jury could have been

ler the instruction of William Waring, then before the wine came upon the board. During The writer well remembers a conversation acher in Friends' Academy, on Fourth St. the afternoon he experienced some peculiar between them in the early period of those ow Chestnut. Of this estimable man, E. L. sensations which arrested his attention. He disputes, in which he referred to the danger rarked in after years, "As a precedent of the danger and had omitted his active was of injuring the cause of religion by the resaw his equal, in his line. He first customed glass in dining. Conscious that imprudent efforts, even in so good a cause as ned my eyes to the value and beauty of there might be danger in a habit which tended endeavoring to keep inviolate the doctrinal thematical science, and be effectually spoil-to create a want, whose demand might be faith of the Society. In illustration of his me for taking lessons of any one else then come imperative, he resolved at once to resistle to me." Wm. Warring died of yellonounce the use of wine, and thus to avoid the had seen a rabbit browsing on the leaves the fever in the latter part of the sammer of jrisks attendant upon it. 3, and his former pupil continued his In 1799, he was married to Alice Jackson truder had invited the help of his neighbors. and of mankind in general, were strongly imo conversation with him and was pleased "He early formed the habit of study with pressed with the importance of bearing an ociates by his consistency, ability, and at hit upon and wrought out in a similar man-tion to duty. General Irvine, who was ner." His wife, Alice, died in 1813, at the age of posite sides of some of the practical questions

This tendency was increased by his conter baving thus vented his feelings he turned One, who knew her well, once said of her, nection with the Friends' Review, a paper E. L., and though more than thirty years . She could not enter a retail store to buy a which it was well understood was established senior apologized for using such language. yard of tape, without leaving the impression as the exponent of the views of those who t is an ungentlemanly and unchristian that she was a superior woman." At that were not in harmony with the prevailing totice," said he, "I know it is, but these time they were residing in New Garden, where judgment of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting. pundrels can never be made to believe that they managed a farm and conducted a board. In his conduct of this, the natural moderation of E. Lewis and his dislike of controversy are In 1815 he was married to Lydia Jackson, visible. Though to some extent he reflected the sentiments of those by whom it was ori-From early life he was much interested in ginated, yet he evidently turned with pleasure s General, "your manner don't require the religious Society of which he was a mem- to such more congenial topics as the spreadearing. I can't get along without it, but ber, and devoted considerable time and labor ing of the principles of peace, the abolition of ssure you I mean to quit it when I return to its interests. The subjects of slavery and slavery, the defence of the character of Wilwar were particularly near to his feelings, liam Penn from the unfounded charges of While engaged in their survey a rumor and his pen was often employed in enforcing Macaulay, and to whatever tended to promote evailed that a body of Indians were pre-correct views in reference to them. He pub-the moral development of mankind—topics ring to attack the party, and no little alarm lished also several mathematical treatises; on which he could write freely without fear is excited. As long as it continued, E. L., dissertations on Oaths and Baptism; a "Vinor of coming into conflict with his former comthe woods beyond the line of the senti-aspersions contained in a work entitled "Qua-rule laid down for his guidance in his prols and the light of the camp-fires, and there kerism not Christianity," and a life of William spectus: "It is intended to avoid as far as

In the last presentment of the Grand Jury

" Of the many bills submitted to us for our ne day, a young man having indulged too seld in his morning potations, became gar a lous and foolish at dinner. Being morti- in the Society of Friends in regard to the state of requiring five weeks as has been the lous and foolish at dinner. Being morti- in the Society of Friends in regard to the state of the case. A large expense, too, would transacted in a little more than one week inhave been saved the county, whilst the question of the enlargement of our pauper and prison accommodations would neither now nor at any time in the near future, have to be considered. Hence we ask that the free license law which so disgraces our city may ly looking for frost. receive early attention.

"Finally, we would ask that some action be taken to relieve this community from the flood of pernicious papers, the low-class pictures and the larger posters of similar character, with which we are cursed. One class of these publications assails the purity of our homes others, incite the youth to spurn parental

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES .- General Crook had a friendly conference with the Apache Indians at San Carlos, Arizona, on the 2nd instant. He told them "the time had come for them to make an effort for their own living and to family at $5; western do. at $5.25 a $5.90, and patents govern themselves," and said that "their present lo- at $6.37\frac{1}{2} a $7.50. Rye flour is steady at $4.25 a $4.37 cality being unadapted to either farming or grazing, permission would be given them to select some lands on the reservation for cultivation, under care of the the day of the discipline and besteady at 73 at 75 cts. Corn is in moderate demand, condition than at any time since the last rebell havior of the respective bands." About 1200 warriors slates of $700 bushels, to the trade, at 86 a 90 cts. Oats of the troubles is a disturbance at Black Biver by the advice.

About 1200 warriors slates of $700 bushels, to the trade, at 86 a 90 cts. Oats of $700 bushels, in car lots, at $100
The public debt statement shows a reduction of $15,

629.180, for the 10th month.

The Postmaster General estimates the receipts of his Department for the fiscal year ending 6th month 30th, $1.10 per 100 pounds; mixed, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 1.00 1884, at $50,670,456, and the expenses at $46,471,111; pounds; straw, 80 to 90 cts. per 100 pounds. estimated excess of receipts over expenditures, $3, 929,345.

The annual report of the Sixth Auditor for the Postoffice Department shows an excess of postal receipts over expenditures in Pennsylvania amounting to $1,- 017,439; New Jersey, $174,214, and Delaware, $19,159. During last week, of the political matter sent to the Post-office in Philadelphia for distribution, there were about 600,000 separate envelopes which had to be left at the various houses in the city. There were also sold, in addition to one-cent wrappers and postal cards, 1,272,000 two and three cent stamps, the largest number ever before sold in one week.

The question of reciprocity with the United States is again discussed by the Mexican press. A reciprocity treaty meets little favor, as the revenues of Mexico come principally from import duties.

A case intended to test the validity of the Constitutional Prohibitory amendment, passed in Iowa by the popular vote, last 6th mo., was heard on 10th mo. 26th in the District Court in Davenport, Judge Walter F Hayes presiding. The plaintiffs, brewers, sold $113 worth of beer to a saloon keeper, who refused payment on the ground that the bill could not be collected under The Court reserved its decision until 11th mo. 1st, when it was announced by Judge Hayes. The Judge holds that the amendment " was not legally made a part of the State Constitution," chiefly on the grounds that "the journals of the Legislature do not contain the act in full on their pages, and do not contain the yeas and nays taken upon the same, and that, according to the journals, the act, as pa-sed by the Senate of the Eighteenth Assembly, was, in its terms, prohibitory of the sale or manufacturing of liquor, not only as a beverage, but also 'to be used,' and hence, prohibited it and its use for any and all purposes, even sacramental, medicinal, &c.; but, as it passed the House of the Eighteenth General Assembly, it was in terms merely pro-bibitory of liquor as a beverage. In these respects, therefore, the requirements of the Constitution provid ing for the manner of its amendment have been disregarded. The journals do not contain the proper entries, and the same act has not passed both houses of the Legislature."

The growth of the dried fruit business in Tennessee is something wonderful. Knoxville and Nashville have handled during the past few years large quantities of dried fruit, but the trade has become so great that the lesser points in the State are getting a fine business out Two years ago hardly a pound of dried fruit was shipped from Chattanooga, for example; this year the German Bundesrath, prohibiting the importation of dealers in that city will handle in the neighborhood of American swine, pork and sausage meat. 750,000 pounds.

Agents of a California syndicate are "prospecting the later reports of the floods in Northern Italy are northern end" of Vancouver's Island "with a view to distressing than the first accounts. The king contri

At a meeting of the Board of Health of Des Moines,

Iowa, it was stated that no death occurred in that city rocks. during 10th month. The population of Des Moines, in round numbers, is about 10,000.

In Philadelphia for the week ending 11th month

4th, there were 358 deaths, as compared with 311 for the previous week and 324 for the corresponding week of last year. Of the whole number, 180 were males and 178 females: 69 died of consumption; 28 of diphtheria, Orleans.

Petroleum.-Standard white, 77 cts. for export, and 8% cts. per gallon for home use. Flour is quiet but steady. Sales of 2800 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $5.75 a $6.50; Penna.

per barrel. Grain.-Wheat was dull and unsettled. Sales of 4800 bushels red, in car lots at $1.06 a $1.13. Rye is maica is at present in a more disturbed and agi

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 11th mo. 4th, 1882.- Loads of hay, 500; loads of straw, 107. Average price during the week-Prime timothy, $1 to ple they are exempt from taxation by treaty, but

Beef cattle were a fraction lower: 5000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 33 a 7 cts. per lb., the that something serious was expected. latter rate for extra.

Sheep were unsettled and lower: 17,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards, at 3\frac{3}{3} a 5\frac{1}{2} cts., and erection or repair. A large American hotel is talke lambs at 3½ a 7½ cts. per pound, as to condition. Hogs were in fair demand at former rates: 5000 head rrived and sold at 10 a 11½ cts. per lb. as to quality. FOREIGN. — In the House of Commons Gibson's amendment to the Cloture rule, substituting a two-thirds majority for the bare majority proposed by the Government, was rejected by a vote of 322 against 238. The Parnellites voted with the majority.

said, was an instance of the iniquity of the Land Laws, and he advocated the nationalization of land as a he adduced to show that Arabi Pasha saved the life of by the Canadian Immigration Department, and wi Midshipman De Chair against the wish of Toulba distributed in various parts of the Dominion. Pasha, and also that he stopped the massacre at Alexandria by telegraphic order. The prosecution will urge that it is impossible to believe that Arabi Pasha, who held this power, could not have prevented the massacres and incendiarism had he so wished. A fresh diseovery has been made of documents important to Arabi term. Friends of Ohio Yearly Meeting, who may Pasha's defence. It is stated that they implicate the drawn to the service, are requested to communi Sultan in command with the rebellion.

Dr. Schweinfurth writes to the Anti-Slavery Society, under date of Cairo, 10th mo, 23rd, that all the Provinces of Egypt lying south and west of Khartoum are in the hands of fanatical insurgents, and that Khartoum is only hanging on by a thread. The army has been cut down by constant disastrous combats with the False Prophet, and is reduced to half its original size. The mass of the population believe in the ever-victorious False Prophet. Six thousand men, Dr. Schweinfurth says, were massacred by Mahne's army, which is re-ported to number 150,000 men, and is desperately brave. As soon as the town of Obeid has fallen, the army, it is expected, will march on Khartoum. Schweinfurth also states that the Governor of the Soudan estimates that during the war 30,000 of the False Prophet's followers have perished.

The political agitation is causing a profound sensation in Spain, and threatens to divide the Liberals into two hostile parties. The draft of an ordinance has been submitted to the Contrary to the usual experience in similar cases, bortnern end of vancouver's island "with a trew to distressing than the inst accounts. The king contri-heavy investments."

Up to and including Seventh-day, the 4th inst, there had been a total of 2079 cases of yellow fever and 183 The worst feature of the calamity is that in many judeaths, in Pensacola, Florida. The people are auxious-like results will be permanent. Charity will kee sufferers from starvation, but it cannot redeem the

> The elections for members of the Italian Cham Deputies, held recently, resulted in the return members of the Right, 65 of the Centre, 258 of the 27 Radicals and 2 Socialists. The voting throm the country was orderly, except at Leghorn, wh mob attempted to destroy the urns and registers.

A despatch to the Times from St. Petersburg say others, incite the youth to spurn parental 16 of paneamonia; 16 of old age; 19 of crony, 13 of great increase in the number of large fires in Rus control, and to launch upon a mode of life marasmus; 11 of typhoid fever, and 8 of alcoholism.

Markets, &c. U. S. 3°, 102; 3°, 102; 4°, 8, regisherty, but which they mistakenly look upon as one of liberty, but which too often terminates in a felon's cell."

Markets, &c. U. S. 3°, 102; 3°, 102; 4°, 8, regisher as a few parental fired, 112; coupon, 113; 4°, 119; courrency 6°, 133. been raised by forty per cent, on the advise of cotton continues dull. Sules of middlings are reported at 10°, a 112 ets per pound for uplands and New linsurance. Congress recently held in London. great increase in the number of large hires in Rus on their reserve funds. Insurance premiums have river Neva is full of ice and navigation is closed,

The elections for members of the Norwegian St ing have resulted in a crushing defeat of the Go ment, four-fifths of the members returned being cals or Republicans.

A violent earthquake has occurred in the vicini Aintab, in northern Syria. Several villages have destroyed. Advices from Jamaica to the 27th ult. say that the village and took forcible possession of them the anthorities. In the territory allotted to these perty not included in this territory, and owned by t is subject to taxation. At last accounts they mustering at their township, and numbered 100

It is officially reported that within the limits o City of Mexico there are now 2000 houses in conr

It is reported that copper mines have been discov in Cerro de La Palma, in the department of Quil

There were 15 deaths from yellow fever in Ha during the week ending last Seventh-day.

Canadian capitalists are talking about the re lying between Lake Superior and Hudson Bay. s said to exist in that region 60,000 square mil-In a speech at a meeting in Inverses, Scotland, and, some of it valuable for farming purposes and Michael Davitt demonaced the manner in which the it covered with fine forests, and some of it rich in depopulation of the Highlands was going on. This, he erral wealth. There is talk of a railway to the bay) Ottawa, via the Desert River. An exploratory sur is soon to be made. The distance is about 450 mi The 200 destitute people recently brought to Qu

The Times' despatch from Cairo says: Evidence will from the Island of Anticosti have been taken in ch

FRIENDS' BOARDING SCHOOL, BARNE VILLE, OHIO.

Wanted a Superintendent and Matron to take ch of this Institution at the close of the present wi with Aaron Frame, or Asa Garretson, Barnesville, mont county, Ohio.

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelph Physician and Superintendent-John C, Halla M Applications for the Admission of Patients ma made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Boa

MARRIED, at Friends' Meeting-house, Flushing, mont Co., Ohio, on Fourth-day, the 4th of Tenth mo 1882, HENRY HALL, of Malvern, Chester Co., Pa., ANN ELIZA, daughter of David and Sarah H. Bran of the former place.

, at Friends' Meeting, Upper Darby, Pa, Fifth-day, Tenth month 5th, J. MURRAY BACO Philadelphia, and Anna C, daughter of Dr. Gee Bailey.

DIED, at his residence in Lancaster Co., Pa., 8th 13th, 1882, in the 63d year of his age, Joshua Fula a member of Sadsbury Monthly and Particular Meet

FRIEND.

RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, ELEVENTH MONTH 18, 1882.

NO. 15.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid n advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON, Moorestown, Burlington Co., N. J.

iptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES.

NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

the world, but, also, that their lives and ed people; our very countenances and Christian Society, the damage that riches have labored? rtment declared it.

and primitive dedication hold up the their posterity. ier of Quakerism in its original dignity following testimonies: "Small treasure to a credit amongst men." Selections and Reflections.

resigned mind is sufficient. How happy is it to be content with a little, to live in humility, mitted to us as a people, John Woolman thus and feel that in us, which breathes out this tirringly writes: "A trust is committed to us as a people, John Woolman thus are but that the Society of Friends was language, Abba! Father. May we reverently us, a great and weighty trust, to which our d up, not only to set forth by the pen wait on the Lord for strength to lay aside all diligent attention is necessary. Wherever

ersation should consistently correspond gious principle, to make or trade in superflui- pears to be a breach of this trust, and one step ewith. In other words, that they should ties, of which we have many large testimonies back toward the wilderness; one step toward yout in harmonious practice their conons or live what they profess—being as gave way, even some whose examples were through his faithful servants in a work of less or way-marks to the eternal kingdom, of note in our Society; and from thence others several ages, and is like laying the foundation took more liberty. Members of our Society for future sufferings. clearly foreshadowed to us, being an ex-worked in superfluities, and bought and sold "I feel a living invitation in my mind to command in the Jewish law: "Ye shall them; and thus dimness of sight came over those who are active in our religious Society ony statutes and my judgments; which many. At length, Friends got into the use of that we may lay to heart this matter, and man do, he shall like in them; I am the some superfluities in dress, and in the furniconsider the station in which we stand; a " This was no doubt, practically ex-ture of their houses; and this has spread from place of outward liberty under the free exerlified for a time at the rise of the Society; less to more, until superfluity of some kind is cise of our consciences towards God, not obg perhaps, one great secret of the remark | common amongst us. In this declining state, tained but through the great and manifold str and impression made upon the minds bearts of observers within the sphere of ion much neglect the pure feeling of Trutt. 'is gratitude due from us to our heavenly influence. For, in accordance herewith, and here minent elder in the Truth test. Father, and justice to our posterity. Can our heavenly father, and justice to our posterity. Can our heavenly field that, "Not all the persecutions, not all hearts endure, or our hands be strong, if we : "I cannot forget the lumility and the apostates, nor all the private or open enedesert a cause so precious, if we turn aside te zeal of that day." "We were an ex-mies we have ever had, have done us, as a from a work in which so many have patiently done. And the justness of this observation has ow greatly is it to be desired that these been, in succeeding times, most abundantly so dear to us, that we may never trample acteristics of earlier times in our Society, verified and illustrated on every hand, in the under foot the adorable Son of God, or count at more generally be traced upon us! desolation that has generally followed the intas a more inward and spiritually minded ordinate pursuit of riches and worldly great—"May the faithfulness of the martyrs when the might with renewed Christian ness, both to the victims of this snare and to the prospect of death by fire was before them, dear unto themselves, that they might Christ, and the goodliest things of the world of reformation in the world!

their course with joy. Hereby we too were not near us, so that we might be near "While the active members in the visible

Wm. Penn, our members have been extraordedge of the glory of stained the glory of sacred. But while they who are active in the vealth, with the excesses and extrava- of all earthly things, and they bore no mas- affairs of the church, continue in a manifest gances into which it so often leads. It is hard tery with us, either in dwelling, eating, drinkto guard the heart against the perils of suc-ing, buying, selling, marrying, or giving in cess. The flood-tide of prosperity is not good marriage; the Lord was the object of our eye, for the soul. The cares of this life and the and we all humble and low before Him, and deceitfulness of riches choke the word. And self of small repute. Ministers and elders, in the prophet's words to Tyre, should be a all such cases, walking as good examples, that warning to us: "By thy traffic hast thou in- the flock might follow their footsteps as they creased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up followed Christ in the daily cross and self-because of thy riches." It was the view of denial in their dwellings, callings, eating, these dangers so tending to bias the purpose, drinking, buying, selling, marrying, and givso fertile in reconciling religion with luxury, ing in marriage; and this answered the Lord's that prompted John Woolman's pen to the witness in all consciences, and gave us great tongue the precious doctrines and testi-unnecessary expense of every kind, and learn the active members of this visible gathered ics given to our forefathers to uphold be contentment in a plain simple life. Friends in early times refused on a reli-trary to the purity of our principles, it ap-

"May the deep sufferings of our Saviour be

" May the faithfulness of the martyrs when be remembered! May the patient, constant An apt specimen of the ardent zeal, godly sufferings of the upright-hearted servants of purity; and thus show unmistakably that sincerity, fervent piety, and true Christian God in latter ages be revived in our minds! are the true lineal successors of that simplicity of our worthy predecessors, as fol-May we so follow on to know the Lord, that trious band of tried and proved men and lows, is taken from an epistle of William Ed neither the faithful in this age, nor those in ten who, "Looking o'er this vain world mondson: The things of this world were of ages to come, may be brought under suffer. the keen eye of faith," counted not their small value with us, so that we might win ing through our sliding back from the work

h their course with joy. Hereby we too were not near us, so that we might be near "While the active members in the visible unded together as the heart of one man—the Lord, and the Lord's Truth outbalanced gathered church stand upright, and the affairs d be enabled, through his omnipotent all the world, even the most glorious part of thereof are carried on under the leadings of er who remains the same yesterday, to it. Then great trading was a burthen, and the Holy Spirit, although disorder may arise and forever, to rebuild the broken down great concerns a great trouble; all needless among us, and cause many exercises to those s, and effectually turn the battle to the things, fine houses, rich furniture, and gaudy who feel the care of the churches upon them; in a day when there are many advertage apparel, was an eye-sore; our eye being single yet while these continue under the weight of the Lord, and the inshining of his light in the work, and labor in the meekness of wisnee the period so favorably represented our hearts, which gave us the sight of the dom for the help of others, the name of Christ opposition to the purity of our principles, this as the prophet Isaiah expresses it, is like 'as when a standard-bearer fainteth.' way opens to great and prevailing degeneracy, called Revival Meetings, nine out of ten, or an awful, fearful apprehension, that the land to sufferings for those who, through the locally so, fall away. They trust too much God hath a Controversy with us, as a Nio power of Diviue love, are separated to the on man. Gospel of Christ, and canuot unite with any thing which stands in opposition to the purity

"The necessity of an inward stillness bath under these exercises appeared clear to my mind. In true silence strength is renewed, the mind herein is weaned from all things, but as they may be enjoyed in the Divine will, and a lowliness in outward living, opposite to worldly honor, becomes truly acceptable to us. In the desire after outward gain, the mind is prevented from a perfect attention to the voice of Christ; but being weaned from all things but as they may be enjoyed in the Divine will, the pure light shines into the soul. Where the fruits of that spirit which is of this world, are brought forth by many who profess to be led by the Spirit of Trnth, and cloudiness is felt to be gathering over the visible church, the sincere in heart who abide & rejoiceth in the Truth, constraineth me to them (if I can & the Lord please) I will in true stillness, and are exercised therein say, that your Exhortation on Wednesday buried: Thy God is my God & to his God before the Lord for his name sake, have a knowledge of Christ in the fellowship of his am humbly thankful, God hath not left me sufferings, and inward thankfulness is felt at times, that through Divine love our own wisdom is east out, and that forward active part in us subjected, which would rise and do some and follow by Faith, his firry and cloudy thing in the visible church, without the pure Pillar, all thro' this howling Wildernam thing in the visible church, without the pure leadings of the Spirit of Christ.

"While aught remains in us different from a perfect resignation of our wills, it is like a seal to a book wherein is written 'that good and acceptable, and perfect will of God con-many & severe Tryals from the professed desire, when it fills the mind, usually leads cerning us;' but when our minds entirely yield to Christ, that silence is known, which followeth the opening of the last of the seals. Rev. viii. 1. In this silence we learn to abide in the Divine will, and there feel that we have no cause to promote but that only in which the light of life directs us in our proceedings, and that the alone way to be useful in the Church of Christ, is to abide faithfully under the leading of his Holy Spirit in all cases, that being preserved thereby in purity of heart and holiness of conversation, a testimony to lament, I have too often lost the Savour of spect of others without respecting themselv the purity of his government may be held his precious Truth. forth through us to others.'

"I trust there are many who at times, under Divine visitation, feel an inward inquiry after God, and when such in the simplicity of their hearts mark the lives of a people who profess to walk by the leadings of his Spirit, of what great concernment is it that our lights shine clear, that nothing in our conduct carry a contradiction to the Truth as it is in Jesus, or be a means of profaning his holy name, and be a stumbling-block in the way of sincere inquirers."

Safety Valve.-Dr. Tyng met an emigrant & on the left. family going west. On one of the wagons there hung a jug with the bottom knocked out. "What is that?" asked the doctor. "Why that is my Taylor jug," said the man.
"And what is a Taylor jug?" asked the doctor again.

Mexico, and the General always told him to ever heard of for hard drinkers.

Of those converted by man in what are

When converted by the Spirit and through the power of the Father, nine out of ten stand. The reason is, Christ feeds his children with the bread of life that man cannot give; He takes care of them, and through his Spirit Experience (though I am but a young 1 they are converted. But others look to the help of man, so they fall.

Dear people, let all look to Christ, the head and fountain of all good.

Emporia, Kansas.

JOHN MOON.

From the "British Friend." Letter to Patience Brighton.

The following is a copy of a letter from a clergyman to Patience Brighton, of New England, when on a religious visit to Old England. The letter is dated 2nd mo., 1786:

Evening was suited to my Case or State. without his Witness in my Heart; and also that he hath inclined you to point me out;

I have (I humbly hope) preached Jesus Christ, but not in your Society; & hope in a weakness makes itself apparent none is my good measure with a single Eye to the Glory common than that of wishing. A wish ar of God; but having been lately exercised with desire are not quite synonymous. A stru

I see my own Ignorance, my Will Worship, my Forms and Modes of Gospel Schemes, my unfeeling Prayers & often unseasonable Preachings, without Spirit & without Life, as temperature warmer or cooler, as the c only arising from a carnal Mind, which is may be. They wish for some sudden street Enmity against God, and the Immagination of fortune which never comes; they wish exalting itself against him.

seasons divine Love and Favour; but must for friends without being friendly; for the

Israel have I been delivered, & as often have them. I provoked him by Distrust, &c: yea he hath chastized me & I have been like a Bullock selves to wishing for objective advantage unaccustomed to the Yoke: O that I might they often wish for subjective qualities. be so monided into his heavenly Image, as hear them continually lamenting their ov daily to say experimentally, 'thy Will be deficiencies, and wishing they were more Evening and since, he hath caused his Grace energetic and resolute. Getting glimpses to distill as the Dew, and has given me to their folly they will, even at times, wish th know that, in his own Time and Way, he will could leave off wishing, but the habit is t lengthen my Cords & strengthen my Stakes, strong, and they continue to indulge in & cause me to break forth on the right hand course which their reason unhesitatingly co

with the tenderest Love and Affection towards or woman from whose lips the words "I wis. you, that minister in the Word, and towards are forever issning is sure to come sooner Pardon me, if I go too far in saying, that I remain forever unfulfilled. "I had a son in General Taylor's army in have seen in my Mind what the Lord will do in his own Time: Antichrist will fall with all tirely different type. He, too, desires certa carry his whisky jug with a hole in the bot-tom and that's it. It is the best invention I like thine) shall arise out of its Ruins: for in wishing he had them, or in expatiating upon shine brighter and brighter unto the pe

I have been burdened with the Weig laden with Iniquity; his Hand hath bee is and will be stretched out against us, if wide not repent and turn unto him with all a Minds

Oh! Friends, I know by my many Yar that if you are faithful to reprove publi and privately, you shall suffer perseeu perhaps even among some of your own Wol hearted people; for all are not Israel tha in born of Israel, but continue you faithful Death, and you know who hath said he il give you a Crown of Life. I conclude, the peace of God reign in your heart: & you be stirr'd up to thankfulness to him your Spirit on my Account & may all heard you that evening (if he so will) r to praise him for ever. As to me, at a suit l Time, thy People shall be my People; I "Friend,-That love that thinketh no evil, live & die in their Communion, & am I am a great Debtor.

When you find Freedom in Prayer, rem ber your affectionate Friend W. N. F

Wishing and Willing.

Perhaps of all the familiar ways in wil Church, have been led to retire more inward, action, but a wish is of feebler material, to commune with mine own heart & be still. expends its force upon itself. There are so people whose very existence seems to be long series of wishes. They wish the sl were brighter and the air softer, and be wealthy and powerful, but fail to put fo From six years of age, I have tasted at energies necessary to become so; they we for all the various results of labor and effi-May it be so no more: many Times, like without performing the labor that would bri dustrious and economical, more prudent a He indeed renewed his Love to me that wise, more patient and self-controlled, me demns. The very expression which they gi I feel my Spirit melted while I write this, to this feeling feeds and nourishes it. The ma your Society. I joy in your joys, and should later to the painful conclusion that for son sorrow in your sorrows, did I know them.

On the other hand, he who wills is of an e the evening time it shall be light, & that shall the fact. He realizes that he has within hir at his drafts are always honored. He underands that in order to master any business must first master himself, and thus he ides the helm of his appetites and passions, tead of drifting with them. He counts the st of each projected enterprise, and takes ck of his abilities to carry it out. If he ds it to be beyond his power, he resigns it d ceases to wish for it, or at least to give erance to the wish. If, however, he demines upon it, it is with a firm resolve to complish it, which renders all wishing erfluous.

These two classes may be seen every day e by side. One business man wishes his de were larger, his accommodations were ter, his clerks more faithful or capable, his stomers more numerous or easily satisfied. often utters these wishes, and mingles m with complaints and regrets. Yet none these things seem to be materially altered.

continues wishing, and the sources of dissatisfaction remain. Another, in the ne circumstances, instead of pausing to sh for these changes, wills them ; that is, studies the cause which underlie his ubles, and proceeds prudently, but steadily, remove them. He sets in train measures culated to extend his business, to ensure elity from his employees, to regulate his exises, to quicken his sales. Whatever it be t he sees is desirable, he plans for and envors to carry out. If he finds it beyond parted. power, or for any reason, unadvisable, he misses it from his mind, knowing that idle bing is worse than useless. One mother I housekeeper wishes that her house were petter order or more tastefully arranged, t her servants were more competent and hful, that her children were more obedient I orderly, that she could exercise hospitalwithout nervous apprehensions, and find nd. She frets and complains, and longs better things, but they do not appear. other, taking a calm survey of the situation, Is that some of her desires are, at least for periments, brings all her penetration, her gment and her energy to bear upon the rk, and gradually conquers her difficulties realizes her desires.

of eourse, wishes as a whole are not to be rehended or crushed. They are at first ural and right, and, if used properly, will we a good purpose. They are suggestions, ther to be disregarded nor implicitly yed, but judged and sorted with discrimtion. Some are futile and impossible of atment, and need a speedy dismissal. Others mpt attention. But they should in any be transient guests. They have certain ssages to deliver, and their mission per-

[The following communication from a friend in Canada, we suppose to refer to the new Discipline adopted a year or two since, to which some of the members were so opposed that it led to a separation in their limits. The view advanced by the writer is undoubtedly eorrect-that all religious labor must spring from the movings of the Spirit of God, who only can qualify for service in his Church, and whose command must be waited for. Yet this principle is not inconsistent with the setting apart of a committee for attention to certain duties, as was practised in the primitive Church in the days of the Apostles, and has been in our own Society from very early times. When a religious meeting is gathered into a true waiting on the Lord, a concern may arise for the performance of some labor, and a sense may be given to some present of who it is that the Lord designs should be employed in its accomplishment. Such a meeting may set apart a committee with a measure of the same authority as the Church at Antioch, of the Lord and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away. So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, de-

We refer to this, not with the intention of weakening the force of our correspondent's article, but to guard against the danger to which some minds are exposed, of earrying their views to such an extreme, that in avoiding one error they fall into another .- Ep. 7

For "The Friend,"

Pastors and Pastoral Committees.

standing."-Jer. iii. 15.

present, extravagant and impossible, and Yearly Meeting of Friends) is at the present committee" to bring forward names of Friends ers reasonable and practicable. The former time. They were vainly endeavoring to wor-to constitute our Pastoral committee for the abandons at once, the latter she wills to ship God in a way that was not well pleasing ensuing year, it was proposed and after a free lieve. She studies causes, lays plans, tries in his sight. They had pastors or prophets expression of opinion united with, that the exnot sent these prophets, yet they ran; I have committee. not spoken to them, yet they prophesied." (Jer.

excessive and need pruning down. Others that the prophet speaks of, viz: "For my peoperation of them to Christ within them who would reasonable and right, and should receive ple have committed two evils; they have for lead them, as they yielded a willing obedience have heved them out cisterns, broken cisterns, nation into a state of justification; and that that can hold no water." (Jer. ii. 13.) The all might be encouraged to come to this perned, they should pass out of sight and out minute says, "Monthly Meetings are to ap- fect state, I would entreat them in the lanaind. It is the permanent, mental condition point committees annually, who shall be seguage of Isaiab, "Come ye and let us walk in vishing that we should guard against. It lected with special reference to their qualification the light of the Lord." ot only foolish in itself, but it enervates tions for pastoral labor." Page 33. A part of mind, enfeebles the powers and palsies their work shall be to endeavor to acquaint will. If reason justifies the wish, let it be themselves with the spiritual condition of those onee translated into will power, energy whom they visit.

Duty well per practical action. Nothing so thoroughly

Thus it appears we have "committed two perity will end.

fastock of unemployed forces, which from dispels an unwholesome reverie as a deter-evils;" first in not looking to our Father in ne to time he draws upon, and he takes eare mined purpose and vigorous activity. - Pub. Heaven, who, if He sees meet, will supply us with living water, or send us cisterns that are not broken, and who contain the water of Life fresh from the Fountain of living waters. The apostle says: "Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular: and God hath set some in the Church, first apostles secondly prophets, thirdly teachers," &c. (1st Cor. xii. 27-28), whom the text declares "shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. This could not those pastors do whose authority is derived solely from Monthly Meetings, and who run without that high and holy commission which they receive whom "God hath set in the Church.

Moses in his beautiful song speaking of Israel says: "So the Lord alone did lead him. and there was no strange god with him, (Deut. xxxii. 12;) and again he declares, "For the Lord's portion is his people; Jacob is the lot of his inheritance. He found him in a desert land, and in the waste howling wilderness; He led him about, He instructed him, He kept him as the apple of his eye." (Deut. xxxii. 9-10.)

These things were given for ensamples, which it is recorded: "As they ministered to that those who come after might take knowledge and walk accordingly, looking to Him who has ever been the leader of his people. I would that Friends might be concerned to examine for themselves and see if these things are not so; if as a Society we are not tending toward an hireling ministry, a man-made ministry, a paid ministry, which has ever been condemned by our forefathers in the truth. See Barclay, (prop. 10, sec. 7:) "What maketh or how cometh a man to be minister, pastor or teacher in the Church of Christ? We answer, by the inward power and virtue of the Spirit of God. This was the judgment of one of the supportors of ancient Quakerism; but we find a without nervous apprehensions, and find "And I will give you pastors according to mine great declension has taken place in the way e for the many duties that weigh upon her heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and under-pasters or teachers are appointed and maintained at the present time among us. In the This language was spoken to a backsliding minutes of the Yearly Meeting of Friends people, who were in a similar condition as held at Norwich, 1881, we find the following this branch of the eburch militant (Canada (page 15): After appointing a "nominating of their own appointment, who spake not the penses of the said committee should be paid, word of the Lord to the people, therefore God We find also that $127.58 in eash, and a valuwas grieved with them, and his anger was able diamond ring was contributed to the kindled against these pastors. This is the fund; this sum was placed in the hands of the word of the Lord concerning them, "I have Yearly Meeting's treasurer for the use of the Most truly do many Friends in Canada mourn over these departures from the truth. In reading the following minute from the and with sorrow behold their brethren going present Discipline of Friends in Canada to the back to that state of bondage out of which members, I thought how fully it tended to George Fox, by the light of the Spirit of truth, bring us into the same condition, as a people, was enabled to lead many in his day, and saken me the fountain of living waters, and to his teachings, out of all sin and condem-

JEREMIAH LAPP. Oakwood, Canada, 9th mo. 15th, 1882.

Duty well performed to parents in pros-

For "The Friend." A Prayer by George Fox.

The following, being part of a petition pleadingly put up by that great Reformer, George Fox, in 1671, is especially worthy the can intercede availingly on account of the worldliness and iniquity which so greatly abound, and those also who are the poor, guilty ones, whose irreligious course is calcudown that retributive justice, with the fearful we may have to give. woes and judgments which await, sooner or later, not only the individually wicked, but "all the nations that forget God."

"O Lord God Almighty! prosper Truth, and preserve justice and equity in the land! Bring down all injustice, iniquity, oppression, falsehood, cruelty and unmercifulness, that mercy and righteousness may flourish!

"O Lord! set up and establish verity, and preserve it in the land! Bring down all debauchery, vice, and the spirit which causeth and leadeth the people to have no esteem of thee, O'God! nor their own souls or bodies, nor of Christianity, modesty, or humanity!

"O Lord! put it in the magistrates' hearts to bring down all this ungodliness, violence, cruelty, profaneness, eursing and swearing and to put down all those playhouses, which corrupt youth and people, and lead them from thy kingdom, where no unclean thing can enter, neither shall come! Such works lead people to hell. Lord, in mercy bring down all these things in the nation, to stop thy Be still, all Flesh; before the Lord be still wrath, O God, from coming on the land!

For "The Friend."

It is to be feared that some Friends neglect the daily reading of the Bible in their families. It is a practice enjoined by Discipline, at least "frequently," and should not be neglected, even where there are none unable to read for themselves. A fitting opportunity is before the family leave the breakfast table, perhaps better than before retiring at night, as in the morning none are weary, and so unable to listen appreciatively. It is also an advantage feeling of the nature of the blessing thus asked to allow a little time after the reading for for.] reverent waiting on the Lord; silent service, if such be the Master's will, vocal if He call

Good-by, good-by! It is the sweetest blessing
That falls from mortal lips on mortal ear,

Although taken from the business of the day, I believe the time thus spent will not be lost, but if done in a right spirit, a blessing Why do we say it when the tears are starting will attend such seasons.

Often at our tables are those of a eareless life; it may be a easual visitor, or it may be hired help, whose hearts our Heavenly Father may see fit to reach by this means. The portion read need not be long; indeed, perhaps it is better short, that the mind may more readily grasp it, and that even the little ones may not be wearied. But let it be done reverently, with hearts lifted to Him without whose aid we can perform no acceptable ser-

Dear friends, any of you who are omitting this, will you think about it?

One of the most successful ways to impress men with the truth of the gospel is to live out the principles it teaches. This fact is fre-quently illustrated. A correspondent of the Christian of London, England, says: "A seeptical young German said, plead for your Christianity as eloquently as you like, but until I see you professing Christians live different lives from other men, I cannot believe in Christianity!" This is really a proper test. The Saviour says, "By their fruits ye shall know them," and if professing Christians do attention of all in this day-both those who not bring forth the fruits of righteousness, is it any wonder that others are made to doubt? This thought should impress every Christian with the importance of living what we profess. If some should be made to doubt through lated to provoke Divine displeasure, and call our unholy conduct, what a fearful account

> For "The Friend." BE STILL.

"Be still, and know that I am God." Be still, O Earth, thy many voices hush,

And lure me not into thy giddy way When thy tints fair but false before me flush, Then with deceitful lure thou'dst lead astray. Be still, O earth.

Be still, O Isles; and you ye restless waves That dash and break upon a shore of sand, Or lave the sullen rock, or in dark caves, With muttering thunder speak your dread command, Be still, ye waves.

Be still, O Sun; nor stars your radiance shed Till ye have heard his voice say, "I am God." Before ye were, He was. By his hand led, Ye first did climb the path ye since have trod. Sun, stars, be still.

Be still, ve Winds, nor chili the striving soul That breasts your storm and hears your roar and wail. 'still, small voice" within speaks of the goal When ye are passed, when ye no more assail. Be still, ye winds.

All lusts; all passions, all vain strivings cease. Hush, busy self, and let Him come and fill His temple with his quiet reign of peace. Be still, all flesh.

A. L. WASHBURN, Philada., 10th mo. 29th, 1882.

GOOD-BY.

[This is supposed to be an abbreviation of the old Saxon parting exclamation, "God be with yon!" The members of the Society of Friends have generally avoided the use of the expression, except in cases where it could be used with due reverence, and under some

The weakness of our human love confessing, The promise that a love more strong is near May God be with you!

Why must a word so sweet bring only pain our love seems all-sufficient till the parting, And then we find it impotent and vain. May God be with you!

O, may He guide, and bless, and keep you ever, He who is strong to battle with your foes Whoever fails, his love can fail you never, And all your need He in his wisdom knows. May God be with you!

Better than earthly presence e'en the dearest Is the great blessing that our partings bring; For in the loneliest moments God is nearest, And from our sorrows heavenly comforts spring, If God be with us!

Good-by, good-by! with latest breath we say it, Good-by, good-by! with latest breath we say A legacy of hope, and faith, and love; Parting must come, we cannot long delay it, But one in Him, we hope to meet ahove, If God be with us!

Good-by ! 'tis all we have for one another, Our love, more strong than death, is helpless still; For none can take the burden from his brother, Or shield, except by prayer, from any ill. May God be with you!

THE WAY-SIDE WELL.

BY WALTER LEARNED. He stopped at the way-side well

Where the water was cool and deep; There were feathery ferns 'twixt the mossy ste And gray was the old well-sweep.

He left his carriage alone Nor could coachman or footman tell Why the master stopped in the dusty road To drink at the way-side well.

He swayed with his gloved hands
The well-sweep creaking and slow,
While from seam and scar in the bucket's side The water plashed back below.

He lifted it to the curb. And bent down to the bucket's brim ; No furrows of time or care had marked The face that looked back at him.

He saw but a farmer's boy As he stooped o'er the brim to drink, And ruddy and tanned was the laughing face That met his over the brink.

The eyes were sunny and clear, And the brow undimmed by care While from under the brim of the old straw-h Strayed curls of chestnut hair.

He turned away with a sigh, Nor could coachman or footman tell Why the master stopped in his ride that day.
To drink at the way-side well.

-Good Comp

Elevation of Woman in Japan.

Wherever Christianity has gone, it ha vated woman in the social scale; and tl fluence of Christian nations in this resp more and more felt in other lands.

Japan illustrates this fact. Japanese gentleman of high rank, name Kuroda, was in the United States; and still he came in an official capacity to country. During his two brief visits her was so deeply impressed with the happy dition and the salutary influence of Ame women, that he inquired earefully into reasons of this state of things, and soo came satisfied that it was because we were highly educated, and treated with greatest respect and consideration, and a equals and companions and friends of m all the higher qualities of humanity.

The subject so impressed him, that thought and talked unecasingly about importance of educating the women of native land, and wrote to his governm letter on the subject. It urges the im ance of colonizing the wilder parts of J. and says that to send out ignorant men v be useless, and that therefore the first was to educate the women of the empire so the coming generation might be en ened. As children, in their earlier year wholly under the influence of mother urges that it is of the utmost importance the latter should be educated; for thu education of women would elevate the people of Japan. As the government had its young men to America and Europe educated, and was already reaping a ric turn, now he says is the time to begin to eate its women also; and he urges that a gation of girls be at once sent to Am believing that many others would follow the pathway of enlightenment thus of As the result, five Japanese girls were with the great embassy to Washington as the wife of the American Minister before them.

About the time of their sailing, the young in the same study. tado took occasion to set forth to his peo-the desirableness of educating females as ple?" "No sir," he answered, "but I can and will, He will guide us by his eye. kado took occasion to set forth to his peon statesmen who are awake to the fact that time you desire." future mothers are to mould and shape

In Japan, woman has always had a higher maticians of his years in our country. sition than among the neighboring nations Asia; and the disabilities under which they "If I can, I will."—New York Evangelist. ve labored has come, to a great extent, m the influence of Chinese literature and ifference between victory and defeat in all who died on the cross, and tasted death as an chair and all in my arms, to pluck her from he great conflicts of life.

er her charge on the journey from Jeddo following day he came into my room to de la walk in the light.—Western Friend. Washington. Before leaving home, they monstrate his problems. Two of them he re summoned to Jeddo, and in testimony understood, but the third-a very difficult he approbation and good will of the Mika-one—he had not performed. I said to him. The following thrilling tale, related by Dr. they were, according to an ancient custom, "Shall I help you?" "No sir," he answered, Guthrie, the eloquent Scottish preacher and

Il as males; and his address would rank will do it if you will give me a little more ll with the views of our advanced Christime." "Certainly; you shall have all the widow, as paralysis made it impossible for character of the future nation. He said do their own work, for they make our best flax-mill in the neighborhood, toiled hard, this country was undergoing a great scholars, and men, too. Again Simon entered and contented herself with plain dress and inge from old to new ideas; and that the my room; I knew he had it, for his whole simple fare, that she might help to maintain se and strong-minded should endeavor to face told the story of his success. Yes, he her mother. Before leaving the cottage for good guides to the government and people; had it, notwithstanding it had cost him many her work, she was in the habit of heaping up t the young, both boys and girls, should hours of the severest mental labor. Not only the refuse of the mill in the grate, and kindling allowed to go abroad, that the country had he solved the problem, but what was of it. She placed her helpless mother in a chair ght be benefitted by the knowledge they infinitely greater importance to him, be had right before the fire, and as this fuel burned ght acquire; and that females, if educated begun to develop mathematical powers which, slowly away the old woman was kept comlintelligent, should and would be respected, under the inspiration of "I can and I will," fortable till her return have a position hitherto unknown, and so he has continued to cultivate, until to-day he great things for the welfare of families and is professor of mathematics in one of our and skirting on the walls of the old churchlargest colleges, and one of the ablest mathe- yard, and passing the corn-mill, with its busy cluded in the list, and that they ruled long to warn early Friends that the Spirit which ling the door a sight met my eyes that for id most wisely. It was under the rule of would lead them away from this inward prin- the moment nailed me to the spot. rempress, he says, that Japan conquered ciple was a spirit of separation, and that they which country she held for over 600 who taught contrary to the original teachings been built from the hearth some feet up the were separatists. When we find that minis chimney, having its foundation eaten away, the embassy, these Japanese girls were him three examples for his next lesson. The in the light, so that the walk of faith will be sented with beautiful specimens of crimson that I can and will do it, if you will give me writer, illustrates the guidance of Providence upe, and an order was issued that all their a little more time." I said, "I will give you in a most noticeable degree. May it teach penses in America should be paid by the all the time you wish." The next day he us to give heed to the connsel of the still came into my room to recite another lesson small voice, remembering that as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the

The Circle of Fire.

> "I was in the habit of visiting an aged her to attend church. She was tended by a I like these boys who are determined to very dutiful daughter, who, working at a

"It happened one day that I left my manse. sound and flashing wheel, I took my way My young friends, let your motto ever be, down the winding dell to the cottage of the old woman, which stood in its garden, embowered among trees. But having met a The Society of Friends were gathered to parishioner, with whom I had some subject ample, which have been introduced into, the principle of the inward manifestation of of interest to talk about, I made a halt; and d affected, the country. But in former the Spirit. This was that in which their sitting down on a bank of thyme, we entered nes it was not so. A high Japanese au unity, as a people consisted. In the efforts into conversation. Ere the subject was half ority says, that from the earliest dawn of to restore the Society to unity in the diffier exhausted, the widow rose to my recollection, panese history, women always enjoyed equal culty on account of Wilkinson and Story, I felt somehow that I must cut it short, and this with men, and that though abuses the spiritually minded early Friends exhorted hasten away on my visit. But the idea was we crept in through Chinese teaching and all to seek to know the rule and dominion of dismissed, and the conversation went on ample, womanhood has never been de the Spirit in their own hearts, as they had However, it occurred again and again, till, aded in Japan. And in proof of his asser-known it at their convincement: this they with a feeling that I was neglecting a call of ons, he states the fact, that out of 124 sov-taught would again bring them into unity, duty, as by an uncontrollable impulse I rose to eigns, rulers of Japan, eight empresses are. The founders of the Society did not he state my feet and made haste to the cottage. Open-npire attained high literary culture, and reters who travel as such, now deny the printad fallen, and precipitating itself forward, ton was inculcated and respected, and facili-s for general education were greatly in-consisted is it any marvel that the Society of a circle of fire. The accident took place some eased and improved. He says that Japan Friends is to-day in fragments? For the minutes before I entered. She had cried out, as prospered under eight such reigns, and faith, which was the fruit of the Spirit, which but no ear was there to hear, nor hand to lat, confirmed by the experience of the was raised by, and stood in the life, light and help. Catching the loose refuse about her. estern nations, she will not hestitate to en power of God, as it was inwardly manifested, on and on nearer and nearer, the flames ree among all classes, the respect and con-another faith has been substituted, which is a crept. It was a terrible sight for the two deration for women which has never been faith or belief which is only a natural faculty, Wigtown women—martyrs, staked far out in anting about her court, and among her bet-gramilies. "Thus," he adds, "may Japan a rational human conception of the literal foam crawl nearer and nearer them; it was ope to insure the stability of her civilization, promises of the Scriptures. . . . On the basis more terrible still for this poor woman in her nd regain her early chivalry, and by enlist of this cheap, blind human faith, the whole systone cottage, without any great cause to die g the assistance of educated mothers and tem of doctrine which starts with "instantane- for, to sit there and see the fire creeping aughters, secure a noble future."—National ous conversion," and ends with "instantaneous closer, drawing nearer and nearer to her feet.

aptist. We long By the time I had entered, it had almost to see a movement of all who bear the name of reached her, where she sat motionless, speech-I Can And I Will .- How many boys there Friends, away from both extremes, back to less, pale as death, looking down on the fire re who can, but never do, because they have the old principles of Friends, back to the old as it was about to seize her clothes and burn o will power, or if they have, do not use it! unity, where all Friends minded the same her to a cinder. Ere it caught I had time, the difference between "Give up," and "I thing; back to the old doctrine of the invard and no more, to make one bound from the un't," and "I can and I will," is just the light, as a precious gift of the Son of God, door to the hearth-stone, and seizing her.

atonement for every man. Standing on this the jaws of a cruel, fiery death I know a boy who was preparing to enter old foundation, Friends will again be one "By what law of nature, when I lingered he junior class of the New York University, people. The faith will be a faith which stands on the road, was I moved, without the release studying trigonometry, and I gavel in the power of God. The workers will walk motest idea of her danger, to cut short, against tion, and hurry on to the house, which I friends and acquaintances; she was also once the blessing of God; and it cannot have reached just in the nick of time ?—one or two at meeting. Divers of her visits are said to blessing of God unless it is founded and minutes later, the flames had eaught her have been remarkable seasons, satisfactory to in righteousness .- Nat. Bapt. clothes, and I had found her in a blaze of the visited and relieving to herself. fire. Be it mine to live and die in the belief of a present and presiding, as well as a per-she said, she believed her work was now sonal God; in the faith which inspired my done. Shortly after this, just twenty days aged friend to thank Him for her wonderful from her parting with Christopher, she was deliverance, and the boy to explain his calm suddenly and quietly released from the body courage on the roaring deep, in these grand and gathered to the just of all generations, but simple words, 'My Father is at the helm.' —Guiding Hand.

Last Interview of Christopher Healy and Ruth Elv.

At the close of Bucks Quarterly Meeting, held 26th of 2nd month, 1851, Christopher Healy went to see his old friend and fellow months, he also was permitted to enter into mously, refusing to support any legisla laborer and travailer for the prosperity of the joy of his Lord. Divine Mercy sustained candidates not in sympathy with the Zion, Ruth Ely.

She had long been confined to the house. but though absent in body from the assemblies of the Lord's people, and debarred by treading the dark valley. The tempter, the ac-organization has been formed among the situation from much of the company of her valued friends, she was often present in spirit be to God, who giveth the victory through Gipsies has been engaged in successful et with them, and partook in measure of their our Lord Jesus Christ. earnest concern and exercise, that the testimony of Truth might be supported and primitive principles and primitive practices maintained in all their purity and brightness.

The visit was very satisfactory to the two aged friends, who standing on the borders of stones of the foundation and the gold which the grave, in which they were about to de. adorned it; and when the Master said: "There scend, could commemorate the Lord's mercy in time past, and could rejoice in feeling and shall not be thrown down," it was as if he had neatly and plainly dressed in black, and w knowing that they had not been following cunningly devised fables, but living and eternal truth. They felt that their own work was nearly accomplished, and they were permitted to rejoice in perceiving the spiritual greenness of each other.

When the time for parting came, Christopher took hold of Ruth's hand, shook it cordially, and looking at her very pleasantly, said, "Farewell! Ruth, Farewell! We may meet again in mutability, and we may not. Ruth, then as an answer to the implied possibility of their again meeting, said, "It is lively with me to tell thee what passed between two dear friends at their last interview. One said, we may meet again in mutability. The other answered, 'No, when thou comest ashes. this way again, I shall be in Heaven.' " Ruth added, "I thought I must get out again, but awing Europe, who dreamed that before the I am now waiting"-evidently meaning she was waiting for her release. At this Christopher paused awhile, and passed between a Presbyterian minister and one of his hearers, who told him, she was in a waiting state. 'There is no waiting state remains for me to do." Christopher's wife then coming into the room, Ruth said, "This has been a very satisfactory visit to me. The unity that has been between us is not to claim him Infallible, who either hoped or feared be broken. Neither heights nor depths, nor anything in this world can break the unity crowning of the King of Free Italy in Rome? that is between us.

flowing of gospel love and fellowship. Ruth very hour when they seemed most solid, they posed surface develop disease. soon found herself a little stronger than she have been under the curse of God; and the very soon found herself a little stronger than she have been under the curse of God; and the very had been for some time previously, and she steps by which men hoped to sustain them Interests in California.—There is a very bitte ventured out short distances from home, as have proved their ruin.

all my inclinations, an interesting conversa-she felt her mind drawn to visit some of her

"On returning from the last of these visits, who have finished their allotted portion of service and suffering on earth. Her death been reached after a prolonged and exhaus took place 3rd mo. 18th, and the next time examination of the whole subject—the Christopher "came that way" was to attend clusion reached being, the best interests of her funeral. She was then in Heaven, baving gained the crown before him; but he did not tarry long behind her. In less than two Harrisburg adopted a resolution almost un him in his siekness and in his closing hours, hibitory movement. so that death had no sting, and the grave no victory. Peace was his daily portion whilst been won over to Christianity; and a l cuser of the brethren, stood rebuked. Thanks which under the name of the Conve as to all Jews, the temple seemed the very extreme of splendor and permanence. gazed with admiration and awe on the great adorned it; and when the Master said: "There appearance indicates deep piety, modes shall not be left one stone upon another that humility and intelligence. They were foretold the falling of the arched heavens. A black straw hats, or bonnets, with a pl few years passed; and the prophecy was dismally fulfilled, amid fire and blood. The temple, which had been the scene of hypoerisy, hatred, and fraud; the temple, which had been of Louisville, Ky., refused to permit any made the occasion of false swearing against the the women advocates of temperance to spe innocent; the temple, whose walls had eehoed from his pulpit during a convention in t to the cry, "Crucify Him!" the temple had city; not, he says, that he is opposed to te the frown of God upon it; it could not stand;

How often in all ages have men looked on ing it a sin for them to do so. some structure, and wondered and admired, because of its outward splendor; and they have not known that God's voice has gone out against it; they have imagined that it was for all time; but presently it has erumbled to animals suffering from tubercular disease

When Louis XIV. was in his pride, overclose of the century, his descendants would be is more frequent in Bengal than in many oth on the scaffold and that the remains of "Louis places. Of 280 cases admitted to the Medic the Great" would be dragged out of their restthen said, "I must say what I once heard ing-place by the hands of the mob, and be tossed recovered. It is often produced by exposi about in ghastly sport? Later, in 1810, when and debility as well as by mechanical injuri Napoleon was surrounded by attendant kings Ruth received the admonition couched in pense shillings, who dreamed of Waterloo and the anecdote, and sweetly, yet with much St. Helena? And when his (so-called) nephew cases, led to the appointment of remains for me to do." Christopharia and consolidated his reign by victoria and the appointment of the appointment as other monarchs are surrounded by courtiers, diplomacy, by colisting the Pope, by the Plebiscite, who would have predicted Sedan? And when Pope Pius IX. called a council to prothe overthrow of the temporal power and the

Thus these aged friends parted in the over spring of selfishness, offensive to God. In the in hospitals, and which settling on the a

In fact, nothing is permanent, unless i

Religious Items, &c.

The First-day.—The proprietors of Bessemer Steel Works of Pittsburg, ordered the discontinuance of all form work on First-day, in every department their great establishment. This decision concerned required the honoring of the Prohibition.-The Presbyterian Synor

Gipsies .- Some of the English Gipsies 1 gelistic work in the south of England.

Women Preachers.-The Earnest Christ The Temple Thrown Down .- To the disciples, the organ of the Free Methodists, in spe ing of the Canada Conference says: " They peculiar feature of the work is the large n ber of sisters employed on the circuits. were thus sent out this year as supplies. The black ribbon around it.

As a contrast with the action of the F Methodists, the Ledger says, that Dr. Eat perance, which he is not, but because he bitterly opposed to women preaching, this

For " The Friend

Natural History, Science, &c.

Consumption .- It is stated that the milk capable of transmitting it to previously healt human beings .- Lancet.

Tetanus or Lockjaw in Bengal,-This diser College Hospital in Calcutta in ten years, Lancet.

Blood Poisoning of Wounds .- The numb cases, led to the appointment of a committ to consider what steps could be taken to in prove the health of the institution. The report in the Australian Medical Journal 1 commends the thorough adoption and use the system of treating every wound with ca bolic acid or other material, which has th power of destroying those germs of micr So of many a political and social system, off-scopic forms of life which are often abundar feeling among the miners toward the farmin

he washings of the miners, which is now lic mining goes on in the old way, navihe collection of fir-cones is quite an indus-in Puyallup county, W. T. The cones ope. The price is from $5 to $8 per to West India.

rests in the valleys which are endeavor. Spain at all, but came to Southern Europe pear from the claw mark that the lion's left dried in furnaces till the seeds fall out, that it was accepted by the Government in kills by bite.—London Field. n they are packed up and sold for export. payment of taxes. It formed a staple article ge quantities of this seed are planted in of diet, and appeared, from the frequency with the skin cannot be over-rated. It is invaluwhich it is found buried with the dead, to have able to persons of both sexes and all ages, in had some religious association in the minds all countries, in all climates, at every season of tants Used for Food.—In a lecture on this of the natives. To this day it is much used the year, for the sick and the well; in brief, I ect delivered at Fairmount Park, Prof. by the Mexicans and the other races of the cannot conceive of any circumstances in which rack says: "Comparing the frigid zones Pacific coast, especially in crossing deserts, or flannel next the skin is not a comfort and a the torrid, one might say that, whilst where a wholesome, nutritions diet is required source of health. It should not be changed of Alaska, we find that the lichens enor-lative propoderate in individuals and all, shot, we fired, when one mare dropped. Re-during the day. But the same flannel should in large enough, may be made to support loading and mounting, we started after the not be worn both day and night. that is, all contain starch, and many troop, which had now disappeared over a ridge. On gaining the rise we saw the quag-be common brake, Pteris Aquilina, which gas commencing to ascend a second slope. Lord, that when antichrist's kingdom is combeen used by the poorer classes to make behind a few scattered boulders and low bushes membered with wonder that ever they could do bread from. The banana and plandotting the slope, evidently with the intention have a place among professed Christians.—resemble each other so greatly that they of securing his supper. We moved slowly J. Scott. been regarded as the same species. There forward, when the hindmost quagga, thinkais difference, however, the plantain is ing we were getting too close, started after cooked, but the banana is not. These his companions at a smart canter. It was s have been so long in cultivation that now exciting. The quagga was close to the nativity is unknown. From the fact line of the lion's approach; a couple of seconds the only place on earth where they have more and the dark mass of the lion's form known to seed habitually is the An-shot out from behind a stone on his prey. In ket. No plant furnishes so large a return riding nearer he turned and faced, looking the countenance of a Friend. he soil covered as this. Take wheat as rather put out at our appearing on the scene. There is something animat to prevent the filling up of the streams originally from China. The Spanish chestnut forearm was thrown over the wither and the is used, not so much as a luxury in Southern claws fixed in the shoulder, the right foreg on at a rapid rate. It is said that 60, Europe as a food, where it is eaten roasted, arm's claws in the chest, the left hind claws onbic yards of debris are daily deposited made into a bread or into a sort of porridge, had been driven into the flank a little below abariver. The matter is far more per There was an immense range in the character the level of the hip-bone, the right hind foot ing than the Chinese question, and vast of chestnuts, only the finer qualities from se-evidently on the ground, thus holding the rests are at stake on both sides. If hy-lected groves commanding the highest prices, animal as if in a vise, while the teeth had met Among the other plants alluded to was the in the neck about three inches or four inches e streams will be made useless for such Salvia Columbariae, from our southwestern behind the ears, smashing the bone as effectuoses, and a large area of productive val-coast, where it is called Chia. It is remark-ally as a two-ounce bullet. My two front and destroyed. If mining industries are able to find a plant belonging to the mint fingers met in the bite-hole. Death was insted, large sums invested in these mines family which possesses the properties this stantaneous. The lion was a full grown male, be as good as wiped out. This question Chia does. In general appearance the seed, with perfect teeth. From all testimony that cely to come before the courts for settle- when whole or when crushed, is suggestive I could gather from old hunters during sevenof flaxseed in size, color and mucilaginous teen years' residence in the Transvaal, and properties. So highly was this plant valued my own limited observation, I would say that by the native Mexicans prior to the conquest the lion uses his claws as a holding power and ber of species of plants, yet of these an How the King of Beasts Kills his Prey.—I weather of the summer, which in our Northmous percentage could be used in some once had a rare chance of seeing a lion eatch ern States is not much before the middle of e for food. The equatorial regions, with and kill his prey in the open daylight. While 6th month, and often not before the first of omense wealth of specific forms, contained on a short hunt to the north of Waterberg, in 7th month. And the flannels for the summer ge percentage of poisonous plants, and, the Transvaal, in the winter of 1874, with a must not be three-quarters cotton, but they ed, the same plant often contained both a Dutch Boer, we saddled up one afternoon to must be all woollen, if you would have the on and a food, of which the Cassava or shoot a couple of quaggas (Burchell's zebra) best protection. Invalids and delicate per-Manihot furnishes an illustration, the for our followers. We had ridden a consider sons often take cold by omitting to wear being poisonous and the starch (tapioca) able round without falling in with any, but flannel during the night. With the ordinary ient. Taking even the flowerless vegeta- about an hour before sundown we came across night-dress there should also be used a flan-

Our Flannels .- The value of flannel next former had a meagre representation in which is light and portable.

I have seen, I believe, in the light of the vs there abundantly (as it does almost Cantering on, my companion suddenly pulled pletely overthrown, preaching up war, and ywhere else,) contains starch enough in up and pointed out to me a lion trotting making a trade of preaching to get money oots to sustain life, and, even in England, swiftly up across the quaggas' line of retreat by, will both be utterly abolished, and re-

THE FRIEND.

ELEVENTH MONTH 18, 1882.

A friend has favored us with the perusal an Islands, it is supposed that they orial a moment the quagga was on the ground of a letter which he recently received from ted there, but the conclusion, being inthe lion left him instantly, moved a few yards one who had been convinced of the blessed until only, may be wrong. The banana distant and lay down with his head away from efficacy of the Light of Christ—which Will agarded only as a luxury. We should also the quagga, twitching his tail nervously from liam. Penn speaks of as God's gift for man's with at it is nutrient enough and cheap side to side. The whole thing was done so salvation—though not joined in outward comgb to figure largely as solid food. In quickly and suddenly that it is difficult to demunion with our Society. He resides in a land banana flour is often found in the scribe. The lion had not yet seen us, but distant territory, where he very seldom sees

There is something animating and cheering oportion of 33, potatoes at 99; for the At first he seemed inclined to bolt, but at last in the language of this lonely professor of the e area, the yield of bananas would be lay down facing us, evidently unwilling to truth. "I can say that I have nothing dearer." The lecturer than exhibited hand The lecturer then exhibited bread give up his game. Being anxious to examine and nothing more delightful than to bear from Xicaragua. It is native to the quagga, and knowing my Boer friend to testimony to and exalt the all-sufficient Light which Islands, but has been brought by be reliable, we rode up to about fifty yards of our Redeemer which is a perfect antidote British Government to the West India and dismounted. I held the horses, keeping against all sin and darkness, and causes us to ods, and thence it has spread to the adja- my double rifle in reserve in case of accident. have remission of sin through the blood of regions. The mission of the ship Bounty.

The lion, not liking the look of things, got up the Lamb.

The mission of the ship Bounty.

The lion, not liking the look of things, got up the Lamb.

The worderfully has not the divine Light was to bring the bread fruit plant and savagely. I told the Boer to shoot straight, and Spirit been laboring during these 35 which he did, and dropped the lion on the years with me! O how vain I was, how vain spanish chestnut" was not a native of spot. On examining the quagga it would ap my love, and I would have gone astray to perdition if my Saviour's holy Light had not restrained me. Everything round me was darkness, and seemed to be an impenetrable barrier against the Light which shone in darkness-but the darkness could not overcome the Light. What a war arose in my poor heart between Light and darkness! and when obedient to the Light, my friends that called themselves Christians scorned me for building [as they said] on my natural feelings and conscience.

"I don't care for the favor of men, or if I am looked upon as a fool for my Master's cause. The disciple must go the same way as his Master, and be baptised with his Master's baptism, and drink his Master's cup, and live by the bread of Heaven.

A friend having sent him some Friends books, among which was the Journal of William Evans, he thus refers to them-" When I read about such people that have been brought up among God's people, I can say that I was raised in the Egyptian darkness. The priests, the blind leaders of the people, did be the worst of the peoples, and did not seem to think otherwise than post morten nulla voluptas.

Ede, bibi, ludi

[Eat, drink and play. After death there is no plea-through experiences similar to his own, he has a strong testimony to bear against willworship, and was greatly grieved by meeting with one whom he calls "a fast Quaker or bogns Quaker"-probably one of those who have lost faith in silent worship, and who did not agree with him in belief as to "our inability to worship God in our own will and

The raising up by the immediate operation of Divine Grace of such witnesses to the Lord's power and teaching, and to the preserving efficacy of his Light and Spirit, ought to give fresh courage to those who are endeavoring to advocate the precious doctrines of the Gospel; and to increase their hope and confidence that the Lord in his own time and way will yet cause his truth to spread in the earth, and that He will bless the labors of his faithful servants.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES .- The result of the elections held on the 7th instant, in a large majority of cases was favorable to the Democratic candidates. The success Republicans were mostly elected by reduced majorities. Grover Cleveland, Democrat, was elected Governor of New York by a majority of over 196,000; the largest that any officer in this country has ever received. F. Butler, Democrat, was elected Governor of Massachusetts by a plurality of over 13,000. Robert E. Pattison, Democrat, was elected Governor of Pennsylvania by a plurality of about 38,723. Governor St. John, Republican, of Kansas, was defeated by a small vote, while the rest of the Republican ticket in that State was snecessful.

The construction of railway main track in the United States during 10th month, as reported by the Railway Age, shows an aggregate of 1068 miles, and for the ten months of this year 9143 miles of new line.

During the year ending 9th mo. 1st, 1882, 827,281 barrels of ale and beer were produced in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, an increase of 90,000 barrels constables, kept him in view from the other side of the on the production of last year. Cincinnati's product street. The party had nearly reached the Club House, was 769,621 barrels, an increase of 64 per cent, in seven when a man having the appearance of an artisan pushed

The corn crop report of the Department of Agriculmonth estimate.

A bar of gold was recently east in Nevada City, Cal., attracting his attention. When opposite the Club House, which weighed 450 pounds, and is said to be the largest the man crossed the street and turned to meet it ever cast in this country.

Lawson. McDonnell, who meanwhile, had notice The annual report of the Baltimore and Ohio Bail-be presented at the stockholders' meeting 11th mo. 20th, shows the grass receipts to have been over $18,000,000.

The building, Nos. 243 and 245 Pearl street, New York, occupied by several parties, was burned on the 8th inst. through an explosion in the paint and oil His name is Patrick Delaney. He is a returned store of 11sley, Doubleday & Co., on the ground floor, vict, who is 1870 was sentenced to servitude for rol The total loss is estimated at upwards of $30,000. One young man perished in the building. It is supposed hat the explosion was caused by a spark from an electric light wire coming in contact with a quantity of

By acts of their Legislatures the waters of Long Island Sound have been divided between the States of New York and Connecticut for the purpose of determining fishing rights and possible questions of jurisdic-tion. Judge Nelson, of the U.S. Court in New York. however, has rendered a decision that "Long Island Sound is a part of the Atlantic Ocean, and its navigation is not governed by the provisions of the act regulating inland waters." Should this decision be sustained, neither New York nor Connecticut can exercise proprietary rights in the Sound fisheries Professor Brooks, of the Red House Observatory, at Phelps, New York, reports the "observance" on Secondday morning, the 13th inst., of the grandest auroral display seen for many years. "A vast, brilliant arch illuminated the landscape equal to the light of the moon in her first quarter, followed by immense streams and waves of light projected with startling velocity from the horizon to the zenith. Great meteorological dis-turbances may be expected."

There were 323 deaths in this city last week, a de Like our early Friends, who were brought crease of 35 from the previous week and 36 less than the corresponding period of last year. Of the whole number, 156 were males and 167 females: 56 died of consumption; 27 of diphtheria; 17 of croup; 17 of old age; 14 from typhoid fever; 13 from pneumonia, and from Bright's disease of the kidneys.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3's, 102\(\frac{1}{3}\); 3\(\frac{1}{3}\)'s, 102\(\frac{1}{4}\)'s, regisered, 112\(\frac{1}{3}\); coupon, 113\(\frac{1}{3}\); 4's, 119\(\frac{1}{2}\); currency 6's, 123. Cotton.—There was no essential change to notice in price or demand. Sales of middlings are reported at 103 a 11 cts, per pound for uplands and New Orleans. Petroleum.—Standard white, 83 cts. for export, and cts, per gallon for home use,

Floor is in limited request and favors buyers. Sales of 2000 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $5.75 a carries a number of sheep for acclimatization, a $6.25; Pennsylvania family at $4.75 a $5; western do, selection of European cereals. Stanley has gone to

Grain.-Wheat was dull and unsettled. 3700 bushels red, in car lots at $1.04 a $1.12. Rye is to-day doing great damage. nominally quoted at 71 a 73 cts per bushel. Corn is dull and prices are easier. Sales of 8900 bushels in car on 11th mo. 29th. lots, at 84 a 86 cts. Oats are in fair request and firm. Sales of 9500 bushels, in car lots, at 42 a 47 cts

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 11th mo. 11th, 1882.- Loads of hay, 298; loads of straw, 62. Average price during the week-Prime timothy, $1 to month 31st, 153,055 immigrants arrived in Canad $1.10 per 100 pounds; mixed, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 1.00 whom $2,482 remained in the Dominion. This head arrived and sold at the different yards at 31 a 63 Mountains. ets. per lb., the latter rate for extra.

Sheep were unsettled: 13,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards, at 21 a 6 cts., and lambs at 4 a 7 ets. per pound, as to condition.

sold at the different yards at 9½ a 11 cts. per lb., the latter rate for extra Chicago.

Foreign.-Dublin, 11th mo. 12th.-Judge Lawson evidently had a narrow escape from assassination last evening. Since his appointment as one of the Judges under the Prevention of Crimes Act, and especially since the severe newspaper comments upon him, he has never gone out without police protection. He has re-ceived a large number of threatening letters, and, it is alleged, has been sentenced to death by a secret tribunal. He was walking last evening on Merion street, followed at the distance of a few yards by two constables, while two army pensioners, who were engaged to assist the constables, kept him in view from the other side of the against Corporal McDonnell, one of the pensioners, in endeavoring to pass him somewhat hastily, and said, in a confidential manner, "It is all right." McDonnel! ture for 11th month, indicates a total crop of 1,650,000,-000 bushels, or about 30,000,000 bushels below the 10th thought there was something suspicious in the man's manner, and walked as near him as possible without butt of a revolver protruding from an inner poc the man's coat, rushed after him, loudly proclai road for the fiscal year ending 9th mo, 30th, which will his discovery and, knocking him down, obtaine revolver after a struggle, in which McDonnel rec. a cut on the hand. On the way to the station prisoner endeavored to get rid of a dozen cartri and attempted murder. As the revolver found or laney is an expensive one, the police believe that i supplied to him, as his circumstances would not pe him to bny such a costly article.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal says, Gladstone

yet has declared so clearly his opinion as to the r sity for home rule in Ireland as he did in the Hou Commons on the night of the 8th inst. The w Kingdom will recognize that the cause of Home has been distinctly advanced by his speech. The returns issued by the Board of Trade show during the month just passed, British imports incre £2,800,000, as compared with that month in last while the exports decreased £363,000, as compared 10th mo, 1881.

A despatch from Derby reports that the explosi the Claycross colliery 11th mo. 7th, caused the k 43 lives, including those of injured workmen who since died. Vegetarianism is rapidly making progress in land. The temperance people are aiding it, and tarian dining rooms are being opened in the laws against the Socialists will probably not be reta Prince Bismarck is opposed to them, as he doe think they have proved efficient. Traders from the Sondan report that El Obeid, w

A despatch from Berlin to the Daily News says:

the false prophet had been besieging, has been reli-A despatch to the Daily News from Cairo says: Commission of inquiry preliminary to the trial of A Pasha has repudiated the forms of procedure ag upon between Arabi's counsel and the prosecu The Commission now insists that witnesses canno cross-examined directly, and that the trial mu-finished by Christmas. Connsel have protested.

Henry M. Stanley's steamer, Harkaway, left Ant on the 12th inst. for the Congo river, laden with an assortment of goods as will enable him to esta a solid trade with the native kings. The steamer at $5.25 a $5.75, and patents at $6.40 a $7.50. Rye to recruit his health. He will return to Africa ear flour is firm at $4.25 a $4.37\frac{1}{2} per barrel.

Manilla, 11th mo. 8th .- A typhoon passed over Forty-eight deaths occurred in Mecca from che

The Minister of Public Works of Mexico has is a circular "encouraging silk growing throughout Republic.

It is stated that, during the present year, up to pounds; straw, 80 to 90 cts. per 100 pounds.

Beef cattle closed dull and unsettled, About 3500 United States border between Emerson and the Re

> FRIENDS' BOARDING SCHOOL, BARNE VILLE, OHIO.

Wanted a Superintendent and Matron to take ch Hogs were a fraction lower: 6000 head arrived and of this Institution at the close of the present wi term. Friends of Ohio Yearly Meeting, who may drawn to the service, are requested to communi with Aaron Frame, or Asa Garretson, Barnesville, mont county, Ohio.

> FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelph Physician and Superintendent-John C. Hall; N Applications for the Admission of Patients ma made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Boar

DIED, on the 16th of 12th mo, 1881, PRESBURY W in the 67th year of his age, an esteemed member minister of Sandwich Monthly Meeting, Mass. was an unassuming man who loved retirement. was quiet and peaceful in his last illness, and seet as one waiting for his Lord, saying, "My spirit r in the arms of my dear Redeemer.

> WILLIAM H. PILE, PRINTER. No. 422 Walnut Street.

FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, ELEVENTH MONTH 25, 1882.

NO. 16.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

ptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend,"

Ancient Testimonies and Advices.

DER COUNSEL AND ENCOURAGEMENT TO

areful to act therein in the wisdom of God: reby they will be exemplary to the young; your own lasting advantage. may be esteemed members thereof, and uch meetings, through the same spirit, received."-1763.

n they are gone."-1722.

ever rewarded them with serenity of mind, reality of enduring substance for the flatterand the enjoyment of that peace, 'which is ing delusion of transitory enjoyments."-1768. nind the chipyment of the charged in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged the city of God. Let not the annusements, are sensible of the visitation from on high, the gaieties, and other delusive follies, which and have tasted the power of its love, suffer too many earnestly pursue, take up your nothing to draw you from it. 'See that ye minds, and thereby prevent your offering the refuse not Him that speaketh; for if they early tribute of love and obedience, so justly escaped not who refused Him that spake on due to the Author of your being, and the earth, much more shall not we escape, if we fountain of every blessing."—1762.

many places, have embraced the renewed of your Reedeemer. Esteem his reproofs have, in degree, entered into covenant with before all its enjoyments; for these will soon THE YOUR.

We recommend, that such Friends as are repreded in the affairs of the church, in the body, and fill up the various of it. Enter it in the days of your youth, and fill up the various of it. Enter it in the days of your youth, nd the same. And as such young per that a constant care be upon all your minds, understanding of the carnal mind. Great is the are found to be qualified with a real to press after the power and virtue of that advantage you possess above those in more to remembrance the examples of Joseph, followers, but that they may tread in the heart.' 2 Tim. ii. 22 es, Samuel, and many other instances of footsteps of the flock of his companions, bey piety; consider the preservation they come servants to God, and have their fruit experienced the work of Truth begun, and in I stand the servery trial, and unto boliness, that their end may be ever measure carried on in your hearts, to whom nature of that dignity wherewith their lasting life."

untain of every blessing."—1762. "Dear young people, as some of you, in heaven." This inward speaker is the Spirit visitations of Divine love in your hearts, and above the world's caresses, and prize his cross your Creator; strong is the engagement we terminate in disappointment and sorrow, but feel for your preservation and advancement that will lead to enduring substance. The stations in the church, to its edification and and whether you reach to old age or not, as you steadily persevere therein, you will have "And the youth in general we entreat; cause to rejoice in that peace which passeth the of Truth on their spirits, and subjection heavenly principle, in the profession whereof advanced years, who have long suffered them-to, and thereby are made capable to come most of you have had your education. If selves to be ensuared into negligence and deo a service in their respective meetings; you keep your places therein, it will preserve lays, and who being again mercifully awakened nds are desired to encourage and bring you; but if through disobedience we depart to behold their danger, deeply deplore the a forward therein; whereby they may be therefrom, ye forsake your own mercies, and loss they have sustained, and the difficulty ful to the ancients, and brought up in a others will take your crown. Remember the they find in their return, from the many en-of righteousness, to walk and act to the children of Abraham, by deviating from the tanglements and inconveniences their former se of God's holy name; and standing in steps of their fathers, lost the privileges and remissness hath subjected them to. Improve r lot, will supply the place of the elders blessings they would otherwise no doubt have the precious opportunity put into your hands. Seek the Lord while He is to be found : call "We affectionately request the youth upon Him while He is near.' It will be We carnestly entreat our young Friends, amongst us, who are favored with pious and highly beneficial to you, and contribute much all readiness of mind to receive and give exemplary parents, to pay all dutiful regard to your strength and consolation, if you eme to the labor of love and wholesome to their instruction and example, and that ploy that time in attending upon God, and onitions bestowed upon them by their they be very cautious of bringing grief and seeking to advance in Divine life and virtue, onts or others, for their benefit and in-dishonor upon them by departing from the which so many of our fellow creatures incon-ction; and carefully to avoid all evil com-safe and commendable simplicity of the Truth, siderately lavish away in idle and unprofitay, which corrupts good manners, and the moderation and plainness it leads to both ble discourse, in conversing with the numerous sinto disorder and extravagancy."—1736. in dress and address, and in every other part publications calculated to divert their atten-As many of our worthy elders have of of their conduct and behavior. Honor thy tion from the Sacred Writings, and from a years been removed from us by death, father and mother, the apostle observes, is virtuous and godly life, by gratifying the tenderly entreat, that an holy concern the first commandment with promise.' Such, passions, exciting levity, or instilling the perprevail on your minds, who are of the therefore, who reject the advice of godly nicious principles of infidelity and licentiousg generation, to fill up their places; first parents, and set light by their example and autority, beth bring dishonor on their parents, and also in the pursuit of various kinds of God and his righteousness, that so and forfeit their own title to the holy promise those dangerons snares of Satan, which cormay be preserved through the tempta of God. We, therefore, most fervently be rupt and captivate unguarded minds, whilst s, and from all the delusions in this life, seech our rising youth to buy the Truth and they pass upon them under the deceitful color may become instruments in the hand of sell it not; not to fashion themselves after of innocent amusements. Give due regard , to promote his honor, the good of his the practice of those who manifestly deviate to that apostolic advice, 'Flee youthful lusts; reh, and the universal advancement of from the pattern of our Lord and Saviour but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, y and virtue. And, dearly beloved youth, Jesus Christ, and his humble self-denying with them that call on the Lord with a pure

"We are sensible that many of you have our exhortation is, stand always open therees have been transmitted through many "The advice of Divine Wisdom is, 'Buy unto. Set no bounds in your minds to the rations. He who raised and supported the Truth and sell it not.' But those who operation of the Holy Spirit, either from in-"The advice of Divine Wisdom is, 'Buy unto. Set no bounds in your minds to the a, and hath, from age to age, formed a prefer the gaiety, the vain customs, and flue clination to self-indulgence, or from the fear ble to testify to his salvation, and stand tuating fashions of this world, renounce wis- or favor of men. It is not for man to say to afal to the cause of righteousness, hath dom for folly, duty for disobedience, and the his Maker, 'Hitherto I will follow thee, and no further. I must allow myself this and versity. He was not permitted to be the an inveterate hostility to the law, and the other liberty, in speech, in dress, in be guardian of a child. It was made penal for taught to look for redress in illegal vi havior, in converse, in commerce, or in any him to keep school, to act as usher or private or secret combinations. kind of self-gratification.' You can never tutor, or to send his children to be educated obtain Divine approbation by this means, but abroad. The schools in which they might will surely incur the dipleasure of Him you legally be educated were avowedly intended, were created to obey, administer cause for by bringing up the young as Protestants, to Him to withdraw the sense of his preserving extirpate the religion of their parents. presence from you, and leave you to the painful fruits of your own devices. Remember, 'The way of man is not in himself: It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord." -1774.—From London Epistles.

For "The Friend," Effect of the Penal Laws of the Eighteenth Century on Irish Character.

made, that many of the Irish who emigrate married a Catholic, was at once deprived of to this country, do not appear to have a strong her inheritance, which passed to the nearest feeling as to the necessity of adhering to the truth in their statements. Many of them will deliberately tell falsehoods, if they hope thereby to promote their interests; and are ap-says, "the hopeless task of preventing some parently almost unconscious that in so doing three fourths of the nation from celebrating they are committing a moral wrong. In this the rites which they believed essential to respect their system of morality is below that their eternal salvation, was not attempted." which they exhibit in other parts of their con- Every Catholic priest was required to be regisduct. It is an interesting and important tered before he could celebrate mass, which question to determine how such a trait ever he might then do without molestation. But became fastened on the national character; all the bishops and other higher orders of the for the natural impulses of man, and the teach—clergy were ordered to leave the island, and was adopted and directed to be signe ings of Divine Grace, lead him to speak the were liable to be hung if they returned. The the clerk, appended to the information by the review of Irish history, after the expulsion of James the Second from the British their arrest. crown, contained in Lecky's History of England. An intolerant spirit then prevailed, and state of chronic civil war, to enforce such en- of removing children from the school prev the Catholic population of Ireland were sub-actments in the midst of a large Catholic to the examination at the close of the ses jected to great oppression and hardship. The population. Rewards were offered for the As such removal is a violation of the r laws which were enacted were very arbitrary apprehension of priests, but it needed no small and deprives the children of one of the and unjust. "Every thing indeed connected courage to face the hatred of the people, centives to industry and exertion in the with the history of those times," says Lecky, Savage mobs were ever ready to mark out view of their studies, and also produces n "corroborates the assertion of Burke, himself the known priest-hunter, and unjust laws uneasiness and unsettlement among t a Protestant, that 'all the penal laws of that were met by illegal violence. Under the long that remain, it has become the subject of unparalleled code of oppression, were mani-discipline of the penal laws, the Irish Catholics cern to those having charge of the institutes lessly the effects of national hatred and scorn learnt the lesson which, beyond all others, Parents and others are therefore earne towards a conquered people whom the victors rulers should dread to teach. They became requested not to allow, nor give their child delighted to trample upon and were not at consummate adepts in the arts of conspiracy any reason to expect that they will be to all afraid to provoke. * * Whilst that temper and of disguise. Secrets known to hundreds from the school before the expiration of prevailed, and it prevailed in all its force to a were preserved inviolable from authority. term for which they are entered;" ex time within our memory, every measure was False intelligence baffled and distracted the under peculiar circumstances and with pleasing and popular just in proportion as it pursuer, and the dread of some fierce nocture consent of the Superintendent. tended to harass and ruin a set of people who had vengeance was often sufficient to quell the From the report of 4th month, 1850. were looked upon as enemies to God and man, cupidity of the prosecutor. Bishops came to number of pupils during the year ending and, indeed, as a race of savages, who were a Ireland in spite of the atrocious penalties to 10th mo, previous, was 191—100 boys and disgrace to human nature itself."

from the corporations, from the magistracy, be sheriffs or solicitors or even gamekeepers rung through Europe,' or constables. They were forbidden to possess any arms, and could not possess a horse of the value of more than £5, and any Proson to exist as an Irish Roman Catholic.

The great confiscations under James I. Cromwell, and William, had done much to make the land-owners of Ireland exclusively Protestant. The penal laws continued the work. No Catholic was suffered to buy land. or inherit or receive it as a gift from Protestants. A Catholic had not power to dispose of his landed estate, but at his death it was to be equally divided among his sons, unless the eldest became a Protestant, in which ease the whole was settled on him. A Pro-It is a remark that has been frequently testant woman, who was a landowner, if she Protestant heir.

Though the laws of Elizabeth prohibiting Catholic worship were unrepealed, yet, Lecky same penalties were prescribed for the un-forwarded, in the form of a circular, to Considerable light is thrown on this subject registered priests and friers, and large induce-parents and guardians of the pupils no ments held out to any who would procure the school.

"It was impossible, without producing a from the practice, which has of late incre: which they were subject, and ordained new girls. By Act of Parliament Irish Catholics were priests. What was to be done with them? deprived of the elective suffrage, excluded The savage sentence of the law, if duly exe-cholera as an epidemic disease, in vari cuted, might have produced a conflagration parts of our land during some portions of from the bar, from the bench, from the grand in Ireland that would have endangered every year, no case of the kind occurred in juries, and from the vestries. They could not Protestant life, and the scandal would have school, and the family there was favored w

Edmund Burke says this code of laws was as well fitted for the oppression, impoverish-tend the conducting of such a school, wh ment and degradation of a people, and the a great diversity presents in the disposit testant, on tendering that sum, could appro-debasement in them of human nature itself, and habits of the pupils, the committee priate the hunter or carriage horse of his as ever proceeded from the perverted ingelieve that as it is managed under the spirit Catholic neighbor. In his own country the nuity of man." The greater part of it con-Christian love, and a well regulated discipl Catholic was only recognized by the law for tinued in force for nearly a century, and to is maintained, it will continue to shed a be repression and punishment. Indeed the doelits operation much of the duplicity, disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies was distinctly laid down from the bench, of law and resort to violence and murder manifest itself in after life, and thus, under the control of the control of the duplicity, disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the control of the duplicity, disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the control of the duplicity, disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard find the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth, which verifies the duplicity disregard find the duplicity disregard ficial influence upon the youth duplicity disregard find the duplicity disr "that the law does not suppose any such per-which have stained the Irish character, may the Divine blessing, contribute to the spre fairly be ascribed. "They were educated of sound principles and practice." The Catholic was excluded from the Uni through long generations of oppression into There is good reason to believe that!

Selected for "The F

Continual Change of Scene.

The child of faith needs to be assude the will of the Lord, before he goes for foreign travel, aimless in all but the g cation of what is called the "natural t The continual change of scene, the co with what he would at first gladly avoid otherwise humble or depress him. I possibly end by his looking more lenien what first filled him with dismay and him to his knees. The lovely scenes ar enervating climate, may weaken the faith by giving a preponderance to the sense. Thus his own fair inheritance the eternal glory, will wax paler and pa the spiritual eye. Things that cease desired are no longer realized, and this w idols take possession of the mind. Christ as our companion, our Shephen our light, we may sojourn safely in the.s ger's land as elsewhere. Without Him is danger everywhere: perhaps in no por so insidiously as in foreign travel.

> For " The Frie Westtown Boarding School.

12th mo. 14th, 1849. The following m-

"Much inconvenience has been experie

"Notwithstanding the prevalence of a usual degree of health.

" Notwithstanding the difficulties which ning he received at Westtown.

li K. Price,* in the memoir of his parents. ip and Rachel Price, in speaking of their ead largely the benefits of education. How they started th the Society of Friends has thus been benefactors of the country it would be help, you just stand still and open this book of a woman's touch. cult to overestimate, and it is a stream of and hold it right up before you."

The often express eficence that flows on perpetually."

n School property, and which he had suc- and who was ready to help them on their sfully resisted, telling his fellow-members way. he lower house, where the bill originated, t whilst Westtown Boarding School had friends far off in the interior of America. cated her hundreds and thousands, withing money for their support.

es, now become groves of ample size for l and varied landscapes that surround this et retreat of learning.

Whilst penning this article the writer has Matt. xxv. 40.) n called upon by a lawyer of some promiend) to obtain admission for a relative at sttown, saying that from his examination

E. K. Price was a pupil at the school in 1813 and 4, and though now beyond 85 years, is still clear in comfort. d and vigorous in body for that advanced age.

ment here expressed by the Friends at high opinion of the thoroughness of the sys-time concerned in properly conducting tem of teaching there practised. Whilst delarge and interesting Seminary, has been riving some encouragement from such cir. BY THE DAUGHTER OF A DECEASED MISSIONARY. ezed in many instances, some of which cumstances as are here narrated, and it is come to the knowledge of the writer, believed they are by no means isolated ones, who was a pupil at Westtown, not long it is well for those now charged with the re-t the commencement of the present censponsibility of rightly conducting Westtown, subsequently entered the legal profestory to bear in mind that the first and great desire the women. became a prominent man in public life, of the dear and valued Friends who were coning several responsible positions, but who, cerned in its establishment, was to imbue the being separated for more than half a tender minds committed to their care, with a ury from membership with the Society of deep sense of their religious responsibility; to faced sisters in India. nds, has lately returned by making a make them acquainted with the doctrines and factory acknowledgment, remarked dur- testimonies as held by our religious Society, a recent interview, "that the effect of the and the grounds on which they rest. It is be-ching of Thos. Scattergood, at Westrown lieved that as this duty is entered upon in the eding School in 1808, had never been Divine fear, with sincere desires that a blessed from his mind." A useful and it is ing may rest upon the efforts, they will be aght a conscientious member of the Phila-brought to see the beautiful harmony that hia bar, now beyond middle age, attri- exists between the principles of Truth as held the despair seems to deepen on the fairer s much of his success in life to the early by us, and the teaching of the early Christians laces, for their seclusion is absolute, and there as well as of the dear Saviour himself.

nection with Westtown, remarks of it - a beautiful incident of three little German sunshine of Christianity, until death ends the he value of the instruction derived at this girls, whose friends were in America, and who sorrowful years. inary has been of incalculable service to wanted to go thither. They were somewhere members of the Society of Friends, put from eight to twelve years old, and the questial treatment of his own wife is a matter of them generally in advance of others in tion was how to get them across the great constant surprise and remark by the Hindoo al circumstances for intelligence, respect- ocean, and away into the interior of America. gentlemen. ity of character and power of usefulness. There was no one to go with them, they must although the immediate benefit be exclu- go alone; and no one could tell what troubles named Gover Dun Das, often visited my father by to members of the Society, the remote might assail them, or what dangers might when we lived in Futteghur, in Northern Inintages have been widely diffused through surround them. But their friends had faith dia. He so far deferred to Christian customs the number of educated citizens sent got a book, and on the fly-leaf of it they wrote entered the parlor, but he invariably brought h to mix as active members of the com- a sentence in German, in French and in Eng. a brass vessel of water with him, and as soon ity, but by multiplying good teachers to lish, and they told the little children when as she had left the room he would step out on t made some years since by Dr. Wilmer from place to place, and from port to port; can women accept as our right.

rthington, deceased, then representing and wherever they went, if any trouble ocster county in the State Senate, in regard curred or any difficulty arose, the children zenana, where his wife and his son's wives here having been whilst he was a member would stop and open the book, and hold it up lived, together with the mothers in law, aunts hat body, an attempt made at Harrisburg before them, and they always found some one and the poor "little widows," whose lot is bass a law imposing a tax upon the West- who could read German or English or French, saddest of all.

asking one dollar from the public coffers, such a talisman and protection to these chil- women, beautifully dressed in silken robes er institutions of a like character through dren, among strangers, and in a strange land? and covered with jewels. They presented us the State were annually at their doors What were the words that made the careless with sweetments and sprinkled us with "ottar k. Price adds, that it was while Philip less kind? They were the words of One who greatest interest. My mother longed to tell ce was superintendent, that some of the lived on the earth long years ago, and who, them some word of Christ, as she answered al improvements of the property were com- though He has passed away from human their eager inquiries of the outside world.

de and scenery, in keeping with the beauthem, "Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ve have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."-

These words, written upon the fly-leaf of a they did? ice, having a profitable practice (not a New Testament, made them friends among strangers, gave them protection and help in every hour of need, opened doors before them, stown man in his office who had received and made rough places plain and crooked education at that school, he had formed a places straight.—The Christian.

We must pray as earnestly for grace as for

Among the Women of India.

To the new-comer in India one of the strangest among many strange sights is the sad and hopeless look stamped on the faces of

I never pass through the streets of Boston, and see the bright, happy, independent faces of its women and girls, without thinking of the contrast between them and their dusky-

In the words of a veteran missionary, "Young women in India are treated as dirt, and girls are ciphers that have no claims of any kind." Of course, the women you meet in the streets of the heathen cities are those of the lower classes, but even in the "zenanas" or "apartments for women," among the wealthy classes, is nothing to break the dreary monotony of the days full of gossip, strife and quarreling, The Orphan's Protection.-I recently heard without books or work, without the cheerful

The Christian missionary's gentle deferen-

A wealthy native gentleman (a banker) by of the States of the Union, not only in God, and before they sent them out, they as to shake hands with my mother when she the veranda and carefully wash his hands in "If you get into any trouble, or need any this water, so ridding himself of the pollution

He often expressed the greatest wonder Then they started the children off on their when he saw my father extend to my mother a confirmation of the above was the state-long journey, by railway and by steamship, the simple acts of courtesy which we Ameri-

One morning we visited, at his request, the

As we entered the court-yard we caught glimpses of fair faces peering curionsly behind And so in due time they reached their the lattice-work. My father remained with the men while we passed into the women's And what were those words which proved apartments. Here we found ten or eleven civil and thoughtful, and the rough and reck- of roses," while examining our clothes with nced that have been since greatly advanced vision, yet holds his grasp upon the minds of the laying out of walks and planting of men. These were his words:

But this had been strictly forbidden beforehead, for, in the words of Gover Dun Das, "And the king shall answer and say unto "Christianity was all a dream, and there was no need of putting it into the women's heads.' Then we told them of our days, full of books and work, long walks and talks and happy songs in the twilight. We asked them what

> "Oh." they answered, "we tell fairy stories, and we try on our new dresses and jewels, and we sleep, yet the days are very long. * We have talked of your promised visit for weeks, and, after it is over, we will have something to talk about for a long time to come.'

Poor things! With an aching heart my mother turned away, for had she not brought the bread of life to hungry sonls, yet they could not take it! It was a very different class of women that my mother met twice a week on our back veranda. Here in the shade of the honeysuckles a few poor women of lower eastes timidly crouched, while she taught them of Christ, who spoke kindly even to women; who said to the trembling creature at his feet: "Daughter, be of good comfort: go in peace." These poor women always brought some coarse garment which my mother taught them to make or mend. My mother chose for them the passages where Christ spoke to women. With wistful faces they listened to the story of Mary weeping at the sepulchre-of the woman who was a sinner, yet anointed his feet-and many others.

One day they heard for the first time, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Eagerly a tired-looking woman looked up and dropped her work: "Is it the Christ who says that?"

"Yes," said my mother.

"And how long is that rest to last?"

"Forever and ever."

"But," said another woman, who was east out and despised by her sons, "how do we know that message is for us? Christ was kind to women, but did he care for women." Perhaps those words are only for the men."

Then my mother told her of how Christ cared for his mother with his dying breath, as he commended her to John and said, "Behold thy mother!"

"Then he was good to his mother," she said while her tears fell fast. "Yes, he loved his mother; I will believe those words are for me."

So as little children they took Him at his word, and found as they said; "something worth living for now."

Many of our State and County "Agricultural Fairs" might better be designated horseraces, for the main feature, the great central interest of the occasion, is the horse-racing. Take away that, and most of them would suddenly and completely collapse. Yet what there is about a horse-race that is "agricultural" it is difficult to see. Endangering life or limb of man or beast does not become an innocent pastime by being denominated an "Agricultural Fair," nor does the betting on such occasions become pions and allowable because the demoralizing pastime is carried on under an innocent name.—Selected.

The Duke of Wellington had an adventure which might have cost him his life if his selfpossession had not been extraordinary. One day as he was writing at his desk, with a pile of unanswered letters before him, he heard a step, and, looking up, saw a tall, gaunt figure standing before him, with a drawn sword in his hand. "Who are you?" said the Duke. "I am Apollyon. I am sent to kill you." "What," said the Duke, "with all these letters unanswered? I have not time to attend to it to-day. Call to-morrow at ten, and I will be at leisure." So saying he rang the bell, Apollyon retired, but before he left the house was secured. In some way he had passed the servants unobserved. If the Duke had lost his self-possession he might have been killed, or, at the best, had to fight for his life at a great disadvantage.

EVENING HYMN.

The golden bars are open In the portals of the west; The earth is left in shadow; The sun has gone to rest; Night's vell is gathering slowly, Star-studded, faintly grey; May all things living thank thee, Lord, At the ending of the day.

Through all the hours of sunlight
Thy smile hath made us glad;
Hath comforted the weary,
And eased the poor and sad;
And through the hours of darkness,
When all are wrapped in sleep,
Thy ever wakeful eye above
Its silent watch will keep,

Oh, when our souls are passing Away beyond the west; When shadows gather round us At thy sweet call to rest, Keep us, Eternal Spirit, From fears and vain alarms, Oh, take us, mighty Saviour, Into thy loving arms,

And when we cross the river,
That strange calm stream of death,
Receive, oh, blest Redeemer,
Our last and faintest breath.
Till we, beyond all sorrow,
Rest near the jasper sea,
And day, and night, and morrow
Merge in eternity.

A. B. Selected.

THE LIGHTHOUSE.

BY EMILY HUNTINGTON MILLER.
The tide comes up and the tide goes down, Over the rocks so rugged and trown, And the cruel sea, with a hungry roar, Dashes its breakers along the shore;
But steady and clen, with a constant ray,

The ships come sailing across the main, But the harbor month is hard to gain, For the treacherous reef lies close beside, And the rocks are bare at the ebbing tide, And the blinding fog comes down at night, Shrouding and hiding the harbor light.

The sailors, sailing their ships along,
Will tell you a tale of the lighthouse strong;
How once, when the keeper was far away,
A terrible storm swept down the bay,
And two little children were left to keep Their awesome watch with the angry deep.

The fair little sisters wept, dismayed, But the brother said, "I am not afraid; There's One who ruleth on sea and land, And holds the waves in his mighty hand, For Christ's dear sake I will watch to-night, And feed, for the sailors, the beacon light."

So the sailors heard through the murky shroud, The fog bell sounding its warning loud; While the children up in the lonely tower, Tended the lamp in the midnight hour, And prayed for any whose souls might be In deadly peril by land or sea.

Ghostly and dim, when the storm was o'er, The ships rode safely, far off the shore, And a boat shot out from the town that lay, Dusk and purple, across the bay. She touched her keel to the lighthouse strand, And the eager keeper leaped to land.

And swiftly climbing the lighthouse stair, He called to his children, young and fair; But, worn with their toilsome watch, they slept, While slowly over their foreheads crept, The golden light of the morning sun, Like a victor's crown, when his palm is won,

"God bless ye, children," the keeper cried,
"God bless thee, father," the boy replied,
"I dreamed that there stood beside my bed,

"I dreamed that there stood beside my bed, A beautiful angel who smiled and said, Blessed are they whose love can make Joy of labor, for Christ's dear sake."

-Little Corporal.

HEALTH ALPHABET.*

Sel la

A-s soon as you are up, shake blanket and shee B-etter be without shoes than sit with wet feet C-hildren, if healthy, are active, not still; D-amp beds and damp clothes, will both make y E-at slowly, and always chew your food well: F-reshen the air in the house where you dwell G-arments must never be made too tight; H-omes should be healthy, airy and light; I-f you wish to be well, as you do, I've no don' J-ust open the windows before you go out; K-eep your rooms always tidy and clean; L- et dust on the furniture never be seen ; M-uch illness is caused by the want of pure air N-ow to open your windows be ever your care; O-ld rags and old rubbish should never be kept P-cople should see that their floors are well swe Q-uick movements in children are healthy and R-emember, the young cannot thrive without li S—ee that the cistern is clean to the brim; T—ake care that your dress is all tidy and trim; U-se your nose to find if there be a had drain, V-ery sad are the fevers that come from its trai W-alk as much as you can without feeling fatig X-erxes could walk full many a league; our health is your wealth, which your wisdom keep; Z—eal will help a good cause, and the good you reap.

A Wonderful Deliverance .- Among the hills at the base of Pike's Peak is an imm deposit of gypsum. It is quarried and to to a mill near by where it is ground into; ter of Paris. The vein dips at a slight a into the hill, and after it had been worked several months there was left an imm mass of overhanging rock which was thou to be perfectly secure. One day last several men were working under that ledge of sloping rock. One of them wa praying man and an outspoken Christ Something went wrong with his work. profane man told him to swear at it it wanted it to go right. Looking up he cal replied, "No; praying is better than sw ing. If I get into trouble and ask my heave Father to help me He will hear my praye

A few hours later those two men wer work under the ledge of rock, when some shouted from above that the whole mass giving way. The profane man jumped of ward while the other jumped in toward wall, when the great mass of rock fell wan awful crash. The one who jumped of ward was caught by a rock falling on his His companions failed to extricate him they started for town to summon help, sposing, of course, that the other man towards and the started for the star crushed to death. After they were gone the profane man there alone, when suddenly he heard the vo of prayer issuing from the rocks. Said afterward, "I never heard such a prayer all my life." It was the prayer of a m who, rescued from one terrible death, look another calmly in the face. The great re had broken in two just over his head, and falling had left a cavity where he was ke as in "the secret place of the Most Hig At first he was stunned by the falling stor and clouds of dust, but recovering conscioness he found that the stones around him we loose and that he was in a dark place whe he could move about. Supposing that it wor take days for his companions to remove t great rocks, and that he must die there, resigned himself to his fate, and concluded spend his time in prayer. In the dense dar

* The Ladies' Sanitary Association of London, give the above simple rules for keeping healthy. be if there was any chance of escape. He va little ray of light, and removing a few e stones he discovered a passage way near rock just large enough for his body. riling painfully along for some rods he of appeared to his astonished companion, tm he succeeded in rescuing from the rock. y his time a crowd of men appeared on the but there was no need of their services. h praying man again prayed. He knelt the ground before those rough men and ored out his thanks to God for the wonder-Heliverance.

aid one of them afterward, " I am ashamed "nyself that I did not go and kneel by his

'his true incident has more than one moral, our readers may draw them for themles .- Good Words.

For "The Friend." William Penn and the Indians.

the course of one of the public discourses tly delivered in this city, respecting the practer of William Penn, some remarks are corted to have been made implying that, in settlement of the Province, William Penn odnced to, or encouraged among the navs. the use of intoxicating liquors. How ectly the remarks may have been reportwe do not know; but as these derogatory ements have to a certain extent been cirated by the publication of them in some of public journals of the day, it seems proper at some notice should be taken of them, and facts of the case stated, that the reputaof the Founder of this Commonwealth uld not be allowed to lie under so untrue , injurious a charge.

n published, is a petition addressed to m, for reasons which they mention. This ument is dated 8th of October, 1681, about ear before William Penn landed in this greater ill-convenience than before, our lians going down to New Castle, and there ing rum, and making them more debauchtaken off and rum and strong liquors red to, no mention is made of intoxicating tween us and you of this agreement." v be sold (in the foresaid Province) as forrly, until it be prohibited in New Castle I in that Government of Delaware.

NANNE SEKA, KEKA KAPPAN. JONG GORAS, ESPON APE.

William Penn in several of his letters alles to the love of the Indians for strong nk and its evil effects upon them, and also his intentions of discouraging its sale and among them. In a letter to Henry Sal, dated 5th mo, 30th, 1683, he says of the tives, "Some of them [are] admirably sober, ough the Dutch and Swedes and English es he poured out his soul to God. After have by brandy and rum almost debauched liquors as part of the consideration paid, exring for a while he began to look around them all, and when drunk the most wretched cepting in one instance "four bottles of cyder." of spectacles, often burning and sometimes It is also worthy of notice that in a deed exemurdering one another, at which times the cuted by the Indians, 8th mo. 2d, 1685, the Christians are not without danger as well as next year after William Penn's departure fear."-Penna. Arch., Vol. I, p. 69.

> designed to protect the Indians, passed soon to the Indians in payment. after his arrival in 1682,

"Whereas, divers persons, as English, Dutch, that the personal presence and influence of deed, &c., have been want to sell to the Indians William Penn were felt in administering the rum and brandy, and such like distilled spirits, affairs of his government, snjrituous lionors though they know the said Indians are not able to govern themselves in the use thereof, but do commonly drink of it to such excess as makes them de- ple and precedent which are the more restroy one another, and grievously annoy and dis-markable, when it is considered that by the quiet the people of the Province, and peradventure those of neighboring governments, whereby they may make the poor natives worse, and not better for coming among them, which is an heinous offence to God, and a reproach to the blessed name of Christ and his holy religion; it is, therefore, enacted, that no person within this Province do hence- strong liquors among them, has been preservforth presume to sell or exchange any rum or brandy, or any other liquors, at any time, to any lished in 1685, gives the following relation of Indian within this Province; and if any one shall what took place at a meeting at which eight offend therein, the person so convicted shall for kings and many other Indians were present. every such offence, pay five pounds."s

On considering the evidence which may exist and which may appear to furnish the basis for a charge against William Penn, so adverse to his well-known character and acts, it has occurred to me that it may be found in the following extract from the first deed of the Indians for the sale of land executed "the 15th day of July, 1682." Among the goods, merchandise, utensils and other articles mentioned as the consideration for the land conveyed in this deed, are "two anchers of rum, two anchers of cyder, and two anchers of beer." † -Penna, Arch., Vol. 1, p. 47. These liquors, if they had been furnished to the Indians mong the most early documents relating with the knowledge or by direction of Wilthe Indians of Pennsylvania which have liam Penn, would have furnished a ground for this charge; but it must be observed that vernor Markham requesting him to re-this purchase was made by William Mark ve a prohibition on the sale of rum to ham, the Deputy Governor, who was acting, no doubt, under the general instructions which had been issued by the Governor, but who had also enjoined his commissioner to treat ntry, and shows first, that the Indians them with all possible justice, candor, and hure already accustomed to the use of rum, manity. Is it not most probable in viewing the secondly, that laws were then in force to circumstances of the case, that Markham, people have eyes; we are glad such a people trict its sale. It is as follows (as publish-knowing the fondness of the Indians for inin "Hazard's Annals," p. 531): "Whereas toxicating liquors, had of his own motion inselling of strong liquors was prohibited in cluded the above-mentioned items in the list unsylvania, and not at New Castle, we find of articles to be supplied to the Indians in return for their grant of land?

Certain it is that in the purchases of land which took place while William Penn was in than before (in spite of the prohibition). this country, viz., from 10th mo., 1682 to 8th tten, do desire that the prohibition may volume of Pennsylvania Archives above refer-

† An ancher is about 10 gailons, from the colony, one barrel of beer is record-The following is a copy of an enactment ed among other articles as having been given

So far as an argument can be drawn from these records, it appears that during the time affairs of his government, spirituous liquors were not furnished to the Indians: an examgeneral customs of society in England, the drinking of malt liquors was almost universal.

The following testimony from the Indians in reference to the care of William Penn and the first settlers to discourage the use of ed by Thomas Budd, who, in an account pub-He says: "The Indian kings sat on a form, and we sat on another over against them. One of the kings, by consent and appointment of the rest, rose and spoke as follows:

"The strong liquor was first sold to us by the Dutch, and they were blind, they had no eyes; they did not see that it was for our hurt. The next people that came among us were the Swedes, who continued the sale of those strong liquors to us; they were also blind; they had no eyes; they did not see it to be hurtful to us to drink it. But if people will sell it to us, we are so in love with it that we cannot forbear it: when we drink it it makes us mad, we do not know what we do; we then abuse one another; we throw each other into the fire. Seven scores of our people have been killed by reason of drinking it since the time it was first sold to us. Those people that sell it are blind; they have no eyes. But now there is a people come to live amongst us that have eyes; they see it to be for our hurt; and we know it to be for our hurt; they are willing to deny them-selves the profit of it for our good. These are come among us; we must put it down by mutual consent; the cask must be scaled up, it must be made fast, it must not leak by day nor by night, in the light nor in the dark. And we give you these four belts of wampum, which we would have you lay up safe, and keep by you to be witnesses of this agreement that we make with you, and we should have erefore we whose names are hereunder mo., 1684, of which ten are recorded in the you tell your children that these four belts of wampum are given to you to be witnesses be-

The subject of selling rum to the Indians early claimed the attention of Friends in their collective capacity, as the following extracts from minutes made in 1685 and 1687 respectively, clearly show, viz;

At a Yearly Meeting, held in Philadelphia, beginning the 15th of 7th month, 1685-

This meeting doth unanimously agree and give as their judgment, that it is not consistent with the honour of Truth, for any that makes profession thereof to sell rum or other strong liquors to the Indians, because they use them not to moderation, but to excess and drunkenness.

At a Yearly Meeting in 1687, a minute was ^{*} This law was afterwards modified (3d mo. 10th. 1684) so as to prevent the sale of strong liquors to the Indians, provided "an agreement can be made for the punishment of such of the Indians as shall abuse themselves with those drinks unto drunkenness, and shall submit to have the laws of this Government executed upon them equally with other inhabitants." At a meeting of the Council held 7th mo. 17th, 1685, however, a proclamation was ordered to be published forthwith "to reinforce the law made at Upland (above quoted) prohibiting the sale of rum, brandy and other strong iquors to the Indians, under the penalty therein expressed, and that all magistrates take notice thereof, and put the same in execution."-Colonial Records, Vol. 1, p. 104.

scribe the same.

measures to prevent all persons in their So-parent to the people; that the traffic is wholly affected with it for a time, but for the most in China from falling upon the native races impression on their minds, for the proper morial with the expression of their belief that 000; Africa, 205,323,000; America, 100 regulation of their passions and appetites, the House of Commons, in taking the action 000; Australia and Polynesia, 4,282,000; I which, at last, too generally seemed to pre-petitioned for, "will receive the blessing of regions, 82,000. Russia is credited with 83 vail over convictions of this nature, and their those that are ready to perish, the praise of 000 inhabitants; China, 379,000,000; Ja better knowledge.

Divers preachers of this religious Society, from abroad, often had meetings and serious as those who had settled in the country, particularly Samuel Jennings, Thomas Olive, the following paragraphs: William Penn and others, from time to time, labored to inculcate into them a just sense of consent set apart for a day of rest and re- Africa can be little better than a guess. the benefit of a Christian life and conduct." G. J. S.

For " The Friend," Religious Items, &c.

affairs connected with English parishes is on the first day of the week : shown in a late vestry meeting of the parish of Warden, which was held at the house of a lady ninety-three years of age, who was made chairman of the meeting, only two other persons being present. The parish church has been pulled down to prevent its tumbling over the cliffs. The few parishioners naturally object to paying tithes to the clergyman, the first day of the week is prohibited, exon the ground that Divine service is no longer held in the parish.

Mormon Missions, - Fifty travelling Mormon Bishops recently sailed for Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, on a proselyting tour. They will succeed as they have done before, and the result will be seen, in a few months, in the arrival of a whole ship-load of immigrants tures, and mechanical employments upon the blood and the nervous system. Sufferers t to settle in Utah and surrounding territories. first day of the week are prohibited. That the leaders of Mormonism unite fanaticism, cunning, perseverance, and heroism of public selling, or offering, or exposing for sale causing a drain on the system, which n a certain sort, no one can deny.

steps taken in the agitation for the suppres-

adopted, declaring that selling strong drink British House of Commons. This memorial visions as if it had legal force. The M to the Indians, "considering the use they shows that the opium traffic is a great evil to made of it, is a thing contrary to the mind of China; that its legalization by the British the Lord, and a great grief and burthen to treaty with China, and the production of American Board $25,000, the Church his people, and a great reflection and dishon-opium in India as a Government monopoly, our to the Truth, so far as any professing it renders Great Britain morally responsible for Mexico $5,000. are concerned; and for the more effectual the dire evils of the trade; that the importapreventing this evil practice as aforesaid, we tion has increased from 12.000 chests in 1834 advise that this our testimony may be enter- to 97,000 chests in 1880; that the treaty legalied in every Monthly Meeting book, and every zation of the traffic prevents the Chinese Friend belonging to the said meeting to sub-Government from dealing effectively with it; that the connection of the British Govern-In reference to the action of the Yearly ment with the trade excites prejudice against Meeting in 1685, Robert Proud says in his missionaries and seriously binders their work; their last report, it was 1,455,900,000. "History of Pennsylvania:" "In this year, that the glaring inconsistency of the same difference would indicate a decrease of 22 1685, the Quakers in their Yearly Meeting, nation's sending the teaching of the Gospel 000; but as a matter of fact there has, acat Burlington, in West Jersey, took additional and this ruinous drug to China is very apciety from selling strong liquors to the In-indefensible on moral grounds; and that no that the population of China has been dians. About the same time, by particular doubt as to the ability of China to stop the much overestimated heretofore. In the appointment, they also had a religious meet-production of opium and the practice of opiuming with them, as they frequently had before, smoking should prevent the House of Com-to inform and instruct them in the principles mons from doing its plain duty in the premiof Christianity, and the practice of a true ses. The petitioners, therefore, ask the ear- been taken, the official returns show an as liest possible action of the House to put an gate increase of 32,000,000 during the pre-The Indians generally heard patiently what end to the legalization of the traffic, and to ing interval of ten years. The number was said to them on this subject, and seemed prevent the evils which have been so ruinous people inhabiting the larger divisions of part, it appeared to make no very durable of India and Burmah. They close their me-liollows: Europe, 327,743,000; Asia, 795

The First-day of the Week.—The New York tistics are to be had, and for such coun discourse with them for this purpose, as well Penal Code adopted last year, which goes into the figures presented are necessarily the re ligious uses, the law prohibits the doing on results given by Behm and Wagner are, I that day of certain acts bereinafter specified, ever, generally accepted as the most ti which are serious interruptions of the repose worthy published. and religious liberty of the community.

An English Parish.—One of the curious acts are prohibited and forbidden to be done If free, be thinks, from the world's bustle

1. Servile labor.

2. Public sports and shows.

3. Trades, manufactures, or mechanical employments.

4. Public traffic.

5. Serving process. Sec. 263. All manner of servile labor on citement is necessary to the very existence cepting in works of necessity or charity

Sec. 265. All shooting, hunting, fishing, playing, horse-racing, gaming, or other public which the sun never shines, nor the frest sports, exercises, pastimes or shows, upon the finds access. first day of the week, and all noise disturbing the peace of the day, are prohibited.

Sec. 266. Trades.—All trades, manufacublicly of any commodities upon the first be met by a due supply of healthy nutrim Opium Trade. One of the most important day of the week is prohibited, except that The state of the stomach and digestive meats, milk, and fish may be sold at any time gans must be carefully studied; whatever sion of the opium traffic in China is the pre-before 9 o'clock in the morning, and except known to disagree must be avoided. paration of a memorial by the missionaries at that food may be sold to be eaten upon the Peking, to be signed by all the missionaries premises where sold, and drugs, medicine, and day after day at the same hour, and no in the Chinese Empire, and forwarded to the surgical appliances may be sold at any time too large quantities. No work should of the day.

chusetts Home Missionary Society hr ceived $20,000, the Permanent Fund o tion Society $8,000, and the University of latest tables of Drs. Behm and Wagner

For "The Fri

Natural History, Science, &c. The World's Population.—According t

issued, the total population of the glo now reported at 1,433,800,000. According ing to these authorities, been an increa 33,000,000. This is explained by the issue of this work, it was given at 434 000: it is now put at 379,000,000. In fac those countries alone in which censuses globe, as given by Behm and Wagner, a all good men, and the approval of Almighty 36,000,000; and British India, 252,000 In the case of some countries no official operation on the 1st of 12th month next, has of computation or even conjecture. The port of the population of China, for insta The first day of the week being by general is but an estimate; while that of Cer

Nervous Unrest .- The sufferer from ner Sec. 262. Acts Forbidden.—The following unrest often longs for the quiet of retirem care, be would be all right. He longs for wings of the morning, in order to fly a and be at rest. This is a mistake. To be ways basking in the sunshine of exciter always in the midst of the battle of life, o ways engaged in the exciting gamble of t ness, is killing, but a certain amount of a person of the nervous temperament. W out it he would droop and die, like a ter plant placed in a semi-darkened room,

The great object of the nervous should as far as the body is concerned, to estab and keep up a correct balance between nervous unrest think and live faster that Sec. 267. Public Traffic.—All manner of others, and there is a greater waste of tis food should be taken as regularly as possi done for half an hour after eating. Break

^{*}This minute and a minute of Chester Monthly Meeting, Penna, held 5th ma, 2nd, 1688, subscribed by members "having unity with the above said testibute mony," is published in "The Friend," vol. xvi. p. 316. left an unsigned will, are carrying out its program to bed. But a lunch of milk biss

d of muscular tissue, and deteriorates if which facts prove.

unt be carried to the verge of fatigue.

ly always beneficial to sufferers from ous unrest. Most cases are benefitted by ide or mountain air. A sea-voyage does ed.

have, last of all, to say a word or two nt sleep-"tired nature's sweet restorer. italics are mine, not the poet's. I wish, eby, to draw the reader's attention to the that, unless a due proportion of muscular cise be taken during the day, the sleep by shellae in ammonia, mixing the solution professors of Christianity is inaccurate.

Our English Bibles represent Job as sayleating, and afterward powdering the resiing, v. 26, "Though, after my skin, worms sages if there were occasion for it. But we food should be nourishing, but at the were picked up, in a heap where the wind's when after my skin they have destroyed this, e time substantial. The stomach is com-course is disturbed and an eddy formed.

exercised-a truth which few are aware of, 400 feet in height, and contains millions of of, which the Hebrew is, and not in; and tons of sand, it is impossible to find a particle y judicious management of the digestive much larger than a pin head. It is so fine ns you supply the nerves with the ele-that if an ordinary barley sack be filled and ts of nutrition. But you must do more; placed in a moving wagon, the jolting of the ment used by the Jews, is still clearer, v. 26: blood must be as pure as possible; it must vehicle would empty the sack, and yet it has ecarbonized by plenty of fresh air: while no form of dust in it, and is as clean as any be; and then freed from my body shall I behold heart, the great central propeller, must sea-beach sand. The mountain is so solid as God." nvigorated and kept up to the mark by a to give it a musical sound when trod upon, proportion of exercise. This must on no and oftentimes a bird lighting on it, or a large when after my skin this has been destroyed, lizard running across the bottom, will start a yet without my flesh shall I see God.' ood, fresh air and exercise act then on the quantity of the sand to sliding, which makes ous system through the blood, but the a noise resembling the vibration of telegraph aged their members to enter into speculations es are directly braced and toned by means wires, with a hard wind blowing, but so much on such mysterious subjects, as the nature of ne cold or tepid sponge bath, with oceal louder that it is often heard at a distance of those bodies with which we shall be clothed by a warm vapor or hot air bath. hange of scene and change of climate are son standing within a short distance of the ings of our early Friends indicate very clearly sliding sand not stationary, but rolls slowly eastward, the wind gathering it up on the west end, and that Thomas Story mentions that a priest there no relief to be had from medicines? carrying it along the ridge until it is again charged our Society with denying the resur-etimes there is, but it is not well sus deposited at the eastern end. Mr. Monroe, the rection. T. S. says, "I replied, I did not uned. Flying for help to the Pharmacopæia well-known surveyor, having heard of the derstand they denied the resurrection; and ota habit to be recommended, and I would rambling habits of this mammoth sand beap, that Christ, to prove the resurrection, adse the nervous patient to take no medi-quite a number of years ago took careful bear-duced that Scripture, where it is written, without first consulting a physician—codings on it while sectionizing Government But as touching the resurrection of the dead, oil probably excepted; but this is more lands in that vicinity. Several years later he have ye not read that which was spoken unto od than a physic, and does much good as visited the place, and found that the dune had you by God, saying, I am the God of Abra-

THE FRIEND.

ELEVENTH MONTH 25, 1882,

t will not be refreshing. Exercise is the Archut, who is a German by birth, a compreparation for sleep, and after supper, munication expressing his concurrence with I have already said should be early, the article in No. 13, by C. Shieldstream, Gill, who was travelling with him in the minmind must not be allowed to dwell headed "Thoughts about the Eternal Gospel," n any thoughts that excite or annoy. I &c. He refers more particularly to the re-believed, that if the body of a man were burnt I scarcely add that narcotics or sleeping marks made therein on Job xix. 25, 26, 27, a to ashes, and those ashes sifted through a ights are most injurious, whether in the text which has been thought by some to favor sieve over all the earth, sea and air, yet, at e of opiates, or that slow but certain poi- the idea that the bodies of flesh and blood the last day, the same dust should come towhich we now inhabit will be again brought gether again, and the same body should then to life by the Divine power. This idea he retards, in the safferer from nervous unrest must do gards as inconsistent with the New Testa-wise." On this Thos. Story remarks: "Now, best to avoid over-excitement of all kinds, ment declaration, "Flesh and blood cannot though we fully believe the resurrection of a bodily and mental, and endeavor to main inherit the kingdom of God," and be gives a the dead, both of the just and unjust, yet we a pure mind in a pure body.—Harpers, translation from the German text of the actake not on us to determine the mode of extension of the control of the pure white color and curate and learned doctors. De Wette and istence in that state, or with what bodies they durable has lately been made by the in- Augustin to show that the construction put shall come; but leave it with the Almighty tor of celluloid. It is prepared by dissolven apon the authorized English version by many to give unto us bodies as may best please shellae in ammonia, mixing the solution professors of Christianity is inaccurate.

and strongly compressing it in molds.

destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see suppose there are not many of our readers lovable Mountain in Nevada.—In the east-God." This has been regarded by some as an who are troubled with doubts on this subject. part of Churchill county, on the road from expression of the faith, which enabled Job to We hope (again using the language of Thomas sworth to Grantsville, and about sixty-believe that he should yet see God and par Story) that they "are rather in the first place miles from the former place, is a sand dune, take of his mercies before he was removed concerned how to attain the resurrection of eb is remarkable alike for its peculiar for from this state of existence, not with standing the just, and the right hand of the Father, ion and moving propensities. As far the miserable condition he was then in. It through the life of Him who is the resurrecand as the eye can reach is a vast wilder- certainly cannot justly be regarded as proving tion and the life, than to gratily a lust of of greasewood and stunted sagebrush, the resurrection of these bodies.

sharp, rocky peak. The dune, or sand it is still more clearly apparent if we take stood, or to be at all known by the sons of untain ridge, which is about four miles in the version of Anthony Purver, a learned Adam, as such only, here in this world." Yet it seems proper thus briefly to refer to din width, was, perhaps, formed by the tion, gave but little play to the imagination, this question, in view of the statement made vy winds which prevail in that section, but rendered the Hebrew text very literally by William Archut, that he was for a time ving across those deserts through a natu-into English. His work was published in pening in a small range of mountains, and last century through the liberality of Dr. John * Friends' Library, vol. 10, p. 23.

be eaten a short time before retiring, depositing the small particles of sand that Fothergill, of London. He says, v. 26, "And In the whole dune, which is from 100 to A. Purver appends the following note-"Out where was this but in Heaven, when his soul was gone out of his body?

The English translation of the Old Testa-"And after my skin is cut to pieces will this De Wette's version is very similar,-"And

The Society of Friends have never encourthat they did not hold the outward and ma-A peculiar feature of the dune is that it is terial views which prevail among many others. As an illustration of this remark, we find Imative in cases where it is readily di-moved something over a mile.—Reno Gazette, ham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.' If then Abraham, Isaac and Jacob had attained the resurrection from the dead, in Christ's sense of the resurrection, and yet the bodies of those saints then remained in the earth, something else must be meant We have received from our friend, William by the resurrection of the dead than earthly bodies."

In another place he records that Roger istry, said in his testimony, "He had once knowledge of Divine mysteries, rather perhere and there abrupt mountain ridges, That this doctrine cannot be deduced from taining to another state, than fully under-in doubt as to the belief of the Society of Friends on the doctrine of Martin Luther, "of the resurrection of the flesh," because the subject was so little dwelt upon among us. He thinks there is an inclination among many Friends of modern date to-reason away some of those doctrines which we have received from the early Friends, and to bring the views of the Society more into accord with those prevailing among other professors of Christianity. Such a tendency renders it doubly needful to revive the testimonies which were borne among us in the beginning.

In reply to some inquiries which have reached us, we state that the publication of the letter of J. B. Cotton, in Nos. 12 and 13 of the present volume, was designed simply to give information to our readers respecting some foreign places of interest; and was not intended as any endorsement of religious movements not under the control of our Society and outside of its organization; or as sanctioning a disregard of the wholesome advice issued by the body in former days, "Men and women are cautioned against travelling together as companions in the work of the ministry, to avoid all occasions of offence."

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

counties of Pennsylvania give Robt. E. Pattison a plurality of 40,202 for Governor.

the Northern Pacific Railroad are approaching the the earth. Agency from two directions, "accompanied by a growd of gamhlers, fakirs, and portable saloons," and he asks whether he shall admit "these persons" to the reserva-The Commissioner has instructed the agent that 10,000 persons. vendors of food and clothing may be admitted to the Agency under license allowing them to sell goods only to the railroad men, but that whisky dealers must be ber as in the corresponding period of last year. Of the attack the new party, kept out. Application has been made for a detail of above 165 were males and 163 females: 55 died of controops from Fort Missoula to enforce the orders of the

The total value of the exports of breadstuffs from the United States during the four months ending 10th mo. 31st, 1882, was -84,881,719, against : 80,311,635 during the corresponding period of 1881. The total value of breadstuffs exports during the ten months ending 10th mo. 31st last, was $149,737,960, against $192,292,555 during the corresponding period of 1881.

Our exports of petroleum and its products during the Flour is in limited request and weak. Sales of 2100 nine months ending 9th month 30th last, amounted in barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $5.50 a $6.25; corresponding period of last year.

A company of English capitalists has purchased 4,500,000 acres of land in Western and Northwestern ances for examination about twenty-five plans and de- lots, at 41 a 53 cts. vices submitted for use at Life-Saving Stations. The

New York, was incorporated on the 17th inst, in Al- 168, 51,50 per 100 pounds; mixed, 90 ets. to $1.00 per New York, was incorporated on the 17th inst, in Al- 168, 51,50 per 100 pounds; mixed, 90 ets. to $1.00 per new 100 pounds; provided in a number of States in this 1,00 pounds; straw, 75 to $5 ets. per 100 pounds. States in this 1,00 pounds; straw, 75 to $5 ets. per 100 pounds. The pound of the pound o $1,000,000.

The Directors of the "National Mineral and Industrial Exposition" at Nashville, have arranged for the purchase of several acres of ground in that city as a site for the Exposition building.

The largest individual sheep-owner in Texas is a woman known all over the State as the "Widow Calla-Her sheep, more than fifty thousand in number. wander over the ranges of Uvalde and Bandera connties, in the southwestern part of the State. Their grade is a cross between the hardy Mexican sheep and the Vermont merino. They are divided into flocks of two

A severe "auroral" storm prevailed on the 17th inst, and that the relief measures were not interfere a throughout a large portion of the United States and the for want of funds. Eastern Provinces of Canada, seriously interrupting telegraphic communication for several hours. During its prevalence the few wires that were working were continually liable to disturbance, and it was "almost trade in Egypt, and that their first despatch to impossible to send or receive long messages continu-ously." At Cincinnati wires worked to Columbus and St. Louis without a battery, and were so heavily charged that a flame appeared when the contact was broken. The storm extended from Boston as far West as Ogden, Utah, and it was still felt on Seventh-day morning at various points, though not so severely as on Sixth-day. The anroral display of Sixth-day night was almost unexampled in magnificence at many points West. Omaha and Cheyenne "the illumination rendered the night almost as bright as day." At St. Paul "the sky was of blood red color, the display being grand and fearful." The aurora was also brilliant throughout the Pacific Coast region from San Diego, California, north-The ocean cables were especially affected, and the storm was felt in Europe. In the afternoon the electric storm had ceased in this hemisphere, and the wires worked well in all directions. A spot of unusually they can have the land thus laid bare. They pr large size was visible near the central part of the sun, at the time of the storm.

The largest telescope in existence will soon be completed for the Russian Government by the firm of Alvin Clark & Sons, Cambridge, Mass. This largest of all glasses is for the Russian Observatory at Polkovo, which Egyptian troops ordered to the Soudan, continue t was founded in 1839 by the Czar Nicholas. In 1878 the Government authorized the Astronomer, Otto Struve, to draw upon the Treasury for whatever sum might be required. The grinding of the new lens has now been proceeding for twelve mouths, and it is expected that it will soon be completed. The length of the Polkovo UNITED STATES.-Full official returns from all the telescope will be 45 feet, and the diameter of the objectglass 30 inches. It will be mounted upon a lawn to the southwest of the principal building of the Observa-tory. It is estimated that this new lens will practically Agent Rown, at the Flathead Agency, in Montana, Agent Rown, at the Flathead Agency, in Montana, bas informed the Indian Burean that 7400 laborers on bring the moon within a distance of 38 leagues from that it is his duty, as well as his policy, to resolt

The Board of Health of Iowa City, Iowa, reports that it has taken. The Ministerial papers state that, we not a death occurred within that city's limits during the ministry are conscious of the great important the 10th month. The city has a population of over the adhesion of the Republican party to the thr

There were 328 deaths in the city last week, an increase of 5 over the previous week and the same num-

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3's, 102\frac{1}{2}; 3\frac{1}{2}'s, 102; 4\frac{1}{2}'s, registered, 112\frac{1}{2}; coupon, 113\frac{1}{2}; 4's, 119\frac{1}{2}; currency 6's, 133. Cotton.-There was no essential change to notice in rice or demand. Sales of middlings are reported at 03 a 11 cts, per pound for uplands and New Orleans, Petroleum.-Standard white, 85 cts. for export, and

cts, per gallon for home use,

value to $34,356,921, or $596,040 less than during the Pennsylvania family at $4.75 a :5; western do. at $5.25 quiet but steady at $4.25 a $4.37\(\frac{1}{2}\) per barrel.

Grain.—Wheat was dull and unsettled. Sales of Texas, and propose to sell alternate tracts of from 200 3600 bushels red, at $1.01 a $1.10. At the open board, asking for the occupation of Albania by Austrian tro to 500 acres to European immigrants. This investment $1.07 was bid for 11th mo.; $1.08 for 12th mo.; at an early date. is regarded as likely to largely increase the population $1.10\] 1st mo.; $1.12 2nd mo. Rye is nominally unchanged. Corn is quiet but firmer. Sales of $600 of Texa.

The General Superintendent of the Life-Saving Serbashels to the trade at State Canada. Against the Firmer. Sales of S600 Constantinople, says the Porte intends to address are vice has referred to the Board on Life-Saving Applis in moderate domain. Sales of 10,000 bankles, in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte has taken we have the same of 10,000 bankles, in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte has taken we have the same of 10,000 bankles, in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte has taken we have the same of 10,000 bankles, in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte has taken we have the same of 10,000 bankles, in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte intends to address as the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte intends to address as the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte intends to address as the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte intends to address as the porte in the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte in the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the steps the Porte in the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in car grin armament, and the same of 10,000 bankles in Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 11th mo. 18th, 1882.—Loads of hay, 363; loads of straw, 72. Board in now in session at New York city.

The Spanish and New York Telephone Company, of Average price during the week—Prime timothy, 95 cts.

> were unsettled and rather lower: 4100 head arrived young; and continued firm to the end in her attac and sold at the different yards at 4 a 63 cts. per lb., as to condition. Sheep were in demand, and prices were a fraction according to quality.

and sold at the different yards at 9 a 11 ets. per lb., the latter rate for extra.

Foreign .- On the 20th inst. in the House of Com-Vermont merino. They are divided into flocks of two most, Tevelyan, Chief Secretary for Ireland, informed fessed by Friends, and was concerned to exempli thousand head each, with a "bossero" and two "pass-thousand head each, with a "bossero" and two "pass-thousand head each, with a "bossero" and two "pass-thousand head each, with a bossero" and two "pass-thousand head each, with a bossero" and two "pass-thousand head each, with a bossero" and two "pass-thousand head each, with a "bossero" and two "pass-thousand

W. E. Gladstone, in reply to an inquiry from Win Forster, stated that the Government was anxis deal with the question of the suppression of the Dufferin since his arrival in Cairo related to the

The French imports during the past ten month pared with the same period of 1881, show an in of 75,000,000 francs, and the exports an incre 175,000,000 francs.

A despatch to the Times from Paris says, the chists who were arrested at Lyons have been comi for trial. A prelimioary investigation showed the istence of a scheme for a partial rising at various in order to pave the way for a general outbreak. The Liberté announces that, in consequence treaty concluded by De Brazzi, the French gunbo gittaire will shortly be despatched with orders to ceed up the Congo River. An English company offer $1,000,000 for the lege of draining Lake Leman, in Switzerland, pro to drain it into the river Rhone by means of a twenty miles long.

One thousand troops, comprising a portion of th pedition to Soudan, left Suez on the 15th instan Suakin. A second portion will follow shortly. sert in large numbers. As a measure of precautio arms and ammunition required for the expeditio being forwarded to Suakin separately.

The correspondent of the Times at Madrid say sufferings of the nation from civil wars, pronu mentos, and succeeding periods of exhaustion and pression, are too recent to have been forgotten. these reasons the nation is opposed to Marshal Serre movement. Prime Minister Sagasta understands oppose the movement in the almost revolutionary (they cannot admit the principle of a reform of the stitution.

Some of the Republican journals continue to viole above to were maters and too remainers of dietal and to consumption; 30 of diphtheria; 22 of preumonia; 10 of Espana, at Madrid, states that, at a Cabinet courseroup; 10 of typhoid fever, and 10 of old age.

Senor Camacho, Minister of Fioance, declared to despite the exceptional state of affairs in some vinces, owing to bad crops, the revenue had consi ably increased. He said the financial measures he introduced had produced very satisfactory results.

Some of the newspapers in Madrid announce Spain has resolved to take possession of the por Santa Cruz de Marpequina, on the coast of Moro and that a force of 500 men will shortly embark Cadiz and proceed to Morocco via the Canary Islan A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from (reinsylvania iainiy at $4.10 a 50; western do, at $0.25.

A dispatch to reinter's Lengtrain company from: a $5.75, and patents at £6.25 a $7.50. Rye flour is tarro says: The Chiefs of the Albanian League, quiet but steady at $4.25 a $4.37\frac{1}{2} per barrel.

warded to the Emperor Francis Joseph, a petit A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company, fr a view to settling the last disputed points in connecti with the delimitation of the frontier. DIED, on the 31st of 5th mo. 1882, MARTHA J., w of Alonzo Mosier, aged 41 years, a member and eld of Pilot Grove Monthly Meeting, Iowa, This de Friend joined our Society by convincement, wh ment to its principles and testimonies, the pure in heart for they shall see Gud." " Blessed a

-, on the 23 d of 10th mo. 1882, at Bristol, P higher: 12,000 head arrived and sold at the different MARTHA B., widow of Joseph B. Taylor, a member yards, at 3 a 6 ets., and lambs at 5 a 7½ ets. per pound, Falls Monthly Meeting, in the 6½th year of her age. ——, at her residence near Chester, Penna., on those were dull and rather lower: 5500 head arrived 1st of 11th month, 1882, Ann M., widow of Richa Wetherill, in the 80th year of her age, a member

Chester Monthly Meeting. She was convinced in ear life of the doctrines of the Christian religion as pr fessed by Friends, and was concerned to exempli

FRIEND. T-R

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI

SEVENTH-DAY, TWELFTH MONTH 2, 1882.

NO. 17.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to

JOSEPH WALTON MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

as payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For " The Friend,"

Ancient Testimonies and Advices.

VERENT WAITING UPON GOD IN RELIGIOUS

Dear Friends, it is matter of grief to the which our ancient Friends were endued spicuous in their religious assemblies, might walk after their example, prefer- Him. the love of truth to the love of earthly dance in all your concerns, carefully avoid- hand?"-Ibid. 1742. all improper pursuits, and misleading will introduce heaviness of body; and where and in truth. , if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid drowsiness appears in meetings, it is a grief and burden to the sensibly concerned, an ill within the temple; and be cautious how any example to others, and reproachful to our holy of us give occasion of additional sufferings to profession.

"Let every one, therefore, who professeth in truth, give diligent attendance both on bear testimony against."—Ibid. 1759. First and other days of the week, and be neither careless in coming together, nor slack in exercise when assembled. Let all affairs of an inferior nature give place to this great and profitable duty; for true worship is both last previous number of this series, that the acceptable to God and beneficial to our own souls.

unto them that wait for Him, to the soul that following striking testimony of one not in seeketh Him.' This ought to encourage, and profession with us, and who was remarkable oful among us, to observe a visible declen-strongly induce us, often to renew the praein too many, from that fervor, love, and tice of humble retirement before the bountiful tainments, the gifted Thomas C. Upham, who rewarder of those who diligently seek Him. , for the honor of God and the promotion The more it is followed, the comforts of Di-ted; and how careless and indifferent do of God, both on the First and other days of the tianity is true, and that the Society of Friends many now a-days appear, in that most week, be diligent in waiting upon Him in his have produced the highest and best statement ortant concern of worshipping the Lord Spirit, whereby you may renew your strength, of spiritual Christianity yet made. Their fe and glory in an awful silence, and with and witness Him your sufficient help; for spiritual view of Christ, their doctrine of unihest breathings for the renewings of his surely many of us have cause thankfully to versal saving grace and light are yet in adng power and presence. Oh! that all remember his early visitations in the assem-ht be stirred up to follow the steps of our blies of his people, where He brake in upon by any other denomination on this important thy elders, in an holy contempt of this our hearts with his power and love, and did, subject. I am an old man, and could not at ld, and in that Christian courage and pa in the needful time, administer help, comfort, this time in life change my denomination, ce, which supported them under the re-aches of men, and the opposition they met aches of men, and the opposition they met b from the spirit of the world. Oh! that mony, and in the discharge of our duty to by the early Friends."

uss, and the honor of God to the honor of religious meetings appointed for the worship quired each student to spend one half hour hard-London Yearly Meeting Epistle. 1746. of Almighty God, you wait in an humble morning and evening, alone and in silence. Dear Friendels, seeing the Spirit of truth, prevence, for the influence of the word of waiting upon her Creator. "In a family of ch manifesteth itself in the heart and con-life; be cautious not to move in acts of devo-300 she must be entirely alone." It is undernce, is given for a leader into all truth; tion in your own will; set not forward self to stood, she was to take or have no other book the assistance whereof, we may, through work; but patiently attend and wait for the than the Bible, and even that was not to be dience, be enabled to demean ourselves gift and enlivening power of the Divine Spirit; read excepting as a reference for confirmation h propriety, throughout the various trans-without which, your performances will be un-or instruction as to any passage of Scripture ons and trials incident to this life of pro-acceptable, and like those of old, of which it which may have presented to the mind. ion; we beseech you, have an eye to its was said: 'Who hath required this at your Fountain of immortal good.

| Meanor, which becomes a people truly con- of our paraphernalia will go to Babylon | If, on such occasions, we sit in an unwatch- eerned to wait upon God in awful stillness whence they came.' He added, turning to ful and unconcerned frame, indolence of mind and humility, and to worship Him in spirit

"Let us, therefore, be found worshippers the truly conscientious amongst us, by any compliance with such observations as our to worship the omnipresent Lord in spirit and worthy aneestors were rightly concerned to

For "The Friend."

Westtown Boarding School.

In confirmation of the statement in the principles and testimonies of the Society of Friends were in strict accordance with those "'The Lord,' saith the Prophet, 'is good held by early Christians, may be adduced the for his spiritual as well as his intellectual atwrote as follows :-

"I have earefully studied the Bible in the is truth. Too many are departing from vine grace are the more experienced, faith original languages, I have visited the Holy plain and self-denying life of Jesus, our increased, and ability received to 'live accord. Land, the places memorable in scripture his-ylend, in which they were found. Alas! ling to God in the Spirit; and the Apostle tory, and the earthly life of Christ; and what is that pious devotion and reverence of exhorts, 'If we live in the Spirit, let us also is more important, I have had many years', that brokenness and contrition of spirit, walk in the Spirit."—Bid. 1775. "In your religious meetings for the worship ter with me is, an abiding conviction that Chris-

Mary Lyon, in the routine of daily life at "We farther entreat you, that in all your the celebrated Mount Holyoke Seminary, re-

In a previous number of "The Friend," it is stated that "An elderly man, a 'minister "As it is an awful thing to approach the of the establishment' in England, said, 'I beusements. Endeavor to improve the pre-presence of the Infinite Majesty of heaven and lieve if it had not been for the Society of is moments afforded, to your lasting ad learth, the dread of nations, let due reverence Friends the Church would have been in patage. Take frequent opportunities of re-possess every mind upon these solemn ocea-pacy long since. I believe that the fact of a ng to wait in humility and reverence upon sions; that no lightness nor airiness appear society maintaining the uselessness and un-Lord; and in all seasons of worship, in their coming in, nor any restless motions desirability of all forms in the worship of the ether public or private, let your attention or noises be made, which may disturb the Almighty, has prevented us from going to fixed singly upon Him, guarding against solemnity of the meeting; but that all may lengths to which we might otherwise have rey thought and imagination that might demonstrate they came not to gratify the gone, and I further believe that the day is truet your desires, and the strict adher litching car, or to entertain a vain curiosity, coming, when our altars and our crosses and confound to the Father of spirits, by that seriousness and gravity in their deone of our members, 'I can easily see the way from us to you, but I cannot see the way that Thoughts about the Eternal Gospels and the they were like those of whom Paul some of you are finding from you to us.

An aged man of much experience in the world and learned in the law, expressed to the writer recently a great desire he telt for the more general distribution of the approved writings of Friends-having relation, more particularly to those explanatory of the doetrines beld by the Society; adding that "it was his belief, that if they were universally known, accepted and adopted, it would bring about the millenium."

From the report made to the Yearly Meeting 4th mo. 1851:

After a state of health rather unusually free from interruption in so large a family throughout eleven months, a fever appeared among the children near the middle of last month, in the first place of a remitting character, and which in general was soon brought under control, but in about 8 or 10 eases it ran into a low fever attended with some symptoms which led the physician to believe it would be advisable to place no obstruction proper to remove their children from the school, with which the committee coincided, and the scholars were nearly all dispersed about three weeks before the usual time of to hinder the progress of the Gospel. closing the session-and by which the last inwith the nursing and close attention required by the sick, has made it an anxious, laborious some of the floors in the basement story. which could not be conveniently done while they were occupied, the committee propose to defer re-opening the school until the first who were called philosophers or lovers of wine, these say that none can partake Second-day of the 6th month. In consulting the physicians they gave the opinion that as the physicians they gave the opinion that as and of the diseases appearing at that period these nations, comparable to the prophets any other thing than with water. So of the year, it would be most judicious to conamong the Israelites. Socrates, Plato, Sotoo, my courteons reader, thou mayst s vene the school in that month.

has been completed, and has been occupied the Light, Grace and Spirit of God in them Babylon, in our days. from about the 1st of the year. The old one has been removed: $7502 have been expended and no sorcerers, as the priests were who adin this improvement, in bringing a supply of ministered the rites and ceremonies of the water to the house, and for other accommodations not embraced in the original estimate. The arrangement of the fences, levelling the grounds and planting trees around the premises will make a small addition to the above sum. As it is not convenient to commence the erection of the barn this spring, it has been postponed for the present.

Apprehending a removal of the laundry from the basement of the school buildings would be likely to promote the comfort and health of the family, the committee have had erected a house for the purpose a short distance north of the main building. Apparatus of an improved construction, worked by steam power, and calculated to perform the business lytes. of washing, wringing and drying the clothes, has been put up in the building, which, when completed, will relieve the family of a laborious branch of their duties, and dispense with the hire and introduction into the house of a number of assistants who were needed in the former management of that department."

For " The Friend." Falling Babylon.

> BY CHARLES SHIELDSTREAM. (Continued from page 100,) COMPARISONS

Every ontward religion had a time when it think that ye have everlasting life in then flourished and shone with splendor. The to me ye will not come that ye may a Egyptians had their soreerers, mighty men, everlasting life." who by the aid of the dark powers deceived The Jewish religion was a covenar the people, and tried to contend with Moses, tween God and men, foreshadowing a l the servant of the most high and true God, covenant, and was to pass away whe the Father of Light. The Greeks had their better covenant entered. But it was celebrated oracle in Delphi, that pretended abused by the apostate people; and the to and in some measure seems to have been ward Jews in Christ's time were compa-able to prophesy and work miracles. These to the outward Christians now-a-days. old religions were the religions of darkness, outward Christians are very diligent to s whose priests led the people into captivity to the Scriptures, and trying by all means superstition. As the time passed along, it crease their sects. They exhort to search pleased the most good God, in his infinite Scripture texts on which their creed mercy, to pour out of his Spirit upon man-founded, and to come and hear the p kind; and as the Light shone, the darkness and go through their performances; and became more and more discovered, and priest-reproach those that want to be free craft had, in some degree, to relax its wither-bondage, and do what God will show in the way of parents and others who thought ing hold. But the old scrpent was always by his Light, that they are disobedied ready to step in when the people were be-coming enlightened by the divine Light; and church, as they call it, they neglect to p by means of priesteraft be is always trying the whole armor of salvation and neglect spection of their progress was prevented, the south of Europe, parts of Asia and north-old could bear with an outward ceren. Two deaths occurred among the boys, which, ern Africa were mostly in the practice of the as they seemed to submit very well to I. Greek and Roman religion. But at that time, water baptism, but misunderstood and re notwithstanding all the striving and working ed Christ's words, which are spirit and by the sick, has made it an anxious, incorrous time to the Superintendent and his wife, and of its priests and upholders, that religion had life, so those present outward professors to those having immediate charge of the in- little power over the people. It was a rethewhole Christian religion to outward valids. In order to give the family time to ligion then struggling hard for life, a dying monies, especially those who teach that we recruit, to furnish an opportunity for effect. religion. But when Christendom degenerated, baptism is the door to the sheepfold (the ing some necessary repairs and removing the religion of the heathens was amalgamated Christ is our door), and say that none ca grace to many among the Romans and Greeks, mit to it as He did. In using the bread wisdom. They were enlightened by the true without being dipped as they have been; Light, which enlightens every man that several of them with whom I have reaso phocles, Zeno, Cicero and Seneca and many very great likeness between the Jewish Since the last report, the new farm-honse other worthies were conscious of the work of ligion at its end, and the outward religion selves; they were followers of the true God false religions, and held the people in superstition, deceit and captivity. In brief the the need of more knowledge on our parphilosophers represented the true wisdom of necessary duties in case of sickness in our fa God which is inward in men; the false religion lies. A physician may be most skilled in represented the alienation and fall from God, profession, but the patient must suffer un > earth. He was a Jew as to nationality-He sick, and yet, when any of our near and d came to his own, but his own received Him are ill, we feel that no one can nurse them not-but to those that received Him in his we can, when, at the same time, our minist Light, to them gave He power to become sons tions may produce other than the desi of God. His own people claimed this relation effect. to the true God. They made great profession of religion, and were zealous in making prose-lytes. They, besides, expected Messias to when a drink of cool, fresh water would h come; they did search the Scriptures, and been considered suicidal; and when, if they did consider themselves exceedingly patient recovered, it was due more to the wise. The Pharisees were very learned, and session of a strong will and an iron consti great men of prayers and outward religion, tion than anything else. It must have be But they did not receive Christ: his message a strong constitution, indeed, which could s was a mystery even to one of the best among vive the doses, and blistering, and bleeding them, Nicodemus. Though they were very old days.

diligent about searching the Scripture afterwards,-"ever learning and nevel to come to the knowledge of the tru which has been a lamentable condition ward Christendom. Christ reproved saying: "Ye search the Scriptures, 1 own salvation and the salvation of their At the commencement of the Christian era, lies, if they have such. And as the Jev with that of Christians by priestly influence. a true Christian without it, because God God had given a measure of his light and John to baptize Christ, and that all must Hints for the Sick Room.

I have for a long time been impressed w being outward and in rebellion against the proper care supplements the physician's Light of Christ. There are few of us, comparativ Christ as the seed of woman, came on the speaking, who are competent to eare for

The day is happily past when fresh air a hentire charge of a sick person: we can atel to the preparation of proper food.

f nurse in this way: "She was an excellent ok anything that tasted good to me."

nw better than to eat it; an invalid could freshing. olook at it with anything but an irritable eng of distaste, and it would be carried at expect to get stronger if you won't cat." ruel is made half cooked and half-seags "good" as she says; preparing food to take out just enough from the box. tirly untit for an invalid. And always if a ut of the physician!

tinded to; that the patient would be ex- into the sick room. old too much to drafts, or smothered under ething wrong when he comes in the next to stand.

sick person is like a child, as belpless if possible, by a shaded window. n fully as unreasonable, and should be old harm.

bat do you want for dinner?" or "Can-sunny side of the house, if possible. you think of something which you would veful, should never, unless so ordered, wait is beyond expression. drishing refreshment being given. To a ik person who cannot sleep, and who has en sick a long time, there is really no dif-

ut there is one way in which many of us stand half an hour, and then put it on the a help, even if we are not competent to take stove where it will heat gradually; when it gets boiling hot, skim carefully, and put it where it will simmer gently for half an hour. ow many times we hear a person speak While this is cooking, put a third of a box of Divine grace in their own hearts.

as to the kitchen with the remark: "You have not used sufficient gelatine. The jelly ch may be at hand, and left standing in one package, and divide it in three parts, reand in truth. aroom all day. Then another nurse makes turning two to the box. It is always difficult many blankets, or that the medicines—is much nicer if cold and fresh, if, indeed, ment; nor my being old does not prevent merald be neglected. He is very apt to find it were not decidedly unwholesome, it allowed from seeing it in the beauty of holiness. Al-

All medicines should be covered and kept,

To properly arrange the ventilation of a think of exercising otherwise. A man pure, and at the same time to avoid the I'm sick must be said "mustn't" to, even slightest draft, goes far to promote recovery. ion, still be or she must be watched, and cold room which had not, perhaps, been pro-esh?" A sick person should never be alluxury in the sick room. Even in summer, a heaven. ed to wait until faint before being given little fire morning and evening is not uncom-

rn night until morning, without something Of the necessity of fresh bed linen, of freceat or drink; a little beef tea, jelly or quent bathing of the face and hands, fresh rel, or milk-only a little, perhaps not glasses for the cool, refreshing drinks, &c., I dren of men, to halt no longer between two e than two or three teaspoonfuls—but hope there is no need to speak. One cannot er allow an interval of twelve or more imagine the comfort which attention to these kers to pass, as it so often does, without some seeming trifles gives to the invalid in our care the God that so wonderfully delivered the - The Household.

ence between night and day, save that the even the drinker can appreciate, which was world has so blinded our eyes as to cause us oner is longer and more unendurable. No made by an Iowa drinking man just before to bow down and worship him, then we shall would think it judicious to give such a the election in that State. He said: "I have be left to our choice, but leanness will be our rient nothing after breakfast until late in three boys. One of them is old enough to portion. evening; but it is just as reasonable, in drink, and is drinking. He learned it in the de cases, as allowing one to wait from early saloon. My prayer is, and my vote shall be alted himself in Israel; but when he offended ning to, perhaps, a late hour next morning, cast, to close the saloous before my other boys in Baal, he died." Yes, died spiritually. Lost seef jelly is excellent, when one wants get into them and get to drinking; and I his divine life and power, and became self-tething cool, or is tired of beef tea. Put know scores and scores of other drinking men exalted. He mixed himself among the people; ound of lean beef, cut fine, into a porcelain who are as anxious as I am to close the strangers devoured his strength and he knew tw-pan with a pint of cold water; let it saloons before the little boys reach them. tw-pan with a pint of cold water; let it saleons before the little boys reach them.

For "The Friend."

Religious Views and Tenets.

The main object of a true minister of the gospel is to turn the people to the power of gelatine into a bowl with two tablespoonfuls not, of ourselves, save a brother or a sister ise in every other respect; but she couldn't of cold water, salt the broth to taste, and beloved; but we can, by Divine aid, point strain, boiling hot, over the soaked gelatine. them to the Lamb of God who will, through have seen a slice of toast burned on one Strain again, when the gelatine is dissolved, obedience to his grace, turn them from the c, and scarcely warmed on the other—I into cups or moulds, and put away to cool darkness within to the light within, and from rose to equalize the matter—laid on a cold Keep on ice, and serve a little at a time. This the power of Satan to God: that they might ke, and buttered before the cup of tea or can be taken when the stomach will not re-receive forgiveness of sins and be saved with was poured. A well person should tain broths, and being very cold, is most relan everlasting salvation. There is much in the religion and worship of the present day Mutton or chicken broth is very nice pre- which is calculated to turn the mind of the pared in this way. Do not be afraid you emotional man to that which is outward and showy, instead of to the inward, the silent inseldom hardens in less than six, and some visible Spirit and power of the Lord, wherein times ten or twelve hours. The easiest way alone ability can be received to perform that ord, and brought to the invalid in any dish of dividing is to pour out the gelatine from true heart-felt worship of the Father in spirit

As time advances I become more firmly established in the "religious views and tenets Sea moss is very strengthening, and may which, in many respects distinguished our e person does not progress rapidly, it is the be used in a variety of ways. It makes a forefathers as a peculiar people; but which, very nourishing drink for those who are in recent days, are fast fading away amidst wonder sometimes that a man is found mostly confined to liquids. Wash a few the fogs and darkness of this world that b is willing to study for this profession. pieces, three or four stems, in warm water, lies in wickedness; until now but little aplipractice is often a hand-to-hand fight with then put it in cold water for a few minutes pears left, in places, to distinguish us from prance or heedlessness, sometimes both at Drain, put it in a pitcher, and pour over it a the formal professors around us. The Fa-Pre heard a physician say that, when pint of boiling water. When cold strain, and thers, where are they? And the ancient landceft the rooms of certain patients, he knew add lemon juice and sugar to taste, adding marks which they so dearly bought for us his instructions as to food, regularity of water if it is too thick to be palatable. Keep to follow, where are they? How dimly ing medicines, &c., would not be properly very cold, and carry only a little at a time seen by many, and how little inclination apto the sick room.

Water and lemonade—everything, in fact, The Truth does not wax old as doth a gar--is much nicer it cold and fresh, if, indeed, ment; nor my being old does not prevent me though "all flesh is as grass," and every thing pertaining to this world is passing away, yet the word of the Lord endureth forever. such as have the living and eternal Word reted with a gentle authority one would room, that the air may be kept fresh and abiding as a comforter in them, are in mercy permitted to feel at times, that while the outthe sick must be said "mustn't" to, even slightest draft, goes far to promote recovery, ward man is gradually fading away, the bugh he be the king; and although a Remember that cold air is not always fresh inner man is renewed by that Divine life sent should never be irritated by contra-air. I have often seen a door opened into a which never dies, but is as an anchor to the soul, both sure and steadfast, amid the storms rely but firmly forbidden anything which perly aired for weeks, in order to "air the of life which at times are suffered to beat room," the cooling process being considered vehemently. And so they have the comfortpatient who is faint from want of nour-synonymous with that. Air should come ing hope that when the conflicts of time are shent will frequently refuse food if asked: directly from out of doors, and from the over, "they shall mount up with wings as eagles," and join "the general assembly and An open fire-place is an almost indispensable church of the first-born, which are written in

I am now in my eighty-second year. I have or little nourishment. A weak person, if fortable, and the purifying influence of such lived to see many of the joys and sorrows that belong to this world. O that I could, while the breath of life remains in this mortal frame, persuade, if only a small remnant of the chilopinions, but choose while the day of their visitation lasts, whom they will serve! If Israelites of old, when they relied on Him, be our God, then let us serve and follow Him, That was an argument for prohibition which and worship Him. But if the God of this

"When Ephraim spake trembling, he ex-

"They that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters." Though they may still have a name to live, yet they are dead. "The cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lust of other things have entered in," and, above all, the applause of men; so that the word that was once living and powerful, has become unfruitful.

I have lately attended Indiana Yearly Meeting, during the sittings of the first week And then to Kansas, and attended the Yearly Meeting there. Have heard a great deal in the way of ministry, singing and prayer. But as to bow much of it was from the cultivated intellect of man, is the great question. A question which the unrenewed mind of man can never decide. For the world by its wisdom knows not God; nor the ministry which proceeds from the Spirit of God. It is only understood by the light of that Spirit from whence it flows. And as the natural man has not that spirit, so he cannot know the true ministry, because it is spiritually diseerned. But the true Spirit understands the true ministry; because it searches all things, yea the deep things of God. Of what great value it would be to us, a highly professing people, if we, in the transaction of our church affairs, and in our ministry, could have more faith and dependence in the Spirit that quickeneth, and that would make us alive unto good works; and less in the wisdom and teachings of fallible men. If this were more generally the case, I am abundantly convinced that our meetings would be more to the edification and spiritual refreshment of the hungering multitude than they now are. I have often had to watch, and I think we all should watch, lest the busy work of imagination should be suffered to come forth in words, and be substituted for the simple, yet clear putting forth of the still small voice of the heavenly Shepherd. Yet I want us to watch also, that the true word of the Lord may have free course and be glorified. I am also convinced that before we are fully prepared to enter successfully into the work of the Lord, we must, through the washing of regeneration, and with the assisting grace of God, "cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God." without holiness we shall not be permitted to even see the King in his beauty, nor to behold the land, which to the ungodly, is very far off. How then shall we be able to teach others the way to it, unless we experimentally know for ourselves, the Way, the Truth and the Life!

But I have repeatedly found, during my long life, that it is through much tribulation that we enter the kingdom of heaven. But "tribulation worketh patience, and patience experience, and experience hope." So the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts as a recompense of reward. And our Saviour says, "Because thon hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour oftemptation, which shall come upon all the world to try them that dwell upon the earth. D. H.

Springdale, Kansas, 10th mo. 22d, 1882.

Virginia drinks up her entire wheat erop annually, and it is stated that the liquor drank in Louisiana costs $47,000,000, or $2,000,000 more than its combined cotton, sugar and rice crop. SAVED.

"* * * * I that speak in rightcourness mighty to save."—Isa. lxiii. 1.

O why did I linger So long in the shade, And when He called to me Why was I afraid?

Because sin had bound me. So fast in its chain; But the Saviour he found me And brake it in twain.

In the light of his presence, The warmth of his love, I am waiting to follow The voice from above,

And whither He leadeth, By night or by day, By the pill of fire Or the cloud, on the way.

No more a vile sinner, But saved through his grace, I long to be near Him And look on his face.

For thus a poor wanderer He found, and forgave; The promised Messiah, Is mighty to save!

In the mansions of glory, O, there I shall see The Lamb who was slain, Now precious to me.

There, there, to adore thee, My Lord and my King, As a glorified spirit Thy praises to sing!

O blesséd abounding! Let nothing alloy A union so holy, The peace, nor the joy,

For He hath redeemed A poor soul from the grave. The Son of the Highest Is mighty to save!

San Jose, Cal., 11th mo. 1882.

Selected.

FOR LOVE'S SAKE.

BY MARGARET J. PRESTON.

You have read of the Moslem palace—

The marvellons fane that stands
On the ranks of the distant Jumna,
The wonder of all the lands,

You have heard of its marble splendors, Its carvings of rare device, Its domes and its towers that glisten Like visions of Paradise.

You have listened, as one has told you Of its pinnacles snowy and fair— So pure that they seem suspended Like clouds in the crystal air.

Of the flow of its fountain falling As softly as mourners' tears; Of the lily and rose kept blooming For over two hundred years.

Of the friezes of frost-like beauty, The jewels that erust the wall, The carvings that crown the archway, The innermost shrine of all—

Where lies in her sculptured coffin, (Whose chisellings mortal man Hath never excelled), the dearest Of the loves of Shah Jehan.

They read you the shining legends
Whose letters are set in gems,
On the walls of the sacred chamber
That sparkle like diadems.

And they tell you these letters gleaming, Wherever the eye may look, Are words of the Moslem prophet, Are texts from his holy book.

Original. And still as you heard you questioned Right wonderingly, as you must, nighty to "Why rear such a palace only

To shelter a woman's dust?"

Why rear it?—The Shah had promised His beautiful Nourmahal
To do it because he loved her—

He loved her—and that was all!
So minaret, wall and column,
And tower and dome above,
All tell of the sacred promise,

All utter one accent—Love.
You know of another temple,
A grander than Hindu shrine,
The splendor of whose perfections
Is mystical, strange, divine.

You have read of its deep foundations, Which neither the fro-t nor the flood Nor forces of earth can weaken, Cemented in tears and blood;

That, chosen with skill transcendent, By the wisdom that fills the throne, Was quarried, and hewn, and polished, Its wonderful Corner-Stone.

So vast is its scale proportioned, So lofty its turrets rise, That the pile in its finished glory Will reach to the very skies.

The lapse of the silent Kedron,
The roses of Sharon fair,
Gethsemane's sacred olives
And cedars are round it there.

And graven on its walls and pillars, And cut in its crystal stone, Are the words of onr Prophet, sweeter Than Islam's hath ever known—

Texts culled from the Holy Gospel, That comfort, refresh, sustain, And shine with a rarer Instre Than the gems of the Hindu fane.

The plan of the temple only Its Architect understands;
And yet He accepts (oh, wonder!)
The helping of human hands!

And so, for the work's progression, He is willing that great and small Should bring Him their bits of carving,

So needed to fill the wall, Not one does the Master Builder Disdainfully cast away—

Disdainfully cast away—
Why, even He takes the chippings
We women have brought to-day!
Oh, not to the dead—to the living,

We rear on the earth He trod,
This fane to his lasting glory—
This church to the Christ of God!

Why labor and strive? We have promised (And dare we now recall?)
To do it because we love Him—
We love Him—and that is all.

For over the church's portal,
Each pillar and arch above,
The Master has set a signet,
And graven one watehword—Love.

wateh word—Love.
—Southern Churchma

You had Better Shift Trains.—I took seat in a certain train. The iron horse gan to cough and spit, the wheels began turn, and off shot the cars, rattling, rmmbl away. At the first stopping place I was sprised when the conductor looked at a ticket and said in a very significant wi You are on the wrong train. You'd bet get off here." I took his advice and left once

The affair set me to thinking, for it was interesting fact that I had supposed I wright and yet was going wrong. May rothers be on some train thinking they aright, and yet are in the wrong? You m be young. You do not fancy yourself-serious at fault. You are a bit careless, you mig

But these "littles" indicate a present thing that exalts itself against God .- Selected. irgence from the right, and may grow a serious departure. You are in the ing train and had better leave at once. ou may be in the habit of using intoxi-ang beverages. It is a mere matter of had better change at once.

int," and yet they may give as little thought meeting at present. t cry rings out, "Wrong train! change Assistant Clerk. "-American Messenger.

t They battered the wall vigorously all day, women. made no apparent impression. They ctotter, and it soon fell.

ued long enough.

ne particular in out-door habits, you con- In due time it fell. And so will fall every

For "The Friend,"

Western Yearly Meeting of Friends. (SMALLER BODY.)

The sittings of the Yearly Meeting were wes, sips, occasional drinks, you say. And held in the meeting house at Sugar Grove, ethe dirty tenant of the miserable gutter Hendricks county, Indiana. The select meetonly a taster, sipper, occasional drinker, ing was held on Fifth-day morning, the 14th You are in the wrong train and had of 9th month, and the general meeting comcer leave at once. You may be pursuing menced on Sixth-day, the 15th. About two need, you try to flatter yourself that it is equal. A minister from Canada, and two as follows: int, at any rate of little consequence. It is companions, brought certificates of the unity it go. Still it is a fault. The train is tant parts of Western Yearly Meeting, who ness and short coming. ely going in a direction that is wrong, had never attended the meeting since it has by are honest, they are diligent, they are from N. England was also read and referred blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanseth us they are good citizens, they go to to the Meeting for Sufferings: Friends not from all sin. breb, they claim that they are "about feeling their way to correspond with that h sight of God. Take it as a word spoken expected to report another year. On Seventh-nove, a deed done in love, when a rough day morning. Albert Maxwell was reappoint-

A vacancy in the correspondents of the Yearly Meeting, made by the decease of R. The Battering-ram .- The celebrated archi- W. Hodson, was filled by the appointment of ct, Sir Christopher Wren, had to remove an Joel Newlin. Three Friends in the station ality of Divine worship, nothing of common wient and massive wall in clearing the of elder deceased in the past year, and one importance will prevent us from meeting with y und for St. Paul's Cathedral. The problem minister was recorded. The subject of chang, our brethren and sisters for the performance vs, how to batter down that wall. He ing the time and place of holding the Yearly light of the Roman battering-ram. He Meeting was brought under consideration. if one built, and set a gang of men to work and referred to a joint committee of men and is a mystery to the unregenerate mind. If

On Second-day morning the Queries and vnted to stop; but the architect said, "Go answers were read, and much pertinent coun-They did go on the next day, a third, sel was given, tending to incite to a more to us purth, and I think a seventh day, before faithful maintenance of our Christian profesnen they fail to appear, but to go on doing ary instruction. The exhibit was thought to away r duty, to strike with all our might for the be encouraging, and the absolute necessity of "The Lord visits by his Spirit the children

By, but it is nothing alarming, you say, hope it will encourage others. How long and authorizing the committee to draw on its e might be a little more attentive to your patiently the early Christians battered the treasury for $100, to be expended at its disties, a little more dutiful at home, a little walls of the old Roman and Grecian idolatry! cretion for the assistance of Friends in the education of their children who are unable to give them a guarded education under the care of our Society."

A memorial respecting our late friend, Robert W. Hodson, prepared by Plainfield Monthly Meeting, was read, and several testimonies were borne to his diligence in the work of his day, by some who had known him from forty to sixty years. A meeting for worship was held on Fourthday morning, and in the afternoon the last session for business. After answers to the be wrong course towards your neighbor. hundred Friends were in daily attendance, epistles and reports of several committees had a do not openly recognize it as wrong, the number of men and women being about been read, the minute of advice was adopted

"As the condition and work of our meeting octhing that has a long root, goes back to of their friends at home, with a prospect of has been brought under review by the readraway beginning, an old grudge kept up, religious service, including their attendance ing and answering of the queries, and in the ejudice continued, a suspicious advantage of the Yearly Meeting. There were Friends consideration of the various subjects of infunction once taken and never dropped present from other Yearly Meetings, include terest that have been brought before us, we In varnish it over under a tair name and ing some from Indiana, and others from dis- have been renewedly sensible of our weak-

"The bond of Christian love and true gosbeen held at Sugar Grove. Epistles were pel fellowship brings us into a unity deeper nce more. The general course of your read from co-ordinate meetings in Canada, and stronger than can be expressed by words. iftowards God is wrong. How many culpa- Iowa and Kansas, and a committee was ap- I'If we walk in the light as He is in the light, I give little or no thought to this subject pointed to prepare replies thereto. An epistle we have fellowship one with another, and the

"We profess to be Christians and Friends. What are Christians, what are Friends, but olod as people do to the sun when he has White Lick Quarterly Meeting having sug-real followers of Christ, walking in his fear liped below the western hill-tops. They gested, on account of the reduction in its and counsel; living up to and living out praction only in the wrong train, but they membership by death, that advantage would tically and faithfully all his requirings as Re gone to sleep over the fact. It is a kind be gained by making a change in the distri-manifested in our hearts and minds by that hig to disturb one's ease, to prick one's bution of Monthly Meetings a committee was Divine light, life, and grace, a manifestation e-conceit, to remind self that it is needy in appointed to consider the subject. They are of which it is declared is given to every man

"As we profess to be Friends, we ought to and is laid on that sleeping conscience, and ed Clerk, and Caleb Mills was appointed live up to the doctrines and principles which Friends have ever held. If we are unsettled or doubting in any of these, we are in a condition to be led farther and farther away

"If we are fully convinced of the spirituof it. He that hath not the Spirit of Christ is none of his. The spirituality of the Gospel our religious experience is not such as to regulate our conduct and conversation and intercourse among our neighbors, it is of little avail

"In the days of the Judges, Israel had no hre was any sign of fissure in the wall, sion. A few Friends were named to assist king, and they were left to mark out their Len, all at once it began to crack, to tremble, the Clerk in embodying some of these in a lown course, their highways were obstructed, minute of advice to the subordinate meetings, and Israel walked in byways. As there was Sir Christopher said that the very first blow The subject of education took a strong hold a deep searching required for their deliverthe ram made an impression and weakened on the minds of many, and the report of the ance, so there is a loud call for deep searching wall. Every subsequent blow carried on committee charged with the care of schools of heart, and an earnest individual work, in work. There was real progress all the was considered in joint session. It appeared order to know of a truth whether we are wile, though there was no visible sign of it. that three schools had been in successful under the direction and leadership of our le result was sure, if the operation was con-operation during the year. They were taught King, the Lord Jesus Christ. As much as we by exemplary Friends who were well qualified may be inclined to do the things that may Is it not so when we batter with truth to conduct them satisfactorily as institutions seem right in our own eyes, and much auainst the hoary walls of error? Even if we of learning. Eighty-one children, nearly all thority as we may claim for so doing-yet we no immediate results, there may be a members, had attended them. In the Yearly must enter into a deep searching of heart to akening and trembling visible to angels and Meeting at large 141 children were reported know his will. Remember that He will have God. Our business is not to watch for re-between the ages of six and twenty-one years. not only a tried but a proved people, proved ts, and to grow impatient and despondent None of these were growing up without liter- as by fire, that all the dross may be purged

th, and for God, believing that we cannot maintaining schools under their care was in-of men, manifesting Himself unto them. When he That incident encouraged me; and I sisted upon. "The meeting was united in we have committed sin this manifestation of the Spirit comes to us as a still small voice, condemning.

"It comes to us as a deliverer from sin, drawing us unto Himself, giving us a true sense of our condition. Thus we see that we must be redeemed from sin; the old man being put off, and we brought into fellowship with the Father and his Son, Jesus Christ; experiencing of a reality that his blood cleanseth from all sin.

"Our minds have been brought into affectionate solicitude for our younger members, pared, but also that opportunity was given to which a woman can be licensed alor that the work of true religion may not be marred or obstructed in them by a disposition to evade the cross of Christ. Beware, dear young friends, of the alluring diversions and pastimes, fashions and follies of the present day.

"Let us all examine to know whether we are bringing forth the fruits of rightcousness, adequate help, there may sometimes be an Conference, have licensed them, and p By our truits we are known. What will it advantage in reading the Bible while the presiding elders have put the motion, b avail if we are hearers of the word only, and morning meal is in preparation. Although whole is invalid, and the Conference a not doers of the will of God. Though our one or two members of the household may be elders deserving of censure. Under the service may seem to us as butfilling the water-prevented from being present at the reading; cumstances those women who have lie pots with water, assuredly He will bless all that alternative would probably generally be to preach are entitled to the respect that that is done under his requiring.

cluded to meet at the usual time and place Albert Maxwell, Clerk."

Power of Prayer-A True Incident.-An American judge relates the following incident as occurring in his practice:-He was trying a case, in which one of the parties was not able to pay counsel fees, and undertook to plead his own cause. But he found, in the course of the trial, that the keen and adroit attorney who managed the case for the other party was too much for him in legal strategy, evidently making the worst appear the better The poor man was in a state of mind bordering upon desperation when the opposing counsel closed his plea, and the case was about to be submitted to the justice for decision. "May it please your honor," said the man, "may I pray?" The judge was taken somewhat by surprise, and could only say sionary objects amounts to more than $6,500. The incrustations of lac var that he saw no objection. Whereupon he 000 per annum—about one-fourth of the inch to an inch in diameter. went down upon his knees and made a fervent amount spent for liquors in the same time. prayer, in which he laid the merits of his case before the Lord in a very clear and methodieal statement of all the particulars, pleading cal statement of all the particulars, pleading wealthy, holding property to the value of of lae into long cloth oblong bags, two Lord, thou knowest that this lawyer has mis- probably due to the rise in value of their real gentle charcoal fire, by which process the represented the facts, and Thou knowest that estate. it is so and so," to the end of the chapter. Arguments which he could not present in ship of 6,938; church expenses, $177,638; be-stance, and this drops upon pieces of the logical array to the understanding of men, he nevolence, $42,583. had no difficulty in addressing to the Lord, being evidently better versed in praying than with 25.526 communicants; church expenses from adhering. Shell-lacis almost a purer pettifogging. When he rose from his knees, the opposing counsel, very much exasperated tions for benevolence, $550,407. by the turn which the case had taken said: "Justice, does not the closing argument be-871; church expenses, $314,964; benevolence, the London Times writing from South A long to me?" To which the judge replied:— $297,350. "You can close with prayer, if you please." The man of law wisely forbore, leaving his church expenses, $131,906; benevolence, $200, opponent to win his case, as he did, by his 603 mode of presenting it.

A friend should bear with a friend's infirmities, but not his vices.

For "The Friend," Bible Reading at Meal-time.

In continuation of the subject of reading the Scriptures in families, mentioned by a correspondent in "The Friend" of 11th mo. 18th, it may not be amiss to remark by way of encouragement to some, that a few weeks ago having stayed overnight in the house of The Christian Advocate in reply to a q sti one of our members, and being obliged to take as to the status of female local preacers an early morning train, I saw with satisfacthe body it represents, says: "There's tion not only that breakfast was timely pre- power in the Methodist Episcopal Chul have the Bible read with deliberation before preacher. Certain Quarterly Conferen at taking my departure. In another case, where dertook to license them without law, 11; the family was much larger, the reading was peals were made to the General Confer omitted.

Where there are guests to provide for who subject, and the rulings were sustained. have to leave early in the day, and the mother Quarterly Conferences, in direct violating of the family finds herself, it may be, with in- disregard of these decisions of the G et preferable to the omission altogether of a help-personal characters give them, just as "As we come to a conclusion, we acknowl-ful custom, necessitated by a hurried break- other women. They are entitled to 1 edge the goodness of our heavenly Father in fast and departure. Yet there may be occal ditional honor or power, because they enabling us to transact the business of the sions when the savory conversation of a guest an illegal document. meeting in love and unity. The meeting con- may be as the milk and wine of the kingdom, instructively filling up the brief time lington, Iowa, adopted a chapter on ternext year, if consistent with the Divine will. before departure, so that no loss might ensue ance, forbidding the use of intoxicating of from the almost perforced omission of the for sacramental purposes and condemning stated reading. That duty, indeed, could be voting for candidates for office who favo afterward rightly attended to, in most cases, common traffic in intoxicating liquors. before the family separated for the day.

> the Bible injunction as to hospitality, so far ship are required to be plain, without stee as the preparation of meals is concerned, is and no more expensive than absolutely n not to be overlooked, I believe that any reason- sary. able guest would greatly prefer a very simple repast, served with love, to the cumbering of his or her entertainers with "much serving." J. W. L.

For " The Friend." Religious Items, &c.

the expense of conducting worship in New young juicy spots to which they fasten the York City, the attendant benevolence, repairs selves by their proboscis. The female in of church buildings, and contributions to mis- never shifts her position.

Reformed Dutch Collegiate Church are very lac is prepared by putting a quantity of pi

The Dutch have 22 churches and a member- the bag so as to force out the melted

The Episcopalians have 70 congregation and glossy surface of which prevents the not known exactly, say $600,000; contribu- and dissolved in alcohol, forms a value

Presbyterian churches, 60; members, 19,

Baptist churches, 35; members, 12.725;

Methodist churches, 65; members, 13,359; henevolence, $42,555; support of ministers, panied by either wind or rain. The at bishops, &c., $117,225; current church expenses, $32,836; church maintenance, includ- by awful crashes of thunder, which see ing city missions, $200,661.

Lutheran churches, 19; members, 10 church expenses, $95,000; benevolen | 85

Jewish congregations, 19; membersip 913, (heads of families;) expense a our $202,476; benevolence, $100,000.

Women Preachers among the Methosts. from the rulings of certain Bishops of t

The Free Methodist Conference, held at growing and sale of tobacco for common As a general remark,-while the spirit of is forbidden among them. All houses of

For "The Frie

Natural History, Science, &c. Lac.—This substance forms a crust

rounding the branches and twigs of ce: trees, and is the excretion of an insect c. Coccus lacca. After the larvæ appear Statistics .- The New York Times states that crawl about the stem of the plant in sear

The incrustations of lac vary from hal are broken off from the trees by the nat The Trinity Church Corporation, and the and in this state are called stick-lac. S is melted. When quite fluid each man ty of the plantain placed beneath, the sm varnish

Dry Thunder Storms .- A corresponder of thunder and lightning burst upon us. T were of two kinds, the wet and the dry. ing the dry thunderstorms, the light seemed quite stupefying. It was unacc to shake the earth. One or two tents t a singular mental disturbance. He went to the rescue. on his feet from morning till night, and t, to recollect a single word of the Ger-fowls whenever an opportunity offered." a language, although he ordinarily spoke a returned to him completely.

g lost."

b is probable that such temporary aberrato do their duty .- Scientific American.

es, which have a dark mahogany color little round head to the surface. sugary taste.—San Francisco Bulletin.

ever contracted the disease. Among all find it. students, who during the past two years e attended the hospital of the Manchester rmary, for clinical instruction, not one has ered, all having been revaccinated before ng permitted to enter the small-pox wards. wondon Times.

oda Remedy in Burns .- Cover the burned with a piece of soft rag or lint, or even ek blotting paper, and keep it constantly er or camphorated water. The pain ally soon subsides.

layfulness in Animals.—In his Naturalist lustralia, Bennett speaks of a pair of tame procure one of the heavenly mansions. eus at Sydney. One day some persons e present who did not know the birds, being afraid of them, ran away. Wheren the emeus, enjoying the joke, gave hat.

. G. Wood, has preserved the following rative, which shows the presence of a simi-propensity in horses.

One of our carriage horses, "Charley," lough by no means vicious, was a saucy ow. We had much difficulty in securing of locking the door. Out into the yard This man was followed by another, who rck, and the grass was set fire to in several causes great boys to find amusement in teas. The advice was excellent in itself, and it supses within sight of our camps, but no life ing younger ones,) drove him into a corner, plied one of the omissions of the previous and, seeing that the little fellow was fright- speaker; yet it did not bring into view the urious Partial Loss of Memory.—An En ened, kept him there by shaking his head at need of repentance for the sins we have comin scholar during a holiday excursion in him whenever he attempted to escape. I Hartz mountains, subjected himself one happened to be the first person who discover-

"I knew the animal's funny tricks, and he ne course of the day's wanderings, made knew that I was not afraid of him, therefore vral ardnous ascents, taking no rest, and he allowed me to lead him back to the stable, ther eating nor sleeping. At night, when only giving a parting shake of the head to and that he is not at liberty in his own will veached a place where he could supply his his late prisoner. Although so fond of liberty and wisdom to add thereto what might seem als, he was unable, to his great astonish-himself, he would thus imprison dogs, cats or to him needful to round it and render it more bith fluency. His memory did not fail short-tailed field-mouse, which had been found in any other respect; he knew his own so covered with ticks that it could hardly ruage as well as ever, and recalled per-crawl. It was picked up, cleared from the dy all the incidents of the day. As soon vermin and placed in a box. It was so gratee had thoroughly rested, and had eaten ful for the relief, that it did not try to escape, s of memory are more frequent than are learned to come when called, and was let out man stand here before you whole. This is monly supposed; and that they may help of the box every day to play about the room. account for some of the otherwise unac-Strange to say, he showed a decided appreptable failures of men in responsible pla-ciation of fun, a favorite amusement being to hide himself in a basin of corn, which was fescal.—This is an article of diet prepared kept for his benefit. In this he would bury heaven, given among men, whereby we must be Indians from the roots of a species of himself, refusing to answer to his name, and be saved." And also the subsequent testiury plant. The thick portion of the plant evidently expecting to be looked for. If my mony of Peter and the other apostles: "The the root of the leaves is exposed to a friend took no notice of him, Peter's slender God of our fathers raised up Jesus whom ye thered roasting in a pit filled with hot stock of patience soon became exhausted; first slew and hanged on a tree, Him hath God des and covered over with leaves. When a shrill squeak was heard, then the corn flew exalted with his right hand to be a Prince ciently cooled the cooked plant is cut in up in showers, and, at last, up came Peter's and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel

Dr. Bennett, in his "Gatherings of a Naturotective Effect of Vaccination .- The most ralist," mentions that a couple of young duckking of all evidence is that derived from bills in his possession used to play at hidesmall-pox hospitals themselves. At High- and-seek behind the furniture of the room.

THE FRIEND.

TWELFTH MONTH 2, 1882,

ago, who was not a member of our religious Grace of God-and if this effect is not pro-Society, where a large company was gathered, duced in us, we cannot be saved, for nothing wetted with a cold saturated solution of the assembly was addressed by a man, who that is impure or unholy can ever enter the arbonate of soda (baking soda,) in plain stated that he believed their deceased friend kingdom of heaven. All must be "washed, had finished her work on earth, and he exhorted those present to be diligent in the per- Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God." formance of their duties so that they might ence to suppose that they needed Divine help the apostles, "Lord, increase our faith. to enable them to live godly lives. Whether it was intended or not, those who listened to the discourse might easily infer that their salvation depended solcly on their own efforts, as he could slip or untie his halter, take and that it was as legitimate a fruit of their ked Charley, where he found the coach-dwelt principally upon the importance of lives little boy. The animal did not attempt ing in communion with the Lord, so that they mitted; and appeared to regard our Saviour principally as an example of holy living, to be to a severe physical strain, which pro-led them, and, although but a child myself, imitated and followed by all who bear his name. In making this criticism, we do not overlook the fact, that the duty of a minister of the Gospel is to proclaim the message given him at the time by the Head of the Church, complete. Yet the impression left on the In the Zoologist, there is an anecdote of a mind by the remarks of the preachers on this occasion was, that their hearers had need to remember the language of the apostles, when brought before the Jewish Council to give account of the healing of the lame man,-" Be it known unto you all, and to all the people afood which he procured by signs, his Ger-land on the very first day took food from the of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of hand of its benefactor.

Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God
Little "Peter," as he was named, soon raised from the dead, even by Him doth this the stone which was set at naught of you builders, which is become the head of the corner. Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under and forgiveness of sins.

When we are brought under condemnation for our many transgressions-for our refusals to obey the Divine will as shown to us individually by the Light of Christ shining into during an experience of 40 years, no One would hide itself and then give a squeak, our hearts—for our choosing our own way se or servant, having been revaccinated, when the other would hunt for it and at last instead of submitting ourselves to the Divine guidance; and feel the terrors of the Lord for disobedience-when we are made sensible that we are sinners and have no claim on the Divine favor; -what a blessed message it is to be told that there is One who can give "repentance" and "forgiveness of sins!

This repentance will lead to forsaking of At the funeral of a young woman not long sin through the powerful operation of the sanctified and justified in the name of the

There is at the present day a spirit widely prevailing, which reasons away or under-The advice was good so far as it went, but values the plain language of Scripture, and it was felt to be painfully defective, and also would destroy all belief in the atonement of liable to mislead the hearers, for there was no our Redeemer. Those who are exposed to its reference to the indispensable experience of influence, either by converse with those imse after one of the fugitives, and took off repentance for sins past, as a preliminary to bued with it, or by frequent perusal of articles a sense of their remission; no reference to the tinctured with such rationalism, have need to need of pardon; and nothing to lead the audi- be on their guard, and to adopt the prayer of

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES .- The Sioux Commissioners were in St. Paul on Second-day last week, on their way to the i, as he could slip or untic his halter, take and that it was as legitimate a fruit of their Standing Rock Agency. Judge Shannon, one of the rather bar and open the stable door. One labors, as the wages of a mechanic are of his Commissioners, said they had held Councils at the Santee, Pine Ridge and Rosebud agencies, and found the Indians in all cases willing to separate and go to farming, and also anxious for the education of their children. The Commission, it is stated, "will recommend the allotment of about 26,000 cows to the agencies urt the child, but (with that feeling which might be prepared for happiness hereafter visited, and also the establishment of one school for each rations until the Indians become self-supporting."

All the Navajoe Indians in New Mexico have re turned to their reservation, and no further trouble onsly heavy demands upon Irishmen in America to with them is expected this year. The Commissioner support the Land League, there has been a considerable of Indian Affairs has refused to allow the chiefs of the decrease in the remittances to the struggling natives in Mille Sac Indians in Minnesota to go to Washington for a "pow wow." He tells them that "the terms of He tells them that "the terms of tion of being unable to purchase new seed. the treaty will be faithfully adhered to, and that so long as they refrain from committing outrages they will not be compelled to remove to the White Earth Agency

The Northern Pacific Railway by the close of this year will have but 310 miles incomplete, with large forces of workmen steadily closing the gap at both ends. The entire supply of construction material for the uncompleted portion is ready, with much of it delivered where needed. This year the company has built 410 morning of the 21st ult., and two girls were killed by impping from upper windows, and ten or twelve other persons were injured, two, at least, fatally. The building was unprovided with a fire escape. The loss on property is about $70,000.

The Mayor and City Councilmen of Elizabeth, New Jersey, have joined in a circular urging the creditors valuation on which taxes can be collected is a little over ~10.000.000.

Diphtheria and other contagious diseases being prevasequence. A few new cases of yellow fever have occurred in Pensacola within a few days, but only two of the existing cases are regarded as serious. The Health Board has only two nurses now on duty. Absentees are re-turning to the city in full force, business has been resumed, and the Advance-Gazette newspaper is again published, after a suspension of two months.

There were 349 deaths in this city last week, an increase of 21 over the previous week, and 22 more than the corresponding week of last year. Of the whole land had been seized, but the stoppage of commber, 185 were males and 164 females: 65 died of those papers in England was unnecessary. consumption; 29 of diphtheria; 21 of pneumonia; 19 of croup; 12 of marasmus; 13 of apoplexy, and 11 of old age.

Markets, &c.-U. S. 3's, registered, 1021; 31's, registered, $101\frac{1}{8}$; $4\frac{1}{8}$'s, registered, $112\frac{1}{8}$; conpon, $113\frac{1}{4}$; 4's, $119\frac{1}{8}$; corresponding to $133\frac{1}{8}$; 4's, $133\frac{1}{8}$.

Cotton continues dull at former rates. Sales of middlings are reported at 103 a 11 cts, per pound for up-western do. at $5 a $5.75, and patents at 6.25 a $7.25. Rye flour is steady at $4.25 a $4.37\; per barrel.

Grain,-Wheat is a fraction higher. Sales of 3800 bushels red and amber, in car lots, at $1.01 a $1.12, as to quality and location. Rye is nomined at 67 a 70 ets. Corn is quiet but firm. Sales of 8000 bushels to the trade at 90 a 91 cts. for old yellow; 65 a 70 cts. for new yellow, and 62 a 65 for white, according to dryness, Ours are in limited request at former rates. Siles of 9600 bushels, in car lots, at 431 a 49 cts. for mixed and eef cattle were dull and unsettled: 3600 head sold at the different yards at 31 a 63 cts. per 1b., the latter rate for extra.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 11th mo. 25th, 1882.—Loads of hay, 400; loads of straw, 80. Average price during the week—Prime timothy, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 100 pounds; mixed, 90 cts. to $1.00 per 100 pounds; straw, 75 to 85 cts. per 100 pounds.

Sheep were in fair demand: 15,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards, at 3 a 54 cts., and lambs at 4 a 71 cts. per pound, as to condition

Hogs were a fraction lower: 4400 head arrived and to enable him to establish twelve scientific, commercial Managers. sold at the different yards at 81 a 10 cts. per lb., as to and hospital stations along the Congo river. quality

FOREIGN.—It has been officially reported to the Government that widespread distress is feared in Ire-It recommends the Chamber to devote itself chiefly to palsory, with the penalty of withdrawal of rations. The through want of employment on farms and the failure recommendations were approved by a great me plan includes the continuance of ammunition and of the potato crop are Sligo, Ballina, Swineford and of the Deputies. Thirty Radical members ab the greater portion of Galway. There is much destitu- themselves from the opening, so as to avoid takin tion in West Clare and Connaught. Owing to continusupport the Land League, there has been a considerable Empire from 2nd mo. 1st to 9th mo. 1st, increas This has reduced many of them to the condi-

> amily, at Manutrasan, and sentenced to the object Montenegro is disposed to accept a compromise family, at Manutrasan, and sentenced to be hanged. The Porte-mannely, the cession by Turkey of ba The remaining four men charged with complicity, who Kloatchin District, instead of the whole district, had not been brought to trial, pleaded guilty and first demanded by Montenegro.
>
> They of the Constantinople Vaket states that the sho were sentenced to death, but will probably have the punishment respited to penal servitude.

of Dublin, on the 26th ultimo. The assassin and seveto aid in serving processes on the Skye crofters. The authorities of Aberdeenshire have agreed to send a detachment of police to the Isle of Skye, to assist in the serving of processes, providing the Commissioners of the Court. A very uneasy feeling is beginning to Invernesshire will hold themselves responsible for their vail. expenses. In the meantime defensive arrangements on of that city to accept the proposition for a settlement on the Island are proceeding. At a mass meeting on the between England and China will soon be settled the basis of 50 per cent. The debt and interest to 7th island one of the speakers said that any tenant paying the the Che-Foo Convention is not ratified the settle mon. 1st, 1882, amounted to 86,700,000, while the city rent, unless revails attend would be a marked, will be on the line of that instrument. man. It was resolved to take every lawful means to prevent tenants from taking evicted farms. There is some prospect of a settlement between the crofters and lent in Boston, the Health Board of that city has for-their fandfords. The latter have consented to submit bidden public funerals in the cases of persons who die the dispute to arbitration. The county police have reof such diseases.

M. Liguant diphtheria has appeared in the village of Millerton, near Poughkeepsie, and the schools have been closed and families are leaving the place in consequence.

Ceived promise of a reinforcement of eighty constables. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers. In support of their prayers in support of their prayers.

London, 11th mo. 27th .- A train on the North Scotland Railway, which left Macduff, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, fell through the bridge at Fyvie, Aberdeenshire. Fourteen persons were killed and many injur d. between decks or bulkheads forward or aft of the er The engine had passed in safety, but all the carriages partitions.

were wrecked.

In the House of Commons, Trevelyan, Chief Secretary for Ireland, replying to a question by — Healy, said that since 8th mo. last, all the copies of the Irish World and the Irish Nation which had arrived in Ireland had been seized, but the stoppage of circulation of some plantations have commenced grinding. Cons

Admiral Seymour and General Wolseley have been gazetted peers.

of joint control of Egypwill should be obtained at the interests of both factory settlement, compatible with the interests of both other parts of the Island estimate the decrease at 20 cent. The merchants, as a rule, however, constitution of the interests of both other parts of the Island estimate the decrease at 20 cent. The merchants, as a rule, however, constitution of the interests of both other parts of the Island estimate the decrease at 20 cent.

Giffen, President of the Statistical Society, has delivered his inaugural address. His subject was the inlands and New Orleans.

Petroleum.—Standard white, 7\(\frac{1}{2}\) cts. for export, and lence of population statistics upon political thought.

His subject was the inlinence of population statistics upon political thought.

Her referred to the growth of the population of the learned states Government, with rs glob burrels, including Minnesota extrus, at $

10 third States, which, if footnined, he said world cause to the losses suffered by Americans during the Ce great difficulties. The masses of laborers would have incurrencing that they will act in conformity with $

$5.50 a $0.52; Pennsylvania Lamily at $4.65 a $7.55; he adjusting of the bases upon the Certain of the losses and probably there would evenually the scale of living, and probably there would evenually the scale of living, and probably there would evenually the scale of living and probably the would evenually the scale of living and probably the would evenually the scale of living and probably the would evenually the scale of living and probably the would even the laminest and lin in the losses where the scale of living and probably the would even the laminest and lin in the losses where the laminest have been allowed to reply to the more of the losses where the laminest have been allowed to reply to the particular that the particular that the probably the would even the laminest and line probably the would even t he a diversion of the larger part of the stream of emigration from Europe and the Eastern States of America to the northwestern part of Canada.

A reactionary movement would seem to have begun in England in the matter of wearing birds. We read in Truth of a garden party at which a young girl was boycotted for wearing on her hat "two sweet little gray doves," which, she boasted, some one had shot especially for her. The other girls searcely spoke to her, and made the men promise to neglect her, and she was only reinstated into general favor when she removed her hat, confessing that she had never thought of the cruelty to the birds.

On the 21st ultimo, in the French Chamber of Depu ties, the bill ratifying De Brazza's Treaty with the Congo Chief, Makoko, was adopted. M. Duelerc, Pres-ident of the Council, said that the execution of this Treaty could not give rise to any difficulty. Duclere read the text of the treaty of 1836 with Portugal. He pointed out that it reserved all the rights of France. The Government, he said, will shortly ask for a grant of 200,000 francs for De Brazza's expedition, in order thirty children; the attendance at the schools to be com- land this winter. The districts most seriously affected economic, social and administrative questions, oath to the King and to the Constitution.

Rome, 11th mo. 22d.—Parliament was opened to-day.

Official returns show that the revenue of the R 000,000 roubles, and that the expenditures dec 26,000,000, as compared with the same period last

In consequence of the representations of the Po Two men were convicted of the murder of the Joyce Montenegro is disposed to accept a compromise the Red Sea as far as the Gulf of Bussora are Ottterritory, and that sales of plots of land to foreigne A detective named Cox, was shot dead in the streets the native tribes are in contravention of the Imp irade. Some of the Ulema special agents will st

The Callender building at Providence, Rhode Island, Coepied by jewelry and other firms, was burned on the Govan, Partick and Perth have all refused the applier recognize the cession of Massowah or any territo morning of the 21st uit, and two girls were killed by eation of the authorities of Incomposition for constitution of the 21st uit, and two girls were killed by eation of the authorities of Incomposition for constitute in the 21st uit, and two girls were killed by A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Comfrom Cairo says: The trial of Arabi Pasha has:

been postponed, with the consent of the Preside There is reason to believe that the opium que

The various estates in the Finland Diet, excep peasant Representatives, have petitioned the Cz give permission for the introduction at the nexts-of a bill granting full liberty to the press in Fin They refer to the loyalty and tranquillity of the I the night of the 21st. All her crew of twenty perished, except four. The Wearmouth was an vessel of 1100 tons, built for the coal trade, withou

The cut of lumber in the Ottawa Valley, Car this season, will, it is estimated, reach 800,000,000

the largest since 1873.

The stock of sugar in Havana on the 27th ult., i ported at 27,175 tons. In the jurisdiction of Santa (ing the drought in the greater portion of the Islam whole season, the northern winds came too early, ri ing the cane before it had reached its full develope It is announced on good authority that the question. The planters in the Sagua districts believe that the of joint control of Egypt will soon be brought to a satis- will be fully 50 per cent, below the last, while the There were eight de these calculations premature. There we from yellow fever in Havana last week.

Islands have left Cuba for the purpose of settling Mexico, and it is said a Mexican agent has contra for three hundred more to leave the Island for the s destination.

A Meeting of the Teachers' Association of Frie of Philadelphia, will be held at Boys' Select Sch 820 Cherry street, at 2.30 P. M., on Seventh-day, 1 mo, 2d, 1882. Subjects to be discussed: Least Comr Multiple and Greatest Common Divisor; Care of Hea Written Examinations.

Friends interested are invited to attend.

MARY W. WOOLMAN, Secretary

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE, Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelphi Physician and Superintendent-John C. Hall, M Applications for the Admission of Patients may made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Boar

> WILLIAM H. PILE, PRINTER, No. 422 Walnut Street.

THE RRRN)

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, TWELFTH MONTH 9, 1882.

NO. 18.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

ic if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid n advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON. MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J. ptions, payments and business communications, received by

JOHN S. STOKES, INO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS,

PHILADELPHIA.

Atmospheric Germs. here have appeared at different times in columns of "The Friend," notices of some te remarkable discoveries of modern times lation to the living organisms which are fised through the atmosphere, and which a so important a part in the processes of tefaction and infection. One of the obrers and experimenters on this subject, I Tyndall, has collected into one volume essays and papers in which he had preosly recorded his observations; and the presents such an interesting exhibit of e agacity, patience, perseverance, and canwith which his researches were carried and of the manner in which one observaleads to another in the sincere seeker truth; that a more connected account te whole subject, it is thought will prove lable and interesting to the readers of

I is a familiar observation that the rays of tion. sun shining into a darkened room, reveal track by the particles of dust which are cfloating in the air. In the course of some sarches into the decomposition of vapors ght, it was necessary to remove this dust, at the experimental tube containing the prs, should embrace no substance capable cattering light in the slightest sensible ee. In attempting to effect this removal, U-tubes were placed in succession in the of the air, before it entered the liquid se vapor was to be carried into the exmental tube. One of these contained fragets of marble wetted with caustic potast the other fragments of glass wetted with rentrated sulphuric acid. Tyndall found the air still retained a considerable amount echanically suspended matter, which was hinated when a beam of light was passed nugh the tube.

yndall says, "I tried to intercept this ing matter in various ways; and on Ocr 5, 1868, prior to sending the air through edrying apparatus, it was carefully pered to pass over the top of a spirit-lamp e. The floating matter then no longer pared, having been burnt up by the flame. as therefore organic matter. I was by no ens prepared for this result; having presly thought that the dust in our air was, reat part inorganic and non-combustible. I had constructed a small gas-furnace, now we are always living in an atmosphere of much employed by chemists, containing a dust, which we inhale into our lungs, and platinum tube which could be heated to vivid, which comes into contact with all the exposed redness. Within this tube was a roll of pla-surface of our bodies. The belief has gradutinum gauze, which, while it permitted the ally grown up that many of the forms of epiair to pass through it, ensured the practical demic disease to which man and other animals contact of the dust with the incandescent are liable, are due to the absorption from the metal." The result was, that the floating air of certain germs which sometimes exist matter totally disappeared, having been burnt in and form part of this dust, and which have up. This condition of the tube he expresses the power of growth and reproduction in our by the phrase, "optically empty."

minated the dust of the laboratory, I placed acorn gives birth to an oak, competent to an ignited spirit lamp. Mingling with the produce a whole crop of acorns, each gifted dam ganted spiritually. Singing with the product a whole crop of acondicing its parent wreaths of darkness resembling an intensely tree; and as thus from a single seedling a black smoke. On placing the flame at some whole forest may spring; so, it is contended, distance below the beam, the same dark these epidemic diseases literally plant their reveal its clouds of liberated carbon.

underneath the beam; from it the black contagious disease reproduces itself, wreaths also ascended. A large hydrogen This theory was strengthened by flame was next employed, and it produced covery in 1836, that the process of fermentacopiously than either the spirit-flame or the which when placed in a proper medium feeds, poker. Smoke was therefore out of the queslight the darkness due to its own perfect ments of other scientists. transparency. Nothing could more forcibly illustrate the invisibility of the agent which renders all things visible. The beam crossed, unseen, the black chasm formed by the transthick-strewn particles shone out like a luminous solid under the powerful illumination."

The removal of the floating matter from the air was also effected by filtering it through a would be very little tendency to such an affecplug of cotton wool closely packed in the tion. So saturated have the walls of some tube. The small particles adhered to the such buildings become with these poisonons wool and were retained. The same effect germs, that they have been torn down as a takes place in vessels which remain closed air-tight for a considerable time. The gentle danger, the practice has been introduced into currents caused by the varying temperature, surgery of throwing a fine spray of carbolic bring all parts of the enclosed air in succes- acid solution on wounds when they are exsion into contact with the sides of the vessels, posed to the air in dressing. This material and the motes adhere thereto. Sent through seems to have the power of effectually defails to render its track visible.

bodies, and thus produce disturbance by the "In a cylindrical beam, which strongly illu-development of parasitic life. "As a planted masses stormed upwards. They were blacker seeds, grow and shake abroad new germs, than the blackest smoke ever seen issuing which, meeting in the human body their profrom the funnel of a steamer; and their re- per food and temperature, finally take possessemblance to smoke was so perfect as to lead sion of whole populations. There is nothing the most practised observer to conclude that in pure chemistry which resembles the power the apparently pure flame of the alcohol lamp of propagation and self-multiplication posrequired but a beam of sufficient intensity to sessed by the matter which produces epidemic disease. If you sow wheat you do not get "But is the blackness smoke? This ques- barley; if you sow small-pox you do not get tion presented itself in a moment and was scarlet-fever, but small pox indefinitely multithus answered: A red-hot poker was placed plied, and nothing else. The matter of each

This theory was strengthened by the disthose whirling masses of darkness, far more tion is due to the yeast-plant, a living organism, grows and reproduces itself, and in this way carries on the process of fermentation. What, then, was the blackness? It was Schwann, of Berlin, in 1837, announced the simply that of stellar space; that is to say, important fact that when a decoction of meat blackness resulting from the absence from the is effectually screened from ordinary air and track of the beam of all matter competent to supplied solely with calcined air, putrefaction scatter its light. When the flame was placed never sets in. Putrefaction, therefore, he asbelow the beam the floating matter was de-sumed to be caused not by the air itself, but stroyed in situ; and the air, freed from this by something in the air which could be dematter, rose into the beam, jostled aside the stroyed by a sufficiently high temperature. illuminated particles, and substituted for their These results were confirmed by the experi-

Additional confirmation was given to this theory by the well-known fact, that many hospitals become so infected with germs of disease, that in them patients suffering from parent air, while, at both sides of the gap, the wounds, or from diseases that require the use of the knife, are exceedingly liable to have the exposed surfaces affected with malignant inflammation; though in other localities there sanitary measure. As a preventive to this such air, the most concentrated beam of light stroying the vitality of the germs, or at least ils to render its track visible.

From these observations it is evident that cavities of the body, by them.

Of preventing the infection of the exposed cavities of the body, by them.

J. W.

Religious Views and Tenets.

be turned out of the way; but let it rather be that perish." healed," so that we all may be strengthened Our holy Redeemer says: "Not every one through righteousness unto eternal life to press onward in the narrow way to life that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter Jesus Christ our Lord." eternal. But to purify and fit as for eternal into the kingdom of heaven; but he that life, we have to be baptized with a deeper doeth the will of my Father which is in only a preparatory and superficial work. It Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy the world.

heritance in the heavenly land beyond the in time turn from the spirit of man to the sing?" asked Cædmon. "Sing the creati spiritual Jordan—they having been baptized Lord. "There is a spirit in man; and the in the stranger continued. This gave him c in it, and cleansed by the washing of 'peges-spiration of the Almighty giveth them under-eration, and the renewing of the Holy Spirit, standing." And nothing short of the inspira- "he had never heard before." Then or divine life which was lost in the fall. But tion of the Almighty can give us an under-stranger left him and he awoke. Great Christ comes in the temple of the heart, as a standing in relation to spiritual or heavenly his astonishment that he was able not on the heavenly mansions, where nothing impure is in us, know the things of man, and become that he was able not on the heavenly mansions, where nothing impure is in us, know the things of man, and become can ever enter. "But who may abide the day very wise in relation to the things of this to whom he told what had happened, we of his coming, and who shall stand when He world; but the things of God, or of the world greatly amazed, and reported the matter appeareth? (in this way) for He is like a reto come, we cannot know only by the Spirit Hilda, who sent for Cadmon and questions fire, and like fullers' soap. And He of God. True, we have the Holy Scriptures him about the matter before the learned shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; and in addition to the immediate revelations of that lived in the abbey. His simple st He shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge the Holy Spirit. But they were given by in and the sample of his verse, convinced t them as gold and silver, that they may offer spiration of God. And it takes something of that he had received the gift by inspirate nnto the Lord an offering in righteousness, the same inspiring light of revelation that but they wanted to test the matter, and Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusa the holy men of God had as they were moved pounded to him a portion of Holy Script lem be pleasant unto the Lord, as in days of by the Holy Ghost to write them, to enable bidding him to repeat it in verse; the old, and as in former years," &c. But they us to understand them to profit. So we need day he came with a poetic version of g are not all Israel which are of Israel. "But the inspiration of the Almighty to give us an beauty. Then the abbess invited him to c the children of promise are counted for the understanding. As man in the fall became her house as a monk, and induced him to seed." "He is not a Jew now, which is one destitute of the divine life and heavenly outwardly," &c., (Romans ii. 28, 29.) The derstanding, how are we to be restored by Jews then were a self-confident people; be-God, through Christ, the second Adam is As age advances, and my bodily strength lieving they were the chosen of the Lord, quickening Spirit, breathing in us afres declines, I am increasingly convinced that I But we see their zeal for God was not accord-breath of life whereby we become living st should not be filling the design of my merci-ing to a heart-felt or a heart-changing knowl- Our first parents, through disobedience to full Preserver and Redeemer, if I were to sit edge of Him whom to know in the regeneral test that they had given them, lost the down in stupid indifference, while the ways tion is life eternal. "For they being ignorant life. But we, through obedience to the of so many of my fellow men are as the ways of God's righteousness, and going about to or trials of faith that we have given us, of the crooked twining serpent. I believe it establish their own righteousness, had not lieve may not only be restored to the l would be more in accordance with the divine submitted themselves unto the righteousness innocency and purity that they had, but will concerning me, to use the greater part of of God." We may follow a transformed light we may be raised by Christ to a more s my remaining strength in endeavoring, either and take it for a true light; and thus allow fast state in Him who never fell; and fi by pen or tongue, to strengthen the things our reason to take the place of revelation be crowned with an immortal life which ! which remain that are ready to die; and as And our own ideas of the fitness of our work cannot destroy; and become as pillars in far as ability is given, to stir up even the pure in the church may govern us in things where temple which shall go no more out. So mind by way of remembrance, that we may in simple obedience to the leadings of the true read the Scriptures aright, more is gaine "make straight paths for our feet (towards light is required at our hands. Great is the Christ than what was lost by Adam h the heavenly kingdom), lest that which is lame a deceivableness of unrighteousness in them fall. For "as sin bath reigned unto dea baptism than that of John. His baptism was heaven. Many will say to me in that day, was figurative of a deeper baptism that reaches name? and in thy name cast out devils? and the heart. It did not cleanse the fountain of in thy name done many wonderful works?

At a very early period, centuries be sin and corruption there. It was a baptism And then will I profess unto them, I never the Reformation, considerable portions of the Reformation of the Reformati sn and corruption there. It was a daptism of repentance for the remission of sins; but it alone did not remit sins. That was left for one that was to follow after who is mightier than John. He was to balvize with the Holy Spirit, and also with that divine fire which decemer's name, and doing many wonderful teresting and instructive. purifies the heart from the fleshly fallen ua- works for Him, but that He never knew them The very first notice reads more like le ture, and makes us new creatures in Christ in it all. But they were sentenced to de-than history. At Whitby, on the east of Jesus. This is a baptism which not only part from Him as workers of iniquity. We of England, there stood in the seventh cen cleanses the outside, but it also burns as an oven, inwardly, and thus takes away the sin of above—a day which we cannot evade—a. The life in the abbey was not strictly relig of the world, out of the heart, and gives us day in which the sinner in Zion (the church) but admitted of pastime. When the the answer of a good conscience towards God, shall be afraid, and fearfulness surprise the work was over, all the inmates and der by the resurrection of Jesus Christ again in hypocrite. Yes, the hypocrites; those who ants would meet in the common ball and the heart. The baptism of John was all right are passing to and fro in the churches; flat-guile the evening hours with poetry and s as far as it went, and as far as the figure is tering the credulity of the unwary, saying in Among the humble retainers of the al concerned. "He was a burning and shining effect: "Thus saith the Lord, when the Lord was a certain Cadmon, so ignorant that, w light;" but he was not the true light which hath not spoken" by them. But no new thing his turn came to take the harp and si lighteth every man that cometh into the world has happened to us as a people, (except that verse, he could not do it. This greatly He was only to prepare the way of the Lord, the devastation is more widely spread, neither tified him, and moved him abruptly to l and make the paths straight of Him who is is it any marvel; "for Satan himself is trans-the ball, and hide his shame in the str the life and the light of men, and the light of formed into an angel of light. Therefore it where it was his duty to keep watch; a e world.

John was as one crying in the wilderness, formed as ministers of righteousness." I feel dreamed, or saw a vision of wonderful rea But his ministration foreshadowed one who no hardness in bringing these plain scriptures. He heard a stranger call him by his m was to follow after, and who was to perform to view. But I want, as a faithful watchman saying: "Cadmon, sing me something." a deeper work; and who was not only able on the tottering walls of our Zion, to warn protested that he had nothing to sing, but a deeper work; and who was not only able on the tottering walls of our zion, to warm provided the solid state of such amongst us as are deceiving others, and stranger insisted, saying: "Nay, but to lead his followers out of the wilderness of such amongst us as are deceiving others, and stranger insisted, saying: "Nay, but the result in the given them an eternal in below deceived themselves, that they might hast something to sing." "What may to lead his followers out of the wilderness of such amongst us as are deceiving outers, and that something to sing." "What must be world but to give them an eternal in-being deceived themselves, that they might hast something to sing." "What must be shirt of man to the sing?" asked Cedmon. "Sing the creating the sing?" asked Cedmon.

Adam, even so grace might much more

Dublin, Ind., 11th mo. 22d, 1882.

Anglo-Saxon Translators of the Bible

At a very early period, centuries b n to us, and a few stanzas of the very first name. added in a free English version. They of course, not what we now call a transical paraphrases, rather vague and mys-

> Now should we laud and praise, Publish in grateful lays What God hath wronght. Praise the Creator kind, And of his glorious mind, The work and thought. How by his mighty word,

He the eternal Lord, The universe made. First like a roof was spann'd, Work of his mighty hand, The welkin he laid.

Then for his children here Did the Creator rear The beautiful land.

he Scriptures into the language underrch. In his extreme old age he conceived pupils as amanuenses, who, at first, seem who had bought it from a Bible colporteur.

tten" (descripta), when Bede rejoined: ood, thou hast spoken the truth: it is find. Hold my head, and turn my face to spot where I have been wont to pray.' en this had been done, he exclaimed, ory be to the Father, and to the Son, and the Holy Ghost," and breathed his last. m the translation, which has been prered, the following is an extract in English hn i. 6-12): "6, A man was sent from God, ose name was John. 7. This man came Light, that all men might believe through 8. He was not the Light, but that he uld bear witness of the Light. 9. That coming on this mid-earth (into this times.

t of the histories of the Holy Scriptures." he power that they might be the children own glory. e of these metrical translations have come [bairns] of God, to them that believe on his

The Saxon king, Alfred the Great, was a translator of Holy Scripture, but not an exact on, or even a metrical version, but simply one, as is evident from his celebrated mutilation of the Decalogue. But it is a fault more Jerome's translation, from which most of the before their eyes, wept with a loud voice; Anglo-Saxon translations have been made.

following extract from the famous homilies church with its first beginning; when the of the illustrious Elfric, who flourished in the members thereof adorned the doctrine of the eleventh century. It narrates the creation of gospel in their lives and conversations; and Eve (Gen. 2), and runs: "Then said God, It the fruits of the Holy Spirit, viz., their patience, is not fitting that this man be alone, and have long-suffering, gentleness, meekness, temperno help; now let us make him a mate for help ance, love, sincerity, truth, humility, selfand comfort. And God then caused Adam to denial, plainness of speech and habit, were sleep, and as he slept, he took a rib from his conspicuous to all. Wherefore we carnestly The beautiful land.

Mid-earth, almighty Lord,
Rose at the gracious word,
And at thy command.

The are indebted for this account of the of my flesh; be her name Virago, that is to the inward manifestations of the Divine iest rude attempt of conveying the sense female; * because she is taken from her hus-light, which discovers and reproves the deeds band. Then Adam afterwards bestowed on of darkness, and leads to purity and holiness, d by the people, to the venerable Bede, her another name, Eva, that is life: because and every good work; begets true unity and of the brightest lights of the Anglo-Saxon she is the mother of all living."—S. S. Times, fellowship one with another, and a reverent idea of translating the Gospel of St. John "What Did Jesus Say?"—The pathway to the vernacular. With his accustomed across a field near a village in Ireland was gy be had translated as far as "But what strewn with the fragments of some torn-up you, that the several branches of our Chris-

It is said that Lady Napier, during the time | 1750. that her husband, Lord Napier, was Governor of Madras, visited the schools of the Church Missionary Society at Salamcotta, and was so pleased with everything she saw and heard that she asked permission to plant a young banyan tree in the school-compound in token of her pleasure. With much ceremony the tree was planted, but it never grew, and yet a witness, that he should give witness of to-day a magnificent banyan tree spreads its umbrageous arms over that school-compound. Whence came this? It has arisen from one of

* The debased sense in which the word "virago" is the true Light which enlighteneth every now used in English was not known in Anglo-Saxon many Bible histories in verse. Accord- world). 10. He was on mid-earth, and mid-the stakes which were put round the young to Bede, " he sang of the creation of the earth was made through him, and mid-earth and favored banyan tree to guard it. Even d, of the origin of man, of the whole his did not know him. II. He came to his own so God is working at home, raising from among of Genesis, from the exodus of Israel to and they received him not. 12. But truly those whom perhaps we have looked upon as possession of the promised land, and of how many soever received him, to them gave worthless, "trees of righteousness" for his

For " The Friend,"

Ancient Testimonies and Advices. THE PRESENT STATE OF THE CHURCH COM-PARED WITH ITS BEGINNING. "Dear Friends, as it is recorded in Holy ous, but for that very reason all the more or less common to most of the Anglo-Saxon Scripture, that 'many of the Priests and versions, which appear to have been made on Levites, and chief of the fathers, who were the principle of popular utility, rather than ancient men, who had seen the first house, on faithful reproduction of the Latin text in when the foundation of the second was laid so many, in this our day, are affected with An interesting example is supplied in the grief, in comparing the present state of the and sacred regard to the truths delivered in "What Did Jesus Say?"-The pathway the Holy Scriptures."-London Epistle, 1740. "Dear Friends, we think meet to remind they among so many? (John vi.9.) when book. It was a copy of the Bible, which the tian testimony, which our worthy elders attack of asthma confined him to bed. priest of the parish had destroyed, on dis-were called to bear, and for which they ugh unable to write himself, he employed covering it in the possession of one of his flock, patiently underwent a fight of afflictions, were not taken up in their own will and wisave written at his dictation, but, as his A countryman passed by that way, not dom, but effectually impressed upon their mity increased, to have made a first rough beeding the scattered papers till a tiny scrap minds by the divine operation of the Holy station, which they read to him for core caught by the wind, lighted on his sleeve. Spirit of Christ, convincing their understandion. Thus the work went on incessantly. He was about to cast it from him when his lings, and strengthening them to walk in pite of his distressing sickness, until one eye was caught by the last words on the obedience to the convictions received. Thus any some of his youthful seribes (perhaps heer t himself, who records the circum, what the torn paper meant, he tried to district the circum and the convergence of the convictions received. Thus the convergence of the convictions received. Thus the circum what the torn paper meant, he tried to district the circum. nce with great tenderness) said: "Beloved miss the matter from his mind, but in vain. Christian example, that one might follow ster, one chapter only yet remains to be Constantly the question was stirring within their steps. Let us, in this day of more case e. Does it distress you to answer quess?" "No," he replied; "take your penrect, and write as fast as you can." Later the day, while he was distributing his beJesus said. Thus reading, not one but many lighteousness, with which the unwearied adtings among his disciples, the amanuensis of the gracious words which proceeded out of versary of souls is laying wait to ensuare us, kein with the exclamation: "One sentence His mouth, and receiving those words into have our understanding so darkened, as not y, beloved Master, remains to be written." his heart, they became to him the joy and to discern the importance of those testimonies e said: "Write it quickly!" Presently rejoicing of his life. Truly the Lord "disap-which our fathers were led to a perfect sight youth announced: "The sentence now is pointeth the devices of the crafty," and the of, and steady perseverance in, by the light "wrath of man shall praise him."-Selected. of Christ, that unerring guide, which, if we follow, will direct us in the same path."-Ibid.

"Let us, we earnestly entreat you, brethren, under the present circumstances of outward ease and liberty in matters of religion, which God in his mercy bath influenced the king and parliament to continue to these nations, beware of indulging ourselves, and of sitting down at rest, or falling asleep, in a state of indolence or carnal security. But let us rather consider this day of outward freedom and tranquillity, as a day of imminent danger, wherein our adversary, the devil, restrained from 'devouring as a roaring lion,' is incessantly excercising his wiles and subtilty as a serpent, to beguile and seduce us into a lnkewarm and indifferent condition in matters of religion, and a supineness and negligence in that great and most important concern of our soul's salvation. The numerous snares of this subtle enemy being adapted to every age and erreumstance of human life, make it every man's indispensable duty to be always upon his gnard: let us, therefore, continually keep in mind the precept of our Saviour: 'Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation.'—Did. 1755.

"To what is this obvious deficiency-(in that essential duty of meeting at the times set apart for the worship of Almighty God)to be imputed? Is it to the want of members sufficient to support our meetings with reputation and to advantage? In many places this is by no means the case; the multitudes that assemble on particular occasions demonstrate the contrary. If we look honestly for the true cause, shall we not find it in our own breasts? Have not many entertained a lukewarm spirit, a coolness of heart towards religious exercises, instead of that fervency of love, that ardency of concern for their own growth, and for the good of all, which were so conspicuous in our faithful predecessors?" -Ibid. 1765.

"Our worthy predecessors were, and the faithful among us now are, concerned to bear testimony, both in doctrine and practice, not only against the numerous innovations and superstitions, invented in the times of apostacy, whereby darkness, in a great measure, covered the earth, and gross darkness the people; but also against their continuance amongst protestant communities; such as a hired and coercively supported ministry, ceremonial performances in worship, with their various appurtenances. As we cannot join in the practice of these things, neither can we actively contribute towards their support. For as we are plainly assured in the sacred writings, so we firmly believe, that the right qualification for true gospel-ministry is freely given by Christ, and by Him the gospel is commanded to be freely administered; acceptable worship being only that which is performed in spirit and in truth.

"And, dear Friends, we find it necessary to remind you that our worthy ancestors, having their eye directed toward an enduring inheritance, and their affections established upon things above, sought not after greatness in this world, but passed the time of their sojourning here in fear, and in great simplicity of heart, as well as of outward demeanor, endeavoring thereby to reach the Divine Witness in every mind, and promote the love of truth and righteousness among mankind."—

Bid. 1167.

Nothing does so establish the mind anid the railings and turbulence of present things, as both a look above them and a look beyond them—above them, to the steady and good hand by which they are ruled; and beyond them, to the sweet and beautiful end to which by that hand they will be brought.—Jeremy Taulor.

"God respecteth not the arithmetic of our prayers, how many they are; nor the rhetoric of our prayers, how neat they are; nor the geometry of our prayers, how long they are; nor the music of our prayers, how methodical they are; but the divinity of our prayers, how heart-sprung they are.

"A LITTLE BAD."

"Come, darling, come! The voice was sweet, Yet baby only shook her head, And so, in tones all tenderness, Rebukingly her mother said:

"I'm sorry you're so wilful, dear, I called, you would not come, but stood; Now, go into the dining-room And don't come back till you are good."

A sudden meckness seized the child, With eyes bent downward to the floor, Obedient now, she straightway went, Yet paused a moment at the door.

Her face revealed a strife within,
A veil more thin no spirit had:
She raised her earnest eyes and said,
"May n't I be a little bad?"

O human nature! still the same, In child, or man or woman grown, That when God says, "Give me thy heart," Would keep a portion for its own—

Some cherished sin, some fault that lies 'Twixt us and heaven when we would pray, Not knowing that surrender hlest Enriches while it takes away.

Not almost, oltogether thine, Help us, O Lord, henceforth to be; To give ourselves a sacrifice Holy, acceptable to thee.

- H. Jackson.

Selected

WEAVING THE WEB.

"This morn I will weave my web," she said,
As she stood by her loom in the rosy light;
And have the said by the look and the

As he sood of her room in the roy high; And her young eyes, hopefully glad and clear, Followed after the swallow's flight. "As soon as the day's first tasks are done, While yet I am fresh and strong," said she, "I will hasten to weave the beautiful web Whose pattern is known to none but me!"

"I will weave it fine, I will weave it fair,
And ah! how the colors will glow," she said;
"So fadeless and strong will I weave my weh,
That perhaps it will live after I am dead."

But the morning hours sped on apace; The air grew sweet with the hreath of June; And the young lover hid by the waiting loom, Tangling the threads as he hummed a tune.

"Ah! life is so rich and full," she cried,
"And morn is short though the days are long;
This noon I will weave my beautiful weo—
I will weave it carefully, fine, and strong."
But the sun rose high in the cloudless sky;
The burden and heat of the day she bore;

And hither and thither she came and went,
While the loom stood still as it stood before.

"Ah! life is too busy at noon," she said;
"My web must wait till the eventide,
Till the common work of the day is done,
And my heart grows calm in the silence wide;"

So, one by one, the hours passed on, Till the creeping shadows had longer grown; Till the house was still, and the breezes slept, And the singing birds to their nests had flown.

"And now I will weave my web," she said,
As she turned to her loom ere set of sun;
And laid her hand on the shining threads,
To set them in order one by one.

But hand was tired and heart was weak;
"I'm not as strong as I was," sighed she;
"And the pattern is blurred, and the colors rare, Are not so bright or fair to see!"

"I must wait, I think, till another morn; I must go to my rest with my work undone; It is growing too dark to weave!" she cried, As lower and lower sunk the sun. She dropped the shuttle; the loom stood still; The weaver slept in the twilight gray; Dear heart! Will she weave her beautiful web

In the golden light of a longer day?

"The gates of hell are open night and day, Smooth the descent and easy is the way."

INDIAN SUMMER.

Just after the death of the flowers,
And before they are buried in snow,
There comes a festival season,
When Nature is all aglow—
Aglow with a mystical sphendor
That rivals the brightness of spring—
Aglow with a beauty more tender
Than anglet which fair summer could brin,

Some spirit akin to the rainbow
Then borrows its magical dyes,
And mantles the fair-spreading landscape
In huse that bewilder the eyes.
The sun from his clond-pillowed chamber Smiles soft on a vision so gay,
And dreams that his favorite children,
The flowers, have not passed away.

There's a luminous mist on the mountains, A light, azure haze in the air, As if angels, while heavenward sooring, If a left their bright robes floating there; The breeze is so soft, so caressing, It seems a mut token of love, And floats to the heart like a blessing From some happy spirit above.

Oh! beautiful Indian Summer!
Thou favorite child of the year,
Thou darling, whom Nature enriches
With gifts and adornments so dear!
How fain would we woo thee to linger
On mountain and meadow awhile,
For our hearts, like the sweet haunts of Natur
Rejoice and grow young in thy smile.

Not alone to the sad fields of autumn
Dost thou a lost brightness restore,
But thou bringset a world-weary spirit
Sweet dreams of its childhood once more;
Thy loveliness fills us with memories
Of all that was brightest and hest—
Thy peace and serrently offer
A forelaste of heavenly rest.

The important distinction was explicate to them between the Word, which was in the beginning with God and was God, and be Bible, a subject on which their ideas confused, from having been accustome to hear the Scriptures styled "the word of 6." After alluding to the memorable conferm between the Saviour of the world and be woman of Samaria, who, when told she had a five husbands, &c., left her water pot and vat her way into the city, and said, "Come, & a man that told me all things that ever I 1; is not this the Christ?" I asked them if in had not at seasons felt something will themselves which brought to their remibrance sins and transgressions that had be long ago committed-things which they wold be glad to forget, much rather than remen! with painful retrospect; querying where they had not long been sensible of this, be they ever saw the face of a missionary or he his voice? On this some of them shook t heads and answered in the most satisfact manner, with unequivocal simplicity and cerity, yes, that they had, long enough a proving a fact which I have never doub since the Lord Most High was pleased reveal the Son of his love to my finite und standing, that the gospel has been preact in and unto every creature under heaven. reminded them of the apostle's declaration the Romans, "That which may be known God is manifest in them, for God hath shov it unto them," and "He hath showed thee man, what is good." This, I told them, that gospel "which was preached to eve creature which is under heaven," to evi son and daughter of Adam .- From the nar tive of Daniel Wheeler's visit to the Tahitia in his Journal.

A True Story from Humble Life.

ary A. Deats was born near Haddonfield, , in 1842. She had a fall, when about a ck old, which, it was thought, injured her ie, and made her a cripple through life. mother dying when "Polly" (as she was mys called) was one and a half years old, situation was truly sad and forlorn. Her ernal aunt, Mary Allen, was at that time g with a valuable Friend, Sarah Nichol-in the village of Haddonfield. Feeling h compassion for the neglected condition er little niece, this aunt (although dedent upon her own exertions for a liveli-1) with the consent of her generous friend in brought Polly to her home when she about three years old; and devoted hera her new situation, she came under the flligible to most persons.

ntertaining her little friends with them, of them. wing a care to have them well preserved

Holy Scriptures.

When about eight years old, on going to bed speak His blessed words of peace." night, she pointed to the sofa, and exen she felt a sense of pardon for past sins; lalthough conscious many times after that, transgression, she did not rest easy until had asked and obtained forgiveness, both her Heavenly Father and earthly care-

N. died. She had written ont a catalogue nes of sixty persons. In it she says: "Mary ats, or 'little Polly,' as everybody calls her, was often alone. a smart, little, active girl, who knows a eat deal, but cannot talk or walk, but tries end Sarah N-

After the death of her friend, her aunt, assisted by many who were interested in them with her friends, she sought the Lord in secret, both, moved to a house of her own; here they in the silence of home, declaring in her simple lived together, until she was about fourteen, way, that she and "Up" had their meetings when she was placed in the Germantown together. School for Imbeeiles, but this was not an apwith great affection and efficiency to the propriate place for her, as she was not deficient when she had arrived at the age of thirtyof caring for her, during the remainder in intellect, but in physical power. Returning nine, was a suffering one, neuralgic pain minfrom this school she never left home again.

ee of many, who were anxious to have all joined to the Baptist Society, of which her part to the blessed land she had so long wished that was possible, for the development of aunt was a member. Being physically un to enjoy. Some days previous to her death, powers, as she was unable to use her able to go through with the usual forms, she her aunt observed her gazing carnestly at the os, either to walk or feed herself; and was was told that she would be considered a mem-ceiling as if something there attracted her atber without them, which seemed to satisfy tention; on questioning her, Polly said she saw her, and she took great interest in the visits "Mom," (meaning her old friend S. Nicholson) lthough her nervous system was thus af- of her pastor, and other members of the meet- and that she was calling her to come "Up. ed, her intellect was not impaired, and she ing. Indeed, all Christians were peculiarly She sent for some of her friends to come and k great delight in the books which were welcome and appreciated; her love and rever- bid her farewell, the day before she died, and ented to her, although she could not read ence for piety continued through life; in this it was solemn as well as sweet, to sit in the n herself. Her dolls and playthings, of way were many of the valuable friends alluded room with that helpless girl, and feel that her ch her kind friends had given her a good to, drawn to her, and as a result, corresponds soul was aspiring to the glories of eternity, e, were also appreciated; she took pleasure ence by letter grew up between her and some, having been washed and purified and justified,

We will give an extract from a letter of Spirit of our God, put away neatly, when not in use. he used to push about the floor in a little field, Ninth Month 27th, 1868, she writes:

le, that Polly might accompany her on all the visits I have paid in this village, none partook, and then declining to have any more, to the third word of the partook, and then declining to have any more, be her to meeting with her, leaving the full to me than those by thy bedside. There said "Up," and in an instant she was gone to riage in an adjoining room, so that she has been such a sense of the Saviour's pres- joy unspeakable, and full of glory. ht hear the sermon through an open door, ence, such an evidence that in all thy weakbe Friend she lived with was very atten. ness and suffering. His Almighty Arm was feeling the least fear of being left alone when and careful discipline. - Bishop Temple. When about ten years old, her kind friend her annt was necessarily absent from home, saying "Up" would take care of her-and Some of Mary Deats' Friends," giving the according to her faith so it was unto her, for not until about 1724 that the passion for ginno harm came to her in many years, and she drinking appears to have infected the masses

The privilege of friendship was continued She greatly enjoyed the office of housekeeper, teenth century-incomparably more so than to Polly through life, and the circle of her when her aunt was out-for this she received friends widened as years went on, and in- a stipulated sum, and earned, at one time, cluded some of the best people in her own enough money to buy a pair of sheets for her neighborhood, and singular as it may seem, extended to distant places. In England, New especially after the year 1868, when she had York, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, in Camden, a severe spell of illness, which left her much and other parts of her own State, were those enfeebled. She had to endure the conflicts she claimed as friends. She loved warmly, incident to the Christian warfare, signifying and welcomed her visitors with pleasure, ex- she knew when she felt naughty; but it is pressing this by such signs as she was able believed the watch was maintained, and her prayers were fervent and frequent.

Deprived of the privilege of social worship

Her last illness, which was in the year 1880, gling with her other complaints. It was all At an early age she felt anxious to become patiently endured, but she was anxious to dein the name of the Lord Jesus and by the

She lived through that day, and until about three o'clock on the following morning: one "Let me tell thee, my dear friend, that of of the nurses offered her drink, of which she

Undisciplined Tempers .- The touchy and to the interests of this little invalid, and round about, and His loving, compassionate sensitive temper, which takes offence at a all she could for her happiness. She was eye over thee, that we who are in the enjoy word; the irritable temper, which finds of he habit of reading alond to her from the ment of health, have often been constrained fence in everything, whether intended or not; le, morning and evening. Polly would secretly to return thanks to our Father in the violent temper, which breaks through all most reverently to "Mom" as she called Heaven for the rich compensation. He gives bounds of reason when once roused; the jealand always counted it a privilege to hear to his afflicted children, in that He seems to ous or sullen temper, which wears a cloud on draw so very near the couch of suffering, and the face all day, and never utters a word of complaint; the discontented temper, brood-Sincerity was a marked feature in Polly's ing over its own wrongs; the severe temper, seed by signs a wish to be taken there and character; it pained her to be thought un-seed upon her knees, which being done, she truthful. Gratitude may also be mentioned ever is done; the wilful temper, which overwed by her earnest manner and the motion as another, she was so thankful for the many rides every scruple to gratify a whim-what her lips, that she was speaking to her gifts and kindnesses bestowed upon her, and an amount of pain have these caused in the avenly Father, though the expressions so appreciative of them. Her manner of hearts of men, if we could but sum up their re not understood by those present. In speaking of her Heavenly Father was quite results! How many a soul have they stirred er-life she referred to this period as the time original; she would glance her eye upward, to evil impulses; how many a prayer have and say "Up," when asked who sent her such they stiffed; how many an emotion of true and such things; showing that her thankful-affection have they turned to bitterness! How ness ascended beyond the instrument to the hard they make all duties. How they kill Great Giver of every good and perfect gift, the sweetest and warmest of all domestic Her trust in Providence was remarkable; not charities! Ill temper is a sin, requiring long

Rise of Gin Drinking in England .- It was of the population, and it spread with the ra-Polly's disposition to industry must not be pidity and the violence of an epidemic. Small overlooked, for though unable to work with as is the place which this fact occupies in y bard to do both; she loves every body her hands, she exerted what powers she had English history, it was probably, if we cony much, not forgetting her most dear to be useful. Her unwavering love and devo-sider the consequences that have flowed from tion to her aunt were among her good works. it, the most momentous in that of the eigh-

annals of the country. The fatal passion for its attachment to the position of our standards no vegetation whatever was to be seen; w drink was at once, and irrevocably, planted on this subject, and exhorted ministers and being very scarce, the soil was compose in the nation. The average of British spirits elders and people to testify against and ex- clay and sand mostly, and the petrilacti distilled, which is said to have been only pose the evils of said associations by word broken into millions of pieces, lay seath 527,000 gallons in 1684, had risen in 1735 to and by deed.—Report to the Synod in Iowa. 5.394.000 gallons. Physicians declared that in excessive gin-drinking a new and terrible in the Christian Cynosure, an open letter of freat and cold had broken most of the source of mortality had been opened for the the meetings of Friends of Carthage and sections from 2 to 10 feet long. Man poor. The Grand Jury of Middlesex, in a Spiceland, Indiana, in whose meeting houses them must have been immense trees; sev powerful presentment, declared that much he had been allowed the opportunity of plead- which were measured were from 150 to the greater part of the poverty, the murders, ling against secret societies. In it he says, feet in length, and from 2 to 4½ feet in the robberies of London, might be traced to some of their ministers who sat by his side in ameter, the centres often containing beaut this single cause. Retailers of gin were ac-those meetings had joined the Free Masons, quartz crystals. customed to hang out painted boards, an Odd Fellows and other secret orders : and he nouncing that their customers could be made calls upon these to repent and renounce all of green scrub wood in the fire, and eater drunk for a penny, and dead-drunk for two-connection with these "unfruitful works of the sap driven out of the other end in a b pence, and should have straw for nothing; and cellars strewn with straw were accordcovered.—Lecky's England.

For " The Friend," Religious Items, &c.

Chinese Christians in New York .- A writer speedily extricate themselves therefrom. in the National Baptist, who had been visiting among some Chinese converts in New York pression of the Liquor Traffic.—We have relis as long a time as a cable can safely City gives a pleasing account of their meek- ceived from S. Hope, of England, a copy of trusted without renewing. ness and forbearance under insult and ill-treat- the Alliance News, containing a detailed acment. One of them was recently exposed to count of the annual meeting of this body held draw a load on a level road of sand requi tian."

pursuing its peculiar proceedings in India, to exercise a direct veto on the liquor traffic. Duration of Telegraph poles.—Poles cut
The leaders have been informed by the Courts One of the resolutions appeals to all elec-winter last several years longer than the that they are at perfect liberty to teach their tors to form temperance electoral association in summer. Cedar poles (winter cut) le doctrines in all proper times and places, but tions in their respective limits, which will about 16 years, chesnut 13, spruce 7, junii have no right to create disturbance, excite support candidates who will vote for Local 13. The soil in which they are set influent fanatical opposition, and provoke collisions Option. in the streets.

The Mennonites have members in nearly every county in the State of Pennsylvania. and settlements in many of the Middle and Western States and in Canada. They keep has received from Fort Wingate, New Mexico, no record of their numbers-holding the same portions of two stone trees, one from the neighview in regard to this as they do in respect borhood of the fort, the other from the banks gardens. After sending up a sprout of to giving of alms—"Take heed that ye do of the Lithodendron, 20 miles from Navajoe inches or so in height, it droops over a not your alms before men to be seen of them." Springs, Arizona. The expediency of secur-erawls on the surface. Some of the large They have about 3500 members in Lancaster ing them was suggested to the commander of trunks are 8 or 10 feet in length, and as lar Co., Pa., 1100 in Montgomery Co., 1200 in the fort by General Sherman. The party de-round at the stump as a man's waist. Bucks Co., and smaller numbers in the other tailed for the purpose were well supplied with counties

Secret Societics vs. Presbutcrianism.—Secret oath-bound societies are contrary to the pro-that the Navajoes, who were pasturing their many years. From 250 to 300 tons of agatfession of the United Presbyterian church, as sheep about the head-waters of the Lithoden- are annually brought here from Brazil. J they are declared in our testimony to be dron, thought it very strange that the "Great per, amethysts and a variety of other mi contrary to the Bible. The law of the church Father in Washington" should want some of erals are also worked at the same place. The on this subject has been re-affirmed more the bones of the "Great Giant" their fore are polished by grinding on large sand-ston than once by her General Assembly, and at fathers had killed years ago when taking which revolve rapidly and are kept constant times under considerable pressure, she has possession of the country, the lava beds being wet steadfastly refused to lower her testimony. the remains of the blood that ran from his At the last meeting of the synod, our trumpet wounds. Specimens by thousands were found found that in addition to the Alligators, gave no uncertain sound. The attention of on each side of the valley of the Lithoden-species of Crocodile inhabits some parts our people was called to the aggressive move-ldron, there about half a mile wide. Along Florida—generally in the salt-water creek any event in the purely political or military ments of secret societies, the synod declared the slopes, which were perhaps 50 feet h darkness."

ingly provided, into which those who had be such a direct and positive statement in a letcome insensible were dragged, and where ter evidently written in a friendly spirit, unthey remained until they had sufficiently re-less he had received information which he charge of certain suspension bridges in Frai considered reliable. If the report is true, it whose duty required a careful examination is a thing to be lamented; and we hope the them each year, found that reddish spots few who may have been entangled in this pearing on the surface of the cables in pla snare of the enemy of all righteousness will liable to be wet, was an indication that an unprovoked and lawless assault at the in Manchaster, England, in the 10th month, a power equal to one-fifth of its weight, hands "of wicked and unreasonable men." The meeting was cheerful in its tone and ordinary earth one-tenth, on hard clay or Witnesses declared that throughout the at-seemed encouraged by the advances which twentieth, on ordinary cobble-stones one-s tack made upon him, he did not speak one had been made in probibition legislation esteenth, on good cobble pavements one-tl word or do the least act of provocation. Anpecially that which closed the public houses tieth, on ordinary Belgian-blocks one-fortic other thus describes his experience on a ferryin Wales on the First-day of the week. A on asphalt one one-hundred and thirty-thi boat. "One night go over to Brooklyn; bad memorial was addressed to W. E. Gladstone, on iron rails one two-hundredth of the lo man drunk on boat; he strike me; one say, referring to a declaration made in Parliament | The economy in horse power obtained strike him back. Me say 'No strike; t a in 1880, that the evils of intemperance in Great using the hardest and smoothest roads Christian.* When boat land, I run; man Britain are equal to the combined calamities of clearly shown. If one horse can just draw drunk run, and strike me again; but God not war, pestilence, and famine. It asks that the load on a level over iron rails, it will take let him hurt me; but if wicked man should public sale of intoxicating liquors be pro horses to draw it over an ordinary earth re kill, then I go to heaven! Glad I a Chris-hibited, either by direct Imperial enactment, and 40 over a sandy road. These proportic or by a Local Option law, which shall enable will not hold good where the load has to The Salvation Army has been stopped from the inhabitants in their respective localities lifted as well as moved, as in going up hill

For "The Friend,"

Natural History, Science, &c.

Fossil Trees.—The Smithsonian Institution tools and appliances.

all adown the slopes. Some of the large for Water from Wood .- By thrusting the e trough, an Australian supplied himself w We suppose he would searcely have made water and saved his life while crossin; waterless region. Duration of Wire-Cables .- The enginee: centre or core was rusted. His observati The United Kingdom Alliance for the Sup- lead to the conclusion that about thirty ye Power Required for Drawing Carriages.-

their duration. On an average, they requ to be replaced about once in 12 to 15 years

Willow-trees of the Alaska Islands.-Ellio in his "Monograph of the Sea Islands Alaska," says the creeping willow is the or form of tree found in the Pribyloo grot They progress like a cucumber-vine in o

Agate Polishing .- At Oberstein, in German the business of polishing agates and oth In his report, the lieutenant in charge says semi-precious stones has been conducted f

American Crocodile.-It has recently be e West India islands. The mother crocowatches over her young, and when they hatched from the eggs buried in the sand, disgorged for the purpose.

onsciousness of Wrong-doing .- This is illus-nett, of a Siamang Ape :

ould occasionally cast a furtive glance had come in contact.

n it."

ever, was running about with every ap- the notice of the others. ance of nervousness. There was Tokla, We doubt not there are many who have point, he made a rush at the poor sheep, h his ears back, and squeaking borribly. sheep ran away when it could, only standand butting at its little opponent when en into a corner, and evidently in a deste fright." The dog was perfectly aware he was doing wrong in attacking the ter came on the scene.

THE FRIEND.

TWELFTH MONTH 9, 1882.

e doubt not that those who are accused to watch the operations of their own ds, have often observed the well-recogd fact, that our powers of observation are tly affected by the degree of earnestness which the mind is turned towards those cts in which we are interested.

inquiry were made of a company of per who had performed the same journey, as tended to the nations of this continent to send years.

. It is the Crocodilus acutus, and is found minds, it would be found that one had ob-ble at Washington in November, 1882. served with especial care the character of the soil and farming, the kinds of crops and the by Congress in the premises, and that no pronumber and variety of domestic animals, vision has been made for necessary expenses, ds them and feeds them with masticated Another would have noticed the trees and I subsequently decided to postpone the conplants which were native to the country over vocation, and so notified the several Governwhich he had passed, and have drawn instructments which had been invited to attend. I ed by the following anecdote, related by tive comparisons as to the effect of climate am unwilling to dismiss this subject without and soil on these vegetable inhabitants. An-assuring you of my support of any measures Once or twice I lectured him for taking other's mind would have been much occupied the wisdom of Congress may devise for the y my soap from the washing place, which with the character of the roads over which promotion of peace on this continent and yould remove for his amusement, and he had journeyed, and of the vehicles in which throughout the world, and I trust that the e it about the cabin. One morning I was he had ridden; and with the detentions he time is nigh when, with the universal assent ing, the ape being present in the cabin, had met with, or the facility with which be of civilized peoples, all international differn. easting my eyes towards him, I saw had passed along. To another the most ab-ences shall be determined without resort to hittle fellow taking the soap. I watched sorbing object of study would have been the arms by the benignant processes of arbitra-without his perceiving that I did so; and personal characters of those with whom he tion."

ards the place where I sat. I pretended If the same individual were to pass over rite; he seeing me busily occupied, took the same route in successive years, when his become familiarized with the idea of settling soap and moved away with it in his paws, thoughts were running in somewhat different the disputes which arise by peaceful negotiaon he had walked half the length of the channels, there would be a corresponding dif-tion or by reference to disinterested parties, ked back again, and deposited the soap The same law applies to our reading. One ly in the same place from which he had may take such a book as the New Testament and peruse it, with his thoughts directed to ansfield Parkyns, in his work on Abys- the accuracy with which the original Greek , speaks of a semi-tamed hunting-dog, has been rendered into English-another may of the wild animals of the country,) critically examine the version as a literary to he named "Tokla." He says: "Once production—another may study it as an hisstling noise as of animals running about, quest of Mexico, -and another may regard it mixed with my pet's shrill, squeaking as a repository of texts from which he can cone. On going out, nothing was apparent struct a system of theological doctrines. Each a sheep lately bought for dinner, which, of these will probably see much that escapes se voice I had just heard uttering notes been conscious of their minds being opened innsual excitement, lying quietly in a to receive new instruction from passages in er, shamming sleep, but peeping at me the Scriptures which they had often presame manner. Our Heavenly Father comsaid nothing, but concealed myself in a municates to his obedient children light and through the branches that formed the knowledge as He sees meet for them. In their s of which I could observe all that passed. reading the Bible, He may teach them at one a short time the little brate lay motion- time a lesson for which they have a present in the same position as I had left him. especial need; and at another time He may r awhile, however, he got up stealthily, open their eyes to behold in the same passages tehing himself as if just awake, but at the another lesson adapted to their wants at that e time taking a furtive glance to see that time. Again, He may, without any very defiwas quiet. Having satisfied himself on nite teaching, bless the opportunity by tendering the heart or imprinting on it a sense of his holy, solemnizing presence,-which is as spiritual manna, nourishing the soul.

The instant he found I saw him, he arrested his attention.

May we then be increasingly concerned, in reading these precious writings, to have our minds turned to the Lord for instruction and comfort, realizing that it is only through faith p, and so feigned to be sleeping when his which is in Christ Jesus that they are able to make us wise unto salvation; and that without Divine assistance we are liable to "wrest" them to our own destruction.

The Advices of our Yearly Meeting in reference to the Scriptures declare: "As a true understanding of the Divine will, and mean ing of Holy Scripture, cannot be discerned by the natural, but only by the spiritual man, it is therefore by the assistance of the Holy Spirit that they are read with great instruction and comfort.'

We notice with satisfaction in the President's Message the following reference to a Peace Congress:

"About a year since invitations were ex-called by the Indians the long-nosed alli- to the strongest impressions left on their representatives to a Peace Congress, to assem-

In view of the fact that no action was taken

The more this subject is kept before the public mind, and nations and governments n, I spoke quietly, without frightening ference in the objects that most strongly the greater is the probability of resorting to such rational means rather than to the brutal appeal to force.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES.-Both Houses of Congress convened in Washington on the 4th inst. The President's Message which was transmitted, refers to the action of our overnment in regard to American citizens imprisoned nember being attracted into the yard by torical narrative, as he would Prescott's Con in Ireland, to remonstrance with Russia against persecuting the Jews, to American protection of the proposed Panama Canal, and to the failure of peace negotiations between Chili and Pern. Our revenue last year from all sources was $403,525,250; the total expenditure for an sources was $400,02,520; the total expenditure for ordinary purposes was $257,981,440; leaving a surplus of $145,543,810. This, with $20,737,695 of spare cash already in the Treasury, was applied to paying off $166,281,505 of the public debt during the year. The President thinks it impolitic to collect so large a revenue, and advises the abolition of all Internal Revenue taxes except those which relate to distilled spirits. He also advises a reduction of duties on foreign imports, but wishes it to be distinctly understood that he is "far from advising the abandonment of the policy of so discriminating in the adjustment of details [of the Tariff] as to afford aid and protection to domestic The Post-office Department is more than paying its way, and will soon be accumulating surplus ing its way, and will soon be accumulating surplus profits; he therefore suggests a reduction of letter-post-age to 2 cents. In regard to reform in Civil Service, President Arthur asks that both the Executive and Congress shall be relieved of the pressure brought to bear upon the appointment of a hundred thousand persons! Other subjects of minor importance are handled, and on the whole the document is able and prac-

The public debt statement for 11th month shows a decrease of $5,534,142.

A recent discovery by the General Land Commissioner of "land frauds of startling magnitude in connection with the Osage Indian lands in Kansas, led to an order by the Commissioner suspending "all least on order by the Commissioner suspending "at cash entries made by single men since June 23d, 1881, where the lands lie within the counties of Sumner, Harper, King and Comanche, Kansas." In bis letter to the Register and Receiver at Wichita, Commissioner McFarland says "it has come to his knowledge that numbers of entries have been made in these counties by cowboys, who immediately afterward turned the land over to their employers."

The State Department has issued a pamphlet entitled "Ostrich Farming in the United States," which con-tains "full information concerning ostrich farming at the Cape of Good Hope and Algeria, from the hatching of the eggs to the export of the feathers, together with the estimated expense of importing birds into the United States, and the probabilities of the success of the experi-

Off Horton's Cove, Long Island, a bed of native oysters has been found, which is said to have an area of five square miles.

The water in the Hudson river, at Albany, is said to be lower than has been known at this season for twenty drying apples at the rate of 1000 bushels per day, and Madagascar. sending them to Europe.

The steamer Jessie E, Bell arrived at New Orleans on the night of the 4th from Plaquemines, with 527 hogsheads and 351 barrels of sugar and 1400 barrels of molasses. This is said to be the largest cargo of sugar and molasses received in New Orleans since the war, "has been more prosperous than any previous one on the Lakes, except that of 1880." The arrivals of vessels at Chicago this season have numbered 12,447, against 12,788 in that year. In number the arrivals exceed those at New York about 3000.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3's, 102½; 3½'s, 101¾; 4½'s, 112¾ 4's, registered, 119½; coupon, 120½; currency 6's, 130. Cotton.-Prices remain about the same as last quoted. Sales of middlings are reported at 10\frac4 a 11 cts, per lb. for uplands and New Orleans, 83 cts, per gallon for home use Flour has been dull, but prices were without es tial change. Sales of 3100 barrels, including Minnesota extras, clear, at $5.75; small lots do. do. straight, at $6.25; Pennsylvania extra family low grades, at $4.50; do. do. choice, at $4.75; Ohio do. do., at $5.50 a $5.65 do. do. do. new process, at $6.25; Southern Illinois do. do. at $5.50; Wisconsin winter family at $5.50; Ohio patent at $6.40 a $6.75; Minnesota do. at $7.12\frac{1}{2} a $7.50, and 600 barrels City Mills on secret terms. Western and Pennsylvania super, at $3 a $3.37\frac{1}{2}; do. do. extras at $3.50 a $4; Pennsylvania extra family at $4.50 a $4.75; Obio do. do. $5,25 a $5.75; Indiana do. do. at $5.25 a $5.75; St. Louis and Southern Illinois do. do. at $5.37½ a $5.75; Minnesota bakers' clear, at $5.50 a $6; do. do. straight at >6 25 a $6.50; patents, winter $6; a0. d0. Straight at $0.25 a $0.00, paining, at $7 a $7.50. Wheat, at $6.25 a $7; do. do. spring, at $7 a $7.50. Rye flour sells at $4.25 a $4.37\frac{2}{5} per barrel. Feed.—Winter bran sells at $17, a $17.25, and spring at $16 a $16.50 per ton.

Grain.-Wheat was unsettled and rather lower. Sales of 3600 bushels of red and amber at $1.05 a $1.11; 2200 the whole town as well as hundreds of families elsebushels do. track, at $1.08\; 3400 bushels No. 2 red, in elevator, at $1.03\frac{3}{1}; 1900 bushels rejected at $1.02 a $1.03, and 40,000 bushels No. 2 red, at $1.08\frac{5}{2} a $1.08\frac{7}{2}. Rye sold at 68 cts. Corn was unsettled. Sales of 7200 bushels sail yellow, in grain depot, at 86 a 87 cts.; sail mixed, at 85 a 86 cts.; steamer, at 83 a 84 cts.; new at 62 a 70 cts., as to condition; and 65,000 bushels sail mixed at 68½ a 68½ ets. Oats were unchanged; about 9000 bushels sold in lots at 47 a 49 ets, for No. 2 white, and 43 a 45 cts. per bushel for rejected and mixed, and No. 2 white at 463 a 475 cts.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 12th mo. 2nd, 1882.— Loads of hay, 287; loads of straw, 58. Average price during the week—Prime timothy, $1 to $1.10 per 100 pounds; mixed, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 100 pounds; straw, 75 to 85 ets. per 100 pounds. Beef cattle were dull last week and prices were a fraction lower; 4000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 3 a 65 cts. per lb., the latter rate for

Sheep were dull and a fraction lower: 12,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards, at 3 a 51 ets... and laobs at 4 a 63 cts. per pound, as to condition. Hogs were unchanged: 4000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 81 a 101 cts. per lb., as to quality.

FOREIGN. -On the evening of the 27th ult., Trevelvan stated in the House of Commons that the number of agrarian crimes in Ireland this month was less than for any month during the past 28 months, not 28 years, as was incorrectly reported.

Parliament was prorogued 12th month 4th until the 15th of 2d month. There were about 80 members present in the House of Commons when the prorogation took place,

A deputation, including Forster and other members of Parliament, waited upon Lord Granville, Foreign Secretary, on the 28th ult., and read a memorial contending that the French claims in Madagascar were unfounded, and expressing the belief that there were five times as many English there as French, and that the English trade quadrupled the French trade. Lord Granville replied that he was not aware of any treaty which gave France the right to exercise a protectorate over Madagascar.

A semi-official statement is published in Paris that France is resolved to uphold her treaty of 1868, with Madagascar, in its entirety. The concessions offered during the recent pourparlers with the Malagassy Em-bassy, have been cancelled by the action of the latter in breaking off the negotiations. England, it is said, has Managers.

Two million bushels of apples were picked in one not protested against the claims of France; she has only county of Arkansas this fall. Drying kilns are being manifested a desire for information in regard to the instarted on many of the farms, and a New York firm is tentions of the French Government with respect to tentions of the French Government with respect to

> The French Cabinet, at a council on the 28th ult. decided to send a pacific expedition to survey the ceded territory on the Congo and report upon its resources. A party of Englishmen, members of trade unions, who are in Paris, visited Leon Say and De Freycinet on the 2d inst. The latter acquainted their callers with on the 2d inst. The latter acquainted their callers with Grabb, William Greeh, Forster Green, Mary H their views on the scheme for tunnelling the English John Horniman, James Holson, Samuel Hope, channel. De Freycinet spoke in complimentary terms Horsauill, William Knowles, Benjimin Le Tall of the political good sense of English workmen and the A telegram from Chicago says the season now closing their views on the scheme for tunnelling the English wisdom and foretbought of English statesmen. The idea of a French invasion in the event of the channel scheme being earried out was inadmissible, De Freycinet said, as the English would rise as one man and repel such invasion. Moreover, De Freycinet asked, what hostile army would risk an engagement in a narrow tube forty kilometres long?

On the 28th of 11th month, the Rhine reached the Petroleum.—Standard white, 73 ets. for export, and highest point during the past century. Railway traffic was entirely suspended. At Cologne, the forts on ac-count of the flood from the overflow were emptied of stores and ammunition. The Zoological Gardens are 56; for J. Barcroft Haughton, 5s., to No. 27, vo inundated, and the animals have been removed. The lower stories of the houses in Bonn were submerged

Berlin, 11th mo. 30th,-It was announced in the Diet last night that the worst of the floods was over. The Rhine has fallen a foot and a half in the last twentyfour hours. Detailed reports received show that there is six feet of water in the streets of Cologne, Coblentz and Bonn. At the last named place 490 houses are submerged, and nearly all the provisions and fodder in the town have been destroyed. There is much sickness in the flooded districts, especially among the children and

The German Reichstag has rejected, by a vote of 153 to 119, the motion to allow as optional the use of French in debates in the Provincial Committee of Alsace-Lor-

The Municipal Bank of Skopin, in the Province of Reazan, Russia, has failed for over $60,000,000, ruining dear Friend was one who moved through life in a Cairo, 12th mo. 3rd.-The Court Martial which had been summoned to meet to-day assembled this morning. Arabi Pasha pleaded guilty to the charge of rebellion. The proceedings were very brief, the Court sitting only a few minutes. In the afternoon the Court reassembled and pronounced sentence of death against Arabi. The Khedive subsequently commuted the sentence to exile for life. It is believed that Arabi will retire to some part of the British dominions. His demeanor before the Court was very dignified. The decree commuting the sentence says that Arabi will be amenable to the sentence of death if he re-enters Egypt or its dependencies.

It is stated that before the end of the year India will have 12,000 miles of railway. The mileage has increased 100 per cent. in the last three years. The country is becoming our competitor in supplying Europe with breadstuffs. The exports have increased about onethird since 1879, being $360,000,000 last year. British capital is rapidly improving Indian agriculture. The Mexican Central Railroad has been completed to Lagos, 260 miles from the City of Mexico. National Railroad of Mexico was expected to be finished to Naravatio, 136 miles from the capital, by the 5th inst. A telegram received in Loridon announces the laying of the foundation stone of the City of La Plata, the new capital of the province of Buenos Ayres. A telegram from Montreal says "the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to-day raised its capital stock from fifteen million to one hundred million dollars,

FRIENDS' LIBRARY.

A recent examination of Friends' Library shows that number of volumes are missing from their places on the shelves. Some of them have no doubt been lost years ago, and cannot be recovered. Others may have been mislaid or forgotten by those who have borrowed The committee having charge of the Library respectfully request all who find any of the books al luded to, in their houses, to return them before the first day of the coming year,

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE, Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelphia. Physician and Superintendent-John C. Hall, M.D. Applications for the Admission of Patients may be made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Board of

RECEIPTS.

Received from Joseph Armfield, Agent, El an £2, vol. 56, 4 copies, and for Samuel Alexander, John Ashworth, John E. Baker, Henr John Bellows, Maria Bradburn, John Bott Samuel Bottomley, John Cheal, Robert Clark, Cloak, Thomas Connell, Henry Darby, Charles I. James Gill, Sarah Gibbins, William Graham, S Friends' Institute, Mary Moore, William R. Daniel Pickard, George Pitt, H. M. Reynolds, 1 Rickman, Eliza M. Southall, Esther Shaw, Ab Shield, George Smithson, John Sykes, Josiah T son, Ellen Watkins, William Allen Watkins, La Walker, Robert Walker, William Ridley W Francis Ellington Wright, William Wright, Wood. Susan Williams, Thomas Williamson and liam Walker, 10s. each, vol. 56; for Joseph Lam Sarah Pearson 10s. 6d., to No. 52, vol. 56; for Burton and Henry A. Uprichard, £1 each, vols. and for William Haydock, £1, vols. 55 and 56.

DIED, on the 25th of 4th month, 1882, Cassa R. Harvey, an esteemed member of New G Monthly and West Grove Particular Meeting, F the 58th year of her age. She was attached to the ciples and testimonies of the Society of Friend. valued the privileges of membership in it. O evening before her death, when told that she coullive long, she calmly replied, that she believed " was one of the lower seats in her Heavenly Fa kingdom prepared for her."

—, on the 27th of 10th month, in Philade HANNAII G. PUSEY, daughter of Joseph and Re R. Pusey, of West Grove, Pa., in the 31st year of age, a member of New Garden Monthly Meeting. unobtrusive way, without attracting much notice persons outside of her own circle of relatives and fri and yet, winning the respect and affection of those whom she was associated by her cheerful, unselfist faithful character. For a number of years, and t time of her death, she was engaged in teaching: a this employment was industrious and energetic. was a self-sacrificing, conscientious woman, who deavored to perform her duties, as in the sight of Heavenly Father. During the last year of her especially, she spent much time in silent meditatio prayer, seeking for a preparation for that kingdo rest and peace into which it was her earnest desi enter when time to her should be no longer. Du her last illness she often repeated passages of Scrip and attered many heavenly expressions, which sh the bent of her thoughts, and on what her confic was founded. At one time she quoted the language of Saviour, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are h laden, and I will give you rest." At another times! marked, "I am going to dwell in one of those beau mansions prepared for those that love Him here; a feel as if I had done that. But it is not of any merit own that I feel this unbounded happiness, but three his adorable goodness." Though very simple and sistent in her dress and appearance, she had felt at t that it would be right to put on a plainer bonnet she had before worn. This was a step in the na way set before her that she had not yet taken, at was brought to her remembrance as she lay on the of death, with a sense of forgiveness from the for any shortness or delay in bearing her testime and she could say, the Lord knows that I love I Seeing a small book lying on a table, she asked it was, and added, "Something trashy, I fear. a great satisfaction it is to me, now that I can ne read nor sleep, that I have never read any of that k The mind can now draw upon that it had treas which was good and true. But it is well to give for prayer and supplication, so that when it come this, I can ask Him to take me to Himself." Frequency were her petitions for patience and submission in ever was to be meted out for her to bear; and for Saviour's presence.

—, in Burlington, New Jersey, 10th month, 3 BENJAMIN V. MARSH, in the 65th year of his as member of Burlington Monthly Meeting of Friends

WILLIAM H. PILE, PRINTER,

No. 422 Walnut Street.

FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, TWELFTH MONTH 16, 1882.

NO. 19.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid n advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to

JOSEPH WALTON,

MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J. ptions, payments and business communications, received by

JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

Atmospheric Germs.

(Concluded from page 137.)

transparent as when first prepared.

similar experiment was tried with an in-ontact with the moteless air of the chamrely free from life.

hese experiments were repeated with subtially the same result on a great variety nfusions of animal and vegetable sub-ganic germs they remained muchanged; while sun or air contains upon it the particles which they speedily became putrid when exposed to the unevaporated liquid held in suspension. the ordinary atmosphere. On one occasion, From such surfaces they are detached and when the tubes in the closed box had re- waited away, their universal prevalence in mained pure for a considerable time, a panel the atmosphere being thus accounted for." was taken out of the back, and the air of the Many of the experiments heretofore described laboratory permitted to enter. On the fourth had been made in the laboratory of the Royal day after they were all muddy and swarming Institution at London. To prove that these with Bacteria.

ganisms was extraordinary. They darted one parts of the building from the roof to the rapidly to and fro across the field of view of cellar, and in different parts of England; and the microscope, clashing, recoiling and piron- all in process of time swarmed with life. etting-rendering it, indeed, difficult to believe in their vegetable nature.

their bodies projecting below the bottom the microscope. In doing this, pipettes, or a room of 20 feet by 15, in which he operated d. A hole two inches in diameter on the pieces of narrow glass tubing drawn out to a d to the ordinary air. The solution in all course of which some suspicion rested on the several hours of continuous boiling. sed to whatever germs might be contained exhibition of life was the reward. The Bac-vessels employed in this inquiry mounted up The exposed tubes soon teria darted in straight lines to and fro, bend- in two years to nearly ten thousand! me turbid, mould formed on the surface, ing right and left along the line of motion, rms of Bacteria in active motion were de-wriggling, rotating longitudinally, and spin- and similar researches is the light they throw ped in them, and the smell became putrid. Ining round a vertical axis. Monads also gal- on epidemic diseases, some of which have been this time the protected tubes exhibited a loped and quivered through the field. Thus proved to be associated with microscopical id perfectly unchanged in appearance, and it was proved that the impurity was in the parasites infecting the bodies of their victims.

These experiments were afterwards varied n of mutton, boiled and carefully filtered by using small glass flasks drawn out at one system, there develop and produce the disease. to be perfectly clear. The tubes were end to a point. They contained about an on the 24th of the 9th month. Three ounce of liquid which was boiled and the point s afterwards the exposed tubes were tur then hermetically scaled by melting over the and by the sixth day the Bacteria in them increased to astonishing swarms.

flame of a spirit-lamp. One hundred and thirty of these, charged with twenty-four uring the whole of this time the infusion kinds of infusions, were prepared, and yielded 18th, 1851, notice was received of a legacy the same results as had been obtained with from Geo. Williams, deceased, of one thousand remained as clear as distilled water, and the closed box. They all remained clear and dollars for general purposes,—the words of unchanged, while portions of the same soin the will being simply, "For the use and benefit tions exposed to the air speedily swarmed of said Boarding School." The liberality here with Bacteria.

ces, such as of beef, pork, hay, turnips, tea. every pool, stream and river. All parts of the to the benefit of the institution, is very comse, hops, salmon, &c. So long as they were moist earth are crowded with them. Every mendable.

protected from exposure to air containing or- wetted surface which has been dried by the germs were widely diffused, open tubes or The vivacity of some of these minute or- flasks of similar solutions were placed in vari-

Another set of experiments on the relative abundance of these germs in different parts of The great care which is needed in such in the air, showed that they were very unequally conducting his experiments on atmost vestigations to avoid sources of error which distributed as to numbers, some portions of ic germs. Tyndall used a wooden box with might vitiate the conclusions, is shown by the atmosphere swarming with them, while ss front, and glass plates let into the two Tyndall's experience. Some turnip-infusion in other places their numbers seemed com-The bottom was pierced with twelve had remained clear in the box for about a paratively small. Tyndall estimates that 30,s into which twelve test tubes were fitted | month, when the door at the back was opened | 000,000 germs daily would be a very moderate ight, their mouths opening into the box, and specimens taken out for examination by estimate of the number falling from the air in

As has been previously stated these germs of the box was covered with a sheet of point, with a few inches of India Rubber abound in water as well as in air. The means a Rubber and through this passed a long tubing attached to them, were used to with commonly resorted to for the destruction of the tube ending above in a small funnel. draw portions of the liquid from the test tubes. the germs which might exist in the solutions rallowing the box to stand for some days. The first tube showed no signs of life. Pick-used, was boiling. But in some cases it was Il floating particles had disappeared from ing up another pipette, he took a sample from found that exposure to the heat of boiling ir, eight of the test tubes were filled with the second tube. Here to his astonishment water for several minutes failed to destroy the animal solution by means of the tube ing through the india rubber. At the test were numerous globular organisms instituted for the investigation of this subject. In the light of 9th mo. 1875, eight which revolved, rotated, and quivered in the The germs contained in the infusions of old, ar tubes, containing portions of the same most extraordinary manner. This unexpected dry hay were the most difficult to destroy, tion were placed outside the box, and ex-exhibition led to further examinations, in the retaining their vitality in some cases after en of the tubes was boiled for five minutes her immersion in a bath of leated brine.

Few difficulty that presented was measurements, and by fresh experiments, and only difference in the treatment of the drop was founding in the fine pair in the precautions, variations, and recognitions to the precautions of the precautions of the precautions. tion was, that part of it was protected by This was blown on to a slide, covered and petitions observed and executed with the view g contained in the box, and part of it was placed under the microscope. An astonishing of rendering the results secure, the separate

One of the most important bearings of these he end of four months it was as bright pipettes used, and not in the solutions in the 1t is quite probable that the contagion which produces some of them may float in the air as seeds or germs, and being absorbed into the

For "The Friend."

Westtown Boarding School.

At a meeting of the committee held 4th mo. allowed the committee of disposing of funds The germs of these Bacteria "abound in in a manner which they think will most inure mo. 3d, 1851, a new set of Rules and Regulations were submitted and adopted, which occupy about 19 pages of the minute bookevidencing much care in their preparation.

tanks in the attie for holding water; a new furnace under the girls' side of the house; and the purchase of some new, and the repairing of old chemical and philosophical apparatus, to be carried into effect "whenever the funds for this purpose shall be obtained." The care observed by Friends of that day not to proceed in extensive improvements without knowfor all needful repairs and additions.

pointed to confer with the farming commit tribute to the comfort of such a family, and tendent, carefully to digest and arrang tee on the subject of conducting the farm, of all its inmates. It has been satisfactory best plan for effecting them, and to carr Report that our friends J. and P. B. having to observe the degree in which these desirable same into execution as early as practic offered to take charge of the farm and house, ends have been attained during the past year, viz., Samuel Bettle, Jos. Scattergood, Th * * we have believed it right to accept their and we trust that through the continued bless- Evans, Thos. Kimber, Samuel B. Morris offer, with the understanding that the com- ing of Him, whose heritage children are de- Joel Evans. mittee are to stock the farm and furnish such clared to be, in the religious watchful care parts of the house not occupied by their and kind attentions of the different officers, family. In order to carry out that arrange- the time spent there may prove of lasting ment, it is believed that an expenditure of at benefit to our beloved young friends who en least six thousand dollars will have to be joy the privilege of an education within its made. On behalf of the committee, suitable and satisfactory, viz: Thos. Evans, grounds on which those testimonies rest. Samuel B. Morris, Alfred Cope. Samuel Bettle, Jr., and others. At a meeting of the committee held 4th the committee held 10th mo. 7th, 1853. mo. 8th, 1853, it is recorded that all the improvements proposed at the meeting held 10th of my estate, real, personal and mixed, I give, that borders on, and indeed proves to be, li mo. 18th, 1852, had been carried into effect, devise and bequeath unto my executors here-better than thorough unbelief and disobtogether with other conveniences, including in named, and the survivor: In trust never-ence. We read that "rebellion is as the alterations of No. 19, and furnishing it as a theless for the following uses, intents and of witeherait." We may have held back parlor—"all of which has been paid for by purposes, * * * to the treasurer for the different grounds, very reasonable as we h voluntary subscription." The cost of these time being of the committee having charge of thought; but we have been chastised for the additions appears to have been about $3500, the Boarding School at Westtown, the said leanness and feebleness have come over us exclusive of subscription to the farm.

DAVID ROBERTS, Pennock Passmore.

says: "The necessary repairs in an establish-be appropriated * * to the payment of cloth-bave receded; neither have we enjoyed ment where there is so great a number of ing, board and tuition and incidental expenses answer of "Well done." Our situation, buildings of large extent, involves a heavy attendant thereon of such children in indigent haps, has somewhat resembled that of expenditure, especially as many of them are circumstances, members of the religious So-Israelites who, after refusing, attempted old; and the increased cost of living makes ciety of Friends," &c. The desire is subsectenter the promised land; there is, nevert the average expense of each pupil upwards of quently expressed that in admitting such less, forgiveness with Him, that He may $15 per annum more than is charged for board children on this fund, a preference may be rightly feared, and also plenteous redempth and tuition, without any allowance for regiven to members of Philadelphia Quarterly I believe we are safe in resting under a be pairs and improvements, for depreciation in Meeting, but does not limit the expenditure simple fear and caution, as to so awful a p inmiture and other articles, or interest on the to them. This legacy has been quite bene-ceeding as the first exercise of the ministr capital invested and for several years past ficial, and a further addition to it could at this but how far this should be carried, cannot w has occasioned an annual loss in conducting time be used to advantage. the institution." This continues to be the 12th mo. 7th. The committee to assist the moulded and variously dealt with or used case, the average cost per pupil for the year tarming committee report the estimated value there may be too much of this as well as t ending 4th month 5th, 1881, being 8202.25— of household furniture at the farm-house, little, for our snares and our tendencies diff price charged 8150 per annum. "As the stock and utensils, &c., on farm to be eight Even though we wait for what we may st motive which led to the establishment of this thousand three hundred and thirteen dollars pose only adequate strength and clearness seminary was a religious concern for the pro- and fifteen cents. A spacious and convenient the occasion, this may stand in the way

At a meeting of the committee held 12th of Friends, under the watchful care of the library, and the expense has been deten-Society, and as it affords great advantages for by individual contributions for the pur the attainment of these important objects, it is very desirable that no step should be taken school building, as well as the inconverwhich would discourage Friends from sending and danger attending the present and 10th mo. 18th, 1852. It was proposed to erect their children there; but that its benefits ment, having at various times claime should be as widely disseminated as its ac- attention of the committee, as has also the commodations will admit.

"The committee feel the charge of con- on the boys' side of the house for wa ducting this important institution in a man- and bathing; and the want of means to all of which were agreed to, subject, however, ner consistent with the original design of its these improvements having been made k establishment, to be a weighty and responsito a number of Friends who feel an in ble trust; and they affectionately desire that in the welfare of this institution, we are parents and others who may send children, informed that the call has been so libe will cordially co-operate in the efforts used to responded to as to leave no doubt but t ing how they were to be paid for, is quite preserve that simplicity of dress and demeanor sufficient amount can be readily secur noticeable, and equally so is their liberality which becomes our religious profession, as the present time to defray the experin due time in providing the requisite funds well as a ready and cheerful obedience on the these very desirable improvements. It part of the pupils, to those salutary regula-sideration of which the following Friends 12th mo. 8th, 1852. "The committee ap-tions and restraints which essentially con-appointed, in conjunction with the Suj sheltered enclosure."

ready response in the minds of many, if not desires are and will be for thy best wel "It being suggested that the requisite funds all of the Friends composing the committee at I cannot doubt but preservation and suffice for stocking the farm, furnishing the house the present time. The task of inspecting help will be extended, while a simple, upr and other unavoidable expenditures, might be the clothing, &c., of children sent to West unreserved surrender of the will is so raised by voluntary subscriptions to a loan town to receive their education, is no light after and abode in. I have thought, in a for 3 or 4 years, without interest, the follow-one, requiring on the part of those appointed of this kind, there is always abundant ed ing friends were appointed to endeavor to to this unpleasant duty, firmness united with seension, gentleness, forbearance, and I obtain them in this way, and the Treasurer's kind consideration for the feelings of the suffering manifested towards us, poor fall is hereby directed to issue to the individuals pupil, so that whilst carrying out faithfully creatures. He putteth forth and goeth be thus loaning the money, and to sign on be our testimonics in regard to plainness, it may us (poor fallible creatures) knoweth our fin half of the committee, such notes or other be done so as to carry conviction to the and himselftook our infirmities; when we evidences of the debts so incurred as may be minds of the children of the truth of the a step a little awkwardly, or with too m

> Extract from the will of Henry Pemberton, hold us up and restore us, so long as we deceased, produced and read at a meeting of not wilful, but singly desire to be right in tund to be safely invested by the said com- that when we would afterwards have gi The report to the Yearly Meeting in 1853 mittee, and the income and profits thereof to up, the Divine sense, strength and bless

The inadequate provision for lighting ject of the want of suitable accommod.

A Letter of Jno. Barclay.

Alton, 15th of 12th mo, 18

Be assured thou hast my very tender pathy under the important circumstance The sentiments here expressed will find a letter unfolds; and that my best, though fi forwardness or mistakingly, mercy is nea movements. We may be, and some of "Item-all the rest, residue and remainder know we have been long borne with, in m be defined for another; vessels are various per training and instruction of the children fire proof chest has been constructed in the our having that degree of it which was evidence would please or satisfy our poles to the storm.

hg goodness.

Nature's Preparation for Winter.

made provision for taking up the work these adroit little thieves. n with as vigorous a hand as ever, when ed for us, had we used more self-renuncia-be broken by wind and loads of snow, will species through winter is by migration, as best the simplicity of a true babe in Christ is promise of abundance of life in the garnered new stores of food for the winter months. we want most, far more than that kind stores of the forest trees and in the humble Others assemble in flocks and seem to have surance we covet thus greatly; a little grass and flower-roots in the frozen soil—a grave consultations over the projected jour-tis goes a great way; it is the faith which store of nutriment often unsuspected but rees God and removes the mountains; and vealed in all its wealth in the sudden expand-comes to us from among the clouds as night which we are to walk, rather than by ing of leaves and the abundance of flowers and day the flocks wend their way in long it leads to look not to self with anxiety, that cover the banks and vales in early spring lines to the South. Long before they appear we shall be provided either with discern. The beautiful plants of the springtime could with us, they collect their broods in the lakes courage, or what else is needed; but to not give us such early and vigorous growth and bays near their breeding places and seem in the Lord, and cast our burden on Him, were it not for their accumulated stores of to be organizing for the long flight which oing He is ready to sustain such, so that food; in fact without those stores prudently most of them are to take for the first time to shall lack nothing; nor are they much laid up the year before, the trees could not a land that most of them have never seen; and by what arises to perplex, discourage put forth their leaves and blossoms at all.

rove them, trusting over all in neverhope if what is now handed should feel the preservation of those whose supplies of before they commence their long flight to an oe to be as a word in season, and in any tood are likely to fail. The first is the instinct a coming from the right source, thon wilt to store food as best seen among insects in said. When did the first leader learn the nesitate to accept it through the fear of the honey bee, among birds in the noisy judy way? We have seen them in the bays of Newfoundland gathering like a great army, ments are rightly engaged for the help of rel or chipmunk. The bee-keeper knows his practising for days; and then one flock after ers, they act not in their own name; such bees must have so many pounds of honey to another separates itself from the great host ordained and needful in the church; and be able to winter without his help, and the and follows its chosen leader to the South.

reye be single to the Great Head, the blue-jay, apparently the most reckless bird They return in spring even while snow and of every good and perfect gift, and to that flies, stuffs acorns and corn into every ice abound, to be ready for the opening of nward appearing and sense as to what crack and cranny he can find, as though he the short northern summer. In the long es through others, we shall not be in intended not only to have enough for himself, days of the North, and by the unmolested worse. But the little chipmunk is a model their young. ndant fruits of the earth that are to distance are that men and the higher animals may the consin, the little brown striped squired better as we learn more of it at every repetition.—Springfield Republican. lucing these, she has not forgotten that neighbor, as many a miner would testify who has work to do in years to come. She has lost rice and bread by the plundering of

The second of nature's methods of preserv spring months return. The abundance ing animal life is by hibernation. The lower variety of her methods for tiding life over animals, as insects and some reptiles, become principle of Divine grace, our worthy ancients dreariness of winter and beginning suc- to all appearances entirely dormant, live withfully her work at the earliest moment, are out essential change during the cold of winter holy communion in the one Lord, one faith, vellous. If a species of plant or insect is and wake to active life only when food is and one baptism; by which they became ie by the frost, the seed of the one and again ready for them. Others like the wood sensible not only of their own inward state, egg of the other have been prepared for a chuck after growing fat on the abundant food but had also a sympathy and concern raised generation the coming year. If the plant of autumn, roll themselves up in nests and in them for the welfare of others: watching blive, its buds are already prepared to ex-sleep. Vital action is lowered, they consume over one another for good, and in Christian into leaves and flowers; or bulbs and but little oxygen and live upon the stores or freedom and in plainness of speech exhorting stocks having the potency of buds, are fat with which they went into winter quar-the remiss, reproving offenders, encouraging len beneath the earth, and in tree and ters. The black bear generally hibernates in the weak, and bringing forward the hindmost th, in bulb and root-stock are garnered caves and under old tree-tops, but he is never of the flock: which brotherly concern constores of food for the quick development so sleepy that he is not ready for a battle if duced to the gathering of many, and to their af and flower when the warmth of spring disturbed; and farther south he does not hi test the buds to their new life. If the in-bernate at all. In New England, he grows Truth. A practice, which we fear, is too is to live, it has instinctively prepared its fat on green corn, roots and nuts in the fall, much neglected, though worthy of our imitae of food, or it will sleep unmindful of and so has had the credit of growing fat by try storm and wake at the appointed time "sucking his paws." This old notion is only elcome visitor or a pest, as its race have another illustration of theories in mechanic London Yearly Meeting, 1747. n before. The higher animals are provided life that something can come from nothing. h thicker coats, with gathered stores of The truth about the bear is that he grows decessors were led and directed by the Spirit for been more disinterested in our service, soon drop their wealth of leaves, and like ves- seen among birds, but practised also by some plain we are not to expect to have just sels well commanded, will present only bare of the higher mammals. As the autumn advances, many of the smaller birds from our teelings, which may have become some. In the most cheerless winter day, there is midst and from the far North, quietly make for of every flock that starts from those But in the animal kingdom, there are three northern resting-places, the larger part are remarkable provisions already alluded to, for young and have never flown but a few miles but expected to be robbed of his scattered lakes and bays of Newfoundland and Labrahoard, as he himself has lived, by robbery or dor, they find the best condition for rearing

Plant and Animal Life are preserved and kin seeds—anything that will feed a squirrel trees are provided for and preserved by the rpetuated. By Paul A. Chadbourne, Presi- in winter,—are equally welcome to him. And physiological laws of their own growth, and nt of Massachusetts Agricultural College. when he is on his way to his hole, if ever a the animal kingdom has added the power of he golden-rod and aster, the crimson leaf fellow had "check" he has! How he gets such instinct, supplementing the physiological funcumae and maple and the increase of in loads into one small month is a marvel that tion of organs; structure, function and instinct music all indicate that the season for no one would credit who had not seen him at all working together in effective concert, pret-growth at least, is coming to a close, his harvest work. But such a bright, cheer- pare the endangered species for the winter that plant and animal life must soon do ful, social fellow is certainly welcome to his frost and storms, and for the work of another le again with the frost and ice of winter home in the old stone-wall, or stump, and spring when the round of life is once more to ths. Nature has provided for us in the welcome also to the few grains of corn and begin. The old story ever new,-newer and

Ancient Testimonies and Advices, THE TEACHINGS AND LEADINGS OF DIVINE

GRACE.

" By following the leadings of this heavenly were brought to an inward fellowship and tion, and which we earnestly recommend to all who have the truth at heart."-Epistle of

"Dear Friends, as our forefathers and prel, or with some sure provision for their thin every day he lies in his den.

Of truth publicly to proclaim the sufficiency ty. Even the wide-leaved trees, that might

The third general method of preserving the lof the grace of God inwardly manifested in earnestly desire, that above all things the di-know, but power to perform, that which is rections of this heavenly monitor in ourselves agreeable to the mind and will of God. This may be carefully observed, which will give us will lead you out of the pride and vanities of the clearest view of our several and respective the world, and enable you to become followers duties, and guide us into all truth. From a of Jesus Christ, and subject to his yoke, who disregard of this heavenly and universal prin- was himself an example to mankind of the ciple of Divine light, and disobedience to its greatest meekness and humility."-Ibid. 1741. holy guidance, proceed that ignorance and "It behoveth us, in the depth of humility depravity which have overspread too many and reverence, to consider and remind one of the professors of Christianity. Let us, another of the merciful dealings of the Lord therefore, who are in an especial manner our God, who, in the aboundings of his grace, favored with the knowledge of the truth in-hath called us out of this present evil world, wardly revealed, and in some degree made to bear among the children of men a public experimental witnesses of its power and effi-profession of our faith in, and subjection to, eacy, beware, lest any of us also fall away the light and Spirit of his son, our Saviour. and lose sight of that inward and unerring inwardly revealed. An holy and honorable guide, which alone is able to keep us stead-calling! Let us, we beseech you, brethren, fast and unmovable in the practice of pure walk worthy of the vocation wherewith we and undefiled religion, preserve us from the are called; 'As obedient children, not fashionspots and pollutions of the world, make us ing ourselves according to the former lusts in wise unto salvation, and enable us to perform our ignorance; but, as He that hath called that which is good and acceptable in the ns is holy, so let us be holy in all manner of sight of God. To whom for the comfortable conversation."-Ibid. 1753. influences of his Holy Spirit, and all other his manifold blessings, both spiritual and temporal, be glory, dominion, and praise ascribed, through Jesus Christ, our Lord and young, and memorized them, but lost sight of Saviour, now, and forever. Amen."-Ibid. the copy. And now, while in Kansas, I bave great earnestness of spirit, to the one unerring guide, the grace of our Lord Jesus too, I have copied it and send it for insertion Christ, which is able to preserve us all from in "The Friend." falling. And the not being obedient thereunto, is the great and universal cause of evil Though glorions, O God! must thy temple have been, and disorder, and giveth occasion for repeating advice upon particular cases from this meeting, which is matter of sorrow to all the sincere hearted; wherefore we again beseech When even the chosen of Levi, though skilled all Friends to keep to the Lord's power, and the work thereof in themselves. This at first made us a people, who were not a people; and as herein we keep our meetings, they will be Though awfully grand was thy majesty then; to God's glory, and our everlasting peace and salvation."-Ibid. 1727.

"Dear Friends, we earnestly and princi-pally recommend you in an especial manner to have a continued regard to the perpetual to have a continued regard to the perpetual But by Him unto whom it was given quide and director, which our Lord Jesus To enter the oracle, where is revealed, Christ, the great Shepherd of the sheep, hath sent in his name, even the Spirit of truth. To Who, having once entered, hath shown us the way, this the primitive church, in the earliest time, was gathered; by this both Jews and Gentiles were baptized into one body; through this one Spirit the believers had access to This, this is the worship the Saviour made known, God; this gave them a right understanding of the things of God; and it was this that supported them in their testimony against the corruptions of the world, and gave them How sublime, yet how simple the homage He taught prevalence over death and darkness. But, alas! too soon did a disregard to this heavenly guide and director creep in amongst those who profess the Christian name, and gradually introduced a grievous and almost universal apostacy from the primitive glory and life of the first professors of that holy and spiritual religion. Nevertheless it pleased God, after a long and dark night, to cause the light of the gospel day again to dawn; to restore paths to walk in; to revive the long-exploded doctrine of the guidance of the Holy Spirit; and to lead the observers thereof into the practice of the like purity, plainness and simplicity of the gospel, by which the early Christians were distinguished from the men of this world. By elosely attending to the conduct of this Holy Spirit in yourselves, the hearts of all the children of men; we you shall experience not only wisdom to But the Christian, made wise by a wisdom divi

The following lines I came across while found a little book of the writings of Bernard "Dear Friends, we recommend you, in Barton which contains the piece. And admiring the beauty of sentiment, and the poetry

SPIRITUAL WORSHIP.

On the day of its first dedication, When the cherubim's wings widely waving were seen On high, o'er the ark's holy station;

To minister, standing before thee, Retired from the cloud which the temple then filled, And thy glory made Israel adore thee:

Yet the worship thy gospel discloses, Less splendid in pomp to the vision of men, Far surpasses the ritual of Moses.

And by whom was that ritual forever repealed? Not the cloud, but the brightness of heaven?

O Lord! how to worship before thee; Not with shadowy forms of that earlier day, But in spirit and truth to adore thee!

When she of Samaria found Him; By the patriarch's well, sitting weary alone, With the stillness of noontide around Him.

To her who inquired by that fountain, If Jehovah at Solyma's shrine should be sought? Or adored on Samaria's mountain?

Woman! believe me, the hour is nea When He, if ye rightly would hail Him, Will neither be worshipped exclusively here, Nor yet at the altar of Salem.

For God is a Spirit! and they, who aright Would perform that pure worship He loveth, In the heart's holy temple will seek with delight, That worship the Father approveth.'

And many that prophecy's truth can declare, Whose bosoms have livingly known it; Whom God hath instructed to worship Him there, And convinced, that his mercy will own it.

The temple that Solomon built to his name, Now lives but in history's story; Extinguished long since is its altar's bright flame, And vanished each glimpse of its glory.

Though all human fabrics may falter, Still finds in his heart a far holier shrine Where the fire burns unquenched on the alta

TAKE CARE,

BY ALICE CARY.

Little children, you must seek Rather to be good than wise, For the thoughts you do not speak Shine out in your cheeks and eyes,

If you think that you can be Cross and cruel and look fair, Let me tell you how to see You are quite mistaken there.

Go and stand before the glass And some ugly thought contrive, And my word will come to pass Just as sure as you're alive.

What you have and what you lack, All the same as what you wear, You will see reflected back; So my little folks, take care!

And not only in the glass Will your secrets come to view ; All beholders, as they pass, Will perceive and know them too, Goodness shows in blushes bright. Or in eyelids drooping down Like a violet from the light; Badness in a sneer or frown.

Cherish what is good, and drive Evil thoughts and feelings far; For as sure as you're alive, You will show for what you are.

Materialism .- What might be called a materialism, like periodic insanity, so every now and then to take possessio men. Just at present the fit is on. The ing idea seems to be to get as near to earth as possible. Science leads the v blowing the ancient pipes of Pan; and pl sophy, religion, literature, civil and social's follow, dancing their way toward the "c of the earth" whence they came. I have fears but that this temporary insanity pass. The world will come to itself. perhaps to atone for its folly and madn will rush to the other extreme of mystic and sentimentalism.

For one look into the history of hur thought and morals is enough to convione that the earthly craze is, and make, of short duration. We have a spirit constitution. It always has asserted, it ways will assert itself in the end. My o fear is that during this materialistic lunati some of us may lose our bearings. And wh it is certain that the great world will in ti swing back to its ancient and true order, ' the unfortunate individuals, may never co to ourselves.

Or, to change the figure, the battle must fought out. The victory is assured. B unless we are properly armed and instruct we may be left dead on the field or bri away wounds for life. It is said that in t treatment of insane and idiotic children, t great aim is to get them to look up. Th put their playthings on the stairs, above the reach. As soon as one of them begins to lo up they have hope of him. So, when m have lost their spiritual sanity, and go groveling on the earth, saying to a stor "Thou art my Father," and to a stone, "The hast brought me forth," the only hope is endeavor to get them to lift up their head to engage their thought heavenward. The nerican Rural Home.

Letter of Oliver Sansom to Friends.

let every one of you be diligent to follow own business in the fear of God, and lle not with that wherein you are not erned; and although your hands are emed in your labor, let your hearts be after ord, meditating continually on his goodand his large loving kindness and his er mercies, wherewith He visits us morn-ding Gaol, 7th of Ninth mo. 1670."

more. Amen.

in the extremes of pain and sickness, my nose. operate, not merely or mainly upon the you are too hard on me! ig and healthy reason, but also in the twiand languid satisfaction amid the bitterby imposing rites, demanding only comessing, on the condition of that submission, thousand dollars or over. onduct the dying man into an eternity of sed into innumerable minds at the time necessary but injurious. n consolation is most needed, can be r was a greater demand than just at pre-teaching, and of all the ceremonies of the low wages and the tyranny of capital, replied for lifting up the thought of men to the Church. For the sake of this, men have en- in the following fashion; "Now men, supt spiritualities that hold their eternal dured all the calamities which priesteraft has pose you take an honest look at home. How ses of beauty and order above the world, brought upon the world, have bartered the many of you use tobacco?" They all conbrought upon the word, have currered the many of you use to access. I find an any of eyes to the light of Truth. By connecting you go into saloons, oftener than now-and this absolution indissolubly with complete then, and lift your hand holding a glass of submission to their sacerdotal claims, the beer or something stronger?" They all con-Catholic priests framed the most formidable fessed again. "Now men, let's be fair; you, engine of religious tyranny that has ever been my friend (pointing to one) are hardly short employed to disturb or subjugate the world. of sixty; how comes it, that at three-score

Common Sense Economies,

Every community furnishes what some are after morning, and evening after evening, pleased to term mysterious cases of persons also at noon day; He hath never been who, with no better advantages than others, ting to us to do us good. "get forward in the world." A close ac-! that the sense of the rich love of our quaintance with such successful people will and you might have been an independent might always remain upon our spirits, reveal the fact that much of their success as his tender mercies are daily renewed comes of the persevering practice of small reached my position. My father died while us, so our thanksgiving and sincere economies. The cumulative power of little 1 was in my teens. I worked bard as any ience might be returned unto Him from savings in the course of year's will surprise cottom of our hearts, which is his due for any one who has not looked into the subject more. Oh let us never forget the Lord with care. Take an example: A visiting God, who hath been so good to us, but clergyman asks a brother in the latter's study, lim be always the first in our thoughts whether he would object to his smoking. No ur uprising, and the last at our lying objection is made. While the head of the a, and let our meditation be of Him all smokeris wreathed in the cloud so dear to the lay; for from the rising of the sun to the user of the narcotic, he casts his eye over g down of the same the Lord's name is his brother's book-cases, whose shelves are truth in that! pity we hadn't had that preache praised. He alone is worthy of all, weighed down with valuable and inviting is over all, King of kings and Lord of volumes. Said the smoker: "Bro. B. how , who is able to do for us far more came it about that you obtained so large a dantly than we can ask or think; to library? Your father was a clergyman and be the praise and honor ascribed, for his had a numerous family. Of course you got e kingdom, the power and the glory for-but little means from him. You are a younger is as large as mine. Please explain." The and how much trouble was taken by the pa-urce of the Influence of the Catholic Priest. non-user of the weed replied, "My good triarchs to secure a supply of this essential ery religion which is worthy the name, friend, you have burnt up a library like mine element, for their flocks and their folks provide some method of consoling men just three inches from your nose, while I We all know what a well-builder Jacob e first agonies of bereavement, some sup- have saved my library just three inches from was; and I have had occasion to bless him of the understanding, in the half-lucid the figures. Here (opening a drawer) are promised to Israel among the good things vals that precede death, when the imagitables showing the various totals which the which they should inherit in the promised no is enfeebled and discolored by disease, regular sums of money contributed annually, land. In Deuteronomy 6: 11, we find the nall the faculties are confused and dislo-with all rates of interest will amount 10, promise to Israel of "shouses full of good l, when all the buoyancy and hopefulness during various terms of years. Will you give things which thou filledst not, and wells digture are crushed. At such a time it is me the average you have spent annually for ged which thou diggedst not, vineyards and sufficient for most men to rest upon the tobacco and the length of time you have in olive trees which thou plantedst not. w of a well-spent life. Such a retrospect dulged? I will take the reckoning at six per lof us is too full of saddening and humili- eem. I value my library at two thousand olden time is shown by Israel's request to of death. It is at this moment that mouth, reflected for a moment and made what land; we will not turn into the fields, or into tly influence is most felt. The Catholic he called a fair statement. To his great sur-the vineyards; we will not drink of the wat, asserting with emphatic confidence a prise the sum did not vary two hundred dol- ters of the wells; but we will go along by ne power of absolving the sinner, arrest-lars from the cost of the fine library which the king's highway, until we be passed thy und over-awing the wandering imagina- he so much admired. he so be be passed thy borders" (Num. 21: 22).

Here was a case where the indulgence of a lying, has been a main end of all the being "so hard on them," declaiming against for the possession of the very fountains from you are still carrying the hod and getting a hod-carrier's wages, and complaining of your poverty? Let us take an honest look at our-selves. Had you never burnt or chewed any tobaceo, and had you never gone into a saloon to lift your hand, you might have been an employer and a boss ere you reached fifty, man to-day. You have all wondered how I of you; but I saved my money, never spent a penny for tobacco or strong drink, and I believe my getting forward had much to do with the early adoption of that course. Men, what think you of looking at the other, that is, our side now and then?" The three-score man, as he turned on his heel was heard to mutter out at the side of his pipe, "too much ing when we were lads." But would they have followed the preaching ?—Selected.

Buying Water in the Desert. BY EDWARD L. WILSON.

What a great blessing was water to people man than I by ten years, and yet you have of the olden time! How much stress is laid ten times as many books, and your household by the Bible upon its value and importance;

more than once for this propensity of his; for e all, some stay in the hour of death. It . "Ah," replied the smoker, "you exaggerate; his wells are still open, where he digged them. We see by our Bibles, too, that wells were "I think not." was the response. "But to considered a valuable property, and were

The value and searcity of water in the memories. It is an effort too great for dollars and there are over one thousand vol. Sihon, king of the Amorites: "And Israel aded mind. It can at best afford but a umes." The smoker taking the eigar out of his Amorites, saying, Let me pass through thy

All this is mentioned, in order to account submission at a time when beyond all man, at only middle age, was moderate; and for and justify the present inhabitants of the rs the mind is least disposed to resist, and yet at six per cent. interest, amounted to two desert in following a custom which would seem hard in our country, but which (as is In this sum, you find a modest house for the case with their customs generally) is piness, can provide a stay upon which one's old age; there is a possible western farm practised by them, because the same thing ing nature can rest in that gloomy hour, lost by the want of a little saving, and that was done in the olden time,—I allude to the immense consolation which has thus been too, where the expenditure was not only not exaction of money from travellers for water supply. The first experience that we had of On another occasion, a practical man, stand-this kind was at Wady Feiran, near the foot ly overstated. To secure the efficacy of hing before a half dozen working people who of Mount Serbal, once the home of the Amelelast absolution upon the imagination of were roundly abusing their employers for kites, and near the place where Israel fought near the site of the ancient Elath and Ezion-efficient man, it will be in spite of the drawback by beavers, it is concluded that the sta geber, we depended upon the small cases of his inheritance, not because of it. If you was afterwards dammed by beavers so which were found along the way; but at the are an heir expectant, beware. If you expect the pond they made covered the skeletc last-named place we were compelled to pay nothing by inheritance be thankful. In either five dollars per barrel for water which we ob- case your hope is in God, and in his blessing experiments on the strength of bean tained from the fortress close by. Here, too, on what you are, and on what you do; not spruce wood, F. E. Kidder finds that the water was of excellent quality. And after on what you have.—Selected. a custom of the Israelites, "when we passed by from our brethren, the children of Esau, which dwelt in Seir, through the way of the plain from Elath, and from Ezion-geber, we plain from Elath, and from Ezion-geber, we Methodist Episcopal Appropriations, for the turned and passed by way of the wilderness year 1883, amount to $777,849; of this sum some at the time, proved to be justified by the $248,370; miscellaneous expenses, $78,000, old-time custom, according to Scripture. Some and liquidation of debts, $32,000. of the Bedawin of the neighborhood met the party of travellers, and demanded that they are are enrolled on the lists of the First-day to forty-five feet in height had been filled should empty the water from their vessels schools for Chinamen in New York City. and take of the waters of Ain Gazalah. The is said that one of the principal inducements skeletons burst out of the butt when the attendant dragoman objected, saying that the to them is the opportunity of learning the fell. Some are nearly perfect, and of vessels were filled with water of good quality. English language, but some of them become mixed up in a chaotic mass of heads, be and that they did not wish for any other attached to the denominations whose schools feet and arms indiscriminately. All the me But the Petra fellahin demanded that the wa- they attend. ter should be ponred out, and the vessels filled Alcoholism.—At the Sanitary Congress held this natural burying-place, and declar ed with the water from their well. Against at Geneva, Switzerland, it was stated that the must have happened long ago before to this the dragoman remonstrated, when he was consumption of alcohol per head was greatest or their father's time. told that he would be charged five dollars per in Denmark, and then followed in descending harrel whether he took it or not, and be could order, Russia, Sweden and Germany, Belgium, President of the Hudson Bay Fur Comp do as he pleased about taking it. The sum the United States of America, England, Aus- and by birth a Vermonter, has invent was, therefore, paid without taking any wa-tria and France. Coffee was declared to be method of trimming the fur of scal-skin ter, and a sheep and a goat were purchased the natural antidote to alcohol. for the supply of the table. Thus the com- Alabama Baptists .- At a meeting of the mand of Deuteronomy 2: 6 was fully obeyed: Pine Grove Association, of Alabama Baptists, "Ye shall buy meat of them with money, that the breath of one of the brethren showed that beat by an electric current, meets the lo ye may eat; and ye shall also buy water of he had been drinking whisky. He was exthem for money, that ye may drink." This cluded from the Association. ceremony ended, the travellers were allowed to proceed on their journey.

such a splendid source.

to pay so largely for water, yet when the and connected himself with the Free Italian matter is fairly considered, it appears but just Church. that it should be so, for the supply is not always ample. It is sometimes quite a risk to allow any one to draw two or three barrels of water from a well, especially when it may be six or eight months before the heavens Proceedings of the Edinburgh Royal Sowill visit the land with anything like a cloud-ciety, advances the theory that carbon in of its dissemination, the water from 190 w break, or hardly the semblance of a cloud, iron and steel should be considered as simply and cisterns used by the residents of Nal For in all our desert journey of forty days we dissolved in the iron, and not as chemically experienced but two showers, the longest of combined with it. He accounts for the hardwhich was only seventy-five seconds in dura- ness of steel and chilled cast iron, by suption, giving scarcely enough water to be re-posing that in the process of making, the which percolation was easy, while on cognized as such. So it will be seen that this carbon is crystallized in diamond form, so same premises were four old cess pools at old-time custom, though instituted in a differ-that there is an innumerable quantity of ex-leaky drain. ent dispensation, is still properly followed, cessively minute points of diamond dissemiand the desert traveller of the future must nated over the whole surface of the hardened cess is often almost the only point regar submit to it without grumbling .- S. S. Times. metal.

fortune to a young man. To have no neces- of Indiana, shows that a beam of one inch matters constantly accumulating about sity of struggling for a living, may keep a square of sawed stone, resting on points one dwellings and barn yards. man from living a life worth living. A well-inch apart, would bear 2.338 lbs. before it known American is reported to have been broke. A beam of the same stone deressed to sasked, recently, for a sketch of his biography, and to have answered frankly, that he had weight of 1,477 bs., showing the great weak-growers, consuming the pasture which t been nothing, and had done nothing, worth ening caused by tool-dressing.

which we made our first purchase in the de-telling the world about; and this because sert, at the time when Aaron and Hur stayed enough of a "competency" had been left him describes the discovery and uncoverithe arms of Moses, who overlooked the battle to practically destroy his competency. The mastodon remains in a peat meadow from an adjoining hill. Here the water is of estate left him by his father, was, he says, Freehold, N. J. It was inferred from excellent quality, and is in great plenty, and "ample enough to allow me to decently defray conditions observed, that the mastodor we were glad to replenish our supply from all my expenses. I have followed no calling, on the right bank of the stream which and given no cause for a biography." If an existed; and since there lay over the From there until we arrived at 'Akabah, heir to a fortune comes to be a useful and an many fragments of sticks that had bee of Moab," toward Petra, in the land of Edom. the amount assigned to Foreign Missions is Within a half-day's journey of that city we 8362,379; to Missions in United States, not elements which counteract the poisc came to the fountain of Ain Gazalah, where in Annual Conferences, to be administered as rheumatic gout. Lettuce has a slight we halted for lunch. Here quite an incident Foreign Missions (principally in the western cotic action. Asparagus is a strong din. occurred, which, although it seemed trouble Territories), $57,100; Domestic Missions, —Medical Record.

Religious Items, &c.

Chinamen as Scholars.—Six bundred schol-showed that the hollow trunk from the gr

Free Italian Church.—Signor Catalano, Professor of Physical Science in the University Although it seemed hard to be compelled at Rome, has left the Roman Catholic Society,

For " The Friend," Natural History, Science, &c.

Strength of Limestone.-An investigation cautions which are necessary to preserve To inherit a fortune, is sometimes a mis-into the strength of the gray Oolitic limestone water free from contamination by the orgi

Mastodons in New Jersey.—Prof. Lock to Strength of Spruce Wood. - From will ultimately cause their breakage if continued. He believes that a perma load should not be more than one-fifth o strength of the beam.

Medical Properties of Vegetables .- The sweet onion is very rich in those alk

Tree Burial in New Zealand .- The re fall of an enormous tree in New Zer It human bodies. A confused heap of hu inhabitants appear to have been ignora-

Trimming Seal-skins. - Curtis Lam the use of electricity. The skin is "fed" a knife-edge bar, above which is stretche fine platinum wire, which, raised to a w

Impure Water and Typhoid Fever .- An break of typhoid fever at Nahant a year led to an investigation of the causes by E Bowditch, a sanitary engineer, whose re is published in the Boston Medical and gical Journal. The summer population Nahant is about 1500, living in some hundred houses. During the summer betw 70 and 80 cases of typhoid fever occur As impure drinking water is the usual me was analyzed. Of these 111 were found impure to be safe for use. In one case, well was dug in a gravel or sandy soil thro

In the location of wells, convenience of and far too little attention is paid to the large estate it is said that more than : ,000 have been spent in destroying them, many owners pay $5000 a year to keep n their numbers.

Rabbits in Australia.- In some parts wish to reserve for their sheep and cattle.

me have tried fencing in their lands with netting reaching one foot under ground resorted to.

e, he walked out and never would enter ing is a copy: ain. So he retired to his own house in garden and lived there alone. His affecwhen hungry, he could not be allured pastor for our meeting. in the door by the offer of food. Not he contrary the two animals were very dly with each other, even eating out of nd. Wood says, "So absurdly strong ing as the one we this jealous feeling, that whenever I Sabbath meeting.

d, in order to anticipate the dog ten by its mistress.

One of our pet dogs, of a mixed breed, pets, of a very jealous disposition, always idered exclusively his own.

One wintry morning, a poor little infanduck, that had been injured, was brought rival.

After a few days the duck mysteriously ppeared. The dog was suspected, but and healthy condition. her dog nor duck could be found. Just thorns of the rose-tree while he was en- good and healthy condition. on and reproof had caused him to remain the views of our Society as to ministry and re they reside, by neglecting small intilight. ey were honest and faithful. - Selected.

THE FRIEND.

TWELFTH MONTH 16, 1882.

stanting direction. Shooting, hunting dogs, snaring and poisoning have all Evening Item, published in Lynn, Mass., on mind to shrink from the humilating opera-11th mo. 1st, which contains a printed circular tions of the Spirit of grace in the heart, and alousy .- J. G. Wood had a favorite cat that was issued a few days previous and disresented so strongly the coming of a tributed among Friends at their meetingterrier, that when the dog came into the house in Lynn, on a First-day. The follow-

"My Friends,-I wish to speak on a subject of for his master remained unchanged, but life of our time-honored Society—that of the neceseld the house desecrated by a dog, and, sity of having in one sense of the word a regular

he had any personal objection to the dog; ideas of some of you, but to the younger portion of brance, and encourage his fellow to enter for whole and hearty approbation. Who is there among you that does not delight in hearing the blessed porsame dish. But the cat considered that the control of the Scriptures define the upon in a scholadog had no right to their master, and in the cate on the scene, the dog's ears does not go saws with better feelings after listening ld be boxed, and he driven to the back- to a sermon filled with such deep pathos and mean-

But to have all these advantages can we expect to But to have all these advantages can we expect to the Bosca [the dog]; which ruse always the effect of bringing Pret along at full his living from charity? Why not give him a regular salary, which will meet the demands of himne following eurious instance of jealousy self and family, and let him live as becomes a good dog, living at Canterbury, England, was and honorable man? The Friends' Society is fast waning into obscurity in Lynn, and will entirely lose itself in another generation, if some means are not used to resuscitate the interest which should be long white hair, was, in common with felt among the younger portion of our Society, who will soon be called upon to fill the positions of our of people adopt the suggestions of the Lynn ving displeasure if any other living thing older and beloved Friends, who, in the course of circular, they will honestly acknowledge that ined a share of that attention which he human events, will be summoned to that long-they have ceased to be members of our Sosought-for home of our Heavenly Father.

I will close by saying, let us think deeply upon this subject, which I have mentioned before, and let ommon sense and reason, which is given us by our the house to be nursed and tended. The Heavenly Father, to use and have, to work to our watched all the attentions bestowed upon mutual advantage, and build up our Society, so that all was evidently annoyed at the intrusion when we are called home we can leave to our posterity the old, and, as I have said before, time-

Lynn, October 12, 1882."

re dark, a more minute search was made the house and garden, and at last some followed, and, by hiring an able and educa ed the Lord! He, who knoweth the secret g was visible under a large rose-tree, preacher, a large congregation were gathered thoughts of all hearts, requires unreserved the culprit, shivering with cold, to listen to his "scholarly and intellectual" submission to his will: He demands of us a pose and paws all covered with mud, and performances, it would still altogether fail of single heart, in which his honor and service is feet was a half-filled grave, in which effecting the object proposed by the writerdeposited the body of the murdered duck. of leaving "to posterity the old and time be swerved from steady perseverance in the His long hair had become entangled in honored religion of the Friends' Society in a path of duty by any secondary or inferior ent captive for so many hours. His piti-spiritual worship. It has ever regarded worondition disarmed our censure, for he was ship as an individual act to be performed by rmly fixed that the gardener had to cut each soul to its Creator; and steadily imhe rose-branch so that it might be more pressed on its members the importance, when rely disentangled in the house. Before met for Divine worship, of every one seeking event the gardener had not been a favorite to draw nigh unto God in spirit, so as to re the dog, but ever afterwards it seemed ceive from Him the ability to offer that hoel itself owing a debt of gratitude to its mage of which He is everlastingly worthy. That ministry alone is helpful in the performance of this duty which springs from the operation of the Spirit of God on the beart of calling; and who count all earthly things as have often thought, that Friends render the preacher, and tends to draw the hearers of small value, so that they may obtain a nselves less useful in the neighborhoods to the same blessed Source of spiritual life and heavenly inheritance, a crown incorruptible

eighbors, than they otherwise would be own natural abilities, or on the learning and men, they may fill no conspicuous place in the training which results from education, in the world or in the church, their duties may be exercise of the ministry, so far will they lose the one essential requisite of a true gospel minister, whose preaching like that of the Apostle Paul, ever ought to be, "not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in the demonstration of the Spirit and with power.'

to weary of the patient waiting in earnest exercise of soul for the arising of spiritual life; and it is easy for the unwary to substitute therefor, a service of reading and singing and listening to the polished efforts of one who is hired to perform the duty of worship for them. Such may forget that the work of the soul's salvation must be wrought out between itself and its God, and that no man can do more I know that this is wholly antagonistic to the than stir up the pure mind by way of rememhimself upon the working out of his salvation with fear and trembling before the Lord.

The people who would be drawn together to listen to a man because his delineations of Scripture were "scholarly and intellectual," would almost necessarily come to rest their ing as the one we listened to on our last regular faith "in the wisdom of man" and not in the power of God;" because the moving power which drew them to listen would be the wisdom of man, and they would seek for instruction from this source, and not from the operation of the Divine Power on their own hearts. They would depart from the foundation-principles of our profession, and would cease to be Friends, whatever name they might be known by among men.

We sincerely hope, that whenever any body ciety, and will adopt some other appellation, so that the real members of the Society of Friends may not be held responsible for principles and practices against which it has a living testimony to bear.

It is recorded of the early Christians that honored religion of the Friends' Society in a good they were endowed with singleness of heart, and the Apostle Paul exhorts servants to obey their masters in singleness of heart. How fully shall be the ruling motive, and which cannot impulses.

To one who becomes established in this condition, the language is applicable, "neither heights nor depths, things present or to come, shall ever be able to separate from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus, our Lord." How stimulating to the Christian is the example of those, who can truly say with their Blessed Master, "My meat and my drink is to do the will of Him who sent me, and to finish his work!

We do not doubt that there are many who are pressing towards this mark of their high and undefiled and that fadeth not away. Just so far as any come to depend on their Some of these may be little known among limits of a restricted acquaintance, but yet their labors and their prayers may be blessed of Him who seeth in secret, and who will as suredly grant the prize of eternal life to all those who seek for glory, honor and immortality by patient continuance in well-doing.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

Transit of Venus.—This interesting phenomenon was satisfactorily observed on the 6th instant, at the following named places: Chicago, St. Augustine, Florida, New Mexico, and Durban and Cape Town, South Africa. It was favorably observed, but with some flickerings and obstructions from clouds, in New York city, Harvard University, Boston; Princeton College, New Jersey; High School, Philadelphia; Haverford College, Penna. and Washington. The last contacts were satisfactorily observed at Bangor, Maine; Ottawa, Canada, and San Antonio, Texas. The preparations made for observa-tion at Cincinnati and St. Louis in this country, and Madrid and London in Europe, were disappointed by cloudy weather.

UNITED STATES.-A number of resolutions have been introduced into both houses of Congress, among which was one by representative Caswell, of Wisconsin, on the 6th instant, which was adopted, anthorizing the Committee on Appropriations to embody in the Post-office appropriation bill a clause reducing the letter postage

On the 7th inst., Senator Beck called up his resolution for an inquiry into the political assessment business during the last political campaign. Senator Hale offered a substitute extending the inquiry to the doings of both parties, and instructing the Judiciary Committee to report such legislation as it may deem necessary to prevent future abuses of the kind. The House Committee on Education and Labor has authorized its chairman, Representative Sherwin, to report favorably his bill appropriating $10,000,000 annually for the next five years to advance the public edu-cation. It is proposed that this sum shall be distributed among the several States and Territories by the Secretary of the Treasury, upon the ratio of illiteracy. The House Committee on Agriculture has completed the Agricultural Appropriation bill. It appropriates $414,-780, which is $30,000 less than the appropriation of last year. The House Committee on Appropriations barrel. Feed.-Winter bran sells at $17, a $17.50, and has also completed the Post-office Appropriation bill. The total amount appropriated is $43,948,529, or $695,-380 less than for the fiscal year 1883. The amount for Star Routes is reduced $2,250,000.

The Commissioner of Pensions, in his annual report, says in relation to the "pension population" of the country that he has been unable to procure accurate data upon the subject. "The best approximation that can be made shows that of the 2,063,391 soldiers who enlisted during the war, pensions have been applied for by or on account of, only 26 per cent." He concludes by saying that, "from the best available information, it appears that there is a surviving soldier population of a little over 1,000,000, out of which claims for pensions in the future may be made by those who incurred pensionable disabilities.

It is reported from the Indian Territory that the authorities are trying to remove from the Creek and 100 pounds; straw, 70 to 80 cts. per 100 pounds. Seminole countries two thousand intruders, " who have settled and lived there a long time, and occasionally intermarried."

Red Cloud and an interpreter have been given permission to visit Washington, Red Cloud desiring to lay before the Secretary of the Interior his version of affairs lambs at 4 a 63 cts, per pound, as to condition. at the Pine Ridge Agency, and to emphasize the charges preferred against Agent McGillyenddy."

The steamship Carmana sailed from New Orleans on the 7th inst. for Liverpool, with 10,361 bales of cotton, 12,000 bushels of wheat, and 2650 staves. The cotton is the largest cargo ever carried in one vessel. The total weight of the cargo is 5,840,000 pounds, and its value $642,000.

Last week the Potomac river was "frozen over solidfrom the foot of Analostan Island to the Little Falls—"a spectacle unprecedented within the memory of the oldest river men.

The temperature in Manitoba, Dakota and Minnesota, during the cold wave of Fifth-day, the 7th inst., ranged from 10 to 37 degrees below zero. Throughout the Canadian Province of Ontario, the temperature ranged from zero to 10 below. The cold wave extended southward to the Gulf States, temperatures below freezing mostly in the home-circle or in the narrow on the night of the 4th inst., with a museum of Indian Addle street and Wood street, except the warel curiosities, valued at $10,000. The fire is ascribed to on the corners of London Wall, has been destroys incendiarism.

> the question of prohibiting the sale of liquor therein is agitated in California.

The State debt of Pennsylvania was reduced 915,104 during the fiscal year ended 11th mo. 30th, and its total on that date was $20,225,085. The State Board of who pleaded guilty to participation in the max Agriculture make the following estimate of the crops the Joyce family at Manntrana. The Dublin (of Pennsylvania for 1882: Wheat, 22,425,000 bushels;

corn, 39,875,000 bushels; oats, 34,580,000 bushels; rye, in Ireland during 11th month was eighty-nin 5,805,000 bushels; potatoes, 13,760,000 bushels; tobacco, number contrasts favorably with previous light 8,750,000 pounds Two capitalists of Wisconsin have bought 6000 acres of the best pine timber in the State.

There were 405 deaths in this city last week, an increase of 29 over the previous week, and 49 more than during the same period last year. Of the whole number, 211 were males and 194 females: 55 died of consumption; 46 of pneumonia; 41 of diphtheria; 16 of croup; 13 of paralysis; 12 of marasmus; 12 of typhoid a level with the roads. In the Rue de l'Universit fever, and 9 of scarlet fever.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3's, 103; 3½'s, 102¾; 4½'s, 113½; s, registered, 119½; coupon, 120½; currency 6's, 130. Cotton.—There were no essential change to notice in rice or demand. Sales of middlings are reported at 103 a 11 cts, per lb. for uplands and New Orleans. Petroleum.-Standard white, 75 cts. for export, and

cts. per galion for home use.

Flour.—Flour continues quiet, but prices were about the same as last quoted. Sales of 2700 barrels, including Minnesota extras, clear, at $5.75; small lots do. do. straight, at $6.25; Pennsylvania extra family low grades, at $4.50; do. do. choice, at $4.75; Ohio do. do. at $5.50 a $5.65; do. do. do. new process, at $6.25 Southern Illinois do. do. at $5.50; Wisconsin winter family at $5.50; Ohio patent at $6.40 a $6.75; Minnesota do. at $7.12\frac{1}{2} a $7.50, and 650 barrels City Mills on secret terms. Western Pennsylvania super, at $3 a $3.374; do. do. extras at $3.50 a $4; Pennsylvania extra family at $4.50 a $4.75; Ohio do. do. $5.25 a $5.75; Indiana do. do. at $5.25 a $5.75; St. Louis and Southern Illinois do. do. at $5.371 a $5.75; Minnesota bakers' clear, at $5.50 a $6; do. do. straight at $6.25 a $6.50; patents, winter wheat, at $6.25 a $7; do. do. spring, at $7 a $7.50. Rye flour sells at $4 a $4.25 per spring at $16.50 per ton.

Grain.-Wheat was a fraction higher. Sales of 3100 bushels red and amber at $1.05 a $1.11; 3100 do. track, at $1.081; 2200 bushels No. 2 red, in elevator, at $1.083 1900 bushels rejected at $1.02 a $1.03, and 2 red wheat at $1.08\frac{1}{2} a $1.09. Corn was unsettled. Sales of 8900 bushels sail yellow, in grain depot, at 82 a 84 ets. sail mixed, at 82 a 83 cts.; steamer, at 80 a 81 cts., and new at 58 a 72 cts., as to condition; and 60,000 bushels sail mixed at 683 a 69 cts. Oats were higher: about 9000 bushels sold in lots at 48 a 50 cts. for No. 2 white, and 44 a 47 cts, per bushel for rejected and mixed, and 20,000 bushels No. 2 white at 481 a 491 cts.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 12th mo. 9th, 1882. — Loads of hay, 353; loads of straw, 82. Average price during the week—Prime timathy, $1 to $1.10 per 100 pounds; mixed, 95 cts. to $1.05 per

Beef cattle were in demand and a fraction higher: 3000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 3} a 63 cts. per lb., the latter rate for extra.

Sheep were in fair demand and closed firm: 11,000 head sold at the different yards, at 3 a 51 cts., and

Hogs were rather lower; 5500 head sold at the dif-

Hogs were ratner lower: 5000 near sold as the dif-ferent yards at 8½ a 10 cts. per lb., as to quality. FOREIGN.—Telegrams from various parts of the United Kingdom on the 7th inst., report a snow storm of unusual severity. Traffic on the railways in many districts has been almost suspended. A train was snowed up all night in Cheshire, and the passengers, numbering twelve, suffered acutely. Telegraphic com-munication between London and Glasgow is totally interrupted. Elsewhere messages are greatly delayed. Many wrecks around the coast are reported. At Oldham and neighboring parts of Lancashire county, the storm has not been equalled in thirty years. Heavy loss has been caused in many places.

A fire broke out on the night of the 7th inst. in the remises of Foster, Porter & Co., wholesale hosiers, on Wood street. It was the greatest that has occurred in that city (London) since the celebrated Tooley street fire. The loss is estimated at £3,000,000 ($15,000,000). being reported in them at various points.

Shawnee College, near Bedford, Indiana, vas burned

The whole block between London Wall, Philip lane, is believed that eight persons were injured, so The Valley of the Yosemite is public property, and them seriously. Foster, Porter & Co., it is state a stock of silk goods alone estimated to be £600.000.

Earl Spencer, Lord Lientenant of Ireland, has says, a return shows the number of agrarian ou in Ireland during 11th month was eighty-nine. The Duke of Argyll has now stocked all his v with wild turkeys.

of land in Lanzlade county, in that State, for $210,000. The Republique Française (Gambetta's organ), s It is said that the tract contains about 700,000,000 feet the Government of Great Britain continues to p its egotistical policy in Egypt to the detrime French interests, France will protect those intere a way she may think best,

Paris, 12th mo. 8th.—The water has reacher heart of the city. The drains in the low-lying que are unable to find an outlet, and the water has ris water is a foot deep in some places. The cellars of Foreign Office building are flooded. The Notre The Notre I quarter is swarming with rats, driven out from sewers, and the people are suffering from their d

Paris, 12th mo, 10th,-The Senate has unanim passed a vote of credit for 1,000,000 francs for the of the sufferers by floods in the Seine district, which now subsiding.

The loss by the floods in the Rhenish districts amount to millions of marks. The damage to the of Duisburg alone amounts to a million marks. houses near Mayence were ruined and swept away

The Chambers of Commerce of all the seapo Germany have protested against the exclusion of A can pork. The Government, however, will perso in their determination to prohibit its importation.

The Novoc Vremya, of St. Petersburg, says the Pr has ordered the police to expel all Jews residing in the municipal boundaries of St. Petersburg wit official permission. The Golos says the Senate ha cided that Jews are incapable of holding landed perty in Russia.

A despatch from Paris to the London Daily Teleg says: Telegrams from Saigon report that 10,000 Ch. have crossed the Tonquin frontier.

Mahmond Sami, Abdelal Pasha, Ali Fehmy Teulba Pasha were arraigned on the morning of th inst., and pleaded guilty to a charge of rebellion. prisoners were sentenced to death, but their sente were commuted to exile for life by the Khedive.

Alexandria, 12th mo. 10th.-A peaceful demontion of several thousand of the poorest members foreign colony here was made to-day before the Co lates of the Great Powers, to protest against dela the payment of indemnity for losses sustained di the bombardment of Alexandria. Nearly all the suls promised to send telegrams to their respe governments, presenting the demands of the per The French agent warmly sympathized with the applicants. He expressed apprehension that long d in the payment of the indemnity would cause set demonstrations among the lower classes. The Lima Diario Official publishes a telegram ! General Pierola, announcing his inability to accept unreasonable proposals of Chili, and stating that he deferred his return to Peru until more favorable co tions present themselves. Owing to the construction of the Mexican National Railway, the trade between Mexico and the Un

States and Europe, via Monterey, Corpus Christi Liverpool, has quadrupled in the last three months

FRIENDS' LIBRARY.

A recent examination of Friends' Library shows a number of volumes are missing from their place the shelves. Some of them have no doubt been years ago, and cannot be recovered. Others may h been mislaid or forgotten by those who have borro them. The committee having charge of the Libi respectfully request all who find any of the books luded to, in their houses, to return them before the day of the coming year.

DIED, 11th month 20th, 1882, at the residenc Aquilla Hillman, near Haddonfield, N. J., MART B. STOKES, aged nearly 83 years, a member of E donfield Particular and Monthly Meeting of Friend

FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, TWELFTH MONTH 23, 1882.

NO 20.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

ris, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to

JOSEPH WALTON MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

iptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH POURTH STREET, UP STAIRS,

PHILADELPHIA

For "The Friend." "He Leadeth Me."

lae, busy with inward communings, they n me, and sometimes the words of "The langed Cross" had well nigh been my own: He restoreth my soul."

It was a time of sadness; and my heart, Although it knew and loved the better part, Felt weary with the conflict and the strife, And all the needful discipline of life."

in. As I read the words I grasped the bit no water is!

water in the brook near by, and I thought of such a tender Shepherd! the "streams that break out in the desert," | First of all, then, to put ourselves in the and the fountains in a "dry and thirsty land way of being led, we must make a full, comwhere no water is," and the streamlet seemed plete and final surrender of our will—must to echo, "He leadeth me." And as it wound "leave all" and follow Him. Having done its way along, most surely to reach the ocean this, we must then see that the habits of the in the end, what more fitting type of the devi- old life do not lap over into the new, and ous path through which, in the providence cause us again to fall into ways of our own of God. most of us are led ere we reach the devising. We have such a proneness within broad, deep ocean of Infinite love, there to be us to "run before we are sent," that, in conlost in its bosom? Across the stream came sequence of this eagerness, we are apt to find lost in its obsone. Across the stream cannot somewhere involved in perplexity or trial, and and I thought of "the sheep of his pasture," when these come we begin to wonder how we and his promise that He would "carry the are to know which way the Lord would lead past since that day, but its lesson has re- of the Lord to show us his will. To have eonmained. And now, many miles away from stant companionship we must have an abiding the scenes where it was learned, and again presence, and this is promised in the indwellbut now, as my eye fell on these words, a sitting alone in the quiet of an upper room, it ing of the Holy Spirit, which, we are assured, est, gentle peace stole into my heart. The has all come back to me with a freshness; and will guide us into all truth, bringing all things viriness was gone, and I was at rest. Every the hope, that perhaps 1 might help others to our remembrance. To put ourselves in vit of my being seemed met just then in my more fully to realize the rich freight of mean-the way of being led, then, we must so surclization of the purport of those three words, ing in the words, has induced me to pen this render our wills and so be emptied of seif as It it seemed such a chance breeze that had incident from my own experience. Surely that the Holy Spirit may come in and abide wited the little torn scrap of paper on which the chief reason why we do not in life and in us, to be our Guide and Comforter. Then we the words, down from where it had soul more fully realize this leading, is that we will our eyes be opened to see the right, our oged in the slats of the half-open shutter, do not put ourselves in the way of being led. hearts inclined to do the right, and then will if dropped it in my lap. I was not think. We are so busy mapping out plans of our own, wisdom and strength be given to perform t just then, "He rideth on the wings of the and seeking our own paths, that we forget to what we see and desire to do. This is the wid;" but surely the breeze was the chariot let our Shepherd lead us. Alas, that we so leading of our Shepherd, and it is a rich pas-It brought his message to me on that ocea often wander away into barren places where ture into which, by this leading, we are phaper which had been the instrument of One cannot be led, only so far as his will is origing to me fresh comfort and hope, and, surrendered. To be urged on against his will will they resonated through my being, is to be forced, not led. There is a sense in bry thing about me seemed to take up the which we can truly say as we look back over yet refrain and echo back the words, "He a path blindly followed, "the Lord was leadard that a leading of the lord was leadard to the lord was the lord was leadard to edeth me." I looked out at the window ing me on to this or that end," or to "bring but his people from henceforth, even for the Sun of Righteousness to illume their dark necessary to erect a new building over it"ermore." And of this Lord the sweet singer souls so that, with the inner eye, they behold with accommodations on the second floor for a Israel in the 23rd Psalm had said, "He the Day Spring from on high. And then as a family to have charge of the dairy. glad by his presence, they may say, "He ments greatly facilitate the operations of the

On my ear fell the sound of the running leadeth me." And O, the companionship of was but a stray slip of paper and on it lambs in his arms." And I remembered how us on, it, indeed, He is leading us at all. In hwords, "He leadeth me." It did seem the shielded them from snares and the enemy, his tenderness, He is sure to help us when we tage that they had never so impressed me and led them into the abundance of his fold; cry to him, (for He hears the faintest wail of erc. I thought I had believed them all my how He was a "covert from the storm," a weakest lamb, even though it may have wanf-thought I had especially believed them "hiding place from the wind." a "rock of de-dered, and He runs to its relief, bearing it othe last five and a half years of my life; fence," a "fountain of living water;" and in back on his shoulder rejoicing), but how much e sitting there in the stillness of that upper the shadow of this great Rock all, who would, better to have had Him so direct our steps on, in the soft, warm spring-time, sitting might rest from the heat and strife of the that the perplexity need not have occurred. world; and at this Fountain all who chose Surely busy self is our worst enemy, and the me to me with all the freshness of words might drink and be refreshed; and down the greatest hindrance to our spiritual progress.

1. spoken; and while they brought balm, I ages came echoing the words of the beautiful And what a hydra-headed creature it is! e saw in them a depth of meaning never Psalm, "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not putting out so frequently and in such various eized before. Trials sore and many were want. He maketh me to lie down in green ways, a fresh appearance of life, when we had pastures, He leadeth me beside the still waters, thought it slain

To be led implies constant companionship, Several years have slipped away into the and not an occasional or even frequent asking brought-a place where we are assured we A. L. Washburn.

Philada., 12th mo. 10th, 1882.

For "The Friend,"

Westtown Boarding School.

From the report of 1854 we learn, "That the building heretofore used as a milk-house nume, and across through the one opposite, about this or that result in my life;" for surely the building heretofore used as a milk-house Uceither hand rose the mountains, clothed "He bringeth the blind by a way they know being in a dilapidated condition, and the soft, spring verdure, and they were to me not;" but the blind, even, must be willing to spring from which the water was conveyed types of God's sheltering, protecting love be led, and He who leads will surely anoint having failed to give a sufficient supply, and I recalled that, "As the mountains are their eyes with the eye-salve of truth, and the water not being cold enough to answer and about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round bring them out into a large place, and cause the intended purpose, it has been deemed

"The new barn was put up in time to admit deth me;" while to all who were willing to they behold the broad pastures of his bounty, "The new barn was put up in time to admit bow the same tender Shepherd might come the rich plains of his love, and drink at the of storing last year's crop of grain and hay; same precious assurance, "He leadeth deep fountain of still waters, with hearts made and its ample size and convenient arrangefarmer. The cost of the improvements, including the removal of the grain-house to the 1855, states that "upon examining the barn" north-west side of the barn-yard and fitting it near the school buildings, it was found to reup, taking down the old barn, cleaning up quire a new roof and other repairs, the expense and levelling the ground. &c., is $3953.58, of which, with the cost of a new wagon-house, which, added to the cost of the farm-house which is needed, was estimated to be a conand improvements around it, makes a total of siderable part of the amount that would be $12,428.56, all of which, excepting $217, has required to build a new barn in a more con-off by a severe storm of hail during the sum-concluded to authorize its crection. mer, and considerable increased expenditure has been incurred in consequence, as well as doors have been put up in the room adjoinfor the removal of fences, draining the meadow ing the office for the accommodation of the and for manures, which will absorb much of library; which has been enlarged by the addithe apparent profit; yet it is believed that the tion of about one thousand volumes, some of advantages derived from these expenditures which are valuable books of reference. Many will more than compensate for the outlay.'

and for the necessary cleaning of the house, tributions for the purpose. The Superintendent and Matron are generwhile a longer time of recreation would benefit that period there were more applicants than the health of the teachers and other care-could be admitted. takers, it would also be of advantage to the pupils, giving them more time to be with in the school has been gratifying and entheir parents and families, especially such as couraging to the committee. reside at a considerable distance, and for pre- "They hope it will continue to receive the fulness, and of doing to others as he is ensuing summer session."

mo. 6th, the following extract from the will the rising generation. of Margaret Sheppard was produced : "To my executors in trust for the committee having towards Westtown in leaving legacies to it, is or spirit, and intention of any law the charge of Westtown Boarding School, $2000, encouraging and commendable; lest however force, and he was confirmed in that beli to be paid to the treasurer for the time being the enumeration of them should give the im. the opinion of Patrick Henry, Esq., 1 for the use of that institution.

BENJ. H. WARDER, Signed.

Acting Executor. treasurer, amounted to $11,039.

that he has received $3752.38, being the pro-income arising from these funds. From the tablishing the Civil and Religious Right eeeds of a legacy of $4000 bequeathed by our report made in 1881, we learn "that the aver- America, he finds prejudiees are going late friend Ann E. Jenks." This legacy was age cost per pupil for the year was $202.25," among many people against Negroes bei directed to be paid to the treasurer for the being $72.25 more than was charged. It is any wise relieved from a state of abs time being of the Yearly Meeting's Committee believed that the institution is conducted with slavery; by means whereof as he suppose appointed to the charge and oversight of as much economy as can well be observed. Friends' Boarding School at Westtown, "for It is a great satisfaction to be able to furling, as they say, his negroes to go at large the benefit of that institution in such way as hish members of the Society with so thorough moreover has been fined the sum of ten por

the school buildings for more than half a een-funds increased, it would be very pleasant to tracts, which he declares (common as it tury, as well as the decay of other portions of reduce still more the amount charged per been done by others with impunity) he n the property being such, as at an early period annum for board and tuition. to render extensive repairs indispensable, and the necessary funds for effecting such repairs having been offered by some friends of the Institution, they were accepted, and the following Friends were appointed, in conjunction with our Superintendent, to have the repairs effected in a substantial and suitable

The report made to the Yearly Meeting in been paid by the voluntary subscriptions of venient location, and on a plan which would Friends."

Serve both purposes. The funds for building "A large portion of the eorn crop was cut such an one having also been offered, it was

"Since the last report new cases with glazed of the old books have been rebound, and the "At the close of nearly every session, it is whole collection has been newly arranged, necessary to make some repairs to the build and a catalogue prepared and printed. The ing, often requiring considerable time to com- cost of the new books, fitting up the room, plete them; and the present period of vaca- and printing the eatalogue, amounting to tion is found to be too short for the purpose, $1268.62, has been defrayed by voluntary con-

"For the last two years about as many ally so closely confined during this period, as pupils have participated in the advantages to have little or no time for relaxation from afforded by this seminary as could comfort their ardnous charge, and it is believed that ably be accommodated; and at times during

"This evidence of the confidence of Friends paring the necessary clothing for the succeed-support of our members generally, believing in the like situation be done by, did about ing session, &c.; it is therefore agreed to pro-that as there is a united concern on the part year 1777, place diverse of his Negre pose for the approval of the Yearly Meeting, of those who have charge of it, to conduct it lands of his own, at a small distance fre that the vacations shall be extended to four in the fear of the Lord and in conformity to habitation. And for their encouragem t weeks each, to commence at the close of the our religious principles and testimonies, it will industry, and to remove every inducem t continue to promote the moral and religious, theft and dishonesty supported them for At a meeting of the committee held 10th as well as literary improvement of many of term of one year, and allowed them the pression, that a large and accumulating sum Governor, (who he consulted on the occasion of money was at the disposal of the committee, as well as the attorney who acted for it may not be out of place to allude to the State in the County of Henrico, on the Information was given that the residue of fact, that many of the legacies were for speci- of the presentment now complained of. Henry Pemberton's estate, received by the fied objects. It is well also to bear in mind, with concern he observes, after a w that every child educated there receives di-several years, and the expense of much 4th mo. 6th, 1855. "The treasurer informs rectly his or her share of the benefit of the and treasure, for the ostensible purpose the committee having charge thereof for the an education, surrounded as they are by so on an Act past November 7th, 1769, in time being may deem expedient to appoint." many physical comforts at so low a price, fully made to prevent owners of Negroes 6th mo. 6th, 1855. The following minute which could not be done were there no en-fering them to go at large on stipulated we was adopted: "The annual wear and tear of downent funds to support it. Were these and to prevent thefts incident to such > Home love is a prize so costly it should not have conducted in an orderly inoffensive (negleeted be.

* The old harn stood a short distance south or sonth-east of the present green-house; had the eastern end plastered smooth on the ontside, against which handmanner, viz: Jos. Scattergood, Henry Cope, Blue was layed as exercise now generally superseded thim of dishonest or impertinent conductive fine of them since they have been so set.

From "Our An los Some Old Papers. Contributed by R. A. Brock, Secretary | H torical Society of Virginia.

"PHILAD'A, yo 14th 3d mon. 762 Loving Friend, Robert Pleasants:

I herewith send thee some Pamph's y Negro Trade, lately published has heartily wish those amongst you was concerned with this suffering People w prevailed upon to read them with serio ne if foradventure they may see their and apply to the Common Father for i tr tion bow to act therein. I shall be ad know thy Sentiments upon the Contits y° Pamphlets, and if thou thinks y° s di thee more would be of any service arm you; as we are about reprinting it wit so addition, having met with some strong or borating Testimony from some Persus Note, viz: Foster, Hutchison & Co. W affectionate love and hopes to see the so amongst us, I remain thy friend,

ANTHONY BENIEF

[FOLIO :- SUPERSCRIBED " FOR | ROBERT LI SANTS, | MERCH'T. IN VA."

"To the Governor and Counsel of Virgini The Memorial of Robert Pleasants Shewith,

That your memoralist from a full pist sion that all mankind are by nature is entitled to freedom, a desire of rewarding in benefit of their labour. This he hope a The interest manifested by many Friends believed was not inconsistent with the lib was presented by the Grand Jury, for si did do. And he conceives that so far ! the encouragement given his negroes, as a

said, having had any such tendency, t

ner. And instead of going at large, as I been sudjested, they have all settled hal

tions, and under his own care and no

Nor hath one single complaint been mad t times in an unlawful manner, beat them Thousand Seven Hundred and Eighty.

out cause, and killed and destroyed their "George Bell." [SEAL.] and other property. It cannot reasonbe supposed he could have any other re in his conduct towards his Negroes, hath always carefully done, to avoid Oliver, Pleasants. Shelton, Crew.] ng under the denomination of an Evil-

And as he conceives a voluntary payappiness of all mankind.

ROBERT PLEASANTS.

although several evil disposed people of, I have hereunto set my Hand and Scal did outwardly in the days of his flesh, and to

Wm. Davis,

Micajah Davis."

w had made his property. And seeing His descendants have intermarried with some this change from a state of nature to a state word of the Magistrate is intended for of the most worthy families in our midst—of grace, the Lord has promised that He onishment of evil doers, and the friend among which may be mentioned the follow- would "pour out of his Spirit upon all flesh."
ose who do well, he wishes to continue, ing: Lamb, Austin, Sydnor, Starke, Watt, So if the word all means what it says, then ions heretofore done) patiently to sub-of God may lead his obedient servants into every man to profit withal. o the penalty of laws, he could not from diversified fields of labor. And He may, in whom doth not his light shine?" Christ the res of conscience actively comply with; gathering different churches together, per light of the world was given after the divine e same time considering the said fine to mit them to work in his cause, under differlight and life was lost in the fall, to enlighten warded against him from prejudice, or a ent shades of light and belief. But if they are even the Gentiles; and designed to be "God's ken intention of the law, he hopes and led by his Spirit. He will prosper their work, salvation unto the uttermost parts of the ests your protection from unreasonable As their faith is, so He will suffer it to be earth;" to open the eyes of all; as we are ings, and that you will take the matter unto them; provided they are all led by the all spiritually blind by nature, "and to turn consideration, and appoint such relief as same Spirit. If the manner of work should them from darkness to light, and from the u may appear just and reasonable, which differ in some unimportant points from that power of Satan unto God: that they might e desire of one who wishes the welfair in which our faith has led us, let us re-receive forgiveness of sins, and have an inmember that the tree of life bears twelve inheritance among them which are sanctified, manner of fruits. And if each separate kind through faith that is in Him." But in order of fruit should seem to be palatable to the for this great change, we may have to go bert Pleasants was the great-grandson taste, and refreshing or strengthening to the down again and again as to the very bottom hn Pleasants, who emigrated from Eng. nerve of some weary Christian traveller, we of Jordan, the river of God's judgment, that in 1665, and settled in Henrico County, need not try to imitate it, but submissively we may be cleansed from every defilement, nia. There have been many prominent say, the Lord's will be done. But 'let every and be prepared to join the general assembly sentatives of this family in the annals of man abide in the same calling wherein he and church of the first-born, who have come tate.

For "The Friend."

Was called." And not think that because a up out of great tribulations, and washed their bert Pleasants was a man of indomitable certain kind of work seems to be blest under robes in the blood of the Lamb of God, which ty and vigorous intellect. He engaged the leadership of other churches, that we taketh away the sin of the world out of every anting as well as mercantile pursuits, must forsake the more high and spiritual heart that abides the day of coming as a couired considerable wealth in land and calling of Him who has called us out of dark purifier. If the tendering love of Him who He owned and resided upon the ness into the marvellous light of the gospel dwelt in that bush which was not consumed, les" Plantation, memorable as having day, and follow their ways. But let us pass is present with us, as we pass through the long possessed by the distinguished Rantition of the deeps, and through the fiery baptisms of this family. He was a public spirited citizen tree, and prayerfully hope that the leaves of probationary world, it richly compensates for the deeps, and through the fiery baptisms of this paid. ell as philanthropist, and entered heartily the tree of life may ultimately spread over all. Where our Redeemer reigns, self is laid all possible schemes of agricultural protection all, and tend to the healing of the nations, low. We must be emptied of self before we and of manufacture. In behalf of the For God has promised that he would pour are filled with the Spirit. We must not only ded with the early advocates of the meand daughters should prophesy from that in silence; but after learning, obey. It is in this country and in Europe. The spirit, and not from the spirit of man; that the willing and the obedient that cat the good nest esteem existed between him and the infent philanthropists of Pennsylvania, only Benezet, James Pemberton, John h and others.

He spirit and not from the spirit of man; that the willing and the obedient that cat the good nest esteem existed between him and the infent philanthropists of Pennsylvania, by the spirit of man that is in him. Even so us with power from on high, before we can the things of God knoweth no man but by go forth in his service, and convert sinners the Spirit of God. And the Spirit searcheth unto God. And unless we have this endue-SCIPATION OF A SLAVE IN VIRGINIA, BY A all things, yea, the deep things of God. The ment, and the heavenly anointing ourselves, EMBER OF THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, IN Scriptures teach us that the eternal Word of our labor and our preaching will be in vain. God, for the restoration of man from the We may exalt self by our efforts; but not the fall, was made flesh and dwelt among men, cause of Him who is meek and lowly in mature deliberate consideration and the And though He were a Son of God, yet He heart. The deart is the work of the heart as detailed by the deart as detailed with the suffered; and being made well as a melody of the heart as detailed which heart as described with the suffered; and being made well as a melody of words. The one is deep ankind and that no Law, Moral or Di-perfect, He became the author of eternal sal- and heavenly; the other superficial, emo-has given me a right to or property in vation unto all that obey Him." So our sal-tional and earthly. Person of my fellow creatures and being vation seems to depend on our obedience to Though the singing of the present day the inspeaking Word, which is nigh to all may appear to be largely mixed with that receive he done by, DO therefore Declare among men, He spake outwardly to the Spirit, and with the done by, DO therefore Declare among men, He spake outwardly to men. Spirit, and within the devinding that the Having under my Care a Negro woman But it was "expedient" that He should not Spirit gives, it cannot reach higher than the ed Agg, I do for my Self, my Heirs, Exc | remain outwardly on earth, but that He house in which it is uttered, because a stream rs, Adms. and Assigns, Hereby Release should go to the Father, and as He promised, cannot rise higher than its fountain. All the said Agg, all my Rights, Titles or come in spirit and guide his disciples into all utterances in the way of worship should be on to any Estate she may Acquire from the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

Then, as they emanate from the Spirit of Date of these presents. In witness where He comes to his own now, spiritually, as He Christ, they would have a tendency to lead nere prejudice he believes) have at dif-this Eleventh Day of the Fitth Month, One as many as thus receive Him, to them He times in an unlawful manner, beat them Thousand Seven Hundred and Eighty. to use the power which he gives us, and be-"Sign'd, Sealed & Deliver'd in the presence of lieve in it, and be led by it, in the new and living way, until that new birth is brought forth, which is "not of blood, nor of the will an approbation of duty and a desire of groups and a desire of slaves all of whom he severally emancipated. God." And to bring about this new birth no one is left out, of any nation, kindred, tongue or people, that has not had a saving portion of God's grace or Holy Spirit poured of the said fine, would be a tacit acknowlent of Evil, he cannot comply with it, yet links it his duty, (as he hath on similar they are the sons of God." But the Spirit of God, by, if he would accept it, and be led by it. For a "manifestation of the Spirit is given to the hearers to Him. And as these keep low and learn of Him, great will be their peace. My heart's desire and prayer to God is, that now, even in old age, I may be preserved so near the fountain of life, as to bring forth if but only a little fruit to the glory of Him who has called me out of the darkness which so hangs over us, into his marvellous light. But I remember that the most fruitful branches have to bow the most towards the root To these, death, the "bovering shape which have to bow under the weight of years, more than it yet has done, I humbly crave that if inner man needs to be more purged in order _ED.] that it may bring forth more than it has yet done, I may submissively say, "thy will, O Lord! and not mine be done;" and that I may more spiritually bow towards the root of the tree of life, from which alone the spiritual man receives all of his spiritual support -even that tree whose leaves are for the healing of the nations. For thus saith the Lord; "To this man will I look, even to him that is poor, and of a contrite spirit, and that trembleth at my word." D. II.

Dublin, Ind., 12th mo. 11th, 1882.

For " The Friend,"

I have read with pleasure articles in "The Friend," warning against unprofitable reading. While it is right to bear a testimony against such waste of our precious time, are we endeavoring by every means in our power to circulate good reading. I have often desired that Friends who have been blessed with pleuty of this world's goods, might be inclined to more largely circulate "The Friend." It is a paper that almost any one will readmany not members with us enjoy its pages. I have felt it right to pen these few lines, hoping that by them some one might be induced to weigh the matter and see if their Father has not some work of this kind for them.

New York State, 12th mo. 13th, 1882.

A singular treatment of the ruins of Baby lon, and one which might readily be overlooked in its bearing upon the predictions of Scripture in minute detail respecting this city, has not escaped the observation of H. Rassain, a thorough explorer of the site.

"There is one fact connected with the destruction of Babylon and the marvellous fulfilment of prophecy which struck me more than anything else, which fact seems never to have been noticed by any traveller, and that is the non-existence in the several modern buildings in the neighborhood of Babylon of any signs of stone which had been dug up from its ancient ruins, because it seems that, in digging for old materials, the Arabs used the bricks for building purposes, but always burnt the stone thus discovered for lime, which fact wonderfully fufils the divine words of Jeremiah-namely: "And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for a foundation; but thou shalt be desolate forever, saith the Lord." (Jeremiah, li. 26.)-Independ-

To experience the change from nature unto grace, is more to be desired than kingdoms; and is worth enduring conflicts and distresses to know realized in ourselves; and, if so might be, to prepare us, to strengthen, help and encourage other burdened souls .- M. Capper.

MIRAGE.

BY SUSAN COOLIDGE.

[The words of hope and cheer contained in the last stanza of this beautiful poem are applicable to those who have a well-grounded hope that, through the mercy of God in Christ Jesus, their sins have been forgiven and they prepared for admittance into that kingdom where nothing that is impure can ever enter. of the tree from whence they receive their "stains and blots the sunniest skies," need support. And now, as my mortal body, may bring no terror. But there is no solid ground for comfort and hope for those who will not repent of their sins, or submit themselves to my merciful Preserver should see that the be governed and guided by the Divine will.

> Beyond the plain sirocco-fanned, The heat and hush of desert sand. A belt of feathery palms arise, Traced like a vision on the skies. Cool waters ripple at their feet, O dream divine, be real as sweet We near, the mocking shadows flee; But could we mount as eagles do. High and yet higher, we should see Where far, far off the real palms be-Behind the false there hides the true.

Beyond the fog-wreaths curling gray Lies the bright stretch of clear noonday. These seas are blue and glad, and hands Of white waves leap on yellow sands, The merry fisher trims his sail With never thought of cloud or gale: We sadly sit-but could we rise Above these vapors hovering dun, Which are of joy the thin disgnise, We too should laugh 'neath laughing skies-

Ah, coward heart! be not so blind, Be not so shaken valiant mind, As the grim shadow all men fear Draws nearer with each urging year, A hovering shape which flits and flies, And stains and blots the sunniest skies. Did we but dare to rise above As angels do, emparadised, Our eyes should see the cloud remove;

Behind the shadow hides the sun,

Behind the dread, the Eternal Love: Behind the death, the welcoming Christ! -S. S. Times.

Selected ANISE AND CUMMIN.

BY MARGARET J. PRESTON. Wearily with homely duties done, Tired through treading day by day Over and over from sun to sun, One and the same small round alway, Under her breath I heard her say:

"Oh! for the sweep of the keen-edged scythe, Oh! for the swaths, when the reaping's o'er Proof of the toil's success. I tithe Anise and cummin—such petty store! Cummin and anise-nothing more!

"Only a meagre garden-space Out of the world so rich and broad— Only a strip of standing-place! Only a patch of herb-strown sod Given, in which to work for God!

Yet is my hand as full of care Under the shine and frost and rain, Tending and weeding and watching there, Even as though I deemed a wain Were to be piled with sheaves of grain.

"Then when the work is done, what cheer Have I to greet me, great or small? What that shall show how year by year, Patient I've wrought at duty's call? Anise and cummin-that is all !"

Turning, I raised the drooping head, Just as I heard a sob arise: "Anise and cummin and mint," I said (Kissing her over her aching eyes), "Even our Lord doth not despise.

"Think you He looks for headed wheat Out of your plot of garden-ground? Think you He counts as incomplete Service that from such scanty bound Yields Him the tithing He has found?

"What are to Him the world's wide plains Him who hath never a need to fill Even one garner with our small grains? Yet, if the plot is yours to till, Tithe Him the anise and cummin still! -Independ

MY LITTLE LABORER.

A tiny man, with fingers soft and tender As any lady fair; Sweet eyes of blue, a form both frail and slend And curls of sunny hair A household toy, a fragile thing of beauty-Yet with each rising sun

Begins his round of toil—a solemn duty, That must be daily done,

To-day he's building castle, house, and tower, With wondrons art and skill; Or labors with his hammer by the hour, With strong, determined will. Anon, with loaded little cart, he's plying A brisk and driving trade; Again, with thoughtful, earnest brow, is trying

Some book's dark lore to read. Now, laden like some little beast of burden, He drags himself along; And now his lordly little voice is heard in Boisterous shout and song-Another hour is spent in busy toil With hoop and top and ball-And with a patience that is never failing, He tries and conquers all.

But sleep at last o'ertakes my little rover, And on his mother's breast Joys thrown aside, the day's hard labor over, He sinks to quiet rest; And as I fold hiro to my bosom, sleeping, I think, 'mid gathering tear Of what the distant future may be keeping As work for manhood's years.

Must he with toil his daily bread be earning, In the world's busy mart Life's bitter lessons every day be learning, With patient, struggling heart? Or shall my little architect be building Some monument of fame, On which, in letters bright with glory's gilding

The world may read his name? Perhaps some humble, lowly occupation, But shared with sweet content: Perhaps a life in loftier, prouder station, In selfish pleasure spent; Perchance these little feet may cross the portah Of learning's lofty fane, His life work to scatter truths immortal

Among the sons of men!

Sclected for "The Frie The Character of William Penn.

An extract from an Address by Judge B on "Religious Liberty. "The last of the great English histor whose skill in praising what he admired.

depreciating what he disliked was unsurpa turned his powerful magnifying glass t William Penn, and he announced that he served on that 'bright particular star' spots never before seen. It is said th famous astronomer once upon a time, prised the scientific world by declaring he had discovered an elephant in the me but upon close examination it was ascerta that the elephant supposed to be in moon, was only a fly upon the philosopl telescope. It may be there was a fly in instrument through which Mr. Maca looked at the character of Penn, and shrewdly suspected that some such it pagation of it.'

Education.

nost the only professors of Christianity, sometimes the spirit of supplication has rested herein seeking to serve our generation accord-at have crept in there about the time the who acknowledge the use of this absolutely on the little gathering, and the blessing of kers voted against him at the Edinburgh necessary introduction to Christian knowl- the Most High vocally entreated. But not tion. Be that as it may, this assault upon edge and Christian practice. To have the less precious nor less instructive, are some of n's fame comes too late in the day. The active minds of children early put under this these seasons, when true silence covers the ment of the world has been pronounced kind of restraint, to be accustomed to turn assembly, and every heart is made to feel him long ago. No man of his time was their attention from external objects, and early that there is a God who, though he dwelleth er known. From his early youth to his habituated to a degree of abstracted quiet, is in the high and holy place, is also with him age be was a man of mark and lived con- a matter of great consequence, and may be a that is of a contrite and humble spirit. I am thy in the eye of the public, surrounded enemies ever ready to put the worst content on the spirit of the public services garments, and left behind him a character so well calculated to give children this habit, a three the same trial in plane; Bul shall be adoption of family worship, when the the first habit, and the bloom of his youth, parents, children, and domestics, might daily the other. Daily observation convinces us all the freshness of health and hope offer unto the holy One of Israel, the sweet of the necessity of laboring on the farm and n his heart, when worldly ambition was incense of bearts united in his name. I am in the garden, if we expect to receive ample sading its most seductive allurements far from recommending any thing which fruits from the seeds we have sown; we do and him, be gave up rank, fortune, friends, would be inconsistent with our religious prin- not expect that our children will learn to became an outcast from the house of his ciples and practices, or with our belief, that read, or write, or attain any other literary er, for the sake of communion with a we cannot approach the Almighty acceptably accomplishment without instruction, without ised and persecuted sect. In obedience without a preparation from Him. But to as daily, persevering diligence; but in religion, is conscience, and without other possible semble together in the morning and evening in the culture of the heart and the soul, too ives, he suffered insult, and scorn, and to read the sacred Scriptures, and to sit in many seem to have embraced the chimerical risonment, with a fortitude that would reverent silence before Him in whom we live idea, that they may grow up as plants of the e honored a Christian martyr in any age, and move and have our being, surely must be Lord's own right hand planting, without care t he was a man of consummate ability is as reasonable a duty as public worship, which on our part, or labor on their own. If this ved by all his public acts, speeches and is so strictly enjoined; and is not the com-tings. Even the words that are reported mand given to the Jews equally binding upon 'Bring up your children in the nurture and awe fallen from him in private conversa- se. 'Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God admonition of the Lord.' Does not this call were so fitly spoken, that they are 'like one Lord.' 'And thou shalt love the Lord for daily care, not only to be baptized for les of gold set in pictures of silver, thy God with all thine heart, and with all them, but to labor diligently in word and in the one consent the wise and the learned thy soul, and with all thy might. And these doctrine, to instil into their minds the most all nations have agreed, that as a law-words which I command thee this day, shall excellent precepts of the gospel? Not only er be was the greatest that ever founded be in thine heart. And thou shall teach to point them to the meek and lowly Jesus, ate, in ancient or modern times. He was them diligently unto thy children." As we but to lead them by holy restraint under His the foremost, but he was among the have no reason to suppose that under the cross, and inure them by parental tenderness most to disclaim all power of coercion gospel dispensation any peculiar change and authority, which should be inseparable, references the conscience. This alone, if he had passed upon the nature of man, that renders to bear it in childhood and youth; so would e nothing else, would have marked the him more susceptible of good, or less liable they find in riper years that it would bear ness of his intellectual stature; for when to the temptations and sins of his natural them; and parents, and children, and serlight of a new truth is dawning upon the propensities, or the inroad of the fell destroyer vants, all who form the domestic circle, would do its earliest rays are always shed of our innocence, surely our children need as feel its hallowed influence, and would be one on the loftiest minds. He not only regreat care and stand as much in need of reached the truth in his own heart, but he ligious instruction, as those under the old discussion in the Lord. ly made acquainted with the principles we vineyard, and where shall we look for the properly instructed in this entrance to the less. For want of this instruction, they remedy? Where shall we find a counteract school of wisdom, during the residue of their ome too easy a prey to the customs of the ing influence, if not in the domestic education days. rld and its habitudes, and that which would of our children? There can be nothing which bedge about them, and preserve them from will exercise so powerful, so universal an ny temptations, is laid waste, and all the effect on our Society as family religion; and rements of vice and folly suffered to se- how can this be established so well, as by e their affections to their ruin. For when having stated periods, in which heads of famy cease to be distinguished from others by ilies may daily read the blessed volume of among you? is said to have been our of the ir garb and deportment, they too often inspiration in the circle of home, and seek, in queries, or a part of a query in the early days se to be distinguished from the world by humble reverential silence, for a qualification of this religious Society. And would it not ir morals, and the rectitude of their con-rightly to minister to the wants of those who be well in these days for each one of our memare looking unto them as to Saviours on bers seriously to inquire, in the cool of the Too few are the parents, who can hon- Mount Zion? If this were the uniform day, and in the sight of the Omniscient, ly say, that they train up their children in practice amongst us, a practice which is so whether there has been any growth in the odly conversation, in plainness of speech, excellent that it is no marvel Satan has mar Truth as it is in Jesus? Whether there has navior and apparel; and the frequent shalled his forces against it, and tried to per been any deepening in the root of Divine ding of the holy Scriptures. And as it is suade us that it is form without substance, life? Whether there is any greater hunger great importance to habituate children we should soon see a different state of things and thirst after righteousness? Whether m their infancy to silence and attention, prevailing; for in such opportunities, the there is any more love of the Saviour inciting only as a preparation to their advance-stubborn heart has been melted, the dry eye to the obedience which is of faith in his Holy

"Though it cannot be supposed the young oted himself with tireless energy to the pensation. Observation and experience teach and active minds of children are always enus that piety is not the spontaneous growth gaged as they ought to be, yet to be accusof the human heart; that, on the contrary, the tomed thus to stillness, and brought to curb seed of sin prevails there, until supplanted and restrain the sallies of their youthful disby that seed of the woman which is 'Christ positions, is no small point gained, towards Many children among us" (the Society of within, the hope of glory.' We daily see the fixing a habit of patient recollection, and a ends), says the celebrated Dr. Fothergill, sorrowful inroads which the enemy has made regard to decorum, which seldom forsakes ffer great loss, by not being early and pro and is making in this portion of the Lord's those, who have been accustomed to it, and

For "The Friend."

A Growth in the Truth.

Has there been any growth in the Truth nt in a religious life, but as the ground-moistened, and the tongue has been loosed to Spirit? Whether there is an increased derk of a well-cultivated understanding, it speak a word in season, of exhortation or sire felt after a faithful maintenance of the cult to be particularly regarded. We are reproof, of tenderness or encouragement; and cross of Christ, despising the shame, and ing to His holy will? The Apostle enjoins, Saviour! who, "for the joy that was set be-the result! Would that such, with sup "Examine yourselves whether ye be in the fore Him endured the cross, despising the grace, might ask before it be too late, faith ; prove your own selves." Such exam-shame," &c. Who made Himself of no reput ination is the more obligatory, because of the tation; pleased not Himself; had not where value of a never dying soul, and of the short-to lay his head; though in a world He made, ness of the time, as well as uncertainty of the and which He came, suffered, and bled, to lease, in which we have to "occupy till He redeem. Of Him we must learn meckness come" with the talents so responsibly com- and lowliness, even to sit at his feet to hear

mitted by the Great Giver. Scripture to the indolent or lukewarm Chris- which privileged place, no divination or entian professor. The Apostle enjoins: "Be ye chantment can prevail against, and where not slothful, but followers of them who growth, and strength, and life are meted to through faith and patience inherit the promite filial dependent children and lowly folses." There must be faithful patient labor in lowers of a crucified, but risen and glorified apostolic Presbyterians ought to rest order to obtain the bread, he that eateth of Lord. order to obtain the bread, he that eateth of Lord. which shall live forever. There must be a continuous warfare to overcome our spiritual ene- God of all comfort, whose grace is ever suffimies-the old inhabitants of the land. There cient, it is believed there is a growth in the must be a diligent waiting upon the Lord, if ever blessed Truth amongst us; that there we are ever permitted to experience our is an increasing love of the Truth,—a more spiritual strength renewed. There must be earnest, deep-seated, longing desire in one a watching unto prayer with all perseverance, here and another there, cost what it may, to if we are ever enabled to be strong in the be found in its ways—in the footsteps of the Lord, and in the power of his might. There flock of Christ's companions. Yea, the landing the lock of Christ's companions. Yea, the landing the lock of Christ's companions. must be an assiduous striving maintained if we guage of divers hearts, we doubt not, at ever enter the strait gate and walk in the nar-times is, "Oh! for a closer walk with God," the Vatican Palace, Rome." The taxes row way which alone leadeth to the realms "Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where promptly paid, and a receipt given to of peace and unspeakable joy. There must thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to izen Joachim Pecci. be a selling all for the pearl of great price; rest at noon?" May these put on strength and a parting with things as near and dear in the name of the Lord; and, looking not incumbent of St. John's Church, Miles as the right hand or the right eye, when any back, press forward in the heavenly race, ting, Manchester, is the most resolut of these come in competition with our soul's The Saviour's love is especially to these, growth and welfare, or with a crown of never. Their feeble, broken, contrile petitions are conscience sake, his martyrdom consisting the contriled petitions are conscience to the contriled petitions are conscienced as the contriled petitions are consistent of the contriled petitions are consistent of the contriled petitions are consistent or contriled petitions. fading glory. On this point, how strong and sweetly audible to his omnipresent, compas, imprisonment for contempt of court. suggestive is the example of the Apostle Paul, sionate ear. May their aspirations from and dered to observe the ritual which the Juc who evinced the sincerity of his eternal hopes more be. Oh Lord! lead me, and I will follow Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Co by constantly preparing himself for their fruithee. These, the tender Shepherd will bring tion. He says: "I count all things but loss into green pastures, beside the still waters. for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ In those, He will open fresh seals in their re-Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the ligious experience. He will enlarge the coast loss of all things, and do count them but dung, of these, and bless them with spiritual bless, custody of the Governor of Lancaster Cathat I may win Christ, and be found in Him," lings to the glory of his grace. The bruised till be should purge himself of the conte &c. Now, if these, or similar fruits of growth reed He will not break, neither the smoking of which he had been convicted. For in the unchangeable Truth have not been flax quench, as these abide steadfast in Him, known or felt by us, what is the "root of bit-till judgment be brought forth unto victory terness springing up?" What the hindrance May the number of such as these be increas or obstruction to a progress in grace and ed within our borders; that thus the grace piety, and in the saving knowledge of our and Truth which come by Jesus Christ, and Lord Jesus Christ unto life eternal? as it is in the Redeemer, so as to seem to grow ed ability to proclaim by a consistent, godly in it, without yielding our hearts to be leaven-life and conversation, if not by words, the od by Him and his grace, a whole burnt offer wonders of redeeming love and mercy; hold last, the Bishop of Manchester has deel ing and sacrifice, will ever remain a light-ling out the inviting language, Come and bave weighted and futile attempt. Every effort to fellowship with us, for "our fellowship is with dilute the religion of our forefathers, so as to the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.' make it more palatable, will prove but like to climbing up some other way to the kingdom nobling. And the writer has observed that Perhaps one great reason why there is not of a palace. more lively growth apparent, is because too But where, on the other hand, this precious being tightly corked up in a bottle; the the many stumble at the simplicity of this cross, season of youth is wasted amid the glittering placed in pure carbonic acid gas. At the en Nevertheless, it was Paul's glory: and, as attractions of earth, or in the too absorbing two years the seeds were taken out, weig says William Penn, "Christ's cross is Christ's pursuit of even its lawful engagements and and sown. The seeds exposed to free air way to Christ's crown." What an example, pleasures - the cares of this life, the deceit-gained in weight; those in the confined moreover, in this, as well as in humility and fulness of riches, or the love of other things,"

Such exam-|shame," &c. Who made Himself of no repuhis words as the "one thing needful"-" that Salvation is nowhere promised in Holy good part," never to be taken away. In

But, praise be to the Father of mercies and by which, said Paul, "I am what I am," may The effort to modulate or qualify the Truth be more and more magnified unto the receiv-

Religion, above all things else, is truly enthan by Him, who yesterday, to-day, and for-where young persons yield themselves wholly ever, must remain the way, the truth, and the to its heavenly, heart-changing, all-correcting discipline, that it not only promotes a lively
As an antecedent to a right growth in the growth in Christ the living Vine unto becom-Truth, there must be an humbling of our ing, as represented of the king's daughter, selves under the discipline of the cross of "all glorious within;" but, also, through its Christ. The Scriptures enjoin, to "be clothed thoroughly leavening, transforming power, with humility." And again, "Humble your exemplifies the jewel of consistency, without Chronicle reports some experiments on selves under the mighty hand of God, that —all being leavened. So that such truly be-and bean seeds. Several packets were, in He may exalt you in due time: casting all come like unto plants grown up in their youth, your care upon Him, for He careth for you." or corner-stones polished after the similitude self-denial for our sakes, is that of the dear which choke the Word-how deplorable is bonic acid gas remained about the same.

"From each terrestrial bondage set me free Still every wish that centres not in thee; Bid my fond hopes, my vain disquiets cea And point my path to everlasting peace." 12th mo. 11th, 1882.

For " The Fra Religious Items, &c.

Deaconesses.—The Presbyterians at Albany, Ind., have elected eight deacon. The Christian at Work says, "The lost of deaconesses is an apostolic office v not know.

The Pope and Civil Power.—The tenan certain estate refused to pay some e ordinary taxes that had been levied, w upon execution was issued against the perty, with due notice to the owner, happened to be the Pope! The notice, w Pope; conducting business (also residin the Vatican Palace, Rome." The taxes

The Clerical Prisoner Released.—S. F. G ting, Manchester, is the most resolut had declared to be prescribed by law, be the authority of the State at defiance, ref to serve as commanded or to leave the vice. Thereupon, he was committed to custody of the Governor of Lancaster Ca siderably more than a year, he was in pr Among the provisions of the Public Wor Regulation Act is this, that, if an offen cleric does not submit himself to the j ment of the court before three years l expired from the date of the judgment. incumbency shall be declared vacant. I much more than three years ago since 1 Penzance first admonished Mr. Green. the incumbency of St. John's Church, M Platting, vacant; has appointed both a ceiver of all fees and moneys due to the cumbent and a clergyman to perform d On this, Lord Penzance ordered the rel of Mr. Green, who, doubtless, was not se to come forth and enjoy liberty again .respondent of Nat. Baptist.

For " The Frier

Natural History, Science, &c.

Latent Vitality of Secds.—The Garden First month, 1880, divided into three ed parts; one portion exposed to the free air, screened from dust; another in closed had gained very little; and those in the feither kind, germinated.

say) be made clear, 1st, that the vegeembryo in the seed is not strictly speakld seeds exposed to the air must be dead money was kept. haustion, and those deeply buried, by pring this infection became so bad, that dog was a better moralist than himself. ter was for a time unusable. A micro water.

een charged with materials from diss, and other sources of contamination, of organic life.

in some parts of South America are itten a letter in which he claims that get rid of his compromising load. rival and departure of locomotives, with attendant trains, in the vicinity of our and cities, may account for the nonence of malarial effects in localities all the necessary conditions for their pment seem to be furnished. While ng a place of residence for his family, ention was called to West Philadelphia, On inquiry he ascertained that, not- the 6th of 10th mo. last. anding the nearness of the low-lands the fact is as follows: the heated locont atmospheric disturbance by induc-8th month. arm upward currents; such currents lkill river, above Fairmount Dam, has deaths exceeds that of births. hought to have a similar effect—reducdwelling near the river.

such a sum of money

tent, but is doing some work however leave my dog with you, and I'll warrant you will or power of the creature; for, it is a gift in keeping up a respiration, which is that no one will dare to enter your house." of God, and the ability lodges in his Spirit; it examination showed that it was caused was a very conscientious animal in his way; and preaching, and duties and ordinances, are e presence of minute organic beings, that is as far as his intellect would carry him. as loathsome to the soul of the Lord, as ever putrefaction gave a disagreeable flavor For example, no matter how bungry he might the Jews' incense and sacrifices were." We soil from which the springs were fed where the dainties which he best loved were time of those services which are performed in left unguarded; not a morsel of food would be the same formal manner and unaccompanied touch. But he did not offer any objection to with a living sense of the Divine requiring. favored the development of the low the cat when she stole the food from the table; neither did he display any scruples in scrupulous business transactions and specula-annoyed by a kind of tick, which sucks named "Help," which shows that his sense war; and recommends avoiding extravagance olood till it swells out to the size of a of responsibility overcame that of friendship, in dress. pea. A charger named Joe, belonging His master owned a wood-yard, from which Inthereport of the Missionary Board, which Colonial cavalry stationed at Maseru there had been a constant series of mysterious is hereafter to be called the Committee on Evanthe Basuto War, if attacked whilst thefts. At last the dog was put into the gelical and Pastoral work, mention is made, ing would canter to the fort, seek out yard for the night, in hopes he might scare among other things, of frequent "prayer meeter, and express by signs what was the wave the thirf." Next morning, Ilely was ings" having been held. In what way they.

The trooper would seek out the tick, found goarding one of the men belonging to were held is not stated; but if in them en-blow with bis fore-hoof." Journal of animal's forbearance. Help, however, as all concerned therein to reflect on the lansumed so fierce an aspect that even the cer-guage of William Penn: "True silence before omotives and their Influence on Malaria, tainty of detection did not give him courage the Lord is better abundantly than forward William S. King, Surgeon U. S. Army, to oppose the faithful creature, not even to prayers, and self-willed offers, or any tradi-

THE FRIEND.

TWELFTH MONTH 23, 1882.

We have received a printed copy of the Minutes of Kansas Yearly Meeting (the Larger ortion of it adjacent to the Schuylkill Body) held at Lawrence, and commencing on of prominent citizens of Philadelphia have idents enjoyed immunity from malarial First day of the week was agreed upon, and object is "to secure to the Indians of the ons. The theory he advances in sup- 2000 copies directed to be printed and dis tributed.

s, by continually passing through the A new Quarterly Meeting in Arkansas, statutes of the United States, and such as addistricts, rarefy the air, and create a called Siloam, had been opened on 26th of their civilization and circumstances may justi-

The statistical table gives the whole numwith the pure air which rushes in from ber of members 4996; the number of births, and by assisting the exceutive officers of the setions, as agents in the dispersion or 141; and of deaths, 60. In many of the older government in the improvement of the laws lation of the miasmatic influence. The settled sections of the country, owing to the passed for the protection and education of the uction of the small steamboats on the difference in social habits, the number of Indians.

e amount of malarial disease among the members to greater diligence in the read-able results. ing of the Holy Scriptures in their families; se of Responsibility in Animals .- A poor and says it behooves heads of families to offer

he seeds kept in free air, nearly all ger |Scotland, became unexpectedly possessed of children. It would have made the minute ed; of those in closed air, nearly one a large sum of money, with which property more in accordance with the advices of our the peas and only one in fifty of the she was much troubled. She would have Church in earlier days if this last injunction the peas and only one in fifty of the she was much troubled. She would have Church in earlier days, if this last injunction while of those in carbonic acid gas, taken it to the bank, but could not leave the had been qualified by a reference to the nehouse. At last she asked the advice of a cessity of first experiencing the arising of that essor Gray remarks: "If the full course butcher of her acquaintance, telling him that Divine life and command, without which such eriments gives such results, it will (we she was afraid to live alone in the house with performances in the way of worship are not only useless but positively injurious. For as "Never fear," said the butcher, "I will I. Penington says, "Prayer is not in the time, tal to its continued life. 2d, that the So, towards evening, the dog was brought, is not ours, but as given of his Spirit, which seeds cannot be indefinitely prolonged, and chained up close to the place where the therefore is to be waited upon." "The praying of the fleshly birth, or in the will and ac-In the course of the night a robber made cording to the wisdom of the flesh, is not the ution; and the numerons recorded eases grain and the house, and was proceeding means or way to obtain the everlasting king-germination of ancient seeds are more to to distrusted." The Lorot hath shown me, that by the dog, who held him a prisoner until prayer is his gift to the child which He begets, ter Supply of Towns.—The water sup-assistance came. The thief was the butcher and that it stands not in the will or time or to the town of Lille often presents a himself, who thought he had made sure of understanding or affectionate part of the creah color, bad taste, and unpleasant odor the money. He had not considered that his ture, but in his own begetting. Of the formal services of the professors of that day, he says, A retriever belonging to a Scotch lawyer "Their prayers and reading of the Scriptures, be, the dog might be safely left in a room believe this is equally true at the present

The Minute further cautions against un-Intelligent Horse.—It is well known that sharing with her the product of her theft. | tive enterprises; exhorts to the maintenance A story is related of a Newfoundland dog of our testimonies in reference to oaths and it, and throw it on the ground. The the premises, who had a bundle of wood upon couragement is held out to persons to utter has then on more than one occasion, him. The man was aware that the dog knew vocal prayers, except as truly led and guided need the remains of its enemy, and given him perfectly well, and had presented on the by the Spirit of Christ, it would be well for tional and formal performances. For consider, that it is life eternal to know God. Now no man can know Him, who has not heard his voice; and no man can hear his voice, who is not silent in himself, and waits not patiently for Him, that he may hear what God will speak to his soul, through Christ Jesus.'

> We observe with satisfaction that a number associated themselves into an organization, An Address on the proper observance of the called the "Indian Rights Association," whose United States the political and eivil rights already guaranteed to them by treaty and fy." This it proposes to effect by influencing public opinion and Congressional legislation,

> We hope the Association may prove an The Minute on the state of society exhorts efficient helper in accomplishing these desir-

We have received No. 2 of Our Ancestors, n, who lived in an unprotected part of prayer and praise in the presence of their published at 3111 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

Among the articles of a Genealogical and Among the arrivers of a treneatogical and the discretization of th find some interesting documents relating to the testimony of Friends in Virginia against slavery, and showing some of the difficulties $4.50 a $4.75; western do. at $5 a $5.75, and patents at all the members of the Dynastic Left would ac into which they were brought in upholding that testimony. They will be found in another part of our columns, under the heading, "Some Old Papers."

We have received a number of the Sidereal Messenger, a monthly review of Astronomy, published at Northfield, Minn., at $2 per annum. Among the articles of popular interest, are notes from different sources, and discussions respecting the great comet of 1882.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES,-Both Houses of Congress have passed an act repealing discriminating duties on goods produced east of the Cape of Good Hope. The House of Representatives has passed the Agricultural and French Spoliation bills.

The total exports of petroleum and petroleum pro ducts from the United States for the ten months ended 10th mo, 31st, 1882, were $38,361,990, and for the ten months ended 10th month 31st, 1881, $40,015,6

The total exports of breadstuffs from the United States during the eleven months which ended 11th mo. 30th, 1882, amounted in value to $165,606,693 against $210,318,432 for the corresponding period of 1881.

The Secretary of the Treasury decides that, under the Chinese Restriction act, a Chinaman now residing in this country cannot bring here a wife whom he intended to marry in China, "though if be was already married and his wife was in China she could come."

Great suffering is reported among the Cherokees in the Indian Territory, owing to the ravages of small-pox. One family of five has been entirely swept away by the disease. To check its ravages and secure attendance for the sick, the Territorial Government has appropriated $2000.

There have been very heavy rains in Oregon and Washington Territory, and much damage has been done to the railroads by floods. Houses, mills, bridges and other property have been swept away, but no loss of life is reported.

The grain receipts, at Chicago during the year have capacity."

1881 the cut was 234,000,000 feet of lumber, 87,000,000 shingles and 49,000,000 laths. It is said that many cornfields in Kansas have yielded from ninety to one hundred bushels per acre. Farmers are paying off mortgages and making improvements that indicate an unusually prosperous year with them. At a meeting of the rubber manufacturers in New York, on the 15th inst., it was decided "to close all the boot and shoe factories in the country on December 23d, and keep them closed for one week, after which only one-half of the goods formerly made will be manufactured." It is said "this is to be done to reduce the price of rubber, which is so high that there is little profit in working it.

A number of prominent citizens of Philadelphia on the evening of the 15th inst., formed an organization to be known as the "Indian Rights Association," the object of which will be to secure to the Indians political and eivil rights and general education,

There were 370 deaths in this city last week, 35 less for uplands and New Orleans.

Petroleum.—Standard white, 71 a 72 cts. for export, nople says the mental derangement of the Sult is nesota extras, at $5.25 a $5.75; Pennsylvania family at $6 a -7. Rye flour is steady at $4 a $4.121

Sales of 9000 bushels new at 50 a 69 cts. Oats are quiet, Sales of 8500 bushels, in car lots at 463 a 52 cts

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 12th mo. 16th, 1882.—Loads of hay, 382; loads of straw, 78. Average price during the week.—Prime timothy, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 100 pounds; mixed, 95 cts. to $1.00 per 100 pounds; straw, 70 to 80 cts. per 100 pounds.

Beef cattle were in demand this week, and prices were a fraction higher: 3000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 33 a 7 cts. per lb., as to quality. Sheep were in good demand and prices were a fraction higher: 10,000 head sold at the different'yards, at 31 a 52 cts., and lambs at 41 a 63 cts. per pound, as to condition.

sold at the different yards at 8 a 91 cts. per 1b., as to condition. Foreign.—London, 12th mo. 10th.—The changes in the Cabinet are now completed, the following named Ministers having taken the oath before the Queen in Conneil to-day: Lord Derby as Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Lord Kimberley as Secretary of State for India. Lord Hartington as Secretary of State for War.

The Hon. Hugh C. Childers as Chancellor of the Exchequer.

It is stated that a famine prevails in Carrick, County Donegal. The people are living on Indian meal. Twenty-five hundred persons, it is said, are in danger of starving. The Government has issued a circular in regard to the distress in the West of Ireland, in which it declares that it is determined to rely solely upon the at Santiago made 70 successful observations of the administration of relief through Boards of Guardians, as it is satisfied that relief works are not only extravagant and demoralizing, but often fail to relieve the most needy. The Government will be prepared to empower Boards of Guardians to borrow money, if necessary to meet the pressure on the resources

A process for the cheap production of aluminium has been discovered. The invention causes no little excitement in the metal trade in Birmingham and Sheffield.

Lord Derby, in a speech at Manchester on the 13th The grain receipts at Cificago curing the year have been 25,000,000 bushels less than 1881. The reasons lint, rejected the idea of a protectorate for Egypt. Engassigned for the decrease are, "the increased ability of land, he said, ought not to remain in Egypt longer than farmers to hold stocks, the low prices since the new was absolutely necessary to restore order. English increpage was harvested, and the rapid increase of milling fluence in Egypt must preponderate, but it was not necessary to exercise it in an offensive spirit, nor to ex-It is estimated that the liquor saloons of Chicago sell clude free and friendly consultation with France. Re-$10,000,000 worth of liquors per year. Of this amount ferring to the attitude of France toward Madagascar, hibiting the use of shingles on buildings in the Se,000,000 is net profit.

Lord Derby said: "If amicable mediation could pre-The cut of logs at the mills at Minneapolis during 'tent invasion of Madagascar, we ought to offer our serthe saving season just past, included 290,000,000 feet vices; but if, as appears probable, the dispute is only a of lumber, 29,000,000 shingles and 50,000,001 lats. In pretext for annexation of a part of the island, we must pretext for annexation of a part of the island, we must West Indies. bstain from mediating.

France to accept the Presidency of the Egyptian Public Debt Commission. The Temps says: "The friendly negotiations between England and France which preceded France's official refusal of the Presidency of the Debt Commission, leave the door open for fresh negotiations. France has formulated no counter-proposal, but has given England a better idea of the political interests which France intends to uphold in Egypt, side by side with the financial interests of her subjects, which she is bound to protect.

In the French Chamber of Deputies, recently, Tirard,

Minister of Finance, stated that the amount of the public debt redeemed in 1882, was 104,000,000 francs.

The North German Gazette says it is understood that Great Britain will shortly communicate to the Powers which were represented at the Conference before the Egyptian war proposals for placing the navigation of Suez Canal under international protection.

The London Standard's correspondent at Constanticoming more apparent daily.

At the sitting of the Spanish Congress on t instant, Senor Rivas, one of the leading supp Marshal Serrano, made the unexpected declarate Constitution of 1876, and, if called to power, w Grain.—Wheat was quiet and lower. Sales of 3700 form it in a liberal sense, on the lines of the bushels red in car lots at $1.04 a $1.11. Rye is nominal tion of 1809, but without constituent periods, at 64 a 58 ets. Corn.—Local lots are quiet, but steady, a complete abandoment of Marshal Serranc's form it in a liberal sense, on the lines of the (programme, of which the Constitution of 186 keystone. The declaration caused the greates ment in the Chamber. It is practically the pro-defended by Senor Sagasta, Prime Minister, Senate week before last.

A great fire at Canton, China, on 12th mo. 8th, destroyed 800 houses, and caused a loss-c lives, including firemen who were burned to es There were two fires in Foo Chow, China, on 1 4th and 5th. Each destroyed about 200 hous five live's were lost.

Advices from Tonquin state that since the end | month the country has been entirely evacuated Chinese. The Temps urges the Government Hogs were a fraction lower: 4590 head arrived and this opportunity to take possession of Tonquir dd at the different yards at 8 a 9\frac{1}{2} cts, per 1b., as to National says that the difference between P. Grévy and Admiral Joureguiberry, Minister of ridoes not turn on the question of despatching a madition to Tonquin. President Grévy wishes to be the expedition to a civil commissioner, while A Joureguiberry objects to the interference of a in a military enterprise. The Republique France clares that French democratic opinion does not a the abandonment of the Tonquin expedition.

Advices from South Africa say that Cetew signed the Zulu settlement, and will return to Z early in 1st month. A British resident and a r escort will accompany him to Zululand, where be installed king.

A steamer which arrived at Valparaisn, Chili 13th, reports that the American Scientific Comi sit of Venus. They also took 204 very satisphotographs. The Belgian Commission made servations

The Chilian Finance Minister, it is said, "1 estimates that there are only 650,000 tons of exp

guano on the Peruvian coas

The business section of Kingston, Jamaica, stroyed by fire on Second-day, the 11th instahundreds of people are homeless and destitute loss is estimated at $15,000,000. The fire, whi of incendiary origin, started in a lumber ya burned until Fourth-day, destroying all the ware wharves and stores. The number of stores de was about 400. Buildings called "fireproof" as well as the rest. Five persons are known t lost their lives. It is said a law will be passe hereafter. Kingston is the capital of Jamaica; founded in 1692, has a population of nearly 40,0 is the most important commercial town in the

The country lying between the western limit of The Paris Temps officially announces the refusal of toba and the eastern boundary of British Colum been divided into four territorial sections, nam siniboia, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Athabaska new post-office has been established in each,

A telegram from Montreal reports the organ of a colonization company in London, England, capital of $5,000,000, which has obtained a g 1,000,000 acres near Prince Albert settlement Northwest.

During the week which ended on the 13th, th perature at Winnipeg, Manitoba, averaged 17.5 (below zero, the range being from 3 above t

DIED, on the 21st of Eleventh month, 1882 residence in Woodbury, New Jersey, MARY, da of the late Stephen and Rebecca Pike, aged 60 y member of Woodbury Monthly Meeting of F There were 370 deaths in this city last week, 35 less the Suez Canal under international protection. The latest than the perevious week, and 31 more than the correct death of the sponding week of last year. Of this number, 188 were is the special of the special

FRIEND. THR

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, TWELFTH MONTH 30, 1882.

NO. 21.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid n advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON, MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

iptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES.

NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS. PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

Selections and Reflections.

whom they may be associated. The ; the variety, excess, and extravagance ar furniture; the sumptuousness and elebe of our tables," &c .- Things that the ly mind delights in ; but which, to tender its in the garden of the Lord, bowing er the restraints of his cross, may stumble, bt disturb the bias of the purpose, as havto them the appearance of trying to serve the kingdom, and render it unfruitful.*

master in things pertaining to the conscience." ners, which Jesus calls for from us? it may That the admonitory words of our Lord to be by the immediate manifestation of his will, Peter, when he enquired of Him what another for "the reproofs of instruction are the way thou me." While others must account for such as, "Be not conformed to this world," y one exerts, either for good or evil, over in Him (his beloved Son, the Word made holy angels." around him, as a talent committed of flesh) should all fulness dwell;" "and of His The following selection is from an ancient of younger and less experienced persons obedience to his law written on the heart.

mand to Israel of old, "Thou shalt re- hinders young persons from taking upon them various ways and proportions, drawing away aber all the way which the Lord thy God the cross of their Saviour and following Him our attention? But, Friends, enter from time thee these forty years in the wilderness, in the straight and narrow way unto regenerato time into the closet: shut to the door. umble thee, and to prove thee," &c.; and tion and holiness, than the fear of man which, Pray to your Father who seeth in secret, for deference enjoined by the Apostle to the it is declared, "bringeth a snare." Does not daily supplies of strength, to suppress that rews toward them, "who have spoken this beguile as "a snare" sometimes, and lead immoderate love of earthly things which pre-you the word of God; whose faith," saith to a denial of Christ, it may be almost nn vents you from giving to Him due pre-emifollow, considering the end of their con- consciously, at least unintentionally, in our nence. ation: Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, daily intercourse with men because of the re-

> "Ashamed of Jesus, that dear friend On whom my hopes of heaven depend! No: when I blush, be this my shame, That I no more revere his name."

* It was a noteworthy testimony of the late Samuel Bettle, Senior, which he not only preached but lived, than an increase of means was no excuse for superfluities in our manner of living. And it is recorded of Dr. Johnson, that upon a visit to David Garrick, when masters; of sowing to the flesh; of being the latter showed him his new house, and osetty, fish-closely wedded to the cares of this life, jonable furniture, he exclaimed, "Ah, David, David, deceitfulness of riches, and the love of David, these are what make death-beds terrible."

other things; which choke the little seed of But it is believed, nevertheless, that there is more in this than many are aware! Are we On the other hand, our dear young Friends not sometimes ashamed of the simplicity of should remember that we are to "call no man the cross in language, in dress, and in manshould do, are no less of binding obligation of life," or it may be by obedience to that upon us :- "What is that to thee? Follow "written for our learning" in Holy Scripture; the right occupancy of the momentons talent &c. "Let not your adorning be the outward of influence entrusted as an important legacy adorning," &c. Prohibitions as obligatory as, to them, we are all, older and younger, called, "Swear not at all." "Render not evil for in this new covenant of light and life, of which evil." Amid it all, it is well to keep the pure Jesus is the Mediator, and wherein all are to mind stirred by the truly foreible exhortation be taught of God, to walk worthy of the voca- of the dear Son of God: "Whosoever shall be tion wherewith we are called in all lowliness ashamed of me, and of my words, in this has often been a subject of reflection with and meckness, without undue dependence adulterous and sinful generation; of him also writer, whether there is a due considera upon any fellow-creature. For, as written shall the Son of man be ashamed, when He given place to, for the influence that for our learning, "It pleased the Father that cometh in the glory of his Father, with the ul magnitude and responsibility! Per fulness have all we received, and grace for epistle: "We beseech you, brethren, be watchthis is more especially active and power at the case of elder over younger minds! the Holy One, and ye know all things." This serving fear of God; and call to mind the pere is no doubt that the subjects of conversion of the precious privilege under "the fulness lect security of Israel, encamped of old under on, the manner and form of treating them, of the blessing of the gospel of Christ." Then his never-failing protection; when the inmost especially the example in the life, is it not clear that all shall be without excuse, tended curses of an enemy were converted y the former of these, have, it may be to be whatever others may do, or how much soever into blessings. He with whom we have to be spirit of the spirit of the susceptible affections and not being faithful to the one Master, in fill, all why, then, are we not kept in his fear, and made perfect in his love? Is it not because Perhaps there is no one thing that more the visible things of this fading state, are in

Dear Friends, we believe there are many to-day, and for ever; would seem to proach, derision, or contempt it is feared it of you, and especially of the youth, who, in a to to the nature and the gravity of the will bring forth from those with whom such good degree, have given up, and are giving that finding mence under consideration; and mingle? But can any one, or dare any one up your hearts to serve the Lord. May you n, added to this, we read from our holy be ashamed of Jesus who has bound us to submit with patience to all the repeated bapgiver's own words the following, is it not Him by the closest and most endearing ties? tisms necessary for your refinement. The t conclusive?—"Whosoever shall offend Who has bought us with the price of his own gospel hath its tribulations, but they are not of these little ones that believe in me, it were precious blood, "not that we should live to our like the sorrow of the world, which worketh er for him that a mill-stone were hanged selves, but unto Him who died for us and rose death. They are intended to disturb the at his neck, and he were cast into the sea." again ?" Ashamed of Him unto whom every polluted rest in mere worldly enjoyments; we not offend the believer in Jesus, the knee must bow and every tongue confess, in and to unite you to the living members of clike nature, the tender contrite spirit of the day of mercy or in that of judgment? Christ's body in whom the same things have thy visited children—humbled under the Ashamed of Him who is our Shepherd, our been accomplished; and, if they be accepted k and lowly teachings of the Saviour-by ever present helper and friend, our Prophet, as tokens of his love, abode under the allotted magnitude and expensiveness of our dwell- Priest, and King? proved to his glory, they will unite you to our Holy Head in a covenant never to be broken.

> Wherefore, ye dearly beloved youth, in whom we sometimes dare to delight, and to hope that you will one day succeed to the places of faithful laborers, who have passed, and are passing from works to rewards; we entreat you-with tender solicitude we press it upon you-to flee from every thing which tends to rob you of your peace; and to render your minds less receptive of that holy influence, which your enlightened judgment demonstrates to be Truth.

And ye, parents, be ye solicitous to disscrupulous attention. It is often too late to ful, we give it place.-ED. warn the youthful mind of danger, when your own negligence or indulgence hath suffered your offspring to deviate from that path of simplicity in which you have thought yourselves bound to walk, and in which you have tound peace. If you fail to suppress the early beginnings of undue liberty, or your own example fails to be consistent with the truth as it is in Jesus, how can you expect a blessing on your endeavors when further deviations at length arouse your attention! and how, having failed to rule your own house well, can you expect duly to take care of the Church her the more easily to take offence at any re-would give the world to know, but I sh of God? There were of old those who brought marks made upon it. children to Christ, in the days of his flesh; the care and protection of his Lord. But see, Friends, that you encourage no propensities able as possible. in them which prevent a union with Him. Restrain them, we beseech you, from associating with those whose influence and example lead away from his law written on the ably different from her usual manner, that other warning. There is a scripture in heart; and be especially careful that you introduce not among them, neither allow publications which are either wholly, or in part, repugnant to the faith, as it is in Jesus. Let it be your own daily care to endeavor after she had seen, and all that was said and done, thing that suits your purpose, but I closer communion with Him, and to walk in she sat silent, sullen, and absorbed. The choose to be warned by you in such a ample. Finally, Friends of every age, of every rank, and entreaties of others. we commend you to the protection of Him who died for us, and who ever liveth to make intercession for us,' and 'who is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him. The subjoined selection, is from the pen of the worthy man whose name is thereto affixed. passed the whole of the morning alone in her imagine any thing at all like it. It is written, "The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails fastened by the master of recurred as in the morning. She scarcely ate assemblies, which are given from one shepherd." Why can we not more emulate the practical virtues of one, who could thus so appearance of depression, obstinacy and mel-thing in the air that immediately st feelingly and filially declare of the Lord's ancholy that spread its influence very pain-me; they all seemed thoughtful, yet che tender mercies to him in youth and through "The Lord who was the guide of my youth, hath in tender mercy helped me hitherto. He hath healed me of wounds. He hath scarcely touched her breakfast, and seemed brows. The light of the city was also structured by the city was also structur helped me out of grievous entanglements. He in eternity .- John Woolman.

12th mo. 14th, 1882.

Lord's Prayer, saying "Forgive us our tres-interest in what concerns you? And can we divided rainbows, and were made to repasses as we forgive them who trespass seek any thing but your good in an anxious and remit nothing but the light of glad against us," while his heart is full of wrath desire to share your sorrows?" "Oh you It was indeed a place where hope might against his neighbor because of some real or have superstitions enough of your own with-where love might dwell! and I could not imaginary offence? He prays, but for what? out more being added. I shall not tell you crying as I went along, "Surely these ar Not for pardon, but "for a curse on his own what ails me, so you need not ask me further, habitations of righteousness and truth head." His request is equivalent to asking nor press your curiosity any further. I dare peace." All was perfect, bright and beau Heaven not to forgive him. What a shock say you would be delighted to know it, for I could not tell what was wanting to ing prayer!-Zion's Herald.

The following remarkable and instructive But I laugh at these things; I am not que dream has often been published, and may be enough yet to become the victim of familiar to some of our readers. It has been and visions." "Anna," we do not be sent to us by a friend for insertion in our dreams and visions." She answered s charge your important and awful duty, with columns. In the hope that it may prove use "No, and I do not mean that you shall

A Dream of Heaven.

AS REPORTED BY T. SHARP, A. M.

In A. D., 1814, the late Mr. and Mrs. Fwho were lost in August, 1831, on the steamer Rothsay Castle, were acquainted with three day as one who loathed the light, w sisters residing in London, and belonging to no interest in being, and to whom the the higher class of society. Two of these of time and the prospects of eternity b was volatile, and just the contrary. They were all elderly, which rendered the gaiety of what was your dream." She started, lat the third the less becoming, and also inclined wildly, "Ah! ah! what was it indeed and now the religious parent can breathe no posed it in a very petty and spiteful way, "Neither do we in general, as you know warmer aspiration for them, than when he though they endeavored most earnestly to ac are usually the offspring of a disordered prayerfully commends his tender offspring to commodate themselves to her, and to render or body-confused images and fancies

One night, towards the close of 1814, she engaged in our usual occupations. But had been out to an assembly very late, and are, no doubt, dreams which are as much the next morning at breakfast was so remark- from God as are our other afflictions, ca her sisters feared she was very ill, or had met God is mentioned as speaking to us in dr with some misfortune which deeply affected in the visions of the night, when deep her. Instead of her incessant chat about falleth upon man." She laughed agai. every person she had met, and every thing said, "You have verses in the Bible for meck submission to his commands; so may gloom of her brow was a mixture of temper and I have no doubt but I shall get it you gain over the minds of the youth provi- and distress, indicating a fixed and dogged my head in a day or two." "Anna. dentially placed under your care, that ascend-resolution to pursue her own course, and have beseech you to tell us; if you have reall dentially placed under your eare, that ascend-literature of placed under your eare, that ascend-literature oney which arises from the united effects of sound judgment, truest love, and a good example.

The own way and will, utterly regardless of a dream from heaven, you surely would the distress and trouble which might follow, wish to forget it. And if not, we will rather than be induced to submit to the advice you to laugh it off." She answered in a

As she are nothing, her sisters asked if she no doubt it was very extraordinary: I s was unwell? She answered, "No." "What, then, is the matter?" "Nothing." They were that I never anywhere saw any thing afraid something had distressed her. She resembling it, and you must not suppose said, "I have no idea of people prying into you can understand the meaning of w matters which do not concern them." She am going to say, for you never saw, no own room; and at dinner the same conduct anything; and spoke only in an uncivil way, street of a great city, many people were in reply to questions asked, and all with an ing there besides myself, but there was s fully over the cheerfulness of her companions. neither occupied with business nor with ga She retired late to rest, and with the air of but having about them such dignity of one who expects neither alleviation nor re-freshment from sleep. The next morning she such purity, as are never stamped upon m to be in the same oppressed and uncomfort it was not the sun, for there was nothing remains to be the strength of my life; to whom I desire to devote myself in time and in eternity.—John Woodman."

I desire to devote myself in time and you are not well; is it your head that pains they all seemed like palaces, but not life. you?" She answered, "I am well, and nothing pains me." "Then you must have someon, and the houses that I saw, were all thing on your mind, and will you not tell us? of gold-bright, shining, and clear as a What does that man do, who repeats the Do we not love you? Have we not a deep The large and glittering windows seemed sisters looked at each other, and relaps silence. Thus the second day passed first: Anna was gloomy and moody, a sisters from pity and anxiety, were ur w for her sake.

The third morning she again beg arks made upon it.

She hated the piety of her sisters, and op-dreams and visions." The sisters rethe differences between them as little disagree- reason is dormant, and the memory of usually passes away the moment we are mood, "Well if you must know it, you i

"I thought that I was walking in a you would think it some spiritual triumph, me wish for eternity in such a place, and larger and finer than the rest; I saw from him their life and joy. one on the lower step looking at me that put such a temper in my heart?

ascend its massive steps and enter bear its ample porch. I felt no desire to go amazement, one who saw me, left the comido give up your own will and listen to this them, but out of curiosity I approached pany, came to where I sat, and said, "Why fearful warning. Join us, and learn the steps as the steps. I saw persons enter who art thou so silent? Come quickly, unite in which lead to heaven, and how to sing the dressed in every varied color, and in all the dance and join in the song." I felt a sud-songs of Zion. ostumes of all nations; but they disapden anger in my heart and I answered with Anna's brow again darkened, and she and within the porch, and then I saw them sharpness, "I will not join in your song for I swered, "I do not want you to preach to me. the hall all in white. Oh! that I could know not the tune, and I cannot join in the I shall do as I please!" ibe to you that Hall,—it was not crystal, dance for I know not the measure." He She continued in this melancholy state to s not marble, it was not gold—but light! sighed, and with a look of most humiliating the end of the week, when she was found in light consolidated into form. It was the pity, he resumed his place. A moment after her room a correct. No one knew the cause without her coldness, it was the sun another came and addressed me as the other of her death. She died without bodily disout his dazzling rays. And within was had done, and with the same temper I an ease,—and without any apparent change of air-case mounting upwards, all of light; swered in the same way, and he looked as if mind. saw it touched by the moving feet, and he could have resigned his own dazzling glory hite and spotless garments of those who to have changed me; and it heaven can know ded it; it was indeed passing fair; but it anguish he seemed to feel it. But he left me an interest so intense, and a manner so At length the Lord of that glorious comus, that I stopped to hear what he had pany, of all those living, breathing, glittering mingled pity and kindness, and pressed join in the dance, for I know not the measure."

Do not linger, for why shouldst thou There was a momentary silence, for the sis-forescen fluctuations in their wages and their y thyself for naught? Enter here and ters were shocked and surprised at the dream, employments. happiness. Do not all tribes and all and they neither of them thought the subs pass into that Hall? and are they stance of it, nor the deep impression it had inequalities of its distribution were aggravat-ll washed and clothed and comforted? made on Anna's volatile mind, to be the ofgave me his hand and I entered the fects of any natural cause. "Anna," they ury and abject poverty became much more along with my happy guide. Oh what said, "we cannot help you to forget such a frequent and much more glaring than before. bt burst upon my sight as I reached dream as this: we surely believe it came from the wealthy employer ceased to live among unmit! But mortal language cannot de- [fod, and it may be greatly blessed to your his people; the quarters of the rich and the eti, nor mortal fancy in any conceive it, soul if you seek to make it so. Your descrippoor became more distant, and every great re are the living sapphires? Where are thou of the Holy City might have been from littering stars that are like the bright impressions of the Bible account, being much classes and districts in which the political obin which I stood? Where are the forms the same as that described in Revelations, server discovers one of the and the looks of love that breathed in The city has no need of the sun, nor of the symptoms of revolution. umerous company which moved around moon, for the temple of God is there, and the I sank down overpowered and wretched. Lamb is the light thereof.' All who enter the chasm and impairs the sympathy between pt into a corner and tried to hide myself, must put off their own garments and their rich and poor, cannot fail, however beneficial saw and felt that I had nothing in unison own rightcousness, and must be clothed in it may be in its other effects, to bring with it the blessed existence of such a place linen, clean and white, for the rightcousness grave dangers to the State. It is incontestamoved in a dance to music—to songs of the saints is of me, saith the Lord. And ble, that the immense increase of manufactur-never fall upon mortal ears. My guide those who walk in the heavenly temple are ing industry has had this tendency.—Lecky. d with rapture, and I was left alone. I they who have come through great tribulathe tall forms, all fair, all bright in their tion, and have washed their robes and made ineffable felicity; their songs and looks them white in the blood of the Lamb, and humble.

ery purity oppressed me. I saw nothing of gratitude forming the countenances and the they cease not day nor night praising God enial, though looks of love and kindness differences of each. At length I saw one taller and singing the new song, such as none me in every face of that happy throng, than the rest, and in every way more fair, far know but the redeemed. It is the song of nothing responsive, but walked on all more dignified, more awfully—surpassingly Moses and the Lamb, and wisdom waits in the midst of the crowd, oppressed fair, to a degree surpassing thought, and to daily upon the steps to call the sons of men ad. I saw that they all went one way, him each eye was turned, and in his face, each into her temple, and the people of God aim to followed on wondering at the reason, at face was brightened; the songs and the dance persuade them to tread in her paths; and h I saw them all cross over to a building were in his honor, and all seemed to derive ministers of Christ are set to watch for souls, and by every means possible to save some.

Political Influence of Mechanical Inventions. —The closing years of the eighteenth century me shudder and turn away. As I turned and returned to his place. What could it be witnessed the beginning of a series of great mechanical inventions, which changed with unexampled rapidity the whole course of English industry, and in little more than a genewhy do you turn away? Is there a elsewhere? Is tood in silence, be ed in every part with awe, I felt my blood social and political influence than this suded me to enter, but I neither answered chill, and my flesh tremble, and yet my heart deep growth of the manufacturing towns, and those songs of triumph, saw equalled in the world. Scarcely any event in modern history has exercised a wider sof darkness?" I stood in silence, be ed in every part with awe, I felt my blood social and political influence than this suded me to enter, but I neither answered chill, and my flesh tremble, and yet my heart deep growth of the manufacturing towns, and those songs of triumph heart deep growth of the manufacturing towns, and and moral and mo noved, and suddenly he disappeared, and grew harder, and my voice grew holder. He it brought with it some political and moral ner took his place with the same look spoke! and deep-toned music issued from his dangers of the gravest kind. It was in many respects a movement of disintegration, break-liveted to the spot. "Art thou come so around thee are so glad? Come, join in the ling the ties of sympathy between class and said he, "and wilt thou lose thy labor?" due, for I have triumphed. Come, join in the lass, and destroying the labits of discipline the song, for my people reign!" Love unspective to the spot. "Are continued to press me until I speakable he seemed to beam upon me, as the whole community. Forms of industry new early and anorry, and said "I will library it would have marked the hour of a which had hitherto heap carried on in the ne weary and angry, and said, "I will though it would have melted the heart of a which had hitherto been carried on in the uter; I do not like your livery, and I am stone. I felt it, but melted not. I gazed an domestic circle, or in small establishments, seed with your whiteness." He sighed instant, and then said. "I will not join in the under the constant supervision of the master, vas gone. Many passers by looked at me song, for I know not the tune; and I will not were transferred to the crowded manufactory. Labor became more nomadic. All the ties of ofollow them, and offered me a hand up Creation would have fled at the change of his habit and tradition were relaxed. Working teps; but I rejected them all, and stood countenance. His glance was lightning, and men, drawn from the most distant quarters, ncholy and dejected. At length one bright his voice louder than ten thousand thunders, were agglomerated by thousands in great enger stationed on the steps came up to He said to me, "Then what dost thou here!" towns, bound to their employers by no other nd entreated me to cuter, with a voice The floor beneath me opened, and I sank into the than that of interest, exposed to the fever manner which I could not resist. "Do flames and torments, and, with a dreadful of an immensely stimulated competition, and urn," he said, "where else canst thou fright, I awoke."

Wealth was immensely increased, but the server discovers one of the most dangerous

Every change of condition which widens

The way to be truly great is to be truly

For "The Friend," RETROSPECT

"And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee."—Deut, viii. 2.

The year is almost gone; and can we say, As we look back upon its devious way, And see how thorns among the roses grew, And number joys and trials in the view-The backward view, of all this twelve-month gone, In which, in some sort, we have journeyed on,-Ah, can we say, in measuring every rood, We've made some upward progress toward the Good? We better see, in retrospect, the scope Of landscape over which we've passed, in hope To reach some point—some eminence to gain. If, happily, we reach it, not the pain Of toil or effort we account, as back Our vision wanders o'er the rugged track, Or steep ascent. Enough, the point is gained; The object after which we reached, attained. It may be, Alps on Alps above still rise To rouse our effort, and attract our eye Yet, looking down, we see we've left below, Some distance, though we still have far to go Ere we attain the summit lost in cloud, From range of our short vision; misty cloud Enwrapping from the sense the utmost bound, That may by human aspirant be found. So now, with setting sun of the old year, As this, its hour of twilight draweth near, Back let us turn our vision o'er the past. With hues, flame-colored, is it overcast Are e'en its clouds resplendent with the light Truth sheds? Are they bespanned in colors bright, Which form a bow of promise from the hand That paints in tints eternal? Comprehend? And as we backward view its early morn, When, from the dying year 'twas newly born, And see the point from which we started then, Do we behold, our path has upward been? And is our altitude a higher one Than when this closing year was first begun? 'en then, no doubt, we are amazed to see How devious an upward path may be And wonder at the patience of our Guide, Who, ever gentle, led us by the side Of cooling streams, and into pastures rare; And plucked the vintage and the blossoms fair, Whene'er our wilfulness would let Him choose The good, our wayward hearts so oft refuse.

And when our view descries some cavern passed, In his hand do we see our own hand clasped? And do we see the lamp his goodness gave To guide our feet, and from a misstep save And do we hear the cadence of his voice, Persuading toward the right our erring choice? Now here, now there, perhaps our eye may see, Along the path, dew of our tears. (To me, To you, tears needs must come. Our Saviour wept; And through, not from our sorrow are we kept). But, do we see this shimmering dew alight, As diamonds flash before the admiring sight? And do we see that in them was a ray Caught from the Orb that makes eternal day? Disguised are blessings, many times, in sighs; For through them holy orisons may rise.

Perhaps we see a trace of bleeding feet, Where, from the way, we followed some deceit, Lured by the glare of ignes fatui; False, fickle colors, which, pursued, do fly: False, fickle colors, which, pursued, do fly: Eluding thus the hand that fain would clasp The promised pleasure in its eager grasp; Eluding, yet aluding still, till soon, Instead of seizing the expected hoon, Instead of seizing the expected hoon, We find our feet ensured in tangled mesh, Of treading thorns, or read the total right with the Wounds, that healed, did not our wilful bent Pursue false pleasure with such keen intent. And now, as thorns, and rocks, and bleeding feet, And stains, in looking back, our vision meet, Do we see too some lesson by them learned-Some wisdom gained, e'en though 'twas dearly earned

The year is almost gone. When first 'twas born, Perhaps it brought to us a glowing morn, As, through the brazen gates of day its light Loomed golden up to our expectant sight. Now, looking back, do we find woven through The golden thread of love? And did we strew Seed that will bear to us eternal fruit? To suppliant need did we kind action suit? And through our sorrow, waywardness and tears, Have we lived better than in other years?

Near summer's close, there comes the after-math; Which, for the feet of death, spreads verdant path Ere warm breath of this season turns to chill, And all its pulsing life is hushed and still.

At eventide there comes the afterglow,

In soft, rich tints of light, as if to show Earth beautiful ere yet it sinks to rest; All lulled to quiet on its ample breast. So now, as dies to us the closing year, Ere leaf and bloom of life are growing sear, Does it reveal to us the verdure rare, Warmed by heaven's sun, fed by celestial air, And watered by the dews that Hermon shed, With gentle grace upon its lowly bed, Where erst the sickle may have reaped before, First-fruits to garner in eternal store And now, at evening, do we see the glow Caught from the rays the setting orb doth throw-The setting sun of this another year, Whose parting knell will soon fall on the ear? And does the purple twilight promise give Of good and truth that shall eternal live? If these things be, then we need not to stop And on its hier the tear of sorrow drop; But, where the old year and the new year meet, Lay down the old year,—peace its winding sheet;— And, from the errors of the year just gone, Learn lessons that shall help us journey on In path less devious; keeping close beside The right hand of our ever-present Guide, Till He shall lead us where the field doth grow More green and ample; where celestial glow Is caught from warming, radiant, central Sun, Who warms to life all else,—th' Eternal One.

A. L. Washburn. Philada., 12th mo. 13th, 1882.

Testimony of Plainfield Monthly Meeting of Friends, Indiana, Concerning our Late well in the anthority of Truth, and to ence esteemed Friend, Robert W. Hodson.

It is from consideration of duty that we are his duty, he being an example of true in led to preserve a tribute to the memory of tian humility. those whose daily walk through life has been devoted to the cause of truth and righteousness, and whose example has adorned their professing with him, but was pleasant profession, as also an incentive to their successors to walk in the same path in which his moral and social virtues. they have walked through the varied trials and vicissitudes of time to the erown of all, a peaceful close in a well-grounded hope of a apparel, fulfilling the requisitions of the Guilford county, North Carolina, the 7th day good things of the world as using, ar of 1st mo. 1797. He was the son of Jesse and abusing them. Mary Hodson, members of the Society of Friends.

In 1831, he removed with his family to by our blessed Saviour for the salvat Hendricks county, Indiana, and continued to men; and his belief was firm, not only reside in the same county the remainder of divine and spiritual appearance in the b his life.

We have but little account of his early life. except that it was characterized by piety and seif-denial, and a commendable solicitude for in the State of Kansas, his time being the best welfare of his associates, often warn- much occupied in visiting the meetings ing them of the great loss they sustained in families of Friends. Of this last service Fr mis-spending their time in games and sports, there have given testimony of his consi especially on the first day of the week. About example and edifying counsel and labor. the eighteenth year of his age he became so deeply concerned on this account that he in- green old age, and peacefully passed awa vited his young friends to join him on First- the eighty sixth year of his age, on the day afternoons in reading the Holy Scrip-day of the Second month, 1882, whils tures. These opportunities were continued gaged about his Father's business, and for about two years, and, he believed, with gathered as a shock of corn fully ripe, fi beneficial results.

He labored carnestly for the promotion of schools under the protection of our Society, and that the teaching and influence of these schools might be such as would lead to a course of life and conduct consistent with our profession.

the Society, he became a useful and efficient point, and using every means in his pomember in the setting up and establishment honorably or dishonorably; and I must lof many meetings in the early settlement of him with counter-plots." It would be q this country in Indiana and Western lear Meetings.

The depth of his discernment and C Isli experience, combined with his tenders 82 bumility of spirit, eminently fitted in service in the severe test for the main har of the doctrines and good order to what Society has of late been subjected.

He frequently felt it to be his duty to ra with ministers engaged in the cause of ru In this way, and at other times with |er probation of his friends at home, he at no all the Yearly Meetings on the Americ |c tinent, and most of the meetings belon ng them-many of them more than once.

Often in meetings he was tenderly enag in exhortation that all might give strick to the manifestations of the Grace of (1

He was a faithful attender of meetin a the weight and solidity of his deportme | w a good example both in silent retireme a in exhortation; and we believe he wast favored to draw near the Fountain whence all good comes, and by faith in to the light of Christ in his own heart, in eminently fitted and prepared to useful cupy the station of an elder for many to the satisfaction of friends; and he will faithfully over the members of the mil to which he belonged for their preser to in the right way.

He was concerned to support the disch the humble Christian traveller in the vy

His exemplary walk among men non secured him the love and esteem of his f ticed by others by whom he was esteem

He was a good example in plainners moderation; plain in speech, deportmers happy immortality.

The subject of this memorial was born in and in the manner of living; possessir

> His faith was firm in the Christian rel and in the efficacy of the one offering of men, but also in that outward sact which He made for the sins of the work

> The last few months of his life were

Thus our dear friend was blessed w the heavenly garner.

Commit thy Ways to God .- "Fret not self because of evil doers" is God's comm. but man is apt to think that it is neces for him, under some circumstances, to do very opposite. "That unscrupulous m Being early brought into active service in says he, "is secretly plotting to carry

s to rest a matter with the Lord, if everyd else would do the same; but to allow ourvs to take no doubtful step in meeting o who are dishonorable-to simply do gt to triumph.

For "The Friend." 142. 12th mo. a is near at hand, and many are making this tongue? varation to celebrate that day with fesat, with its manifold blessings, and to leave language. this country soil that our Lord used the velopment. We have no doubt that our Lord used the velopment.

The Language of Christ. BY PHILIP SCHAFF.

a which is right and manly and Christian- Greek? or Hebrew? or both? and in what Posen, some cantons of Switzerland), or like and then commit the case to the Lord, proportion? As the Son of man and Saviour Wales in England, or Eastern Canada, or the coot fret about it, that is one of the hard of the world, he was above the limitations of German counties of Pennsylvania. The popis to do, unless we really trust in God. race, nationality and language. He was absolular language was the Hebrew, or rather the with God's word to support us we can lutely perfect, the model for universal imita- Aramaic, a cognate dialect which supplanted to to leave every such case with him, after tion. Nevertheless he was a historical per-the Hebrew after the Babylonian exile. In elave done our duty in his fear. We then son, and as such, had a well-defined individu- this their native tongue our Saviour would is his word for it that He will make the ality. He was born and raised in Palestine, address the people. was a Jew, dressed, ate, spake, and lived like We have the positive proof of that in sev-vy and rejoicing, and are endeavoring to of Life to be read by all men. He stamped Aramaic words Talitha cumi; that is "Damsel, v each other in the decoration of their places bis image upon the world's history and upon arise." When he opened the ear of the deaf orship, their dwellings, and business sure every human heart and life that yields itself and dumb man in Decapolis, he said to him nedings, professedly in honor of the birth to his transforming and sanctifying influence. Ephphatha; that is, "Be opened." And our Redeemer. That distant period of But some of his disciples wrote books,—the when he reached the height of his vicarious ne, doubtless was felt to be joyous to many. New Testament. And they all wrote Greek, suffering on the cross, he exclaimed, again in I in faith looked for, and waited for, his Only one of them, Matthew, is said to have Aramaic, Eloi, Eloi (the Hebrew would be parance personally amongst men; and written his Gospel first in Hebrew, and after Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, "My we have yet cause to rejoice in the wards in Greek. Even James, the brother of God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" pliness of our Heavenly Father in sending the Lord, who spent all his public life in Jeru-S. S. Times. swell-beloved Son upon earth, to promul-salem, as far as we know, addressed his Episand more fully establish the new cover the to the twelve tribes of Israel in the Greek nt they profess to celebrate; and that of Jews, and of places of Palestine, from sus year. The grand total of coal produced ne favor which should rather be rememined of the Old Testament which was used by the of hands employed was 170,505. The census our part and granted only in mercy, too Apostles and Evangelists, from the large num-bulletin makes comparison with the English our part and granted only in mercy, too Apostes and Evangeness, from the large flow-in proves an occasion, resulting in excesses, ber of Greek-speaking Jews, called "Helden" production. The population of England is from commendable. There are those who ists, "from the writings of Philo and Josephus, if the treatment of the wrote in Greek, and from the New Tes-t love which constrained our Saviour to tament itself. For it need not be supposed 136,179,668 tons, and in 1880, 146,818,122 ve the bosom of his Father, and for our that the sacred writers learned the Greek tons. The number of collicries in England es visit the earth, clothed in the form of language miraculously on the day of Pente- in 1880 was 3380, and in the United States ubood, touched with a feeling of our in cost. They had abundant opportunity to 3.264. The production of coal in England, nities, and pointing out the way which learn it naturally in their youth, on the street in an area about the size of Ohio and with ls to everlasting life; who desire to rememiand in common intercourse with their fellow-half the population of the United States, is this condescension and love to mankind men, especially in Galilee, their native provedouble that of this country. England is suph grateful hearts, whenever it is presented ince, which was full of Greek-speaking Gen-posed to be about up to its maximum, while red of them to give evidence that they Greek language when speaking with strange not forgotten his mission upon earth by ers, and with heathens, with such persons as y means they employ to keep it in re- must distinguish between the common every- how blessed, how happy, should I now be! B. day language of the people, and the occasional -J. Scott.

language of the higher classes, and of business men. Palestine was at the time of What language did our Saviour speak? Christ a bilingual country, like the frontier countries on the continent (Alsace, Lorraine, his countrymen. How could be have been eral words which have been preserved to us understood by them if he had not addressed in the Gospel of Mark, which is the faithful The time called Christ- them in their own tongue? What then was echo of the original impressions of St. Peter. When our Saviour was to call the daughter He wrote nothing. He is himself the Book of Jairus back to life, he addressed her in the

The total product of bituminous coal in the United States for the census year closing and the rich legacy of divine precepts and The Greek was the language of civilization, June, 1880, amounted to 40.311,459 tons, of pises of saving grace. And although we and of international intercourse. Since the 2,000 pounds to the ton, divided among the e abundant cause to be thankful for these conquests of Alexander the Great, who carried States as follows: Alabama 322,934 tons, ceiful dispensations of a bountiful Provi- the Greek into the Orient, and still more Arkansas 14,778, Georgia 154,644, Illinois 6,ce; yet there are those who are not able since the conquests of Rome, which united all 089,514, Indiana, 1,449,496, Iowa 1,422,333, e wherein there is greater cause for re- the nations from the banks of the Euphrates Kansas 763,297. Kentucky 935,857, Maryland ing on one day than upon another, or that and the Nile to the banks of the Rhine and 2,227.844, Michigan 100,800, Missouri 543,outward show of rejoicing is any sub- the shores of the Atlantic, the Greek had be- 900, Nebraska 200, North Carolina 700, Ohio atial evidence of inward and secret thanks come the cosmopolitan language, as the 3,932,853, Pennsylvania 18,000,988, Tennesngs of grateful hearts; and even where French was on the Continent in the last see 494,891, Virginia 40,520, West Virginia erfluous demonstrations are thought all century, and as the English is now in the 1,792,570. The number of laborers engaged able, it is to be feared that many who British colonies and in North America. This in mining this vast amount of coal was 96. fess to testify their thankfulness by the was one of the providential preparations for the was standard them were $30.707, the solon of labor, by decoration, rejoicing the introduction and spread of Christianity, are but gratifying their sensual pensities by revelling in luxurions indulated by the solution of the great is evident from the numerous Greek names to said the latter 6,175 tons during the central standard them were $30.707, the was another to call was $30.707, the was another to call was $30.707, the this country is in the infancy of its coal de-

In the 10th mo. 1778, I saw a person conivity or any vain show; and who are apt the Syrophenician woman, the heathen cenfined to a sick bed, who appeared to be in bensive that quiet thanksgiving in the turion, the "Greeks" who called on him great distress of mind. He confessed that be te of the soul, is more precious in the shortly before the passion, King Herod, and had been tenderly visited un order for his reine sight than any worldly demonstration. Pontius Pilate. For a Roman governor ap-formation, but, said he, "I did not keep close s to be feared that numbers look forward pointed for a short time would hardly learn to it." He manifested much concern that he indulgence of self-gratification at this Hebrew, and no interpreter is mentioned. son, more than to any other special object, But we cannot agree with those scholars excited to look about themselves and see that their thoughts are led away from who maintain that Christ used the Greek where they stand; saying, in some agony of event they profess to celebrate by the language exclusively or even chiefly. We mind, "If I had kept up in all things, O Lord, heading of "Natural History and Science, related to me some years since. A Friend Just now I heard his voice rising, and immeliout, grey-headed old man, who aske beliving in the country, had been taking a ramidiately carried out my instructions." something to cat. She knew him at on ble with his dog, and on his return home, after walking through a field, and finally erossing over a fence into a lane, he When on handing another to his dog to see, and to smell, and pointing to the fence they had just crossed, the dog appeared fully to understand him; and immediately went over forth, but soon returned to his master, wagging his tail, and with a bright face seemed thither, and again failing to find it, he slowly natives of the country, what I have no doubt returned with tail between his legs and cars disconsolately turned back, and an expression sent him a third time. After crossing the fence and going a short distance into the field, he stopped and stood still with eyes cast down, as if pondering what he could do. Ere long, he walked to one side of the field, and began trotting round near enough to the fence-his face being turned towards it-to coming part-sharers in the latter's sanctity have seen the handkerchief, had it been between the fence and his circuit. On returning from this trip to his starting point, he set off again at about the same distance from his first circuit, as that had been from the fence, could not have failed seeing it, his face being chistan. persistently turned in that direction. And kerchief. How near this dog's course approaches to the reasoning power of the human brain, we leave the reader to judge.

How a Statesman Controlled his Temper.— On opening it he at once changed his tone of it. voice, and assumed a quiet and urbane manner. Puzzled as to the contents of the note, selves, which is always in our power, and genious, special, discriminative, and-in c and by the marked effect it had so produced which we should avail ourselves of: "Love dor, I must add-forced treatment which glance at it, when, to his astonishment, he perceived that it was simply a plain sheet of them which despitefully use you and perse-gelical sects, so-called, are clearly right terrogate the usher, to whom he was well-by them that he said to some of his friends, Intolerance in Russia.—According to known, for he himself had been Minister of "What a beautiful doctrine! Love your existing Russian law, apostacy from the St

"You have," said he, "Just handed to the shasters like that." Minister a note, folded up, which had a most extraordinary effect upon him. Now, it was the spirit which Christianity begets, con-deprived of his children, his estate is han a plain sheet of paper, with nothing written trasted with that which heathenism inspires: over to guardians appointed by the St planation, which I must beg you to keep each other. Soon after, one of them found a marks that this severity defeats its own secret, for I do not wish to compromise my-self. My master is very liable to lose his at some distance from her father's house. He tion should be abolished in favor of full temper. As he himself is aware of his weak-seized her and cut off two of her fingers; and ligious tolerance and liberty of conscien ness, he has ordered me, each time that his as he sent her home sereaming with her after the example of Western Europe.

voice is raised sufficiently to be audible in the bleeding hands, he eried, "I have ha m Several interesting aneedotes of dogs that ante-room, without delay to place a sheet of revenge have appeared in "The Friend," under the paper in an envelope and take it to him. That reminds him that his temper is getting the grown up to be almost a woman. On h brought to my mind an incident that was better of him, and he at once calms himself. there came to her father's door a poor, Shrines in Baluchistan .- "We erossed the Pazgr River, and then passed a shrine consistfound he had lost his pocket-handkerchief ing simply of a heap of stones to which every passer-by contributed something. Men mounted on camels will throw their sticks on to it, and men on foot will pick up a stone and throw it on, and should their grass sandals into the field, and trotted about back and be worn out, they will keep them till they come to a shrine and drop them there.

The origin of this puzzled me at first, but to be telling him it was not there. He was afterwards, while journeying along the pilhowever directed to go and try again. Over grims' road to Kerbela, I found shrines exactly he went, and after running about hither and similar, and received both from pilgrims and to be the true explanation.

On the stony parts of the Kerbela road which seemed to say, it was all in vain, the through Kurdistan these stone heaps are handkerchief was not there. But his master especially frequent, and immediately suggest the idea that they are crude attempts at roadclearing; and the natives all say that the mullas have given out that it behoves all true believers passing along the road, to cast at least one stone on each heap, to make the road easier to the holy pilgrims, thereby be-The custom has been introduced into Baluchistan, where it is certainly particularly wanted, while the reason for it is not realized by such splendid hill walkers as the Baluchis. who always aver that each heap marks the so that had the lost article been there, he burial place of some saint."-Floyer's Balu-

thus be trotted round and round in the same of Archbishop Leighton, that if any man did tion, made the following statement. "F scientific manner, until he found the hand him an injury he was ever afterwards most years of study, thought, and reading, g anxious to do that man a good turn. The largely to the Bible, and to the literal same has been remarked of Cotton Mather which peculiarly relates to it, have brou and other eminent Christians. Barkitt beau-me to this conclusion, that the Book-ta tifully observes in his journal, that some per- with the especial Divine quality and cha sons would never have had a share in his ter claimed for it, and so extensively assig When M. de Persigny was French Minister of prayers but for the injuries they had done to it as inspired and infallible, as a whole the Interior he received a visit one day from him. When some of the courtiers of Philip all its contents—is an orthodox book. a friend, who, on sending up his name, was the Good would have persuaded him to punish yields what is called the orthodox cr shown into the great man's sauctum. A warm a person who had used him ill, he declined, The vast majority of its readers, follow discussion arose between them. Suddenly an saying, "It is a fine thing to have revenge in its letter, its obvious sense, its natural me usher entered and handed the Minister a note one's power, but it is a finer thing not to use ing, and, yielding to the impression when the interest of the impression when the impression which impression when the impression whe upon the Minister, his friend cast a furtive your enemies, bless them that carse you, do receives from us Liberals, can make the b good to them that hate you, and pray for teach any thing but orthodoxy. The Ev paper, without a scratch upon it! More cute you." A missionary once preached upon maintaining that their view of Scripture puzzled than ever, the gentleman, after a few these words of our Saviour, and a Hindoo of its doctrines draws a deep and wide divis minutes, took his leave, and proceeded to in-gentleman who was present was so impressed of creed between them and ourselves. enemies. Certainly there is nothing in our religion entails severer penalties than the

The following is a touching illustration of the orthodox faith for any other whateve upon it. What did it mean?"

"Sir," replied the usher, "here is the exhad a quarrel, and became bitter enemies to Holy Synod until he abjures. The Golos

Years passed away. The little gir ha the cruel man who had cut off her fire She went into the hut, and ordered the vant to take him bread and meat as mu he could eat, and sat down and watched

When he had finished, she dropped eovering that hid her hands from view'n holding them up before him, she said have had my revenge!" The man was whelmed with surprise. The secret of h girl's conduct was, that in the meantim had become a Christian, and had learned meaning of the verse, "If thine enem be hungry, give him bread to cat; if he be this give him water to drink; for in so doing shalt beap coals of fire upon his head."

How beautiful the conduct of this inje Christian girl appears in contrast with of her heathen enemy! Let us imitate: conduct, and endeavor by God's grae follow closely the teaching and example Him who is the bright pattern of the C tian life. Jesus conquers by kindness love. When we were enemies, He died us; and in proportion as we have his s shall we manifest love and kindness tov any who have injured us or are unfried towards us .- Christian Banner.

Religious Items, &c.

A Unitarian Confession.—At a meetin: Unitarians in Boston, held in last mo-Returning Good for Evil.—It has been said George Ellis, a clergyman of that denom some of its emphatic texts make upon th There is a way, however, of revenging our-find in it orthodoxy. Only that kind of or murder. A Russian subject who aband

For " The Friend,"

Natural History, Science, &c.

orth American Floras .- The first descripof North American plants published as mpleted work, was that of Michaux, h was issued in 1803. Michaux was a chman, and his explorations, made ben the year 1785 and 1796 extended from son's Bay to Florida. He crossed the ghany Mountains in Tennessee, and hed the Mississippi river in Illinois. His of flowering plants and ferns contained) species.

arsh's Flora was published in 1814. He a native of Siberia, who came to this try when a young man, and during much is life was laboring in the botanical field. lied at Montreal in 1820, at the age of Michanx's descriptions were confined to e east of the Mississippi River, but Pursh ided in his work, plants from the Great as, the Rocky Mountains, and the Pacific t-localities at that time only very pary investigated. He described 3.076 should not be permitted to attend school. es-inst about double the number con-

ed in the flora of Michaux, e Flora of North America commenced by

ey & Gray in 1835, has never been comd-but the volumes published show a corresponding orders described in the c of Pursh. Professor Gray and his asnts are now laboring at this great work rapid has been the accumulation of es, owing to the activity of botanical reh, that it is estimated that when finishwill embrace from ten to twelve thousflowering plants and ferns-inhabiting Mexican border.

nfidence Returned .- A little girl about years old, wandered from her nurse and lost. At last the child was found asleep e kennel of a peculiarly savage bloodd, named "Rob." The dog was jealguarding his little charge, and would o one approach, until the mother came. called the child, who came to her, fold by Rob. She took the child home, but insisted on accompanying them; and as went, the little girl held her mother with hand and Rob's ear with the other-the being so small and Rob so large that he to walk all the way with his head bent have read an account of a boy who went a stable inhabited by a notoriously savhorse. He did not know the character ne animal, gave him bread and other acies, and the horror of the groom may nagined when one day he found the boy the horse lying together on the floor of table-the boy not having the slightest of the character of the horse, and the not baving the least intention of hurthe boy, but cherishing him as a valued anion .- J. G. Wood.

ut Nests.—"About 15 years ago, on a to the graveyard of the church at Eben-Georgia, we were struck with the appearof several very large nests near the tops me tall evergreen oaks (Quercus aquation disturbing the nests, we discovered height of from 10 to 20 feet from the ground, seasons. where wild vines had made a tangled mass a cart-wheel, and contained a mass of leaves ourselves are subject. a barrel."—Audubon & Bachman.

Prevention and Restriction of Diphtheria. observance of the following rules :

"Recent investigations having proved that the poison of diphtheria is portable, com- and the commencement of another is the time municable by infection, and capable of repro-most commonly selected by men of business ducing itself ontside of the human body, for reviewing the operations of the past, and diphtheria must now be ranked as both a conmaking arrangements for the future. This tagious and infectious disease. The following wise and prudent course is specially advised rules are therefore more imperative than ever by our Discipline, which recommends that diphtheria should be promptly and effectually their wills and settle their outward estates solated from the public. Children residing in a house where there is a case of diphtheria

"When a case of diphtheria is fully developed, the same precautions in regard to free ventilation, disposal and disinfection of dis- and timely investigation of their business charges, bed or body linen, and so forth, iso-operations, and family expenses would have lation during convalescence (or management showed them, that their estates were gradut increase in the number of species over of the corpse should death unfortunately oc- ally diminishing; and they would thus have cur), &c., &c., ought to be enforced, which been awakened to a sense of the need of more have already been recommended in regard to exertion or more economy, or both; and insmall-pox.

whose throats are tender or sore from any they were gradually becoming entangled. cause should avoid possible exposure to the But for want of this prudent care, some have contagion of diphtheria. Children under ten gone on with their eyes blinded, until their parts of North America lying north of taking the disease, and after they do take it of their power to discharge their obligations. of dying from it, than are grown persons. them may cause whole series of fatal attacks progress am I making in my heavenward among children. walls, &c., and been carried for long distances with Him, the Father of Spirits? in clothing, in sewers, in waste pipes from stationary washstands and in other conduits. be allowed to breathe the air of any water- ter, N. Y. closet, cesspool or sewer into which discharges from patients sick with diphtheria have entered, nor to drink water or milk which has been exposed to such air. "Beware of any person who has a sore cup, blow the same whistle, nor put his pencil or pen into your mouth.

"Do not wear nor handle clothing which

FRIEND. THE

TWELFTH MONTH 30, 1882.

certain situations, are of enormous size. We moon and the annual course of the earth have observed some of them on trees, at a around the sun, with its attendant change of

These mutations are frequent reminders to overhead, which appeared to be larger than us of the corresponding changes to which we The coming of the and sticks that would have more than filled night, when the day is ended, so naturally suggests to the mind the physical death which inevitably follows the active scenes of life, The Board of Health, Phila., recommend the that it is a constantly recurring simile of poets and moralists.

By general consent, the close of one year Friends earefully inspect the state of their "Every person known to be sick with affairs at least once in the year, and make while in health.

How many persons have been brought into great and unexpected trials, even to bringing reproach on the religion they profess, through want of care in this respect? A thorough duced to make the necessary changes to pre-"It is particularly important that persons vent the financial embarrassments in which ears of age are in much greater danger of capital has wasted away, and it has been out

Is not this point of time, one well suited But adults are not exempt, and mild cases in for the still more important inquiries: "What journey? Am I increasingly desirous above "Numerous instances are recorded where all other things, to know and do the will of the contagion of diphtheria has retained its the Lord? Do I daily feel his power operatvirulence for weeks or months, in cesspools, ing on my mind, giving me strength to resist heaps of decaying vegetable matter, damp temptation, and bringing me into communion

We have received a copy of Vick's Floral Hence all sewer connections and other car- Guide for 1883, a beautifully illustrated catariers of filth should be well ventilated and dis logue of seeds and plants, published by the infected, and children particularly should not successors of the late James Vick, at Roches-

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES.-In the U. S. Senate, the Agricultural Appropriation bill was passed; also the Indian Appropriation bill was considered, amended, and finalthroat; do not kiss such a person or take his by passed. In the House a joint resolution was reportor her breath; do not drink from the same ed from the Committee on Foreign Affairs and passed, establish at Tunis a judicial system common among Christian nations, so that the Courts in that country shall be fully opened for the protection of citizens of has been worn by a person during sickness or convalescence from diphtheria."

stand authorizing the President "to declare by proclamation that the right on the part of the United States and its citizens to claim extra-territorial jurisdiction within said territory of Tunis has ceased, and will no longer be claimed or exercised." The total amount recommended in the Army Appropriation bill, which has been reported in the House, is $24,681,700. This is $1,733,754 ess than the appropriation for the current year.

There is about $76,000,000 capital invested in the The near approach of the close of the year manufacturing of rubber goods in the United States, to be inhabited by a number of Florida suggests to the mind the wisdom shown in and about 15,000 persons are employed in 120 establishof all sizes, some of which descended that arrangement of the Creator and Ruler ments, annually producing goods valued at $250,000,000, of all sizes, some of which descended that arrangement of the Creator and the length of the ground, whilst others escaped of all things, by which the lapse of time is shown by the late cenus. The amount of row rubbe bighest branches, where they were marked by the constant recurrence of day be consumed is about 30,000 tons per annum, which are larger than the constant recurrence of day with other ingredients used in the manufacturing, ealed among the leaves. These nests in and night, of the monthly revolutions of the equals 300,000 tons. Raw rabber has lately been ad chiefs of the Cheyennes, in the Indian Territory, have called a conneil to consider the organization of a government, Territorial in its features, the election of a pidity since 1870, when comparatively little Vermont marble was to be found in the market. The aggregate number of men employed in the quarries and mills exceeds 2,300, and it required 10,000 cars to carry the ed to speak to him. marble away. Nearly $1,000,000 was paid for the labor of workingmen by the quarry owners.

The dredge of the Okeechobee Drainage Company, working up the Caloosahatchie river, in Florida, enter-Everglades to the Gulf of Mexico."

from west to east, and "was as plainly visible as meteors usually are after dark."

There were 413 deaths in this city last week, being changes are expected for the present. 43 more than the previous week. Of this number, 200 were males and 207 females; 56 died of consumption; 41

for uplands and New Orleans.

Petrolenm.-Standard white, 7 a 71 cts. for export, and 8 a 81 cts, per galion for home use,

Flour is quiet at former rates. Sales of 2800 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $5 a $5.75; Pennsyl- homesteads. wania family at $4.50 a $4.75; western do. at $4.80 a $5.60, and patents at $6 a $7. Rye flour is dull at $3.75 states that at the closing of Congress President Campiero a $4 per barrel.

Grain .- Wheat continues dull, but prices were firmer. Sales of 4200 bushels red in car lots at $1.04 a $1.10. Rye is nominal at 64 a 67 cts. Corn is dull and prices favor buyers. Sales of 8000 bushels in car lots, at 52 a 671 cts, as to quality and location. Oats are dull and easier. Sales of 9000 bushels, in car lots at 46 a 50 cts. Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 12th mo.

23d, 1882. — Loads of hay, 208; loads of straw, 42. Average price during the week—Prime timothy, 95 cts. to $1.05 per 100 pounds; mixed, 95 cts. to $1.00 per 100 pounds; straw, 70 to 80 cts. per 100 pounds.

FOREIGN.—The correspondent of the Times, at Dun-lin, says the signs of distress among small farmers and lin, says the signs of distress among small farmers and laborers are becoming more visible in some districts, on Admissions meet the same day, at 9 A. M. WM. EVANS, Clerk. works.

A largely attended meeting was held in London on the evening of the 24th inst., for the purpose of organizing a fund to relieve the distress in Ireland, Many telegrams and letters received from clergymen in Ireland, including Archbishop Croke, were read at the meeting, describing the outlook as gloomy and appalling, and stating that the people are on the verge of a famine. A resolution was passed urging the Government to take steps to prevent the people in Ireland from perishing from want of the necessaries of life.

The Government has ordered the prosecution of Harrington, Secretary of the Organizing Committee of the Irish National League, for the speech delivered by him at Mullingar last Monday, for the purpose of forming a branch of the League, in which he said the more prosperous farmers must be told that, if they did not throw themselves into the new movement, they would have the whole force of the laborers' agitation directed against them. Prosecutions are pending against the proprietors of various provincial journals, for articles published by them ineiting to erime.

Chamberlain, President of the Board of Trade, speaking at a meeting of the National Federation at Ashtonunder-Lyne, on the night of the 19th inst., energetiand even at any price," as ignoble and unworthy of a membership with those Friends of Ohio Yearly Meet- wife of Richard Ashbridge, in the 64th year of her great nation. England, he said, had great legitimate ing who maintain the original doctrines of the Society; a member of Uwchlan Monthly Meeting of Friends

De Lesseps, presiding at a banquet given by the con-tractors on public works, in Paris, announced that the scheme for the creation of an inland sea in Africa will

Paris, 12th mo. 23.—Prince Krapotkine, under arrest pinnly since 1600, when components maker. The aggregate at Lyons, was examined for three hours by a Judge of 1882. HANNAR GLEERT, widow of the late (amount of the State's production the present year is Instruction. He answered "No" simply to all the Gilbert, in the 75th year of her age, a member, 1,000,000 entire feet, valued at over $2,000,000. The questions put to thim. The Prince is kept in state Glaray Garden Monthly and Particular Meeting, Ohio. confinement, not even the police in charge being allow-

Madrid, 12th mo, 24th. - In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, the Ministerial motion, declaring against any change in the Constitution of 1876, was adopted by a vote of 221 to 18. The Cortes then adjourned to 1st ed Lake Okeechobee on the 20th instant. This, it is mo. 8th. The victory of the Ministry is much comsaid, "opens a navigable channel from the heart of the mented upon in political circles. Only the Republicans voted against the motion, while the Conservative mem-bers of the Dynastic Left abstained from voting, being A telegram from Concord, New Hampshire, says, bers of the Dynastic Left abstained from voting, being that "one of the largest and most brilliant meteors unwilling to show their small numerical strength. The ever observed" there, was seen on the 20th inst., in the opinion prevails that, although the new party obtained afternoon, between four and five o'clock. It passed greater success in the political deba'es in the Chamber of Deputies than in the Senate, the Government has not been materially weakened, and, therefore, no Cabinet

The great trial of 50 Socialists, which was begun at Prague on the 4th of 12th month, has ended. One of were mass and of phenomonia; 29 of diphtheria; 29 of special properties of phenomonia; 29 of diphtheria; 20 of special properties of phenomonia; 29 of diphtheria; 20 of special properties of phenomonia; 20 of special properties of phenomonia; 20 of special properties of phenomonia; 20 of special properties of special properties of special properties of special properties of phenomonia; 20 of special properties of s tion at Calcutta, in 1883, have been concluded.

One thousand Mennonites in Manitoba, 600 in Emer son, and 400 in Winnipeg, have just been made British subjects by naturalization, and will be given patents for alluded to the fact of the country's enjoying constitutional freedom, even during the war, and besought Chili not to seek her own aggrandizement alone, but also that of the other republics of the Pacific Coast, which are destined at some time to form the South American Confederation.

The losses by the great fire at Kingston, Jamaica, are now estimated at $10,000,000.

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL,

The Committee in charge of this Institution will meet in Philadelphia on the 5th day of the First month,

The Committee on Instruction and the Committee

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE,

Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadelphia. Physician and Superintendent-John C. Hall, M.D. Applications for the Admission of Patients may be

Managers.

DIED, at her residence, near Media, Pennsylvania, 4th mo. 15th, 1882, ABIGAIL VELOTTE, in the 79th year of her age; a member of Media Particular, and Chester Monthly Meeting.

—, at her residence, Damascus, Columbiana county, Ohio, the 11th of 10th mo. 1882, HANNAII B., wife of in my way and long to go home." She was more Edward Williams, and daughter of James B. and Sarah once heard to say, "Though I walk through the will brull, the former deceased) in the 60th year of her age, of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for I From early in life she was attached to the religiousless with real way with real way. From early in life she was attached to the religious principles of the Society of Friends, of which she was a member by birth-right. Some time before her death, death is sin, and that is all taken away from me." having become dissatisfied with the departures, as she having-ved, from the ductries with the departure of Friends in mind teath, her yield an adopt the lange of the branch of Society of the had seen and the property of the branch of Society with which is had associated which she again and again and they shall see food." Blessed are since the separation of the branch of Society of the season of the branch of Society with the had seen and the shall see food." she believed it her duty, together with her husband, to vanced in price to $1.25 per pound, while six years ago interests in Egypt, which should be gnarded by the it could have been purchased at 48 cents. This industry has no rival in foreign countries.

This industry has no rival in foreign countries.

A report has reached. Leavenworth that the head be disastrous. -, on the 30th of 10th mo. 1882, ELIZAB DECOU, daughter of Sarah B., and the late San DeCou, of Trenton, N. J., in the 24th year of I a member of Chesterfield Monthly Meeting of F taxes, pro rata upon cattle raisers and herders.

Bradsteet's Journal estimates this year's cotton crop at 4,488,000 bales.

Vermont is said to produce more marble than any other State in the Union or than any country except this. The business has expanded with marvellous rational productions are said to be implicated.

The state of the discovery of important papers, during a dying 1 can the Lord's." In severe suffering a recent domiciliary visit to his house. It is stated that tempers the wind to the shorn hands. In health papers prove his complicity in various anarchist hours, "He that believeth on me shall nevel movements in French territory. A relative of the Czar "So He giveth his beloved sleen."

-, in Westerly, R. I., on the 1st of 12th mo at the residence of her son, John W. Foster, 1

FOSTER, widow of Thomas Foster, and daugl John Wilbur, aged 82 years and 6 months, a m and minister of South Kingstown Monthly Meet Friends. From early life this dear Friend's chi sire was to seek first the Kingdom of Heaven a righteousness thereof. Often has her faith and pe been put to the test, and through holy help enabled calmly to rely upon the promises of Hir will perform. She had acceptably filled the static minister for more than thirty years, yet had not t led much in the service of Truth, beyond the bou her own Yearly Meeting; but had more than visited the meetings, and most of the families its limits to the peace of her own mind and to the faction of her friends. Phebe Foster was always attached to the doctrines and testimonies of the S of Friends. She labored early and faithfully wit children that they might bear the voke in their endeavoring to impress upon their minds the mount importance of living more with referer their latter end than for any worldly consideration her labors to this end, in connection with those dear husband, were greatly blessed to them. Sh always diligent in the attendance of our meetings, ing through great difficulties for this purposetimes going a long distance when her health seem poor to endure it—and at home she would attend quite ill, saying "I want to set a good example," was clear in her judgment respecting the princip Friends; and was prepared to uphold the hands afflicted father when he was eng. ged many years in pleading for the ancient land-marks, and in be testimony against the introduction of these new trines and practices which have borne such sac in latter years. The manifest and growing depar from our ancient principles, and from a self-det life and conversation, at times bowed her soul lamentation and mourning. She entertained no ness against any, often saying, I love every body, the wicked, but not their deeds. Her earnest p was that all might be saved with an everlasting tion. Her husband and six children had been before her, which she had keenly felt, but bow cheerful resignation, and often felt to bless and p the Lord that a sweet assurance was given them, as as herself, that all were prepared through the mer God in Christ Jesus our Lord to enter the man prepared for the righteous. For more than seven he had suffered much from weakness and inflamm of the eyes, and in other respects her health decli for the last thirteen months she had been mostly fined to the house, and for five months to her made to the Superintendent, or to any of the Board o These trials were borne with great patience and res tion, faith and calm reliance upon God. She repe at different times many, very many beautiful pas of Holy Scripture, and as the time of her release near, she was more and more engaged to dwell it everlasting patience; often praying for it; yet as if consistent with the Divine will that the Lord w take her unto Himself; often saying, "I feel nothing my way and long to go home," She was more -, 12th month 4th, 1882, at her residence, art with me." And again, "Oh death! where is sting, oh grave! where is thy victory?" "The sting view of her self-denving and humble life, and her

THE FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

VOL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, FIRST MONTH 6, 1883.

NO. 22.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

cifpaid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid n advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON, MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

cotions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES.

PIO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS. PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend,"

An Experience of Jury Trials. Jry service is a public duty which many ins, whose time is already pretty fully coied, usually show a disposition to avoid. to serve the community in the capacity fered to, and upon that occasion had been as the business of that body is mainly racted in a room very much smaller than ts of, and the manner of procedure before, rarded to the District Attorney, who, as seemly manner. the prosecutor for the Commonwealth, precevidence for the plaintiff only, decidesthine into the condition of the prison, poor-be, and other public buildings of the "We are convinced that the effect of the dor drinking, however, was apparently nent advocate of large experience declares ing sense that "the righteous Lord loveth required.

Desirous of being kept in a watchful state, at the expense of truthfulness in general."

I believed that the evidence of my being in

It is needless to say that a very large mathe place of duty would not be withheld, jority of the offences brought to our notice This appeared on the second day of the term, were caused, either directly or indirectly, by when a case was before us touching some the use of intoxicating liquors. Pitiful it was disorder which occurred in a house of bad to have a father appear as accuser of his own character. A young man had given his evi-son, whose threatenings and beatings, when dence, which some of the jurors, in question in liquor, he lelt he could no longer endure; ing him, had treated in a jocular way, besides or, a wife and daughter tearfully testifying giving expression to remarks of an indelicate for the same reason against the unnatural cwriter of this, previous to the present nature. Feeling oppressed thereat the re-husband and father. Not a few of these cases, a had been only once so much as called mainder of the day, I found that faithfulness indeed, were ignored, at the solicitation of to apprehended duty could only be met by wives who either could not endure, at the saying something upon the subject to my last, to appear in open court against their esed on the plea of dulness of hearing. In follow jurors. This was accordingly done at husbands, or who said that amendment for resent instance, however, the summons the opening of business the following morn, the future had been faithfully promised. sor service on the Grand Jury; and inas-ing, when they were reminded that, no less In cases of indictment for malicious mistruthful now than when they were uttered, chief, where the plaintiff was a liquor seller, were those words of Solomon, "Her house is and the defendant was drunk when the act purt-room, the bar as to dull hearing did the way to hell, leading down to the chambers was committed, it was not easy for the writer to far operate as to make it worth while of death;" and that I could not but greatly to concur in a "true bill;" yet, as the law re-

In the administration of the oath preparaas a bill of indictment and sends it to the tory to hearing the evidence of witnesses, I and Jury; and that that body, having heard did not perceive that anything was gained saloon-keeper for violating the law followed which was not seemingly as well secured by therefrom. dess than twelve of the jurors so conclud-affirmation—as taken by the very few who g-that it is a "true bill," otherwise, it is preferred the latter method. On the other need. Generally, at the end of each day's hand, in the case of several who were in the son, the bills of indictment so acted upon habit of frequently "taking the oath" (notably canded by the Grand Jury to the judge so with respect to a certain under-officer of man" and "lady," applied even to pick pockets, oen court, and the cases which they reprete the court), it was painful to see how lightly fighters, and disorderly characters generally.

nare then ready for determinate hearing the act could be gone through with. As a By contrast, the more simple, if less elegant, te judge and (petit) jury. In addition to remark of value upon this subject more auterms, "man" and "woman," seemed to ace regular work of acting upon bills of in-thoritative than anything I could offer, is the quire an added dignity. enent, the Grand Jury is empowered to following from a late article in that influential ty, and to present to the court any mat-administration of oaths in Parliament and boy," he seemed, who surely ought not to roming to their notice which they believe elsewhere has been to depress the general have been there-who said he had come to e prejudicial to the health, comfort, or level of truthfulness throughout the land, that fate through getting intoxicated, and well-being of the community.

For every man oaths estrain from perjury, the crimes arising from the sale of intoxity tempt hundred to make the light of truth fate through getting intoxicated, and perjury, the crimes arising from the sale of intoxity. teeo and who is also an abstainer from in- for its own sake. Whatever little good they rating drinks, the prospect of being sev- may do, therefore, is much more than counbours each day, for a term of five weeks, terbalanced by the evil. * * The experimuch before me as subjects which ought to be company of those who, with possibly ence of courts of justice goes to show that an be specially presented to the Court. Although exception, were users of both tobacco and loath does not operate to any appreciable extenses the way seemed closed to relieving my mind not indulged in by any of the jury until after that 'in forty years of practice he only met adjournment for the day, though there were with two instances where the parties, in the several occasions, I regret to say, when two case of an eath offered after evidence, have of the jurors entered the room in such a con-been prevented by a sense of religion from dition as to make plain the fact that they persisting in their testimonies.' And the only were not of the class of "sober, healthy, and reason why an oath is ever able in any ease discreet citizens" which the letter of the law to operate as a deterrent against falschood, is that the value of eaths is artificially enhanced oim exemption.

regret the light manner in which the evidence quires the juror to decide according to the Lmay be well briefly to state, for the in- of the young man was received the day before, facts, and not as things ought to be, there vation of some not acquainted with the because he was plainly on the downward were some instances where—the charges not course to destruction, whilst the remarks be being actually frivolous-there did not seem eGrand Jury, that that body consists of had heard from the jurors were calculated to be, properly, any escape from joining in an thore than 23, and usually not less than confirm him in his way. This brief protest affirmative finding. How often justice failed tizens; that a transcript of any case of was, I believe, not without its use, as a some- to reach those who were really the most semeanor or felony which has had a pre- what similar case to the foregoing being heard guilty parties, appeared from the fact that in plary hearing before a magistrate, is to be a little later, it was proceeded with in a more many cases of malicious mischief or other disorder, notwithstanding that the offence happened, and the liquor was obtained, on the first day of the week, no prosecution of the

A little matter touching a form of speech, which may seem of small moment and yet which I may be excused for mentioning here, was the common use of the words "gentle-

In one of the cells of the County Prison, visited by the Grand Jury, was noticed a fairhaired lad of about nineteen-some "mother's cating drinks and from the unrestricted dissemination of pernicious publications -- were prs, was naturally not entirely pleasant. tent as a safeguard for truth-telling. An emi-upon those matters, I had a tender and quietfor me to do in the direction indicated, it peace. would be made apparent. Accordingly, late in our term of service, the foreman of the jury peared from the pen of the biographer of Ghost.' They have all along consider who had already stated that the secretary Baxter; and forms no unimportant attestation standing, lasting, and indispensable would attend to the final presentment, now in favor of that special service to which the ance of the gospel to be, the manifesta privately made the request that I should pre-Society of Friends were eminently called the Saviour by his Spirit, as the Guide in pare it,—thus affording the opportunity to 'Considering,' says Orme, 'the abuses of di-truth; according to the whole tenor and with thanks, -a result greatly relieving arisen; and, continues he, 'it may perhaps and unto them that look for Him, shall to the writer, who felt that all the praise was have answered a useful purpose, in calling the pear the second time, without sin, into salt due to Him who graciously permits us, as we attention of men professing Christianity, to This Society has therefore deemed it es seek his glory, to aid in the accomplishment the great design of all its ordinances, and to to know the reality of the presence of hand-maiden of her Lord to a persecutor of many years against the doctrine of the Spirit, this way they believe it was, that our b that day, "to tell thee, what was the occasion as it was so prominently held forth by our Redeemer engaged to manifest himsel, of my joining with Friends. It was that thing, honorable predecessors, should later in life, those, and make his abode with them ye school-men call immediate, objective revela- have been brought thus far to acknowledge: should keep his commandments; and tion, (with which, it is my desire ye were more 'I am now,' he says, 'much more apprehen- also it is, that such who do his will, are particularly and feelingly acquainted, where sive than heretofore, of the necessity of well-to know of his doctrine. For, of the Sp by the Lord raised in my soul his feeling life; grounding men in their religion, especially of Truth, which 'teacheth' the believer so that I could not sit down satisfied with the witness of the indwelling Spirit, -tor I more things,' our Lord himself declared, 'He hearing of what the Son of God had done out sensibly perceive, that the Spirit is the great testify of Me'-He shall glorify Me.' Ti wardly, (though I believe, thereby He pur-Witness of Christ and Christianity to the world. mains to be a chief test or proof of dis chased all that grace and mercy, which is in—And though I was tempted long to overlook ship; insomuch that, if we have not the wardly wrought in the hearts of his children,) the strength of this testimony of the Spirit, yet of Christ, we are none of his. This also until I should be a partaker of the virtue and now I see that the Holy Ghost is the witness only channel, whereby we may saving efficacy of it, and thereby possess 'the sub- of Christ, and his agent in the world." stance of things hoped for.' I saw, an hisneeded the revelation of the Son of God in me. wounded soul, when both priest and Levite that part in which there was a deferency. your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit than other professors of that day, who were who had retired for the night, were alm to them that ask Him? These precious Scripmaking a high profession of their faith in or not, and then, as she stood listening, he tures, and many similar to them, being power-them, but many of whom were wanting in the following conversation: fully and seasonably opened up and applied spiritual and vital religion." by the Spirit of truth, times above number, live in me,-thus I become a passive creature, pre-eminently held, to be wholly of a spiritual each other "good-night" as they quieted d and He an active Christ, in the increase of character: it is to be set up within man, and into a peaceful sleep.

Gleanings from Quaker Annals.

righteousness," and that if there was any thing whose government, I feel the increase of my 'cometh not by observation,' neither

"The following admission has recently ap- righteousness, peace, and joy in the of his purposes of righteousness, mercy, and truth.

1. W. L. servient—the promotion of spirituality of mind, and the enjoyment of communion with God! wait for his appearing and counsed, to be Vol. ii. p. 349. It is remarkable, too, that neek to his yoke, and to commit themse "It remains with me," writes a faithful Baxter himself, whose controversy lay for all things most unreservedly to his leading torical faith would neither cleanse me nor save which the early Friends took on the doctrine and 'hath the Witness in himself,' and t me: if that could save any, the devils were of the Spirit, the following may be quoted seeing no man can say that Jesus is the not without a door of hope: I felt that I from a valuable pamphlet: "The professors but by the Holy Ghost, whoseever shall be the contraction of the con of Christianity in the time of George Fox, fess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dw All that I ever read or heard, without this, had generally forsaken the spirituality of re- in him; and he in God.' could not give me the saving knowledge of God. ligion, but were not in the least wanting as to 'None knoweth the Father, save the Son, and a belief in the outward coming, the divinity, he to whomsoever the Son will reveal Him? and sacrifice of Christ. Hence there was not Through the virtue of this, were my eyes by that necessity of insisting upon faith in this degrees more and more opened. For the last mentioned part of the covenant, respecttender-hearted Samaritan had pity upon my ing which there was to defect of faith, as upon passed by; and when there was no eye to believe, that the more of true, spiritual Chrispity, nor hand to help, He drew near, and tianity a man has, the better he will be qualipoured in wine and oil as He saw needful, ful-fied, rightly to see and to estimate the docfilling in measure the promise on which He trines of truth, as contained in the Holy had long caused me to hope, 'He that fol. Scriptures, relative to the outward coming and loweth me, shall not walk in darkness, but offices of Jesus Christ. And, for this very shall have the light of life.' And again, that reason, I believe, and am abundantly confor it. But"—and there was a look of sweet saying, so confirming and comforting vinced, that our predecessors had much more to me, 'If a son shall ask bread of any of you of the true faith, and had much clearer views that is a father, will be give him a stone? &c. of the meaning and standing of the Scrip-If ye then, being evil, know how to give good tures, as well as of the true divinity of our Lord gifts unto your children, how much more shall and Saviour, and the purposes of his sufferings, door to learn whether her two little daugh

"The situation and prospects, in every age, not afraid?" both before and since, in effect speaking forth of the true disciples of our Lord and Saviour, this language, Be not faithless, but believing, must prove to the Christian mind a subject of says. God made the lightning and thu -have made me set to my seal those words vast importance; and it deeply concerns every and that they cannot hart us without of Christ, 'It is the Spirit that quickeneth; one of us to know for ourselves, how far we permission.' the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I are promoting, by individual reception of the speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are leaven of his gospel, that universal diffusion And as I walk with Him, and abide in of unmixed 'glory,' which, we are assured, Him, watching at the posts of Wisdom's gate, shall cover the earth, as the waters cover permits it; and you know mamma say Man, vaccing at the posts of results gate, such that travelling onward in spirit more and more to bring forth fruit unto Him, endeavoring to 'the Prince of Life,' the Prince of Peace,' and we must always trust Him." walk worthy of Him, 'unto well-pleasing' as which is ultimately to subdue and reduce all "I will, Jennie," was the sweet resp. walk worthy of Him, 'unto well pleasing,' as which is ultimately to subdue and reduce all also daily to die unto self, that Christ may things unto itself, the Society of Friends have and the mother heard her two darlings in any mere outward observances, "In connexion with the important ground lieveth that Jesus is the Christ, is born of

> A little girl came in her night clothes early to her mother one morning, sayin "Which is worst, mamma, to tell a

> The mother, taken by surprise, replied both were so bad she couldn't tell which

"Well," said the little one, "I have thinking a good deal about it, and I've cluded it's worse to lie than to steal. If steal a thing you can take it back, 'less yo eaten it; and if you've eaten it you can in the little face-" a lie is forever.'

During the raging of a terrible thu storm, a mother stepped softly to the nur

"O May, May," said the younger, "are

"O no, no, Jennie," said the older; "Mar

"But they kill people sometimes!"

ously said the little one

"Yes," said May, "but only when

For "The Friend."

A Trip Through St. Gotthard.

en years have passed, with their recurcreed, and known as that of Mt. Cenis.

120 miles thereby. , we were not oppressed by any sense te sublime in nature, though the trans avoided. ent character of the engineering ability le great Mt. Cenis tunnel is 73 miles in on a gigantic scale. card of the tunnel.

ed over the mountain by the mode now and is therefore 128 miles in length. to ascend the Rhigi, and known as the on which heavier and longer trains can blue heavens. inveyed at less expense for transit, and e its giant fellow.

than that of Mt. Cenis, being 26 feet 3 inches before ns. On the opposite bank are the wide and 19 feet 8 inches high, and is 91 miles meadows of Rutli where, as story tells, the autumns, since I enjoyed the passage in length—thus exceeding its great rival by first Swiss league between Uri, Schwyz and ugh the tunnel by which the Col de Fréjus about 1½ miles. It is lined throughout with Unterwalden was concluded on the night of reed, and known as that of Mt. Cenis. substantial masonry, and well it is that it is the 7th of 11th mo. 1307—575 years ago, this at that time formed the easiest entrance thus buttressed against the pressure of a mass day! Further on rises the Uri-Rothstock, Italy by rail, which was thus bound to of rock which rises from 5000 to 6000 feet with its glacier nearly 10,000 feet, and tunce. During the past week we were borne above the keystone of its arches. Its elevanel after tunnel receives us—one a mile and togs of steam through the great St. Gott tion is not as great as that of Mt. Cenis, since another a mile and a quarter in length—and tunnel, and found our journey south-it rises to but 3785 feet almost exactly midway, obstruct our view of the chapel of Tell, built from Switzerland and Germany short- or 460 feet lower than the earlier work with where he is said to have leaped from the boat which we are making such frequent compari- of Gesler. Soon Fluellen is reachd, at the head hen approaching and when leaving Mt. sons. A double track of rails extends through of Lake Lucerne, and we are 36 miles on our the tunnel and danger of collision is thus way; and Aldorf follows soon, where Tell is ayed, and its triumphant completion and required 7 years and 9 months for its bridges which cross the foaming Reuss,—one difficulties hitherto unsurmounted, did completion. It was begun at opposite ends, a lattice girder bridge, 255 feet high,—and il to make an impression that was vivid and the headings met and fitted with wonder again tunnels and tunnels through every prote extreme. Passing through lands in ful exactness as to height and bearing, attest-jecting nose of mountain slope that bars our have been enacted deeds of heroic enling the extraordinary skill of the engineers, passage, and we reach Gurnellen, 50 miles on nce through years of bloody rapine by and the perfection to which the construction our journey, and 2625 feet above the sea. Here pile Italy and the Popedom, which spare of instruments of precision has attained. The or beyond we ascend the bill of Göshenen by ter age nor sex, through all which the greatest number of workmen employed at any means of three curved tunnels, and an immense enses, those adherents to the primitive time was 3400. Both the Mt. Cenis and St. double bend. The upper end of one of these tian faith, kept their allegiance sure and Gotthard tunnels were bored by means of tunnels, 1606 yards long, is 115 feet above the fast, "when all our fathers worshipped machines driven by compressed air, and the lower. Crossing a deep gorge we pass through s and stones," there was awakened in power was derived, I believe from falling another tunnel and over the Reuss again to sense of the morally sublime that eclipsed water. "A constant dropping will wear away enter a spiral tunnel of 79 feet in ascent. at I beheld in nature or could perceive a rock," and the power of persistent applica. Crossing the Reuss again and again, we find tion of small efforts has thus been illustrated ourselves 2780 feet above the sea; and look-the surface of the mountain. It was form an aggregate length of 25 miles! Be-emerging volumes of smoke and steam left by in 1st month of 1861, and completed sides these it boasts its 32 bridges, several of our becometive, and rolling in billowy clouds b 12th month of 1870: ten years having which are of vast size and great elevation, into the open day.

occupied in its construction at a total and ten massive viaducts. The elevation has of about $15,000,000. From 1500 to 2000 generally been attained by the very remarkmen were constantly employed on each able expedient of large spiral tunnels of which there are at least three on the north and four host entirely lined with masonry. Our on the south side of the mountain. The total twas made in 26 minutes without any cost of the railway an I tunnels and rolling ptible change in feeling arising from stock, &c., was about $46,000,000: for which hess of the atmosphere or increase in sum Italy, Switzerland and Germany granted erature, if such exist. The name, Mt. subsidies in the proportion of about one half Jesus Christ! O! consider his sermon on , is a misnomer, since the culminating by the first named, and one fourth by each of the mountain-bow much more is required of that mountain lies 17 miles to the the others. The railway was inaugurated on from a man, to lead a good and righteous de diligence road over Mt. Cenis, which the 1st of 6th month. It extends from Lu may be enabled to do it; for he receives w deserted, was constructed in 1802-5, cerne, in the heart of Switzerland, to Lugano power to become a son of God when he walks g the reign of Napoleon; a railroad was on its Italian border, on the lake of that name, in the Light of Christ. Then he is made method, from its American inventor, the 7th of 11th month, and bidding a regretted man. The Grace and Light makes holy and was constructed as are ordinary roads farewell, as I have several times before done, righteous people of the obedient ones, and two rails, but midway between another to its beautiful scenes, we passed through they have the kingdom of heaven within said more elevated, and so planned that Rothkreuz (Red Cross) and Arth-Goldau, and them. eived on either side the pressure of two over the remains of a disastrous landslip of horizontal wheels which were attached 1806, and reached the station Schwyz, near the being." Paul of old was not ashamed to e locomotive and formed the clamping base of the two remarkable conical mountains quote that text from the Greek poet Aretas. sion by which the train was retained in conspicuous from the lake, and known as the But how think the outward professors to day? accessive positions as it ascended the Mythes (mitres), each about 6000 fect in They think there is no salvation but by the ents of the road. This was a wonder in height. These interesting cones were covered Scripture. For all the outward ones I met ay, but has also been thrown aside to by snow pure and glistening in the sunshine, and talked with about God, seem to have God way for the road through the moundand like mighty icides seemed to pierce the as an abstraction. Priestcraft and the re-southern flanks. This tunnel is rather larger Urner sec, or bay of Uri, and a noble view is said to have aimed the arrow at the apple Its construction cost about $12,500,000, upon his son's head. Tunnels again and lofty ing down from our height can see far below b, and rises in the centre to the height This mighty tunnel is but one of 56 tunnels us the end of the tunnel through which we 45 feet above the sea and is 4093 feet on the great St. Gotthard railway, which have recently passed, and from which is

(To be concluded.)

For "The Friend."

(Continued from page 130.)

Let us consider the sayings of our Lord 5th mo. 22nd, 1882, and opened for traffic on life, than the old law required! And man willing to obey the inward law, which takes Leaving Lucerne at 10 on the morning of hold of and judges every inward thought of

"In God we live, and move, and have our vivalists generally picture God as one who We have thus skirted the Rhigi (royal has ordained the most part of mankind for ss risk of danger to life. The passage of mountain) on its northern flank, and passing destruction; and they teach that the few of cenis and its tunnel pales before the several small lakes, and through a fruitful men who can reach bliss hereafter must go y St. Gotthard as does the mountain country, emerge from the mountains and through the performances which they prereach the lake Lucerne at Briennen (the scribc. The devil and hell are the agencies e St. Gotthard tunnel is rightly named, fountain). Several small tunnels have already by which they work to get the people to empress that mountain, driving through its sie border and granite core, to emerge by strewn along our pathway, and now the of Christ is the power of God for salvation; by the statement of the core to emerge by strewn along our pathway, and now the property of the power of God for salvation; while those that believe and embrace that the content will be come property for there is no expectation. conspicuous in lofty precipices on its trated, and we are upon the border of the gospel will become perfect, for there is no salvation hereafter, if men are not saved in this life from sin and vanity, and have become good, true, and righteous. The Holy Spirit is the power that joins man in reverence and love with his Maker for time and eternity. The true Light, which makes man good, wise ment of a regular salaried preacher for the very small boy, was, among others, wa is and righteous, is as contrary to priester at and will worship in all its antichristian was in the contrary to priester at and will worship in all its antichristian was in the contrary to priester at and will worship in all its antichristian was in the contrary to priester at and much wonder. What will worship in all its antichristian was in the contrary to priester at an antichristian was in the contrary to priester at a contrary to priester at a contrary to will-worship in all its anti-christian manitestations as Christ is to Belial.

devoured their victims. The Protestants did other body of Christians. not have the power of the Romans, but John Calvin got Servetus burned alive, and if we go through history, we can trace terrible things done by Protestant priesteraft.

God wills that all men shall be saved-and his people want to see men come out from their rebellion and alienations from God, and be joined in happiness and felicity with his will, and walk in his ways, which are ways of delight. O, what can be more important for men and bring more delight, than to do the will of God?

We often see men being like brutes, by following their beastly lusts. But a perverse and false religion, with superstition attending, has made men more ferocious than the brutes. Of this, all the wars and bloodshed about religion furnish us with many examples-such as the Crusades, especially the first, when the Christians, so called, thought that a holy war had to commence with exterminating the Jews! Compare the conquest of Jerusalem by the Crusaders, Tilly's conquest of Magdeburg, and other cruelties committed both by Protestants and Catholics during the 30 years' wars; the Duke of Alba's butchering in the Low Countries, and so forth; and then we must say: O man, what a terrible monster art thou, when the passions of false religion and superstition are let loose.

If we don't walk in the Light, but be drawn out from the Light, we are in danger of being lost in the darkness-and what can we expect but deeds of darkness in the time of temptation from those that say they believe in God and Christ, but deny the Light of Christ within for man's salvation. An outward historical religion, with its doctrine of substitution, will always prove a failure in enabling mankind to make true progress towards spiritual good—teaching as it does that Christ has taken away the sins of what they call a converted man, and that he is righteous, though living in a sinful way, Christ's righteousness being imputed to him; and that through the obedience of Christ, man is perfect in the sight of God, by faith—saying further that a condition of perfection, or freedom from sin, is not attainable in this life, and consequently not worth striving for, being only self-righteousness. Such teachers constantly declare, morality cannot save a man. But though morality don't save a man, true morality, as a fruit of the life and light of Christ in man, signifies, that man is saved from sin and vanity; and the outward conditions of man is a consequence of the inward conditions. As a good tree bringeth forth good fruit and not bad, so a holy man cannot commit any deed of immorality.

It is practical unbelief which quenches the vital flame of virtue.

For "The Friend," On Silent Worship.

In reading over "The Friend" of 12th mo. 16th last, containing the curious note from a there was a remarkably fine annular person in Lynn, recommending the appoint of the sun visible in England, which I, occurred to me as fitting to publish in "The obscuring moon had begun to pass from Friend," to show that Friends can worship sun's disc, and the partial darkness w What has not priesteraft done to destroy man! During the days of inquisitions,—the holy inquisition so called,—then the priests ministry is undoubtedly a great blessing to shower of feathers." Why he had so walked in the light of the fiery flames that the Church, whether it be Friends, or any

> Let deepest silence all around Its peaceful shelter spread; So shall that living Word abound, The Word that wakes the dead.

How sweet to wait upon the Lord In stillness and in prayer What though no preacher speak the word, A minister is there.

A minister of wondrous skill True graces to impart; He teaches all the Father's will, And preaches to the heart:

He dissipates the coward's fears, And bids the coldest glow; He speaks; and lo! the softest tears Of deep contrition flow;

He knows to hend the heart of steel, He bows the loftiest soul; O'er all we think and all we feel, How matchless his control! And ah! how precious is his love,

In tenderest touches given: It whispers of the bliss above, And stays the soul on heaven. From mind to mind, in streams of joy,

The holy influence spreads; 'Tis peace, 'tis praise without alloy, For God that influence sheds. 'Twas thus, where God himself is known To shine without a cloud,

The angel myriads round his throne, In solemn silence bowed. And all were still and silent long, Nor dared one note to raise, 'Till burst the vast eestatic song. And heaven was filled with praise.

Each billow ceased its surging roar,

Gently to lave the sandy shore

For " The Friend," "BE STILL AND KNOW THAT I AM GOD," God spake, "Be still;" at the behest, The troubled ocean sank to rest;

The thunder hushed its threat'ning sound, While all was silence, deep, profound; The wind was lulled, no breath arose To break the mandate of repose; All nature's elemental strife Obedient to the Word of Life, Sank calmly down. Art thou alone, My soul, unstilled before the Throne? Will not thy auxious warfare cease, Commanded by the Prince of Peace? Oh! passive yield unto his will Obey his mandate, "Be thou still." Then wilt thou know the crushing tread Of Him, who wounds the serpent's head,— That precious Seed, which, at the fall, Was promised to give life to all,— The Christ within, the inspeaking Word, Immanuel, our risen Lord. Seek thou his counsel; then will He, Thy Alpha and Omega be.
He'll soothe thy troubled thoughts to rest,
Upon his ever-faithful breast, If thou wilt heed his high behest.

half an honr."-Rev.

E. S. L.

Then, bow before his sovereign will,

Obey his mandate, Be thou still.

Spider-Showers.

In 1835-if my memory be not at 1 ltexpectation, he did not say; but as "sh en of feathers" are as proverbial as shows frogs and fish, and may, when really ite stood, have as much foundation in fact th best authenticated of these other atmosph wonders, I propose to describe a show feathers which it was once my luck to wi only the shower was not really a show feathers-though the falling material cel resembled these light bodies-nor a show snow, but a shower of gossamer spiders. B first let me refer to a few notable spider-w ers of the past; also to some of the que able inferences that have been drawn in gard to these spiders

All who have read White's History of borne will recollect his description of the samer-showers which he had observed, on which continued for nearly a whole dayle where the gossamer was descending file surprising height; for when one gentle ascended a hill near at hand, some three dred feet high, he found that the gossale were descending from a region in the a p phere that was still beyond the reach of gaze. These gossamer-showers are mysteries, and once seen cannot be forge for the air on these occasions becomes lite crowded with tiny parachutes, composer few threads of almost invisible gossamer, of the parachutes being occupied by a Li tian aëronaut, in the shape of a very small active spider. Whence these aërial creat come, or whither they go, remains so f be discovered; but it seems clear that s how they have learned the navigation of trackless region overhead which we call atmosphere. Dr. Martin Lister named aërial spider "the bird," from the facility which it can traverse the air; and upor occasion, when he observed a shower of t in York city, he ascended to the top of Minster, and found that even there they descending from some region above that vated stand-point. Mr. Darwin, anothe server of spider-showers, describes one w he saw in 1832, when on board the Beagl the mouth of the La Plata River, when vessel was some sixty miles from land; an possibly was the first to notice that each p chute of gossamer carried a spider aëron for he noticed them not only arrive on be the ship, but he also saw them reprodu new parachute, and on this frail bark lau forth again "on the bosom of the palpita air."

It is a common notion, when a spidercrosses one's face in a summer evening, the is the web of the gossamer spider; but wants correction. Some of these threads I be the gossamer spider's work, but mos them are the cables of other species. Aln all spiders leave a cable behind as they tr from point to point, or swing themselves for * "There was silence in Heaven about the space of branch to branch. The common geome spider (Epeira diadema) generally, I mi ges, but all in a common direction. At dew. ogh it is probably the same as that which plying with its young ones as a cat plays and in the old nursery rhymet her kittens. The peculiarity of this icr is its family of fifty or sixty young ones, nih it carefully rears, provides for, and edals. Its house, not unlike that of the "old atrproof leaf of holly or kindred evergreen. tis mansion are lodged several score of org family come running out of their domigo watch the contest; and as soon as the powerless to harm them with blow from rs or limbs, they cluster round its body so oly, seizing upon every point of vantage, aa large blue-bottle becomes completely den as they swarm over it. When the my is thus dining, so still and quiet are e, that they give the observer, at first sight. empression that he is looking upon an unraspberry which has dropped into the the small globular bodies, packed closely g ber, so exactly resemble the unripe seeds hen there are wandering or wolf-spiders dgh in our fields to account for the netok of webs that a dewy morning reveals. webs are there, dew or no dew; but when vred with dew or hoar-frost, they are reand to every eye. The female wolf-spider Ine carrying a spherical bag as big as her-

not say invariably, leaves a thread in its travel on its own behoof, and invariably leaves menced this reascension earlier; but on obic; and it is more frequently the threads of a thread in its track, it is not very remarkable serving that some were reascending, all my is nd kindred spiders which haunt trees, that every dewy morning in autumn should re-attention was devoted to single spiders; and des, &c., and so frequently tiekle our noses veal pastures covered with sparkling spider this is what I saw. Fixing my eyes upon one sady lanes. The epeira too can shoot out silk; and it may be these wanderers, and not of them, I observed that as it left the gossale with as much facility as the gossamer the gossamer-spider, which give our fields this mer pathway, it selected a clean spot on the id. One day, when holding an epeira sus- appearance. I have seen, when looking across iron railing, and gathering its limbs closely and to my finger by its cable, it disap- a pasture towards the declining sun, a streak together, it projected from its spinnerets sevaid as if by magic. To discover its modus of sunlight reflected from these webs, which eral threads which expanded outwards, and emdi, I tried another in bright sunlight, reminded me of a rainbow, and this prismatic stretched upwards from nine to twelve inches. debserved that while it was hanging thus streak moved on as I walked along. This con-Then this parachute seemed to show a buoysinded, and perfectly motionless, it was vinced me that our meadows are covered in ant tendency, and suddenly the tiny creature oing out threads in various directions, autumn with a silken sheen which is revealed left hold of the iron rail, or was lifted off it. nee threads floated on, spreading out into in prismatic colors by the evening sun, and and quickly 'vanished into thin air.' One re or four radii, and covering about sixty as frosted silver by the hoar-frost or morning after another I closely watched, with the same 1th one came in contact with a post, and Since, then, it is unsafe to conclude that the the spider left the rail, it floated for a few hed to it. As soon as the spider found dew-revealed webs of the antumn morning are abne of the cables had found an anchorage, those of the gossamer spider, let us turn to prior to changing it for an approximately et the one by which I held it captive, ran the latter, which so rarely appears amongst et the one by which I held it captive, ran the latter, which so rarely appears amongst vertical one. They, however, disappeared tis cable of hope, and regained its liberty. us, in showers at least, to ascertain what is from sight so quickly, that the angle of ascent Te epeira spreads its beautiful spirals from clearly known of its ways, and if any idea of could only be guessed at. ito twig on the outside. Beneath these its native haunts is attainable. These gosais, those of the common house-spider samer spiders have been seen descending from interesting, as I did not observe the descent, rica domestica) may be found, where pos- a considerable altitude in the atmosphere, and but only the reascent of some odd ones. This, il this species is taking its summer's out shortly afterwards individual spiders have however, was effected in exactly the same and deeper among the branches still, and been observed one after another to reascend, manner as has been already described; and he small spider can be seen in greater as if they were returning to their native place;

So far back as Chaucer, we find "gossamer" the Hunt observed at play, for I have seen amongst the mysteries of natural phenomena;

> 'Old woman, old woman, old woman,' quoth I, 'O whither, O whither, O whither so high?' 'To sweep the cohwebs out of the sky, we may have a fair proof that gossamer-spiwho lived in a shoe," may be called der showers had been noted long ago, and a otic, and is roofed generally with a sloping possible proof that these tiny waifs were then suspected to be inhabitants of the atmosphere.

The first and densest spider-shower ever ug ones; while from its front an irregular observed by me occurred in September 1875, stextends for several inches around. This and the second-where I saw them reascend elis not a snare which fastens, but a maze ing only-in September 1880. (Gilbert White oth confuses the prey. When a fly falls in, of Selborne observed one of these showers in ds rapidly buzzing its way through it, the 1741.) On the morning of the shower in 1875, ier, directed by the vibrations of the web, there had been some electrical disturbance. ses upon the confused insect, and paralyses There had been one loud peal of thunder, but ings and limbs by smearing them over no rain. About ten A. M., I noticed small it a glutinous secretion. As soon as the spiders running over my coat-sleeves, and had pve is securely manacled, the wily spider to brush off several trails of gossamer-web. three to give it the coup de grace with its Looking round, I found 'that brick-walls, in-fangs. While all this is proceeding, the houses, branches of trees, &c., had these webs dangling from them, and that other gossamerwebs were continually falling from above, and adding to the accumulation. By mid-day, a long fence was festooned from point to point of its triangular rail-tops with a ribbon-like ladder of gossamer; and this was growing broader and broader as the tiny creatures kept running along this ladder, each increasing the breadth by adding its own contribution of another silken thread.

On examining next an iron palisading near. I found it in a similar condition, with the tops of the iron spikes connected by a vibrating silken ladder of gossamer, in some places nearly an inch broad. All along this ladder the little strangers were running in an excited and hurried manner, as if they had lost their way, and had got into a strange country. Some, in travelling over their improvised road, made mistakes, and got into bordering inea viatica) may be found about the end webs of the Garden spider, where they were speedily devoured. About one P. M. the clouds which is full of young wolf-spider eggs. cleared off, the sun shone out, and I noticed be are hatched about July; and when we that some of the spiders had begun to reaseend mider that each individual spider begins to into the atmosphere. They might have com-general result; though once or twice when seconds in an almost horizontal direction.

The second spider-shower I saw was not so the few I saw were again ascending from an mers than either of these two kinds. I and may not their peculiar "happy hunting iron palisading, fully a mile away from that w. not been able to identify its species, ground" be in the atmosphere? bers' Journal.

For "The Friend,"

Wine Drinking.

It was very satisfactory to read from the New York Letter in the Ledger of to-day, the efforts that were being made in that city to suppress intemperance, in the first social glass, or in its earlier steps and stages, by lifting the warning voice against the truly dangerous practice of handing wine or other intoxieating drinks to those who may eall, this New Year's day, on the respective hosts. This, as appears, has been remonstrated against by more than one hundred clergy men of different religious denominations; by "The Young Ladies' Temperance Union;" while, also, the example was to be set in the new Mayor's usual New Year's reception at the City Hall. It is stated as "understood, that on this occasion good wholesome cold water and lemonade contrary to the practice of former years) will be the rule '

We could devontly wish that this movement, small as it may at first appear, might prove one of the beginnings of a great and greatly needed reformation in a truly alarming and dreadful evil. It is a significant fact that "Sippington" is represented as the first station-house on "The Black Valley Railroad"-leading down to the chambers of death, While the last station or terminus, "Destruction," is but the final issue of the ticket-the first cheerful glass-taken at the first station. Oh! that all, and especially the young, might be aroused to a sense of this tremendous evil and engulphing maelstrom, which, perhaps, fascinates at first, while "at the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder." May all beware of the fatal strand, by heeding the safe course: "Touch not; taste not; handle not." This will avoid the deplorable picture the poet has left us-

"The drunkard murders child and wife, Nor matters it a pin, Whether he stabs them with his knife, Or starves them with his gin." 1st mo. 1st, 1883.

For " The Friend." The Indian School at Tunesassa.

This school is brought to the notice of the members of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, annually, by the Reports of the Committee in prepare the Indians for the place they must ere long occupy-that of citizenship in common with the other inhabitants of our land. school may not be unacceptable; and it is with a view of enlisting the interest and assistance of more Friends, that these remarks are

The school is located on a farm of about 400 acres, in Cattaraugus county, in the State of New York, adjoining the Allegheny Indian in effect, that the presence and watchful care Reservation. tendent and Matron, assisted by three woman experienced while engaged in this service, as in his late religious travels; and that the Friends, one of whom teaches the school for at any other period of their lives. Indian children. The children under care now number 30: 25 girls and 5 boys, which is the full capacity of the present establishproducing fruit in some eases in later years.

ance of the Matron and her helpers.

The Institution is partly supported by the income from a fund, and by an appropriation being of nations has been very great. The of Malta, the Lipari Isles, and the prov made annually by the Yearly Meeting. The ruin of Spain may be chiefly traced to the ex. of Calabria, on the mainland of Italy. main building has been much improved lately pulsion or extirpation of her Moorish, Jewish observatory is erected upon a small (by alterations and additions, making it much and heretical subjects; and French industry, which will, in the case of cruption, prote more commodious and comfortable, and a new and still more French character, have never completely from the lava-stream which school-house has just been finished—the cost recovered the injury they received from the ways flows down on the opposite side of very observable in the greater cleanliness in vocation of the Edict of Nantes, and by the the dwellings, and the general thrift of those savage persecution which immediately pre-paper contains the following. Last ni who enjoyed its advantages compared with ceded and followed it, France probably lost while Lieutenant Hammond was on dut those who have not; but it is believed that upwards of a quarter of a million of her most the Third Station, a fine appearing many this improvement would be more manifest if industrious citizens; and, amid the cuthu and neatly dressed, entered and asked a greater number of boys could partake of siastic applause of the Catholic party, a blow mission to look into the first cell on the ri the good effect of the school influence. Here- was struck at her true interests, of which of the cell-room. The question was a m tofore, owing to the arrangement of the build-some of the effects may be perceived even to unusual one, and the Lieutenant inquired w ing and some other causes, the boys have been the present day. Many of the arts and mann-the request should be granted. The vision largely excluded.

and the committee have decided, with the liberties in France received their deathblow and now he had an almost uncontrollable ploying a man and his wife to board a num-destruction of the most solid, the most n ber of boys in a separate building; the man the most virtuous, the most general to have the oversight of them when out of lightened element in the French natio school and train them under direction of the pared the way for the degradation Superintendent, in general farm work. It is national character, and the last seriou charge of the Institution, but there are doubt. believed that they will thus become more in- wark was removed that might have become less many Friends who do not realize the im-terested in agriculture and be induced to clear the force of that torrent of skepticist portance of the work that is being done, and their land and bring it into cultivation; and vice, which, a century later, laid prothe need there is for a more earnest effort to by the Christianizing influence of the establishin merited ruin, both the altar and the ti ment become better fitted for the heads of -Lecky's England.

The chief difficulty which has presented in To some of these a brief article showing the the way of carrying out this plan is the find-see my much beloved friend, Moses Fa present condition and future prospects of the ing of suitable persons to place in charge, at Uxbridge, in his last sickness. His dis which it is very desirable to do, and while was paralytic. He could not speak so the service at Tunesassa is neither light nor free from deprivations, yet those who have but the lively sensibility of his mind, an undertaken it from a sense of religious duty, tenderness and brokenness of his spirit, have generally become much interested in it: and some of these have remarked in after life, It is managed by a Superin of their Heavenly Father, were as preciously to make us sensible of his great peace of Political Effect of Persecution.

In the two centuries that followed the J. Scott. ment. They are taught the usual English Reformation hardly any other single circumbranches of study, in which they become quite stance affected so powerfully the relative inproficient, and their conduct and bearing in dustrial position of nations as the degrees school, and their ready compliance with the in which they conceded religious toleration. wishes of the teacher, are quite remarkable. Among the less noticed consequences of the loyed the distinction of being the most elev Meetings for Divine worship are held twice Reformation, perhaps the most important was inhabited building in Europe. This hor in the week, and the children are assembled the dispersion of industry produced by the can no longer claim. During the past daily, and portions of scripture and books of many thousands of skilled artizans who were the city authorities of Catania, in Sicily, a religious character read to them. On these driven by persecution beyond their national caused to be erected, near the summit of occasions the behavior of the children is sober borders, carrying with them trades which great volcano, Mount Etna, an astronor and commendable, and there is evidence that had been hitherto strictly or mainly local, observatory, which stands 2,943 metres a serious impressions are made upon their minds and planting them wherever they settled, the sea-level or fully 1000 feet higher Nor was this the only result of the migration, the hospice of the St. Bernard. The struct In the intervals of school the girls are em- Men who are prepared to abandon friends is nine metres in height, and covers an ployed in domestic duties (allowing time for and country rather than forsake a religion of 200 square metres. It consists of an u recreation, however,) such as washing, cook-which is not that of their nation are usually and a lower story, and is built in a circ ing, &c., which they do with much cheerful-superior to the average of their fellow coun-form. In the lower story there rises a ness under the direction and with the assist trymen in intelligence, and are almost always sive pillar, upon which is placed the greatly superior to them in strength and refracting telescope. The lower story i The boys assist on the farm in taking care nobility of character. Religious personant, vided into a dining room, kitchen and s of the stock and in various other ways. The by steadily weeding out such men from a rooms. In the upper story there are t farm has lately been much improved by clear-community, slowly but surely degrades the bed-rooms intended for the accommodate ing more of the land, and as it is adapted to national type, while a policy of toleration astronomists and tourists visiting the et the keeping of sheep a flock has been intro- which attracts refugees, representing the best lishment. The roof consists of a mov duced with favorable results. Several cows moral and industrial qualities of other nations, cupola or dome. From the balconies of are kept which supply the family with dairy is one of the most efficient of all means of ex- upper story a prospect of vast extent of all being defrayed by private contributions. banishment of the most energetic and en-volcano.—Builder. The benefits of the school to the Indians is lightened portion of the nation. By the refactures which had been for generations most at first declined to answer, but soon fran The Indians are now very anxious to have distinctively French passed forever to Hol-admitted that three years ago he had be more of their boys under the care of Friends, land, to Germany or to Engiand. Local locked in that particular cell for drunkenn approbation of the Yearly Meeting, to extend when those who most strenuously supported sire to look into it once again. Lieuten the benefits of the Institution to them by emittein were swept out of the country. The Hammond theroupon called a house-wat

The 31st of the 3rd month, 1780, I w communicate much of his mind by w refreshing to my soul. Divers Friends present, and nearly all were melted into and heart-felt tenderness. He was just and evidence of Divine approbation the was now impressed on his mind. Ligh life appeared to triumph over all in h

Highest Building in Europe.-Hithert hospice of the Great St. Bernard, which st 8,200 feet above the level of the sea, ha panding and improving it.

The effect of these influences on the well.

The effect of these influences on the well.

The effect of these influences on the well.

A Station-House Episode,-A Boston d

upon his knees by the side of the hard to have reflected dishonor upon his name?" k bunk, and for a few minutes quietly enhanking Lieutenant Hammond for his about 126 Russian-Greeks in the city. nness, he said that since that night, three as ago, he had not tasted intoxicating r, and had completely reformed his life. ad keenly felt his degradation at the time deft as quietly as he had come.

Ce View of the Case .- It is a pity to see the blendid yields of the grains and grasses fmental of life, continually encroached occo. Agricultural journals occupy whole mns weekly with this sinister crop, and and fastening a demoralizing and usually ring on their system the Methodist Epis-York City. An entertainment was held Archipelago. pocure funds to further the erection of the and allowed his caller to go down stairs out "camp life." The Recorder justly remarks, contents of the remaining barrel, and fell dead him. When the man reached the cell "This congregation have been worshipping upon the soft mud at the very edge of the first paused and looked into the forbid- in a very respectable building, and would it water. While speculating upon our good luck, place of confinement, and then entered it not have comported with the cause of the and putting in two fresh cartridges the cock closed the door behind him. He at once blessed Master to have remained there than teal, which had flown up to the other end of d in prayer. When he arose be seemed im- chapel, for several years past supported by with new life, and ascended to the office the Russian Government in New York, are to station with apparently a lighter heart shortly to be discontinued. There are only

For "The Friend,"

For " The Friend." Natural History, Science, &c.

Is confinement, but the event had changed russian Mulberry.—This has been introduced into Nebraska by the Mennonite colo-Russian Mulberry.—This has been intronists from Russia, who brought the seed with them. It is a rapid grower and some that were sown about seven years ago, are now cest of our lands, the districts most famous 20 feet in height and stout enough for fence posts. The leaves are food for the silk-worm tmental of life, continually encroached and the timber is very valuable for fence and exhausted by the growth of vile posts and fire wood. The fruit is edible and resembles blackberries in appearance.

The Popular Science Monthly had the folvapers report a continual increase in the lowing curious note on the use of the micro-nud for it. Very rarely do we meet with phone. "A wealthy land-owner in the Tyrol to the decrease of the resurrection of the body. phone. "A wealthy land-owner in the Tyrol to the doctrine of the resurrection of the body, scounterblast against all this deleterious has made an application of the microphone containing a caution, that speculations on such But a pungent article in The Christo the detection of the subterranean springs, mysterious subjects should not divert the at Work by A. M. Williams of Syracuse, He fixed the microphones at the spots where thoughts from the more important and pracdeclares that the average of tobaccobers are eventual losers, atthough the first connected with its telephone and battery. prepared for the enjoyment of happiness in a bise is speedy riches. "What they really then, at night, be put his ear to each of the future state of existence. The recent mails have brought us two evitors their farms; and the only sure instruments, and listened for the murmuring.

emost deplorable feature attending the deposits a single large egg, which she covers death hath no power. ersal prevalence of its use is that a parent, over with about a foot of sand, and then respecially a town resident, can scarcely turns to the forest. At the end of 10 or 12 that people are too superficial, too outwardfirst step which makes them slaves for are often found together; and these are so lured from the narrow path of self-denial and an offensive and injurious habit, that large that it is not possible for the body of the cross. It regards excitement relative to veloped egg at the same time.

Religious Items, &c. round to obtain these eggs, which are estet the mind to work in devising and imagin-teemed a great delicacy. They are richer in that which it concerns us not to know.

Cored Baptists.—It is stated that some of than hen's eggs, and of a finer flavor, and the pool when his mate fell, turned back, Greek Church .- The services in the Greek and, after flying up and down several times with mournful notes, returned to the spot whence he rose, and pitched upon the mud, close to the dead duck. Here he remained for some seconds, nodding his head and curtsying, as if about to take wing, uttering a low note the while, as if to entice away the duck, whom he appeared so loth to leave

"We were so struck at this manifestation of affection that we could not find it in our hearts to shoot the poor bird, and, as we moved on to pick up his mate, he rose, and was soon out of range again."

THE FRIEND.

FIRST MONTH 6, 1883.

In the 16th number of the present volume

ess is that of making smokers and chew- of the waters, and in several cases heard it. | dences that this matter has claimed the atten-The Nesting of the Maleo. - The "Maleo" is tion of others in different parts of the land. chquered habit on the community." Let the native name of a species of gallinaceous One of these is a letter from a correspondent rise from the soil, of which we are stew-birds found in the island of Celebes. It de- in Ohio, who speaks of that regeneration, something healthful, useful and beautihather than devote it to the vilest weed earth produces. Leave that to the one hather which alone eats it. Another writer hather than devote are the the transported by the decomposition of an another which is a spiritual resurrection from a state hather than the stand. In the 8th and 9th months, of spiritual death into a new and spiritual life, tobacco has been cultivated in Onondaga when there is little or no rain, these birds through the power of Christ, who declared by for over thirty years, and farmers come down in pairs from the interior and himself to be "the resurrection and the life." who have made it a specialty are worse scratch holes 3 or 4 feet deep in the sand. "Blessed and holy is he who hath a part in han when they commenced the business, just above high water mark, where the female the first resurrection, for over such the second

The letter referred to expresses the belief wby any possible means short of deprivative and save with the first solution of all advantages of school other society, prevent them from being the deprivative of the society, prevent them from being the deprivative of the society, prevent them from being the deprivative of the society, prevent them from being the deprivative of the society of the same hole, for a dozen eggs the other, which truth never sanctioned; the society of the same hole, for a dozen eggs the other, which truth never sanctioned; and the society of the same hole, for a dozen eggs the other, which truth never sanctioned; and the society of the same hole, for a dozen eggs the other, which truth never sanctioned; and the society of the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the society of the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the other, and save the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the same spot to lay apathetic on one hand; while, on the same spot to lay apathetic on o rally prepares the way for alcoholic stim the bird to contain more than one fully dethe resurrection of these mortal frames as veloced erg at the same time. calculated to draw the attention from Him Every year the natives come for 50 miles who is the resurrection and the life, and to clored Baptists of Georgia are about en each one completely fills an ordinary tea cup, ened in the doctrine of resurrection, is a After the eggs are deposited in the sand pamphlet on this subject by C. W. Harvey, of polity. The new organization is to be they are no further cared for by the mother. Quakervale, Kansas, showing by quotations is the "Artican Baptist Missionary Epis". The young birds on breaking the shell, work from several of the early writers in our Soliding Elders, and the Universal States. It is not to the forest. They can fly the very views which have been adopted by some of day they are batched. Some eggs were taken their way up through the saud and run off ciety, that they did not hold the outward have personally some of day they are batched. Some eggs were taken their successors in religious profession; and the proposes.—The Episcopal Recorder of board a schooner, hatched during the contending, that the resurrection refers pricing the contending the contending that the resurrection refers pricing the contending that the resurrection refers pricing the contending the contending the contending the contending that the resurrection refers pricing the contending th the corner-stone was recently laid in readily across the cabin. - Wallace's Malay a state of grace, in which the true Christian is born again of the incorruptible Seed and Conjugal Affection in a Teal .- A writer in Word of God, receives Christ's heavenly image, ing. The raising of a curtain revealed Science Gossip had been duck-shooting, and and becomes spiritual in the clothing of his ap Palmer" (named after the pastor of had just shot a mallard, when a couple of teal Spirit; and, next, to the ascension into glory pogregation), and thirty-two "attractive sprang up, alarmed at the report. of the soul after the death of the outward ug ladies" who in the atrical fashion acted "The duck being the nearest, received the frame. The idea that these outward material bodies shall be again raised from the dead, are matter for much serious thoughtfulness and appre- police aid to serve summonses on the croften and that the Scripture passages which speak hension to all true lovers of our country. of the resurrection refer to this, the author, of the resurrection refer to this, the author, in common with our early Friends, rejects as a gross and carnal belief.

$1,000,186, against $853,665 during 1881. The net revenue of the office during the year was $325,000. The Spanish-American Claims Commission, after a a gross and carnal belief.

Those who are disposed to perplex themselves with considering "how and with what body are the dead raised?" may profitably rebody are the dead raised?—may proutably re-flect on the following advice given by George—The arrivals at New York from foreign ports, during Whitehead:

"The question is not only unlearned, but impertinent, and unnecessary unto salvation. It is not necessary that men should imagine how they shall be elothed, or accommodated with bodies in heaven; but to inquire the way thither, that they may walk in it, and be solicitous to know that power and inward dirry years. A number of sleighs, "the first ever operation, whereby they may be made sons of God, and attain to the resurrection of the of God, and attain to the resurrection of the dead, as being children of God, and of the resurrection. "If men walk in the true light, and so truly serve and please God on earth, they shall not need to doubt or dispute about their future beings in heaven. Their business is to get there.'

Penn's Treaty, by Charles S. Keyser. This little work contains an account of the great handsome profit. Treaty of amity made in 1682, between William Penn and the Indians, in which they agreed to live together as brethren, "while the creeks and rivers run, and while the sun, moon and stars endure."

It also enumerates the various treaties made with the Indians for the purchase of 168,799, showing a large surplus of assets over liabililands during the Proprietorship of the Penn family and subsequently; and sums up the evidence from written documents, and concurrent traditions which satisfactorily establish the truth of the current opinions respecting the treaty of 1682, and the attendant circumstances.

The book is published by David McKay, No. 23 South Ninth St., Philada.

Kindergarten Homes is the title of a small price or demand; sales of middlings are reported at 10\$ book by E. Thompson, advocating the policy of gathering up the infants in our great cities, who are without suitable care-takers, and placing them on farms in the rural sections of the country, where they may be properly developed and trained to labor, under healthy influences, both physical and moral.

In reading the work, the practical difficulty that presents in carrying out the scheme, is, jected. Rye is nominal at 64 a 67 cts. per bushel, to find a body of care-takers imbued with Corn is quiet and irregular. Sales of 7000 bushels in to find a body of care-takers imbued with sufficient zeal, patience, skill and love, to meet

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES .- In the U. S. Senate, on the 28th ult., the Civil Service bill was passed by a vote of 39 to 5. On the 29th, the bill to prevent political assessments, reported by the Judiciary Committee, was taken up and discussed. It passed finally without amend- tinghamshire and Leicestershire. ment.

reported in the newspapers. A telegram from New Orleans says the Christmas holiday "was probably the to have been killed and fifty others injured, mostly most disorderly and disgraceful ever observed" in that women and children. The total damage is estimated The authorities made little effort to suppress the disy. The authorities make title control suppress the account. Account over persons are innovation of the disorders. At Atlanta, Georgia, several marders oc-playment, eight mills having flue connections with the curred, and many cases of violence, 125 persons being demolfshed chimney, being brought to a standstill. lodged in the station-house in ten hours. These events! Lord MacDonald has withdrawn the application for

The receipts of the Patent Office during the year were

sion of more than twelve years, ended its labors last week. It decided the seven cases, involving $12,000,-000, which were considered by two umpires, and re-

1882, numbered 6476, including 1945 steamers. The total product of the Leadville mines for 1882 is reported at $18,220,893, which is $5,050,317 more than in 1881.

During the eleven mouths which ended on 11th mo. 30th, the Wabash Railroad system earned $2,280,000 more than that during the corresponding period of 1881. Snow fell to the depth of five inches at San Francisco

a snow fall of one to eight inches

a show fair of other to eight mones.

The United States steamer Enterprise, Commander Barker, sailed on the 27th nlt. from Norfolk, Virginia, for Cape Verde Islands and China. She has an outfit apparatus necessary for a scientific cruise, and will take deep sea soundings every 100 miles from the United States to Cape Town.

It is announced that, owing to the high price of oats, thither, and God will accommodate them the three oat mills of Douglas, Stuart and Forrest, in mission it goes under the auspices of the Minis Cedar Rapids, Chicago and Oregon, Illinois, will be closed until the market becomes better. These mills excess of any heretofore produced, and is yielding a

The Great Dismal Swamp in Virginia is passing Much of the area has been reclaimed and conaway. Much of the area has verted into good tillage land.

1883, will be $864,750, $715,000 of which is in four per cent, bonds. The total State investments foot up $1,-The receipts of the State for the past year have been $141,238.19, and the disbursements $94,259.24,

The deaths in this city last week numbered 390, mated that fully fifty persons perished. which was 23 less than the previous week, and 24 less than for the same week last year. the number of males was 193, of females 197: deaths from consumption 42; from pneumonia 41; from diphtheria 27; from old age gress and freedom, and was now assuming an hon 18; from marasmus, 15; from typhoid fever 12; from place among the educated races of Europe. These small pox, 10.

Markets, &c.—U. S. 3's, registered, 103\frac{3}{4}; 3\frac{1}{2}'s, registered, 103\frac{1}{2}; 4\frac{1}{2}'s, registered and compon, 113\frac{1}{4}; 4's registered, 1194; compon, 1204; currency 6°s, 129 a 132. Ith former republic having been flogged and impr Cotton—There was no essential change to notice in by the latter. This punishment was inflicted by price or demand; sales of middlings are reported at 10g of the sympathy exhibited by the Colombians wi

Petroleum.-Standard white, 7 a 71 cts, for export, and 8 a 81 cts, per gallon for home use.

Flour is quiet but steady; sales of 1400 barrels, in-From Fequet out steady; sales of 1400 barrels, in-pottsm, cluding Minnesota extras, at $5 a $5.75; Pennsylvania feeling, family at $4.60 a $4.75; western do, at $4.75 a $5.50, and patents at $6 a $7. Rye flour is dull at $3.75 a $3.87\frac{1}{2} per barrel.

Grain.-Wheat is quiet and steady. Small sales of red in car lots at $1.04 a $1.10, and $1 a $1.03 for relots, at 50 a 70 cts. as to quality, 12th month, sold at 76 a 78 cts. Outs are dull and unchanged. Sales of 8000 at 18 cts. Outs are dun and meaningen. Since to outside the demands upon them which the system requires.

at 18 cts. Outs are dun and meaningen. Since to outside the demands upon them which the system requires.

Hay and Straw Market, for week ending 12th mo.

All 182 — Loads of hay, 35; loads of straw, 70.

Average price during the week—Prime through, 90 cts.

On the morning of the 28th of 12th month, at Brad-On and about the 25th of last month, an unusually ford, a tall chimney fell upon a biilding full of opera-large number of cases of crime and violence have been tives. It had been known for some time to have been in an unsafe condition. Thirty-six persons are known at £60,000. About 3000 persons are thrown out of employment, eight mills having flue connections with the

Isle of Skye, an understanding having been read On an average one hundred persons are s nightly in Dublin under the Curfew clause of the

The acting Governor of Iceland, the Bishop ar persons of note, in a communication to the To that, notwithstanding the large donations the been received, there must be great distress fr want of food in the island during the present wi Her majesty's ship Undine has captured eigh dhows off the Comoro Islands on the east coast of Leon Gambetta, the great French statesman, his residence at Ville de Avray, on the morning 1st instant. The physicians state that his der due to pyemia, the result of suppressed erysipel; had suffered from an intestinal abscess, which lieved to have discharged internally. A profou sation has been made in France by the event.

There has been a renewal of the floods in parts of France. The Seine rose, and several stage Lyons were submerged. The Ain overflowed its The city of Besancon has suffered much damage Lisieux was inundated.

The report of the Committee on De Brazza's M states that he considers it possible to complete t ploration of the Upper Congo in two years. De B object is to maintain the position already achie founding eight chief and twelve minor stations ing a chain to Brazzaville from Gaboon and fro sea. In order to mark the pacific character

Foreign Affairs and Public Instruction. A telegram from the Spanish Consul at Suez, nee 20,000 bushels of oats per day.

The cane crop of Mississippi is this year largely in Medina. There are ten deaths daily from the day.

at Medina. On the 28th ultimo, the Rhine and its trib from the Lake of Constance to Cologne, rose ra Many bridges and banks of dams have been dest verted into good tillage land.

A bridge near Lorrach, in Baden, gave way, says that the total debt of the State on First mo. 1st, its banks at Passau, and the Danube was overflown. Upper Austria. At Worms the Hammel dyke Rhine burst, flooding the lower part of the town. way travel from Frankfort-on-the-Main to Wie was interrupted, owing to the inundation of the The next day the flood subsided. It

> King Milan, of Servia, replying to an addre ented to him by the Skuptschina, said that sinc Servia had passed through a gigantic struggle f has created a favorable impression.

Serious diplomatic trouble appears likely to 4's between Colombia and Ecuador, owing to citiz revolution headed by Eloy Alfaro. The Ecuar Dictator has few friends among right-thinking w that in the districts where he exercises militar potism, he endeavors to suppress any express.

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL.

The Committee in charge of this Institution will in Philadelphia on the 5th day of the First m 1883, at 11 A. M.

The Committee on Instruction and the Comon Admissions meet the same day, at 9 A. M.
Wm. Evans, Co

DIED, on the 30th of 11th month, 1882, at the dence of her son-in-law, Isaac Leeds, near Moore N. J., SUSAN POWELL, in the 88th year of her Average price curing the week—Frame timothy, 39 ets. 18.3., cessal Toward, in the estin year of the St per 100 pounds; mixed, 85 to 95 cts. per 100 pounds; straw, 70 to 80 cts. per 100 pounds; straw, 70 to 80 cts. per 100 pounds. FOREIGN.—A recent radiall has caused floods in the midland counties of England. There is great mortality of the Prother, Oliver S. Negas, of Colerain, among the focks of sheep in Northamptonshire, Not. [RACHEL MEXCE, in the 280 per of the rage.] a member of Short Creek Monthly, and Concorticular Meeting of Friends. Her relatives and fi have a well-grounded hope that, through ad-mercy, her end was pear —, on the 8th of 12th month, 1882, REI ROBERTS, daughter of the late David and Rach Roberts, in the 56th year of her age, a beloved moof Chester Monthly Meeting, New Jersey.

> WILLIAM H. PILE, PRINTER, No. 422 Walnut Street.

FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

DL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, FIRST MONTH 13, 1883.

NO. 23.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

f paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON Moorestown, Burlington Co., N. J.

ns, payments and business communications, received JOHN S. STOKES,

O. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend."

A Trip Through St. Gotthard. (Concluded from page 171.)

wof the gorge below, and 3,250 feet of the lines the sea. The train now runs for some "All that ace along the mountain side and we command a view of part of the line raversed and lying far, far below. Oprises the Rienzee-stock, nearly 10,000 enen, 60 miles on our way and are 3,-

The train is again ever around us, to thrust itself between us more cautiously let down by two circular or and the face of dear mother Nature. loop-tunnels, and by lofty bridges and tunnel Rain at length came and drove us south

after tunnel, now to emerge in the midst of ward, and we sought the shortest and by far the defile of Prato and its imposing scenery, the least fatiguing, and we must add, the

"All that exalts the spirit and appals Gather around these summits, as to show How earth may pierce to Heaven, Yet leave vain man below."

re here brought face to face with the To describe the scene-a succession of grand under their control in Rome alone, and cantern mouth of the mightiest gap pre and imposing views and properly to set forth not but exert an influence adverse to the deermitted to forget that he, like the loco-sketch, no peneil paint what we saw on that at vast expense—is macadamized throughe that has lifted him aloft, needs a sup- day of days ever to be remembered. We out-provided with retreats from storm and fuel, even though he may have become crossed at a most favored season—the early avalanche, and winding by many a doubling t oblivious of the demands of nature snow had fallen, and each towering summit turn up the acclivities of the mountain, to revelling amid the impressively grand was brilliant with its crown of white. The the lowest pass, more than a mile above the bsorbingly beautiful. Again in motion, lower heights clad in firs, were sprinkled with sea, to descend by many an equally labored pheit. The infrequent lamps seemed after rapid travel, and had revelled in the love-drawing to a close, if not already ended, and augment the gloom, and we were glad liness of its charming scenery. Here we it is said that it will be abandoned. But for erge into day at Airolo, in the upper had been favored with mild Autumn weather all that the tourist in search of the pictur-Valley, on our now descending course. and clear skies, and drank deeply of the esque and sublime mountain scenery, has lost cenery here is still of an Alpine char-beauty and the glory of snow-covered peak by his transfer to the rail, he has been perbut as we proceed, the influence of the and verdant meadow—a contrast unknown haps doubly repaid, not alone by the increased to summer visitors—while the colors of the comfort with which the passage is traversed, are still around us, some rising two changing foliage, the varied yellows and but by the added pleasure derived from the in height, and numerous villages hang bright and sombre brown, combine to render contemplation of scenery that must far exthe mountain terraces. Down its the panorama far more attractive than dureced any that the old road could disclose, the impetuous Ticino plunges in a ing the popular season of abounding travel, higher though it ascended. In a few places, of cataracts, and many a thread of sil-To add to this, we were almost alone—no such as the Devil's bridge, the traveller treaks the lofty mountain side as its jostling throng of pleasure seekers—no looked down into awful gorges or wound br affluents seek by easiest mode, to join gathering as to a world's convention was along the brink of fearful precipices, or gazed and by another spiral tunnel a mile long and most charming of roads to Italy. The old 112 feet in descent, and we look out upon the road over St. Gotthard was long a favorite beautiful Vale of Faido and its luxuriant diligence route, and bore the traveller over southern vegetation. We have not escaped the famous pass upwards of 6,000 feet above from tunnels, which hide many a bit of scen- the sea. The Hospital near the summit has ery, but the fine fall of an affluent of the long been famous, and upwards of 30,000, Ticino and the picturesque gorge are open to it is said, have annually dined with the monks our view, and we are let down to the lower who passed their lives in these Alpine revalley by the kindly aid of two contiguous treats, shut out from the world during several spiral tunnels, while there again follow in months of each year, and letting in the life quick succession other tunnels, one nearly a of the outside world only when the gay e at Wasen a remarkable appearance mile long, and we have reached the lower throng of pleasure seekers looked in, famishsits. We have wound about the hill on zone of Valle Leventina and are 90 miles on ed and with keen mountain appetite, and too t stands, doubling upon our track, our winding and wondrous way. Crossing often partook of their hospitality without a brough a spiral tunnel, now at a lotty the Ticino again and again, often close to the requital. "But we have changed all that," t in open day, that we seem to have richly cultivated slope of the mountains, we and what has not steam revolutionized? no progress but to be perpetually refurther on skirt the foot of numerous precip- Even the papal power, that sought to bar its reg around the little church of Wasen as itous walls, that rise in solemn grandeur to States from the outside world, dreading the unknown heights. These masses of black light, has been assailed by steam, and the of view. Now we run northward and and greenish chloritic slates are frowning and strong barriers that ignorance and bigotry. the imposing bridge 260 feet high, and impressive, and we were glad to bid farewell had built by means of rigid police regulations as spiral tunnel 1,200 yards to mountains that had almost overpowered tions, have been swept away never again to us by their awful grandeur and sublimity. Be revived. And happily the Popedom has creass for the third time with a fine Never before did we so fully realize the force been smitten and driven to the wall, and left a mere wreek of its once proud domination, while it gnashes its teeth against the spread of light and truth through the press, the public schools, and the growing number of Protestant churches, and the rising influence of the I can truly say that the passage of the Waldenses they sought in vain for centuries and in a snow-storm we have arrived at Alps by the St. Gotthard railway awakens to destroy, by every diabolic act so well enen, 60 miles on our way and are 3, our sense of the sublime beyond anything known to the representatives of anti-Christ, set further from the level of the sea, that we have elsewhere known in Europe. The Waldenses, it is said, have fifty schools thous man has dared to make into the the impression made thereby, are utterly be basing and defiling forces of Romanism. But yound the power of my hand. The pass must I digress. The fine old diligence road over tunnel is before us. The traveller is be made to be comprehended. No pen can the St. Gotthard was built by the cantons the temperature rather oppressive, ristite descriptions and support the temperature rather oppressive, ristite does, despite the depressing effects passed a week beside the Lake of the Four dowed with a just perception of the sublime ventilating apparatus, as high as 75° Forest Cantons—beautiful Lucerne—resting and beautiful. But its day of usefulness is the control of the sublime of the subli upward to giddy heights, but he who is whirled over this new railway—the most ex successful military chieftains, and hands down inherit the Divine blessing—If the traordinary of roads, unless that built by their names to posterity as worthy of rever- thy gift to the altar, and there reim Meiggs among the Andes of Peru, be not its ence and imitation; but this honor the world that thy brother hath aught again superior in remantic and daring grandeur of sometimes bestows upon those in whom the leave there thy gift before the alt is execution—is treated to a succession of survives that stagger his comprehension while very instruments that have been permitted and then come and offer thy gift.' he they bring perpetually recurring delight, to scourge large portions of the human family of war is not in accordance with the More especially is this his good fortune should with desolation and destruction. American ladies present, and aid of the world. guard, permitted to depart to another quarter, where we might kindly hope he was, for fare are not carnal, nevertheless they are members of the Society of Friendly a time at least, hermetically scaled.

Florence, Italy, 11th mo. 29th, 1882.

For "The Friend," Reflections on War.

ago, bearing date the 1st month of 1843.

satisfy a military demand. This proceeding and can control events accordingly. And quillity and peace, did they but kee created considerable inconvenience, beside the would our merciful Lord and Saviour have vine law, and trust in his name." loss of my grain, all of which I endeavored to given us a law which it is not right and safe bear patiently; for if our property is sacri-for us to obey? Would He have commanded ficed for bearing our testimony against war, us to love our neighbor as ourselves, and even we certainly are suffering in a good cause, to love our enemies, to return good for evil, stroying angel, has here and there p no less than the promotion of peace on earth, do good to them that hate us, and pray for some of the most fragile and evanesce and good will to men. The sacrificing of our them that despitefully use us and persecute to remain, as silent memorials of property for military demands seems to be us; would He have commanded this, and generations. Not least among these the only lawful remnant of persecution to abundance of other precepts of similar import, ancient life and thought, are the of which Friends are now subjected. Our early did He design that they need not be obeyed? wall-scribblings, mostly scratched family!

The sword of Christian love is more powereffectual in composing differences. Peace pro- afflict us, it is our duty to endeavor to suffer to bring some of the most curious eured by this effective weapon (which is opposite to carnal) is generally satisfactory and lasting. By the sworl of violence apparent the Divine law under the new dispensation. Use the Divine law under the new dispensation. They are destructive to brotherly kindness twenty centuries old, the thoughtles of enmity is only smothering, and is easily and charity; and, it is said, that we cannot boy's scrawls, the love-sick gallant's d fanned to flame whenever the prospect of suc- love God and hate our brother at the same or the caricature of some friend, foe, cessful opposition looks flattering.

The world bestows its highest praises on is not to be disregarded, if we ever a he make the transit late in the season of the military system, although by many it the advancement of the Redeemer's travel when the early snow has sent its tribis viewed as honorable and glorious, is not while we are promoting that which bute to crown with added glory the already only fertile in the production of human misery, controversy is against. May the dimpressive grandeur, and he is permitted to and destructive to the welfare of multitudes tened when 'swords shall be beat in gaze from the window of his car unimpeded of the human family, but is manifestly at vari-shares, and spears into pruning ho by the opposition of boorish and uncompromising German commercial travellers, who pel. The Christian soldier labors for the good prefer to stew in the stifling atmosphere of a of souls, visits the widow and fatherless in Under the Jewish dispensation, very crowded apartment rather than permit their their afflictions, and keeps himself unspotted some circumstances was permitted b freedom-loving and free-breathing fellow- from the world; and, in the great day of final and many other things that were travellers to catch one glimpse of the grand-decision, when all must appear before the to the Jews, are annulled or reject eur of the mountains. But we were favored judgment seat of Christ, He will be among gospel dispensation. There is seat to out vote the robust and thickly bewrapped those to whom it will be said, 'Come ye precept of the New Testament, set German who was the bete noire of the party, blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom plainer terms, than that which in and he was by advice of the English and prepared for you from the foundation of the forbids the use of carnal weapons

The weapons of the true Christian's warmighty. It may be asked, what would be victims to the wrath of man, were come of our country if all its inhabitants were took up arms and trusted in their or principled against war? And it may be feared and power for protection. When it that the enemy would soon overrun us with dangers threatened on every hand devastation and plunder. But trusting in mighty provided a way for the saf Kellettons on War.

carnal weapons rather than in obedience to trusting and obedient children, whe These memoranda were written many years | Divine precepts, certainly betrays a want of was seen by the art of man. In B , bearing date the 1st month of 1843. confidence in that Almighty power that has only sure place of refuge, and dou The collector seized some of my grain to unlimited dominion in heaven and in earth, would preserve mankind generally predecessors and forefathers in the Truth suf- Armies have sometimes been victorious, pointed instrument, or made with h fered much for their constant and unflinching and in erring human estimation have achieved or charcoal. They are found upon the opposition to the encouragement of war. By much good; but this is no evidence that the mausoleums and temples of Egypt their faithfulness and firmness, much relief system of war, or those that are willing to association with the mysterious ins has been purchased for us. The office of col carry it into active operation in spirit or practupon the rocks of Sinai, upon the lector has now become generally burthen-tice, are approved in the Divine sight. Can Jerusalem, and within and around t some; demands are exacted with reluctance; a thoughtful man conscientiously take up bers of ghostly Pompeii; while oth some of the agents seem ashamed of their carnal weapons under the dispensation set been brought to light within the arc employment; rigorous proceedings are ex- forth in the New Testament, professing to Eternal City. Plautus, Pliny, and tremely rare; and in some sections of our live under the influence of gospel light and phanes each refer to the practice country Friends are entirely exempt from power, having such a law for his outward rule scribbling. Lucian mentions that, in military exactions in time of peace. Thus and guide; and in connection with it acknowl inscriptions covered the western has teleration been gaining ground; thus has edging subjection to the guidance of that Athens; and Plutarch informs us prejudice become diminished, our scruples spirit which cannot contradictitself, and which berius Gracchus was chiefly aidet against wielding carnal weapons are looked moved the inspired penmen to set forth the agrarian scheme by proclamations of upon with allowance, and warlike sentiments.

Divino law with the rewards for faithfulness upon the monuments, pillars, and I seem to be fading before the light of Truth.

May the good work go on and prosper, until penalties for disobedience? The Lord can

These scrawls, which are of all ago that peaceable spirit which the gospel breathes protect us in our defenceless condition, if con- no little interest to the antiquary shall prevade the bosoms of the whole human sistent with his Divine will; and if it is not, student of human nature. Those o no skill, or might, or power of our own will range from an extremely early time save us; our safety consists in obeying the of the Khedive; but as the graffiti of ful than the sword of violence, and more law of the Lord, and if He permits man to far more worthy of consideration, we time. The emphatic language of our Saviour lar favorite, are still as clear as thou the gospel. We cannot be instruct mises approval to the forgiving and b

In the great rebellion of Ireland

Graffiti or Wall-Scribblings.

Despite his withering touch, Tim

w of these inscriptions are not strictly of sleep, Lares!) prtance, yet still they are very suggestive The tavern graffiti are also curious, and mostly in the Oscan tongue. These sup- advertisement of one Varius: vidence that Pompeii must have been an Dscan or Samnite city, because this lanre was certainly in use during the second ury before the Christian era, particularly near to that on which the city was en- that sum will be given.' juded by the falling ashes. In a few cases, ne walls of Pompeii bear some inscriptions ch are simply names; but sometimes there epithet attached, which is either comentary or the reverse. We select a few : i Embolari, Fur Furuncule (Oppins, balleter, thief and pilferer!). One speaks of eep-faced Lygnus, strutting about like a us non es (O Epaphras, thou art no tennis- a mill, accompanied by the words: er). Possibly this last graffito may refer to same person before mentioned; a friendly I has, however, drawn a line through the That is: sive remark; but it is none the less legi-Others appear to be no more than the abetical exercises of school-children, for are evidently the work of juvenile hands. ethe, the slave of Cominia, loves Chrestus h all her heart.

'he virtues and vices of certain individuals here and there lightly revealed. The two owing may suffice:

Semper M. Tenentius Eudoxsus Unus sustenet Amicos et tenet Et tutat sustenet omni modo, ich is to this effect:

M. Tenentius Endoxus, even alone, always Upholds his friends and keeps them, And defends and upholds them in every way. other, evidently not wishing the housethe by an idler of yesterday. Although invokes them: Ite, Lares, dormitu (Begone to he humors, vulgarities, and vices of old somewhat amusing. A sufferer from internal an life. Some are memoranda of domestic drought thus earnestly appeals: Suavisvinaria, usactions; one telling us, for instance, how sitit; valde rogo, sitit (Dear landlady, he is by tunies were sent to the wash; another, thirsty; I earnestly entient you, he is thirsty). a donkey was born; while a third in-Another asks for more drink: Adde calicem is the reader that "on the 25th of July," setinum (Give one cup more of wine). On a Doris and Heracle prepare thread for the hundred pounds of hog's-lard and two jar, the words Liquamen optimum (First-rate lred bunches of garlic were either bought liquor) have been found. In one case, cusold. On the interior wall of a tavern may tomers are invited by the following notice ead the words, Sodales, Avete (Welcome, affixed to a street corner, somewhat after the Damalis. The coat of whitewash having manner of modern advertising: Adeas taberod off in some places, disclosed graffiti of nam Liani; ad dexteram (Visit the inn of graffiti, there are two more which can scarcely the older date with archaic forms of spell- Lianus; turn to the right). Here also is the be passed over in silence. One who had evi-ampania; for not only at that time, but The rendering of which is: "A wine jar is ng the Social War (91 B. C.), the coins of lost from the inn; if any one bring it back, allies bore Oscan inscriptions. A few of there shall be given to him sixty-five sesterces; e writings, moreover, clearly have a date if any one bring the thief who took it, double

> Urna vinaria periit de taberna; Sei eam quis retulerit, dabuntur h.s. lxv; sei furem qui abduxerit, dabitur Duplum a Vario.

On the wall of a tavern there is a rude Latin language is used, but written in sketch of a customer holding out his cup and asking: Da fridam (or frigidum) pusillum

(Give a little ice-water.)

Others of a metrical type might here be mentioned, but for the exigencies of space; we pass on, therefore, to a brief review of another type of graffiti-the caricatures. Many of these are cleverly drawn, and, as might be expected, the comic element predominates. ock, and giving himself airs on the In connection with his valuable work, Graffiti ngth of his good looks." Another ex-di Pompeii, Garrucei admirably reproduces in ns: Epaphra, glaber es (O Epaphras, thou fac-simile these caricatures, together with the oald); Rusticus est Corydon (Corydon is a various inscriptions before mentioned. One n, or country bumpkin); Epaphra Pili- of these represents an ass engaged in turning appeal is thus worded: "Scribbler, I pray

> Labora, aselle, quomodo ego laboravi, Et proderit tibi

Labor, O ass, as I have labored, And it will profit thee.

peculiar interest, not only to the general acclamations for, or to, friends and relations, a large number of the graffiti are of an reader, but to the antiquary, as throwing light living or dead; and lastly, invocations of the rous character. The tender passion, and upon several disputed questions. Those to martyrs upon whose graves they are written. protean changes to which it has ever been which we here especially refer represent glad- As may be supposed, these graffiti are of all e, here stand revealed as vividly as though liatorial combats after a rude fashion. They ages. Those which mostly contain only names, idlers who were the subjects of it were are rather numerous, and are drawn with testify to the multitudes of all countries who, in "this breathing world." One is very much spirit. In one case, a figure is repre- as is still the practice, came to visit these thing in its simplicity and suggestiveness, sented as about to east a net over his adver-shrines of the martyrs; and strangely enough, hin the conventional outline of a heart, is sary; while another caricature appears to be a some of these names are scrawled in rather word Psyche (my life); while another ex-light between a Mirmillo (a kind of gladiator) inaccessible places. The plaster walls of the ms: Suavis Amor (Love is sweet); in a and a Samnite. A third is evidently a Samnite vestibule of the cemetery of St. Callixtus, one d, a disappointed lover thus expresses with a large helmet and shield; at his side of the chief catacombs, are covered with self: Vale, mea Sava; fac me ames (Fare-the number of his victories (xxxii.) may be grafiti of this class. l, my Sava; try to love me); while one of seen inclosed between a palm-branch and a gentler sex is said to love "Casuntius." chaplet. Under one of these sketches we the other hand, devout and affectionate learn that Spiculus Neronianus, "a tiro," en-great Edmund Burke had been making one of gaged in mortal combat with the freedman his powerful speeches in Parliament, his Aptonetus, who had been victor in sixteen brother Richard was found sitting silent in such encounters; but tyro as he was, he slew reverie; and when asked by a friend what he his opponent. Again, the electioneering in- was thinking about, he replied: "I have been scriptions of Pompeii would not unfavorably wondering how Ned has contrived to monopocompare with like placards of modern times. lize all the talents of our family. But then I They are very terse (in abbreviated Latin) remember that when we were doing nothing and to the point; thus, one appeals to the or at play, he was always at work." And the Pilicrepi or ball-players to "elect as ædile force of the anecdote is increased by the fact Aulus Vettius Firmus, a man worthy of the that Richard Burke was always considered, republic;" while another is to this effect: by those who knew him best, to be superior "Philippus heseeches you to create M. Hol- in natural talent to his brother; yet the one

"The scribe Issus requests you to support M. Cerrinius Vatia as ædile. He is worthy. Those of domestic character are few. On the wall of a corner-house in the Street of Fortune is a record, seemingly traced by some thrifty housewife, of the spinning tasks assigned to each of the female slaves. The quality and weight of the wool are likewise portioned out. warp, and Januaria and Lalagia (or Lalage) for the woof. The other names are Vitalis, Florentia, Amaryllis, Maria, Cerursa, and

In concluding this sketch of the Pompeian dently heard of the fate of the neighboring city, wrote the simple but impressive cjaculation: Herculaneum, Herculaneum! (O Herculaneum! O Herculaneum!). Little thought the scribbler that a like fate was soon to overtake his own city of pleasure. The other expresses a kindly hope for many happy new vears: Januarias nobis felices multis annis.

The graffiti of Rome and its vicinity are. with but one exception, not of such interest as the above mentioned. They are found in tombs on the Via Latina, among the remains of Nero's Golden House, and in the substructures of the palace of the Cæsars. But in the Catacombs they are most numerous, especially in those of St. Agnese and St. Callixtus. The words Cave, viator (Beware, traveller) were frequently attached to the epitaphs on the Roman tombs by the wayside; the object being to warn scribblers and those who would pollute or injure these resting-places of the dead. To these cautions was added sometimes an imprecation on any who should injure or dishonor the monument. One silent you pass by this monument." And another: Scriptor, parce hoc opus (Scribbler, spare this work).

The inscriptions in the Catacombs are of three classes: first, mere names of persons, with the occasional addition of their titles; Some of these scrawls are, however, of second, pious wishes, prayers, greetings or Work if you Would Rise .- Soon after the conius Priscus a decemvir of justice (that is, rose to greatness, while the other lived and d gods (Lares) to witness his deeds, thus a justice of the peace). A third runs thus died in comparative obscurity. The lesson to gent; improve your time; work. "Seest thou as a token of respect, by persons one to an large of the seest had been of the seest of the not stand before," that is, shall not be ranked emblem of that divine honor which all ought surprised to hear such language from on with, "mean men."

For " The Friend,"

Gleanings from Quaker Annals.

History of the Life of Thomas Ellwood, Written by Himself" :- "I was now required by this inward and spiritual law, 'the law of the from it. Spirit of life in Christ Jesus,' to 'put away the evil of my doings,' and to cease to do evil.' speaking in the plural number to a single No wonder our young Friends in Lyn And what, in particulars, the evil was which I person, you to one, instead of thou, contrary losing ground, when we see our older was required to put away, and to cease from, to the pure, plain, and single language of leaving our testimonies, and long-estable that measure of the divine light, which was Truth, thou to one, and you to more than rules and land-marks, dress and address now manifested in me discovered to me; and one, which had always been used by God to mention this because I went out in dres what the light made manifest to be evil, men, and men to God, as well as one to an-in language. I was sorely whipped for judgment passed upon.

plain way; so plain, that a way-faring man, the corrupt nature in men, brought in that would not do so any more. I have kep how weak and simple soever, though a fool false and senseless way of speaking you to promise. I am now 71 years old, and to the wisdom, and in the judgment of the one; which bath since corrupted the modern no inclination to try it any more, the world, could not err, while he continued to languages, and hath greatly debased the there is a good deal of temptation laid b walk in it; the error coming in by his going spirits, and depraved the manners of men. Here, Somesay there is nothing in these th out of it. And this way with respect to me, This evil custom I had been as forward in as Why, then, was the woman commande I saw was that measure of divine light which others, and this I was now called out of, and she was, to let her adorning be the hi was manifested in me, by which the evil of required to cease from.
my doings, which I was to put away and These, and many more evil customs, which my doings, which I was to put away and cease from, was discovered to me.

civil education, been preserved out of those ness against."-Friends' Library, vol. 7. pp. Lord help me to stand for thee as a signgrosser evils; yet I had many other evils to 353-4. put away, and to cease from; some of which were not, by the world which lies in wickedness, accounted evils; but by the light of Christ were made manifest to me to be evils, and as such condemned in me.

As particularly, those fruits and effects of pride, that discover themselves in the vanity and superfluity of apparel; which I, as far as my ability would extend to, took alas! too much delight in. This evil of my doings, I was required to put away and cease from; line of patriarchs, prophets, and believers of and judgment lay upon me till I did so. Wherefore in obedience to the inward law, which agreed with the outward, 1 Tim. ii. 9 Pet. iii. 3; 1 Tim. vi. 8; Jam. i. 21, I took off from my apparel those unnecessary trim-mings of lace, ribbons and useless buttons, which had no real service, but were set only for that which was, by mistake, called ornament, and I ceased to wear rings.

Again, the giving of flattering titles to men, between whom and me there was not any relation, to which such titles could be pretended to belong. This was an evil I had been much addicted to, and was accounted a ready artist in it; therefore this also was I required to put away and cease from. So that thence forward I durst not say sir, master, my lord, if He please to make use of any of us as inmadam (or my dame) or say your servant, struments in his hand;—and that our eye to any one to whom I did not stand in the may be unto Him, and so abide faithful unto real relation of a servant; which I had never done to any.

Again, respect of persons, in uncovering the head, and bowing the knee or body in salutations, was a practice I had been much in the use of. This is one of the vain customs fully submitting. Great part of the many of the world, introduced by the spirit of the bitter pills and potions is greatly owing to world, instead of the true honor, of which this want of resignation .- J. Scott.

all is: If you would succeed in life, be dili- is a false representation, and used in deceit, to pay to Almighty God, and which all, of all professed to be a Friend, advocating, sorts, who take upon them the Christian did, employing some one to lead in meet name, appear in when they offer their prayers and who should receive a regular si to Him, and therefore should not be given to This is what our early Friends prot The following selection is taken from "The men. I found this to be one of those evils against. We do not call on man to pu which I had been too long doing, therefore I over us. We want men and women that was now required to put it away, and cease ealls—not man. If we depend on educa-judgment passed upon.

other, from the oldest record of time, till corSe that here began to be a way cast up rupt men, for corrupt ends, in later and corSe to that here began to be a way cast up rupt men, for corrupt ends, in later and corSe to that here began to be a way cast up rupt mens, to flatter, fawn, and work upon Father in Heaven, if He would forgive i had sprung up in the night of darkness, and that will not see; none so deaf as those By this divine light then I saw, that though general apostacy from the Truth and true will not hear what the Father says unto the I had not the evil of the common unclean religion, were now by the inshining of this I thank the Lord I heeded while your ness, debauchery, profaneness and pollutions pure ray of divine light in my conscience, praise his holy name for touching my left the world to put away, because I had, gradually discovered to me to be what I while young, showing me where I was g through the great goodness of God, and a ought to cease from, shun, and stand a wit- I cannot turn back even if I am left a

" The example of such as have listened, and heard, and answered the eall of the Lord, to give up their hearts to his disposal and direction, that He may work in or by them, altogether according to his own good pleasure, the inviting language, Follow us, as we have go on till we will not be known from followed Christ: they form one link in that world. No wonder our Society has su chain of evidence, in mercy continued down, struggle, and there are so many divis even to us of the present age, through the long amongst us. every degree-that God is most favorably inclined, to draw near and to dwell with all to the Father while reading, and with pre who diligently seek Him,-that He will righly reward them, even in this life, with the lifting up of the light of his countenance,-that derstand the Scriptures aright, is one ret He will dignify all who trust in and obey Him, with the manifestations of his love and power, and even make them, in one way or another, instruments of his glory for the good of souls.

"The Lord God, as He hath begun a good work, will carry it on, if we be but faithful to Him, over all that the enemy or his instru-ments can do to hinder it. Oh! that we may think nothing too dear to part with, for Him; but that we give up all freely to Him, the end; which will be of more value than all the perishing pleasures and transitory enjoyments of this world."

We keep ourselves long complaining by not to lead us in Divine worship, and no Again, the corrupt and unsound form of Spirit of our God, we will be shipwre man of the heart.

Dear ones, there is none so blind as t if nothing else, to point the way, so ot may follow. I will give thee the praise ever.

It is not the plain dress that makes Christian: it is the Lord's work in the recess of the heart that brings the out -most certainly, these examples speak forth right, if heeded. If it is not heeded, we

The Bible should be read by all, old the dear youth, daily, with the mind tur to IIim, to show us the hidden mysteric it. The many educated people that do not why our Society is so torn; and not it al but so it is nearly ail the world over.

It has been my desire that all of us Quak so-called, should get all of the scales from fore us, so that we can see eye to eye, as I directed we should. Then we would see young people overcoming the world, no minishing and falling away.

JOHN MOO:

Emporia, Kansas, 12th mo. 18th, 1882.

In the work of the ministry, it is a bu thing to begin in the life, to move in it, to end in it, to cast anchor in deep water in other words, while there is solemnity the mind and over the meeting. Wha sweetness there is to be felt, and a secret joicing before God; having evidence that have been preserved, not only in standing but also in sitting down! I have known lively testimonies much hurt by over-stand the right time of closing. - Selected.

Selected.

VEVER MIND WHAT "THEY" SAY.

Don't worry nor fret, About what people think Of your ways or your means, Of your food or your drink, If you know you are doing Your best every day, With the right on your side, Never mind what "they" say.

Lay out in the morning Your plans for each hour, And never forget That old time is a power, This also remember, 'Mong truths old and new-The world is too busy To think much of you.

Then garner the minutes That make up the hours, And pluck in your pilgrimage Honor's bright flowers, Should grumblers assnre you Your course will not pay, With conscience at rest Never mind what "they" say.

Then let us, forgetting The insensate throng That jostles us daily While marching along, Press onward and upward, And make no delay-And though they do talk, Never mind what "they" say,

Selected.

HY DAY, SO SHALL THY STRENGTH

When adverse winds and waves arise, And in my heart despondence sighs, And in my heart despondence signs,— When life her spring of cares reveals, And weakness o'er my spirit steals,— Grateful I hear the kind decree, That as my day my "strength shall be."

When with sad footsteps, memory roves Mid smitten joys, and buried loves,-When sleep my tearful pillow flies, And dewy morning drinks my sighs, Still to thy promise, Lord, I flee, That as my day my "strength shall be."

One trial more must yet be passed, One pang,—the keenest, and the last: And when, with brow convulsed and pale, My feeble, quivering heart-strings fail, Redeemer, graot my soul to see That as her day her "strength shall be."

Lydia H. Sigourney.

Selected

THE UNNOTICED BOUND.

In, passing southward, I may cross the line tween the Arctic and Atlantic oceans, my not tell, by any test of mine, I any startling signs or strange commotions Across my track.

of the days grow sweeter, one by one, od e'en the icebergs melt their hardened faces, n sailors linger, basking in the sun, know I must have made the change of places Some distance back!

In answering timidly the Master's call, bassed the bourne of life in coming to Him; 'in im yl ove for Him I gave up all—'te very moment when I thought I knew Him, 'I cappet tell.' I cannot tell.

a as unceasingly I feel His lovethis cold heart is melted to o'erflowing-sow so dear the light comes from above, Ivonder at the change-and move on, knowing That all is well.

ly God, whose tender pity I may claim. Clling thee Father, (sweet endearing name,) e sufferings of this weak and weary frame, All, all are known to thee.'

For "The Friend." Religious Views and Tenets.

iniquity." But are we all fully redeemed? not reach the fountain of sin and corruption Or is there not a large portion of fallen hu-in the heart. He had not the cleansing fan manity who are passing smoothly along in his hand to thoroughly purge the floor of through life, under a sanctimonious covering, the heart. But he left that for Him who was while iniquity still reigns down deep in the to follow after, and "to finish the transgressheart? And there are still perhaps a far sion, and to make an end of sins, and to make larger portion who make no profession of reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in being redeemed. If so, the full object of the gift of God, through Jesus Christ, to save a and to sed up the vision and prophecy contailed words, is not accomplished. If the lust (certing Ilim; and that Christ might be of the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust anointed as the Most Holy, ruling and reignof the eyes, and the pride of life, which the ing in our individual hearts; instead of him apostle says is not of the Father, but of the who now rules and reigns in the hearts of the world that lies in wickedness, is still prevail- children of disobedience. So what we want, ing in the hearts of those who profess redemp- is to be redeemed from all iniquity-to have tion, there is something yet for such to do the works of the devil destroyed-to have an before the victory is fully gained-before the everlasting righteousness brought into the and clamor, and evil speaking" are not put been kindled by an intellectual and emotional away from the heart, and we are not tender-effort, which reaches no deeper than the bap-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God tism of John. And that we know, was a for Christ's sake has forgiven us; then the superficial work, designed only to prepare warfare is not over, the victory is not fully the way of the Lord, and make his paths won. We have need to be dipped again into straight. But what will it avail us to have Jordan; and if even seven times be needed, the way of the Lord prepared and his paths from a land of outward bondage and darkness, there; and thus fail to come to Him "who is towards an outward inheritance; but they the way, the truth and the life," and finally can sing the song also of the Lamb; our miss the crown immortal. from the earth.'

And again it is said, "For this purpose the religious assemblies,—yes, the living and Son of God was manifested, that He might eternal Word, which is a discerner of the destroy the works of the devil." And what thoughts and intents of the heart; and which are the works of the devil, but sin and un- was before man was made; or a word from righteousness? And where is the sin and man ever uttered. But it is the Word through unrighteousness which so troubles the world, which God speaks to man, whether imme-but in the heart of men? And how did it diately or through his chosen servants to his enter the heart but by a willing obedience to church or people. "For the kingdom of God the suggestions of the Evil one? who was a is not in word but in power." And this power liar from the beginning. And must not this will remain when the words of men shall be lying spirit, that caused the separation between man and his Maker, be destroyed be-edge shall vanish away, "But the word of our fore we can be again reunited to Him? And God shall stand forever." And this is the have not sin and unrighteousness, which thus word of faith which the apostles preached entered the heart of man, by his listening to But the word preached, does not profit unless the tempter instead of to God, passed upon it is mixed with faith in them that hear it. all men? If so, do we not all need to be freed "Now of the things which we have spoken, from the bondage of sin? Well, John the Baptist points us to the Lamb of God which It is said of Christ, that He gave himself taketh away the sin of the world, out of the for us "that He might redeem us from all heart. He well knew that his baptism did armor is laid off—belore we are redeemed soul. Not a transient righteousness that from all iniquity. Or, if "all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, to fan up the dying flame which has at times let us submit; saying, the Lord's will be done. made straight, if we do not walk in them? We But if, through the assisting grace of God, must walk in the light, as He is in the light we "have gotten the vistory over the beast," before we can have fellowship one with an-or the beastly nature in all is forms, we can ther, and before we shall witness the blood "stand against all the wiles of the devil." And Jesus Christ to eleanse us from all sin. John although our standing may, at times, seem in was a burning and shining light, but he was comparison, even as critical as on "a sea of not" the true light which lighteth every man glass mingled with fire," yet such can stand; that cometh into the world." The Jews "were and not only stand, but have the harps of willing for a season, to rejoice in his light." God. And they can sing not only the song And we may rejoice in a light which is only of Moses their outward deliverer and leader to prepare the way of the Lord; and stop spiritual deliverer from the bondage of sin, I have often craved that I, with others, and death and darkness. Yes, and our spirit- might, by the assisting grace of Him who ual leader, through the wilderness of this said, "learn of me," strive more earnestly than world, to a spiritual inheritance beyond Jor-dan, "An inheritance incorruptible and unde-dering thoughts, especially in our devotional filed and that fadeth not away; reserved in meetings, and let the Spirit of Him come in, heaven for" all such as "have come out of great who cleansed the temple of old, that He tribulation, and have washed their robes, and might drive out all the buyers and sellers, made them white in the blood of the Lamb." and money changers, and merchandise of the But the song of those who had gotten the world; and thus make them a fit temple for victory over the beast, &c., was not a song his Holy Spirit to dwell in. So that we might fitted up by the art or tune of man; (see Rev. witness the Lord to be in his holy temple, xv. 3, 4,) neither did it belong to the ritual of and all that is earthly within us be brought Moscs. It was a new song that "no man into a holy reverential silence before Him; could learn" but such as "were redeemed that the word of the Lord, and not of man, might have free course and be glorified in our

this is the sum." We are by nature destitute ourselves; it went deep into my heart and thee and family, and may the God of storation of the Holy Spirit, by his purifying thank you? baptism, which is not elementary nor superficial; nor in word merely, but in power. We have to be refined, but not with silver; we often have to be chosen and purified in the loveth He chasteneth, and scourgeth every D. H. son whom He receiveth."

Dublin, Ind., 12th mo. 15th, 1882.

The Pathway in the Sky .- A lady travelling through a dense forest in a Southern State, was benighted, and after journeying some time her colored driver found he had lost his way. Dismounting from his vehicle he started to find it, and she noticed to her surprise that he went among the trees looking upward to been our dwelling place in all generations. the sky. She asked him why he was looking Before the mountains were brought forth, or upward when he was trying to find the road beneath. He continued gazing up to the heavens, and said:

"If I can find the path in the sky I can find the road on the ground."

He knew in that dense forest the only place -The Wayside.

Testament the passage which says, "Avenge to go into the marriage supper of the Lamb saved my body from punishment, and my soul praise and glory. from death." "How?" the colporteur asked. I feel an inte "I sent my servant to day to a man who owes and desire thee to come to a close examiname money, to ask him to pay me my due; the tion of heart, having before thee a glorious man only reviled me and my servant, and sent hope of eternal life, that shall last with thee him away empty. This made me very angry. through time, that when the time of depar-I took up a stick in my band and a knite, and ture is at band thou mayest, like good old was going to take vengeance on the man for Simeon, embrace the Saviour in thy arms, and having insulted and wronged me, when I only say, "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant deasked for my right. In passing, I heard the part in peace, for mine eyes have seen thy of the Holy Spirit, and under the influence of conscience. I stood to reflect, and thought it be and abide with thee now through the evil one; and the children of wrath—better not to give way to my anger, as the and when done toiling beneath the sun prone to evil—unholy and defiled. So we Lord said; and by this I escaped the evil conneed the washing of regeneration, and a re-sequences of my bad purpose, and must I not less eternity; to praise Him forever and

"Gather up the Fragments that Nothing be Lost."

Having fallen into the possession of an old furnace of affliction. "For whom the Lord family letter, written over half a century ago, I have thought that some of the readers of "The Friend" might be interested, and find instruction therein. It brings to remembrance the Scripture declaration, "That others seeing your good works, may glorify your Father which is in Heaven." So that we must not put our light under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that it may give light to all that are in the house. How appropriate, also, the words of the royal Psalmist, "Lord, thou hast thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God." ELIZABETH C. COOPER.

12th mo. 12th, 1882.

Endeared Aunt,-Under a sense of duty, I where he could see the blue sky above, was take my pen at this time; having often had a where the road had been cut through among desire to write to thee, and feeling at this time the trees; where there was clear sky overbead, a good degree of love in my heart, I embrace there was a plain path under foot. The lady the present opportunity to communicate my learned a memorable lesson that night; and regard for so near and dear a connection, and placed it in a jar containing vallis, we may learn the same. We tread a shadowed Dear aunt, thou hast had to bear the loss of In the night it spun a thin filmy irre path; sometimes we find ourselves beset with thy bosom companion, in consequence of sphere shaped chamber, which it had dangers, and often our course is overhung which, the sole care of thy family has fallen with air, placing the chamber near the t with gloom, and in the midst of the deepening upon thee; a very important task, indeed, to the water. When out and crawling ab shadows, we feel that we have lost our way, become sole counsellor and guardian of a fly was placed near the habitation; attr. Sometimes we despond, at others we turn tender offspring. Seek to Him for wisdom, by its struggles the spider soon seized it wildly hither and thither to find the path we who giveth liberally to all, and upbraideth not, have lost. Can we not learn to look upward and He will support thee under every trial, and seek the pathway in the sky? Over the and thy counsel shall be like the sacred oil three eighths of an inch in length without the sky? path of divine appointment shines the light of that was shed upon the head of Aaron, that legs; dark-brown, appears black in the w divine blessing; over the way in which God descended to the uttermost skirts of the gar- When in the water the abdomen and or would have us go, beams the calm brightness ment, or like the dew of Hermon that descendare always covered with a film of air, go of his smile. If we will walk in that way, ed upon the mountains, where the Lord comit a silvery appearance as it scuttles the we may walk confidently and walk safely, manded a blessing, even life forevermore. If the water. The operation of enlarging fearing no evil. If we turn from that path we abide in the light, and wait for the bub-chamber was very interesting to wit we find ourselves involved in snares and dan-blings up of life, and take no step, but under After adding a ring of almost invisible fil gers. In the midst of doubts, perplexities the influence and guidance of the Spirit, we lits room by working inside it proceed and tribulation, let us ever seek to find the will assurely find a blessing to attend our fill up with air, which it accomplishes pathway in the sky. And that one course, labors. Dear aunt, He has promised to be a mounting to the surface of the water, over which beams the light of heaven, and husband to the widow, and a father to the truding the abdomen above the surface, above which gleam the stars of blessing and fatherless, and that He will be with us in six withdrawing it with an extra quantity of hope, is the safe path for us to tread. "The path of the just is as the shining light, that sake us. Seeing that we are only probationers which appeared to be retained in position." shineth more and more unto the perfect day." here below, and must shortly go to give an the help of the hindermost legs, it nex account for the deeds done in the body, let us serted the body under the bell, released stand prepared, let us be renewedly engaged bubble and mounted for a fresh supply Beyrout.—A colporteur in a barber's shop in to meet the Bishop of souls, to have oil, and peating the process until the bell bubbled Beyrout, Syria, was reading from the New our lamps burning, so that we may be ready He was speaking in a loud and [receive] an admitance into the Heavenly voice, when presently a man entered, took Jernsalem; and a right to the tree of life-bis hand, and kissed it. He was asked why where we shall surround the throne of God he did so? He replied, "Because you have and the Lamb, with everlasting songs of fortnight perhaps; when all conjectures

I feel an interest in thy eternal welfare, text you quoted, saying we are not to avenge salvation." I now conclude, with my love to sisted of about twenty cells, the majorit us one and all to the throne of God in ag more.—Amen.

Passion, not principle, holds the strings; desire not duty, keeps the cash It is seldom, indeed, that conscience colthe exchequer, and when it does, the chronicled as prodigious . . . More mor spent for tobacco than for bread; mou spirits than for wine; more for wine th baths, or means of preserving health increasing vigor by exercise; more for a ment than for instruction; more for the than for churches. Actors, singers, and cers are paid ten times as much as ter and preachers are. The popular playe entertains people, . . . and is not asso with any of the means whereby h welfare is promoted, becomes in a year times richer than the professor who votes his life to the acquisition and diff of knowledge, or the philanthropist spends his soul for his kind . . . People will not give dimes in charity give dell: witness a foot-race or see a clown .- Se

For "The Fri

Natural History, Science, &c.

The Water Spider .- I found a water s with excess.

Some few weeks afterwards it was obseto be busy lining the upper part of the ch ber, with a dense texture of snowy whiter Here it remained perfectly quiescent f solved by the appearance one mornin, about twenty small silvery bubbles, each veloping a minute spider, "the very imagits mother."—H. J. Bacon, in Science-Gos

Tame Wasp .- Sir John Lubbock, who given much attention to the wasps, bees ants, thus describes one of the former wl he succeeded in taming :-

"I took it with its nest in the Pyren The nest, which was beautifully regular, radually she became quite used to me, lyben I took her on my hand, evidently ted to be fed. She allowed me to stroke months I never saw her sting.

estroying Mice.—A plague peculiar to the teire's Angola. districts along the Rhine is found in the d, which, in a fine season, swarm in such ads that whole fields are devastated. In heighborhood of Iülich, a mode of smokbut the mice has been introduced. An pan, two feet high, has at bottom a gratsupported by a pin. On the grating some in contained an egg; but as yet no grub of water was to be had from a filthy and dency and effect of a truly anointed ministry leen batched out, and, of course, my wasp muddy hole, and so thick and ochrey was it is to bring the people into that state of mind. s yet alone in the world.

that, even after boiling and straining, it was How often does that experienced servant of had no difficulty in inducing her to feed nearly undrinkable. On reaching the high the Most High, George Fox, record in his y hand; but at first she was shy and banks of the Mucozo, great was my disap- Journal, that he turned the attention of peopus: she kept her sting in constant readi-pointment to see the bed of the river one long ple to Christ, who alone could feed them with and once or twice in the train, when the capanse of dry sand shining in the hot sun, the bread of life and open Divine mysteries cleamed for tickets, and I was compelled and my hope of water, as I thought, gone to them, and who must be waited upon as He rycher back into her bottle, she stung ightly,-I think, however, entirely from they caught sight of it, dashed in a race down the attentive worshipper! As the minds of the banks, and throwing themselves on the the people have been turned inward to the sand, quickly scraped out a hole about six Lord, waiting upon Him in an exercise of inches deep with their hands, and lying-flat spirit, He has been pleased from time to time stuck their faces on it, and seemed never to to commission his ministers to proclaim the vithout any appearance of fear, and for finish drinking to their hearts' content the doctrine of the gospel; to bear testimony to inexpressibly refreshing, cool, filtered water. the mercy of God, who so loved the world, ben cold weather came on she fell into a After having only dirty and thick water to that He sent his only begotten Son that sy state, and died before the return of drink, not improved by coffee or bad rum, through Him we might obtain salvation; who after a long, hot day's journey, tired and ex-bas exalted Him to be a Prince and a Saviour Prthquake Waves.—We were going along hausted, the ground for a bed, mosquitoes, to give repentance and remission of sins; a light wind and looking out for the and a smoky fire on each side to keep them whose holy Light shines into the hearts of all of Gilolo, when we heard a dull roaring off, fleas and other biting things from the sand, I, like a heavy surf behind us. In a that nip and sting but are not seen or caught, time the roar increased, and we saw a snatches of sleep, feverish awakening in the forsake their sins, and so to become the chil-bline of foam coming on, which rapidly morning, with parched mouth, the perspiradren of the Most High, being "washed, sancdus without doing any harm, as our book tion dried on the face and skin, gritty and tified and justified in the name of the Lord easily over the wave. At short intervals crystallized and salt to the feel and taste, no Jesus and by the Spirit of our God."

La dozen others overtook us with great water to drink or wash with the sun out and Earnest and affectionate have be ity, and then the sea became perfectly shining strong again almost as soon as it is pleadings with those who were negligent in th as it was before. I concluded at once daylight, and hurry, hurry, through dry grass regard to their spiritual welfare; or who were these must be earthquake waves; and on and sand without a breath of air, and with delaying that full submission to the visitation ence to the old voyagers we find that the thermometer at 90° in the shade, for four of Grace, without which there is neither peace seas have long been subject to similar or five hours before we reached the Mucozo nor safety omena. Dampier encountered them near —it was no wonder I was disinclined to move land New Guinea, and describes them livem the place till the afternoon came, and call is being renewedly extended to many llows: "We found here very strange the great heat of the day was passed; or that among us, to shake ourselves from the dust that ran in streams, making a great sea, I thought the water, fresh and cold from its of the earth, and to become a more singlefoaring so loud that we could hear them clean sandy bed, the most delicious drink that hearted, zealous people, seeking heavenly coal is laid, and the pan, when filled with of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting who are traleather and sulphur, is fastened with an vailing in spirit for the spread of the Re-Association Hall, S. E. corner of 15th and ght cover, which has a small tube, into deemer's kingdom in the world, and especially Chestnut Streets. h a small hose connected with a bellows in the hearts of their fellow-members, to feel serted. The night before it is used, the a degree of encouragement when reflecting on of the Managers lead them to believe that at is surveyed and all open mouse-holes are the evidences of Divine favor which have least 700 deserted and friendless children in ten close. In the morning such as are marked many of the meetings which have the City of Philadelphia annually perish for ened, are supposed to be tenanted, and been held among us of latter time? The tes- want of care. being selected, the lower part of the pan timony of many witnesses will confirm the ressed against it, and the bellows being statement, that several of the general meet children have been placed on file during the twork, the smoke issues from the orifice ings which have been held within the limits past year, involving the custody or care of the grating and penetrates into the runs of different Quarterly Meetings for their re- 2172 children. In the investigation of these galleries that connect the holes. A num-spective members, have been eminently own-complaints it was found necessay to secure of assistants are required to tread the ed by the Head of the Church; and the same the arrest of 322 persons. We have had comto escape; and if all due precaution be course of our meetings for worship and discining the same time 731 children, who have n, great numbers of these diminutive ene-pline. There has been experienced on these been humanely provided for, and disposed may be destroyed.

THE FRIEND.

FIRST MONTH 13, 1883.

Delicious Drink.—I shall never forget, on gregations were sitting in silence, showing with free with presented." first journey into Cambambe, the haste that the hearts of those assembled were turnr Mucozo, a small stream running into Quanza. We had encamped the night tootstool. This holy solemnity is the crown with the arrest of any of the parties implier at a place where only a small supply of all assemblies for worship; and the ten-cated—on the other hand these have accepted, as a swift witness against evil; and to all who will receive and obey it, He gives power to

Earnest and affectionate have been the

Do not these things indicate that a Divine the they came within a mile of us. The could be imagined! riches and enjoyments in preference to those ound about them seemed all broken, and The delight of a drink of pure cold water which belong to this life only? May the d the ship so that she would not answer in hot climates has over and over again been solemn responsibilities involved in this extenhelm. These ripplings commonly lasted described by all travellers, but it is impossible soon of Divine mercy affect the hearts of all; 12 minutes, and then the sea became as to realize it fully without experiencing the and may those, who have had some experith and still as a mill-pond."—Wallace's sensations that precede and cause the thirst ence in the work of Grace in themselves, dwell that only cold water seems to satisfy .- Mon- under an exercise of spirit for the welfare of others, so that their whole conduct may tend to draw them into the fold of Christ, and lead them to walk in the footsteps of his flock!

> We have received from the Secretary, Benjamin J. Crew, a copy of the Report to be presented at the annual meeting of the Pennsyl-Is there not some cause for those members vania Society to Protect Children from Cruelty, to be held on the evening of the 15th inst. at

The Report states, that the investigations

"924 complaints of cruelty or neglect of

"It will be found upon an examination of which we pushed forward, on an in-ed to Christ their Heavenly Teacher and our records that many of the most interesting ely hot morning, in order to arrive at the Shepherd, and that they were being enabled cases (where the beneficial results are the often gratefully, the terms offered by the officers, and the provisions made for the suf-posed ample funds were in the Treasury for the purpose. For the suf-posed ample funds were in the Treasury for the purpose. The purpose of the fering children. Arrests are never made except when the protection and safety of the little ones urgently demand such a procedure; and the children are never removed from horses at Oskaloosa, Iowa. No remedy has been found their homes until parental care has given for the disease. place to shameful neglect or brutality.

We believe this society has exercised a very cruelty and neglect by fear of exposure and and 13 of searlet fever. punishment; and by drawing public attention to the needs of the class over which it watches.

The Annual Report of the Managers of the Reading Rooms for Friends, at 1413 Filbert St., Philada., shows an increase in the number of persons frequenting the rooms during the past year-making a daily average is nearly 14 visitors.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES .- The Senate, on the 8th instant, passed the bill to prevent the use of the Capitol for other than legitimate purposes. The House Committee other than regionate purposes. The House Committee are in fair demand and frm. Sales of 13,000 bushels, (the Pendleton bill) "to regulate and improve the civil the service of the United States." The bill was read at length, and disensed. It passed finally without ament, by a vote of 155 to 47.

During the twelve months which ended on 11th mo. 30th, 1882, the exports from the United States exceeded the imports in value by $1,434,835. During the twelve months which ended on 11th mo. 30th, 1881, the excess of exports was $195,130,168. The public debt statement for 12th month shows a decrease of $15,413,222. The total coinage of the United States Mints, during the year 1882, comprised 88,805,831 pieces, valued at $94,820,120. The total gold coinage amounted in value to $65,887,685; the total silver coinage to $27,972,035, including 27,574,100 standard dollars; the total minor coinage—one, three and five cent pieces—to $960,400. Little Thunder and Leading Feather, Chippewa chiefs, are on their way to Washington, accompanied by Ignatins Tomazin, a missionary. They wish to make a trade with the Government, whereby they can obtain for a portion of their reservation at Red Lake, certain agricultural implements, cattle, and utensils necessary for civilized Christian life, such as they are living.

The American Expedition sent to the Cape of Good Hope to take observations of the transit of Venus, have arrived at Plymouth, England. They report that they obtained two good observations of the internal contact, and took 236 photographs, 200 of which can be measured.

were sold on last Seventh-day for $80,000. It is understood the purchase was made for West Virginia capiabout $2,000,000 since this time last year.

The extent of gambling upon some commercial ex-

In the recent scaling down of 40 per cent of the debt and Gamazo, Minister of Public Works. of Tennessee, by issuing new compromise bonds for the existing bonds, a portion of which had already been spatches have been received: scaled down, it was solemnly agreed that the 1st mo. Vienna, 1st mo. 2d.—All traces of the quays and interest on these compromise bonds should be paid, banks of the Danube are lost here. Their places are scaled down, it was solemnly agreed that the 1st mo.

of the State, having this dishonest example before him, has stolen all the funds and absconded.

Cerebro-spinal meningitis is reported among the

There were 409 deaths in this city last week, 10 more than the previous week, and 19 more than for the corresponding week last year. The number of males was useful influence, not only in caring directly 210, females 199: 62 died of consumption: 37 of pneufor suffering cases, but also in preventing monia; 32 of diphtheria; 25 of old age; 15 of croup, Markets, &c.—U. S. 3's, 103\(\frac{1}{2}\); 3\(\frac{1}{2}\)'s, 102\(\frac{1}{2}\); 4\(\frac{1}{2}\)'s, 113\(\frac{3}{4}\); 4's 119\(\frac{5}{5} \); currency 6's, 129 a 132.

Cotton continues dull. Sales of middlings are reported at 101 a 101 cts. per pound for uplands and New Orleans

Petrolenm.—Standard white, 71 a 73 cts. for export, and $\frac{1}{2} a $\frac{3}{2}$ cts, per gallon for home use.

Flour is in fair demand and firm. Sales of 3000 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $5 a $5.75; Pennsylvania family at $4.65 a $4.75; western do. at $4.80 a $5.40, and patents at $6 a $7.50. Rye flour is broken at Mayence, dull at $3.75 per barrel.

Grain.-Wheat closed dull and rather lower. of 4600 bushels red in car lots at $1.10 a $1.11, as to quality. Rye is nominal at 58 cts. Corn is in fair demand. Sales of 9000 bushels in car lots, at 49 a 64 cts., as to quality and location. At the open board, 63½ cts. was bid for 1st month; 62½ cts. for later months. Outs are in fair demand and firm. Sales of 13,000 bushels.

to $1 per 100 pounds; mixed, 80 to 90 cts. per 100 pounds; straw, 65 to 75 cts. per 100 pounds.

Beef was dull and prices were a fraction lower: 3500 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 4 a 7 cts. per lb., as to quality. Sheep were in demand at an advance: 12,000 head arrived and sold at the different yards, at 4 a 6½ cts., and lambs at 5 a 7 cts. per pouod, as to condition.

Hogs were in demand and firmer: 4400 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 81 a 91 cts. per 1b.,

Holosoft at the latter rate for extra.

FORMICN.—The Inman line steamer, City of Brussels, Captain Land, from New York 12th mo. 28th, for Liverpool, was run down in the Channel by the Glasgow steamer, Kirby Hall, during a fog, and ten persons were drowned—two of them Italians.

It is officially announced that W. E. Gladstone's medical adviser reports that he is suffering from overwork and needs rest. Gladstone has abandoned his proposed visit to Mid-Lothian,

General Chanzy, the well-known French General and life Senator, died suddenly on the night of the 4th inst.,

England in relation to Egypt have terminated, England making no new proposal on the question of control.

A ministerial crisis has occurred in Spain in conseured. Fifty acres of land in Irondale, south of Chicago, Fifty acres of land in Irondale, south of Chicago, Figure and Albareda, Minister of Commerce and ere sold on last Seventh-day for $80,000. It is under Jarcellure. At a Cabinet council held recently to discuss the Budget with a view of reducing taxes and talists, who intend to build large iron works on the at the same time increasing the revenue, Camacho proground at a cost of $750,000 to $1,000,000. sed the sale of the State forest lands on the mountains. grouting as a cost of $100,000 to $1,000,000.

The Pennyyuania State delt was reduced last year yained at 49,000,000 pesetas, in order to provide funds to a total of $20,25,085, of which $13,050,000 is in- to pay during the term of eight years the increased interest learning delt. The annual debt charge for interest [energy to the public debt, commencing in 71 month. valued at 40,000,000 pesetas, in order to provide funds terest hearing debt. The annual debt charge for interest terest on the public debt, commencing in 7th month, was reduced about $200,000 by refunding the 6s into 4 Albareda strongly opposed this, and, being unable to was reduced about $200,000 by remning the st flow that seem per cents. During the last four years the debt has been reduced $1,650,537, and, after deducting the sinking from the Ministry. On the 7th instant the Ministers flow about the net debt is $12,23,099.

The debt of New York city, according to the Compitality and the four defineration, an agreement probler's monthly report, is $90,141,948, a decrease of the four depth of the four last the four the four the first of the four last th dent of the Council, stated that he would return to the ton Exchange. The cotton crop of the United States and in New York Cotton Exchange. The cotton crop of the United States averages 6,000,000 bales, of which about one-tenth is Minister of War; Gnyon, Minister of the Interior; year sold no less than 32,700,000 bales of "inture" of Justice; Caesta, Minister of Forigan Affiris; Giron, Minister of United States and Interior of Justice; Caesta, Minister of Finance: Admiral Agriculture of Finance: Admiral Agricult palace on the 8th inst. and receive the royal commands. Minister of Marine; Arce, Minister for the Colonies, Respecting the floods in Europe the following de-scaled down, it was solembly agreed that the 1st mo. Vienna, 1st mo. 2d.—All traces of the quays and interest on these compromise bonds should be paid, banks of the Danube are lost here. Their places are 1882, Sarahi II. MAILLY, wildow of Augustine M. This agreement was repudiated and default made on merely marked by eddles in the torrunt. A great and daughter of the late Wm. and Mary Hodges quantity of water is still expected from th reaches of the river.

Robstadt, 1st mo. 3d.—The town, with the of the church and houses of the clergy, is dear merged. The water in many houses nearly re: roofs. In Friesenheim-on-the-Rhine the scene description.

Berlin, 1st mo. 3d .- Seventy houses have Badenheim in consequence of the floods. Morsch and Oppau, eighty houses have faller place from the same cause. At Vienna the c serious, and preparations are making to sound the Vienna, 1st mo. 3d.—The Dannbe is still risi race-course here is flooded as far as the Ex

Building. At Frankenthal, Bavaria, 6000 persulabandoned their homes on account of the flood. Amsterdam, 1st mo. 3d.—The northeastern of North Brabant is submerged. Hundreds o are homeless.

London, 1st mo. 4th .- A despatch from Wij reports 3000 persons homeless at Ludwigshafe at Mannheim and 2000 at Worms. They are in the school-houses and churches. More dil

Pesth, 1st mo. 4th.—The Danube has inundat burg, 34 miles from Vienna. Geneva, 1st mo. 4th.—The Paris and Lyons F on the French frontier, is washed away. Dir way service between Switzerland, France and interrupted.

London, 1st mo, 4th .- A Berlin despatch to th says: The inundations are taking the form of public catastrophe. The distress is increasing The military and civil authorities are mak greatest exertions to mitigate the misery of the There are no signs yet that the crisis of the cal: reached. The high temperature and rains of At Ludwigshafen, opposite Mannheim, where the Rhine dam gave way last night, the lives of he of people are imperilled. A steamer rescued hundreds, including the sick. The deepest

Paris, 1st mo. 4th .- The rivers Stone and have inundated several villages. Thirty-two have fallen at Longe-Pierre, in the Department Saone-et-Loire. The river Seine has again reac level of the 12th mo. flood.

London, 1st mo. 5th.—A despatch from Wie to the Daily News says: "The Rhine is hegin fall. Thirteen persons were drowned at Friese In all 60 or 70 lives have been lost by the flood water is penetrating the foundations of the fortifi at Mayence. The barometer is rising." fort Gazette, acknowledging the receipt of 33,000 received in Frankfort from New York for the of Rhineland sufferers by the flonds, says: "The furnish a fresh and happy proof that the German have found a new home in America are not lost old Fatherland, but have ever warm and activ at Chalons, of apoplexy.

It is said that the negotiations between France and pathy in Germany's fortunes and also in her mis

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL.

The Committee in charge of this Institution wi an adjourned meeting on the 19th inst., at 10 A. WM. EVANS, C

NOTICE.

The Germantown Employment Society has or a large stock of serviceable clothing for men, v and children, at low prices. These are well suit Indians or Freedmen. A discount of ten per cen be allowed on all sales of twenty dollars and ove Application may be made to Anna Spencer, C St., Germantown; or at the Store, No. 4771 Ma

Germantown. DIED, on the 23d of 12th month last, at his res near Sandyville, Warren Co, lowa, John T. Moo a beloved member of Coal Creek Monthly M lowa, in the 73rd year of his age. He went th many trials and provings for the support of the trines and testimonies of Friends. The suffering lingering illness were borne with humble submiss the Divine disposal; fervently craving many tin patience and ability to endure all his Divine I saw meet to place upon him, without murmurin few days before his close he remarked that his went out to faithful Friends everywhere; and hes times said there was not a cloud in his way.

FRIEND.

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, FIRST MONTH 20, 1883.

NO. 24.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2.50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail. Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to

JOSEPH WALTON. MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

iptions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS.

PHILADELPHIA.

For "The Friend." Letter from Florence, Italy.

The following extracts from a letter rely written from Florence, Italy, by a nd, who has at different times furnished columns with instructive articles, we trust prove interesting to our readers. It conis the judgment of one who is well qualiby extensive and diversified reading, and ong intercourse with men, especially men ience and culture, to form a correct judget as to the moral influence on the comity of the excessive cultivation of those ks of art which please the eye and the ear; which, even when they are comparatively ocent in themselves, have no power to lead to a higher source than that from which originate. All true progress in virtue nd ever will be, by advancing in the path elf-denial pointed out by our Holy Rener as the only way to his Kingdom. this is as true of communities and nas, as of individuals. For it is a principle niversal application, that "Righteousness teth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any ble."-ED.1

is proof of real growth,-evidence that the Cursed with unlimited sway and boundless people have confidence in the peace of the wealth, they ran riot in perjuries, murders future,-a cheering sign of the times. Peace- and every evil. Their influence for evil exful transways occupy the site of the old bull tended through several generations, and a warks, and we rode in triumph around three great grand-daughter of Lorenzo the Magniwalls of the city yesterday upon this modern ficent was the instigator of the slaughter of innovation, passing the ancient gates that St. Bartholomew's day-an act which stands stand sad and lone, memorials of six centuries out in relief as one of the blackest crimes that of semi-barbarism.

old city, so given over to art and beauty. To the French nation, while it probably was a me, the human soul seems to be a vastly more predisposing cause of the French revolution, noble subject for the shaping chisel of reform- by aiding the continuance of the Jesuits in ing art, than are the cold brouze or marble. Florence, in her teachers and revivers of ancient learning and art, has aimed to excel in moulding the insensible stone and painting the unfeeling canvas; but the intellect and spirit of her people she has left in darkness, vainly hoping that the study of and familiarity with forms of beauty and grace would reflect their charms upon the human character. They have by the study of art lost the artlessness of innocence, and their devotion to forms of ideal beauty has done nothing to reform their hearts, or add any grace to hide nature. Savonarola early saw the inherently the pictures that contributed to impurity of musical instruments, believing them to be ension and degradation.

San Lorenzo, the mansoleum of the Medici of truths now accepted. fter speaking of the value of the "moral family, preach from the text, 'vanity of vaniosphere of a virtuous community," and ties, all is vanity.' Here are marbles, agates, consciousness that their surroundings at jaspers, lapis lazuli, pearl and alabaster, shaped cence were much below the level to which and fitted in forms of wondrous beauty, at a art. He stands creet eleven feet high in v had been accustomed, the letter pro-cost of many millions of dollars, and all for bronze upon an elevated pedestal, a commands: "We are at times oppressed with what purpose? To preserve and laud the mening figure. In his left hand be holds a Bible ow for the benighted condition of the peo- ory of those who debased their fellows and deof this land, and wonder whether they can stroyed their liberty, to gratify unholy ambiawake and arise to the height to which tion and greed for power! They have passed trayed, is turned heavenward. The motto y ought to attain. But the lessons of his-away, and the factions they raised, the crimes must be read, and here at Florence its they committed, the miseries they inflicted cluding words of his defence before the Bishop, es are unfolded with abounding illustra-upon the innocent, and the degradation they s in her well-preserved monuments, evi-brought have been committed to the page of s in her well-preserved monuments, evi-brought have been committed to the page of Ich. Ich can nicht ander. So belfe mich cing to the truth of her story, more strong-history, but their influence for good or for Gott. Amen." [Here I stand. I can do noth-han can elsewhere be found. And when levil has not died with them. Had they—the ling else. So help me, God. Amen.] Savontust of 500 years comes hefore us with Madicia keep activities. past of 500 years comes before us with Medici—been as virtuous and philanthropic arola, Wickliffe and others appropriately sit awlessness, its feuds and crimes, the fruit as they were powerful and ambitious, they nbridled passions, its petty tyrannies and might have made their people the advanced sustains his pedestal. l follies and fanaticism and priestly domi-gnard of enlightened intelligence, and have In the Palazzo vecchio (old palace) in which on, and 'spiritual wickedness in high led them, as Savonarola was permitted to in Savonarola was imprisoned and almost racked es; and we consider that no longer are cite some of his adherents, to the zealous to death and before which he was burned, to acts possible—that a public opinion has illustration of every trait that ennobles a cultia formed that would not permit the revival vated Christian nation. But the Medicean a golden crucifix, emblem of the purer faith my of the petty schemes of unholy ambi-breed, with all the high talent and culture of to which he would have led his people. The and the restoration of a spiritual inqui-some of its members, and the great financial ereat hall, enlarged by his request for the re-ph, we congratulate ourselves that though and political abilities of the greatest among ception of the Council of 500 of his Chris-ch remains to be done, a real advance has (them, were base at heart, and their evil pass) taking government, is fitting place for a statue been made. The demolition of the city walls sions were unchecked by any Christian graces. has dishonored humanity, and the fruits of Many reflections arise as I traverse this which still continue to delay the progress of power, and hence the remote cause of all her later ills.

The early ancestor of the Medici was a doctor, hence the name. Their arms were remarkable for the seven balls therein represented, which are said to have been boluses,

No more gratifying observation has been afforded me during travels in Europe (after the evident progress in education and consequent elevation of the people through their more ready intercourse by rail) than their growing regard for the teachers of a former the native deformity of unregenerate human generation, of whom their contemporaries were not worthy, 'Your fathers killed the prophets and ye have builded them sepuldebasing influence of art as pursued by its prophets and ye have builded them sepul-devotees generally, because of its sensuous in- chres, may be said of this people, and will fluence, and consistently collected and burned perhaps be said of men as long as the world lasts; so prone are they to adhere to the ways thought and manners. In harmony with his and thoughts of their fathers, and to ignore great purpose, he also suppressed the use of or persecute the teachers of new and unpalatable truths. But 'truth is mighty and shall gines conducing to mental and moral perver- prevail,' and the evidence of this truth is around us in the erection of honorary monu-What a serman does the new sacristy of ments and statues to the advanced advocates

> The extraordinary Denkmal (at Würms) of Luther and the Reformers of his time and antecedent, is a master-piece of monumental on which his right is emphatically laid, while his face, on which faith is admirably porupon the panel beneath him contains the con-&c., at the Dict assembled near by, 'Hier stehe at the four corners of the great pediment that piety have sunken into their hearts?

'This was he Savonarola, who while Peter sank With his whole boat-load, called courageously
"Wake Christ! Wake Christ!" Who having tried the tank

Of the Church-waters, used for baptistry
Ere Luther lived to spill them, said they stank!
Who also by a princely death-bed cried, "Loose Florence, or God will not loose thy soul," While the Magnificent fell back and died Beneath the star-looks shooting from the cowl Which turned to wormwood bitterness, the wide Deep sea of his ambitions.'

Casa Guidi Window.

We are settled in an apartment in the Casa the volume bearing the above title, and where of gold, the people of England and Italy.

> For "The Friend," Westtown Boarding School.

At a meeting of the committee, held 6th for the sum of $12,200.

ceiving the legacy is still in existence.

"The following communication from Joseph needful.'

proved 5th mo. 7th, 1856:

soever and wheresoever, unto my executors allowance for boarding the workmen-all of the holy scriptures; they were very pre aforesaid, their heirs, executors, administra- whom were provided for at the school-and to me; for I was in that Spirit by which tors and assigns forever, in trust nevertheless with the exception of $399.07, had been de-were given forth; and what the Lord op in the first place, to pay all my just debts and frayed through the liberality of Friends, withlin me, I afterwards found was agreeab liabilities of every kind. (Power to sell real out infringing upon the funds of the Institution. I could speak much of these th estate here given.) And after all my just tion. debts and liabilities shall have been paid and At discharged, then as respects all the residue of mo. 9th, 1857, "a communication was received love, wisdom, and power of God, in prepa my estate, both real and personal, in trust from Cyrus Mendenhall resigning the situa- fitting, and furnishing me for the service for the uses and purposes of Friends' Board, tion of book-keeper, which he has faithfully had appointed me to; letting me see the ding School at Westtown, and to make, execute filled for twenty-seven years, was read, and of Satan on the one hand, and opening to and deliver such deeds, conveyances, assign- his resignation accepted, to take effect on the on the other hand, the divine mystern ments and assurances of the same, or any closing of the books in the 4th month next. his own everlasting kingdom.

part thereof as the Yearly Meeting Com- David Roberts was appointed clerk. The When the Lord God and his Son. mittee for the time being charged with the committee on the legacy of Thomas Smith, Christ sent me forth into the world to pr burned be not still more appropriate. 'Even School, by any minute or minutes of their the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, t in the city of Dante no greater figure has its proceedings, shall order, direct and appoint, quest made by him for the use of the dwelling. Thus, remarks a recent writer, and for no other purpose whatsoever. Promittee was decided to be void, under t has the great preacher of Florence,—the vided always, and it is my will and direction of the 25th of 4th mo. 1855, and his most powerful politician—the most disinter that the residue of my estate hereby given awarded to his heirs at law. ested reformer of his time-found full vindi- and devised for the uses and purposes of the cation in the unbounded admiration of a later said Boarding School at Westtown, to the exling in 1858: "The committee is desirous age. Alas, we are compelled to add, though tent of sixty thousand dollars of the value this Seminary may continue to be ma too much in the spirit of Florence of the past, thereof shall constitute a permanent fund, the in conformity with the religious conce the beauty of form in marble, but where is yearly income of which shall be applied exthe evidence that his lessons of purity and clusively to the increase of the salaries of teachers, both male and female, who are and Their efforts for the attainment of the shall be from time to time employed as such jects will be very much aided by the kin at the said Boarding School."

Signed, Joseph Scattergood, One of the Executors.

given, was executed the 10th day of the 4th amount of responsibility at all times month last, and Thomas Smith died on the borne, and it is a strength to the comr 30th of the same month.

relating to corporations and estates held for much to be the feeling of the commitcorporate, religious and charitable purposes," is as follows: "That no estate real, or personal, shall hereafter be bequeathed, devised Guidi (the house of the Guidi family) where or conveyed to any body politic, or to any E. B. Browning lived, and where she wrote person in trust for religious or charitable uses, except the same be done by deed or will, at thus graphically alludes to the object of she died. A marble tablet beneath our win-tested by two credible and at the same time gospel mission, when anointed to pro dow records the tribute of Florence to her disinterested witnesses, at least one calendar the day of the Lord, and to preach repen memory in the sentiment that by 'her learn | month before the decease of the testator or to the people :ing and the spirit of her poetry and interest alienor, and all dispositions of property conin Italian liberty, she united, as with a ring trary hereto shall be void, and go to the resid- to light that they might receive Christ J uary legatee or devisee, next of kin, or heirs for to as many as should receive Him i according to law: Provided that any dispo-sition of property within said period bona fide the sons of God; which I had obtained l made for a fair valuable consideration, shall ceiving Christ. I was to direct people t not be hereby avoided."

The committee appointed on repairs 6th which they might be led into all truth mo. 4th, 1856, the Trustees under the will of mo. 1855, reports 12th mo. 3rd, 1856, "That up to Christ and God, as those had been Joseph Ely reported the sale of the house and Isoon after their appointment workmen were gave them forth. I was to turn them to tip 10 Arch street, left by him to Westtown, [engaged, who, under the direction of the lyrace of God, and to the truth in the latest of the latest of God, and to the truth in the latest of the latest of God, and to the truth in the latest of God, and to the latest of the late Superintendent (and one member of the com- which came by Jesus; that by this grace Although the following legacy was never mittee who volunteered to assist him) repaired might be taught, which would bring received by the committee, in consequence of many parts of the wood-work of the school salvation, that their hearts might be an act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, building and relaid some floors. The sashes lished by it, their words might be seas passed about one year previous to the decease in many of the windows as well as the sills of and all might come to know their salve of the testator, it was thought it might be in-them were renewed, and 32 pairs of window nigh. I saw Christ died for all men, we have the content of the conten teresting and perhaps useful to revive it, as shutters were procured and hung in place of propitiation for all, and enlightened all the law which prevented Westtown from re- a similar number which were not deemed and women with his divine and saving l worth repairing.

Scattergood, one of the executors of our late other improvements, such as a new slate roof of God, which brings salvation, had appearance. friend Thomas Smith, was received and read, on the dwelling at the end of the lane, and on to all men, and that the manifestation of and Joel Evans, Thos. Kimber, S. B. Morris, the infirmary building—floors renewed in the Spirit of God was given to every man, to Alfred Cope and others were appointed to basement of the latter, and twenty iron pipes withal. These things I did not see by give such attention to the case as may seem substituted for wooden ones at the mill; the help of man, nor by the letter, though erection of a new and commodious barn, near are written in the letter; but I saw the Extract from the will of Thomas Smith, the school buildings; sheds, pig-house, and the light of the Lord Jesus Christ, and b materials for new fences on both sides of the immediate Spirit and power, as did the "I give devise and bequeath all my estate, lane provided, &c., &c. The whole cost being men of God by whom the holy scrip real and personal property and effects what some $10,699.07, which includes a moderate were written. Yet I had no slight estet

At a meeting of the committee held 10th of this great spirit, if the spot whereon he was care and management of the said Boarding deceased, now informed that by a dech

From the report made to the Yearly which it originated, and may ever be: obvious marks of being a Friends' S cheerful co-operation of those who send children to be educated there, and we carnestly solicit it. There are difficult "The will, an extract of which is above be met with in conducting it, and a Oth of the same month."

Section 11th of an act entitled, "An Act support of Friends." Which continues the present time.

> For " The Fri Gleanings from Quaker Annals.

George Fox, that wise Elder and Refo

"I was sent to turn people from darl Spirit, that gave forth the scriptures and that none could be true believers, but t The report goes on to enumerate various who believed therein. I saw that the and many volumes might be written; bu would prove too short to set forth the in knew, would never deceive any.

thas I gave way unto it, I found the evil to the world. wakening in me, and the good raised up:

This "secret power" in "the silent assemblies of Gl's people" in the early day, as referred to by R. Belay, and which he says "touched my heart," and wich, moreover, as he gave way to it, caused the evil restore us as a people to the Lord's praise. Just asurely thus far

"Like the hollow roar Of tides receding from the insulted shore, cise Ichabod—"the glory is departed"—to be written cicerning us. For, is not this "secret power" or life othe Lord Jesus felt in our hearts and, at times, overβsing from vessel to vessel, that which constitutes crist in the midst" as Hα has promised to those that in the "in the midst" as Hα has promised to those that have proved that the property of the things of the wild was the property of the things of the things of the all wait for you feel and to pant after? Are not our this, in large measure, that which distinguishes us et us see to it, that the ark of our strength be no t prophet: "Sanctify the Lord of hosts himself, and him be your fear, and let Him be your dread." His

twer is infinite; his grace is invincible; his strength

everlasting gospel and kingdom, I was so it is, that man mindeth nothing less, than Spirit. Ephes. vi. 18; Jude 20. So singing ad that I was commanded to turn people to what he should most mind; and despiseth to &c., yea, the whole life and conversation is to at inward light, spirit, and grace, by which enquire into his own being, its original, duty, be in the Spirit. Gal. v. 25. The mortifying might know their salvation and their way and end; choosing rather to dedicate his days, of all corruption is to be done by the Spirit. God; even that Divine Spirit which would the steps he should make to blessedness, to Rom. viii. 13. Indeed a Christian is nothing, d them into all truth, and which I infalli-gratify the pride, avarice and luxury of his and can do nothing, without the power and heart; as if he had been born for himself, The following is Robert Barclay's experi- or rather given himself being, and so not if nothing in religion can be done (with acce, as described in that part of his Apology subject to the reckoning and judgment of a ceptance to God) without the Spirit, then the the true Christian Divinity which treats superior power. To this lamentable pass Spirit is the first thing to be looked after, by worship. He says, "that he did not come hath poor man brought himself, by his dis him who would be truly and well-groundedly receive the Truth, by strength of argument, obedience to the law of God in his heart, by religious." by a particular disquisition of each doc-doing that which he knows he should not do. he, and convincement of his understanding and leaving undone what he knows he should brehy; but by being secretly reached by do. So long as this disease continueth upon hife: -for," says be, "when I came into the man, he will make God his enemy, and him numbered 105.463, with an average annual int assemblies of God's people, I felt a secret self incapable of the love and salvation, which increase for the last ten years of about 4,000. ocer* among them, which touched my heart; He hath manifested by his Son, Jesus Christ, The largest proportion of these Mongolians

1 so I became knit and united unto them, to thee is, to retire into thyself, and take a mostly laundrymen. Six years ago a woman angering more and more after the increase view of the condition of thy soul; for Christ with a wise head and a kind heart felt that a this power and life, whereby I might feel hath given thee light, with which to do it. friendly hand of Christian interest ought to r self perfectly redeemed. And indeed this Search carefully and thoroughly; thy life be extended to these strangers. She began she surest way to become a Christian; to hangs upon it; thy soul is at stake. 'Tis but by teaching, English to a few in her own home. wom afterwards the knowledge and under-lonce to be done; if thou abusest thyself in it, As the numbers increased, she secured a chaanding of principles will not be wanting, the loss is irreparable; the world is not price pel for her class; and it finally grew into a by will grow up so much as is needful, as enough to ransom thee. Wilt thou then, for mission school. The average attendance in t natural fruit of this good root; and such such a world, overstay the time of thy salva- 1880 was 35; in 1881 it increased to 51; and a whelge will not be barren nor unfruitful tion, and lose thy soul? Thou hast to do, I few weeks ago I saw 115 sit down together Aer this manner, we desire therefore, all grant thee, with great patience; but that also to read the New Testament.

purifier of silver."

is no coming into the covenant but by the edge. Spirit: therefore the first thing that is absosatisfiant control of the designed, in part, that a servet travail littlely necessary to be known in religion is eighteen years old, and has attenued the soint after the Divine Life of Christ anto communion the Spirit, his writing, or at least his motions school during his three years in America. wh Him, may be refreshingly experienced? And is or stirrings, in the heart. It may further be He is unwilling to leave a sentence till he evidenced thus: all things in religion, ac-comprehends it, but, when satisfied, passes for other professors of the Christian name? "What evidenced thus: all things in religion, ac-comprehends it, but, when satisfied, passes it, says I. Penington, "to have a distinct name, or ceptable to God, flow from the Spirit: all promptly to the next. He reads quite readily, net meetings from the world, unless the power of knowledge is to come from Him; for He alone but is irritated by long geographical names. Lord be felt in your hearts, and his presence in hath revealed and can reveal Truth, and is Remembering my own youthful struggles appointed by Christ to lead into all Truth, with biblical names, I can sympathize with continuents of the cruel destroyer, neither by the mis-leding influences of our fellow-members who may in the Spritt and in the Truth; for the Father here with the replied, "Makes mens bad, bad brought; "Specific the Lorentz Spring of the word "specific the spritter of the Spritt and in the Truth; for the Father here at the replied, "Makes mens bad, bad brought; "Spring of the Lorentz Spring of the word "spring of the wor all other worshippers and worship, how glori- Another time after reading about the feeding ous soever their worship may seem to them : of the five thousand, he re-read it to himself particularly praying is always to be in the thoughtfully going over each line. I think presence of the Spirit of God in him. So then,

A Chinese School in Boston.

By the last census, the Chinese in America remains on the Pacific slope; but they have If, reader, thou art such an one, my counsel drifted eastward till Boston now contains 300, the come among us to be proselyted; know-must have an end: therefore provoke not Each pupil requires a separate teacher, and that though thousands should be con- God to reject thee. Dost thou know what it is not easy to secure a sufficient number viced in their understandings, of all the it is to be rejected? Tis Tophet, tils hell, the with tact and facility in instructing. At first, tiths we maintain, yet if they were not sense; chernal anguish of the damned. Ob! reader, a scholar is furnished with a primer, but is of this inward life, and their souls not as one knowing the terrors of the Lord, I taught chiefly by object lessons. There is shinged from unrighteousness to righteouspersuade thee to be serious, diligent and something pathetic in a Chinaman of forty is, they could add nothing to us."

The subjoined is a part of the Preface of knowing the comfort, peace, joy and plassure
"c-a-t," pointing to the pictures, and showing Miliam Penn to his "No Cross, No Crown": of the ways of righteousness, I exhort and ingrave delight when able to identify them. the great business of man's life is to answer vite thee to embrace the reproofs and con- One day, when teaching a new scholar who th end for which he lives; and that is, to victions of Christ's light and spirit in thine could speak English a little, we came to the grify God, and save his own soul. This is own conscience, and bear the judgment of word "God," and I said, "Do you know what the decree of heaven, as old as the world. But thy sin. The fire burns but the stude i; God means?" After a moment's heistation, the wind blows only the chaff. Yield thy he said, "He see Yit Mow; Yit Mow no see body, soul and spirit to Him who maketh He," pointing upward. Slates and peneils are all things new; new heavens and new earth, used to teach penmanship and practical arithnew love, new joy, new peace, new works, a metic, such as would be of use in their businew life and conversation. Men are grown ness. When sufficiently advanced to read toreakee in him and the good to be raised up, is just corrupt and drossy by sin, and they must be the Gospels, an English-Chinese dictionary is now so needed more prevailingly, to re-uscitate saved through fire, which purgeth it away; necessary, the teacher finding the troubletherefore the word of God is compared to some words in English, and the pupil seeing the which as it is permitted to recede because of intherefore the word of God is compared to some words in English, and the pupil seeing didual neglect or unfaithfulness, or from efforts to a fire, and the day of salvation to an oven; the definitions in his native tongue. This diesuplant it by the substitution of something else, will and Christ himself to a refiner of gold, and a tionary was compiled by a Chinese professor in Hartford, who sent the manuscript to Hong The annexed is from an essay entitled, "The Kong, no American press being equal to Chi-Way of Life and Death" by Isaac Penington :- nese type. They cost seven dollars apiece, "The first proper step in religion, is to know and a Chinaman is always proud when rich how to meet with God's Spirit. There is no enough to possess one. Though every mental true progress to be made in the true religion, process is rather slow, yet they are receptive, till a man comes into the eovenant; and there and retain well their small stores of knowl-

The pupil with whom I am most familiar is he was calculating how far five loaves and two fishes would go among so many. Shaking his head, he said with emphasis, "Too much peoples. Too little breads." Farther on in my explanation, I said, "But you remember what a miracle is?" "Yes, yes. God's man makes dead mens go walk." They are impressed with the generous charity that provides books and teachers, and frequently ask, "Why mens give so much things to John?" One who was sick at the hospital where he received kind care, and was often visited by the teachers. said, "Melican mens feel bad, Sim sick. Say 'How Sim do?' China home, mens no say:

'How Sim do?' Mens no care how Sim do!' When he died, his countrymen buried him, and asked for the Christian service of prayer. It seems strange that they should think they can pray only in English, but they always express surprise when told that God can understand Chinese. One man when told God also knew his thoughts, said, "Me 'fraid!"

Their dress is invariably neat. Some still wear the national blouse made of brocade silk or plain woolen, the pointed soft shoes, and the precious queue wound round the shaven head. Others have assumed the frock-coat only, while a few wear the clothes of American gentlemen, with their queues adroitly concealed under the shirt-collar. Their interest is evident, for many come a half-hour before the appointed time. A few of the more advanced scholars are in a class together, and take turns in acting as interpreters for the lady superintendent. An evening school has been established to increase their educational privileges; and their natural politeness and gentle manners form an agreeable contrast to the rough rowdyism seen in the other evening schools of the city.

Of course, the motive that induces them to attend the school is the desire to acquire English; but the Christian influence they encounter, and the truth they hear, cannot fail. While Congress was debating the Chinese question, a practical demonstration was given week by week of a way to assimilate the Mongolian strangers, and make them worthy citizens of our great republic. - Selected.

has been discovered in the ruins of Pompeii. It represents the Judgment of Solomon, and is said to be the first picture on a sacred subis said to be the first picture on a sacred sub-ject that has been discovered in the buried Then will the walls of Zion be builded as before, cities. A correspondent describing the picture And all her bounds of glory increase forevermore. says:

On a dais sits a king holding a scepter and robed in white. On each side of him sits a councillor, and behind them six soldiers under arms. The king is leaning over the front of the dais toward a woman in green robe, who kneels before him with disheveled hair and outstretched hands. In the centre is a threelegged table, like a butcher's block, upon which lies an infant who is held in a recumbent position in spite of his struggles by a woman wearing a turban. A soldier in armor, and wearing a helmet with a long red plume, holds heard the outward history of Christ, and got the world, and when he don't feel himself the legs of the infant, and is about to cleave it in two with his falchion. The agony of the kneeling mother, the attention of the listening king, and the triumph of the second woman, who gloats over the division of the child, are all manifest .- Christian Advocate.

If you imitate not the life of Christ, you tism. cannot be saved by his death .- Wm. Penn.

For "The Friend." OUR MEETING.

A solemn hush is resting o'er the aisles our feet have trod. As Friend by Friend is seated where we meet to worship God: The breath of silent prayer seems throbbing on the air, Arising as sweet incense from burdened hearts of care.

My thoughts, alas, are wandering, like the raven, to

I seem to see before me the forms of long ago. From hours of earliest childhood my steps have hither thoughts of thy heart shall be forgiventurned.

To sit in living silence, or hearken words that burned: Along you gallery's ranges, now almost lone and bare, swered and said: Pray ye for me to the Le I've gazed with earnest reverence on crowns of snowwhite hair: And all adown these benches, so thinly peopled now,

Filed ranks of men and women in solid row on row. Ah! clear to memory's vision, some cherished ones arise; Who, oft I love to fancy, are bending from the skies; Their viewless spirits hovering as guardian angles near, To shield from harm and danger, to comfort and to cheer.

The shining of their footsteps to us is radiant yet-Their words of tender counsel we never shall forget. The lives of good and holy the farthest regions lave, The circles of their influence extend beyond the grave:

And here these vacant places a language speak to-day-A call to all to enter the strait and narrow way. Though but a feeble remnant of better days are we-Unworthy as successors, we feel ourselves to be-

Yet He whose power is mighty, who was our fathers God.

Who bringeth light from darkness, and breath to soulless clod. Can still, as we are willing to yield our hearts to Him Revive our ancient glory, now vanishing and dim.

Could we but cast our anchor beyond life's cumbering cares,

Whose many varied interests absorb us unawares, And with a purer purpose, a holier zeal entwice,
Then, like our predecessors, our faithfulness would people called profane. The outward profes shine:

And by our bright example might other feet be led, The path of self-denial and humbleness to tread. For e'en the least among us may wield unconscious power,

As on the air is wafted the perfume of a flower,

While he unto whose senses the fragrant breath may come

May scarce discern the blossom in its secluded home. In weakness only lieth our strength to be and do: New Find at Pompeii.—A beautiful painting As drops that form the rainbow with sunlight shim mering through,

So heart and life must brighten with beauty not our own,

Thoughts about the Eternal Gospels and the

For "The Friend."

Falling Babylon. (Continued from page 172.)

LOVE OF MONEY. We read in the Scriptures about a man in wounds, the deeper scars. It someting Samaria, by name Simon, who was a sorcerer, happens that such a young man, who no and hearing the preaching of the gospel by gave his thoughts to something serious or h Philip, he believed, and being baptized in to battle the battles of life, begins to the water he continued with Philip. Simon had that he must do something to get along a water baptism, which the outward Chris-tendom owns, but he was in reality a sorcerer he concludes to study for the ministry just as well afterwards as before; as every one Christ! He believes, and is baptized is a sinner, and under the condemnation, who Simon the sorcerer; he goes on, and he g is not in the faith of which Christ is author into the pulpit, as it is called. He may and finisher, and not baptized with the Spirit successful, be of account in Babylon, and ma and with fire, which is the only saving bap-revivals by his eloquence. O, how much i

"Now when Simon saw that by the laying brought into reverence and silence before on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost given, he offered them money, saying: 6 me also this power, that on whomsoever I my hands, he may receive the Holy Gh But Peter said unto him. Thy silver per by thee, because thou hast thought to obt the gift of God with money. Thou hast neit part nor lot in this word-for thy heart is right before God. Repent, therefore, of wickedness, and pray the Lord if perhaps I see that thou art in the gall of bitter and in the bond of iniquity. And Simon that none of the things which ye have spo come upon me." Now this Simon is a type of a common speculating professor in great Babylon. Simon believed and was I tized in water, and wanted to buy the H Ghost to start a trade with. Peter told ! that his heart was not right before God. told him to repent, and after be had repen pray to the Lord, if perhaps the thought his heart might be forgiven; but Simon wan the Lord's apostles to pray for him. Rep seems to have been a hard word for Sir the type of the modern dwellers in Babyl-Our Redeemer said: "That the birds un heaven have nests, and the foxes have ho but the Son of man has nothing to lay head on." O, how far is not his holy : meek Spirit departed from some of those v profess his name, but whose chief strivin to have money and do well in a worldly ser From the time that popery sold indulger down to this very day, it is mammon that loved by the worldly Christians. It seems be the god of mammon who carries on whole Babylonian concern, and animates inhabitants almost more than the outs seems almost crazy to put on style and in the vanity of life-in the pride and lus life. What a mockery of our meek and lo Redeemer, who humbled bimself and gave life for us, setting us an example that should follow his footsteps. O, how is Gospel of Christ, which is the power of (unto salvation from sin and vanity, unkne among many of those that say that Chris their Saviour! But no wonder, when Light of Christ, which should manifest darkness, is despised, ignored, rebelled agai and rejected. It is often a saying of a young man w is living fast, that he will be all right at having sown his wild oats, and professor Christ say so. Why shall a young man l fast? It is better to be wise than a fool; a the fear of God is the beginning of wisde I don't deny that a fast young man can reclaimed to wisdom, but it is harder to co right the farther we go astray; and the dee easier to be an eloquent preacher, than to and hear his voice! But such a preacher, ver good a talker, is only a hireling, and on after all; he never can turn the peothe inward Light and Grace of God by -for he never possessed it. He can ise holy men's words, stealing them and g a trade of them, and therefore he can oring people to believe and be baptized, imself, and live in pride and vanity of And if the people succeed in making , they may give some to Jesus, as they ho they think wants their money to I his dominion on the earth; though ngdom of God, which is in righteouspeace and joy in the Holy Spirit, is exl only when the people repent of their ays and forsake them and follow Christ, ght of the world. O, has not Babylon eat extended itself over the earth; its y towers and domes and bastions, seem o hide the Sun of Righteousness. When on is fallen the people will walk in the

of the Lamb! ce attended a camp meeting of Methodsee how they acted there. I was much sed to see a minister step forward and r collection of money. He said that ad taken so much pains to come there et up a meeting in good style, and they d money to pay all the expenses. Reering how my Master speaks to his dishow Peter said to Simon, the sorcerer, w Paul worked with his hands, I was d, but stopped. One collection was up, but was insufficient. Now the er began to address the people, and I heard auctioneers with flying tongues, tis minister was a match for them. He n fine, the people, how they were work-· Jesus, how they wanted money to do bing with, and said what a good sermon ople should get in return it they would o in full. He said they had a young er who handed out the very best ser-&c., &c. The collection was, after a heap bling, taken again, and proved satis-After that the good sermon was ed, which was as vain and airy as the er himself. The whole transaction at man. I have never been to a camp g before or after, though I have met reachers of that persuasion, and other ers too, that were good men. money, the Babylonian priest offers his for sale; but disgrace and sin rest over that let such babblers captivate and Light in themselves, they would see sehood of priestcraft. It is the most sad eration that people can be so thoughttrough all their lifetime, that they hire a who never has handled the word of Life, a teacher and minister, and hear him, ever come to the knowledge of truth.

For "The Friend."

Religious Views and Tenets.

If we cannot come to the Father without the assistance of the Holy Spirit, how can we worship Him in spirit and in truth, without the assistance of the Spirit of truth? We cannot of ourselves even think a good thought, nor restrain an evil one.

"'Tis not in human wit, nor human might, To act, or pray, or think one thought aright."

living in us. And if He who died for us, and Scriptures, that when we have the Holy rose again for our justification, is not living Spirit within, and the Bible without, we are in us, then we shall not be raised by Him into thoroughly furnished unto all good works. newness of spiritual life. And so our prayers, And have no special need of the preached and our labors and solicitudes for the good of word only to stir up the pure mind by way of others, will be unavailing. In this condition, remembrance. But without the Holy Spirit, of what does it avail?

and to restore the preserved of Israel; I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation to the end of the earth." And while I believe the Bible to be an inexpressible blessing to mankind, next in value to the Holy Spirit; yet I believe it is not the universal and saving remedy for a fallen and sinful world. But I believe that as the devastating effects and influence of the evil spirit are universal; so the restoring and healing remedy is universal also. Finally I If we are not living unto Christ, He is not would say to such of us as are blest with the we may ask and receive not, because we ask and an enlightened understanding of the Scripamiss; being prompted by some selfish motive. tures, though we may have the tongue of the We may hold the truth in the head, while the learned, and speak forth fluently the enticing heart is unrighteous in the sight of God. But words of man's wisdom, yet it will amount to the wrath of God is revealed from heaven nothing more, in promotion of godliness, than against all ungodliness, and unrighteousness sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. "For of men, who hold the truth in unrighteous the kingdom of God is not in word but in ness." Belief is good, as far as it goes. But power." But when we have the Spirit withif it originates merely in the head, and stops in, and not the Bible, we have a more sure short of a practical and heart-changing work, word of prophecy than we can have with the Bible without the Spirit. The unrenewed We may, like some in the days of Christ, man may, by a cultivated intellect, and by think we have eternal life in the Scriptures, being "instructed in the way of the Lord; and rest satisfied there, without coming to Him of whom they testify. The Scriptures diligently the things of the Lord, knowing do not save us. But the use of the Bible is only the baptism of John." His speech and to lead us to Him who gave it forth. And his preaching will, by the enticing words of all scripture (it being given by inspiration of man's wisdom, meet the applause of those God,) is for our learning; that the man of God who have itching ears, and thus gather in an "through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope." And while I do not man, but not to the glory of the Lord. Jesus read, in any part of the Bible, that the Scrip-said, while personally among men, "I am tures are able to save us; yet I do read where come in my Father's name, and ye received Paul told Timothy that they were able to me not: if another shall come in his own make him wise unto salvation through faith name, him ye will receive." But, on the that is in Christ Jesus. But it is a heavenly other hand, one may come among us, in the wisdom that they teach to the man of God; name of the living God, and speak forth the or to all who have faith to be taught. Not words of truth and soberness in demonstrathe wisdom of this world, for that is foolish- tion of the spirit and power, to the great reness with God. And the world, by its wisdom freshment and comfort of the favored few who knows not God nor the deep things of God. are walking in the narrow way, and who have eeting was abominable: Heft, a sad but They are hid from the wise and prudent of an ear to hear what the Spirit saith unto the the babes, or churches. So we see that we may have the little ones in Christ. World'y things are un- Bible without the Spirit, and we may have derstood by worldly wisdom; and heavenly the Spirit without the Bible; and we may things by heavenly wisdom. And as the have both in mutual harmony, to the great Scriptures are of a heavenly origin, and treat comfort and refreshment of the weary Chrisof heavenly things; so the deep things of God tian traveller in his journey onward towards contained in them, can only be understood by his heavenly home. And we may have a hem; for, if they did take heed to the men of God, or such as are enlightened by a ministry without the visible Bible. But if heavenly wisdom. "O the depth of the riches the spirit of it is in the heart, and the light of both of the wisdom and knowledge of God!" the living God is there also; the baptizing How futile it is for poor finite man, with his power of it will be felt. And by it we shall limited capacities, to undertake to find them be strengthened, and prompted to "warn the out! Yet God, in great mercy, has revealed unruly, to comfort the feeble-minded, to supan ample portion of the mysteries of his port the weak, and to be patient toward all heavenly kingdom, and of his grace, unto men." Also to exhort one another, and to his humble, dedicated, and obedient children assist in building up the church in the most "by his Spirit; for the Spirit searchet all holy faith. We may also have a ministry things, yea the deep things of God." And (and we now do have much of it) with the data more than one class in the com. I am abundantly convinced that a restor- Bible in the hand, and also in the head, which y has rights. Of smokers who indulge ing portion of gospel grace or the power of is only superficial, baptizing the surface of presence of ladies and other non-God, through the Spirit that searcheth all the emotional man, without reaching the rs, he says: "These are men whose things, has been inwardly preached to every heart, or changing it, but producing an eleo habit. They do not even consider, heaven, even where the light of the Bible has wind, the earthquake and the fire, in Elijah's onot think of it, that these people have never been known. For God, through his day. But was the Lord in it? Or is He not to the pure, fresh air so important to prophet, in speaking of Christ, says, (Is. xlix. far more likely to be in the "still small voice" romfort and health, and they poison it 6) "It is a light thing that thou shouldst be which instructed Elijah, while in the calm, pacco smoke.

my servant, to raise up the tribes of Jacob, after the confused noise had past away?

It is sorrowful to see so many now in our that the heathen should rule over us, and say where is their God?

Dublin, Ind., 12th mo. 27th, 1882.

For "The Friend."

seemed freshly to bring to mind the wonder portion of the population under religious in plishment they hope to use while waiting ful works and infinite wisdom and goodness of fluences by free breakfasts, and quotes from tomers in their little shops. the great Author of our being and of all one of the daily papers, the following: created things. Whilst many of my fellow "There seems to be nearly cound not be the daily papers, the following: wonderful works to the children of men."

society making what is called Christmas day gentlemen are in attendance, posted through membership to thirty persons, but the and New Year's day (as I have believed) too the hall. They act the part of a sort of moral became so popular that in less than much a time of mirth and of improper feast-policemen, and taking all things into account, months over 800 members were enrolled in all their doings and actions, "to do all to breakfast, some simple religious services are the capital, and the good work is now on the glory of God." I have often been led held according to their way. greatly to admire the language of the Psalmist where he says, "Thou crownest the year with principally of tramps, and others who belong knowledge which the Samaritan Society goodness and thy paths drop fatness." to the very lowest stratum of society, with parts to its members can be applied in And were we as a nation and as a people more men and women who have seen better days - paths of life, preventing death and rel concerned daily to live in his favor and his a lawyer, the son of an ex-Mayor, a Ceylon suffering. Prof. Esmarch's plan makes fear, would we not experience more of his coffee-planter, medical students, a master of bership conditional upon passing an extension blessings poured upon us not only arts, schoolmasters, clerks, the daughters of tion after hearing a course of lectures; it temporally but spiritually, and our hearts ministers, all of whom can trace their ruin to amination being partly oral, partly in wi often be filled with gratitude and praise to his the infatuated love of strong drink. The and partly in a practical application great and ever worthy name?

1st mo. 1st, 1883.

death and this writing, but that dead babe to-drink. Passing a few yards down the same day has more power over me than any living street, he saw a man who was once an ordained was recently asked why he gave aw man. He walks the streets with me. He Presbyterian minister, and had received a much during his life. He is reported to goes to all the funerals of infauts. Before his regular college education, in rags, also the vic-answered; "Because I feel that I am a tr death I did not know how to talk at the tim of strong drink. Going on to a bridge responsible for the right use of the funeral of a babe. Now I know at least how over a beautiful river, a few minutes walk given me. With the experience that I to sympathize with the parents. When a from the aforesaid wrecks of what they were, I believe that I am the person best que man comes into my house, and tells me with he saw a person lying on his back helplessly quivering lips that there is a baby lying dead drunk, who was once a teacher of elocution, trusteeship. What certainty have I in his home. I go with him, led by the hand of the hand of these bree melancholy in-carried out after my death? By an quarter of a century ago."—Dr. Deems in stances of the debasing power of a tyrannical these gifts in my lifetime, I am sure the Church Union.

Need of Watchfulness .- In our little meeting beloved Society, reading Moses with a vail [at Sydney, New South Wales,] I had to labor Monthly Register of the Philadelphia over their eyes; turning away from our high to turn the attention of the congregation to for organizing charity, details the op distinguishing views of the spirituality of true the importance of self examination; lest, by of a movement started about a year Christian worship; turning again to the weak any means, after having known reconciliation give evening instruction to working and beggarly elements of the shadowy dispension with the Father, through repentance and Several classes were formed and the sation; turning away from that pure worship faith in his beloved Son, they should have for were exceedingly moderate. In the in spirit and in truth, which our forefathers saken their first love, and have suffered other when the winter's work was reviewed. suffered so much to establish before a gainsay, things so to have occupied their minds and found that 226 pupils had paid the half ing world. It is a religiou and worship which entangled their affections, as to have taken fee and attended the classes regular caused them to be abundantly persecuted by precedence of the love of God. They were large number of women heard the the formal professors around them. But what also reminded, that though the deeds of a good lectures, paying five cents for each | a change has come over us! The remnant man will bear the light of open day, in the The Book keeping, Cooking and Sewin now who are still endeavoring to hold fast sight of his fellow-man, yet as things may look es had grown beyond volunteer manag the profession of our ancient faith without well to the eye of man while the heart is, and had professional teachers. The wavering, are persecuted by false brethren—nevertheless, far from right before God, it is ing staff had proved faithful, working by those who are professing to walk by the necessary to bring our deeds to that Light sustained enthusiasm. Several pupils same rule, and minding the same thing. For which manifests whatever is reprovable, book-keeping class had already secure this, the ways of Zion mourn. The harps of which is spoken of by the apostle Paul in his tions, with increased pay. The house many are hung, as it were, upon the willows epistle to the Ephesians, (chap. v. 13, 14.) and free of charge and the teachers chiefly in the midst of the streams of confusion, which is the same as that treated of by the teers, the expenses were nearly all covered to the streams of confusion. Their cries are often put up in secret, to the evangelist John, when, in speaking of Christ, the pupils' fees. After thorough disc God of our fathers that He would spare his he says, "in Him was life, and the life was of the work done, the second season was people, and give not his heritage to reproach, the Light of men."—Jas. Backhouse.

For "The Friend," Religious Items, &c.

Whiskey-drinking .- The Scotch correspondent of the National Baptist speaks of the ef-Another year has rolled over us which has forts made to bring some of the most degraded ten knitting and embroidery.

"There seems to be nearly equal numbers of an organization which is now attrac beings for whom Christ died may this day be of men and women, and many of them have good deal of interest in Germany. Pre spending their precious time in gratifying the boys and girls with them. Some of the peo. Esmarch, of Kiel, the founder and pro lusts of the eye, the lusts of the flesh, and the ple are decent, tidy-looking folks, though of the movement, proposes to establish vanity of the unregenerate heart, I have felt wearing a sad, care-worn expression; others the towns and cities of the empire so a desire that gratitude and thankfulness may bear traces of debaued and villainy; the prevail for mercies and favors past, and that the ensuing year may be more devoted to the service of our God. "Oh that men would rowdyism and maliciousness. The hall is but who cannot at one secure medie out who cannot at one secure medie praise the Lord for his goodness and for his seated with forms; and as the guests pour in Prof. Esmarch had seen the beneficial onderful works to the children of men,"
I have sometimes been grieved to observe attention to the rules of decorum, to the places land, and commenced by forming a soci members of our beloved and highly favored allotted to them. A staff of young ladies and Kiel. It was at first intended to lim ing, instead of feeling an engagement of soul, their duties are astonishingly easy." After ranks and professions. Berlin soon

The audiences, this writer states, "consist ing all over the country. The pra writer of this article, when passing through a principles and methods taught by the let Scottish city containing about 26,000 inhabi- Every Samaritan is therefore an effi tants, saw a man begging bread, who was at member of the organization .- Monthly I "A quarter of a century lies between that one time an apothecary, the victim of strong ter. habit during the course of five minutes."

Evening classes for Working Women additional room, and certain advanced made up of last year's pupils. One add elass has a character of its own. It co of five colored women who are learning work of various kinds, including sock and ten knitting and embroidery. This a

The Samaritan Society.-This is the Wise Giving .- A munificent philanth precise object I desire is accomplished it hat have been said or written on givutterance is one of the very best.

For " The Friend."

Natural History, Science, &c.

Winnipeg.—Geological investigations gether were 7 feet long and one pair shown me the way .- Captain Parker Snow. essile arms 10 feet 5 inches, and the put more slender.

greatest velocity of the Gulf Stream kindness. per hour, and an average velocity of the Equator. In the middle of the and showed the greatest possible affection. the surface temperature was 83° Fahr. "The driver of the eart came out of a shop,

God's life in it, I have ever arrested and Beast. anton sport at sea. If, however, for fulness, the case is different. But the ling for killing's sake, or from thoughtreckless whim, is to me distasteful. isnre of watching birds at sea, whether r or skimming the ocean wave's crest, iny minds very keen. And there is ng more too to be considered. Marioften tell their way by these birds, ly when nearing a coast. I well rehow I used to watch for them on hing certain coasts, such as parts of ia, too low to be seen at the ordinary Once, when coming from Monte with a mail and important government ject of marriage, the consideration of which to pay for their cost and postage. nes on board for the Falkland Islands, was postponed for a year. ble to run on my course in safety a particular bird having joined comth us. On the occasion I refer to, we proaching the land in thick, misty was anxious, for it was drawing to- report was adopted. vening, and I wished to get in to Port r, so thick that we could not see a ead. Presently a shrill noise was took charge one year previously.

flapping of wings made us look round

The following paragraphs are taken from re convinced it is more blessed to give from land. Therefore, we cautiously ran on Yearly meeting; on account of the unsettlereceive." Amongst all the good till I caught a glimpse of a bluff cape, then ment in the Society, it was felt to be a time of steered more easterly, till after dark, with a peculiar temptation to them; but they were clearer night, I sighted Cape Pembroke Light, carnestly counselled to take heed to the visitaand knowing the passages well, worked my tions of the Holy Spirit in their own hearts, vessel up Port William, then shot through as the only certain way to find that establishnearly opposite Government House, about one times of trouble. It is always dangerous to show that the waters of Lake Winni- o'clock in the morning. Next day, I was slight these divine visitations in our hearts, rmer ages found their way southward thanked by His Excellency the Governor—. There is a treasure in them, for they are the the Mississippi, instead of flowing as himself a high naval officer—for the quick gift of our Heavenly Father's love, and if we w do into Hudson's Bay.

Cephalopoda.—Two gigantic species wished-for private correspondence, we had ence, they will prove a pleasure; for in them eiths or squids, have recently been brought. But to this day, I thank God's is found the peace that passeth understanding.

New Zealand. In one, the head and leathered pilots, who had then and often.

"Friends were carnestly reminded that it is ar arms 25 feet; the circumference of my father bought from a neighboring farmer faithful people. In these days, when the pro-9 feet. The other species was rather a grey Galloway pony, which was very vicious fessions of the people are wavering, when to all with whom he came in contact, except their speech and their preaching is all about Tulf Stream.—The investigations of myself. The way in which I acquired so the outward Christ, the outward blood, and st Survey Steamer "Blake," unde mich power over him was by feeding him outward professions, it is of the greatest Little Bahama Bank and Florida, with bread, and showing him other acts of moment that all Friends should seek to know

"Some years afterwards I left home, and ance, the virtue of these things, which are in-The amount of water flowing in it when I returned to my father's house, I found ward and spiritual. mated to be more than 51,000,000, that 'Donald' had been sold, and that all gallons per hour. The location of trace of him had been lost for about sevenrent is much affected by the wind, teen years. At that period, being resident in to light, from the power of Satan unto God; eral depth in the centre was about a village in a neighboring county, I saw an as we, as a people, again return to these apoms, and the bottom there appeared old white horse in a cart, and thinking it pearances of Christ in the heart, there will be ushed nearly clear of coze and other night be the same animal, I went up to him tound the ancient carefulness that our daily The Arctic current of cold water in the same way as I used to do in boyhood, ne Gulf Stream about Cape Hatteras, and said, 'Donald.' He immediately turned der it and then follows the outside of his head to me, laid it on my shoulder, pawed this holy mountain. The prayers of such as eau over which it flows, on its way the ground, rubbed his nose upon my arm, these will be, Search me and try me, oh Lord, bottom temperature 44°-Amer. Jour. and warned me to keep away from the horse, or he would bite me. I moved up the street, at Emporia. ered Friends at Sea .- Birds at sea, when 'Donald' became restive, wrenched the wild in the air or tame on board, are reins out of the lad's hands, followed me along ore value to man than too many care the street, and it was not until I entered a For myself, apart from all feeling house that after much difficulty, he was incitation for furnishing home teaching and the innecessarily destroying anything duced to move away."—J. G. Wood's Man use of a Free Circulating Library in raised unnecessarily destroying anything duced to move away."-J. G. Wood's Man

THE FRIEND.

FIRST MONTH 20, 1883.

A printed copy of the Minutes of Kansas Yearly Meeting (the smaller body) held at Quakervale, Kansas, in 10th month last, has been received.

a few changes-except as relates to the sub. street, Philadelphia, and enclosing ten cents, consider the propriety of entering into corre- time, and after this is done they can have the spondence with the body of Friends residing free use of the Library by paying postage on near Cayuga Lake, New York, reported that the books. with a strong fair breeze. It had a part of the Committee visited that meeting, puded over for a day or two, so that and that way does not open to enter into robservations were somewhat doubt correspondence with them at this time. The

It was concluded to replace under the careof with the mail that night. It was, Spring River Quarterly Meeting, the Academy at Spring River, of which the Yearly Meeting

I want. And then too, I am more for these birds never fly beyond so many miles was felt and expressed for the youth of this the "Narrows," and anchored in Port Stanley ment that will bring inward peace in these > only by coming to the inward virtue and Memory in a Horse .- "When I was a boy, power of the Spirit, that will ever make us a by an experimental knowledge and acquaint-

"These things are only rightly known as we are born again, as we turn from darkness walk and lives may be squared by the Divine standard; made after the pattern showed in and if there be any wicked way in me, do Thou it away.

The Yearly Meeting next year is to be held

We have received a circular from an assotype, for the adult blind.

In the city, it is proposed to employ some women visitors to go to the houses of the blind, and encourage them to learn to read. In the committee are several Friends residing in and near Philadelphia.

The Library consists of the Bible in sixtyfive parts, and over two hundred and fifty volumes of History, Travels, Biography, Poetry, &c.

The blind living in any portion of the United States, can have the Alphabet and a learner's The Discipline of Ohio Yearly Meeting was reading card mailed to them by addressing adopted for the government of the body, with John P. Rhoads, Bible House, No. 701 Walnut

Those who knew how to read before getting A Committee appointed the year before to blind, can learn this system in a few weeks

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

UNITED STATES.—In the Senate, the Presidential succession bill has passed by a vote of 40 to 13. It provides: That in ease of removal, death, resignation or inability of both President and Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State shall be eligible to the office. In eves of the latter being ineligible through "death, resignation or inability," the Secretary of the Treasury. Ineligibility of the latter gives precedence to the Secretary of War. Then the Automey ve; and soon we saw what we call the Minute on the state of Society:
ot" bird. I knew my distance now,

"A very deep sympathy and tender regard deeperal, Fostmaster General, Fostmaster General, Secretary of War, Then the Attorney

Secretary of the Interior, come in succession to act until tion, and not under articles of impeachment.

Representative Belmont, of New York, has introduced a resolution directing the Committee on Ways and Means "forthwith to report to the House whether or not any class or classes of industry in the United States, infant or aged, and, if so, what class or classes, require aid or support from the federal government, either in the form of customs duty levied on imported articles or in any other form of bounty, subsidy, charity or donation; also, to report what class or classes of in-dustry, if any, do not now require such aid and sup-Hogs were in demand and prices were firm: 6300

The Pension bill was passed by the House on Seventhday, it appropriates for army pensions $85,000,000; navy pensions, $1,000,000; fees and expenses of examining surgeons, $275,000; pay of agents, $290,000; contingent expenses, $10,000. The Fortification bill. $325,000.

furnished with an official copy of the opinion of the Atorney General to the effect that Chinese can pass the 12th and 13th of this month, under the Crimes act, through the United States. The Department will, in A number of them had arms in their possession, and a short time, promulgate regulations in accordance with this opinion. The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the coinage of a 5-cent nickel piece of a new design, which is considered as being more in accordance with the law from Shields, bound for Bombay, has been burned at became ignited, and the flames quickly spread as regards weight and inscriptions than the present 5- sea. Ten persons are known to baye been saved, but walls and roof. The audience, numbering eight as regards weight and inscriptions than the present 5cent nickel piece. The new coin is a little leavier than two boats, containing the captain, mate, and fourteen the present ane and a little larger and thinner. On its hands, are missing a reaching the present are and of "Liberty," surrounded by thirteen | A British note in regard to Egypt proposes that, in dered useless. A rush was then made to the two stars; on the reverse a wreath surrounding a Roman numeral representing the denomination of the coin.

ducts from the United States during the eleven months sels of a belligerent power are permitted to remain in which ended on 11th mo. 30th last were $41,670,160, the canal, and that no troops or munitions of war shall destroyed by fire on the morning of the 10th; eightyone persons perished in the flames or were killed by for by a clause excepting measures in the windows, and about thirty others Egypt from the above restrictions. Every power shall burning the welve months which ended on were injured, of whom several may not recover. The be bound to bear the cost of the immediate repair of 31st, 1882, there arrived in Canada 175,418 persons the injured, of whom several may not recover. The bound to bear the cost of the immediate repair of 31st, 1882, there arrived in Canada 175,418 persons perso jumping from the windows, and about thirty others Manufacturers' Bank and a number of stores and offices and the loss on property will reach several hundred thousand dollars.

The latest reports of the recent blizzard in Dakota, Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin and lowa, say that a be construed as curtailing the territorial rights of Egypt number of people have been frozen to death and lost in further than is expressly stipulated, the snow, and that railroad travel is much impeded.

A syndicate of Chicago capitalists propose to lease a The Indians are said to be ready to make the bargain, Khee and an effort is being made to obtain the approval of view.

the Secretary of the Interior.

A Pittsburg pawnbroker has observed that 99 per cent. of the money he lends is spent on intoxicating rewards for the slaughter of 1225. drink.

Shiloh, Kentucky, that all business is suspended there, Constitutionalists. It is declared that the Ministry will and many of the inhabitants have left. Several physical endeavor to conciliate all parties, and strive to obtain St., Germantown; or at the Store, No. 4771 Ma (Germantown) or at the Store, No. 4771 type, A member of the Washington Board of Health, sent to Baltimore on Fourth-day to investigate the small-pox in the latter city, reports that nearly 3000 inundation thus far by the frost. When the thaw began cases of the disease exist there, only 200 of which were the water suddenly rose all over the district. At 3 reported by the Baltimore health authorities.

The deaths in this city last week numbered 390, which was 19 less than the previous week, and the same bers of fugitives crowded into a solidly built theatre number as in the corresponding week of last year. The which stands on an island in the midst of the Park; but number of males was 192, of females 198; 42 died of here a new panic arose, the water gradually rising as consumption; 42 of inflammation of the lungs; 22 of far as the first gallery. Meanwhile, around Raab, the Spring rever, and to a smart-pox.

Markets, de.—U. S. 3s, registered, 103; 31s, regissewell as the ordinatered, 102; 44s, registered, 113; coupon, 113; 4s, annuare of lives were registered, 119; coupon, 119; correctory 6s, 129 a 132.

Cotton continues dull, but prices were unchanged, cased of middlings are reported at 10j a 10j ets. per Later.—The inhabit

pound for uplands and New Orleans.

and 8\sqrt{3} a 8\sqrt{2} cts, per gallon for home use.

Flour is firm, but the extreme views of holders restrict business. Sales of 2700 barrels, including Min-the vacancy is lawfully filled. Provided, that each of bushels red in ear lots at $1.01 a $1.12, as to quality be a famine unless assistance is prompt. The these is eligible to the Presidency under the Constitution. By e is nominal at 58 cts for No. 2 Pennthe flooded country in the Middle Rhine distribution. ylvania. Corn is in fair request and firm, with sales of 7000 bushels in lots to the local trade at 58 a 65 cts., as to quality and location. Outs are dull and weak; sales of 8500 bushels in car lots at 44 a 493 cts.

Beef cattle were in fair demand and prices were fraction higher: 3000 head arrived and sold at the different yards at 5 a 7 cts. per lb., the latter rate for extra. Sheep were in demand and prices were a fraction higher: 9000 head arrived and sold at 41 a 61 cts., and head sold at the different yards at 8 a 92 cts. per 1b.,

as to quality. FOREIGN.—The steamer Victoria, of the Warren line, which arrived at Liverpool on the 11th, landed 1580 sheep and 378 oxen. This is the sixth trip she has made with the new system of ventilation by extra funnels and contingent expenses, 510,000. The Fortinganon only with the first second relation of all shafts in the funnel casing. During this time she $225,000. has brought over a total of 7846 sheep and 3211 head The Treasury Department was on the 10th instant, of cattle, and has lost only nine cattle on the passage. A great number of arrests were made in Dablin on are charged with conspiracy to murder. The arrests were effected in various parts of the city. The prisoners are principally of the artisan class,

The British ship British Empire, Captain Rickers, order to avoid any abuse of the freedom of the Suez Canal, it shall be enacted that in time of war a limita-The total exports of petroleum and petroleum pro- tion shall be placed on the time during which the vesagainst $44,415,673 during the corresponding period of be disembarked, and no hostilities shall be permitted against 247,19970 and gue compounding processing a second of the preceding years.

In the weight of the second of emergency resembling the late rebellion is provided shall take all measures in her power to enforce the conditions imposed upon ships of belligerent Powers using ton, Manitoba, the catch of fish this season havin the canal. No fortifications are to be erected on the much below the average. canal or in its vicinity. Nothing in the agreement shall

Among other subjects, the note declares the question of the suppression of slavery and the slave trade to be track of land thirty miles square in the Indian Terri-tory for grazing purposes at a rental of $50,000 a year, and that it will miss no opportunity of advising the Khedive to take steps calculated to attain the end in

> That large numbers of wolves still exist in France is shown by the fact that the Government last year paid

It is expected that the composition of the new Spanish The small-pox is reported to be so prevalent in Ministry will ensure the fusion of the Centralists and

Vienna, 1st mo. 10th.-The town of Raab, Hungary, and the adjacent villages have been only saved from o'clock yesterday morning the inhabitants were aroused by alarm bells and began a rapid flight. Large numdiphtheria; 18 of old age; 15 of bronchitis; 15 of dykes breaking, at length admitted deluge which typhoid fever, and 10 of small-pox. as well as the ordinary inhabitants. A considerable number of lives were lost, but fortunately the flood did not reach some of the higher parts of the town, and Later .- The inhabitants of Raab have abandoned the town. The floods rose so rapidly that many persons, in Petroleum.—Standard white, 73 a 72 cts. for export, trying to escape, fell through the ice and were drowned. An epidemic is imminent, owing to the over-crowding of dwellings and privation.

Pesth, 1st mo. 15th.-The Danube has subsided strict business. Cates of 2000 burrers, uncounting an everywhere above Mahass, on the west arm of that neoda extras at $5 a $5.75; Pennsylvania family at everywhere above Mahass, on the west arm of that $4.75; western do at $5 a $5.05, and patents at $6 a river, but the figitives cannot return to their homes are $7.25. Eye flour is dull at $3.75 per barrel.

Grain.-Wheat is quiet but firmer; sales of 5100 out the flooded districts of Hungary there will c clusive of the tributaries of that river, is comp nearly half as large again as the Lake Constant King of Bavaria has given a second 10,000 m the relief of his distressed subjects.

A Berlin despatch to the Lon lon Times say Emperor William, at his own instance, has in the contribution from the Imperial fund towa relief of distress by the floods from 500,000 to marks. The Emperor said, in making the in that it was intolerable to him to think of the hi shivering from cold and hunger while he was si a warm room.

The Daily News' Berlin despatch says it is e that the losses by the floods will reach 80,000,000

The Biden Ministry appeal to the generosity British public in behalf of 20,000 persons re homeless by the floods.

Persons frozen to death are found in the st Moscow daily. There have been four deaths fr eold at Kharkoff. It is stated that the Czar has a decree dissolving all the secret societies in Ru On the 13th inst. during the performance at a in Berditscheff, in Russian Poland, a fire broke the building, and before the spectators could esc whole structure was ablaze. The fire broke out the end of the performance, and was caused by th less handling of fireworks on the stage. The inward, and as the crowd pressed forward it w dered useless. A rush was then made to the tw doors, both of which were nailed up, thus com the people to take to the windows, from which sprang into the street with their clothes a sheet of The fire brigade arrived within half an hour, bu impossible to extinguish the flames, as the water tanks was frozen. The fire lasted two hours. A de from Vienna says the ice broke while the fire by were crossing the river to Berditschoff, thus prev them from reaching the fire more promptly. mated that 90 men, 120 women and 60 childr their lives.

Destitution is feared among the Indians near E

WESTTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL. The Committee in charge of this Institution wi an adjourned meeting on the 19th inst., at 10 A. WM. EVANS, C

NOTICE.

The Germantown Employment Society has or a large stock of serviceable clothing for men, and children, at low prices. These are well sui Indians or Freedmen. A discount of ten per cer-be allowed on all sales of twenty dollars and over Application may be made to Anna Spencer, Germantown.

FRIENDS' ASYLUM FOR THE INSAM Near Frankford, (Twenty third Ward,) Philadel Physician and Superintendent-John C. Hali Applications for the Admission of Patients 1 made to the Superintendent, or to any of the B Managers.

DIED, at her residence in West Philadelphia, 5th of 12th month, 1882, DEBORAH C., wife of R. Howell, in the 46th year of her age, a b member of West Chester Particular and Birmit Monthly Meeting of Friends, Pennsylvania. He ness, though short, was attended with evidence the work of preparation had been going on. He plications on behalf of her family were fervent, festing implicit faith in her adorable Redeemer. relatives consolingly believe that, through unm mercy, she has been received into that glorious dom where the weary are forever at rest.

> WILLIAM H. PILE, PRINTER, No. 422 Walnut Street.

FRIEND. THR

A RELIGIOUS AND LITERARY JOURNAL.

OL. LVI.

SEVENTH-DAY, FIRST MONTH 27, 1883.

NO. 25.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

, if paid in advance, $2.00 per annum; if not paid in advance $2,50; 10 cents extra is charged for Postage on those sent by mail.

Articles designed for insertion to be addressed to JOSEPH WALTON. MOORESTOWN, BURLINGTON Co., N. J.

PHILADELPHIA.

prions, payments and business communications, received by JOHN S. STOKES, NO. 116 NORTH FOURTH STREET, UP STAIRS, Pennsylvania History. the Projected Palatinate of Sir E. Plowden. ithin the last decade the attention of ral gentlemen of antiquarian taste has led to the investigation of undetermined tions relating to the early history of New ey. It would seem a reasonable assumpthat history can be rightly written from ient that it requires that a century or two dd pass before we can really reach the h of events. Records then become the ble data, confirmed by letters or incial notices found in the journals of conporaries, that long after their death may come to light through the press. This seeived as the final verdict.

tiam Penn has been the theme of deors and admirers. That those who were influenced by religion, and whose symlies were alien to the pure principles that right in the mind of Penn, should endeavor city and his self-sacrificing spirit can be ained by supposing that his detractors dar circumstances.

our generations passed away, and a eenand a third after his death, his corredence with James Logan, his business et, revealed his unshaken probity and firm rence to the principles of Truth, and to convictions he had long entertained reting the rights of the people. Amid ptation and wrongs and spoiling, he held came lofty and philanthropic spirit, and (gh sorely tried, "he kept his constancy trinth" unto the end. This correspond-, many will remember, was published in le Friend," under the able editorial care he late accomplished Alfred Cope, and ned the most valuable contribution that been made to Pennsylvania history durthe present century.* This was the thoroughly competent critic of contributions theology!" to her annals. The numerous papers on early Pennsylvania history by this accomplished among some old papers in the Massachusetts scholar, some of which were published in Historical Society, and bears date "Septem-"The Friend," evidence his deep interest in ber ye 15, 1682," and is addressed to "Ye aged the subject. These are doubtless the result and beloved John Higginson.' of studies preparatory to a History of the State, which death, that spoiler of many a fair scheme, prevented him from completing. His Elias Holdcroft, of London, did advise me by proclivity towards historical studies, his ele-the last packet that it would sail some time gant and ready pen, and above all his genuine in August) called ye Welcome, R. Green was sympathy with the Christian principles of the Master, which has aboard a hundred or more founder, and warm admiration of his character of ye heretics and malignants called Quakers, as a man, a philanthropist and a statesman, with W. Penn, who is ye scamp at ye head would have rendered him a chosen instru-ment as a writer of a bistory worthy of the given secret order to master Malachi Huxlett wonderful origin and remarkable annals of of ye brig Porpoise, to waylaye ve said Welontemporary stand-point only, but it is the first Christian Commonwealth. His "Ex- come as near ye coast of Codd as may be, and amination of the various charges brought by make captive of ye said Penn and his unhistorians against William Penn, both as a godlie crew, so that ye Lord may be glorified man and as a political governor," may be read, and not mocked on the soil of this new comin "Memoirs of the Historical Society of the West of the Historical Society of the pleasant, "vol. II. part II., p. 127. In a ple. Much spoil can be made by selling ye tract entitled, "Bi-Centennial Reading," by whole lot to Barbadoes, where slaves fetch Frederick D. Stone, Librarian of the Histori- good prices in runnic and sugar; and we shall sell Society and appendid to the Rullatin of not only day as Lord reading as he will ence has the invaluable merit of freedom cal Society, and appended to the Bulletin of not only do ye Lord great service by punishthe bias of passion and interest, and must the Library Company of Philadelphia, for ing ye wicked, but shall make gayne for his July, 1882, may be found an outline notice of ministers and people. he early history of Pennsylvania has been the abounding material that must engage the bject of controversy, and the course of attention of the earnest student of Pennsylvania history.

ac devotee to the elucidation of our early annals.

The marked proclivity towards historical studies evinced by our late friend Alfred Cope; his wide and varied culture and intimate acquaintance with our colonial times, stract from their exalted character, is not and their civil and religious troubles; as well rising, but that any should question his as his familiarity with the sound Christian views of Friends, rendered his often humorous and always facile pen, the fittest instrument sure the motives of the founder by those for exposing the errors, misconceptions and by would have actuated themselves in abounding perversions of the author of "Grahame's Colonial History."

Friends in their course in Pennsylvania and elsewhere, it would seem, have ever been a favorite theme on which to exhibit the malevolence or envy of the Scotch Presbyterian writers, since the day when George Fox visited Scotland and proclaimed the Scripture doctrine of the universality of Divine grace, and against which the priests drew up a series of curses to be read in their "steeple houses, to which curses the people were all required to say, amen.

In the criticisms upon "Grahame," Cotton Mather, the representative of Puritan theology, comes in for his just share of chastisement, and who more than Cotton, deserves to be gibbeted to lasting infamy-the author of the following letter which bears internal evidence of authenticity, and which so happily The Penn and Logan Correspondence has since published by the Pennsylvania Historical Society, forms vols. ix, and x. of their Memoirs. It was forms vols. ix, and x. of their Memoirs. It was the defited by the late Edward Armstrong, an enthal collected by the late Edward Armstrong, an enthal collected by the late Edward for our early analysis. The second of the provided by the late fixed of our early analysis, and the collected by this self as willing to become delicities the decidence of our early analysis. The second of the provided by the second of the provided by the second of the opinion expressed to the writer by the late particeps criminis with those who would have Job R. Tyson, who had, by close study of been pirates and slave-traders. Alas! for the early Pennsylvania history, made himself a darkness of those days and their "Christian

The letter is said to have been discovered

"There is now at sea a shippe (for our friend

"Yours in ye bowels of Christ, "COTTON MATHER."*

That the spirit of this letter ruled among the authorities in Boston is confirmed by Abel Cushing in his "Historical Letters," where he says: "Under this adjudication [that of the court] one of the treasurers actually sought to send [Lawrence] Southie's children to a slave market at Barbadoes. But to the lasting honor of the profession, no shipmaster could be found to take them; and one especially affirmed that should be be tempted to engage in so foul a business, he would never trust himself at sea again in the best ship that ever swam, and he bade the wicked treasurer go home and repent.'

These valuable criticisms and exposures of the false presentation of the course of Friends in Pennsylvania and New England, may be read in volumes xix. and xx. of "The Friend." Philadelphia, 1845-6 and 1846-7. That they have not been republished in book form, and thus rendered accessible to the general reader we much regret. Their republication would even now be timely.

A vast addition has lately been made to the mass of inedited matter from which the history of Penn's "Holy Experiment" must be drawn, or which shall corroborate that already written. This has been secured and deposited in the fireproof room of the Penn- what I had to say, why he should not pass sylvania Historical Society, and awaits the sentence upon me. advent of him who shall come fitted by nature, a history which shall stand out in high relief can say nothing. as a model both for excellence of style and the unsurpassed worth of its subjec ...

[* If this letter is not the production of C. Mather,

(To be continued.)

For " The Friend,"

Gleanings from Quaker Annals.

The following account of a trial of George Fox, at the Lancaster assizes, has been preserved. It affords, writes a sketcher of the ject, so, not having named me in the indictperiod, a eurious specimen of the calm, and somewhat amusing inflexibility, with which the poor oppressed Friends in their turn perplexed and troubled their persecutors. The judge and jury might well be confused and law as can scarcely be surpassed.

When two days or thereabouts, had been fruitlessly occupied in tendering him the oath of allegiance, I was called again to hear the day of January. sentence. Whereupon, the judge asked me

* This large addition to the resources of our historian were obtained through the liberality of the late Alfred Cope, John Jordan, Jr., and other members of the Historical Society, who purchased the papers and pamphlets relating to our history, which were offered for sale by book collectors who had accidentally been apprized called. of their value, and had rescued them from the devourbeen consigned. This confection recase chiefly to Fenns lessions was on the day called Tuesday; which say have the book says, and yet ye imply proved liself of special value by throwing light upon many hitherto obscure points. Though mostly arranged Look now, said I, ye have indicted me for book for saying so? How comes it that and classified, it has not been catalogued or indexed, refusing the oath in the quarter sessions held book is at liberty amongst you, which and may fill about one hundred folio volumes.

MSS, obtained from the heirs of Edmund Physic, who, for nearly half a century, was in the Proprietary service, Union possesses so rich a collection of original MSS.

illustrating its early annals.

The writer, in common with others interested in the labor of collecting old documents, and rescuing them from the destroying tooth of time, regrets that more generous contributions are not made by our wealthy and liberal-minded citizens to the fund for copying, arranging and binding those invaluable records, historical and genealogical. Already a good work has begun in the alphabetical transfer of the records of marriages, births and deaths of the Society of Friends in Philadelphia Yearly Meeting. Much of this has been the last assize here holden, which was in the a labor of love; and the genealogical history of many descendants of the first settlers has been thus satisfactorily reached, and a vast amount of painstaking and expensive research has been spared the enthusiastic judge. But sums have also been expended on this work, and much fifteenth year." remains to be done, and the cause lingers for want of means, to prosecute the worthy object to its completion.

The Society of Friends in England, in order that its original records of marriages, births and deaths might original records of marriages, births and deaths might could not tell what to say; for the fludge had The two missionaries opened a girls be accepted in British Cours as authorities equal to the cours the officers of the court, that the other school, and I, then but five years old, better legistration of their immerse mass of records of was tendered me at the assize mentioned in sent to that school with my two sisters. this class, amounting it is said to several tons. Their transcript employed a large force of clerks upwards of eighteen months, and many thousand pounds sterling. I told the judge, I had yet more to offer, to easily, my lattier used to assemble the were expended thereon. The whole is classified under stop the sentence; and I asked, whether all family, in the evening, to listen to my reason. were expended thereon. The whole is classified under stop the sentence; and I asked, whether all analys, in every might be considered to the put in the indictment of the Bible. I generally read two or they stand upon the shelves of the Office of Friends in or no. London, present a long array of quartor and folio volumes of the size of the large ledger of a merchant, securely bound in Russia, and are open freely to the interval of the size of the large ledger of a merchant, specified of members and zealous seekers for genealogistic theorem in the coath, and thou mayest see those words, when Dr. Lansing returned to American Company and the proposed of the coath and the proposed of the proposed of the proposed of the coath and the proposed of cal information.

The writer passed a week in the office, and can testify to the wonderful fulness of this unrivalled collection of material for the family history of many members of or origin.

I told him I was no lawyer, but I had much by the study of social science, by rhetorical to say, if he would but have patience to hear. culture and by sympathy with the lofty aims At that he laughed, and others laughed also, of the Founder to give to the waiting world and said, Come, what have you to say? be need say no more.

Yes, said I; I have much to say; have but patience to hear me

I asked him whether the oath was to be tendered to the king's subjects, or to the subjects of foreign princes?

He said, to the subjects of this realm. Then, said I, look into the indictment; ye may see that you have left out the word sub-ment as a subject, ye cannot premunire me for not taking an oath.

The error being discovered, was confessed you again. The as such by the judge.

But I told him I had something else, to day, of swearing and false swearing, be vexed at such exposures in technicalities of stop his judgment; and desired him to look the justices and the jury. what day the indictment said the oath was tendered to me at the sessions.

They looked, and said it was the eleventh the justices.

What day of the week was the sessions held on? said I.

On a Tuesday, said they.

Then, said I, look at your almanaes and see whether there was any sessions held at Laneaster on the eleventh day of January, so to kiss and to swear on; and this book

So they looked and found that the eleventh and the Son says in this book, 'Swear n ing maw of the paper-mill, whither they had already day was the day called Monday; and that the all; and so says also the apostle Jame been consigned. This collection relates chiefly to Pennsessions was on the day called Tuesday; which say as the book says, and yet, ye important the say as the book says, and yet, ye important the say as the book says. sessions was on the day called Tuesday; which say as the book says, and yet ye imp at Lancaster, on the eleventh day of January me not to swear, and yet ye imprison m It has since been supplemented by the acquisition of last, and the justices have sworn that they tendered me the oath in open sessions here and by a volume of Penn papers, the gift of Saunders that day, and the jury, upon their oaths, have George Fo.

Coats. The Historical Society of no other State in the found me guilty thereupon; and yet see, there to perform. that day, and the jury, upon their oaths, have George Fox; a promise which be failed was no session held at Lancaster that day.

A great ferment among the justices, suc-till the next assize; in which time, say cecded this stroke; some of them stamping on the ground, and declaring that the mistake must have been made on purpose.

But this is not all; I have more yet to offer, why sentence should not be given against

I then asked, in what year of the king was month called March last?

In the sixteenth year of the king; said the

But, the indictment says, it was in the also to the wall from which the disciple

This error was also discovered, and com- to the Greek Orthodox Church, but v pelled to be acknowledged.

I told the judge, I had yet more to offer, to easily, my father used to assemble the w viz., [or by any authority derived or pretended to be derived, from him or his see,] left out of the indictment, which is a principal and the children indulged in petty pers our Society, and for identifying their place of residence part of an oath. And in another place, the tions, because they knew that I was a words heirs and successors, are left out.

The judge acknowledged these, also b great errors.

But, said I, I have something furt Nay, said the judge, I have enough

If, said, I, thou hast enough, I desire ing but law and justice at thy hands; fe not look for mercy You must have justice, said he, and shall have law. Then I asked, am I at liberty, and free all that ever bath been done against this matter? Yes, said he, you are free from all that been done against you. But then, he tinued, starting up in a rage, I can pu oath to any man here, and I will tende

I told him, he had examples enough y

Give him the book, said the judge give him the book! re-echoed the sheriff

If it be a Bible, said I, give it me.

Yes, yes, said the judge, give it him. The oath was then read.

When it was read, the judge asked, wh would take the oath or no?

Then said I, ye have given me a book ye have given me to kiss, says 'Kiss the doing as the book bids me?

Nay, said the judge, but we will imp

G. F. lay in prison all that long cold wi "I was so starved, with cold and rain, my body was greatly swelled, and my l much benumbed. But the Lord's powe adds, was over all."

My Escape from Two Massacres.

As Illustrating God's Care of his People. Elias Barakat, late of Syria and Egyp

I was born in Damaseus, Syria; our h was near the street called Straight, and down Paul in a basket. My parents below Dr. Lansing came to Damascus, my par Then they were all in a fret again, and were led to a clearer view of Christian to

When I had learned to read short w was sent to a Roman Catholic school; here I did not learn much, as both the pr testant. When Dr. Lansing came back ned, and with it a boys' school and a Bible Protestant Syrian College of Beirût. bt. I and my younger brother continued hristians by the Mohammedans took place year in most of the towns of Syria, the ort towns excepted, for there the Mohamn the day of the massacre my brother and we heard the sound of firing on the streets, did not suspect what was the matter. I met by a Mohammedan, who offered to we might safely reach home.

ll to our people. s who had escaped the massacre should So we got safely home.

iend of the man who had sheltered us, and every minute. aid: "I know of two boys answering that ext morning there was a knock at the of the Christians. We were almost afraid to open it, for ral times Mohammedans had come in When the door was opened, however, as by that sign they knew the Christians. e was our dear mother, with the baker;

great was our joy. youngest sister soon followed her. The the bodies.

a, however, the girls' school was again us in the school there, and afterwards in the ans were overawed by the foreign war, and I returned to Alexandria, from Asycot, to band did in like manner, and we all met on spend the summer vacation with our friends there. During the first ten days of our stay. d gone to school as usual. During the we heard bad news about a religious war, and out that we were Christians, he charged us of the occasional killing of Christians.

After I left Beirat College, I was for fourcome to my wonderful escape from the late massacre in Alexandria.

On [First-day, Sixth month 11th,] I was in t up to the roof of the house to look out, school with my sister, her husband and chilthe first thing I saw was a burning house. dren, and my brother; but my wife was at n I came down, neither teachers nor home sick. When the service was over, we lars were to be seen; and, taking my started to return home, but were met at the her, I rushed out into the street. When door by a Christian who told us that the Mo-little from the waves, which beat against us, ot out, we found that one of the streets hammedans were slaying the Christians in and wet our clothes, but when we rememugh which we must pass was in flames; the principal streets, and he directed us to narwe started to go back to the school, but row and crooked streets by which he thought us to his house and save us from being a formulately we did not meet, on our way of getting any employment by which to sup-d. Just then two armed men met us, home, any armed Mohammedans. Two young port ourselves; so we went to Marseilles, and, one drew his sword to kill me; but the men, indeed, with poles in their hands, enammedan who had taken us under his countered us; but as the three men of our for America. - Selected. ection, said, "Take care, these are my party wore tarbooshes or Turkish caps, they That Mohammedan was a good did not recognize us as Christians. My sister, ; for others used to kill the elder children, however, wore a Frank [European] bonnet, to take as their own the little ones; but and one of the young men lifted up his pole man, in the providence of God, kept us to kill her, seeing by her bonnet that she was some other children until he could restore a Christian. Her husband thereupon called son of a farmer at Up-Hurstborn, near Whitout, "Take care! This one belongs to me, fter the first outbreak, an order came from and the young man desisted, thinking that about 1702. He lost his father when very governor of the city, that all the Chris- he was a Mohammedan and she his servant.

ammedan interposed, saying to her would-voices, nor did we dare to look out of the win-frequently lay wagers on his great abilities. layer, "Are you not content with killing dows. In the streets we could hear the Momen, and burning and plundering the hammedans crying, "This is our joyous day!

I need not tell how fifteen hundred men hearted the man was who had taken us orders to shoot every man who were a hat,-

All the afternoon and all the night the they took us to our sisters. I cannot tell street-ears were engaged in carrying the dead bodies and throwing them into the sea; and r. Lansing had gone to Alexandria, Egypt, next day the police were employed in cleansore the massacre; and when he heard of ing the street from the blood of the Christians, t had happened, sent for us. Before we and gathering up the pieces of their bodies;

On the fourth day the streets were safer. As soon as we could go out, we went directly to the steamship office, and asked when the ttend the boys' school until [6th month] teen years engaged in Alexandria, Cairo, and first steamer left Egypt. An English steamer 1860, when the massacre of Christians Asyoot, in teaching, and in the translation of was to leave the next day. We did not wait mascus took place. Similar massacres religious tracts. Passing over three years, I for the morrow, however, but hastened on board. My wife covered her face like the Mohammedan women, and I walked at a dis-In [the Fifth month] of this year, my wife tance behind her, and my sister and her husthe seashore. We hired a little boat to take us on board: but when the boatman found three dollars instead of from twenty to thirty

When we got on board we were glad, and very thankful to God for preserving our lives. We took a deck passage to Malta, for the boat was crowded with refugees. We suffered a bered Alexandria we were thankful.

When we reached Malta, we found it crowded with refugees. There was no hope finding the same difficulty there, we set sail

From the "British Friend."

Memoir of Anthony Purver.

Anthony Purver, late of Andover, was the church (Hants), at which place he was born young; his uncle took care of him and brought him up. At ten years of age he was put to confined in the castle. My mother and As soon as we entered the house, we locked learn to read and write, and the first principles rs reached there in safety, but my father every door, and barricaded them with the of arithmetic. He gave early proofs of an killed, and one of my sisters would have heaviest things we could find. We kept very extraordinary genins, and was so much the ed the same fate, had not a merciful still, speaking seldom, and then only in low admiration of his neighbors that they would

About - years of age he was confined at home by illness for six weeks; during the ses?" Long live Arabi Pasha, and death to the intervals of his disorder he applied himself (hen my mother and sisters reached the Christians!" We heard some say, "There so assiduously to his studies, that he gained le, they searched for us in vain among the are Christians in these houses; let us go in a competent knowledge of all the rules of isands of people who had taken refuge and kill them." All the time we could do arithmetic, &c. When he returned to school At last they asked a baker, who was nothing but pray, for we expected death he explained to his master (who was ignorant of them) the doctrine of the square and cube Without, men and women were passing by, roots. There is nothing more essential to a ription, who are hiding in a friend's house, loaded with things which they had stolen great genius than memory. The person be-I'do not know their names." In the from Christian stores. The most delicate forc us was extraordinarily endued by nature ing becalled at the Mohammedan's house, Mohammedan ladies, whose faces were veiled in this particular; for about this cra of his when he found out our names, he promised when they went into the streets, could be seen life he declared that he could get by heart 12 of we should be restored to our friends next on that day running about with uncovered the longest chapters in the Bible in 12 hours' faces, and carrying on their heads the goods time; and this he actually accomplished, to the astonishment of his friends.

After some time he was put apprentice were slain that day, by the rabble, by the to a shoe-maker, who also kept a small farm, ch of Christians,—for they knew how Bedawin, and by the police, who had received so that, during the early part of his career, he was often put to watch the sheep, and for his amusement employed the leisure hours in reading indiscriminately any book which came in his way. But more particularly the Sacred Records drew his attention, and I have heard him say that he delighted in reading them; and though he gave preference to these writings, he also indulged his desire for knowledge tto Alexandria, however, my mother died for the cruel Mohammedans were not content by the perusal of books in the various branches ough grief at the murder of my father, and with killing the Christians, but also mutilated of science and literature. Amongst others there fell into his hands a book written by ernment was compelled by the Christian For two days we were afraid to stir out of Samuel Fisher (who had been a priest of Lidd. ers to restore to the Christians what they doors. On the third day bread was needed in Kent), entitled "Rusticus ad Academicos, lost. We received a little money, which for the children; but we managed to get a in which several wrong translations in the put into the hands of the missionaries in little Mohammedan boya, a servant of a neighblic are pointed out. The perusal of this axandria; and this was used in educating bor, to buy some breaf for us.

not liking the employment: nor did it admit kept a school, and nothwithstanding the cares generally appeared more lively and consuch a degree of application as was necessary to the prosecution of his further enquiries. At 20 he opened a day school at Up-Hurstborn. Being pretty well known in those parts, and always considered as a rare instance of selfacquired learning, he soon got many scholars. sal science. He soon became master of those came to London.

Delight," printed for I. Wilcox, Little Britain, 1727. Here he was furnished with an opportunity to study the Hebrew: he acquired moved from near Bristol in 1758. such knowledge in this ancient tongue as to became acquainted with some persons called never accomplished by any one man before. Quakers in London; and being a serious man, But before he translated these books, he took was convinced at a meeting held in their great pains in examining all the authors he Martins le-Grand. He embraced their prin considerably assisted by that great encourager began to teach himself Greek and Heb ciples; and on that day month he was con- of arts and sciences, Dr. Fothergill. vinced appeared in a public testimony among them at their said Meeting house.

In 1727 he returned to his native place, and curious and admirable chronological tables. opened a school a second time. Here he apand botany. He travelled into Essex, and copyright for £1000 and 20 sets of the work through several counties into Bristol. On his in sheets, only Anthony Purver was to correct tion for learning these languages, be possed journey at Coggeshall he wrote a copy of the press for this sum, which he did, the proof- a strong memory and great perseverance the title of "Counsel to Friends' Children," he continued to reside until his death. and being at Hambrook, about four miles from Bristol, in the latter end of the year was buried in Friends' burial-ground there. 1737, he lodged at the house of Josiah Butcher. His widow survived him many years. a maltster, and concluded to reside there, instructing his son Samuel in the classics, and employing his (own) time in his studies, and translating some of the lesser prophets in the Old Testament, having done the Book of Esther and Solomon's Song before.

Here he became acquainted with Rachel Cotterell, a young woman of good ability and chiefly in his favorite work, and at times so world, neither the things that are in the wo some property, who with her sister kept a closely pursued it that he disregarded the If any man love the world, the love of boarding school for girls at Frenchay, near necessary care of his health. It was not in Father is not in him." "For all that is Hambrook aforesaid. To whom he made his frequent for him, when he met with a subject the world, the lust of the flesh, and the addresses, which were accepted, and they which the translators found it difficult to of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of took each other in marriage in the Meeting- reconcile with the context, and which seemed Father, but is of the world. "And the wo bouse of the people called Quakers at Frenchay, in the common translation contradictory, to passeth away, and the lust thereof; but the 17th day of the month called August, 1738, retire alone into a room and there wait for that doeth the will of God abideth forev and soon after opened a boarding-school at Him who had the key of David to unlock the My mind has been exercised for some t one of the pupils, "having been long cultivated between my father and mother and his which they were revealed and in which they with us, have we not become too muc now wife, I became a scholar at this school, were penned, to preside over the mind, in worldly-minded people? striving to be r and continued with him some time; and though order to open the understanding to the true and to make a show in the world? Let he paid good attention to his scholars, yet he knowledge of them and the intent of the Di-true witness for God in our souls answ closely applied himself to his studies, being vine will through them. much employed during school hours in examining the present version and comparing these his retirements, so far disregarded all it is certain we can carry nothing out. it with the Hebrew text. He was indefatigal care for the body as to sit alone for two or having food and raiment, let us be therew ble in his studies, being generally at his books three days and nights, waiting for the Divine content. But they that will be rich," m to a place called the Fish Ponds, one mile or the faculties of his mind. But it wa But he did not remain long in this situation, from his last habitation; at this place also he served that after being thus sequestere of his establishment, and the labor of teaching ble, though at best a bad orator, and slov a number of pupils, he still continued his application to his studies. The hours between his school were not spent idly; of those which other people appropriated to rest, the major part were by him devoted to study.

The issue of his marriage was a daughter And having now commenced, he applied himself very closely to the languages and universal mamed Hannah and a son named Anthony, "Translation of the Bible." Of the languages and universal mamed Hannah and a son named Anthony, "Translation of the Bible." who died in his infancy. But the daughter books his obscure situation furnished him lived to be married to Isaac Bell of London, with. Afterwards becoming desirous of en- and had one child by him, who was named larging his knowledge, he left off school and John Purver. Both father and son are living have appeared to much greater advan 1791). She died soon after. This son was had the author been as well qualified to v He published a book called "The Youth's taken by his grandfather and bred up and English as he undoubtedly was to trans educated by him at Andover, in Hants, to which place Anthony Purver and wife re-

Soon after his removal to this place he comread and write: sometimes he conversed with the Jews in their favorite dialect.

pleted his grand work—a translation of all the Jews in their favorite dialect. About the twenty-fourth year of his age he from their original tongues; a performance Meeting-house, "The Bull and Mouth," in could procure on this subject. In this he was

> He has endeavored to restore the original last in his lap. reading, and has added to the work some plied himself closely to the Hebrew, and be-that he decided on acquiring the copyright, that portion of the time in which he was t gan to translate the books of the Old Testa which he afterwards printed at his own ex- engaged in his bumble vocation was the ment into English. He also studied physic pense for public utility. He purchased the terval for meditating on what be had read verses, and afterwards published them under sheets being sent to him at Andover, where which he was able to surmount those of

He died at Andover, in 7th mo. 1777, and mon mind.

Jacob Bell. Friends' Magazine, 1831.

From John Player.

It may here be mentioned that before he left the neighborhood of Bristol he had declined his school, and employed his time mystery, being fully convinced that the Sacred past on account of a worldly spirit prevail "A particular friendship," says John Player, Records were a scaled book to all who did too much amongst us. We profess to the pupils, "having been long culti-not experience a degree of that Spirit by "spiritually-minded people." I feel to qu by 4 o'clock in the morning and not leaving opening of the mystery. Twice in particular, that, "they that will be rich, fall into tem till 8 in the evening, and often later." whilst he resided near Bristol, I remember tion, and a snare, and into many foolish While he lived at this place he obliged the his wife sending for my father to come to per-hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruct world with a translation of the Book of Genesis, suade him from so close attention, being ap-land perdition. For the love of money is language, which it will be seen he afterwards After having lived here ten years be removed prehensive [that] it would impair his he

From "THE YORKSHIREMAN," edited by Howard. (Vol. iv. 1836.)

Two publications of great labor and exp are known to have been begun and fini under Dr. Fothergill's patronage, the g which was executed (solely at the doc expense) by a member of our Society in scure life, it may be observed that it w from the Scripture tongues.

Inelegant but faithful, and furnished a great quantity of original notes and tab elucidations, it has probably furnished u knowledged belp on many a difficult pas to more noted commentators.

From Wilson Armistead's "Select Mis (Vol. ii., page 272.) LANIES." Anthony Purver, who made a transla of the Bible, was by trade a shoemaker. with a book before him, and his work on

Whilst drawing the thread through leather was the opportunity he embraced Dr. Fothergill approved the work so much lifting his eyes from his work to his book,

Beside an innate and deep-rooted predi culties which would have confounded a c

The present Bishop of Salisbury, (18 one of the first Greek and Hebrew scholar the day, has pronounced Purver's "Tran tion of the Bible" to be superior to all oth for closeness to the original.

For " The Friend On Worldly Mindedness and Riches.

The Apostle John says-" Love not

"Godliness with contentment is great g Being thus persuaded, he has, in some of For we brought nothing into this world, of all evil; which while some coveted , they have erred from the faith, and ed themselves through with many sors." "But thou, O man of God, (said the stle Paul to Timothy,) flee these things; follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, patience, meekness." "Fight the good of faith, lay hold on eternal life." Have the cares of this life, and the love of other igs, choked the good seed in too many, so but little "fruit is brought forth to peron ?" and our "brightness much eclipsed by ?" Our forefathers in the truth were erned to sit loose to the world. William undson says, "Wherefore, our care was st off this great load and burthen, viz : t and gainful ways of getting riches, and Issen our concerns therein, that we might adv to answer Christ Jesus our Captain, had called us to follow Him in a spiritual are, under the discipline of his daily cross cself-denial." "Then the things of this d were of small value with us, so that we at be near the Lord; for the Lord's truth talanced all the world, even the most then, and great concerns a great trouble; edless things, fine horses, rich furniture gaudy apparel, were an eye-sore." "Our peing singly to the Lord, and to the ining of his light in our hearts, this gave e sight of the glory of God, which so eted our minds that it stained the glory earthly things; and they bore no maswith us, either in dwelling, eating, drinkonying, selling, marrying, or giving in riage. The Lord was the object of our and we were all bumble and low before self being of small repute.'

that we might become the people that rofess to be; then would we become as And whispered: "God give you a happy new year," ets in the world, as a city set upon a hill, A flat went forth from God's chamber of peace, and cannot be hid." Then let us one and "To some there is dawning the year of release." cts in the world, as a city set upon a hill, the cannot be hid." Then let us one and e faithful unto Him who is calling to They know not the sign that was put on their browby and to virtue;" and as we are faithful These happy ones soon in his presence to bow tHim and obedient unto all his commands, shall know an overcoming;" and they overcome, shall be clothed in white rent; and Christ will not blot their names t f the book of life, but will confess them With courage they patiently turned to their task, de his Father and before his angels.

No, 1st mo, 2nd, 1883.

Sange History of a Will.—One has heard Or joy become theirs in this year of release. wls written on bed-posts, concealed in haydmitted to probate by Sir James Hannen. And "the patience of hope" would grow strong and ctestator was an engineer on board a anel steamer, and made his will, giving thing to his wife, and gave the will to For, ere it has passed, the King's face they shall see, Some time afterward they had a quarrel, rig which she tore the will up, and threw te pieces, and put them into an envelope Thrice happy ones living their year of release. wone. However, several years afterward, With sad faces meeting that wonderful day? ky found and given to his wife. This of plucked from the burning has now been Let us live with that hope in our hearts day by day,

For "The Friend." LINES TO A FRIEND UNDER AFFLICTION.

Christian traveller! faint and weary, Onward tread and still be cheery, Though the pathway may be dreary. It will end in Heaven at last, When the storms are overpast, Though the sky is overcast, If faith fail not.

Upward look, raise thine eyes To the home beyond the skies, Where everlasting glory lies.
A crown for thee is there uplaid. A crown of life that ne'er will fade, A crown that Christ himself has made, For thee to wear.

What more would'st ask? To thee is given A passport safe to enter Heaven, When every earthly tie is riven.
"Thy life is granted for a prey,"
"No mean spoll," didst thou not say, While journeying on thy Zion-bound way, Face thilherward?

Onward press through life's great din, Conquer every secret sin, Fight in faith and victory win. When that victory be won,
Labor finished, work all done,
A glorious Light beyond the sun
Will shine on thee.

No one numbers there by days, But a song of ceaseless praise, Ransomed souls forever raise, To the Lord of life and light, Who guides us here by day and night, And blesses those with endless Light, Who will obedient be.

Germantown.

Selected. THE YEAR OF RELEASE. BY MARIANNE FARNINGHAM,

E. S. L.

When the bells rang their peal through the wintry air, And startled the worshippers hushed as in prayer, When the people turned gladly to friends who were

When the late light came in and began a new day, They saw not the messenger placed in the way; They said: "Will the toil and the sorrow increase?" Nor dreamed they had entered their year of release.

For strength, not deliverance, dared they to ask; They sighed as they took up their burdens again Of sorrow and weariness, sickness and pain, Nor ventured to hope that their troubles would cease,

Oh, could they but know what the new year will bring, tand flower-pots, and other possible and What glad songs of freedom and hope they would sing possible places, but probably no will has How willingly suffer and toil for a while, increase.

As they counted the days of their year of release.

And ever from sorrow and sighing be free; The things that perplex them shall all be made plain, And the evil of sin never touch them again : ieces into the fire. The husband picked They will gain the bright country of pleasure and peace,

Who are they, thus near to the end of their way, od of small-pox on his steamer, and on We know not, the Master alone othes being searched before burning, the yope with the pieces of will inside it was We may say while our spirits grow strong in his peace, to found and given to his wife. This

